fusal force

unne seard

a Maine Rost

A ELIMENDAY JULY 1819

Clarke jeered as he puts off care package

By ROBIN OAKLEY, POLITICAL EDITOR

tally handicapped have keep down poll tax bills care within reasonable spendand give local authorities ing limits. more time to prepare for health secretary, was jeered by Opposition MPs when he told the Commons yesterday that the full care package will not now be introduced until 1993, two years later than planned.

The Association of Metropolitan Authorities called the government's announcement a quick fix for the poll tax at the expense of the elderly". Mind, the mental health charity, said that ministers were letting down the most vulnerable in society. The government had planned that local authorities would be given new responsibilities to "assess the individual needs of people and meet the costs of residential or domiciliary care" for the elderly, disabled and mentally ill from April 1991. However, the all-party social services committee criticised the timetable for the plans, saying that it was "unrealistic" of the system to be up and running within 18 months of the legislation being introduced. The committee warned, however, that new day care and other centres could face severe financial difficulties if implementation was delayed. because they had been set up on the basis that they would

INSIDE Facts of British life The country's fastest growing region is East Anglia, the best driving test pass rates are in the North and Scotland, fewer people smoke in the South-West, and the most prescriptions per head of population are written in Wales. These and other facts about life in the United Kingdom today, are in the latest edition of Regional Trends published by the Stationery Office... Page 6

Genetic coup

British scientists have identified the gene which seems to play a crucial role in determining the sex of a human embryo at an early stage of its ..Page 2 development ..

TV defeat

The government was defeated in the House of Lords last night on an amendment to the Broadcasting Bill requiring television to maintain public service programmes.

Adult TV proposals, page 3

Moi's plan Despite the political crisis in Kenya and the opposition of conservationists. President building of Africa's biggest skyscraper, fronted by a huge statue of himself. will go

British policy, page 12 Early warning

Financial regulators and the police were warned in September about Peter Owen-Jackson, the investment adviser ordered to cease trading this week, but took no further

Faldo tipped

Jack Nicklaus, perhaps the world's greatest golfer, has tipped Nick Faldo to win 119th Open Pages 36, 37, 42

INDEX

Births, marriages, deaths Crosswords. Leading articles Obituary... Science & technology 16,17 TV & Radio.

Eighteen pages of top jobs in the appointments section ****

PLANS to reform com- win contracts from the local munity care for the el- authorities. Mr Clarke said derly, disabled and men- yesterday that it had become "overwhelmingly clear" that been postponed until after the next election to keen down poll tay bills

The health secretary told their new responsibilities. the Commons that many local Kenneth Clarke, the authorities had imposed excessive levels of community charge on their residents. He said there would, as a result, be a "phased timetable" for the reforms so that town halls could carry out adequate preparations for specialised accommodation and care, providing the service "at a cost their community charge payers can afford".

The Government's decision to shelve one of its most farreaching and most popular reforms will have an immediate impact on both local councils and health authorities. It will jeopardise many council community projects that have already been planned to support the sick and elderly, and several councils will be forced to freeze plans to improve services for two years. Most local authorities have already committed significant resources to setting up financial systems and assessment procedures to go pense of other social services. Local authority associations had complained that the care responsibilities would add £829 million a year to their outgoings, or an extra £15 on the average poll tax bill. The government disputes - these figures although the health department will not disclose any of its own. Ministers, who are worried that local authorities will increase poli tax bills and claim that the extra money was have decided to keep that element of public spending in government control for a further two years. They believe it will make it harder for highspending local authorities to blur yearly spending compari-sons and the consequent community charge levels. However, Mr Clarke's statement caused an outery among round. MPs and charity groups who believe that the postponement of the community care reforms will lead to more old people being evicted from residential homes. Campaigners are alarmed at the number of cases in which the level of social security income support fails to meet the cost of keeping the elderly in residential or nursing homes. Under the shelved community care proposals local authorities would have been able to make financial arrangements to bridge the gap or provide home carers so that old people did not have to go into care. To soften the blow than expected in some quarters, although predicted in The Times last week, Mr Clarke announced alternative measures yesterday. There will be 70 per cent government support for a specific grant of up to £30 million for the mentally ill from next April, to ensure that local authorities can give higher priority to this group. Councils will also be given an extra £2 million to help people with drug and alcohol problems, and the government will hand over another £7.5 million to boost the training of social services staff. As a result, the training budget will total £35.5 million in 1991-92. The health secretary told MPs that new inspection units and complaints procedures in local authorities will start next year and development work for local councils and health authorities will begin in April 1992. However, he said the full reform package will not now begin until April 1993.

Written Commons answers from the Welsh and Scottish secretaries yesterday outlined similar delays in community care plans for Scotland and ahead next April, at the ex-

> Robin Cook, the Oppo-sition spokesman on health issues, told Mr Clarke that his statement "will be almost universally greeted with anger for its neglect of the most vulnerable people in our community and contempt for the broken promises it leaves behind, contempt for the cowardice with which you attempt to ... blame local authorities". Mr Clarke said the cost of had already been taken into account in next year's Government grant to local councils. Details of the allocation will be announced by Chris Patten, the environment secretary, in the Commons today after the cabinet has agreed outline totals for this year's Whitehall public spending

The government says its decision to postpone the care community plans was partly prompted by the extra responsibilities given to town halls under the children act, the new school curriculum and the food act. The health secretary told the Commons it was "common sense" not to add to that list next year.

Charities' reaction, page 2 Poll tax spending, page 5 Parliament, page 8

Higher phone charges 'will hit blind hardest'

larly badly hit by an average jump in telephone charges of 9 per cent from this September, British Telecom's customers' association said yesterday.

The users' group is angry that evening and weekend telephone calls will be effectively 15 per cent more expensive after BT lowers the cent. The minimum charge of duration of a one-unit, cheap-rate call from 5½ minutes to 4 10p.

The consumers point out

THE blind and people on that while cheap-rate users fixed incomes will be particu- will have to pay extra for calls from the autumnm, the intomers is just 3.5 per cent.

The charge of joining the network is also going up to £148.65 for a residential line, while the cost of renting a line rises by £2.05 to £19.70 per quarter, an increase of 11.8 per

TIMES

Banner boast: British Indians at Headingley, Leeds, with a banner proclaiming their support for the tourists, who beat England by six wickets yesterday in the first of the one-day internationals for the Texaco trophy. Match report, page 42

Thatcher acts on missing fathers

THURSDAY JULY 19 1990

By SHEILA GUNN POLITICAL REPORTER

MARGARET Thatcher took the first initiative in the government's family policy yesterday by announcing an agency to track down absent fathers while warning of the effects of divorce and the rise in lone-parent families on children and society.

But her failure to indicate the priorities to be set out in this autumn's white paper on the family was seen at Westminster as underlining the confusion within the Conservative party on the role of women in the 1990s.

The prime minister said that in spite of having sympathy for the difficult circumstances behind the divorce figures "they should cause us the greatest unease" because of the interests of children. In some areas children hardly know what an "ordinary married family" is like.

But at London's Savoy Hotel in her first speech to the 300 Group, campaigning for more women in parliament and public life, she refrained from calling for harsher divorce laws but emphasised that a father's responsibility continues after separation.

Britain has one of the highest divorce rates in the European Community with one in five children experienc-Continued on page 24, col 5

Vanishing father, page 2 Leading article, page 13

US opens Hanoi link to counter Khmer Rouge important policy shift, is to open new contacts with Vietnam as part of an effort to end the civil war that has torn Cambodia apart for a decade.

To underline its determination to prevent Khmer Rouge forces from shooting their way back to power, the Bush administration will no longer support the right of the three-party maistance co-alition" now fighting the Viet-namese-backed government in Phnom Penh to continue occupying Cambodia's seat at the United Nations. of State, said that although Washington had worked hard for a political settlement in Cambodia, the Khmer Rouge, which dominates the resistance movement, had concentrated on "the dialogue of the battlefield". At the end of a two-hour meeting with Eduard Shevardnadze, the Soviet construct conditions permitting free elections." Mr Baker made it clear that America has not decided to normalise relations with Hanoi after years of working to isolate Vietnam diplomatically and economically. The new dialogue will only con-cern the Cambodian situation. The British government and aid agencies vesterday welcomed 'America's change of policy. London's view was expressed in the Lords by Lord Brabazon, minister of state at the Foreign Office, Explaining this about-face who said Washington's dein Paris yesterday, James cision would improve the prospect of bri solution to the Cambodian civil war. Oxfam described the American move as a breakcome only just in time to prevent the Khmer Rouge returning to power. Although American support for the two non-communist foreign minister, Mr Baker the Khmer Rouge was said: "We want to talk to tinue, Mr Shevardnadze noted with evident satisfaction that Cambodian government and moved closer to that of Mos-

THE United States, in an could use this to help us cow. The Khmer Rouge gets its support from China, but to cut that aid appear so far to have been fruitless.

The shift by the Americans. who have not had diplomatic relations with Hanoi since the end of the Vietnam war in 1975, coincides with an apparent deadlock in the latest efforts of the five permanent members of the UN Security Council to achieve a Cambodian peace settlement. Son Sann, who heads the leading non-communist Cambodian guerrilla groups, said the American decision to open dialogue with Vietnam could "For the past 11 years, the West has helped Cambodians to keep Cambodia from the said. "And now the Vietnamese, who want to pull out, are about to receive help." He said the only way to shut his allies out was to work for the implementation of a UN peace plan aimed at allowing Cambodians to vote in free elections after a ceasefire.

Khmer advances, page 9

Heatwave

HOSEPIPE bans were extended to more areas of Britain yesterday as everywhere from Land's End to John o'Groat's bathed in sunshine with temperatures 17 above the average for Just . Only the fog-bound non' ern isles of the Shetlands and the Orkneys missed but on

Forecast details, page 24

Congress meetings please Kinnock

scribed his United States visit as successful and productive after concluding a series of meetings with congressional his trip as he began it, claiming that Labour's approach to Europe and East-West relations was more in line with that of the American govern-ment than Margaret Thatcher's. Mr Kinnock said the feeling he had detected in the Senate was that the Cold War was over and that it was time to get on with the peace.

"We found this encouraging because it reinforced the attitude we have towards the conduct of East-West relations," he said. He had also detected a concern that Britain should exert a much more

NEIL Kinnock yesterday de- tion of affairs in the European Community. He added that the visit had been highly successful because of the way he and Gerald The Labour leader ended secretary, had confirmed to them in the most direct terms what they had hoped was the direction of US policy.

Hic had meetings vesterday with Tom Foley, speaker of the House of Representatives, Bob Dole and George Mitchell, the Senate minority and majority leaders, and Les Aspin, chairman of the House armed forces committee.

Mr Kinnock's visit and talks with President Bush on Tuesday received favourable coverage in the American press yesterday.

Kinnock image, page 10 Leading article, page 13

Space walk cosmonauts in race against time

By OUR FOREIGN STAFF

TWO Soviet cosmonauts who went on a space walk to a capsule they must repair to return to earth had to force their way back on board the space station Mir through an emergency hatch with their life support systems running out, it emerged yesterday.

The Soviet newspaper Izvestia headlined their race against time "Midnight emergency in outer space", and said that life support systems in the cosmonauts' spacesuits were running so low as they approached their limit that they had to be "fed" outside the ship, apparently drawing oxygen from the vessel. They had to use the emergency hatch to re-enter the spacecraft because their normal porthole malfunctioned and their life-support supplies were running out. Izvestia said that it took Anatoli Solovyev and and Aleksandr Balandin three hours to reach their damaged capsule after crawling out of Mir and scampering along its outer skin using fasteners like mountain climbers. They managed to fold part of the damaged insulation using clamps, but had to leave another damaged piece alone because it would not budge, the paper said.

It raised the possibility that human error could be behind the hatch problem and that the cosmonauts might have to take another space walk for more repairs before they can return to earth safely. But an American specialist on the Soviet space programme said the hatch problem might also prevent Solovyev, aged 42, the flight commander, and Balandin, aged 36, the engineer, from taking another space walk. The cosmonauts apparently closed an inner hatch to seal one end of the airlock that leads to the troublesome outside hatch. That airlock apparently contains equipment they use for their space

On Tuesday, they were unable to close the hatch after they entered the airlock "either because of the rush, tiredness or some other unknown reason," Izvestia said. Tass said they had to re-enter through another hatch that leads into a compartment for scientific equipment. The repairs and re-entry took seven hours, about two hours longer than scheduled.

The cosmonauts on Tuesday left Mir, the Soviet space station that has been orbiting for four years, to fix thermal insulation around the Soyuz TM-9 capsule which they must use to insulation on the capsule, which is docked to Mir, has peeled off, news reports have said. After repairing some of the damaged insulation, the cosmonauts, who were working without tethers or hoses connected to the ship, encountered the hatch problem.

James Oberg, author of several books on the Soviet space programme, said from Texas that although the cosmonauts managed to climb back into Mir safely, the hatch problem could complicate future spacewalks.

The hatch malfunction was one of a series of problems on their six-month mission, but officials at the Soviet mission control centre in Kaliningrad, north of Moscow, tried to minimise the incident. "No one is concerned here. It is an abnormal situation but return to earth. Nearly half the controllable," a spokesman said.

hose ban

By ROBIN STACES

fine weather. List:

afternoon temperalare : But the warm energy brought more bans bed in those already in furth in parof Devon, Kent, Aven. 1. shire and Sussex. Users in nonth Henordshire, pans of told yesterday to stop using hosepipes from Saturday. The penalty for ignoring a bun is a fine of up to £400. In Cardiff a child locked in sweltering car for more than 45 minules was resouch by a policeman smashing a window. The mother, who had gone shopping, has Leen reported for presecution.

Henitic page 13

THERE IS ONLY ONE WATCH SALE

IS OFFERING UPTO 50% DISCOUNT

DAVID MORRIS

on selected models of Piaget, Baume & Mercier. Audemars Piguet and Vacheron Constantin watches.

> AND BIG REDUCTIONS ON CONCORD WATCHES

(e.g. Gent's steel and yellow metal £1,496 down to £748, also Lady's models available).

During Harrods Sale, until Saturday 28th July in the David Morris Room, Ground Floor. Tel: 071-730 1234. Ext: 2551

All reductions are from Harrow's Usual Process.

Harrods, Knightsbridge, SW1. Telephone 071-730 1234

Charities condemn postponement of community care plan

LOCAL authorities and charities involved in care for the sick, the elderly and the mentally handicapped reacted angrily yesterday to the postponement of the Government care in the community proposals, saying they would cause distress, confusion and the suspicion that the proposals are now being buried rather than postponed.

The Conservative-controlled Association of District Councils, representing the shire local authorities, will meet Kenneth Clarke, the Secretary of State for Health today to voice its concern.

The Labour-controlled Association of delays represented "a quick fix for the poll tax at the expense of the elderly".

Toby Harris of the association's social services committee, said: "For Mr Clarke to say it is local government's fault is a

"We did not invent the poll tax. We were ready to go next April but the government, finding itself in such a financial and political mess - and for the sake of 15p a week on the poll tax - has abandoned its promises to the elderly.

Closures of some local authority residential care homes and geriatric hospital units were predicted by the Counsel and Care of the Elderly organisation after Mr Clarke's announcement. A spokesman said the

the community to care for the elderly people involved.

The mental health charity MIND claimed that the government's decision was letting down some of the most vulnerable groups in society.

A spokesman said: "The delay masks the fact that the policy would have been seriously underfunded by the government. MIND's anxiety is that, even when the policy is implemented, the government may still not fully fund community care." Help the Aged said: "We are bitterly disappointed. To put the blame on local authorities being unprepared is to confuse clear lead from government. Now that prospect, held out in the rapid par-liamentary discussions of the legislation, has been put on the back burner."

The Association of London Authorities condemned the delay as a begaval of the hopes of 20,000 with disabilities who would otherwise be in residential care.

The Association of Community Health Councils for England and Wales was "shocked and appalled" and "deeply regretted" the delay as "a lack of commitment to valuerable people with disabilities and to their careers".

Dr Patrick Dixon, of the Aids Care and delay would cause a real risk of closures if it went ahead without matching facilities in suffered from planning blight, waiting for a about the announcement. What this will cause is a complete planning blight on organisations such as ours which had been gearing up to provide services for the Anchor Housing, a charity which provides homes for the elderly, said: "Elderly people will find it increasingly difficult to find affordable residential care on the DSS allowance they now receive. The delay in community care plans will be a disaster for them and for the voluntary sector care homes trying to provide an affordable service without going bankrupt."

Parliament, page 8

Tell chal

mos

Market of American in a factor of the factor

AND STREET STREET

AND THE PERSON NAMED IN

Marie Comment of the Comment of the

BE CONTRACTOR

PARTITION THE STREET

Production of the state of the

The second secon

Control Courtes a STATE OF BRIDE

Sunday

mail

soon

for south

B. DITCH HOLLAND

Minister England

grad to get Number . passed

Activities Total

many street and the s and the on her STATE OF THE PARTY

Section in the control of the contro

giler i tilee "Laggeta

Bur anterna schier

parties said and seed

mm bir Ernen Nurhaf

erice della competant

Cold out on laster extracted only. Sum

Difference of the second

विशिव्यक्ष्याच्या स्था

(## Bill form mark st

man A larger records make group took to the Partice with a 18

DE AN COME DELLA

The State of the Bottom on Constall

A The Late of the Company

THE WAY THE

7036 to the state of

The second party and the same

Bisting to their works.

the made

100 pre 5/105 av

BE COLORS

miles consequences

Be tiefe was for the table

eman laum.

A CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY OF TH

Results. page 25

Shared for friends!

May SANDS of Gardies

A CHI LI A COMarray the

Mends Scriptings

the specialist and the special sections of the special sections of the section

2.05 CO. 80.05 Part Baller in Alexander

The part of the pa

1000

Callegras remain

Element -

STATE OF THE PARTY.

Baker

reaffirms

European union

pledge

By RICHARD FORD

KENNETH Baker yesterday

reinforced the efforts of Conservative politicans to repair the damage caused by the controversy leading to Nicholas Ridley's resignation by emphasising the party's long-term commitment to the economic and monetary union would be deeply divi-sive, he said that the debate in Britain was about when and how union took place rather ain but threatend to relegate Spain, Portugal and Greece to-the second tier of a two-speed Europe. Mr Baker, Conser-vative party chairman, said.

He said that Britain's alternative proposal for a "hard ecu" was not a delaying tactic but offered a practical, evolutionary alternative to stages two and three of the Delors plan, about which the government had grave doubts. The plan put forward by John

Major, the Chancellor, was a serious proposal in the in-terests of European unity.

Delors report would be thoroughly divisive." Mr Baker told a meeting of the European Union of Women in London.

"For Britain, the issues involved are primarily constitutional ones, although

In his speech, Mr Baker highlighted Britain's record in implementing EC measures and the government's role in ensuring that the debate on European union took a more practical rather than utopian

Britain was not standing sulking on the sidelines of the European community, Mr Baker said. "Let no one doubt our commitment to the development of the new Europe

In the last decade of this century we have the opportunity both to widen and deepen our association throughout

Fayeds take

DTI case to Strasbourg

The Fayed brothers, owners of which includes Harrods, disclosed yesterday that they are to challenge the alleged "unfairness" of the Department of Trade and Industry inspect-oral system and the damage

they say results before to the European Commission of Hu-

They also said that they will withdraw libel actions against

The brothers said that "the lack of basic safeguards in the inspectoral system makes it a

Mohamed Fayed, chairman of House of Fraser Holdings, said: "Our action is aimed not only at exposing the grave in-ustice in our particular case

but also at improving the system for the benefit of others".

man Rights in Strasbourg.

the Observer newspaper.

travesty of justice".

Bernard Levis, page 12

the whole continent."

capable of participating."

The proposals in the than whether it occurs. Stages two and three of the Delors plan would pose constitutional issues for Brit-

European Community. Although he admitted that stages two and three of the Delors plan for European

STEPHEN MARKESON

Metropolitan Authorities said that the Complaints double over computer data misuse

By Frances Gibb, Legal Affairs correspondent

THE use of computer systems poses a growing threat that information about individuals on different systems can be cross-matched, the Data Proection Registrar warned in his annual report published yes-

The registrar, Eric Howe, said that the danger arose because of the widespread use of personal identification numbers to encode data on individuals. That raised the spectre of a national identity system effectively coming in through the back door, an official at his office said.

The report said that "from a technical viewpoint, it is increasingly possible to bring together information about individuals from many different computer files, perhaps held on different computer users for quite unrelated purposes". As a result, informa-tion on people could be used out of context, errors could be replicated, unjust decisions

Air defence 'brain' has breakdown

A COMPUTER system_designed as the brain for Brit-ain's future air defences is suffering the equivalent of a nervous breakdown and getting its sums wrong, it was disclosed yesterday.

Defence ministry officials said the £248 million Improved UK Air Defence Ground Environment Command and Control System now, for example, the primary income tax reference number was scheduled to enter service in February 1987. Officials told the Commons defence committee, however, that it would not now be fully operational until the mid-1990s because of software problems. Donald Spiers, head of aircraft control at the ministry, said there were two main problems with the computer system. "Firstly, a number of logic areas: it gets its sums wrong. We get wrong answers sometimes and the bugs have to be tracked down and sorted out," he said. "Secondly, from time to time it crashes. What this means is the equivalent of a nervous breakdown. It be-comes confused with the information and goes wrong."

Work began on ICCS in 1981 and Mr Spiers said it had suffered a disastrous failure in a 1988 test. The committee was told the production consortium had now upgraded the main computers to give more power. No payment has been made to the companies for two years because of the problems, Mr Spiers said. He dded that all software problems to date had been solved and the rate of new problems had begun to slow.

ICCS will link and coordinate radars, fighters, sur-face-to-air missiles and air command centres to defend Britain's four million miles of

Mr Howe urged safeguards so personal indentification numbers were "context specific": that is, particular to a given computer user or a given use of personal data."If public policy or particular circumstances dictate that there should be data matching or common use of a person identification number, then there should be appropriate safeguards for individuals."

Mr Howe highlighted that concern at a time when the volume of complaints to his office about the misuse of personal data on computers more than doubled. In particular there had been a sharp rise in complaints about unsolicited mail which account for 45 per cent of complaints, three times the previous year's figure. Complaints totalled 2,698 in the 12 months to the end of May 1990, almost two and a half times the figures for the previous 12 months. Although complaints about consumer credit accounted for 17 per cent, that was half the 35 per cent the previous year. Complaints from people refused access to their files also fell from 18 per cent to 8 per cent from 18 per cent to 8 per cent. The registrar's primary concern remained the prospect of data-matching. That can happen if there was common use of a number such as that for national insurance. Although that was only introduced for a particular purpose, it had crept into use for other purposes, the report said. "The and its use has been extended into local authorities in connection with various bene-

Its use was likely to extend to the private sector, under new laws on personal equity plans, which constrain private sector organisations to collect national insurance numbers, the report said. But the registrar commended the decision by ministers not to use the national insurance number for the student loans

 The European Commission has unveiled a package of data protection measures designed to make people less prone to blackmail or discrimination by virtue of their creed, colour, politics, trade union membership or sexual behaviour (Peter Guilford writes

People would be assured the right to see what information their employer or any public body held about them on file, and could have inaccurate data changed or outright errors erased. A directive would cover information stored on paper as well as on computer, and could therefore spell the end of organisations, such as the Economic League in Britain, which have maintained damaging files on sup-posed political subversives. The measures could also help tackle the growing problem of computer hacking

Bigger slice for women? Mrs Thatcher cutting the cake at the 300 Group with Staff Sergeant Miller, who haked it, and Cynthia Lake, treasurer.

Ministers' hunt for vanishing father pays off

argaret Thatcher's growing concern about the future of the family and how it should be supported has stemmed from startling statistics showing that Britain now has one of the highest rates in Europe for divorce, illegiti-mate births and single-parent

Yesterday's announcement at the 300 Group luncheon to set up a system to retrieve maintenance payments from absent fathers is the culmination of three years' work on how the government should tackle this emerging breakdown in the traditional family unit with its knock-on effect in rising state support. At the turn of the century only 4 per cent of births were outside marriage, but the rate rose in both world wars, and then more than doubled in the 1980s, accounting now for more than a quarter of all births.

The combination of illegitimate births and a high divorce rate has inevitably led to a relentless rise in state support to lone-parent families, a burden which the government has been blatantly keen to offload. Over the past decade the number of single parents receiving benefits has risen by 141 per cent, to 1.2 million, with the greatest increase among unmarried mothers. The cost of child support through income-related benefits rose from £1.2 billion in 1981-82 to £2.7 billion in 1988. Only a quarter of lone parents receiving income support now receive maintenance payments from their children's fathers, however, compared to 50 per cent in 1979. The level of payments has also varied widely, with an average award of £18 a week for an only child. That compares to state benefit to the mother and child of about £50 a week.

The social security department has failed manifestly in ensuring that absent fathers meet their responsibilities, although its collection rates are improving. Last year its officers recovered £180 million, compared to £150 million the previous year. This year they are expected to retrieve £260 million.

Earlier this year Peter Lilley, in his former post at the Treasury, paved the way for yesterday's announcement by declaring that the Inland Revenue would in future be able to provide the social security department with details which would make it easier for officers to track down liable relatives, mainly fathers.

John Patten, the Home Office minister, has also made clear that he intends to introduce legislation to enable maintenance payments to be deducted from salary in some cases. The establishment of a new child care agency, which could avoid lengthy and expensive court proceedings for maintenance payments and a new formula for assessing these fees, should ensure a much higher success rate in recovering cash.

Concern over single parents and their growing cost to the Exchequer first arose in 1987. The issue was raised briefly by David Willets, now director of the right wing think tank, the Centre for Policy Studies, when he was a member of the policy unit at Downing Street, Various internal papers were then circulated at the centre, when he moved there, stemming from reports of the growing welfare dependency in the US.

Tohn Moore, the new social his own waves by suggesting that single pregnant women should not be given priority in obtaining council houses. His attempt to introduce legislation to remove what he regarded as an incentive to become pregnant failed, however.

When Mr Moore was moved sideways to head the new social security department in 1988 he again raised the issue of mounting state support for lone parents. Both he and the prime minister were worried that the benefit system provided a marginal incentive for single parents. It also gave a disincentive for mothers to go out to work. Once single mothers started work, they lost their benefit pound for pound against their new income. Mr Moore failed, however, to get the co-operation form the Inland Revenue and the Lord Chancellor which his successor, Tony Newton, has now achieved and his initiative faded into obscurity. It soon became clear that the only politically acceptable way to shift state support was to tackle the absent father. Initially the poverty lobby balked at the idea calling it "a wife beater's charter". Organisations such as the National Council for One-Parent Families argued that the absent father would come round and beat up the mother, whereabouts. In the past 12months, however, most groups have sup-ported the idea in principle, while calling for adequate safeguards. This support galvanised ministers into action. Although Mr Newton denies that he has copied any system, there are strong similarities with the American scheme, where a state agency has been set up to run an administrative system to collect money from the fathers.

JILL SHERMAN

Social Services Correspondent Leading article, page 13

Thatcher's message disappoints family groups By Lin Jenkins the effects of marital break-

GROUPS concerned about the increasing number of families breaking up in Britain were disappointed yesterday that Margaret Thatcher's speech failed to address the causes.

The campaigners had hoped that the central message would go beyond her statement that "parenthood is for life" to emphasise the importance of the family as a unit and announce steps to help people to stay together. Even the proposal that a child support agency would be established to ensure that fathers paid maintenance failed to generate much applause as many saw it merely as a way of reducing the government's child support bill rather than improving the circumstances of some of the country's poorest groups. Ivan Sokolov, co-director of Parent Network, a selfhelp group which teaches parents how to deal with the problems of family life and improve relationships, said he had hoped for some acknowledgement of the work of such groups. "This sort of thing is very successful in keeping families together. There needs to be more education in the beginning, before marriages break down," he said. "Instead, Mrs Thatcher has followed the trend in society whereby we do not value parenthood enough or give it enough thought. If we did there would not be the necessity to have to decide how to cope with the problems arising from the breakdown of relationships."

Mr Sokolov said there was an underlying assumption that parenthood, relationships and marriage were instinctive, but experience suggested otherwise. "People need to be taught how to cope with relationships, yet the government has missed an opportunity to endorse

Relate, formerly the Mar-riage Guidance Council, says its work suggests other areas where the government could tackle the causes rather than down. More than half the couples who turn to the agency stay together. Zelda West-Meads, the Relate's spokeswoman, said: "There is plenty of scope for more to be done. We welcome the idea of a child support agency as currently there are many women chasing for the money through the courts and it is often a reason why fathers lose contact with their children, which is rarely a good thing."

The idea of a child support gency has been successfully implemented in Australia. In Britain only 6 per cent of mothers receive the maintenance they are due on a regular basis. Since the agency was set up in Austra-lia the figure has risen from per cent to 70 per cent, with 90 per cent of fathers being traced. Mrs Thatcher hinted that their model of a "standard administrative formula" for setting payment levels had found favour. In Australia, after an initial allowance has been taken into account, the parent has to pay between 18 and 36 per cent of income, depending on the number of children involved. The couple know before they separate how much one will pay and the other receive, whereas in Britain awards vary greatly depending on which court the case comes

Bomb arrest

A Coventry man was being questioned in Bristol last night by detectives hunting animal rights activists responsible for bomb that exploded in the Cotham area of the city last month, injuring John Cupper, aged 13 months. -

Parents' plea

The parents of two boys aged 10 and 11 who were sexually assaulted, strangled and left for dead last weekend at Lytham, Lancashire, have appealed to the public to help police find the attacker, who rides a racing bicycle.

Ruling delayed

Judement was reserved in the High Court yesterday in a test case in which four banned drivers asked for their convictions to be quashed because swabs impregnated with alcohol were used in blood tests.

CORRECTIONS

The actress with Vivien Leighin the scene from the film of Gone with the Wind on page 19 yesterday was Hattie Mc-Daniel, not Butterfly McQueen,

The conference, "Policing in the nineties" (report, July 12) was arranged by the all-party European Council for Safety and Security, not the Labour party as stated. .

&Mr.Mason invites you invites you Period Until Saturday 21st July LAST FEW DAYS Final Reductions in all Departments FORTNUM & MASON 181 PICCADILLY - LONDON W1A 1ER - Tel: 071-734 8040 - Fax: 071-437 3278

Scientists identify gene which ensures that boys will be boys

By THOMSON PRENTICE, SCIENCE CORRESPONDENT BRITISH geneticists believe its development. The discov- as the source of male a profound question; what makes a man a man? The explanation has eluded philosophers and scientists for centuries. Aristotle thought that the intensity of lovemaking or positions of sexual intercourse influenced the sex of the baby conceived.

It took Peter Goodfellow of the human molecular genetics laboratory of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, to produce the answer yesterday. He and colleagues at the National Institute for Medical Research, a division of the Medical Research Council, have identified a new gene which seems to play a crucial they have found the answer to ery was described as a landmark in scientific progress but the researchers said that they do not yet know what practical value their findings will have.

They reached their goal by experiments on mice and men, but included a range of the X chromosome, while a other mammals, including rabbits, pigs, horses and even a tiger at London Zoo.

The new gene appears ca-pable of influencing the gonads, or sex glands, to become the male testis rather than the female ovary, by "switching on" chemical signals in the embryo about eight weeks after fertilization.

The gene, called SRY, has been found in a tiny region of role in determining the sex of the Y chromosome, which has the embryo at an early stage of been regarded for many years characteristics. Females possess two X chromosomes and males an X and a Y chromosome. In 1959, it was established that a girl results from the fusion of an egg and sperm both bearing boy results from the fusion of an X egg and a Y sperm.

This implied that a gene on the Y chromosome was responsible for making males. The quest for the male sexdetermining gene on the Y chromosome has been conducted ever since, with intense competition researchers in Britain and

The findings are published in today's issue of Nature. Science, page 17

A end to that the they share a See Application of the Applicati Mariton to be intered and the property of the proper A property of the property of Part of strong sports

Two-tier

watershed

suggested for 'adult'

television

MEDIA EDITOR A TWO-tier European television watershed to protect children from unsuitable sexual or violent programmes

beamed by satellite across national boundaries was floated yesterday by Lord

Rees-Mogg, chairman of the Broadcasting Standards

Council, The BBC and ITV pres ently enforce a 9pm watershed

after which more adult material can be screened. Lord

Rees-Mogg has suggested that a graded system, with different watersheds at 8pm and 10pm, could be the answer for

The idea, which would have to be discussed by broadcasters and television regu-

Ешгоре.

Telephone charges up by 9% for most users

By Michael Horsnell

which yesterday announced payphone call at 10p. its new prices for telephone

The average bill for house-hold telephones will rise by 7.7 per cent but BT said if the heaviest 25 per cent of users and the same proportion of rises in cheap-rate calls after low level users were excluded, 6pm at home phone owners. then the median rise affecting most customers would be 9 per cent.

The average bill of business users will rise by just 3.5 per cent, due mainly to a £3.37 per quarter increase on business line rentals to £31.92, but BT said that companies had for years subsidised residential telephone bills.

Connection charges will also be increased for business lines by £17.15 to £162.90 and residential by £15.65 to £148.65. The cost per unit of

Table 1 to be

DOM: n 🛨

11.75

.

ayeds ta

Strasbor

E . Della gragi

2002000

Sunday mail soon for south

By DEREK HARRIS INDUSTRIAL EDITOR

SOUTH-EAST England is shortly to get Sunday postal collections, about five months ahead of the schedule to which the Post Office has been working to bring in a nationwide service.

Sunday collections have been resumed after a 14-year gap in a four-month phased operation which is now serving all the United Kingdom except for the South-East.

The new weekend collections had proved popular both with Post Office staff and with customers, Sir Bryan Nichol-son, the Post Office chairman, Nearly 1.5 million letters are being posted every Sunday, reflecting a sharp rise mainly from individuals.

Sir Bryan said: "There is a lot of bill paying and that sort of thing. But social mail is increasing. Younger people art of letter-writing."

Overall, letter mail is up by 9.5 per cent to a record of 58 million items a day, according to the Post Office annual report. About a tenth of the mail is made up of social letters, it is estimated. By the end of the decade mailed items are expected to reach 85 million a day despite the growth of electronic message systems. The appeal to business of direct mail shots would be an important influence, Sir Bryan said. There will be localised publicity as the Sunday collections spread through the South-East in the next two to three weeks. Collections will be made mostly from post boxes attached to high street main and sub post offices.

Sunday deliveries remain an unlikely development because there was not much consumer demand for them, Sir Bryan said.

With the cost of posting a letter going up by 2p in September Sir Bryan said the Post Office would continue its policy of leaving a 12-month

THE cost of keeping in touch calls remains unchanged at is to leap by 9 per cent 5.06p including VAT as does according to British Telecom the minimum price of a public

The time allowed for a local call at cheap rates in the A wave of protest greeted a evenings and weekends is series of rises the heaviest of being cut from 51/2 minutes to which is a £2.05 increase to four minutes which will mean £19.70 on residential rentals. a 15 per cent rise in the average cost.

The Telecommunications Users' Association accused BT of aiming the enormous rises in cheap-rate calls after Vivienne Peters, chief executive of the watchdog body, said the rises in rental charges had not been offset by realistic reductions in other charges.

The benefits of a digital network and the continuing upgrading of local exchanges have brought great improvements in the quality of service, but where are the cost savings from these new technologies and from increased productivity?" Mrs Peters said.

The new charges reflect an overall rise of 5.3 per cent in the BT basket of services. The National Federation of the Blind of the UK said this would mean many more blind people would not be able to afford a telephone.

Jill Allen King, the federation's spokeswoman, said that like most blind people she found the telephone was her link with the outside world. She said: "It will be blind people who suffer most."

The rises will come into effect in September, Meanwhile Sir Bryan Carsberg, Director General of Telecommunications, said that Oftel, the watchdog body, will study the increases to ensure they comply with the price control

Direct dialled international calls to more than 100 countries will cost slightly less and the cost of peak and standard rate calls in Britain will be reduced with more time allowed per unit charge.

Michael Bett, managing director of British Telecom UK, said: "We have continued to reduce prices in real terms and at the same time placed special emphasis on improving quality of service. BT services are excellent value for money."

BT, which made a £2.3 billion profit last year, said the 9 per cent rise for a "representative" residential phone bill was well within the most recent 9.8 per cent inflation figure. Low level users may get rental rebates of up to 40 per

THE TIMES THURSDAY JULY 19 1990

Mrs Parish and her daughter Michelle after their rennion at Gatwick airport yesterday. The nurse said she was looking forward to a rest

Police in regions warned of rise in serious fraud cases

By Stewart Tendler, CRIME CORRESPONDENT countries.

operation) Act 1990 allowing the Serious Fraud Office to investigate on behalf of other

Mr Wood said he would also like to see improvements in the investigation and prosecution of EC fraud. "The regulations of the community are so impossible that it is very easy for a defendent to drive a coach and horses through them," he said.

In Britain he believed the Serious Fraud Office was doing well. From April 1989 to April 1990 17 trials were completed and 24 out of 32

defendents convicted.

BRITAIN'S police must gear Justice (International Cothemselves to face an expansion of serious and complex fraud cases across the country as City institutions and large businesses move out of London, John Wood, the director of the Serious Fraud Office, said yesterday.

Many forces may not be equipped with manpower or finances for such cases and the solution, he said, lay in the formation of regional crime squads. Chief constables are discussing the creation of five super regional crime squads and fraud investigators could be attached to each.

Mr Wood, speaking on the publication of his last annual report for the Serious Fraud Office before going to Hong Kong next month as director of public prosecutions, said there was evidence that criminals such as armed robbers were turning to fraud because banks could be robbed with fewer risks and reduced pen-alties. A bank robber might take £20,000 and face a 15 year sentence but a £20 mil-lion fraud might earn him a mere five years in prison.

One way of fighting the frauds was to improve co operation with other countries, Mr Wood said. This would happen with the im-plementation of the Criminal nurse released from Iraqi jail DAPHNE Parish, the nurse She said that the worst tell you, it is not very comfreed by Iraq, arrived in Britain yesterday and descplimentary." She refused to be aspect of her time in prison was the solitary confinement. drawn on this. "I did not know ribed how she had coped with solitary confinement by writing on her cell wall and inventing games.

Mrs Parish, arrested with the journalist Farzad Bazoft who was hanged for allegedly spying, hugged her daughter Michelle de Vries and said: "It is wonderful to finally be

From Iraq she had flown to Zambia whose leader President Kaunda had arranged for her release. There she was handed over to the British high commission and then continued her journey to Britain. Yesterday, after being greeted by relatives at Gatwick airport, Mrs Parish, aged 53, said she wanted to celebrate her release, have a rest and find a job.

"I was in a room all alone and I had nothing to do. So I invented games," she said. She also used newspaper to make a chess set, a Scrabble set and a pack of cards.

It's wonderful to be free, says

World War poem The Soldier. "I had moments of intense despair and I wrote on the wall the poem 'If I should die think only this of me that there is some corner of a foreign field which is forever England'. But I rubbed it out 24 hours later." Asked about the death of Mr Bazoft, a journalist based in London with the Observer, she replied: "I am very sad. I don't know the full story. You know more than I do." When asked what his last words to he was going to be executed. heard from the embassy and I was shocked." She said that there had been times when she had feared for her life. Among the welcoming party Once, she wrote out lines at Gatwick was Donald from Rupert Brooke's First Trelford, editor of the Ob-

Mrs Parish was freed from prison on Monday after serving four months of her 15-year sentence for spying. She had spent another six months in jail before her trial. Mrs Parish has insisted she is innocent.

 An appeal to Iraq to show clemency to the British businessman lan Richter, serving a life sentence after being convicted of bribery in 1987, has been renewed, the her were she said: "I cannot Foreign Office said yesterday.

lators throughout the community, follows the pass-ing of a European directive and convention on transfrontier broadcasting. The council's annual report said yesterday: "Throughout Europe priority is attached to the need for the protection of children and young people. It seems likely, therefore, that an early question for international discussion will be whether, as a reflection of this concern, it is desirable or practical to establish an agreed watershed throughout Europe programmes would be ex-pected to be suitable for family viewing." Lord Rees-Mogg said tele-vision watersheds varied in Europe. Germany had the latest, starting at 1 lpm, while in France it began at 10.30pm. Even taking into account the one hour time difference between Britain and other European countries, there was a

before which transfrontier

He said: "I suspect what will float back to the surface is the now rather disregarded cable authority view that you need a double threshold." That authority has overseen a two-tier watershed, at 8pm and 10pm, with programmes graded

DESIGN CENTRES LONDON Berlangside: Hexapher 124-125 High Sheet

Chewick: Humphets 227-229 High Road

Edguero: Husupherson 137-139 Station Road

West End Humohersons at Host 196 Totanhem Court Road

Bernet Kitchen Pleasure 17 Green Hill Parada, GJ. Mosto Rd

Beth. Hill Loigh (Bath) Ltd. Lower Bristol Road

Bacconstlett. Humphersons Cardain House. Gregories Ross

Bognton: The Bases Street Colle 12 Bases Street

Newcasto-U-Lymo. Richors Bod 56-58 London Road

Fixet Design Mellers 123 Algert Septil

siewatic Buy the World's best but pay a little less.

SieMatic bring you the best kitchen in the world

SIEMATIC KITCHEN FURNITURE IS ONLY AVAILABLE FROM APPROVED DESIGN CENTRES. PRICES START FROM AROUND $5,000

High Court supports Sunday restrictions By Frances GIBB, LEGAL AFFAIRS CORRESPONDENT

ing yesterday in a case crucial to the ability of local councils to enforce the law.

It is the first High Court ruling based on the European B & Q was granted a certifi-Court judgment earlier this cate that the case was of laws and will be binding on lower courts. The ruling by Mr Justice Hoffman in a case in which Stoke-on-Trent and final injunctions against company has to pay costs. B&Q will be tested in the House of Lords.

The judge accepted under-takings from the company Results, page 25 stores in Westwick Street, bully boys".

THE validity of Sunday trad-ing restrictions in England and Wales won High Court back-the sale of goods permitted under the 1950 Shore Act the sale of goods permitted under the 1950 Shops Act. These include such "perishable" items as newspapers, flowers and confectionery.

year on the Sunday trading sufficient importance to justify a "leapfrog" appeal to the House of Lords, missing out the Court of Appeal, but it still has to apply to the law lords Norwich city councils sought for permission to appeal. The David Blackmore, operations director of the Keep Sunday Special Campaign.

takings from the company described the ruling as a that it would not open its body blow to the law-breaking

Shared foreign villas strain friendships, tourists told

By HARVEY ELLIOTT, AIR CORRESPONDENT

catering holiday abroad the number of criticins.
Consumers' Association gave On France, it say friendship.

Close friends "sometimes discover that they are inhouse", the association says in the Which? Guide to Self Catering Holidays Abroad. The key question to be faced long before everyone agrees on the choice of property and the bookings are finalised must be: do you really like the people concerned enough to fortnight or longer?".

A detailed account should be kept of every penny spent the range come up to what to avoid arguments about would be regarded as an money, the association says.

The guide makes it clear that there are many advantages to self-catering, which leaves holdaymakers with freedom to go where they want and eat what they want. But, and eat what they want. But, beds and cook their own food. art in itself, the Which? in a review of self-catering So the field is left clear for report says.

AS THOUSANDS of families accommodation in five Euro-foreigners who have these prepared to set off for a self-pean countries, Which? has a

On France, it says: "The a warning yesterday that a unbending opposition of the fortnight in shared accom- French aviation authority to modation with lifelong friends charter flights on any significan bring an end to that cant scale makes package holidaymakers mainly reliant on scheduled flights, which are too expensive for the mass compatible when they share a market." Many gites, or rural cottages, "have decidedly uncomfortable beds, practically no easy chairs and facilities bordering on the spartan."

On Greece, it reports: "Greek villas and apartments are generally shabby, uncomfortably furnished with mediocre equipment and spend every waking hour of facilities. If there is a swimthe day with them for a ming pool, rare in itself, it may be cracked or even empty. Only houses at the very top of average standard in other Mediterranean countries such as France and Italy."

holiday lettings were available but were often part of a complex network of agents, sub agents and go-betweens, making it difficult for a visitor to complain to the real owner.

On Portugal: "The Portuguese, ever eager to please, have done their best to turn land. Pubs with British beer, self-service hamburger resagents with a hyperbole in to make parts of the Algarve disquietingly like an English that is missing is the pier."

On Spain: Cheap charter flights and a wide range of selfcatering establishments make Spain still the most attractive destination in Europe. But accommodation at very low prices "will almost certainly On Italy: "Few Italians are country where the Spanish enthusiasts for holidays where construction industry has

Biddy: Arcade Kilchert 0943 802147 Lançastor: Stuert Fritzer 11 Common Gastlen Sta Rochable: Shari Fazza 15B Choethan Swell 0253 723593

Southport Heerits 42-44 East Bank Stree

SCOTLAND

the Algarve into a little Engtaurants, British tinned food in the supermarkets and estate every sentence, together tend south coast seaside resort. All have major disadvantages in a' The complete pack is attractively

The SieMatic Kitchen Book depicts over 182 pages of design ideas beautifully illustrated in full colour and

FREE INFORMATION PACK

0773 602373

O786 B17811

可能够的特 0905 621008

0254 3353

0524 63273

0708 5765

0704 53500

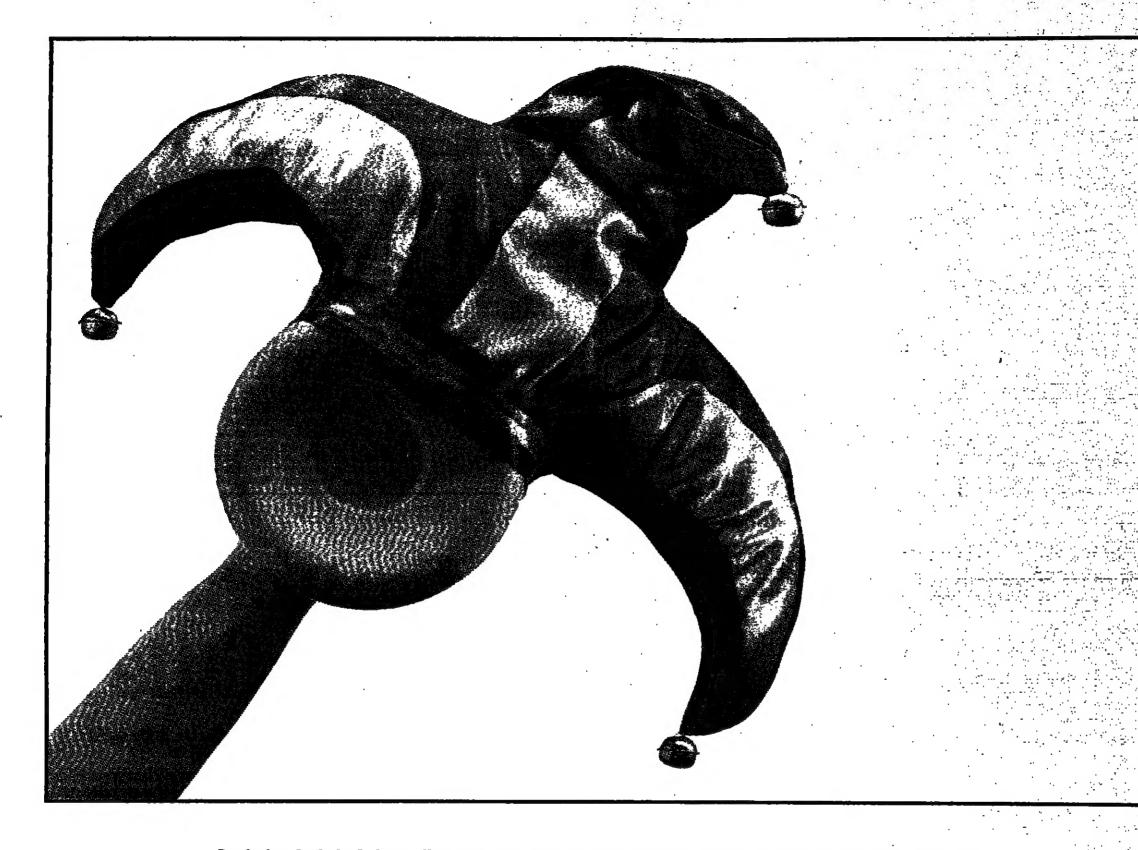

0625 525576

0346 23224

SieMatic Kitchen Video capturing the

when you arrange a no obligation

Phone long distance without the silly prices.

Don't be fooled. A long distance call isn't as long as you think. In fact, most calls over 35 miles are treated as long distance. That's no joke. For a little light relief, Mercury offers up to 14% discount on international calls and an average of 15% off long distance calls within Britain. And because you only pay for what you say (we charge by the second, not the unit) it works out cheaper. There's no fooling about when it comes to plugging into Mercury either. Just buy a Mercury Compatible Phone, we'll supply a personal code (like a credit card PIN number) and you're on line for cheaper long distance calls. We also provide free itemised bills, so you know nobody's pulling your leg when you're charged for your calls. Call us on 0800 24 6000 or clip the coupon for some serious details. You'll be laughing all the way to the phone. Mercury Compatible Phones are available at: Harrods, Selfridges, Rumbelows, Dixons, Tandy, Allders, Phone-In, Homebase and other leading retailers.

TELEPHONE 0800 24 6000 ANYTIME.

me: (Mr/Mrs/Miss)		Address:		1
ARE PRINT IN CAPITAL LETTERS)				TT
			Postcode:	•
ephone (STD Code):	Number:
last quarterly phone bill came to	roughly £

LONG DISTANCE, YOU'RE MILES BETTER OFF ON MERCURY.

Air Can

and and and since to operate

ande in the Constitution

Marin Paning Amokin (Caradian Translated art

ing at woothe contribute LEE V

WATER SECTION 16, W PROHIBI

HETEE VALLEY WA insprivate motor ca

PAROHIBITED in the ORDER OF TH OMPONERSY.

Poll tax bills will show how money is spent

By Douglas Broom, local government correspondent POLL TAX bills will be the net figures for each tier

. 3

es.

simplified next year to enable culminating in the actual sum charge payers to tell exactly to be paid. how their money is spent.

Chris Patten, the environment secretary, will announce new measures to strengthen the accountability of councils when he unveils the results of the ministerial review of the community charge today.

Among the expected reforms will be a requirement for poll tax bills to show net figures for tier of local government on the individual charge payer.

At present it is impossible for charge payers in English shire districts to assess how much of the final net charge will go to the county and how much to the district council. Ministers want English poll tax bills to look more like those in Wales which spell out

Gibraltar benefits cost £72m

THE Foreign Office faces a £72 million bill to provide pensions and social security benefits for workers in Gibraltar, the Commons public accounts committee has

The fresh case of vast spending on dependent terri-tories follows the disclosure earlier this month by the National Audit Office, which reports to the committee, that a new ship for the south Atlantic island of St Helena cost Britain taxpayers more than £57 million.

The Foreign Office has announced a review of financial arrangements and the adequacy of financial regulations in dependent territories. The public accounts committee also wants to investigate the arrangements.

In the latest report, the committee said that if the govern-ment had solved the 20-year pension problem more quickly the bill might have been less. The difficulty arose from border disputes with Spain over Gibraltar and, subsequently, Spain's entry into the EC which left Britain responsible for payments to nearly 18,500 people.

The differences between the bills reflect the fact that England and Wales have separate local authority grant systems. proach used under the rating system where each tier receives its own support grants.

In England, revenue sup-port grant is paid into a collection fund for each area the demands made by each along with poll tax and business rate income. Counties, districts and parishes then draw on the single fund. As a result, hills show the gross demands made by district and county councils with the grant figure deducted at the bottom of the sum to produce the net poll tax level.

Ministers have ruled out root and branch reforms to the poli tax system so a wholesale switch to the Welsh approach seems unlikely. More probable is the adoption of a formula for the allocation of grant to the two tiers on bills. While this would be welcomed by the district councils, whose spending on average accounts for less than a quar-ter of the total bill, it would deprive the government of its status as protector of the charge-payer.

A senior official who helped to draw up the present system said: "At the moment you have the grant figure riding into the bill like a white knight to save the individual payer from the demands of the big battalions. By splitting the figure you would lessen the impact of the government's contribution and lose the point that this is not a grant to pay for services but to protect the charge-payer."

Mr Patten will also announce how much extra money the government is prepared to give local councils in England next year. They have asked for £4 billion more in revenue support grant but Mr Patten is thought to have won about only £2.5 billion from the Treasury and by no means all of this will go to the councils. Among the other expected poll tax reforms will be help for owners of second homes, builders and holiday caravan owners, all of whom are at present eligible to pay up to twice the usual community charge on empty property.

Smoking banned on Air Canada flights passengers who smoke will have to choose another airline if they want to continue their habit on board from October

The airline has decided to impose a smoking ban on all its transatlantic services and is the first airline to operate a completely smoke free cabin between North America and

Its decision pre-empts a ruling made by the Canadian government banning smoking on all Canadian-registered aircraft entirely in three years' time. Air Canada is launching a major marketing campaign aimed at wooing non-

It took the decision after travellers.

THE one in five Air Canada research which showed that 23 per cent of passengers on Atlantic routes smoked but that 35 per cent of these preferred to book a non-smoking seat and 72 per cent did not mind not smoking.

Canadian Airlines, the competitor, recently said that it would reduce the number of smoking seats available on transatiantic flights but could not do so on their lucrative Tokyo routes because so many Japanese insisted on smoking.

Air Canada has had to accept the commercial realities of some flights by refusing to implement the ban on services between London, Bombay and Singapore where more smokers are regular

LEE VALLEY WATER COMPANY SECTION 16, WATER ACT 1945

PROHIBITION OF USE OF HOSEPIPES

THE LEE VALLEY WATER COMPANY being of the opinion that a serious deficiency of water available for distribution by it exists GIVES NOTICE that with effect from Saturday, 21st July 1990, the use of a hosepipe or similar apparatus for watering private gardens or washing private motor cars, caravans or trailers IS PROHIBITED in the following areas:-

a) The areas within the London Boroughs of Barnet, Entiteld and Harringey supplied by Lee Valley Water Company:

b) the parishes of Blackmore, Doddinghurst, Kelvedon Hatch, Navestock and Stondon Massey, in the County of Essex;

c) Letchworth and Baldock and the parishes of Ashwell, Bygrave, Caldecote, Clothall, Hinxworth, Newnham, Radwell and Weston in the County of Hertfordshire, until further notice. Any person found contravening this prohibition will be liable on conviction in a Magistrates Court to a fine not exceeding £400. BY ORDER OF THE BOARD

P.W. DARBY COMPANY SECRETARY

Children from Manor Field school, Norwich, dance at The Royal Opera House yesterday under The Royal Ballet's scheme to bring dancers and pupils together

Council's advertising ban ruled illegal ever, that the real reason was ness," the judge said.

Guardian compared with 235,000 who read the TES.

Between October and December, 250 teaching posts were advertised by the council, but none in the TES.

deciding to sever links with

News International publica-

there was available the reality excuse for that conduct. Obviously the Labour group took its decision being unaware of

The judge said that after

Educational Supplement and other publications owned by cil said that its decision to News International was de- impose the bans, and to switch clared vindictive, illegal and a advertising from the TES to flagrant abuse of power by a The Guardian, was taken only High Court judge yesterday. Lord Justice Watkins, sitting with Mr Justice Tudor Evans, said that the "cynical" Evans, said that the "cynical" that The Sunday Times had blanket ban should be carried articles last September quashed. An injunction re-straining the Labour-controlled county council from acting on those decisions was granted. The council was also ordered to pay legal costs unofficially estimated at

The action was brought by the TES, News International, Times Newspapers and Pauleen Lathem, a Conser-vative county councillor.

After the judgment David Bookbinder, the council leader, said that there had not been any vindictiveness on the part of the council and that it was taking advice on whether to appeal. "Derbyshire can be proud of its education service over the years," Mr Book-binder said.

tions, the council "set about trying to discover whether Norman Wilson, leader of or semblance of a lawful the council's Conservative group, said that the judgment was so damning of individuals that they should consider whether to remain in public service. The Conservative

A DECISION by Derbyshire group is expected to ask the "unenviable task" of having county council to ban district auditor to investigate to produce a report which advertisements in The Times whether there is evidence of purposted to show that the whether there is evidence of purported to show that the wilful misconduct. The counpublication for the advertisement of teaching posts, the judge said. All but two councillors displayed an unworthy on educational grounds. Lord lack of candour. The longer Justice Watkins said, howthey were cross-examined "the more manifest it became that they were implausibly endeavouring to buttress the unsupportable", he said.

critical of Mr Bookbinder. "Such decision-making as that The judge said that it was a can only in the circumstances bad example of local authority have been activated by bad maladministration which was faith or, in a word, vindictivepotentially, if not actually, harmful to the interests of Advertising worth £61,610 a education in Derbyshire. It year was switched to The Guardian at an increased cost was also perverse because it had no sensible or justifiable of £72,550 a year, in spite of basis. The ban, which had the fact that an estimated 84,000 teachers read The never been justified, was an abuse of power contrary to the public good.

> Lord Justice Watkins said that during the hearing an illuminating light was shone cynical attitude of the councillors who voted for the ban, He was also critical of Mr Bookbinder around whom much of the controversy giving rise to the court action revolved. The judge said that although it would have been helpful, the court had neither read nor heard a word from Mr Bookbinder.

any lawful reason for it". Council officials had the Law Report, page 36

In one crucial respect DIUSII ICICUM falling behind.

In September British Telecom is revising some of its prices.

But the overall increase for main UK services will be only 5.3%.

Well below the current inflation rate of 9.8%.

Before these changes our prices in real terms had fallen by over 22% since 1984.

Over the same period international call prices had fallen by 25%. From September calls to over 100 overseas destinations will cost less.

In every other respect though, we've been moving ahead.

Last year alone we invested $3 billion improving our business. Providing the advanced telecommunications infrastructure that Britain needs.

Most aspects of our customer service have shown notable improvements. Over 92% of all faults are now cleared within one working day.

94% of orders for new equipment are completed on the date agreed with the customer. And 95% of payphones are now working.

There's still a lot to be done. But we're investing now to make sure that it is.

And, of course, to make sure that it's only our prices that get left behind.

For more details of our new prices please see the leaflet which you'll find enclosed with your telephone bill from 20 August or call your District Office contact number during normal working hours. (The number is shown on your telephone

Remember, too, that apart from weekends and evenings, cheap rates are now available only on Christmas Day, Boxing Day and New Year's Day.

It's you we answer to East Anglia still fastest growing and safest region

EAST Anglia has maintained its position as the fastest growing region, according to the latest edition of Regional Frends, the annual survey of life in Britain. The region also has the lowest rates of vi- 15.1 per cent, while the num-Olence, burglary and theft, ber of people in Kincardine making it one of the most and Deeside, Grampian, rose making it one of the most pleasant areas in which to live. by 15.4 per cent.

East Anglia showed the greatest regional population statistics for the first time, ncrease in Britain between 1981 and 1988, rising by 7.4 per cent. However, the population of the region's main town, Norwich, fell by 7 per cent, while the figure for people living in Huntingdon, Cambridgeshire, rose by 18.2

More women there had jobs in agriculture, fishing and forestry work than elsewhere in the country and 70 per cent of homes had regular use of a car. The South-West was the only region to have a higher percentage for use of cars.

There were declining populations in Scotland, the North-West, Yorkshire and Humberside, but the reductions were not consistent in any one area. In the North-West, for example, the population of Burnley, Lancashire, population of Warrington Cheshire, increased by 9.6 per cent. In Scotland, where there was an overall fall of 1.7 per cent, the population of the Shetland Islands dropped by

The survey includes district providing an intriguing insight into small pockets of the country. Forest Heath, Suffolk, had the highest propor-tion of children under five (9.5 per cent) and Worthing, West Sussex, had the highest percentage of people aged 75 and over (15.8 per cent). Eden, in Cumbria, which has a population of 46,200, lives up to its name. With only 21 people per sq km, it has one of the lowest population densities in the country. There are more women than men in the district and only 507 people who are unemployed.

The survey also provides new statistics on the incidence of breath testing and the average court fines for drink or drug-related driving offences. In Yorkshire and Humberside 35 per cent of the Garden of Eden: Jenuic Skingley, of Edeuhall in the picturesque Eden valley, in Cumbria, an area of low anemployment and low population density were positive, compared with 12 per cent in the East are trying to stop smoking, Midlands, where 64,000 tests were positive. Average fines ranged from £201 in the southeast to £137 in the north.

The report also shows: • The cheapest houses are in the North and Scotland. These are also the regions with the best driving test pass rates. People in Yorkshire and Humberside drank more al-

since fewer people smoke • The proportion of live births outside marriage doubled to 25 per cent between 1981 and 1988. Thirty-one per cent of births in the North-West were outside marriage in 1988, compared with 20 per cent in East Anglia and 16 per cent in Northern Ireland.

person. The highest number were sent out in Wales, at 9.7 per cent per person, and the Thames area (5.8 per cent). Between 1986 and 1988 more than half the ethnic minority population lived in the southeast with other high proportions of these groups also in the West Midlands. cohol and the South-West ● More than 426 million ● More than 3.7 million disputes, There were also 3.2 million self-employed people, a rise of 256,000 on 1988.

• The highest number of cattle and calves can be found in the South-West, although Scotland has the largest beef herd. This accounted for more than 30 per cent of the United Kingdom total for beef cattle. Wales had the highest number of sheep and lambs and Hum-holds have microwaves, apart from Northern Ireland where only 17 per cent of kitchens have this luxury. The distribution of home computers was also very even with an average of 17 per-cent throughout the country. About half the households now have video-

Average weekly earnings for men in 1989 ranged from £348.80 in Greater London, to £224.50 in Yorkshire and Humberside. Women's wages ranged from £232.30 in Greater London to £161.9 in Recorded crime rates are highest in the North

By QUENTIN COWDRY, HOME AFFAIRS CORRESPONDENT

EAST Anglia and the South- one police officer for every becoming involved in crime politan Police area, there was one officer for every 257

Crime solving statistics were most discouraging in the South-East, where just 25 per cent of all notifiable offences were solved. In the North and the West Midlands, however,

43 per cent of recorded crimes were cleared up. Clear-up rates were generally high in all regions for assaults and sexual

.Thirty-five per cent of all recorded offences in England were cleared up, compared with 42 per cent in Wales and 45 per cent in Northern Ireland. Unsurprisingly, by far the highest number of drug seizures were made m the densely populated and af-fluent South-East. In 1988

police and customs made

1,391 seizures of Class A drugs, such as beroin and cocaine, in the region and 15,204 seizures of Class B

The report shows an narcotics such as cannabis.

West, regions with relatively 540 residents. In the Metro-and historically agrarian residents in 1988.

 The North-West, East Midlands and the West Midlands were most reliant on mannfacturing in 1988. They relied on industry for more than 30 per cent of gross domestic product, compared with 18 per cent in the southeast and 19 per cent in Northern Ireland.

Leading article, page 13

TRANSPORT

Car owners increasing each year

By MICHAEL DYNES

LEVELS of car ownership in Britain increased throughout the 1980s, according to the

The number of vehicles per thousand population rose from 281 in 1981 to 324 in 1987, but national figures mask big regional variations. In spite of the increase, Britons still trail behind their West German, Italian, and French counterparts, who have recorded increased vehicle numbers of 463, 424, and 394 respectively per thousand over the same period.

The West Midlands, the South west and East Anglia have the highest levels of car ownership, with 384, 377, and 374 vehicles a thousand people respectively, while the North has only 254 a

The number of households with no car fell from 39 per cent in 1981 to 37 per cent in 1987, while the North, Yorkshire and Humberside and Scotland continue to have the highest percentage of households without use of a vehicle. The number of fatal or serious road accidents declined from 70.539 in 1981 to 60.197 in 1987, aithough England still has by far the highest accident rate, accounting for 49,911 of the 1987 total.

Richard Diment, deputy director of the British Road Federation, said: "If we had the levels of car ownership found in the more prosperous countries within the European Community, we would have 40 to 50 per cent more cars."

."It is clear from the experience of other EC countries that as the economy grows, the number of cars will also grow and like those countries, we must improve our road network to cope," he said. Jonathan Bray, the trans port campaigner for Friends of the Earth, the environmental lobby group, said: "The continued increase in vehicle ownership is bad news for the environment as it will lead to more pollution and more road building proposals." Mr Bray said that while vehicle ownership was higher on the Continent, people in Britain relied on cars more because of the poor public transport system.

SPENDING

Meat goes off menu as freezers move in

By RAY CLANCY

PEOPLE are eating less meat and more fresh fruit and homes feature a greater number of dishwashers, tumble-driers and deep freezers, according to the survey.

Consumption of meat and meat products decreased in all regions apart from the South-West, where it has remained almost constant since 1981. The largest falls were recorded in East Anglia and the South-East. In the West Midlands 39.7oz of meat were eaten per person each week, making the residents the most enthusiastic carnivores, compared with 34.80z in East Anglia and the

The Welsh ate the most potatoes and people in Scotand ate the most bre butter, sugar and eggs. Residents of Yorkshire and Humberside had the sweetest tooth for cakes and biscuits. but they also consumed more fish than anybody else. However, people in all regions apart from Scotlandate fewer vegetables. The English ate an

SCOTLAND: Byggest mainland consumers of bread, butter and eggs; Falling population — down by 1.7% in 1981-88;

Joint top spenders on alcohol and tobacco.

Highest mainland spending per person on supplementary benefits.

NORTHERN IRELAND

Most potatoes eaten — 44.502

per person each week; Lowest robbery rate for England and Wales; Sparsest population except Scotland and Uister.

Biggest consumers of milk, cream and cheese; Highest home ownership rate;

Biggest proportion of women workers predicted for 2000; Least smokers — 28%.

heapest house ewest cars;

WALES:

Least home ownership:

NORTH WEST:

average of 86.1oz of vegetables per person each week in 1981, falling to 83.1ozin 1988. In Wales the amount dropped from 97.90z to 90.2, but in Scotland it increased from 78.2 to 82.5oz.

spent £18.30 a week on clothing and footwear, about 9.2 per cent of the average weekly budget, and more than any other region. The average size of household in Northern Ireland, three people, was the highest in Britain. The average weekly household income in

North

Yorks/Humber East Midlands East Anglia South East

South West West Midian

North West

REGIONS AT A GLANCE...

WEST MIDLANDS:

person a week; Highest stillbirth rate;

owest fraud and forgery rate; east likely to have central higher proportion was spent on fuel, light and power than in any other region.

Homes in Northern Ireland than elsewhere and the number of households which could boast this commodity almost doubled from 6 per cent in 1981 to 11 per cent in 1988, but only 3 per cent had a dishwasher in the North. In Great Britain as a whole, 73 per cent of households had a were included in the statistics.

PERSONAL INCOME AND EXPENDITURE

Highest crime rate in England and Wales;

Least likely to have a dishwasher, freezer or phone.

ignest rate of violent attacks in England and Wales; Highest number of pigs - 1.8

oun source; whership rate; lising population — up by 3.19

Most likely to have a video an microwave.

Biggest population Increase 7.4% in 1981-88: The most privately rented or tied housing; Least likely to consult GP or suffer long charling it.

suffer long-standing illness; Equal second lowest number o lighest earnings for men and women; Most expensive housing — £74,000 on average in 1968. Most share owners; Highest proportion of ethnic Worst crime clear-up rate -, 25% in 1988 - In England and Joint highest number of

EAST MIDLANDS:

EAST ANGLIA

SOUTH EAST:

England and Wales; ost alcohol drunk per person

YORKSHIRE AND HUMBERSIDE:

Cheapest mainland house

1987-1988 ranged from £338 freezer, compared with 47 per On average a quarter of house in the South-East to £122 in cent in 1981, and the number holds have microwaves, apart Northern Ireland where a of tumble-driers increased from an average of 22 per cent over the same period:

There were more dish- Almost every household washers in the South-East now has a television although around a tenth have blackand-white sets only. Most homes also have telephones, with the lowest distribution found in the north (75 per cent) and Northern Ireland (72 per cent). Microwaves, home computers and videos

LAW ENFORCEMENT

low population densities, below average unemployment economies, have the lowest recorded crime rates in Eng-land, while the North and North-West have the highest,

Traditionally, the South-West has had the best figures,

but between 1981 and 1987

recorded crime in the region

rose by 36 per cent, leaving East Anglia, which only saw a 17 per cent increase in the same period, as the most law-abiding region. The biggest rise was seen in the North where recorded crime rose by

With 7,424 recorded crimes per 100,000 population England has the worst national record, followed by Wales (6,927 crimes) and Northern Ireland (3,542). Relevant comparisons cannot be made with Scotland because of differences in recording practices. Police staffing levels echo the recorded crime pat-

according to the survey.

In 1989 more men in the North worked in jobs asso-ciated with manufacturing metals, minerals, and chemicountry. Share ownership was most widespread in the South-East where 34 per cent of adults had a stake in business in 1989, and 29 per cent of adults held shares in East Midlands and the South-West. It was least in the North and Scotland (18 per cent).

the North.

Variations in Aids toll

pread of the Aids virus are

Of 11,676 people infected nationwide with HIV up to the end of last year, 1,822 were intravenous drugs users, or less than one-sixth of the total. However, in Scotland, where ,729 cases of were reported, 916 injected drugs. In Mersey health region, with 171 HIV cases, only 15 involved a person injecting drugs. In Wales seven of 149 HIV sufferers injected drugs.

HEALTH

hown in the report.

The survey also showed the people of East Anglia to be fitter than most. Only 11 per cent had seen their doctor in the previous fortnight and 29 per cent said they suffered the smallest proportion in both categories. The Scots were most likely to consult their GP, with 16 per cent having done so in the previous two weeks. The total of smokers fell from 33 per cent of the population in 1986 to 32 per cent in 1988.

especially burglary, robbery and theft. In Yorkshire and Humberside, for every 100,000 10-13 year olds there were 2,150 cases resulting in a conviction or formal warning and in the North there were pend High Payshaw y in in processing the second iliilian curren, is

surren BROVERS SUPPRESENTED With the court of the way mater the face and bod

PRODUCTION, THE WOOD 10 STALL WES 10 the offers held the in Ritt in Land pre Est a cristica to the the of the rearries at Senior as Pi, said by and the he heard the of other incomes a the besien in the A and the acrossing worm. Parion of Purk and and Sicate per Brision the watched the through a mile-best 16 5 cell 2 --- 12 2/2 a ster he had surren-

-WALLAY

New Sony C Quietly Una Until You su

gege heart. Resident course tend. Parities se course et

Particular France

partial or a second of partial of a second of a second 12 like 30. 1202;

Miles Screet Lorest Lor

to her iso.

shire and Humberside were all below 100 per cent, while in Scotland the rise was 82 per cent and in Wales 67 per cent. Comment of a property of the series of the property of the pro Both the housing stock and owner-occupancy has increa-sed in all regions. In 1988 the Service of the state of the service And the report of Frenchist Seriony highest proportions of owneroccupancy were in the South-East excluding Greater London (73 per cent), and the South-West (72 per cent). The lowest proportions were in Scotland (45 per cent), Northern Ireland and the North (58 per cent) and Greater London (59 per cent).

Figures also indicate clearly the growing number of homeless people. In Greater Lon-don in 1988-89, 28 per cent of council house lettings went to secure tenants who had been accepted as homeless under the provisions of homeless legislation and a further 12 per cent were new secure tenants from the ordinary waiting lists. For England as a whole, 15 per cent had been accepted as homeless and 34 per cent were from waiting lists.

2.038. The problem was least widespread in the South East where there were 909 cases per 100,000 in that age group.

HOUSING Land prices rocket in property boom

By CHRISTOPHER WARMAN, PROPERTY CORRESPONDENT

THE growth of the property boom, before it bust in 1988, per cent), the South-West (150 per cent) and West Midlands (138 per cent). Increases in the is vividly illustrated in the North, North-West and Yorkhousing statistics in a comparison of housing land and house prices between 1981 and 1988.

The price of housing land, an important component in the cost of a house, went up in Greater London from £327,-500 a hectare (2.471 acres) in 1981 to £883,400 in 1987, a dramatic increase so far, but then like a rocket in the next year to £2.43 million, which helps to explain the explosion in house prices.

price increased from £210,900 a hectare in 1981 to £689,900 in 1987 and £1,094,400 in 1988, and in East Anglia, which had some of the most spectacular house price rises in the 1980s, the land price went up from £41,100 a hectare in 1981 to £205,300 in 1987, with another leap to followed by East Anglia (160

In the South-East, the land £419,900 in 1988.

From 1981-1988 the price of new houses showed the highest increase in the South-East outside Greater London. with a rise of 172 per cent.

Spending on the arts doubles to more than £3 billion

en - 39.7 OZ pw

By SIMON TAIT ARTS CORRESPONDENT

AT £3.35 billion, Britons were spending more than twice as much on cultural activities at the end of the 1980s than they were at the beginning, and taking it home to enjoy it, according to the Policy Studies Institute.

It means, William Daniel, the director of the institute said, that the arts and culture are an increasingly important part of the UK economy, estimated to be worth more than £10 billion and to be as large as the car industry. A new review of spending on the arts and cultural industries published today £300 million last year. Compact

by the institute, an independent research body which sifts all published statistics to draw a trend, shows that consumers were spending a third more on cultural goods and services as a proportion of their expenditure at the end of the decade than at the beginning, with the boom in video and compact discs being a big contributor. Video hire, worth £283 million . when it was first measured in 1984, was worth £478 million in 1988. The market in pre-recorded video cassettes rose from £15 million spent in 1985 to £150

millionin 1988, before doubling to discs, attracting a mere £7 million in 1984, were drawing £288 million from music lovers in 1988. Children's programmes are bought more than any other video cassettes, comedy films are rented most, and classical compact discs sales are lower than pop sales, with disco music sales beating rock music. However, the live arts, which are much easier to identify, have been high on the public shopping list, too. The value of admissions to live arts events rose from £170 million in 1980 to £440 million in 1988. The yield from cinema admissions went up from £147 million to only £190 million in the dances by an average of 7 per cent.

the increase in incomes and just over half the retail prices increase. Although ticket prices for the performing arts have risen by between 63 per cent and 217 per cent - at an average of more than 120 per cent - against an 80 per cent retail price rise and a 100 per cent increase in incomes, attendances for live performances have

In the case of opera, the supposed elitist art form where average prices have risen by almost three times over the decade, the public's response has been to increase atten-remained steady.

same period, a rate of less than half The West End theatre, which has experienced not only the phenomenon of the blockbuster musicals but also a big increase in the numbers of overseas tourists in the decade, took more than twice as much in 1988, at £110 million, as the £50 million of 1984.
All drama earned £150 million tern, with East Anglia having increasing number of children through the box office in 1988, compared with £76 million in 1984. with attendance figures staying more or less the same.

Cultural Trends in the 80s (PSL 100 Park Village East, London NW1 3SR; £5.95)

Leading article, page 13

Action immates t In soil with the sea STATE STATE STATE Cont to the He The state of the country of the state of the country of the countr STATE OF STATE IS es a commit del sidion Est Contractor of en and find them & E . E. Tractions is boing roles 201 TOWN 201 198 Edition (State of the last)

Brita

Estiment &

ACT WEI SEPTIMETAL with land Die in best !

the state of the state

Miss The Court

Maria Walca

port of a mineral property of the property of Freed from cells to build jai

15 England 43 68

Ulster

A-level

students cleverest

all-round

By DAVID TYTLER

THE cleverest all-round 18-year-olds come from Northern reland while the best young French speakers are Scottish girls, according to the edu-

in Northern Ireland in 1988, 17.5 per cent of girls and

15.2 per cent of boys left school with at least three A-levels compared to-8-per cent of all pupils in the North. Further down the school, how-ever. Northern Ireland pupils did less well with 26.6 per cent of boys and 15.9 per cent of any qualification compared to 6.8 per cent and 4.9 per cent in Girls from Scotland achieved the highest number of top three grades in GCSE

French with a pass rate of 26.7 per cent, which was twice as good as their male counterparts. The poorest French result was produced by Welsh boys who could muster

only6.2 per cent, while the bottom place in the girls table fell to pupils in Wales and the North who scored 14.8 per

French was the only GCSE subject that showed marked variations across the regions.

The average pass rate for English across the country was 35.6 per, 37 per cent for-mathematics, 22.2 per cent for physics, 19.1 per cent for geography, 17 per cent for chemistry, 13.8 per cent for history, 13 per cent for biology, 2.4 per cent for general science and an 11.8 per cent

pass rate for pupils studying

Scottish teenagers were more likely to be taught in smaller groups than pupils elsewhere, with an overall-pupil-teacher ratio of 12.7 to one, compared to 16.1 to one

Their brothers and sisters in well with a 20.3 to one ratio, compared to 25.5 to one in Northern Ireland. Class sizes.

the country with about 30

Parents needing day-care nurseries for their children found a big difference from region to region. In Northern Ireland and the north in 1988

there were about 14 places for every 100 children, while in East Anglia and the southwest

The number of students

staying at school after the age of 16 is generally rising, with a national average of 65.4 per.

These range from 76.9 per cent in Scotland to 59.6 per cent in the southeast. Women throughout the country seem much keener on adult education than men with about twice as many signing on for Few water

cases in court

FOR 23,952 reported water pollution incidents in England and Wales in 1988 there were 307 prosecutions — one in 80.

These included 8,214 industrial incidents with 117 prosecutions; 4,848 sewerage incidents with six prosecutions; and 3,940 farm incidents with 173 prosecutions.

cent. There are, however,

there were 25.

considerable part-time courses.

variations.

in the southwest.

the southwest.

girls leaving school without,

cation figures in the survey.

Winds and min street mente atte a meet Eher Deparment Eller I's week. Pr maraliani "List)ad tere for a day to 1 period service france & The late of the same Haters at Swaleshild y gains of Shappen. Not sime comul automa s EE WILL DIN LAN-525 MERCE OF TWO WORLD FOR militar commissions terisheitel mauch wi

Printed by the damps Riot pri

Prison staffing in Britain 'below west European average'

PRISON staffing levels in has the most riot-prone jails in such tasks unnecessarily di-England and Wales are below Europe, was third from botthe west European average and are generally worse than those of countries with highstandard prison systems, vey by the council's com-according to the Council of mittee for co-operation in

A survey of staffing ratios in 13 council states found Sweden to have the best levels, for every inmate, followed by said that the survey removed the Republic of Ireland, Denmark and The Netherlands, all countries with fairly stable edly highlig jails. England and Wales, with in staffing. an average ratio of 43 officers to every 100 prisoners, was below average, while Turkey was bottom of the table with a staff-inmate ratio of 1:5. France, which with Britain

Freed from cells to build jail

PRISONERS are being freed from their cells to help to build a multi million pound prison. A dozen inmates from Stafford Prison journey every day to a site nearby where a jail for 600 criminals is being constructed.

They work with the regular workforce and are supervised by building staff. Their pay goes direct to the Home Office.

The scheme is being run by the Apex Trust, the employment organisation for former offenders. Apex believes it will help to combat jail idleness and teach convicts new skills which could find them jobs

The scheme is being piloted at six prisons and young offenders' institutions in the Midlands and may spread nationwide after a meeting with Prison Department of ficials later this week. Prisopers are allowed out of jail on licence for a day to the probation service. Nine big companies have so far agreed to provide work placements. Prisoners at Swaleside jail on the Isle of Sheppey, Kent, will have normal duties replaced with holiday-style recreations for two weeks next month. Pop concerts, sports days and a football match with an EastEnders celebrity team are planned by the deputy governor Hugh Bagshaw to break the prison monotony. April 1, 1890 tom with a ratio of 27 uniformed staff to every 100 inmates, according to the sur-prison affairs. A survey of staffing ratios in 13 council states found Sweden to have the best levels, with almost one prison officer

Office over staffing levels, for every invariant followed in the staffing levels, for every invariant followed in the staffing levels, and the staffing

Office had made by repeat-edly highlighting big increases

The union said that the real position in English and Welsh jails is even worse than that suggested by the council's research because of the 1,000 officers who have to be diverted from jails each day to ferry prisoners to court. In West Germany, where prison regimes are better even though staffing ratios are poorer than in England and Wales, escort duties are carried out by a separate state account in England. separate state agency, it said.

David Evans, vice-chair-man of the POA, said: "The Woolf enquiry will be extremely interested to learn that Britain's jails actually have below average staffing levels despite all the capital the Home Office has been making out of its recruitment drive since 1987." He said that prison officers in comparable west European countries were also often better Penal reformers said that the survey also took no ac-count of the time prison officers spent on activities Judge Tumim, Chief Inspecing activities.

Paul Cavadino, of the National Association for the Care and Resettlement of Offenders, said that providing decent regimes generally presupposed higher staffing levels, although avoiding tasks such as escorting inmates to court was also important.

The POA, which has a mandate to order national industrial action in jails to press its case for more staff, was to have a second round of negotiations with management yesterday. The union is calling for an extra 600 officers and reappraisal of individual jails.

A Home Office spokes-woman said a further fall in the jail population since the spring, combined with ongoing recruitment, meant there was now, on average, 50 officers for every 100 inmates. She said an unprecedented drive was underway to improve the physical fabric of the prison estate and regime standards, but added: "There is no proven correlation be-tween staffing levels and jail disturbances.

"For many prisoners what is of more concern than extra staff on wings is whether they can use a payphone and relaxation of censorship. These are things we are working hard at."

She said critics of the system had to give some credit to the government's massive prison investment programme that started in 1979. Nearly such as censoring mail. The POA believes censorship remains a useful security tool, as well as providing clues which could help staff prevent suicides. Penal reformers and in 1979. Nearry 1979. Nearry 2070 million would be spent on new buildings and £150 million on refurbishment this year. Accurate comparisons between countries were impossible to make, she said, because of such factors as the tor of Prisons for England and differing extent to which Wales, however, think that prison jobs were civilianised.

PRISON STAFFING LEVELS IN EUROPE

	Prisonera	Prison officers	Officers per 100 immates
Sweden	3,966	3,750	94.6
Irish Republic	1,936	1,474	76.1
Denmark	3,360	2.355	70.1
Netherlands	4,906	3,016	61.5
italy	42,990	22,898	53.3
Malta	95	50	52.6
Belgium	6.625	3.383	51.1
Norway	2,017	986	48.9 -
England/Wales*	46,984	20,360	43.0
West Germany	53,619	20,261	37.8
Greece	3,803	1,300	34.2
France	48,370	12,866	26.6
Portugal	8,809	1,893	21.5
Turkey	52,401	10,480	20.0

Riot prisoners beaten after surrendering, Woolf told

PRISONERS surrendering at a riot-torn remand centre were punched on the face and body by prison officers, the Woolf prisons enquiry was told

Other officers held the inmates' arms as they were punched, an unnamed prisoner said in evidence to the eighth day of the hearing at Taunton, Somerset. The prisoner, identified as PI, said he saw about 15 prisoners attacked and that he heard the screams of other inmates as they were beaten in the A block of the adjoining wom-en's section of Pucklechurch remand centre, near Bristol.

He said he watched the beatings through a letter-box flap on his cell where he was placed after he had surrendered earlier. They allegedly making the allegations to get back at prison officers, though he admitted that he had frequently been on reports for disruptive behaviour. He agreed that he had made allegations against a named officer with whom he had been in trouble but denied that the allegations were personal, claiming the officer was generally disliked. Barry Cotter, counsel for the Prison Officers' Association, denied the specific allegations. He challenged the prisoner's ability to see alleged assaults clearly through the door flap.

He suggested that when the flap was down the prisoner could only assume that beatings were taking place. He also suggested that prisoners were today.

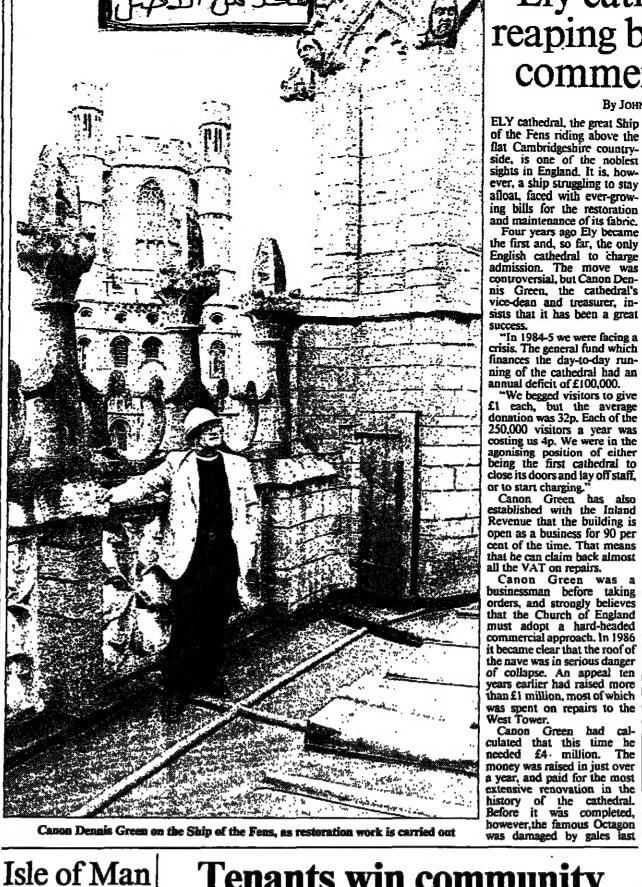

oner said: "They were screaming and the only assumption I could make was that they were getting hit by officers."

Lord Justice Woolf and his assessors are taking evidence into the disturbance at Pucklechurch on April 22 and 23 which followed riots at prisons at Dartmoor, Bristol and Cardiff. The enquiry has examined the Strangeways riot. Prisoner PI said he had been on remand in Pucklechurch since November. "Everybody in the prison was getting excited because of Strangeways. The day the riot started we were short of staff and the inmates took advantage of that and that's why it started." The hearing continues

Tenants win community elects first enterprise scheme award president By Charles Knevitt, architecture correspondent

By RONALD FAUX

ANOTHER vestige of empire has slipped from the Isle of Man with the election of the island's first president. Sir Charles Kerruish will in future preside over Tynwald, the Manx parliament, in place of the island's Lieutenant Governor, Sir Laurence New, who is appointed by the Queen.

Under the constitutional changes, the island will remain a Crown dependency but the election of a president strengthens the degree of autonomy which the Manx government enjoys. Although the logical end to that road would be independence, this is not something the Isle of Man can afford in the foreseeable future in spite of its growing attraction as an offshore financial centre.

Sir Charles, aged 72, has been a member of the House of Keys since 1946. He has been its speaker since 1962, making him one of the Commonwealth's longest serving speakers.

Although constitutionally the island owes no allegiance to Parliament, the grey area of good government still rests with Whitehall.

Professor St John Bates, the clerk of Tynwald said, however, that there was no political mood for independence.

nity centre run by tenants than £25,000. from council estates in Port Lord Scarm Glasgow, Strathclyde, has won the top award in the fifth annual Community Enterprise Scheme, sponsored by The Times, the Royal Institute of British Architects and Business in the Community.

Fifteen other awards have been made and there are 11 commendations and 16 honourable mentions from more than 1,000 entries.

The Prince of Wales, the scheme's patron, was due to present the awards today, at the RIBA headquarters in London, but is unable to attend after breaking his right arm in a polo accident, Lord Scarman, chairman, will present them on his behalf.

The 400 delegates will, however, hear the prince's speech; it was video-taped at Highgrove, his home in Gloucestershire, on Tuesday. The prince expresses his disto attend and invites the main winners to visit him at Highgrove later this month. The Port Glasgow scheme, called The Factory, which also caters for small businesses, receives the Charles Douglas-Home Award for the most outstanding entry and a prize of £5,000. The other winners

A TRAINING and commu- share prizes totalling more the United Kingdom. It is

Lord Scarman said: "It is encouraging that so many projects are succeeding at a time when funding has become an acute problem in many areas. But it is also evidence of the strength of purpose of all the local communities involved that we have a record number Bank, Marks & Spencer, Shell of winners in all categories."

A series of workshops will be held today before the award ceremony, on the theme People and Professions Making things Happen.

The scheme was launched in 1985 by Charles Douglas-Home, the late editor of The Times, to identify and reward "the most imaginative, viable and need-fulfilling" community development projects in supported by the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation, the Community Development

Foundation, the National Children's Play and Recreation Unit, and the Housing Associations Charitable Trust. Commercial sponsors of individual awards are Barclays nine UK and the Post Office. The sixth year of the scheme will be launched in October.

> • The extension to the imperial War Museum, south London, by Arup Associates, and the headquarters of Imagination, in west London, are joint winners of the second Royal Fine Art Commission/ Sunday Times Building of the Year award, 1990.

Special Report, pages 32-33

Ely cathedral is reaping benefits of commercialism

By JOHN YOUNG

flat Cambridgeshire country-and maintenance of its fabric.

Four years ago Ely became the first and, so far, the only

English cathedral to charge admission. The move was controversial, but Canon Dennis Green, the cathedral's vice-dean and treasurer, insists that it has been a great crisis. The general fund which finances the day-to-day running of the cathedral had an costing us 4p. We were in the agonising position of either being the first cathedral to close its doors and lay off staff, open as a business for 90 per cent of the time. That means that he can claim back almost

Canon Green was a businessman before taking orders, and strongly believes that the Church of England must adopt a hard-headed commercial approach. In 1986

it became clear that the roof of the nave was in serious danger of collapse. An appeal ten years earlier had raised more than £1 million, most of which money was raised in just over a year, and paid for the most extensive renovation in the history of the cathedral.

Before it was completed,

however, the famous Octagon was damaged by gales last all the VAT on repairs.

"We begged visitors to give annual deficit of £100,000.

"In 1984-5 we were facing a

ELY cathedral, the great Ship January, costing a further £1.3 of the Fens riding above the million.

The medieval buildines side, is one of the noblest surrounding the cathedral also sights in England. It is, howneed £2 million spent on ever, a ship struggling to stay them. Many have been put to affoat, faced with ever-grow- new uses as a restaurant and ing bills for the restoration tea rooms. The old choir school has been converted into an attractive row of shops. The care of cathedrals measure, given its second reading in the Commons on Monday night, brings cathedrals under the equivalent of listed buildings control, but makes no provision for funding. Whether Ely has set an example for others to emulate is the subject of continuing debate.

MPs call for random breath tests

Government opposition to random breath testing represented a missed opportunity in the campaign to reduce casualties from road accidents, the Parliamentary Advisory Council for Transport Safety said yesterday.

Random breath testing was a cost effective measure, ca-pable of making a big contribution to the govern-ment's target of reducing road casualties by a third within 10 years, the group said in its annual report. It wants the measure to be given legislative

Ballet guest

Galina Samsova, the ballerina and teacher, today joins Scot-tish Ballet as guest director for six months during which she will help to present the company's autumn season entitled Ballets of Love and Longing.

Drugs charge Six men were remanded in custody yesterday at a special hearing at Sittingbourne police station, Kent, charged with illegally importing 60 kilos of amphetamine sulphate, the drug speed, worth £6 million.

Libel win

Lynn Higgins yesterday accepted substantial undisclosed libel damages over a Daily Mirror story in which her former husband, Alex "Hurri-cane" Higgins, alleged she had spent £22,000 in six weeks. The paper withdrew the allegation.

A £200 million scheme for a new town at Acaster airfield, south of York, was unveiled. vesterday. Shepherd Homes of York wants to build 2,250

Green milk

Sales of Unigate's organicallyproduced "green top" milk have been so successful in a: pilot scheme in Torbay, Devon, that it is to be sold

English Villages

- Infill in villages enough is enough
- Romantic history of a Peak District country house
- Charms of the rural life: it is the details that matter Bowers of bliss, or secrets of the perfect Wiltshire garden

Plus the usual informed coverage of collecting, gardening, the countryside, wildlife, architecture, sport, farming, fashion and the arts.

OUNTRY LIFE EVERY THURSDAY

WALLACE HEATON New Sony CD Mini Hi-Fi.

Quietly Unassuming. Until you switch it on. You could be forgiven for underestimating the very latest Mini Component Hi-Fi systems new to

How, you might think, could a hi-fi a fraction of the size of a traditional Midi produce a decent Prepare to be pleasantly surprised. The superb sound quality and sheer power of these remarkable Minis has to be heard to be believed. And they're just part of the immense range of big-name high-performance products you'll find at Wallace Heaton. Please ask our expert staff for a demonstration. You'll find them uniquely qualified

If visiting us in person is difficult, simply phone and we'll be only too pleased to arrange speedy delivery of a new Sony Mini Hi-Fi - or anything else that takes your fancy.

127 New Bond Street, London W1 Telephone: 071-499 8307

full remote control. Three-way 'bookshelf eakers. DBFB Bass enhancement facility. Digital tuner with 30 presets. Twin auto-rever

ered trademark of Dolby Laboratones Licensing Cor Wallace Heaton Price £549.99

Technology and service par excellence.

HOME NEWS/PARLIAMENT

olitical class shows in times of trouble. There are two reasons why Conservative nerves remain so surprisingly unfrayed after the Ridley affair despite the Prime Minister's dithering over dispensing with the services of an old friend: one is called Douglas Hurd, the other John Major.

Entrusted with the task of settling things down, Mr Hurd's On the Record performance was magisterial. He was calm and authoritative without being bland. He actually answered questions.

John Major faced a dif-ferent problem at the backbench finance committee on Tuesday night. Tory MPs have seen the gap in the polls come down from 24 to 11 per cent as the poll tax effect has been largely stripped out. They wanted reassurance that the next 10 per cent or so, which most attribute to economic factors, would soon begin to melt away too.

Mr Major offered them no such reassurance. Instead, he came with a warning that interest rates must stay up a while yet, that inflation may yet go up before it comes down and that they should not look to him for a preelection "boomlet". But that did not stop them giving him a desk-banging round of applause because he had demonstrated genuine authority. They trust him enough to give him time.

In backbench conversation about Tory leadership possibles, Mr Hurd and Mr Major figure well ahead of the field, and what is mentioned most, if it is not way, he is doing so, helped by always articulated as such, is the sheer political quality of the pair. Both have always been regarded as sound men, but there used to be question marks about their command of the baser arts of politics. Could they wheel and deal?

John Major may be ruling out a contrived pre-election boomlet, but he has shown himself to be a deeply political chancellor. It showed in the framing of a Budget that was a compendium of politically guided measures such as the football clubs

The Tory recovery in thepolls owes as much to the relief he engineered over the set of inflation figures immediately afterwards as it did to Kenneth Baker's handling of the local government election results. Anyone who doubted his ability to wheel and deal has only to look at together with the French at the May IMF meeting in Washington, which finished with the French getting a concession from Britain on IMF quotas and Mr Major securing for London the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development. Above all else. Mr Major has remained accessible to backbenchers. Few can recall

Douglas Hurd was a proven diplomat before his political career began. The doubts in his case centred more on his ability to reach outside the chattering classes. But anecdotal evidence a genuine gift for the felicitous phrase. When he talked of Neil Kinnock being "a feather blown by any wind" or "a man of essential emptiness" he zoomed in precisely on the Labour leader's image problem. When on Soviet aid he said: "The trouble with the Russians is that they've got holes in their pockets which need stitching up first" he made sense of what seemed previously to be a grudging refusal to help

President Gorbachev. Where Douglas Hurd and John Major have really demonstrated their political agility is in moving the prime minister on Europe. She has accepted the logic of being nicer to the Europeans. Steadily she has ceased to fight unwinnable battles. Ah yes, the chattering classes say, but Geoffrey Howe and Nigel Lawson moved her on Europe, and look what hap-There is a difference, how-age to influence the Prime Minister without creating the same tensions. They do so partly because she does not suspect either of them of manoeuvring for her job while she still wants it. They manage it partly because they are closer to her position than would sometimes ap-pear. Mr Major is entirely convinced of the merits of ERM entry. But he is op-posed as she is to full monetary union. Mr Hurd may have been a Heath man. But his experiences as Home Secretary, battling for secure ever. Hurd and Major man-

Major and Hurd: a pair of trusted political animals terrorists and drug smugglers, left him far from starryeyed about Brussels.

Talk of a Hurd-Major axis is exaggerated, though. They have climbed the ladder different ways. Hurd went to Eton, Major to Rutlish Grammar. One is the Tory party of old, the other that of today. But they are as nearly

"I'D LIKE TO GET A SUNTAN

THIS SUMMER."

unsackable as Thatcher ministers can be. They are lucky in that Labour's conversion has transformed the politics of the ERM and Nicholas Ridley has helped their case And when two such popular baritones sing in unison the prime minister knows she would be foolish not to heed

Community care delay condemned by Labour

sion to delay full implementation of its comwas roundly condemned by Opposition MPs when it was announced in the Commons yesterday.

Robin Cook, shadow health secretary, said that the statement had removed all doubt that eldedy and disabled people came at the bottom of Treasury spending commitments.

Kenneth Clarke, health sec-retary, had defended his de-cision to phase in the new proposals by saying that local authorities would not be able to cope and that phasing was necessary to protect community

Mr Cook said that the state-ment would be greeted almost universally with anger for its neglect of the most vulnerable and with contempt for the broken promises that it left behind and the cowardice with which Mr Clarke had cought to which Mr Clarke had sought to palm off the blame on local

If Mr Clarke could not get the resources from the Treasury, why not put into care in the community the hundreds of millions of pounds he was pouring into his plans to commercialise the National Health Service? Health Service?
Amid Tory protests, Mr Cook

asked: "How many elderly people will be put on the streets by then by home owners who munity care proposals have given up waiting for this government to honour its commitment to those elderly

> The shameful statement broke the commitment that Mr Clarke had made repeatedly to the House. In a more honour-able period the statement would have ended with his resignation.

Surv spoke

The system relating to those at present in homes would continue for the next two years. The government was spending £1 billion in support of people in residential homes. It had put unprecedented sums of money

His announcement had been could not keep their policie within reasonable cost.

Sir David Price (Eastleigh, C) said that phasing of the new enhanced policies was at last

Frank Field (Birkenhead, Lab) asked whether those bodies that had believed the govern-ment and had got community care projects up and running would be told that no extra funds were available and would therefore find themselves stranded and bankrupt?

bodies opening day centres would still be receiving income support topped up either by their charitable funds or from local authorities. Income sup-port would cominue.

Archy Kirkwood, Liberal Democrat welfaire spokesman, said that the millions of people requiring care, who were now to have misery inflicted on them for another two years, had be added to the list of casualties resulting from the introduction Mr Clarke said that the

Mr Clarke said that last week Mr Cook had been reported as saying that local authorities would require £1.5 billion more next year to implement social service policies, a 40 per cent increase, but had given no indication from where that money was to come. The sugges-tion was unlikely to have been authorised by Labour's Trea-into care for the elderly, dis-abled, mentally ill and mentally handicapped for those in private and public sector homes.

ponsible behaviour of largely socialist local authorities which mous demand had to be met by care in the community policies. rangements had to be in place to meet priority needs without placing a burden on charge payers that they could not afford.

Mr Clarke said that voluntary

Children Act, the new school curriculum and the Food Act were new responsibilities for local authorities. It was com-next year.

Roger Sias (Chislehurst, C) said that there was bound to be a sense of disillusion among directors of social services and a demoralising effect on social workers who had been busy preparing for implementation next April in accordance with Mr Clarke's assurances.

Mr Clarke raid that he had

Mr Clarke said that he had expected disappointment from those who had worked hard to prepare new plans. "We have done our best to ensure that the

Enter left battling lady, in a dudgeon

Pros Pol I leads policy

MENT ATOM FOR COME

Programme the reserver

eman matter, like

Employed Commencial eight of the North

Enter the contract was men, coperate im

lenya sees weign role in riots

 $\operatorname{fin}(G_{i}(G_{i+1}) imes G_{i+1}(G_{i+1})$

實際 经成本证据 计 किया कि को भवन

Braker 27 - or lot

BEADER OF John Roam,

See Table who Registers samming and the note had

Commence would the prosent the gove

ha Repa and Lawyers

Meire Dr John

Control of Garage

ildenis Og. nga | asi D. Josephan Veicer Promap

The are dis

(below), the former Mrs Bar-bara Castle, refused to wear the traditional three-cornered hat or to kneel dur-ing her introduction ceremony in the House of Lords (John Lewis writes).

Before the ceremony she had been involved in what she later described as a frightening row" with Black Rod, Sir John Gingell.

The former Labour minister said: "I did say I was not going to wear this cocked hat nonsense and that I should look a fool in it. At one stage I refused to wear the was manageable. I said I would carry the hat."

Lady Castle also refused to kneel during the ceremony. She said that she knelt to no one and anyway she might not be able to get up. Of not wearing the hat, she said: "You don't ruin a shampoo and set with a hat",

Waiting in comfort

cluding redecoration, new almost complete, Peter Lloyd, under secretary, Home Office, said in a written re-

I rident praise

on time and within budget, and continues to make satisfactory progress towards its in-service date of the mid-1990s, Alan Clark, the defence procurement min-

Lilley arrives Peter Lilley was given a warm welcome from Cons vative backbenehers when he answered Commons questions for the first time as trade and industry secretary. In turn, he paid tribute to. Nicholas Ridley, who pos-ceded him in the post.

Cars law

The transport department is to seek a change in the law at the earliest opportunity to make it an offence to sell an unroadworthy vehicle. Robert Atkins, roads and traf-fic minister, said in a Commons written reply Parliament today prime minister. Debate on motion to approve the perma-nent televising of the Lords (3): Broadcasting bill, committee, fourth day.

Clarke puts blame on high poll tax

He was replying to a Labour motion calling on the government to go ahead with the full community programme next April, with adequate funding. He said that what was dividing the House was the belief of the Opposition that it was right to go ahead despite the difficulties of preparation and the impact on the community charge.

The community charge levels had to be taken into account, particularly when local government spending had risen by a quarter in the past two years.

Robin Cook said that local

THE delay in the government's proposals for care in the community had been brought about by the levels of community charge being announced by local authorities, the health secretary, Kenneth Clarke, said in the debate that came after his statement. authorities needed to add the cost of community care to the poll tax only if they did not get the resources from central government to pay for care. The way in which ministers were now sliding out of their commitments was shameful and shifty. The government had never intended to transfer to local authorities any resources other authorities any resources other than the money at present spent by the department, and that money was not adequate even to the the recent io do the present job.

April 1993 would be too late for people who could not pay their bills this month. The average length of stay in a nursing home was less than three years, and most residents who needed support now would be dead before April 1993.

Jack Ashley (Stoke-on-Trent South, Lab) accused Mr Clarke of a disingenuous performance.

Graduate tax plan

By NICHOLAS WOOD, POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT

PLANS to levy an extra I per cent on the income tax of all new-graduates to help to pay for a big expansion of higher education will be debated by Liberal Democrats at their conference in Blackpool

The additional contribution would be triggered when earnings reached £12,600 a year, or 115 per cent of average earnings, according to a policy paper published yesterday. The levy would be applied to the standard rate of income tax and would cost students obtaining degrees an average of £2 a week. It is estimated to raise up to £350 million a year.

to £350 million a year.

The paper also contains a separate option, putting the case against a graduate tax, pointing out that big earners already pay more in tax, and highlighting the extra administrative costs involved. Paddy Ashdown, the SLD leader, struck a cautious note as he launched the policy paper. He said that the arguments about the ments of the proposal were delicately balanced and that he was happy to let the conference decide. His initial enthusiasm for a graduate tax had waned as he had become more familiar with the drawbacks.

He made clear that he regarded a drastic overhaul of higher education as the key to reversing Britain's industrial decline. His proposals envisage a far more flexible approach, with the abolition of the divide between polytechnics and universities and much greater opportunities for part-time and correspondence courses.

The solution was not to throw money at unreformed institutions, as Labour intended, but to economise on spending and to ensure that money followed the student. Student loans would be scrapped as would the parental contribution to grants, which would be worth.

Should you wish to go topless this year, we'll provide the overheads.

With one of our personal loans you can borrow what you need at the nearest Halifax Building Society branch.

Whether it's secured or unsecured, you'll get the best advice possible because after all, we are the biggest building society in the world.

(If you can't make it to us, ring 0800 500235 and we'll send an explanatory leaflet.)

You'll also find we're very flexible with the amount you can borrow and the same. applies to the time you have to repay the loan.

Then, once the money's yours, it's entirely up to you how it's spent.

In fact, it could prove to be a very convertible asset.

SECURED PERSONAL LOANS MUST BE SECURED BY A MORTGAGE OF YOUR PROPERTY WRITTEN QUOTATIONS CAN BE OBTAINED ON REQUEST FROM YOUR LOCAL OFFICE OR HALIFAX BUILDING SOCIETY, TRINITY ROAD, HALIFAX, WEST YORKSHIRE HX1 2RG.

Enter left battling lady, in a dudgeon

aiting in

ke puts blame high poll tax

Prospect of Pol Pot rule leads to US policy switch can foreign policy.

bodia in which using a toothbrush or wearing speciacles was a capital offence, a sign of bourgeoise tendency. Now the Khmer Rouge show Cambodians in remote villages Thai soap operas on portable vidcos and pay them gold or dollars for their rice.

But there is no reason to believe they have fundamentally changed. The British-made film The Killing Fields did much to influence popular opinion about the true nature of the Nazis of Asia, though not governments which had their own agenda. Now it seems governments are ready to follow suit.

James Baker, the US Secretary of State, said in a statement in Paris yesterday that the US would begin a dialogue with Vietnam on Cambodia as a response to concern in the US, including Congress, that US policy of support for the non-communist components of the resistance movement in Cambodia was somehow helping the Khmer Rouge.

The move may be the first step, though this is denied, towards the normalisation of US relations with Vietnam, frozen for 15 years since the US suffered its first defeat in

The US action flies in the face of China's policy of allout support for the Khmer Rouge. Washington has been accused of playing down the bloody suppression of pro-democracy demonstrations in Tiananmen last year in order not to provoke the ire of Peking with which President Bush fancies he has a "special relationship".

Fundamentally, the reason for a turnaround on its Cambodia policy is due to domes-tic reasons. Washington does not want to be accused later that it was partly instrumental in the return of the Khmer Rouge to power, if that is what eventually happens in

Kenya sees foreign role in riots

From Our Correspondent IN NAIROBI

CRITICISM by the Kenyan government of multi-party advocates continued yesterday as President Moi said last week's riots were aimed at overthrowing him and were backed by mentally unstable power-seekers acting on foreign instructions.

His accusation was reported in parliament by John Keen, the assistant minister, who said some of those arrested in connection with the riots had drawn up a 21-member shadow cabinet which would have seized power had the disturbances toppled the government.

Among those named by Mr Keen were ex-cabinet minister Charles Rubia and lawyers, Paul Muite, Dr John Khaminwa and Gitobu Imanyara who were detained after speaking in favour of a multi-party system. Others in-cluded Dr Gibson Kamau Kuria, Mukaru Ng'ang'a and Professor Ngugi wa Thiongo who are living abroad for fear of persecution.

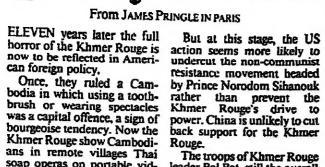

Mr Keen said two former vice-presidents, Oginga Odinga and Dr Josephat Karanja, and Anglican bishop Dr Henry Okullu, were also listed in the shadow cabinet. Dr Okuliu's sermon last Sunday, in which he called for the government to resign and parliament to be dissolved, provoked demands for his detention from some MPs.

Two other people named by Mr Keen denied any involvement with those listed in the shadow cabinet. Laban Kitele, an MP who was in parliament at the time, asked that his name be removed from the George Mbugguss, managing editor of Daily Nation newspaper, was also quoted as denying any links with the alternative cabinet.

Mr Keen said that the list of names had been corroborated by those arrested after the riots and was incomplete. It would not be surprising to find other incumbent MPs involved in the "illegal group", he added. A cabinet minister called on the government to have Smith Hempstone, the American ambassador, removed.

 Teenager remanded: A teenager arrested last week for wearing a T-shirt with a V-sign and the slogan "Year of victory" has been remanded in custody for possession of seditious materials.

The troops of Khmer Rouge leader Pol Pot, still the overall political and military commander, have had a certain measure of success in winning support from peasants in remore areas by paying for rice in hard currency or gold.

The Khmer Rouge is also projecting itself as adhering to Buddhist practices, though it closed pagodas and sent monks to work in rice fields when it power in April 1975.

"They know they have an image problem and they have been trying to come across as altogether nicer people," said an official of the Khmer People's National Liberation Front one of the two components in the non-communist resistance allied to the Khmer Rouge.

Cosmetic though these changes may be, the popular perception of the Khmer Rouge as dead-eyed automatons, as derived from David Puttnam's movie, has been superseded. Even the Khmer Rouge has evolved. Part of the reason for that is the Khmer Rouge's desire, prompted no doubt by Peking's public rela-tions effort to burnish its

How much of these superficial changes are reflected in the philosophy of Khmer Rouge leaders like Pol Pot, leng Sary and military commander Ta Mok, known as "the butcher"? Speaking through their frontman, Khieu Samphan, the Khmer Rouge says it has given up communism and socialism. But there is no real guarantee that its basic philosophy, a mish-mash of Marx, Mao and Jean-Jacques Rousseau ("man is born free but is everywhere in chains") has altered.

One Bangkok-based diplomat, who is a Khmer Rouge observer, says that a new state ruled by them might not be as draconian as the slave state they instituted between 1975 and late 1978 when it was overthrown by Vietnam.

Instead, it would resemble Romania under Ceausescu or Albania under the late Enver Hoxha, "But the point is." said the diplomat, "no one can afford to give the Khmer Rouge the benefit of the doubt. There can be no second chance - by the time we knew what they intended, it would

The new American attitude will also mean the end, no doubt, of support for a quadripartite solution which will anger China. Of course, Sihanouk might have the option of throwing in his lot with Hun Sen, the Cambodian prime minister installed by Vietnam, but that would mean thwarting China and it is hard to see the prince doing that, dip-

Cambodia's is a low intensity war and in spite of claims by the Khmer Rouge of battlefield advances there are unlikely to be dramatic changes soon, particularly in the current wet season.

lomais say.

A Liberian rebel, wearing a wig and non-military clothing like many guerrillas fighting President Doe, reloading his rifle shortly before being shot dead by government troops near Monrovia. Peace talks resume today

Khmer Rouge advances help to undermine Phnom Penh morale

From Neil Kelly in Bangkok

ling Highway Six, a vital link

They believe that the Khmer Rouge could also capture towns in areas such as

Kompong Speu, Takeo, Kompong Chhnang, Kampot and Siem Reap, including the his-toric temples of Angkor and government strongholds near the Thai border at Battam-

Claims of guerrilla casualties by the government con-firm that the fighting has widened and has been in areas which the Khmer Rouge claims to have attacked. The Khmer Rouge does not occupy cities or towns, however,

since it adheres to Mao's philosophy that "the country-to the northwest.

THE American decision to change its policy on Cambodia comes against a background of reports of growing military gains by the Khmer Rouge in the 11-year war.

The fighting has spread to the borders of Vietnam and Laos, to the southern coast, and into areas previously regarded as safe by the Vietnamese-backed government in Phnom Penh. bang and Sisophon.

The Khmer Rouge and the resistance leader, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, have claimed these advances would not have been possible without the support of local people. Foreign diplomats and aid workers in Cambodia said many people seem to have forgotten the former crimes of the Khmer Rouge.

The widening of the conflict has produced a new wave of 100,000 refusees, some fleeing from the fighting while others were moved from their homes by the government so they could not aid the guerrillas.

The Khmer Rouge's military success has not helped morale in the government, which appears split. Last month, a number of ministers and senior officials, were arrested for alleged illegal financial dealings.

Thai intelligence sources, on information received from agents operating in Cambodia, Cambodian military radio, and satellite pictures, say the guerrillas and political cadres of the Khmer Rouge are operating at will in districts as far apart as Kratie province, 30 miles from the Vietnamese border, and Koh Kong province in the southwest. In the northeastern province of Preay Vihear, they are thought to be close to the Laotian border. The Khmer Rouge and Prince Sihanouk's army are also surrounding Kom- side should surround the pong Thom, and are control-

"The Khmer Rouge also knows that capturing cities will make international public opinion even more hostile." said a diplomat. "But anyone who says the Khmer Rouge is not doing well is either badly informed or is lying." Bangkok-based diplomats say reports of the Khmer Rouge's success are not always welcomed by their governments who are more concerned about public opinion at

A US state department official said recently in Washington that the United States had no evidence to support reports of the Khmer Rouge's ficial described the Khmer

Rouge's political gains as "frightening".

Although Hun Sen, the Cambodian prime minister, and Prince Sihanouk agreed last month to a voluntary ceasefire at the end of this month, this is now generally seen as worthless, and is unlikely to be taken up by the Security Council. According to Southeast Asian diplomats, China has already indicated it will veto the ceasefire agreement being part of the council's resolution after the Paris talks on Cambodia.

Diplomats have been expecting little progress from the talks, which ended yesterday. as the five permanent council members are as divided on a progress, although another of- peace settlement as the four warring factions.

Harare to lift security measure

From Jan Raath IN HARARE

THE state of emergency, under whose grip Zimbabwe has been governed for the last quarter of a century with often brutal effect, is to be lifted pext week.

Addressing parliament yes-terday, Moven Mahachi, the minister of home affairs, said it would not be given its routine six-monthly renewal when it expired at midnight next Wednesday. He made it clear that this was because of the recent dramatic changes in South Africa.

"It appears the South African government is now seriously extending a hand of friendship and is now ceasing the carrying out of commando raids on our territory," he

The news was immediately welcomed by Nicholas Nde-bele, director of the Catholic Justice and Peace Commission, the country's only human rights organisation. He said: "We are really overjoyed with this announcement. Now our people are going to experience real independence, real

The state of emergency was introduced in 1965 by the British governor, Sir Humphrey Gibbs, after assurances by Ian Smith, the Rhodesian prime minister, that it would not enable the introduction of a unilateral declaration of independence (UDI), but would cope with a security threat. Six days later Mr Smith announced UDL

Robert Mugabe, now president of Zimbabwe, and most of the current leadership were detained during the state of emergency, which also all-owed the Rhodesian government to censor, seize property and ignore citizens' constitutional protections.

But one of the first acts of the new black-majority Zimbabwean government was to continue with the legacy of UDI. It used the same laws to harrass its own political oppo-nents — including Joshua Nkomo, the leader of the former Zapu party who now shares the post of second-in-command of the ruling Zanu

Observers point out that many of the powers in the state of emergency are contained in the presidential powers act, which allow Mr Mugabe to proclaim states of emergencies in parts of the country without resorting to

Thatcher showers praise on Mandela

From GAVIN BELL IN JOHANNESBURG

DESPITE an "utterly appalling" error of judgement on Northern Ireland, Nelson Mandela evidently made a favourable impression on Mrs Thatcher. In an interview published in The Star of Johannesburg yesterday, the prime minister lauded the African National Congress leader as a courageous and a reasonable man who deserved the confidence of white South Africans.

"Mr Mandela has shown great courage and dignity and a remarkable lack of bitterness. I am sure he is genuinely committed to negotiations," she said. Asked whether whites should trust him, Mrs. Thatcher said: "I think it is absolutely vital, because he is a reasonable person and can see the force of argument."

Whether her arguments against sanctions and the ANC armed struggle pre-vailed, however, is a moot point. Asked whether her message had got through to Mr Mandela, she said: "It always gets through when I am there. I come back frequently and say we won our case, we got people to realise. Then they go off somewhere else and kind of forget."

Nor, evidently, did Mr Mandela's suggestion that the British government talk with the IRA impress the prime minister. "That was absolutely and utterly appalling. I think perhaps he did not realise the enormity of what he was saying."

While expressing admira-tion for Mr Mandela, if not for some of his policies, Mrs Thatcher said she believed that Chief Mangosuthu Buthelezi, his principal black political rival, had a crucial role to play in the creation of a post-apartheid society. She said Chief Buthelezi, the South African Zulu leader who also heads the conservative Inkatha party, had demonstrated courage in opposing sanctions and pol-itical violence.

The decisive moment for South Africa would be when the vestiges of apartheid leg-islation had been removed, and a democratic constitution was in place. At that point, she expected South Africa to be fully accepted back into the international community, including the Commonwealth.

Mrs Thatcher saw no reason for maintaining cultural and sports boycotts.

Bus and taxi ambush kills 26 blacks in Natal

Rescue workers searching for survivors trapped in a bus which careered off the road between Durban and Inanda township after being ambushed by gunmen

From Ray Kennedy in Johannesburg

gunmen ambushed a bus and a taxi yesterday near a black township in Natal province.

The pre-dawn ambush outside Inanda township, north of Durban, was carried out with murderous precision. Both vehicles plunged down a 100ft embankment as the drivers lost control. The dead and injured, all blacks, were on their way to work when the gunmen struck.

Police said they had no idea who they were but blacks in the township had little doubt. A spokesman for the Inanda civic association said: "On Tuesday night a group of people, who we think were Inkatha supporters, went to a section of Inanda and started TWENTY-SIX people were attacking people. Several killed and 49 injured when houses were set ablaze and some people were injured."

> More than 3,000 people have been killed in four years of violence in Natal — where the state of emergency lifted in the remainder of South Africa last month remains in force between factions supporting the African National Congress and the Zulu Inkatha move-ment of Chief Mangosuthu Buthelezi.

Emergency workers took more than five hours yesterday to pull the dead and injured from the mangled wreckage of the bus which landed on its roof at the bottom of the embankment. The injured were taken to three hospitals. Children from the township helped rescue workers by holding drips for people receiving treatment.

● Youth dies: A black South African youth, aged 15, has died after being assaulted while in police detention, his mother alleges. Eugene Mbulwana, arrested on July 10 after disturbances in Khutsong township, west of Johannesburg, died four days later. Police confirmed the death and said an autopsy was being carried out.

Johannesburg's Daily Mail vesterday quoted Aggie Mbulwana as saying that her son was taken to hospital with internal injuries three days after his detention. "Eugene was breathing very deeply. His mouth, face, nose were very swollen. His legs and arms were bruised. I called his name but he did not respond. A few minutes later, he died," Mrs

Mbulwana said. (Reuter) HELP KEEP OUR HEADS

Please help the Royal British Legion build a home for the Veterans of Dunkirk, Phone 0839800.999

ABOVE WATER.

to make a credit card donation

NAIROBI NOTEBOOK by Christopher Walker

Skyscraper dream stirs whispers of megalomania

espite opposition from local conservationists and international aid donors. the ruling Kenya African National Union (Kanu) is going ahead with plans to build Africa's tallest skyscraper, 60 storeys high and fronted by a 30ft statue of President Moi.

Many Western observers regard the extravagant $198 million (£110 million) scheme as symbolic of presidential megalomania. Its primary purpose will be to act as a communications centre housing the Kenya Times Media Trust, a private company in which Kanu is the main shareholder. It will also contain the stock exchange and a round-the-clock commercial television station.

The plan is to build the skyscraper, flanked by two smaller towers and including conference facilities for 6,000, next to Nairobi's attractive Uhuru (freedom) park, one of the few places of outdoor recreation left for residents of the city's dusty, sprawling

A lawsuit by Kenya's green belt movement to outlaw construction was dismissed and President Moi told opponents of the project to shut up, claiming that they had "insects in their heads". The conservationists had declared that the proposed building was "not in the public interest, contravenes the law, will be an environmental degradation and is impermissible in law in any event".

President Moi announced the decision to go ahead with construction at a recent Kanu conference. His opponents claim he is determined to leave a greater monument than any built by his predecessor, Jomo Kenyatta, whose portraits were recently ordered to be removed from public

7 ith at least 80 per cent of Nairobi's vast army of prostitutes thought to be HIV positive, Aids has become such a national obsession that the popular Sunday Standard now devotes a whole page to aspects of the iliness every week under the head "Aids Watch".

Readers were told recently that clergy in neighbouring Uganda are up in arms over a suggestion that hotels throughout the country should place condoms in rooms, alongside Gideon's Bible, as part of the national anti-Aids campaign.

An advertisement backing the move, published under the auspices of the health ministry, has coined the catchy new slogan: "While the Bible can save your soul, the condom will save your life." The angry church leaders say the message encourages promiscuity and runs counter to the two earlier campaign slogans, "Zero grazing" and "Loving faithfully".

he late Josslyn Hay, 22nd Earl of Erroll, would have turned in his grave had he known that Charles Rubia, one of two former ministers recently detained for their part in the prodemocracy campaign, was arrested while attending committee meeting at the historic Muthaiga country club, of which he is a prominent

The low-slung, pink building was once the centre of the so-called Happy Valley Set, of which Joss Erroll was the leader until his unsolved murder in January 1941. Although well-off Africans like Mr Rubia, the first black mayor of Nairobi, are now welcome to join, the club still evokes the atmosphere of exclusive eccentricity immortalised in James Fox's film of the murder, White Mischief.

The arrest by nine plainclothes security agents caused as great a scandal as those generated by Erroll's many adulterous affairs. Members, who still consume vast quantities of oysters at 75 p a halfdozen washed down with imported champagne, refused to discuss the matter with the local or foreign

For the white Kenyans, described by Evelyn Waugh as "a community of English squires established on the equator", the swoop was the nearest they came to being involved in the recent rioting and the campaign for a democratic society. Meanwhile, in Nairobi's Cameo Cinema, capacity black audiences are daily to be found jeering the excesses of the settlers in Kenya's hit film of the year, White Mischief, labelled "a true story (adults only)". ew Scotland Yard reports can have been as potentially explosive as that prepared by

Detective Superintendent Robert

Troon into February's mysterious death of then Kenyan foreign minister, Robert Ouko, so far unpublished and not yet guaranteed ever to get a public airing. Many diplomats trace back the current instability to the unease caused by Dr Ouko's apparent murder soon after returning from an official visit to the United States during which he was widely reported to have fallen out with President Moi. Dr Ouko, a member of the powerful Luo tribe, was seen by some politicians as a potential future president. He disappeared from outside his home in a white car, and on February 13, his body was found nearby. He had been shot in the head and burnt almost beyond recognition. The president, anxious to dispel wild rumours which spread about official involvement in the death, called in the Yard to investigate. Superintendent Troon interviewed some 400 people in and around the town of Kisumu in connection with the killing and is said to have submitted his interim report to Nairobi last month.

The deafening silence about its findings has only stirred up more rumours and made white cars of any make the most popular target of anti-government rioters. "In the present climate, even a hint of involvement by the security forces would be dynamite," one white Kenyan businessman explained.

he ghosts of Teddy Roosevelt and Ernest Hemingway may soon be back to haunt the Kenyan bush where, under government law, only camera safaris have been permitted since a hunting ban was imposed in 1976.

Richard Leakey, the white Kenyan who runs the country's wildlife department, said recently that a decision was expected by the end of this year on a lifting of the ban. Zimbabwe has shown that controlled hunting is a successful conservation weapon.

But before anyone reaches for their gun, they should note Dr Leakey's warning that the move would be aimed primarily at helping local farmers. Big game and endangered species would remain on the banned list, leaving zebra, buffalo and gazelle as the most likely forms of licensed prey.

Moi in trouble, page 12

From Ian Murray in bonn

LESS than three weeks after railwaymen are also comcurrency union between the two Germanies, the leaders of the trade union and employer groups in West Germany have union, and seeking DM 200 a warned of a new mass emigration from East Germany because of its rapidly deteriorating economy.

Their warnings came as Regine Hildebrandt, the East German labour minister, revealed that 30 per cent of businesses in the country are unable to pay their bills and as Walter Romberg, the finance minister, said there was growing, immense unemployment" caused by a wageprice spiral with pay increases of up to 50 per cent. Heinz-Werner Meyer, leader of the West German trade settlers if there were an explosion of prices, wages failed to keep pace and too many jobs were lost in the East. There had to be a middle way to prevent too much pressure on workers, forcing them to leave for the West.

dent of the West German employers' union, who told the Osnabrücker Zeitung that East German trade unions had to realise that wages policy had an immediate effect on the survival of companies, Jobs maintained artificially were also preventing the formation of new firms and would disappear when the subsidies which kept them in existence were withdrawn. Amid large-scale unemployment, West Germany would have to expect more settlers. East German unions are, nevertheless, pressing ahead with large wage claims, as workers struggle to make their East German salaries meet West German prices. Their average pay is only a third of that in the West, while phasing-out of subsidies means that they are having to spend a high proportion of their income on essentials.

Representatives of 300,000 metal and electricity industry workers in Thuringia are ask-ing for monthly lump sum payments of up to 300 marks (£103) with guaranteed employment until the end of next year. The employers' organisation has responded by offering to increase the amount of short-time working from 10 to 50 per cent to protect jobs, but this would still mean an increase of around 6 per cent on the wages bill, well beyond what most of the 200 companies involved can afford. The firms have issued a joint statement warning that the wage claim meant short-time future of the businesses. The 650,000 employees in the retail trade have just submitted a claim for a 50 per cent increase. The 200,000

Now Churchill

can insure your car

for less

2 key reasons for lower prices:

Latest computer technology

Less cost, not less insurance!

Instant cover available

Free 24-hour Emergency HeipLine

the Winterthur Swiss Insurance

Instalment payments welcome

If you are interested in saving

0800-200-300

(We even pay for the call!)

Open Monday to Friday 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Saturday 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

churchill

On line to serve you :

Security. Churchill is wholly owned by Group, with assets over £10 billion.

money on your car insurance call:

No intermediaries

No cover notes

Divircial Insurance Company ad., Churchill House, 17 Londor Tead. Gromley, Nevi BR1 1DE

Nor available in Normern kesand nor it main driver under 21.

plaining, so far without response, that they are suffering from the effects of currency month compensation.

Negotiations for the 30,000 workers in the print industry, which is one of the more successful commercial sectors in East Germany, are faring better, although their union is now threatening to strike if their full claim is not met. The workers are paid DM 6.80 an hour compared with DM 22 earned by their counterparts in West Germany. They are demanding an immediate in-crease to half the West German level and have so far been offered DM 9.60.

Pay is the main concern of union federation, said in a the unions, although other radio interview yesterday that claims are being made. They there would be a fresh surge of are seeking a reduction in the working week from 43% to 40 hours as a step towards the 37hour average in West Ger-many. They also want the introduction of a thirteenthmonth payment, plus bonuses for qualifications and extra

His warning echoed one The West German institute from Klaus Murmano, presi- for economic research published figures yesterday predicting that East German unemployment is going to grow significantly next year, and suggesting that another 200,000 people will move to the West

• EAST BERLIN: German reunification will probably take place on December 1 - a day before the first joint German elections (Anne Mo-Elvoy writes). The decision on the date and electoral pro-visions for welding the two German states back together should be made before the end of the month, a spokesman for the Commission on German Unity said yesterday.

The all-party commission which is meeting in West Berlin to prepare the mechanics of the process, has been told by the East German Christian Democrats (CDU) that it will no longer oppose unification before the first joint German elections.

A spokesman for the CDU group in the Volkskammer said that the party would now drop its opposition to the idea because of the fresh impulse from Chancellor Kohl's meeting with President Gosbachev to achieve unity as quickly as possible".

The party had said that reunification should not take place until after the elections ment of Lothar de Maizière to maintain a say in the final details of the process by its place in a joint German cabinet. This arrangement would also have benefited the working, massive unemploy-ment and threatened the Forum and Democracy Now, who were instigators of the country's revolution last November but failed to coalesce into significant political forces thereafter.

Passing trade: Marko Steinbach, aged 15, an East German fruit and flower seller, waiting for a customer in Werder as business slackens

Soviet press hedges on Gorbachev U-turn

From Mary Dejevsky in moscow

FORTY-eight hours after President Gorbachev's public acceptance that a united Germany could be a member of Nato, the news is still considered too sensitive to be given direct to the people of the Soviet Union.

The official media yesterday stuck to straight accounts of the "two plus four" talks in Paris. Although most reports alluded to a "breakthrough" in discussions, they did not elaborate on the nature of the breakthrough.

Pravda published a full transcript of the joint press conference given on Monday by Mr Gorbachev and Helmut Kohl, but the text, in small type covering more than a full page, would have been read in full only by the more persistent reader.

Other papers resorted to the familiar tactic of publishing other people's comments. The army рарет, Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star), which in line with some military opinion in the Soviet Union seemed less than enthusiastic about the giving the appropriate section prospect of German reunification, published a round-up of foreign press reports. It quoted President Bush's positive reaction to the "breakthrough", united Germany's membership of Nato".

A longer article on the same page discussed the Nato sec-retary-general's visit to Moscow in a positive light.

Trud (Labour), the news-paper sponsored by the official trade union organisation, said that the French press had singled out two points of particular importance from the Gorbachev-Kohl talks: the decision on Nato membership, and the granting of full sovereignty for a united Germany. The Russian Federation paper, Sovetskaya Ros-siya, did the same.

 The Soviet government newspaper, Izvestiya, quoted East Berlin papers on the positive response to Mr Gorbachev's remarks on Nato.

of his statement verbatim. It cited the former Communist party paper, Neues Deutsch-land, as saying the Soviet Union had "given the long and spoke of the joy in awaited green light to Nato Washington over President membership for a united Ger-Gorbacher's statement on a many". Again, however, there was no comment from the paper.

The official news agency, ment, in an article by one of its political analysts. Aleksandr Antsiferov quoted the American television network, CBS, as describing the Soviet-West German summit as historic. Showing unaccustomed but revealing reticence, the commentator said: "The results of the summit will have such farreaching consequences that it is hardly possible to gauge the significance of the summit scrupulously just now."

As if anticipating difficulties in persuading the Soviet public to accept the policy change, Mr Antsiferov wrote: "The standards of old thinking who is a winner and who is a cable." He continued in defensive mood, scotching any suggestion that Moscow had made a political U-turn.

"What some observers hastened to describe as 'the Soviet Union's departure from earlier held positions' is not so in actual fact", he said, "because Gorbachev and Kohl reached accord on the issue only after the two European antagonistic alliances - the Warsaw Pact and Nato - made unambiguous steps towards rapprochement ... in a sense, all member states of the two blocs can be viewed as 'co-sponsors' of the decisions made at the Soviet-West German

In the Tass comment can be seen a skeleton of the way in which the Soviet decision not to prevent Nato membership for a united Germany will be presented to the Soviet public.

First, they will be accus-tomed to the idea, through the hints and verbatim quotations that have already appeared in

Second, they will be acquainted with the more positive aspects of the Soviet-West German agreement from the Soviet Union's point of view. These include the tentatively agreed ceiling on a united German army, which was emphasised on Tuesday night's main evening news, and Nato's change in attitude. displayed in the London communique and the Nato secretary-general's visit to Moscow, which has been re-ported in an exclusively positive light.

Now the text of the press conference has been made public for all those who want to know what Mr Gorbachev really said. In the next two or three days, commentators are likely to come into their own with analyses of "wisdom" and "far-sightedness" for the Soviet decision which, they will say, "in no way endangers Soviet security, and may even contribute to overall peace and security in Europe and the world". Any critical or neg-

Mr Maslennikov said: During the recent press conference there was men-tioned the payment situation in the Soviet Union. It was not meant (to convey) any interruption of debt payments and extension of the maturities (rescheduling), but was searching for ways to settle the payment situation. "Naturally, all previously signed credit agreements will be honoured and their conditions will not be renegotiated."

Kremlin

acts to reassure

creditors

From Mary Delevsky. IN MOSCOW -THE office of President

Gorbachev yesterday issued a

Soviet Union's creditors and clarify its position on debt-repayments. Mr Arkadi Mas-lennikov, the president's press spokesman, called a news conference at short notice vesterday evening to deny any change in Soviet repayment

He expressed concern about a Reuters report which interpreted remarks by President

Gorbachev at his press con-ference with Helmut Kohl, the West German chancellor, on Monday as meaning that Mos-cow was considering either interrupting or rescheduling payments on its foreign debt.

The speed of the Soviet response suggests deep con-cern in Moscow about the country's financial position and how it is perceived in the West.

A senior official of the Soviet state bank, Eduard Gostey, described the Reuters report as "not correct and far from the truth". Neither Mr Gostev nor Mr

Maslennikov would confirm that the Reuters report had been followed by a dramatic fall in international cosfidence in the Soviet Union's financial reliability.

Mr Gostev said that the Soviet Union's foreign ex-change debt amounted to 34 billion transferrable roubles (£34 billion) — the same figure as that given by the prime minister. Nikolai Ryzhkov, last month, and he insisted that this was intended to be a ceiling. He said that the Soviet Union did not want to increase its indebtedness, though it did want to improve the structure of its credit. Mr Gostev said that the short term credit of 5 billion Deutschmarks (£1.6 billion) granted by West Germany last month would be used to offset payment delays primarily to West German exporters.

• Bodies found: Four bodies have been found in the Soviet Central Asian republic of Kirchizia where the authorities are fighting to contain ethnic tension between Uzbeks and the majority Kirghiz.

A Soviet Interior Ministry spokesman said yesterday that the four bodies had been discovered in the previous 24 bours.

A police chief and local government chief had been sacked on Tuesday in Osh, where more than 200 people have been killed in clashes between the two nationalities, be added.

The unrest began on June 4 with a land dispute.

The daily Komsomolskaya Pravda reported 100 people beaten in recent days, more than 30 with bullet or knife

Tough Vilnius debate on | Cuba threatens to wording of Baltic treaty

From Anatol Lieven in VILNIUS

preparing to draw up a treaty it wants to see negotiated between the prospective in-dependent Baltic states and the Soviet Union.

The parliamentary debates promise to be tough. Radical nationalists will try to make links with Moscow under the proposed treaty as weak as possible, while moderates will argue that complete separation will lead to economic chaos. It is hoped this danger could be reduced through a separate pact with the Russian Federation, and a negotiating team to prepare such an accord has just been set up, led by - Ceslovas - Stankevicius, President Landsbergis's

A key question in the talks between the three republics and Moscow will be the political right of local Russians and Poles who choose to keep Soviet citizenship, Most want some sort of dual citizenship, allowing them the right to vote in the Baltic while retaining the protection of the Soviet Union and the right to go there. But this idea is anathema to Baltic radicals, many of whom are opposed even to offering citizenship to most of what they call "Russian illegal immigrants".

As the talks begin, two trends are becoming apparent: the weakness of the local Russian opposition to political independence, and the

THE Lithuanian parliament is power of Moscow to hold up lack of support from the economic independence by sheer force of bureaucratic min, the leader of the district split, and former moderate kaders such as Anatoli Belaichuk and Dr Tatiana Zhdanok have left the movement and are hoping for longterm compromise with the Latvian Popular Front.

The strength of moderate feeling among the small Russian élites is also shown by the failure of the Interfront attempt to set up an administrative body to co-ordinate the work of Russian-majority local councils in Estonia and act as a counterforce to the Estonian government. This attempt was begun at a congress in Kohtle-Jachrve on May 26,

Landsbergis: a pact with the Russian Federation

Russian councils. Yuri Kuzcouncil of East Virumaa, said In Latvia, the Soviet loyalist the Interfront leaders "have shown again and again that they have no commitment to democracy", and that the local council, "the real leaders of the community", is determined to maintain good relations with the Estonians.

This has forced Interfront and the Kremlin to abandon their attempt at a semi-democratic strategy, and to fall back on their previous base, the "all-Union factories" con-trolled from Moscow and staffed by Russian workers.

With the Kremlin's backing, the all-Union factories have now been placed under a new co-ordinated commission to resist Estonian attempts at takeover and provide social services for the workers.

Soviet control of banking is another factor.

The Lithuanian parliament, in the past fortnight, has also seen heated debates over economic relations with Moscow. and deputies struggle to prepare next year's budget. In the face of radical anger, the government is determined to go on paying its share of taxes to the Soviet budget - around 22 per cent of those raised in Otherwise, ministers argue all payments from the Soviet Union will be cut off and financial chaos will ensue.

ship out dissidents From Agence France-Presse in Havana seckers.

procedures.

The Cuban foreign ministry said the Spanish foreign min-

It added that Cuba was ready to authorise the departure to any European country of all the antisocial people who followed normal

The refugee situation in Cuba has drawn international attention 'because similar developments in East Germany last year helped to precipitate the fall of that

In Albania, more than 4,000 nationals who sought refuge in country's hardline regime.

ister was being cynical.

HAVANA yesterday hit back at international criticism of its lift in 1981, when 125,000 handling of would-be exiles

Cubans, many of them conseeking refuge in foreign diplomatic missions here, saying that it was ready to ship delinquents and social missits

Leading up to the Mariel boat lift in 1981, when 125,000 handling of would-be exiles

Cubans, many of them conseeking refuge in foreign diplomatic missions here, saying to leave for America after the Peruvian embassy in Havana delinquents and social missits

Leading up to the Mariel boat lift in 1981, when 125,000 handling of would-be exiles

Cubans, many of them conseeking refuge in foreign diplomatic missions here. to any European country that vanted them. Three Cubans have been holed up at the Spanish Embassy since last week, five have taken over a Czechoslovak diplomat's home and another four have sought refuge at the Italian ambassador's residence. Francisco Ordonez, the Spanish foreign minister, complained earlier that Cuban police had trespassed into the Spanish embassy's compound on Friday while chasing a man who was apparently seeking asvium. Speaking in Madrid, he said the situation was tense in Cuba because of a serious economic situation, and that it was in everyone's interest that Cuba should make a peaceful transition towards democracy. The Cuban foreign ministry responded angrily, saying that Havana was ready to get rid of delinquents and social misfits ... if the Spanish government consented to turning its country into an open sewer.

Earlier the foreign ministry repeatedly refused to negotiate on the fate of any of the asylum seekers, 12 of whom voluntarily left the Czechoslovak embassy Monday. This was reminiscent of events foreign embassies in Tirana earlier this month were wounds. (Reuter) allowed to leave the country.

JS trip enhances Kinnock's stature Visiting politicians from abroad are two-

From PHILIP WEBSTER AND MARTIN FLETCHER IN WASHINGTON

NEIL Kinnock left Washington last night after a visit which laid to rest his unhappy White House encounter of 1987 and raised his world standing.

The Labour leader's trip generated a surprising amount of interest here, a reflection of American awareness of Margaret Thatcher's recent troubles and curiosity about the man who could replace her.

His timing was good: he arrived on the day Nicholas Ridley resigned from the cabinet. The affairreinforced the damaging impression here that the British government is out of step on Europe. He exploited this by emphasising Labour's pro-Europe stance.

In striking contrast to his 1987 visit, a reception held for him by Sir Antony Acland, the British ambassador, attracted an impressive array of "movers and shakers". They included Tom Foley, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Alan Greenspan, chairman of the Federal Reserve, and Katharine Graham, publisher of The Washington a-penny in Washington, but Mr Kinnock's presence was reported positively in leading American newspapers.

The Kinnock team basked yesterday in wide coverage of his 35-minute White House meeting with President Bush.

The New York Times said the Bush administration had treated him "almost like a head of state, acknowledging how far Mr Kinnock has moderated his party and hinting at how far Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's political fortunes have faded". Earlier the newspaper had carried a lengthy profile of the Labour leader in its Sunday colour magazine.

The Washington Post reported the talks under the headline: "Kinnock hopes to oust Thatcher", while The Washington Times proclaimed: "Bush White House welcomes Kinnock".

Administration officials gave assessments of Mr Kinnock's performance during his private meetings at the State Department, Pentagon and White House which ranged from "impressive and reassuring" to "a charming man who didn't say anything strikingly brilliant or strikingly out of place". He was said to have got on particularly well with Lawrence Eagleburger, the deputy secretary of state.

The meetings, most of which overran, focused on areas of agreement such as East-West relations avoidingpossible points of difference. "While we would obviously have some difficulties [with a Labour government], there's no major controversy at the moment that would interfere with a pleasant and noncontroversial exchange with the head of the Labour party," said one senior official.

The success of Mr Kinnock's visit can be attributed to two main factors, the first being Labour's policy transforma-tion. The most telling change in American eyes is the abandonment of unilateralism. Shadow cabinet officials have visited Washington in recent weeks to drive the policy changes home. "This man has shifted so far to the right it is dizzying. I never thought he would go ahead with Trident after being so passionately in favour of uni-lateralism. It is difficult to grasp," said Dorothy Zinberg, professor of inter-national affairs at Harvard after Mr Kinnock's speech at the Council on Foreign Relations in New York on Monday.

The second factor is changes in Eastern Europe. Mr Kinnock can claim his policies are in harmony with the views of the Bush administration. particularly on German unification and the future of the European Community.

Leading article, page 13

Unique, exclusive. The futuristic interpretation of the legendary design: The Movado Black Sapphire with anthracite steel-bracelet.

HARRODS KHICHTSBRIDGE, LONDON SWI, TEL: 071-750 1254

TO PLACE YOUR PROPERTY ADVERTISEMENT IN THE TIMES

TRADE ADVERTISERS TEL: 071-481 1986 PRIVATE ADVERTISERS

TEL: 071-481 4000

Re- The same of th I's Seal Perchant IN THE PARTY OF THE PARTY OF The Carry Carry 18 4. With the Latest from the local market The second section The state of the s part among state DECTS N LOCAL CHEMI Marie Commission production in the second state of the second s P. LIT LEADER

Iraq Ku plu

key

Critics O Iran force to recant 新聞(2) 下下 (3) TO Straff Eles programmen) But to the state of the state o for or tell most 178 THE SEC. S. L.

nerall to little legi

Harris and white

क्षा कर प्राप्त के दिन

person and della

BOLL of Minds Report

Eta mert er all der af

DESTRUCTION OF THE PARTY OF THE

By size of the 100 to a comment of the comment of t grant to amand ECHANT OF THE SE Enterior To the pro-Edit I. de Car & Marin marin in a feet distribution and states we separate to the se

Leite Bereiten dur jeden MORE INTO COLOR PER Error received a resident mand of the same Established to a Part Page a modern train

工作は まっしてはない (1) 47年後 Estimated and a second PROCESS OF THE PROPERTY Para Carrie ATTOM TO THE STATE OF THE をはない かっしつ のは 神社 Tablities that they had

Britains of Admini har van - free de Enter the Article Effect But to day you bridge The state of the least the last the las the state of the s le the treme int of

Marie Comment The the Banaran gove With Tartier of the The Late Zamen Baff Maria arranga arang bing Two see to the given William Interns

the private services of the Works Service. All Sazargan, the without conform the best arrows. Mr Steeling Country Property application of last's

Marie Shirt Color of the Market Transfer oppos oppos South Agency State Opportunity Real Factor Windows and the Part for Person Manual Party State State Si Bank Both Berries a tipe the land of the land to be land to be the land to be the land to be the land to be the land Wan write-off

Manual Street Control of the Control elescope Asserting from Section 1

Med to print a series Property Police States murders A Cancer Persons Applications of the second sec

the found being to Many sources Section 1981 Wangut issued Market Commencer March (Section)

Iraq accuses Kuwait of plundering key oilfield

ing its small neighbour of billion (£1.3 billion), and de-

The charge came in a letter sum be paid to Iraq. to the Arab League from Tariq

Aziz, the Iraqi foreign minSaddam claimed that the to the Arab League from Tariq ister, and was broadcast over other Arab states of the Gulf Baghdad radio while the Kuwaiti partiament held an emergency meeting behind on the international markets. closed doors to discuss the . The unexpected deteriorsnew threat to its existence from the state it supported with billions of dollars during the 1980-88 Gulf war against

Coming only a day after the Iranian foreign minister, president Saddam Hussein of liray accused Kuwait and the United Arab Emirates of a Conspiracy to undermine worseped relations with Iraq Baghdad's foreign exchange or an insurance policy to earnings by depressing oil which Kuwait had decided to prices through over-production, Mr Aziz claimed Kuwait had erected military outposts on Iraqi soil and exploited its

Critics of Iran forced to recant

By HAZHIR TEIMOURIAN

THE Iranian government is about to put some of its critics on show on television to confess that they had received money from the United States to weaken the Islamic regime from within,

The 21 dissidents, whose arrest was announced by the government last month, are associates of Mehdi Bazargan, the first prime minister after the Islamic revolution of

They were among 90 signatories of an open letter of protest to President Rafsanjani in which they demanded that freedom of speech and association be returned to Iranians, and all political prisoners be freed. The letter detailed the ills that had befallen the country as a result of "extremist and incompetent leadership" since the fall of the Bazargan cabinet in November 1979, after pro-

the American embassy. According to an appeal signed on their behalf in Paris by a group of moderate Iranarrested have been badly tortured and all have been beaten by prison guards. According to reports from Tehran, the arrested dis-sidents have been under pressure to confess that they had received money from Admiral Ahmad Madani, the first desence minister of the revolutionary regime, who also lives in France. But he denies that he has had any dealings with the arrested dissidents.

Khomeini militants invaded

The most prominent of those arrested is Ali Ardalan, aged 73 and a former finance minister in the Bazargan govemment.

Another member of the group is Akbar Zarineh-Baf, who was arrested only five days ago after he had given two outspoken interviews with the Persian section of the BBC World Service.

Abdul Ali Bazargan, the former prime minister's son, and Ezzat Sahababi, a former minister without portfolio have also been arrested. Mr Sahababi recently published an article saying claiming that several billion dollars of Iran's oil revenues earned over of the past ten years were missing.

IRAQ yesterday escalated its new dispute with Kuwait over oil production levels by accusviolating its southern border. manded that an equivalent had "robbed" Iraq of $14 billion by depressing oil prices

The unexpected deterioration in relations between the former allies followed a few days after the emir of Kuwait, Sheikh Jaber al-Sabah, re-ceived Dr Ali Akbar Velayati, resort in anticipation of pres-sure from Baghdad. The latter would seem more likely.

Last week, before President Saddam launched his sharp verbal attack on them. Kuwait and the United Arab Emirates held a meeting with Saudi oil officials in Jedda and declared that they would cut their oil exports drastically to bring them in line with quotas allocated to members by the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

The state-controlled Kuwaiti press yesterday pub-lished without comment most of President Saddam's Revolution Day speech of Tuesday but censored his accusations of a conspiracy against him by some Gulf rulers and his veiled threat of armed intervention against

In the city of Kuwait yesterday, the new 75-seat consultative assembly went into emergency session to discuss the Iraqi leader's charges, but decided to keep its deliberations secret in view of the delicacy of the situation. The assembly was addressed by the crown price and prime minister, Sheikh Saad, who said his administration saw the country's position as criti-cal. In his preliminary speech, the sheikh described the Baghdad regime as "the dear and brotherly Iraqi republic".

Observers of Gulf politics

esterday dismissed the likelihood of a violation of Iraq's borders by Kuwait, which has always been highly conscious of the overwhelming military They said three gunmen had territorial ambitions regarding Kuwait. Indeed, a new aggressive stance by Iraq was predicted soon after the end of the Gulf war and President Saddam's claim that he had triumphed over "the Persians", the traditional rival of the Arabs in the region. At the very least, it was expected that he would use the threat or the actuality of military intervention against Kuwait and Saudi Arabia to avoid the repayment

$45 billion to the two countries. It is widely believed in the capitals of the region that the Iraqi army has reoccupied an area of formerly disputed desert on the border with Saudi Arabia that President Saddam secretly sold to King

Fahd during the war in ex-change for badly needed foreign exchange. When the Saudi leadership complained about the reoccupation of the territory the Iraqi president is said to have replied that his troops felt "so triumphant after vanquishing the Persians" that he did not dare to order them out of the area.

Seoul opposition merges

Seoul - South Korea's two opposition parties have agreed that all their 78 legislators resign and merge into a new party to fight President Roh Tae Woo's ruling party. Kim Dae Jung, president of the Party for Peace and Democracy, agreed with Lee Ki Tack, head of the second largest opposition group, the Democratic Party, that they should tender their resignations next Monday. Both parties are to urge President Roh to dissolve the national assembly and hold snap elections. (AFP)

Loan write-off

Nonakchott - France has agreed to write off 340 million francs (£33 million) of loans to its former West African colony of Mauritania. (Reuter)

Pole telescope

Sydney - Astronomers from Australia and the United States plan to build a large telescope on an icy plateau near the South Pole. (Reuter)

Family murders

Philadelphia - A cancer specialist, Anthony Paul, from Sri Lanka, his wife and two children were found dead in their home in an apparent murder and suicide. (Reuter)

Warrant issued

Caracas - José Angel Ciliberto, the former Venezuelan interior minister, is being sought in connection with the disappearance of $337,000 (£187,000) seized from convicted drug dealers. (Reuter)

Poachers killed

Harare - Zimbabwean antipoaching patrols killed 24 poachers in the first half of this year against the loss of 14 things. (Reuter)

Fatal mission

Rio de Janeiro - Brazilian police freed a kidnap victim, Wolfgang Prinz, and caught one of his captors, but the officer in charge of the operation, Jorge Sobrinho, died of a heart attack. (Reuter)

Mutton protest

Fremantle - British actress Virginia McKenna, known for her role in the film Born Free. joined a dockside protest against the Australian export of live sheep. (Reuter)

Off the line

Singapore — Car phones have been banned after complaints that the driver of every second car seemed to be locked in a phone conversation. (AFP)

President Aquino inspecting rescue operations yesterday at the mountain resort city of Bagnio, which here the brunt of Monday's earthonake

PLO gives Hezbollah ultimatum

From REUTER INSIDON

A TOP PLO official warned pro-tranian Hezbollah fighters yesterday to withdraw from a village in south Lebanon within 24 hours or face confrontation with Palestinian guerrillas.

Zaid Wehbeh, representative of Yassir Arafat, the chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organisation, said the PLO had decided to move forces into the village of Jar-jouh in the lulim al-Toufah district, captured by Hezb-ollah from the Syrian-backed Amal in fierce fighting on Monday.

Amal and Hezbollah exchanged artillery barrages yesterday, preventing 400 PLO fighters, who were armed with heavy machineguns, rocket-propelled grenades and mortars, from taking up positions inside Jarjouh and along other confrontation lines.

Security sources said at least four people had been killed and twenty-four wounded. Killed cartier Hezbollah militants attacked an Amal roadblock in the Ghaziyeh village south of Mr Wehbeh said. "The presence of Hezboliah in larjouh is not acceptable at all . We ask it to pull out quick-

Hezbollah, which seeks an Islamic republic in Lebanon. and the more secular Amal have been fighting for dominance over Lebanon's 1.3 of his estimated war debt of million Shias for three years.

Lawsuit threatens Hammer's dream to create art museum

From James Bone in New York

ARMAND Hammer's dream least 50 per cent in the dental Petroleum in Los An- Hammer wrote: "Though I Los Angeles to rival that of fellow oil tycoon John Paul Getty is being threatened by a multi-million dollar lawsuit by his late wife's sole heir.

Court papers filed in Los Angeles claim that the chairman of Occidental Petroleum Corp, known for his private superpower diplomacy and contributions to cancer re-search, tricked his wife Frances, herself a painter, into Center be is now building next signing away her interest of at to the headquarters of Occi- autobiography in 1987, Dr

Police in more than a dozen big cities reported rises in murder, ranging from 10 per cent to over 50 per cent, for

In New York the rate.

already at a record in 1989, jumped 22 per cent in the first three months, or 45 per cent if the 87 deaths in a single arson attack on a club are counted.

In Boston it leaped 56 per cent, and in Philadelphia mur-

the first half of the year.

yesterday.

includes works by Rembrandt, Renoir, Dégas, Leonardo and Rubens. The collection is one of the most valuable in private the state court in Los Angeles hands, and is estimated to be to return much of the collecworth up to $450 million (£281 million). Dr Hammer, aged 92, plans to donate the collection to the new Armand Hammer Museum of Art and Cultural murder in US to record level

From Charles Bremner in New York

raining a hail of bullets out

Miami was the only big city

The figures, compiled by The New York Times, confirmed the view of police, criminologists and residents that violence in the big cities is at an unprecedented level. In the mid 1980s, the US murder rate declined, after a peak of 10.2 killings per 100,000 in 1980. In 1988, the last year for there on the streets."

here the rate slowed.

because of crack cocaine and the spread of new high-powered weapons, according to statistics published chief prosecutor. "It's just "Our homicide rate is going through the roof," said Ronald Castille, the Philadelphia accelerating. Police blan

Pompeiian villa which houses the Getty museum. But the lawsuit has cast the project into doubt by asking tion to Mrs Hammer's niece and sole heir, Joan Weiss.

> Dr Hammer met his wife at a sale of Russian artworks in Chicago businessman. In his 1980 record, and this year's figures indicate the trend is larly crack cocaine, for the surge, and criminologists say drugs or alcohol are involved

The biggest rise is in inner city areas, many of which have become free-fire zones for teenagers with the latest automatic weaponry. The figures have fired the gun-control

Homicide is now the lead ing cause of death for black in most murders.

debate

men under 40.

Police blame drugs, particu-

of creating an art museum in couple's art collection, which geles, not far from the fake saw her only for a week, she stayed in my mind forever and she was to become the most important woman in my life and my most durable and happy love." In 1955, newly widowed and while sitting under a hair-dryer at a Los Angeles beauty parlour, she read about Dr Hammer's recent divorce from his second wife in the Police Gazette Chicago in 1933. At the time, and sent him a telegram asking if she could help at all. she was married to a wealthy Drugs and lax gun laws push

"Yes, Frances, there is something you could do," he replied. "You could marry me." The following January she did. Mrs Hammer died last December at the age of 87. and left her estate valued at $15 million to Mrs Weiss, naming Mrs Weiss's husband, Robert, as executor.

The Weisses claim that Dr Hammer, who was contem-THE murder rate has taken an alarming leap this year in New York and most other US cities increase in 1989.

ders are up 19 per cent this which the government issued figures, it rose to 8.4. Various estimates put 1989 above the plating retirement at the time of his marriage, built his fortune by borrowing either directly from his millionairess wife or using her money as security for bank loans.

They say that over the next 30 years Dr Hammer induced his wife to sign away her interest in what he earned with her money.

Dr Hammer issued an angry retort. "I am deeply offended by these scurrilous charges, the absolute falsity of which will be demonstrated to the full satisfaction of the court. He branded the charges as "an affront to the long and loving relationship which I had with

Hunt for quake victims goes on

From A Correspondent IN MANILA

RESCUERS abandoned their search for students trapped in a quake-shattered school in the northern Philippines yesterday, but Filipinos and foreign countries launched massive assistance pro-grammes so that the hunt for victims of the earthquake that struck the main island of Luzon could be continued elsewhere.

Officials from the Red Cross and the Office of Civil Defence said 414 people died in Monday's quake and pre-dicted that the death toll could rise to 600. About 800 people were injured and an estimated 6,000 people were left Officials said six foreigners were reported killed. They include two Americans, one Japanese, one Taiwanese, one Chinese and one Korean.

Strong aftershocks were felt yesterday. The US Geological Service said these tremors, which hit northern Luzon and some parts of Manila, mea-sured 6.3 and 5.8 on the Richter scale.

While workers prepared to bulldoze the six-storey Phil-ippine Christian College in northern Cabanatuan city, relief workers concentrated their efforts in Baguio, which suf-fered the highest casualties and heaviest damage compared to other areas of Luzon. Philippine air force beli-copters shuttled hundreds of Baguio residents and tourists out of the city to nearby San Fernando town.

Baguio, a city of 110,000 people on a mountain 110 miles north of Manila, is virtually isolated, its roads impassable due to landslides. Government workers have begun blasting rocks on Marcos Highway, one of two main roads leading to Baguio. People now live in makeshift tents. Food, water and fuel are quickly running out and petrol is being rationed. At the site of fallen hotel buildings, friends and relatives of people trapped inside pray and hope.

Some of those trapped in the Nevada Hotel had attended a convention, including a group of Americans from the United States Agency for International Development.

President Aquino flew to the city to inspect the damage, offering government funds and ordering cabinet ministers to supervise rehabilitation.

The American embassy said 21 civilians of the disaster response team arrived from In Cabanatuan US marines and air force men are continuing to search for survivors.

Thailand reportedly offered two planes to help to evacuate people from Baguio, Germany sent medical supplies, Japan sent doctors, nurses and $180,000 (£100,000) in relief supplies and Australia gave $250,000.

Radio and television stations in Manila held marathon shows to collect contributions of money, food and clothing,

The Civil Aviation Authority is investing more than £750 million in new air traffic control equipment and procedures to meet the doubling of passengers expected by the turn of the

The CAA has already developed one of the world's most advanced radar systems to cover Britain's airspace. More recently we've installed a new computer system at the London Air Traffic Control Centre.

We're now developing a radical reorganisation of the airspace over south east England using one-way "tunnels in the sky" to increase capacity by at least 30 per cent. A new £200 million-plus en-route air traffic control centre is also to be built.

But we never forget that safe and efficient air traffic control depends on highly skilled people. That's why we're also recruiting and training more controllers and engineers than ever before.

It all adds up to our biggest-ever investment in a better service for air travellers - today's and tomorrow's.

CAA House 45-59 Kingsway London WC2B 6TE

Christopher Walker

pposition to President Daniel arap Moi is now so widespread that it is voiced openly in front of the bullying policemen guarding prisoners in the stinking cells under Nairobi's central court, a building that has changed little since Sir Jock Delves Broughton was acquitted there in 1941 of the murder of Lord Erroll, adulterous leader of the Happy Valley set.

As I waited in custody on Tuesday for my 20,000 Kenyan shilling (£484) fine to be paid, word quickly spread that a journalist was being deported. The weapon used against me was a little-used section of the Immigration Act carrying a maximum one-year prison sentence.

"The government does not like others to hear what is happening in the country. They would like every one of you to get out," said one young police constable, more fascinated by accounts he had heard of generous police pay in Britain than by the turmoil in Kenya which President Moi dissisted to the president who have been president who the misses as a foreign plot supported by "hooligans and drug addicts".

The wind of change blowing through Africa from Eastern Europe has put Moi's once stable government under threat and led him to accuse supporters of the multi-party system of plotting his overthrow. Earlier this month riots left at least 28 people dead, and since then the security forces—notably the sinister General Service Unit—have kept the lid tightly screwed on poor areas where discontent is greatest and still threatens to spill onto the streets. The president's position is the more vulnerable because he comes from the minority Kalenjin tribe, and faces opposition both from the majority Kikuyu and the less numerous but influential Luo. The loyalty of the army has recently been brought into ques-tion by the allegedly dispropor-tionate number of Kalenjin promotions.

A Kenyan in his mid-thirties, waiting to pay a fine for a traffic offence, joined in the conversation, unafraid of the thuggishlooking policemen within earshor:
"Moi is going to be overthrown if he refuses to make changes — there's no doubt about it."

Because of the distortion of news in the local press and on the Voice of Kenya radio, Kenyans turn increasingly to BBC World Service and the Voice of America. Even one of two burly immigration officers who escorted me from the Nairobi press centre admitted that he now listens to BBC news about Kenya. Later he bought a copy of Newsweek from a street vendor and pored over its uncensored accounts of the recent struggle to end one-party rule. "Look, it's true," he remarked to one of his colleagues in the back seats. "Moi did say he was going to hunt down the multi-party backtrouble to talk like that."

The willingness of underlings to criticise the leadership reminds me of Iran. In that supposedly uniform Muslim theocracy, the citizens constantly curse the austere way of life imposed on them by the mullahs. In Iran, the discontent is with the results of a revolution; but in Kenya there remains the question of whether President Moi - a politician not afraid to meet the people - can, at the eleventh hour, prove adaptable enough to avoid one. Moi is as widely reviled as Ceausescu was - the comparison is guaranteed to provoke his wrath — but as yet there is little sign of any individual or even loose coalition ready to take over if the leader of 12 years is toppled.

Those closest to Moi insist that when calm returns, he is ready to reform the ruling party from within, but few take seriously his vague promises of pluralism. According to a businessman with political contacts, "he knows that if there were an alternative, the people would choose it."

During a lonely six-hour wait at Jomo Kenyatta International Airport (a name that rankles with Moi, who is suspicious of the increasing cult around his predecessor), I was joined by an official who appeared to be an intelligence officer. A member of the Luo tribe who was quick to emphasise the differences between them and the Kikuyu (a none-too-subtle way of emphasising Moi's claim that pluralism would foster tribalism), he spun the party line that because of special African con-ditions, change can come only at a Determination to judge Af-Determination to judge Africans by a different yardstick to that for, say, East Europeans, appears to explain why the British high commissioner, Sir John Johnson, has kept so quiet in public about recent glaring infringements of human rights. More cynical Kenyans, black and white, argue that Britain is afraid of the damage an unfettered proof the damage an unfettered prodemocracy campaign might do to investments estimated to be around £1 billion.

The contrast with the high profile taken by Smith Hemp-stone, the American ambassador and bete noir of the government, could not be greater. There were similar differences in Romania, where the British ambassador and his EC colleagues attended the inauguration of President Iliesco, while the Americans boycotted it.

Off the record, the Americans are scathing about the British stand, while British officials insinuate that the Americans in Nairobi are diplomatic loudmouths whose public bark is much less effective than Britain's pri-vately administered bite.

The day after the July 7 riots, I spoke to an intelligent Kenyan woman running a foreign airline office. "I know you hypocritical British," she said angrily. "You are quite happy for us Africans to be stuck with a one-party system. That is why you say nothing."

Ahead of the weekend reshuffle, Julian Critchley explains how the shortlist is drawn up

Hidden dangers of the payroll vote lifetime ago I was asked by Bernard Braine, then a Ljunior minister in Harold Macmilian's government, to become his parliamentary private secretary. I accepted the post, only to be summoned to see the deputy chief whip, Michael Hughes Young, who told me the party would not wear it. The ladder had been snatched away before I had a chance to put my foot on the Today, there hangs in the government whips' office a list of the 47 Tory MPs who make up the corps of PPSs. Under Tim Renton, dubbed "the chief of the party's secret police", the whips are responsible for seeing that the government succeeds in its legislative business. To do so, they use a sack of carrots and a stick or two to ensure that backbenchers go into the division lobbies to support government measures. The carrots, principally, are the fact or the prospect of junior office. Of the 371 current Tory MPs, 132 are on this payroll vote, serving either as ministers or PPSs. They are the government's masse de manoeuvre. The larger the payroll vote, the smaller the chance of the government being defeated. This is the simple proposition that has encouraged the steady growth since the war in the number of PPSs, which has dou-bled since Mrs Thatcher's took office in 1979.

In the Thirties, "Chips" Channon, father of Paul, the former transport secretary, was PPS to Rab Butler. (Paul, in-cidentally, became PPS to Rab on his election at the age of 21.) "Chips" was a rare bird: not because he kept the best political diary of them all, but because he was one of only a handful of parliamentary private secretaries. Today, practically every min-isterial Tom, Dick or Harry is given a "fag" of his own whose task it is to fetch and carry, comfort and care, and to congratulate his master on the quality of his parliamentary performances.

Twenty-two cabinet ministers sport one each: ministers of state are offered the services of an ambitious young man, while "parly sees" are permitted a PPS if their minister of state is in the particularly onerous. Only one minister of state has gone without a PPS, Alan Clark, at defence. Urged repeatedly to take his pick, Clark suggested Terry Dicks, who has betrayed little interest in defence matters but whose frequent and forcibly expressed views on art would make a Yorkshire alderman blush. The whips wisely did not press the point. Does it much matter? Is it not a good thing that the young and promising be given a taste of office, since promotion is now the objective of us all? The title looks good in The Aldershot Bugle and goes down well with members of the local party. But I am not convinced that PPSs do anything for their masters that the whips' office does not already do, save possibly refreshing their drinks. I am concerned that the independence of MPs, their freedom to kick over the traces, has been continually compromised by the whips' office, the policy of which has been to conscript through vanity those whom they consider able, and then to tie them up and tie them down. A PPS knows only too well that to vote against the chances of promotion in peril. (Apart from PPSs, the whips also nominate those they consider suitable for junior ministership. Mrs Thatcher will have been consulting such a list before her imminent reshuffle.)

The matter ought perhaps to be raised by Cranley Onslow, the chairman of the backbench 1922 Committee. But were he to do so, he would bring into focus the dilemma facing all MPs. Are we the creatures of party, or the tribunes of the people? Today it is impossible to be elected to Parliament without a ticket to ride, and it is the artificial action that and it is the political parties that publish, print and sell the tickets. Not since 1945 has an independent candidate been elected to Parliament. MPs are frequently torn between different notions of duty: to country, constituency and to political party. I have, I think, placed these obligations in their proper order, but it is not one that is universally agreed.

In case anyone in the whips' office should read this article (at government, or even to abstain, is one I have offended), I hasten to to put his "job" at risk and his add that some of my best friends are Tory whips. They may be known by the irreverent as the Broederbond, but they serve their purpose well enough. The government does get its business through - even the poll tax — and by and large the brightest and the best are promoted. Save for membership of the cabinet, where the prime minister alone does the picking, the ranks of the less elevated are filled almost exclusively on Tim

Renton's say-so. And the whips' office makes few mistakes. The alternative would be government by courtiers, with the admirers of those already in power promoted first. Given the need to achieve a political balance, the government whips' office does ensure, by the continuous process of assessment, that many of the more deserving receive their just reward. Given the dictatorship of the parties, this is to be welcomed; what is not welcome is the slow growth of the the payroll vote, the cult of the PPS. The author is Conservative MP

An out-of-date squire lends his lance to the yobboes an Ridley actually believe he is some kind of aristocrat? I am sure I have seen a photograph of him giving an interview lying back in his chair with his feet up. Very significant; no doubt he was dreaming of the days when his ancestors, with their awesome power derived from their almost unimaginably ancient lineage, were to be found in a similar horizontal position, with lackeys in knee-breeches hurrying in and out to do his Grace's bidding, his Grace occasionally stirring him-self to give directions for having somebody's head cut off. Well, not exactly. It is only a lousy viscountcy, and the title goes back only to the less unimaginably ancient mists of 1900, originating with an unmemorable home secretary, ennobled by Salisbury, presumably on the "What shall we do for old Matthew?" principle. True, the viscountcy incorporates a barony, of Wensleydale, but if I were descended from a rather insipid cheese I would keep quiet about it, for all that the office of Custos Rotulorum of Northumberland is thrown in.

Anyway, if he can stop fiddling with an imaginary coronet, I shall tell him what harm he has done by his insistence that wogs begin at Calais and war-mongers just across the Rhine. First, though, I must tell Dominic Lawson, editor of The Speciator, that he should be ashamed of himself. Not one, but two, pictures accompanying the Ridley interview (one of them filling most of the front cover of the magazine) depicted Chancellor Kohl adorned with Hitler's moustache and forelock.

Not long ago, I wrote a column here about the dubious historian David Irving, whose steadily growing admiration for Hitler has now led him to claim that the Holocaust is a myth, created and kept alive by a Jewish conspiracy. When Peter Brookes (the artist who regularly illustrates my Times articles) read what I had written, he found a savage and masterly way of making his pictorial comment; he turned the Führer's familiar moustache and floppy lock into whitewash brushes. The point was made, and readers admired the ingenuity and shivered at the meaning, but felt no

The Spectator's graffiti, by contrast, were respectively a figure of Ridley, clutching a pot of black

Bernard Levin considers West German democracy

an object for emulation—not intemperate attack

paint and a brush and running away from the portrait of Kohl, daubed as Hitler, and Mrs Thatcher looking startled as she sees the poster, oh ha-ha. The subtlety of the point is overwhelming; it says that Kohl is no different from Hitler, and is doubtless still dreaming of the Third Reich and revenge for its defeat. Ha-ha-ha.

Before I go on, let us try a few more of these frightfully witty transposition cartoons. King Baudouin of Belgium, now; we could do him up as Pol Pot, and that nice lady who presides over Iceland as Ceausescu, while President Bush could turn into Idi Amin. Best of all, perhaps, Lord Jakobovits has recently been defending the Jewish ritual killing of animals for the table, which some say is cruel: The Spectator could kit him out as

It is time for another of my regular updates on the German demographic tables. To have fought at all in the second world original set, says: "I did what I was war a German would now have to be 64 years old: to have beld any post or rank of real responsibility he would have to be over 70; to have been one of those chosen to organise and carry out the Holocaust he would have to be in his mid-seventies. (Kohl, in case Mr Lawson was wondering, was three years old when Hitler came to nower and 15 when the war ended. If he was engaging in mass murder he must have been one hell of an infant prodigy.)

The simple, inescapable truth about post-war Germany is that the Federal Republic has been among the most impeccably democratic nations in the world, and Herr Kohl is a fitting leader for a country with such standards. In Charles Humana's World Human Rights Guide, no nation scores more than 98 out of the possible 100 points; the Federal Republic gets 97. (Britain and France score 94 each, Switzerland 95 and the United States 90.) Cynics would say that, in view of the unmagnable filth Germany arose from, it had no choice but to be a model of human rights if it were ever to join civilisation again. Well, and suppose that were true? The proof of the Kaiser-schmarren is in the eating, the Federal Republic's parliament, laws, courts, schools, universities, armed forces, broadcasting, press social system and trades unions are all of its own making, and in none of these has it had to bow to any country with a higher claim.

And it is that country - which many years ago shook hands with Israel to mark a reconciliation that many supposed would never take place in this world or the next that Ridley has spattered with his yobbo language, which he presumably thinks is the way a patrician should talk: "...all a German racket designed to take over the whole of Europe... because of their habits...because of the Germans... might as well give it to Adolf Hitler... Kohl... he'll soon be coming here ... I mean, different explanations, depending he'll be trying to take over-everything... with Germany so uppity... I don't know about the German economy, it's the German people ..."

I suppose that about twenty years ago you could still hear that kind of beery rubbish in Britain. The reason it died out is that the Federal Republic had proved itself not only politically democratic but economically successful as well. From then on, it needed an exceptionally mean and envious spirit to continue with the yobbo thinking ("You can't trust the effing Krauts"), and the people of this country in general have shown they have abandoned such attitudes, not least by the numbers who take holidays there.

hen, suddenly, Ridley leads out that ancient and spavined nas, and mounts it, thinking he is Roland at Roncesvalles when he is only Don Quixete charging wind-mills. Of course be found enough rag tag and bobtait to echo his words, the hardcore yobboes had given up long before, but only because they could see that no-body was taking any notice of them. Now a cabinet minister was taking notice of them, indeed leading them in song no wonder the old hates and envies have momentarily flared up again.

They will die down. Yet real harm has been done. Herr Schönhuber's party and the Nat-lonal und Soldaten Zeitung are of no account, but they will have a fine time saying that the British, doubtless governed by the Jews, still hate all Germans, so let us bate the British in turn. Not many will, but enough to make European progress a little more difficult, and in any case the fact that Ridley's words were coming not from a street-corner lout but from a cabinet minister must inevitably cast a chill over Anglo-German relations. A chill might not matter, a diminution of trust does, and we need German trust as they need ours. There is less of that trust on the German side today than there was at the beginning of last week.

A fine day's work for the editor of The Speciator. I gather that the cover of his next issue will depict M Mitterrand as Klaus Barbie. and inside there will be an interview with Ridley in which he will say the French betrayed Britain in both world wars and anyway they eat frogs and don't wash.

...and moreover

CLEMENT FREUD

from Inverness suggested that he take me out to breakfast. His reasoning was that as occupant of the nextdoor berth, having been through so much since the first peremptory chug of the train out of the northernmost rail terminal, we should cement our chance acquaintanceship over a meal. (Two miles into the journey south there had been a slowdown followed by a stop; then a wait, a chug back and the rearrival at the station whence we had come. In God's good time we heard the chunk of attachment of the new engine ... and throughout this slowly unfolding drama, a stream of passengers buzzed along the corridors of the sleeping-cars asking each other whether they knew what was going on, whether we should not be travelling in the other direc-

My fellow passenger told me of a restaurant not too far from Euston where crisply over-fried slices of black pudding with Dijon mustard are served on silver platters by virgins taking Seeing that I was who I am, he thought I might appreciate the experience. I said I must get back to my office to cope with the accumulation of mail that will have arrived since my weekend departure for Scotland: also there was a secretary champing at the bit a bit, and probably many messages on my telephone answering machine demanding attention.

Last week, I explained, I had been on the one o'clock news because of my answering machine. I returned ITN's call when other, more suitable commentators had clearly been unobtainable, perhaps consuming cooked breakfasts with newfound friends.

"They do scrambled eggs with smoked salmon the real way, setting the eggs over barely simmering butter, a 10-minute process recommended by M.J.K. Fisher and endorsed by Mrs David." Did I ken? Well, I kenned all right but there is something irresistible about three days of unopened mail that just might contain news to gladden the heart, secure the future, lighten the overdraft, possibly have among it a letter from Swaine, Adeney and Brigg to whom I wrote in January ending with "I await the cour tesy of a reply". I declined breakfast and made my way home on foot, as a result of taxilessness rather than any desire for exercise. My mail then: I have been invited as a special guest to a charity luncheon - please send cheque for £65. Lord Tonypandy wants me to give money to Guideposts, as do several other members of the great and the good in respect of similarly worthy causes. Neat Ideas would like me to avail myself of incredible savings on their ownbranded manila envelopes, and Punch wonder whether I wish to renew my subscription. British Telecom have explained why I am now ex-directory - I had asked them to delete the letters MP after my name and they overdid it. There is a bill from Tote Investors, a cheque from Ladbroke, a reminder from William Hill, odds on the Ebor Handicap from some other bookmaker. Nothing to compare with over-sizzled black oudding, but having spent a few days in a hotel that advertises itself as "a place for rest and inspiration" I now recognise that black pudding is not good

In the peace-loving, vegetarian, contemplative community near Inverness where I held a seminar on Tuesday, I met Joe from California and Philip from Walthamstow, boys who share a deep concern for the environment and love of their fellow humans with profound suspicion of vegetarianism. Joe. on the evening before my talk on politics, had dreamt of a 160z steak and in the afternoon, with only cauliflower au gratin to look forward to, I took the young men to a grocers in Forres and spent £5.96 on giant hamburgers, sausages, fried bread and non-diet Cokes. On our return they joined their peers moving in unison from akido to meditation, and a number of them remarked on Joe and Philip's shining contentedness. "It is all beginning to work," said the group

The Queen stamps on Tess

s Mrs Thatcher unveiled her views on the role of the family yesterday, it emerged that the Queen is not amused by the suggestion that her familiar silhouette should appear next to a stark portraval of one of the most famous unmarried mothers in literature, Tess of the D'Urbervilles. The suggestion by the Royal Mail to include Tess as part of a set of stamps issued last week to commemorate Thomas Hardy's 150th anniversary fell foul of the royal veto which Buckingham Palace can still exercise over all postage stamps, coins and medals. Two designs, one featuring a distinctly windswept Tess and the other the Mayor of Casterbridge, who sold his wife at a country fair, were "commented upon" by the Queen, which is to say that she banned them.

"We took account of the Queen's comments and felt it was more appropiate not to use them," says a spokesman for the Royal Mail. Worse, the schedule meant that it was not possible to alter the designs to accommodate the Queen's wishes without missing the anniversary date. As a last resort, the Royal Mail has had to issue a single, bland first-class stamp featuring a photograph of Hardy, his signature and a clump of Dorset woodland. Ian Pollock, who designed the asked. I was in the unfortunate position of seeming to have let a lot of people down." The Royal Mail's director of design, Barry. Robinson, is also understood to be upset at the Queen's intervention, arguing that Pollock's designs captured the essence of Hardy's writing. It is not the first time the Queen has become embroiled in a row over postage stamps. Tony Benn, postmaster general in the 1960s, tells of his attempts to introduce a series of stamps without the Queen's head. Even before he had returned from the Palace after showing Her Majesty the designs. the then prime minister, Harold Wilson, was called in to stop him. "I don't want to get drawn into this," said Benn yesterday, "but never forget that postage stamps can be a highly political art form."

Underexposed

Teil Kinnock's aides breathed a sigh of relief last night as their boss returned to dry land without having sparked a diplomatic incident. It was to Labour's advantage that first Nicholas Ridley and then Daphne Parish dominated the headlines while Kinnock's trip to America was relegated to the inside pages. "Kinnock was in luck. It prevented detailed analysis of the visit," says Charles Miller, director of the Public Policy Unit. "The television coverage was ideal - only sound bites and glimpses of him with George Bush. It avoided all serious questions about his quality as

From a somewhat different perspective, Walworth Road agrees that the minimal coverage was a good thing: "The fact that the tabloids could hardly write a word about the meeting with Bush showed it must have been a riproaring success," says one insider. Thanks to the Ridley affair, some of the most terrier-like tabloid journalists who gave Kinnock so hard a time on his last visit in 1987 were pulled off the trip at the last minute to pen their lofty thoughts on Britain and the Krauts. And does Kinnock himself consider the trip a success?

"Yes," says the new world states-man. "And the White House serves a great cup of coffee." It can't be the norm ublishers, it seems, will go to any lengths to flog a few more books - even to giving an author a sex change. American writer Norman King was commissioned by Carroll and Graf to produce a life of Ivana Trump. and the advance publicity promoted the book under his real name. But when it appeared in the bookshops, Norman had become "Norma". The publishers offer on which spokesman one asks. "A typographical error," said one, unconvincingly. Another tried to laugh it off. "Norman got so upset with the way Donald was treating Ivana that he had a sex change.' Finally the head of the firm, Kent Carroll, admitted the commercial truth: a female author was felt to be more marketable for a book appealing to a largely female readership. "It's to make the whole thing more sympatico," he says. King's agent, Bill Adler, agrees. "The book is very sympathetic to Ivana. Her story's a woman's story, and women will identify more with a woman author." But is this not fraudulent and deceitful? "Not at all," says Adler, "There is a long history of such pseudonyms." Indeed there is, George Eliot being perhaps the most famous, but few can have undergone a name change for such dollar-grubbing reasons. The next sympatico volumes from those famous biog-raphers Philippa Ziegler, Michelle Holroyd and Petronella Ackroyd are awaited with interest.

> Isn't it enough that the book is sympatica.

Heath's homework here may still be life in the Ridley affair. Was it, for example, coincidence that Ted Heath, who has stayed remarkably silent throughout yesterday visited the Cabinet Office to examine the papers-concerning the last time Ridley left the government, in April 1972? Ridley resigned then as a junior trade minister over what he saw as Heath's policy of propping up such "lame ducks" as Upper Clyde Shipbuilders, although Heath has always insisted that he sacked him for incompetence. Whatever the circumstances, Heath appears to have been refreshing his memory, although his office deftly fended off all enquiries. "Mr Heath went to the Cabinet Office in relation to research on a number of subjects. He is writing his memoirs," said a spokesman. The intelligence that Heath was consulting the Ridley papers was relayed within minutes to nervous government whips, who fear another helpful intervention in the near future.

• Those whose enjoyment of the Open golf championship will be marred by the migraine inducing dress sense of the contenders have a champion in Sir Roy Strong, former director of the V&A and fashion aficionado. "Tennis clothing is stylish," he says. "Cycling gear is glamorous, even sexy. But golf? Garish Rupert Bear trousers and luminous shirts. Fashion just hasn't happened. It must be the American influence." Will he nevertheless be following the events at St Andrews? "I'd rather bear walled up alive. Frankly, it bores the plus fours off me.

mel another general Doore Records Act of the courses from seek Carrent in which were reduce the could de Exercise state of the party of CONTRACTOR OF THE THE REST LIKE STORY DETAKEN TO THE BITC There are publishers Entrate was set out it manufacture short t

UNEA

Particle is price with a series of the ways is a series of the ways is a series of the series of the

THE REAL PROPERTY AND A SERVICE AND A SERVIC

Market Court in the state

Such statistics are such statistics are success

STATE OF THE STATE

Mains are responsible to the state of the st

BIG TO A ENGLISH OF BYENE

the second and the second and the second parents will be for the second and the s

EFERT ALLES Regist Martin 2005 TO being creed to the state. cupan if the sprash up or the others they a use afters construct the parations may lose the transport of the Net Konnock their tenreligion in the objects distant rame is so made conscionations man if proceeds RECT of prospertations. Personal Control of Person Appention of the party of the second okanisti eni menda had somer the strains of a hadens Corraches at Our events of the their be the coparty is that sele, while number we labour's transming pa th Water State Lamed weekense the memori Mice and to confirm th the mainstream, of traces Managi has been process menony. On body lang

Ejoure: 15 & Success. This may be the lar mentional circuit for tion the next election ming the best of his to and scale of change kerorid have left most Purplantades, Mr Kann & well-turned platitude andlage in make his vi possible. His seroad a to Mrs Thatcher andable President Re Miners in Germany ledath of culture in The repeatedly announce

Monitos eris such as My Hands Their Jerem deine denunciations discussion. The arts in a distribution of authorist scandar. T dept. the Policy Studies Asense Cuiture in Bru filo billion. now rival learts always refer to a dimes. 25 if this Same changed over the per sheid mots specially being mots and per per ye for the bar office prices have reinflation or was Prices audiences h obeig stracts god. Ma year). e number inc Reys

The only serious signs of the limits and the limits and the limits and the limits are the limits and the limits are the limits and the limits are the limits da initial religionation of the state of the

a still the TELLORAL ITEMS

a still the TELLORAL ITEMS

before have fire trans

before the Science of the trans

by the Science of the trans

by the science of the trans

by the before the trans

by the both the science of the trans

by the in builde organication distribution or assembly the Malional Trust

Raising quality

From Lord Young of Graffham

Sir, Leader writers are compelled to see the world in black and white for how else can they distil their wisdom in a few column inches?

But should yours ("Enemies of the consumer", July 17) have been quite so dismissive of the Enter-

Ask for the reasons for our postwar decline and you will find a surprising degree of agreement. The quality, design, the very reliability of our products, were simply not up to that of our competitors. Where they went forward we slipped back. The culture shock I experienced, when I first saw Japanese manufacturers in 1982 assembling untested components knowing that "zero defects" meant simply that, was ment of Trade and Industry in June 1987 I introduced the Enterprise Initiative. It concentrated on specific narrow areas, quality manufacturing systems, design, marketing, to spread best practice in the areas where we were weak and medium-sized companies for

How did we reach our cus-tomers? DTI had only seven offices to cover the entire country, dealing with the larger companies. We increased our offices to 35, to get closer to our customers. How then to reach the 250,000 small-to-medium companies that make up all our suppliers? We used the press, television, whatever it took, to get our message home. How could we preach marketing if we did not practise it ourselves?

Today, for the very first time. DTI is in touch with a significant sceptic but recently reconfirmed

the Enterprise Initiative for a few more years. He did so because it is of real help to the many tens of thousands of companies who are engaged in the struggle to achieve international standards of quality, of reliability, of competitiveness

We, as a nation, only succeed if proportion of British industry. If I read my papers correctly my successor, Mr Ridley, arrived a there the need was greatest.

We limited our help to the small

When I returned to the Depart-of products

prise Initiative?

bruotong

3. .

1 Pennington Street, London Et 9XN Telephone 071-782 5000

UNEASE ABOUT THE FAMILY

Marriage is often said to be in decline, while the family goes on for ever. For those, including Margaret Thatcher, whose lives have been spent in what she yesterday called "an ordinary married family", this apparent parting of the ways is a source of "the deepest unease". She quoted statistics to prove that Britain has one of the highest proportions of lone-parent families in Europe, that 800,000 of them now receive income support, and that only one child in three of these families actually benefits from the regular maintenance payments from the absent parent to which it is

Such statistics are irresistible to social engineers. All modern politicians are seen to play that role on occasion, if only because they have a vested interest in the delusion that changes in law, rather than in habits or customs, are responsible for changes in society. The prime minister is not naive enough to suppose that she can reverse the secular trends in family life. But she believes that the law must change to keep up with custom. So there is to be a new agency to trace absent parents; the assessment of maintenance payments will be standardised; and the process of payment by absent parents will be simplified.

This is a sane though modest step, intended to mitigate one of the unintended consequences of another generally popular reform, the Divorce Reform Act of 1969. The bill will not deter couples from seeking divorce: only social disapproval, in which parliament fortunately cannot meddle, could do that. The bill will not help most unmarried mothers. Nor can such a bill persuade some women, who may have no better reason for having children than to obtain priority in local authority housing queues, that they should wait until they meet a man who takes fatherhood seriously before undertaking the joys and hazards of pregnancy.

There are advisers in Mrs Thatcher's entourage who would like to go further. They advocate nothing short of a welfare revolution. to restore the traditional family and halt the growth of what they call an "underclass". Some rebel against the indifference of the state towards marriage, not only as a sacrament, but in any form. They would like the social security system to incorporate incentives to encourage marriage. This might involve depriving single mothers of fast-track access to council housing and, at best, confining income support to children rather than parents. Others want divorce to be made more difficult, or at least more expensive. Their motives are not necessarily religious or even moral. As Mrs Thatcher said: "Parenthood is for life." So are its consequences for the exchequer.

Reformers would be foolish to dismiss such "negative engineering" out of hand. If, as some believe, teenagers are deliberately opting for single parenthood as an occupation, believing it to be the only way of escaping home while acquiring state support, then the state is entitled to ask whether it wishes to encourage this goal further.

Another approach, not necessarily in contrast, is to combat the unattractiveness of married life for many women who wish to combine the joys of parenthood with the personal and financial rewards of work. That involves providing benefits or tax concessions for help with child care. This might redress the balance away from the total state-dependency which often accompanies single parenthood, in favour of the partial or temporary husbanddependency of marriage. Mrs Thatcher is right that, in the case of lone parents, "what was once the exception may now become the rule."

Yet marriage remains the condition chosen by a large majority of the adult population. The rise in the numbers of divorced people is merely one facet of the much longer-term rise in the proportion of the population which either is or has been married. Divorce statistics are only one side of the coin: a quarter of all marriages involve at least one divorced or widowed partner. Marriage is changing as radically as is lone parenthood. More women want to work, more need help with children, with money, with mobility and career structure. Mrs Thatcher should direct some of her thoughts towards helping ordinary marriages to survive. Prevention is half the cure.

MR KINNOCK'S WORLD

Foreign policy does not determine the way people vote. Even as the postwar international system dissolves, there is little sign of this changing. If foreign affairs nudge voters one way or the other, they do so only insofar as those affairs confirm the stereotypes attaching to political leaders. In no field is it so true that governments may lose arguments but oppositions rarely win them.

Neil Kinnock thus travelled to America this week with limited objectives. His management of the Labour party is governed by two wholly negative considerations: risk-avoidance in matters of policy and fiasco-avoidance in matters of presentation. He has fashioned an approach to foreign policy which is safe to the point of invisibility. His defence policy still eace between Labour represents a mague unilateralists and multilateralists, which could break under the strain of an election campaign. Presidents Gorbachev and Bush are at least doing everything in their power to help him here. The jeopardy is now as slight as it could ever be, while nuclear weapons exist.

Labour's travelling party therefore needed only Washington's famed photo-opportunities to obliterate the memories of 1987's humiliations and to confirm that Labour is back in the mainstream of transatlantic visitors. Mr Kinnock has been received with appropriate ceremony. On body language and buzzword, the journey is a success.

This may be the last summer on the international circuit for the party leaders before the next election and Mr Kinnock is making the best of his two great assets. The speed and scale of change in many regions of the world have left most politicians floundering in platitudes. Mr Kinnock is the master of the well-turned platitude and has donned a camouflage to make his views as undistinctive as possible. His second advantage is that his old foe, Mrs Thatcher, is looking less formidable. President Reagan has departed, and events in Germany and Eastern Europe have undermined the prime minister's role as last custodian of Cold War values. She cannot claim her previous influence over international events. Had she not retreated on German reunification and the European Community, Britain would still appear "isolated". The description may be exaggerated but Mrs Thatcher seems almost to revel in it.

This hardly counts as gain won by Labour's own efforts. In the House of Commons, Labour's contributions to foreign affairs are painfully thin, little more than ritualised assaults on government positions with Mr Kaufman as a thoughtless siege machine. Such static parliamentary warfare may boost party morale, but offers no contribution to new thought on the future of the world.

Looking to the Future, Labour's recent policy document, was anodyne in general, and nowhere more flimsy than on "Britain in the world". A clear commitment in favour of widening the European Community to include not only the current applicants but also the East European countries is the nearest it gets to being controversial. Even the pivotal question of when those East European applications might be allowed is qualified by the word 'eventually". On the great dispute over the relationship between Nato and any new European security system, Labour offers only a bland sentence: "We seek a new European security framework in which Nato continues to play a constructive role". But this is specificity itself compared with the vaguely requested "new initiatives required by the transformed map of Europe". And nowhere is there any mention of Labour's view on the future of Germany after "four plus two".

Fireside chats at the White House are no substitute for a serious contribution to foreign affairs. Labour strategists, of course, do not wish to offer any substitute that might be hostage to fortune. That is their choice. But if they wish to offer no contribution they cannot complain at the public returning the cynicism.

MERRIE KINGDOM

The death of culture in Thatcherite Britain has been repeatedly announced by lions of the performing arts such as Sir Peter Hall and Terry Hands. Their jeremiads are echoed by left-wing denunciations of penny-pinching philistinism. The arts in Britain, we are told, are a "national scandal". The report published today by the Policy Studies Institute shows this is nonsense. Culture in Britain, valued at more than £10 billion, now rivals the car industry.

Harry Bolley

The arts always refer to the small proportion of this that comes from the taxpayer as "funding", as if this sanitises the compulsory public donation. The form of Treasury money has changed over the 1980s, but state subvention has still risen by more than a fifth in real terms. As for the private sector, Britons today spend more than twice as much on cultural pleasures as they did a decade ago. One measure of the enthusiasm is that theatre box office prices have risen far faster than either inflation or wages, but without diminishing attendance. Despite a trebling of ticket prices, audiences have increased for opera (made more popular by television: a Mozart opera attracts 800,000 viewers, three times the number the Royal Opera House can seat in a year). The only serious signs of consumer resistance detected by the PSI concern cinema attendance (affected by the video revolution), and an initial reluctance to pay admission charges to the national museums. Those which are still free have flourished, while attendance appears to have dropped at the Victoria and Albert, the Science Museum, and the Natural History Museum (though former attendance figures were unreliable). By contrast, people will pay for local, or specialist, museums.

The heritage organisations are also enjoying a boom: the National Trust's membership has grown by a million, to 1.86 million, and that of English Heritage, founded in 1983, has reached 233,000. Above all, and this is what must worry the industry's more vocal lobbyists. Britons are taking their culture home with them to enjoy, in the form of records, compact discs and pre-recorded video cassettes. Nor is this due to a (non-existent) boom in videonasties and pornography.

The video hire business has nearly doubled since 1984 and sales, worth only £15 million in 1985, rose to £300 million last year. Pornography, always a negligible proportion of the market, has actually lost market share, falling to less than 2 per cent. Horror films, while more prevalent (particularly in the rented market) are on the decline. Nearly half the videos rented are comedy and "general interest" films. More than half those sold are popular music and - the fastest growing area children's programmes. Not much for Mary Whitehouse to agonise over there.

Nor is the nation turning into a collection of couch-potatoes, slumped before flickering screens. More Britons are making their own entertainment; for every five who go to see plays, opera or dance in any month, four take part in amateur music or drama. All forms of music-making are increasing. The picture is not unalloyed good news, as the heavilyindebted national companies will be quick to assert. Business sponsorship remains stubbornly smallscale, and payroll giving has had little impact on the arts. But that is merely to say, as expected, that big quasi-nationalised industries are seldom the most efficient or able to adjust to market changes. The PSI report, by dispelling the image of a culturally-deprived nation, should take some of the hysteria out of debate on the state of the arts. Hysterics do no service to Britain's flourishing cultural life.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Chequers seminar: expert view of German question

From Sir Reginald Hibbert Sir. Professor Norman Stone (article, July 16) adds entertainingly to what he himself describes as the Gilbert and Sullivan side of the Ridley episode when he claims that Mrs Thatcher's consultation of him and a few other "honest broker" historians showed the British state entirely to its advan-

The British state maintains a large and expensive Foreign and Commonwealth Office and diplomatic service. These have never ceased to analyse the German problem and long ago arrived at views of it to which the assembled professors would give an alpha marking, even if (to judge by George Brock's article of the same date) one or two of its individual members who have served for a long time on the other side of Downing Street would receive only a beta. Can it show the British state to advantage when the considered advice of its dip-lomatic service is ignored over a long period and the Foreign and Commonwealth Secretary has to have recourse to novelty methods to enable reason to prevail over prejudice in the formation of

The problem is not a new one, although it has become worse in recent years. I remember being asked in the mid-1970s by the distinguished head of an Oxford college, a propos of some occurrence of unnecessary friction with European neighbours, why of-ficials like me could not give ministers a half-hour lesson in history. My reply was that they would listen to historical arguments only when they needed them to cover withdrawal from untenable positions.

It is unfortunate that in the last two or three decades a sort of cultural divide has arisen between politicians and officials in this country. The theatres of Parliament, the TV studio and the showbiz side of the written press tempt the politicians in the direction of national attitudinising, while the rapidly growing interdependence of countries draws their officials in the direction of increasing internationalism and its bureaucratic manifestations.

If Mr Douglas Hurd can con-tinue to bring the two sides back into a more constructive relationship he will have made a major contribution to enabling the British state to show itself to advan-

Yours faithfully, REGINALD HIBBERT, 174 Queen Alexandra Mansions, Bidborough Street, WCI.

From Professor Gordon Smith Sir, What a pity that a few political scientists, so despised by Professor Norman Stone, were not present at the Chequers seminar to give some advice to the illustrious historians. (Mrs Thatcher, "does not ask 'political scientists' [sic] or merchants of immediate political advantage. She asks honest bro-kers ... ") Historians may be honest, but apparently they can also be naive.

Yours faithfully GORDON SMITH, London School of Economics and Political Science Department of Government, Houghton Street, WC2.

From Mrs J. Sweeting-Hempsall Sir, Regret is felt about a loss, tion of the British public might feel greater reassurance if Norman Stone could accurately describe Germany as remorseful, rather Yours faithfully, J. SWEETING-HEMPSALL, 20 Lesbury Road, Heaton, Newcastle, Tyne and Wear.

Cathedral repairs

From Mr Philip Venning Sir. Your leader opposing grants

for cathedrals (July 17) rightly recognises that cathedrals need a steady income. But you draw the wrong conclusions. The careful, conservative, repair of these supreme examples of mediaeval art depends on continuous but restrained maintenance and care. Long periods of neglect followed by crisis appeals and gigantic repairs has been the main way of drumming up public generosity. But it is the very worst way of looking after these buildings, and unnecessary loss of historic fabric is often the result.

By contrast a system of government grants to cathedrals, similar to those awarded to other outstanding historic buildings, would enable sensible long-term plan-ning by cathedral chapters and their architects. Indeed it might be a valuable requirement of such grams that proper long-term plans be drawn up by each cathedral. Like other grants they should be means-tested and only cover a proportion of the cost of the proposed works. This would ensure that only really essential work, and not the frills that you justifiably criticise, are funded.

Any such grants should be administered by English Heritage, in consultation with the proposed Cathedrals Fabric Commission, and should be clearly identifiable extra money, apart from other funds raised. Only in this way will cathedrals get the highest level of thought and care they deserve.

Yours faithfully PHILIP VENNING (Secretary). The Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings. 37 Spital Square, El. July 17.

Competing for grants From the President of the Royal Town Planning Institute

Sir. Michael Heseltine's argument in his speech at Liverpool University (report, July 11) that councils should have to compete for central government grants on the basis of strategic plans and bids should be

Capital controls are throttling local government's ability to enter into partnership with the private sector. The aim should be to encourage local authorities toward the development of local regeneration strategies against which capital allocations to local authorities could be based.

This would mean some resources could be redistributed to areas which are less attractive to investment. They would provide a better incentive for the public sector to engage with the private SECTOR.

It would also be a fairer method of distribution than relying solely on capital receipts as these do not necessarily fall to the local authorities with the greatest need. Moreover, it would encourage local authorities to develop proper strategies for investment and infrastructure. At the moment, local government capital is determined on a basis as arbitrary as the penalty shoot-out.

ROBIN THOMPSON, President. The Royal Town Planning 26 Portland Place, W1.

July 13.

Political scientists would not work with a concept as fudgy as that of "national character", nor would they accept the terms of some of the questions posed, which amounted to asking whether Germans collectively had ceased to beat their wives. The historians' answer, to the effect that such undesirable habits had been discarded, was certainly interpreted by our friends in the Federal Republic as gratuitously natronising.

Remorse is felt about a wrong committed. The apprehensive secthan merely "regretful", about the Curriculum reform From the Headmaster of Colfe's

School

Sir, Much has been made recently of the need to reform the sixthform curriculum (Education, July 9) and most members of the Headmasters' Conference would not dissent from that view. Where we appear to differ from some of our colleagues in other associations is over their views that A level is no longer an appropriate examination for sixth-formers. The conclusions which emerged from the recent extraordinary general meeting of the conference, which is incidentally responsible for over 30 per cent of sixth-form pupils obtaining two or more passes at A level, included a clear acceptance that there is much in the present A level system which is worth retaining.

It has taken many years to develop and hone up courses which enable students to develop intellectual and creative skills, which require increasing depth of understanding and which emphasise the higher-order skills of analysis and synthesis. They provide an academic challenge appropriate to the needs of pupils in the higher-ability bands. There are many experienced teachers in both independent and maintained sectors who strongly oppose the watering down of these courses in order to meet needs for which they were not originally designed.

HMC supports the objectives of providing appropriate courses to encourage a much larger propor-

Stolen violin From the President, International Confederation of Negotiators in Works of Art

Sir, I read the report from Paul Bompard in Rome (July 10) concerning Pierre Amoyal's stolen violin whilst travelling to the EC Commission to discuss the free movement of works of art, coupled with the need for harmonisation on the laws of title. At present it is possible for an item to be stolen in one country and legally acquired in another, rather difficult with an object that is well publicised, but none the less a permanent nightmare for insurers and the fine art trade. The prospect of 1993 and Europe without frontiers only makes the matter more urgent, and the international antiques and fine art trade are pressing for action now. The stolen violin is therefore much in my thoughts,

Rocket boilerman From Mr M. Seymour

Sir, A few facts need to be put on record to correct the tangled web of myths and errors in the letters from M. Lefèvre (June 25) and Mr R. H. Amis (July 4):

1. Henry Booth was appointed

Treasurer of the Liverpool & Manchester Railway in 1826, not 1829; his support of George Stephenson would otherwise have been useless.

2. Booth did not invent the firetube boiler, he proposed it to George and Robert Stephenson, who turned the idea into working reality. In any case the multi-tube concept dates back to James Watt. 3. Seguin's patent boiler of 1828 did not have water tubes, which are more correctly ascribed to W. H. James, William James's son. 4. A British patent, granted to Sir, Mr Ridley's remarks and the extraordinary debate about German national characteristics can only be seen as the last spasm of a generation of political leaders unable to come to terms with Britain's loss of international importance and unable to improve our position.

From Mr N. J. D. Baptiste

West Germany has been a model democracy. It ill behoves a British Government which has a ten-year record of failure to control inflation and has achieved the largest trade deficit in British history to mistrust a country whose model economic management has given it a trade surplus larger than Britain's deficit but has used this economic strength for the benefit of the European Community.

If the British Government wishes to provide a balancing influence in the councils of Europe it should show a positive and genuine commitment to the EC and then take active steps to rebuild Britain's manufacturing industry, which is basic to our national success.

It is sad but only realistic to recognise that our best hope of controlling our apparently en-demic inflationary tendency lies in membership of German-led European Monetary Union which will force on us the financial discipline which our own Government abandoned in 1985.

Yours faithfully. N. J. D. BAPTISTE (Secretary, Conservative Business 23 Gladwyn Road, Putney, SW15. July 16.

From Mr Tom Benyon Sir, As politicians are often criticised for not answering questions directly and for their inability to communicate, see what happened to Mrs Currie and Mr Ridley, who

No one can be surprised why politicians dissemble.

much approval. The introduction into sixth-forms of BTEC (Business Training and Education Council) and other vocational courses or even the use of the International Baccalaureate also upper sixth can provide for those who wish to specialise to A level standard in three subjects or for those who want to continue with five or more subjects at a lower level or for any combination of these with or without vocational courses. We are not in favour of over-prescribing the requirements for the 16-19 age group. Whilst core skills may be admirable in concept they could become a millstone if they distort existing particularly since I was the person who sold it to M Amoyal some

He has confirmed (report, July 13) that there is no question of his paying a ransom as it is illegal in Italy. Any question of negotiating with thieves is firmly ruled out by my confederation, which represents the major national fine art trade associations of the Western work of art until we outlaw negotiations for ransom worldwide and harmonise the laws on title. Fortunately M Amoyal's violin is too well known for it to be

Yours faithfully, ANDREW HILL President,

Negotiators in Works of Art.

20 Rutland Gate, SW7.

International Confederation of

c/o British Antique Dealers

James Neville in 1826 for a fire-tube boiler, pre-dates Seguin's patent by two years.

5. George Stephenson, as engineer to the L. & M. R., was far too busy getting the railway ready for opening in 1830 to do more than contribute ideas and advice, born of his unrivalled practical experience, to his son Robert, based in

6. The record of Robert Stephenson's major responsibility for the design and construction of the Rocket is fully documented and

7. "Seguin", without an accent, was used by Marc Seguin's grandson Laurent in 1927, and is applied today to the French

Holly Lodge, Wellswood Avenue, working replica locomotive.

Torquay, South Devon.

This will not be the last theft of a courses of proven value.

Headmasters' Conference),

Yours faithfully.

Colfe's School.

rold.

Association.

Newcastle

beyond dispute.

Yours faithfully,

M. SEYMOUR.

July 13.

V. S. ANTHONY

(Secretary-designate,

Horn Park Lane, SE12.

received support.

Yours sincerely, TOM BENYON, The Old Rectory, Adstock, Buckinghamshire.

did both.

they do. You may argue that Govern-ment should do less. I would not. tion of the 16-19 age group to remain in education, and also But to say that these objectives and the achievements of the courses which provide for a broadening of the education of Enterprise Initiative are "absurd" displays a worrying lack of appreciation of the needs of those who have simply relied on A levels in the past. However, these industry in the 1990s. objectives are best met, not by tinkering with existing A levels, but by introducing new courses aimed directly at meeting the Yours ever,

YOUNG, House of Lords. July 17.

The headmaster of Eton's S African schools suggestion for reforming AS levels to meet this purpose met with From Mrs R. G. Currey

Sir. Miss Nora Beloff (July 12) in her reference to the restriction on black pupils being accepted into white schools in the George, Cape Province, area is, of course, writing about government schools, Flexibility is once again the key-word. Whilst all pupils should follow at least five courses in the lower sixth, it is essential that the concerning which legislation has been made but, due to the time factor, has not yet been implemented.

With regard to the intake of black pupils (and every other colour and race) into private schools, such as St Andrew's College, Grahamstown, Eastern Province: The Diocesan College (Bishop's) at Rondebosch, Cape Province: St Cyprian's; and many other top schools, these have had non-white pupils for the past ten years or so; Roman Catholic schools for longer.

Yours sincerely, RONA CURREY, Pear Tree Cottage, 54 Mill Street, Castletown, Isle of Man.

Mandela's criticism From Mr Justin Templer

Sir, In showing solidarity with Kenya's leader, Daniel arap Moi, Nelson Mandela has criticised Western governments for attempting to pressurise Moi into democratic reform (report, July 14).

One can only hope that Western governments will make a commitment to democracy a sine qua non of future support for Mr Mandela or, for that matter, any other South African political grouping, There is otherwise little point in replacing the existing white regime with a dictatorship, whatever its

Yours faithfully, J. TEMPLER, 111 Broadhurst Gardens, West Hampstead, NW6. July 16.

A Russian question From Miss Luisa Baldini

Sir. On leaving school for the summer holidays I was given the GCSE exam papers that I had sat last month, to keep.

In one history question, a photograph of a Russian poster of 1919 was given, which the Midland Examining Group described as being entitled, "What the Ukraine gives to Russia".

On looking at this paper, a member of my family who can read the Russian alphabet has told me that the Russian writing on the poster actually says, "What Si-beria gives to Russia".

I hope the examining group does not make similar mistakes when marking my papers.

Yours faithfully, LUISA BALDINL 34A Sheridan Road. Merton Park, SW19.

Letters to the Editor should carry a daytime telephone number. They may be sent to a fax number -(071) 782 5046.

SIDNEY TORCH

COURT CIRCULAR

BUCKINGHAM PALACE July 18: The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh today at-tended the 50th Anniversary Parade of the Dunkirk Veterans

Association at Aldershot. Her Majesty and His Royal Highness, having been received on arrival by Her Majesty's Lord-Lieutenant for Hampshire Lieutenant-Colonel Sir James Scott) and the Lord Kaberry of Adel (National President, Dun-kirk Veterans Association), kirk Veterans Association, honoured Lieutenant-General Sir Peter de la Billiere (General Officer Commanding South East District) with their pres-ence at lunch at Government

The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh then drove to the Aldershot Military Stadium, where Her Majesty was received with a Royal Salute and in-spected the Parade, escorted by Major-General John Carpenter (Chairman). Her Majesty and His Royal Highness then took part in an Ecumenical Service.

Mrs John Dugdale, Sir Kenneth Scott and Wing Com-mander David Walker, RAF This morning The Duchess of attendance.
York, Patron, visited CarrGomm's Croydon House, 12 Gloucester
Campbell Road, Thornton East of En

Heath, Croydon, Surrey. Captain Neil Blair, RN was in

This morning The Princess Royal visited Liverpool and was received on arrival by Her Majesty's Lord-Lieutenant for Esq).

Her Royal Highness, Patron,
National Association of Victims
Support Schemes, visited Toxteth Victim Support Scheme, 138 High Park Street.
Afterwards The Princess
Royal attended the Liverpool
Polytechnic's Degree Awards Ceremony in Liverpool Cathedral.

In the afternoon Her Royal Highness attended the Chil-dren's Open Day at Epperstone

Manor, organised by Not-tinghamshire Constabulary in celebration of their 150th Anniversary and was received on arrival by Her Majesty's Lord-Lieutenant for Notting-The Princess Royal was at-ended by The Hon Mrs

CLARENCE HOUSE July 18: Queen Elizabeth The

Today's royal engagements

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will give a garden party at Buckingham Palace at 4.00. Princess Alexandra will

Edinburgh will attend a performance at the London Falladium at 7.50 to mark Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother's 90th birth-day. Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret

The Princess of Wales, as Patron of Help the Aged, will visit the Golden Years Club, I Altenburg Gardens, Battersea, at 10.05; and, as Patron of Turning Point, will visit the charity's Southall Alcohol Advisory Service, 1-3 Featherstone Terrace, at 11.15. The Duchess of York will open the new Police Southern Sup-port and Training Head-quarters, Netley, Hampshire, at noon; and will open the Rapids Leisure Centre, Romsey, at

Dinners

The Hon Douglas Hurd, Secretary of State for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs, was the guest of honour at a dinner given by the Pilgrims at the Savoy Hotel last night. Lord Carrington, CH, president, was in the chair. Among others

The Right Hev Dr R D Say, Lark-participant, Lord and Lady Caccia, and and Lasty Greenhill of Harrow, and Shawerous, Cc. Lord Sherheld, he Hen Mrs Hurd, Vice-Admira St. belliy, Sir Hugh and Lady abilt, Sir Peter and Lady Marshall, ill Hugh and Lady Womber. Mr sober Signon, Mr and Mrs Edward arcetor and Lieutenand-Cologed S W

Mr Graham Redcliffe, Prime Warden of the Basketmakers' Company, presided at a dinner held last night at Saddlers' Hall. Mr Douglas Imrie-Brown and Mr T. Corrigan also spoke. The Masters of the Coopers', Fuellers' and Stationers' and Newspaper Makers' Companies were among the guests.

Parish Clerks' Company Mr J.H. Gaze, newly installed Master of the Parish Clerks' Company, presided at a court dinner held last night at Merchant Taylor's Hall. Mr A.S. Lamboll, Mr Jonathan Wicks and Mr Richard Charvet also spoke. Viscount Churchill and the Mosters of the Members. the Masters of the Merchant Taylors', Girdlers' and Mu-

The Royal Society

Medals and awards 1990.

Copiesy medal to Professor Andus salam. FR S. brotessor of themetical physics at the imperial College of Science. Technology and Medicine. Leadon. In recognition of his work on the symmetries of the laws of outure. Rundord medal to Professor Walter Eric Spear. FR S. Harris professor of physics in the university of Dundee, for discovering and applying techniques for dispositing and characterising the flines of high quality amorphous silicon and for demonstrating that these can be doped to give useful electronic devices, such as cost-effective solar cells.

Davy medal to Professor Keth Usherwood Ingold, FR S. associate director of the division of chemistry, National Research Council of Canada, for pioneering the quantitative study of free radical reactions in solution, in glasses and in living organisms, particularly using electron paramagnetic resonance.

Barwin medal to Professor John Lander Harper. FR S. emeritus grofessor of botany in the University of Wales, for his research on the population biology and evolution of Bantis. ignitation biology and evolution or larits, including medial to Sir Cyril Clarke, F. S. honorary Nutfield sendor fellow; the department of senetics and insertitus professor of medicine in the insversity of Liverson, nor had not be instead of the newborn, and the instead of the newborn, authorities medial to Professor Thomas searge Cowiling, F. R. S., emeritus rofessor of applied mathematics in periodicine of the fundamental contributions to securities astrophysics.

in high resolution nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy and spectroscop

Royal medias:

Professor Michael Victor Berry, F. R. S.
Royal Society research professor at the control of the recent professor at the control of the recent professor. In recognition of the recent professor of the medical Research Council mammatian development unit at University College College of the Research Council mammatian development unit at University College of the Research Council material with the research on mammatian embryology: Professor Object Coll Zendiewicz, F. R. S. emeritus professor of civil engineering at murerical methods in engineering at University College of Swansea in the University College of Swansea in the University of Wales, for his development of finite element analysts and for his demonstration of its successful asplication to stress

Queen Mother was present this afternoon at a performance of the Royal Tournament at Earls

The Lady Elizabeth Basset Sir Martin Gilliat and Captain Conolly Morris-Adams were in attendance.

KENSINGTON PALACE July 18: The Prince of Wales received Mr Eugene Kohn. The Princess of Wales presented the Sunday Times/Royal Fine Art Commission Award at Spencer House, St James's Place, SWI.

Major General Sir Christopher Airy was in attendance. Her Royal Highness, Patron, British Deaf Association, attended a dinner to mark the centenary of the Association at Hattield House, Hattield,

Miss Alexandra Loyd and Squadron Leader David Barton RAF were in attendance. The Princess Margaret, Count

ess of Snowdon, President of the Royal Ballet, was present this evening at a performance by the Royal Ballet School at Holland Park Open Air Theatre. Mrs Jane Stevens was in Princess Alice, Duchess of Gloucester today visited the East of England Agricultural Show, Peterborough, and was received by Her Majesty's Lord-Lieutenant for Cambridgeshire (Mr Michael Bevan). Dame Jean Maxwell-Scott was in attendance.

VORK HOUSE

ST JAMES'S PALACE
July 18: The Duke of Kent,
President of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution, this morn-ing visited Stations in Padstow, Port Issac and Rude Cornwal and was received on arrival by Her Majesty's Lord-Lieutenant for Cornwall (The Right Hon The Viscount Falmouth).

This afternoon His Royal Highness visited Stations in Appledore and Ilfracombe, Devon and was received on arrival by General Sir Peter Whiteley (Deputy Lord-Lieutenant of Devon). Captain the Hon Christopher Knollys was in attendance. The Duke of Kent, accompa-nied by The Duchess of Kent, this evening took the Solute at the Royal Tournament at Earl's

Mrs David Napier and Cap-tain the Hon Christopher Knollys were in attendance.

salute at the 100th performance

The Princess Royal, as Patron of SENSE, the National Deaf-Blind and Rubella Association, will visit the SENSE head-quarters, 311 Gray's Inn Road, WC1, at 11.45; as President of the Council for National Academic Awards, will open the council's newly refurbished offices, 344-354 Gray's Inn Road, at 2.00; and, as Patron of the Royal Tournament, will take the

The Queen and the Duke of

The Duchess of Gioucester willvisit the East of England Show, Peterborough, at 10.25. The Duke of Kent will visit the National Trust's Souter Light-bouse, Marsden, South Shields, at 11.20; open the Seaburn Leisure Centre, Sunderland, at 12.50; and, as Vice-chairman of the British Overseas Trade Board, will visit the Ryhope Training Enterprise Council, Washington, Tyne and Wear, at

The Duchess of Kent, as Chan-cellor of Leeds University, will preside at the student degree ceremonies at 1.00.

Luncheons

Law Society Mr Tony Holland, President of the Law Society, was host at a luncheon held yesterday at 60 Carey Street. Among the guests

Weit; Judge Michael Cook, Mr Marcus Wakeley, Mr Mike Borhall, Mrs Erice Stary, Mrs Janet Thomp-son, Mr Michael Hoyle, Mrs Sally Meen, Miss Cathryn Smith and Mr William Jones.

British Naval Equipment

Association Rear-Admiral Sir Hugh Janion chairman, and members of the British Naval Equipment Association were hosts at a luncheon held yesterday on board HQS Wellington for naval and defence advisers and attachés.

Royal Automobile Club Mr Jeffrey Rose, Chairman of the Royal Automobile Club, presided at the annual luncheon for the senior hundred members held yesterday at the club. Mr Horace Coulson also spoke.

Royal Society of Medicine Sir David Innes Williams has

Lord Lane of Horsell

Beit memorial fellowships for medical research 1990 The life barony conferred upon Sir Peter Stewart Lane has been gazetted by the name, style and Peter John Cullen, to study second messenger properties of inositol 1,3,4,5-tetrakis-phosphate, at the department of title of Baron Lane of Horsell, of Woking in the County of Surrey. biochemistry, AFRC Institute of Animal Physiology and Genetic Research, Babraham.

Sidney Torch, MBE, conductor of the BBC Concert Orchestra for many years and prewar cinema organist, was found dead at his Eastbourne home on July 16. He was 82.

OBITUARIES

IN SEPTEMBER 1953 Sidney Torch was given the brief to create a Friday night programme to "help people relax after the week's hard work and put them in the right mood for a happy weekend". The backbone of the show was to be the BBC Concert Orchestra, which had been formed the previous year. Torch estab-lished the format of Friday Night is Music Night which has lasted until the present day. He conducted the orchestra himself and, while he believed in a mixture of music that combined the familiar and the new, his overriding concern was that the finished product should be of the finest quality possible. Torch was able to draw on his past experience in music, as a pianist, cinema organist, and conductor. His first public appearances were at the con-sole of the organ at the Regal, Edmonton, where his polish and panache delighted audi-ences. His first solo broadcast was in 1935, and it was to be the first of many hundreds. In a very short time Torch was rated among the Big Four of the cinema organ. His signature tune was the sublimely obvious ditty "I've got to sing a torch song", to which he appended a splendidly witless lyric which made further play on his own name.

He also studied as an orchestral pianist — going to signed, by their audiences' the same professor of piano as preoccupation with other mat-

The Rev Cecil Howard Dun-stan Cullingford, school and army chaplain, headmaster

and rural dean, besides being an early authority on caving, died aged 85 on July 7. He was born on September 13, 1904.

THE speleological interests and knowledge of Cecil Cullingford were extensive when caving was still in its infancy. He wrote, or was editor of, several books on the subject. In the first, Exploring Caves (1951), he described the various caving regions in Britain, including a series of do's and dont's. The book also had chapters on the legend and folklore of caves and their use by smugglers in past centuries. In 1953 he edited

Building of the

The Princess of Wales presented the awards to the winners of the Royal Fine Art Commission-

Royal Fine Art Commission-Sunday Times 1990 Building of the Year Award on Wednesday, July 18, at Spencer House. St James's Place. Her Royal High-ness was received by Lord St John of Fawsley, Chairman of the Royal Fine Art Commission and Mr Andrew Neil, Editor of The Sunday Times.

The winners were the Imperial War Museum, London, and the Headquarters for Imagination, London. The Bray Viaduct near Barnstaple was Among those present were:

Among those present were:
The winners: Mr Robert Crawford,
Sir Philip Downon, Mr J Riddell, Mr N
Sousiac (The Imperial War Museum) and Mr Ron Herron and Mr Len Holling Committee of Crafton May Duchess of Romburghe, Viscount Bakenham, Viscount Tonypandy,
Lady Rupert Nevill, Lord Carrington,
Lord Rothschild, Lady Thorneycroft, Lady Soames, Lord Keilth of Castleacro. Sir John Macaspart, Sir
Nicholas Henderson, Sir Terry Heiser,
Sir Philip Powell, Deme Ettabeth
Crastleacro. Sir John Macaspart, Sir
Nicholas Henderson, Sir Terry Heiser,
Sir Philip Powell, Deme Ettabeth
Crastleacro. Sir John Macaspart, Sir
Nicholas Henderson, Sir Terry Heiser,
Sir Philip Powell, Deme Ettabeth
Crastleacro. Sir John Macaspart, Sir
Nicholas Henderson, Sir Terry Heiser,
Sir Philip Rowell, Deme Ettabeth
Crastler, Mr Robin Cationed, Mr David
Carler, Mr Richard Coleman, Mr Ja
Campison, Mrs Wivien Duffleid, Mr
Wan Fallon, Mr Terry Farrell, Mr
Andrew Frost, Miss Marry Giles, Mr
Robin Carling, Mr
Gordon Crahman, Mr
David Carling, Mr
Gordon Crahman, Mr
Mr Sydnay Sporie, Mr Adrian Stanford,
Mr Joselyn Streens, Mr James
Sutherland, Mr Paul van Romunde.
Councilior David Weels, Mr Gooffrey
Sutherland, Mr Paul van Romunde.

wilson, Mr Henry Wrong, Mr William Whitfield, Mr John Willer, Mr Makolim Woolley, Mr Colin Davies, Ms Mira Bar-Hille, Mr Stephen Gardiner, Mr Jonathan Glancey, Mr John Grigsty, Mr Charles Knevitt, Mr Rory Knight Bruce, Mr Ian Latham, Lee Mallett, Mr Chrisopher Martin, Mr Martin Spring, Mr John Grober Martin, Mr Martin Spring, Mr John

Beit fellowships

Shing-Mun David Huen, to study mechanisms of cell growth transformation by Epstein-Barr virus, at the department of cancer studies, Cancer

Research Campaign Labora-tories. University of Peter Maarten Hendrik Littlewood, to investigate the development and maturation of mechanisms underlying the identified synapses in an insect brain, at the department of biology. University of New-

Irene Mary Allan, to study cellular interactions regulating development of T cells in the thymus, at the department of anatomy, Medical School Uni-

Andrew James Sacre Macpherson, to study abnormalities of epithelial cell differentiation in inflammatory bowel disease, at the department of medicine, King's College School of Medi-cine and Dentistry, London.

versity of Birmingham.

Birmingham.

castle-upon-Tyne.

Geraldo. He then had a spell as pianist in Albert Sandler's orchestra, plying his trade nightly against the back-ground clatter of crockery and buzz of chatter in fashionable West End restaurants. In this he was one of an illustrious band of purveyors of popular music, who, though serious musicians, were frequently re-

British Caving: An Introduc-tion to Speleology, with contributions from the Cave

Research Group covering the scientific side of how caves are formed and with a second part dealing with caving equip-ment, diving and photog-raphy. He was also editor of A Manual of Caving Techniques (1969) and, with T. D. Ford, of

and Miss J.P.M. Davies

The engagement is announced between James, son of Mr and Mrs John Barnett, of Ovingion, Suffolk, and Julia, daughter of Mr and Mrs Philip Davies, of Carmarthen, Dyfed.

The engagement is announced between David, eldest son of Mr and Mrs D.L. Courtier-Dutton, of Bucks Horn Oak, Hampshire, and Cassilda, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs A.B. Millar, of

The engagement is announced

hetween Richard, son of Mr and Mrs Montague Crouch, of Three

Oaks, Hastings, Sussex, and Susan, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs Robin Broadley, of Oak-hanger, Worplesdon, Surrey.

The engagement is announced between Brian, son of the late

Mr and Mrs C. Kennedy, and Sarah, daughter of Mr and Mrs J.M. Thomas, of 22 Redeliffe Gardens, London, SW10.

and Miss D. Stanley
The engagement is announced between John, son of Squadron Leader and Mrs J.L. Fareham, of Ballaneddin, Ballaugh, Isle of Man, and Dawn, daughter of Mr and Mrs J. Stanley, of Kingston

Memorial service

Commander Philip Wood
A service of thanksgiving for the life of Commander Philip Wood was held yesterday at St Martin-in-the-Fields. The Rev Leonard

Lunn, Chaplain of St Chris-topher's Hospice, Southwark, officiated, assisted by the Rev John Pridmore, Mr Jonathon

Wood, son, read the lesson and Mr Patrick Wood, son, played the piano. Captain J.O. Coote, RN, and Mr David Rowland,

Chairman of the Sedgwick Group, gave addresses. The Submarine Service was represented by Vice-Admiral Sir John Coward, Flag Officer

BIRTHS: Gilbert Sheldon, archbishop of Canterbury 1663-77, Ellastone, Derbyshire, 1598; John Martin, painter, Haydon

Bridge, Northumberland, 1789;

Gottiried Keller, novelist and poet, Zurich, 1819; Edgar Degas, painter, Paris, 1834; Edward Pickering, astronomer, Boston, Massachusetts, 1846; Charles

Mayo, surgeon, Rochester,

Minnesota, 1865; Vladimir Mayakovsky, poet, Bagdadi, Russia, 1893; A.J. Cronin, nov-elist, Cardross, Strathclyde, 1896; Herbert Marcuse, philos-

Anniversaries

Rowledge, Surrey.

Mr B. Kennedy

Mr J.L. Fareham

Mr R.M. Cruech and Miss S.E. Broadley

Mr D.A.L. Courtler-Dutton and Miss C.A. Millar

ters, to having their produc-

During the war Torch was time and was chaplain of Oundle School until the out-

Forthcoming marriages

The engagement is announced between Edward, elder son of His Honour Peter and Mrs Faulks, of Boxford, Berkshire, and Catherine, daughter of the late Mr Lindsay Turner and Mrs Anthea Turner, and niece of Mrs Veronica Wootten, of Por-ters Mill, Worcestershire.

The engagement is announced between Wayne, youngest son of Mr and Mrs Peter Flint, of Watton, Norfolk, and Charlotte, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs Roland Wallace, of Combs, gest son of the late Mr and Mrs Henry Hatton, of Otford, Kent, and Tania Marie, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Colin Spence, of

The engagement is announced between Daniel Owen, eldest son of Pastor James L. Wilch and Mrs Nadine R. Wilch, of Waukesha, Wisconsin, USA, and Sarah Lucy, only daughter of the late Dr John D. Edwards and of Mrs Laetitia R. Edwards, of Luton, Bedfordshire. The marriage will take place on August 25, at Waukesha, USA.

gator, London, 1814; John Playfair, mathematician, Edin-burgh, 1819; Samuel Wilber-force, bishop of Winchester 1869-73, Abinger, Surrey, 1873; Syngman Rhee, 1st president of th Republic of Korea 1948-60, Honolulu, 1965

Birthdays today

Mr Justice Auld, 53; Sir Nor-

Mr Jusuce Auki, 53; Sir Norman Brain, diplomat, 83; Mr John Bratby, painter, 62; Sir Raymond Brown, joint founder, Racal Electronics, 70; Mr W. Glanville Brown, barrister and linguist, 83; Mr Simon Cadell, actor, 40; Mr Cameron Cochrane, former headmaster, Fettes College, 57; Mr Nicholas Danby, organist, 55; Baroness

Elles, 69; Sir Norman Elliott, former chairman, Electricity Council, 87; Sir Anthony Grabham, chairman, Joint Consultants Committee, 60; Major-General D.E. Isles, 66; Mr Richard Knight, former head-master, Oundle and Monkton

Combe schools, 75; Dr Mary McGeown, nephrologist, 67; Sir

Stephen Miller, former Surgeon-

Oculist to The Queen, 75; Mr David Money-Courts, chairman, Coutts and Company, 59;

Mayakovsky, poet, Bagdadi, Russia, 1893; A.J. Cronin, novelist, Cardross, Strathclyde, 1896; Herbert Marcuse, philosopher, Berlin, 1900.

DEATHS: Petrarch, Padua, 1374; Matthew Flinders, navi-

Honolulu, 1965.

and Miss T.M. Spence The engagement is announced between Robert Charles, youn-

Mr D.O. Wilch and Miss S.L. Edwards

Mr E.P.L. Faulks and Mins C.F. Turner to the Weish Guards.

tions make an almost ments. It was clear from the subliminal impact on the huan air gunner in the RAF. But even here music was never far away, and wartime listeners to the wireless will recall his playing for the "Double or Quits" quiz on the programme, Mediterranean Merry-Go-Round. After the 1985. away, and wartime listeners to

THE REV CECIL CULLINGFORD

legacy to treasure, and al-war it was the realisation of a moment that his beloved cinema organ had had its day. He turned to orchestrating, composing and conducting.

After a period of apprentice ship with the Queen's Hall

Light Orchestra he took it over on the retirement of

Charles Williams, Later, he formed his own orchestra and made many recordings with it.

Concert Orchestra that he reached his widest audiences,

But it was with the BBC break of the second world war when he became a chaplain, first to the Grenadier and then Cullingford was evacuated from Dunkirk, but returned to the Continent soon after D-vice-principal from 1932 to to 1960 he lectured in naval 1934. He was ordained at this history at Britannia Royal Naval College, Dartmouth. Chaplaincies at St John's College, Leatherhead, and St Mi-chael's School, Limpsfield, His fourth career, that of vicar, took him to Stiffkey and Morston in 1967. His retire-

Mr P.A. Klesel
and Min C.R. Martin
The engagement is announced between Philip Anthony, youngest son of Mr and Mrs C.W.
Klesel, of Hounslow, Middle-

Mr J.S.V. Phipps
and Miss T. Ber Lavie
A marriage has been arranged and will shortly take place between Jonathan Sebastian, idest son of Mr Jeremy Phipps and Mrs Mary McGowan, of 3 Blenheim Crescent, London, Wil, and Tamar, younger daughter of Mr and Mrs Bar

Mrs T.P. Sanders, of Fulham, London, SW6.

The engagement is announced between David Elks, of Luton, Bedfordshire, and Claire, eldest daughter of Anne Davies, of

Admiral Godfrey Place, VC, 69;

Miss Gwynneth Thurburn, for-mer principal, Central School of Speech and Drama, 91.

Mr Christopher John Swiers, of Broxa, North Yorkshire, chair-man of the York County branch of the National Farmers' Union;

left estate valued at £830.637

Other estates include (net, before tax paid):

Mr John Morris Soles, of Edgbaston, Birming-ham £737,820.

Mr Antony Stewart Clifford Waite, of London W8£879,237.

Mrs Joan Eileen Blair Wilson, of

The following have been elected officers of the Bowyers' Company for the ensuing two years: Master, Mr Alderman Roger Cork; Upper Warden, Mr Christopher Ballenden; Renter

Warden, Mr James F.G. James-

Woodhouse,

Bowyers'

Company

Latest wills

DCL

Lavie, of Jerusalem.

Mr N.J.P. Selwood

De D. Elles

med Miles A.C. Harris

RICHARD BERNSTEIN

RICHARD Bernstein per-formed some of the first molecular beam experiments designed to study pairs of reacting molecules in isolation, and 30 years later he had the satisfaction of knowing that his work, writings and teachings had helped to transform our understanding of chemical reactions. His frequent visits to Britain included an influential Hinshelwood lecture series at Oxford in 1981, subsequently published under the title Chemical Dynamics via Molecular Beam and Laser and Friday Night is Music Night is his epitaph. Countless numbers have been regular In 1953 he went to the University of Michigan and listeners to the programme since Torch first conducted began to ask the questions that were to fascinate him for the the signature tune almost 37 rest of his life. How do years ago. In particular, a feature that he introduced, a individual molecules arrange themselves prior to chemical selection from a musical show reaction and how is the energy of the reaction released? No or film as the climax of the broadcast, has been expanded answer could be given until to include contemporary molecular collisions could beproductions, and has proved observed in isolation. Bernhighly popular. Rarely a month goes by without the stein was one of the first to realise that molecular beams inclusion of one or more of could be used to overcome Torch's arrangements. He was an expert at these, even to the this difficulty. The first experiments were performed at extent of allowing the singers Michigan and be left in 1963 just the right number of bars to spend 10 productive years of music to enable them to at the University of Wisconsin approach the microphone in Madison, where he estab-lished a fruitful theoretical with split-second timing. No-body ever applauded in the middle of one of his arrangecollaboration with Raphael Levine (now at the Hebrew University, Jerusalem) which led to the publication of two influential books, Molecular unresolved chords and bridging passages whether the music was ended, or had just Reaction Dynamics (1974) and Molecular Reaction. paused for breath. He leaves a Dynamics and Chemical Rethough he retired in 1972, his activity (1987).

He was born in New York went to school in New Jersey. He studied at Columbia, New

Richard Barry Bernstein, tion and to take part in American physical chemist, measurements of radioactive has died at the age of 66. He fallout from the Bikini atom was born on October 31, 1923. PhD from Columbia in 1948, he took an appointment at Illinois Institute of Technology. Bernstein was chairman of the Columbia chemistry department from 1979 to 1981 and from 1983 was professor of physical chemistry at UCLA. During these years he was intrigued by the possibil-ity of orientating molecules in flight, prior to reaction, and also made pioneering high power laser experiments which led to a new form of mass spectrometry for chemical analysis.

Dick Bernstein was in his element at a scientific conference. Elegantly dressed and intense in manner, he was eager to pick up any new idea, to search out all he kniew, old and young to share their discoveries and suggest new experiments. He was full of zest for life and it is characteristic that, at the age of 66, he should have been collaborating with Zewail's femto-second pulse experiments at the California Institute of Technology a femto-second (the time it takes light to travel a millionth of a metre) being short enough for him to observe the rearrangement of molecular vibrations prior to reaction.

While chairman of the office of chemistry of the US National Academy of Sciences he initiated the study that ultimately led to the Gutowsky Report on the destructive effects of CFCs on the ozone layer. He was Hinshelwood lecturer in physical chemistry at Oxford in and always thought of himself ered the Spiers memorial lecas a New Yorker, although he ture of the Royal Society of Chemistry next March.

He was a member of the York, during the second world National Academy of Sciences war, where he also joined the (1968) and a fellow of the Manhattan project (latterly as American Physical Society a member of the US Army and of the American Association for the Advancement of on uranium isotope separa-

ESTATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PART

1037 BARRY

10年12月1日

III (Chie

LEAG

A Comment of the Comment

the second of the second second second

Bernard Stranger

Section 1 to the second of the

the same of the

STORY THE THE COM

5,000 BOOK

FOR TRIPS BY

HOVERCOACE

ONDES ESTUARY

MANORE ACTION AND THE CONTROL OF THE

the state of the sea

Sent and the sent of the sent

And the second second

Mary and also seed to the seed of the seed

The first process of the solutions of th

A period of the case

A STATE OF THE STA

Salar and the salar of the sala area to Me Section 20 toler

the state of

COUNT RENE BOEL

Lord Perth writes:

MY FRIENDSHIP with René He married first Yvonne Sol-influence was strong in whatever else interested him, European unity, orchestras or Boël (obitmary July 16) ex- modern art. For example he tended over 50 years. Once prevailed over all obstacles to made, his friendships lasted. establish the Museum of Modern Art in Brussels.

the Continent soon after D-Day with the 21st Army published in 1976.

Born in Battersea, Cullingford was educated at the City of London School and Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, where he took a double first in classics. Obtaining a post as sixth form master at Brighton College, in 1928, he was run to not o Clifton Theological College, Bristol, to become its

The Science of Speleology, published in 1976. This letter ment still saw him active in church affairs. For four years from 1972 he was rural dean of Beccles. In his later years he regularly visited Adelboden, Switzerland, as chaplain to the City of London School and Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, where he took a double first in classics. Obtaining a post as sixth form master at British saw him active in church affairs. For four years from 1972 he was rural dean of Beccles. In his later years he regularly visited Adelboden, Switzerland, as chaplain to the Children.

St Tropez He loved gardening the wild in the 1930s. They had three children. He married first Yvonne Solonary, who died in the 1930s. They had three children. He married first Yvonne Solonary, who died in the 1930s. They had three children. He taking his many and world-married Secondly Thilds, wide friends, be it, at The Switzerland, as chaplain to the English-speaking church.

In 1933 he married Olive Collingwood, who died in the 1930s. They had three children. He taking his many and world-married Secondly Thilds, wide friends, He married first Yvonne Solonary, who died in the 1930s. They had three children. He taking his many and world-married first Yvonne Solonary, who died in the 1930s. They had three children. He taking his many and world-married first Yvonne Solonary, who died in the 1930s. They had three children. He taking his many and world-married first Yvonne Solonary, who died in the 1930s. They had three children. He married first Yvonne Solonary had three children. He married first Yvonne Solonary had they children. He married first Yvonne Solonary had three children. He mar

Archaeology

Tree-rings give a date to the oldest trackway sex, and Clare Rosemary, younger daughter of Clir and Mrs W.H. Martin, also of Hounslow, TREE-RING dating has enabled events nearly six thousand years ago to be pinned down to a single season of a single year. The oldest known trackway in the Somerset trackway, in the Somerset Levels near Glastonbury, is now known to have been built, possibly in a single day, in the spring of 3806 BC. The chronology that has made this degree of precision possible for the English neolithic period has been assem-The engagement is announced between Nicholas, eldest son of Mrs P. Bretel, of St Peter, Guernsey, Channel Islands, and Anne, eldest daughter of Mr and bled from several groups of ancient oaks preserved by waterlogging, from Colwick in the Trent valley, Stolford on the Bristol Channel, and from the Somerset Levels themselves. Early problems with the combined dendrochronology were ironed out by retesting and checking by radio-carbon dating. The English sequence can now be matched against the 7,000 year tree-ring chronology developed in the mid-1980s in Ireland and Germany (The Times, June 24 Marriage Mr C.R.V. Bell, OBE and Rosamund Lady Trelawny

The marriage took place quietly on July 4, at Haywards Heath, between Mr Christopher Bell and Rosamund Lady Trelawny.

The ancient roadway known as the Sweet Track runs across the wetland west of Glastonbury. The story of its discovery, by a peatworker, Raymond Sweet, in 1970, and subsequent investigation was told by Bryony and John Coles in their prizewinning book Sweet Track to Glastonbury and they have now greeted the precise dating of the trackway in the journal

Antiquity. "It has always been understood that the Sweet Track was build in one rather speedy episode: a half-finished track is no use," they say. "We think that ten persons working one long day could have com-pleted the whole track in the spring of 3806 BC. Bringing the heavy timbers to their places along the track as it extended out into the swamp would have required much effort, but five days would certainly see the work done."

The track ran for just over a mile, north from the Polden Hills across the wetlands towards Westhay, and Dr and Professor Coles estimate that it contained over 4,000 yards of planks, half that length of heavy rails, and six thousand roundwood or split pegs."To repairs were carried out within five years, and that although the track was still used in 3800 BC it was soon engulfed by the rising swamp. Thirteen different tree species were used. and some like hazel may have been the result of deliberate coppicing, "so we can suggest that before 3800 B.C. the concept of controlled felling existed", the Coles say. Climate can also be deduced from beetle remains, indicating warmer summers and colder winters than today. It was just possible for two people to pass on the single-plank walkway, and either accidentally or deliberately a number of objects were dropped off the edge. These, finds, including a jade axe from the Alpine foothills and a flint axe from mines in Sussex, can now be given an exact date in the distant past.

The same is true of an arrowhead still bound into its hazelwood shaft by nettle. string, a number of flint flakes," used for reed cutting woodworking and hide preparation, and the pottery. vessels, shallow round bowls and jars. A unique find was a length of rope made from grass, and a wooden spoon; a. box or dish and a comb have also been recovered.

"We have always argued that the whole assemblage of pottery, flint, stone and wood from the Sweet Track repre-: sents a moment in prehistoric time, all contemporary in use and deposition. We now know that this moment was 3807/3806 BC or as near as dammit." Dr and Professor Coles conclude.

Reception.

Royal Warrant Holders Association

The Mayor and Mayoress of Windsor and Maidenhead attended a reception held yesterday at Eton College to mark the 150th anniversary of the Royal Warrant Holders Association. Mr Maurice Lidstone, President of the Windsor, Eton and District Royal Warrant, fell, split and prepare all this wood was a major task in the Holders Association, and Mrs.

Lidstone received the guests.

By Norman Hammond, archaeology correspondent

LEGAL NOTICES

PAINT MACHINE SERVICE
ENGINEERS LIMITED ON Receivership
Registered number 1611 C56 Nature of business: Paint Natchine Service Engineers, Trade classification 07 Date of appointment of summentative receivers. National Westminister Bank Pic. Name of Appunter NH Cooper and 1 Jama Jaint Administrative Receivers office reader nos 006599/0:
and 002121 of Robon Rhodes,
186 City Road. London ECIV
2NU
ENGINEETIME MEDITARS

186 City Road, London ECIV 2NU

ENGINETIME MOTTERS
LIMITED On Creater
Voluntary Liquidoors
Voluntary Liquidoors
NOTICE IS HEREBY CIVEN the INCOMPANY of September 1990, to send their names and adverse, with particulars of their debts or claims to the undersigned. We Batriculars of their debts or claims to the undersigned We Batriculars of the Company of Russess Handon. I as City Road. London ECIV 2NU, the Joint Liquidators of the Company, and if so required, by notice in writing from the said Joint Liquidators either personality or by their Solicitors, to come in and prove their debts or claims at second or their debts or claims at second of their debts or claims at the Specified in such solice in default thereof. But the Company of their debts or claims at second of the company described from the benefit of any distribution made before such debts are proven.

Dated Dis 12 day of this 1980.

from the benefit of any distribution made before such debts are proven.

Dated this 12 day of July 1990 RW J Long, V.M. Bairstow Jand Llundstons

RE D. CLESTRECAL LEATTED NOTICE IS NEXESTY CIVEN pursuant to Section 98 of the brook of the Congains will be held at the offices of Leonard Curta & Co., situated at 30 Eastbourne Terraco Conference of the above 1990 and 1990 at 12:00 neon for of July 1990 at 12:00 neon for of July 1990 at 12:00 neon for officer of Leonard Curta & Checken of the Company's Creditors can be inspected at the officer of Leonard Curtas & Co., 50 Eastbourne Terrace, London W2 6LF, between the hours of 10 00 am and a company of the Company's Creditors can be inspected at the officer of Leonard Curtas & Co., 50 Eastbourne Terrace, London W2 6LF, between the hours of 10 00 am and a Co pro on the two business days preceding the Meeting of Creditors

Dated this 11th day of July 1990 Decian Orellib. Director

ENTIAN OFFIEN DIRECTOR

ENTINE HEEM COUNTY

COLUMN THE HEEM COUNTY

NO. COME OF 1980

IN THE MATTER OF UNITED

REFORM SERVICES PLC

AND IN THE MATTER OF

THE COMPANIES ACT 1945

NOTICE S HEREBY strum county

Love must be completely sin-cire. Hate what is evil, hold on to what is good. Romans 12: 9 C.N.B.

CAMPBELL - On July 13th in London, to Penelope Wilson and Martin, a daughter CARR - On July 11th, at University College Hospital, to Adrienne tose Pickering, and Richard, a daughter. Florence Helen Euzabeth, a sister for Edward CHAMPION - On July 16th, to Donna tinee Irishi and Richard, a daughter, Isabelle Sophia, a sister for Hamish DIXON - On July 13th, to Gillian Mary tree Siaters and Iain Robert, of Forholme, the gift of a daughter. Emily Jane.

Jane. - On July 17th. at Winchester, to Eleanor mee Schuleri and David. a son. Pairick Alexander.

Pairick Alexander.
FREWER - On July 17th, to Caroline and Martin, a son.
GAIRRETT - On May 24th
1990, to Michelle (nee kass)
and David, a beautiful son.
Daniel Joseph Richard
william, a brother for GASKARTH - On July 18th, at York District Hospital, to Jane (nee Hutrhings) and Christopher, a daughter. Laura Chariotte, a sister for HISCOCK - On July 1st, to Sally thee Houghton and Braan. a daughter. Rose Sarah Alice, a sister for Sam. James - On July 17th, at Kingston Hospital, to Metanie tnee Horgan) and Cavin, a son. Ben Lewis Fergus.

LOWDON - On July 12th, to Alison thee Moss and lan. a daughter. Philippa Mary Hoss.

MARSH - On July 16th, to Emma thee Berry Green) and Jermy, a daughter. Coorgana.

METHLEY - On July 12th, to Redecta thee Stanleys and Michael, a daughter. Polly Mar.

olar.

901 - On July 17th 1990, at 510 pm. to Carmei and Lugene, at Chase Farm Hospital, a boy. David Teck Chen. 7lbs 15 oz. PERONET-MILLER - On July 10th, to Phillip and Gillian ince Douglass, a son. Daniel Aaron. With grateful thanks to the staff of "The Rosie" Maternity Home. Cambridge.

MEYNOLOS - On July 14th, at The Portland Hospital, 10 Janet tree Sandford) and John, a daughter. Ditvia Mary Rose, a sister for Jamie, Harry and Michael. RREY - On July 3rd 1990, to Paula and Alan. a son. Richard James Ackiom, a brother for Victoria. SLEEMAN - On July 17th, to Jane the Dennehyl and William a daughter. UDEN - On July 16th 1990, in Johannesburg. to Bethan Intel Davies) and Nigel. The gift of a daughter, Jessica. Thanks be to God.

WEAVER - On July Sth. to Nick Weaver and Martha Alleguen. Iwins. a brother and sister to Alice. WELLBY - On July 6th, to Barbara and Mark. a daughter. Elisabeth Rachel, a sister for Peter and Jack.

> DIAMOND ANNIVERSARIES

THOMAL:BOURNE - On Juty 19th, 1930 Anthony Thomas and Molly Bourne. Now at Stone, Tenterden TN30 7,17,

DEATHS APPLETON - On July 13th 1990, tragically missing, presumed drawned in a boating accident in France.
Roger Brodle, late of Shincitife, Durham and Cymmer. S. Wales.
Memorial Service at 2 o'clock, St John the Baptist Chinest Clumerance. Church, Glyncorrwg, Porl Taibol, W. Giamorgan. Tation. W. Gumorgan.

BADGER - On July 17th, peacefully in hospital after a long illness. Dr. Alfred Bowen. aged 89. Beloved husband of Marion and husband of Marion and much loved father of Linda. Michael and son-in-law knut. Funeral Service at 10.30 am. Tuesday July 24th at Christchurch. Beckenham. followed by cremation at Beckenham Crematorium at 11.30 am. Floral Iributes and enquiries 10 Francis Chappell. 238 High Street. Beckenham. tell: 10811680-0304, or donations it desired to Alzheimers.

SW12.

BLACKBURN - On July 15th.
suddenly at Rophaug.
Robert, of Rophaug 4230
Sand, Norway and 3.
Oakfield Gardens, Dulwich,
London SE19 Dear husband of Nina, father of Kari and Lucy, grandfather of Boobo of Kessalina, Jonan, Mary and Andrew, Funeral at Sand, July 21st, Memonal Service in London to be arranged.

JULY 19

BLACKMAN - On July 17th
1990 peacefully. Audrey Babette (nee seigman), seed
1/2 years, window of Protessor
Geoffrey Blackman Funeral Service at Summings ell
Church, Summings ell
Church, Summings ell
Church Summings ell
Church

Abingdon Road, Oxford.

CAPLAN - Dr. Joseph P. Li.
Col. R A M C., for many years in charge of the Tropiral Medicine Unit. at Queen Many's Hospital Rochampton Swi3 and Consultant Malarrologist. Westinaster Hospital, died peacefully at Queen Mary's Hospital on 12th July in his 86th year. Funeral at Mortlake Crematorium. Townmead Road off Mortlake Road) on Monday 23rd July at 2 pm. Mo flowers, donations if desired to The League of Friends of Queen Mary's Hospital All enquiries and letters to M Broad & Son. 18 Evelyn Road. Cockforers, Herts ENd 9JT. Tet. (081) 441-0047.

and exceptional father to his most beloved children. Thomas, Harry, Matthew and Henrietta He will be greatly missed by his wider lamily and friends. Provale family funeral, Thanksgiving Service to be announced later. Donations if wished to St. Martin's Church. Ellisfield. Basingstoke, Hampshire.

ERKKO - On July 9th 1990, peacefully in Helsinki, Finland, Violet Eugenic, aged 95. d. of late William and hatte (nee Dodd) Sutcilife; beloved wife of late Eljas Erkko of Helsinki, Finland and mother of Palricia and Aalos and a loving grandmother, and great-grandmother. Private Funeral Service.

FORMEY - On July 17th. after a short itiness. In her 77th year Elizabeth Peacetaily at the King Edward the Seventh Hospital at Midhurst. West Sussex Beloved wife of the late Harold Appleton Formby and mother of Paul and mother-in-law of Carmen. Lately of Cranleton, Sutrey Long Itime resident of Hoylake, Wirral, Funeral Service at Guidford Crematorium on Tuesday July 24th 1990 at 2 pm. Flowers to L.F. Limott & Son Funeral Directors, (cl. 10730)

GARRARD - On July 18th, peacefully at The North Staffs. Royal infurmary, after a short illness. His Honour-Judge Henry John Garrard. Leaves a wife, son and daughter, son-in-law and daughter-in-law. Sadly missed.

flowers only, but donations in Vivien's memory would be greatly appreciated, please send to the Nurses' Amenity Fund. Crawshay Ward, Royal Free Hospital. Pond Street, London NW3.

HEWGILL - On July 17th. James Charles Ribert LL. Col. Retd. M.B.E., aged 63. of Childrey, Derbyshire, at Southmends - Hospital.

NYAM - On June 30th 1990. Keith Allan Hyam. of Stoke Bisnop, aged 62. Sadly missed by wife Jean. sons Mark. Stephen and Roper. daughters in law and pranodaughters Rachael and SOSEPH • On July 17th, at Challont Hespital. Stephanie Isobel under Harrist. Loring wife of lan and mother of Chartes and Laurence. Cremation at Colors Green Crematorium. 2 pm Friday July 20th. No flowers by request.

10811680-0304, or donations it desired to Alzheimers Disease Society, Bank Lodge, 158 160 Batham High Road. SW12.

BLACKBURN - On July 15th. Suddenly at Rophaus. Robert, or Rophaus 4230 Sand, Norway and 3. Oakfield Cardens, Dulwich. London 85:19 Dear husband of Nina. father of Kari and Lucy, grandfather of Boobo of Kessalina. Jonan. Mary and Andrew, Funeral at Sand, July 21st, Memonal Service in London to be arranged.

and much loved father and orandizher. Funeral Server at Randalls Pairt Remainder Pairt Remainder Pairt Remainder Pairt Pairt Randalls Pairt Remainder Pairt Pairt Randall Pairt Randall Pairt Pa

WESTFIELD - On July 15th WESTFIELD - On July 13th 1990, after a short illness, Maior Frank Westfield, aged 84. Much loved by his daughters, Farnily and friends, To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to de'. Funeral at Cambridge Crematorium on Tuesday July 24th at 1.30 pm. Flowers to Co-operative Soriety Lid., James Street, Cambridge, or donations to Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge WHMTE - On Tuesday July 17th 1990, suddernly at Victoria Hospital, Kirkcaldy, Fife, Eliza Louise 'Betsy' time Agnew, Cak Bank, Falkland, Fife, Wife of the late Doctor Tommy White, much loved mother to Stewart and Jane Funeral Service in Falkland Parish Church at 10 afti on Friday July 20th.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

CALDECOTT - Andrew C B.E. The funeral will be held on Tuesday July 24th at 12 noon at Ramsbury Abbey. Ramsbury Wiltshire. Memorial Service to be announced taler.

MEMORIAL SERVICES de BUNSEN - There will be a Thanksgiving Service for the life and work of Sir Bernard de Bunsen C.M.G., who died on June 4th, to be held at Hampstead Parish Church, Church Row, Hampstead, London NW3, on July 25th (his birthday) at 5 pm. Refreshments will be served in the Crypt Room.

ROGERS - There will be a Service of Thanksgiving for the life of Professor Eric M. Rogers. of Princeton University, on Thursday July 19th at 11.30 am at 81 Mary's the Virgn. in Great Shelford (near Cambridge).

IN MEMORIAM -PRIVATE

FREDON - 18th birthday of Charlotte, beloved daughter of Benjamin and Lynda, granddaughler of Max and Jacke and sister of Benjamin ir. Loved and remembered.

Birth and Death potices may be accepted over the telephone For publication the following day please telephone by 5.00 pm Monday to Thursday, 4pm Friday,

9,30am-1.00pm Saturday for Monday's paper. 071 481 4000

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CONTESTANTS upgestly re-Glaired for new BBC cutz show, 7 you are bright, lively and fins please write to: Dept TM, Ac-tion Time, PO But 121, Man-Chester MSO 1EM BAYIDIGON (riga and Bitt (Carpet) log of love and huge on your NOO, Alco. Huge and Keles.

Adjusted the secretary visiting Use Applicage wishes contact ad-inguishment in the contact ad-inguishment in the contact ad-plication in the contact and the data before c.1950, view the contact remaindences. Canada. 31/2011, 1919 House. Cast Aber-feets. ASS 1309.

ECHAND HIPETY congretale-sons on your 40th birthday, from John and Kristine and all your triesds

THE Hovercraft was the brainchild of Sir Christopher Cockerell. He once described how, when he was developing his idea of an "air cushion" to support the new craft, he employed a catfood tin fitted inside a coffee tin with air supplied by a reversed vacuum cleaner.

> 5,000 BOOK HOVERCOACH

EXHILARATING RUN ON DEE ESTUARY CORRESPONDENT

already been booked for the world's first scheduled commercial hovercraft service, which British United Airways, in association with Vickers-Armstrongs and BP, are to open on Friday across the Dee estuary be-tween Rhyl and Wallasey. Even so, the venture is not expected to show a profit. What those concerned expect to gain is experience of employing a completely new type of transport. The eight weeks of trial operation over tidal waters and sands will yield valuable information on the problems of maintaining a service to a strict schedule. It will also test public reaction and give a pointer to the size

B.U.A. are using a Vickers VA3 Hovercraft (12½ tons), which can commercial services. carry 24 passengers and three crew at a cruising speed of 60 knots. Until September 16, it will make six return journeys across the 19-mile route each day, except on Tuesdays. The fare for the 25-minute trip, which will save passengers a 40-mile journey along congested roads, will be £1 single. Control centres and booking offices have been established at lors; the others drive two large centrifugal fans to provide the lift which, over solid surfaces, is about eight inches. Over water at high speeds, it can cope with waves of two tendency to skid. ing pace there were occasional bumps, presumably as waves were encountered. These were more pronounced in turns. showed the two drivers sitting, side by side, the one on the port side was steering with a wheel rather like a car's. In front of the other seat was a Pye closed-circuit television screen. used to enable the driver to see backwards. A very small television camera looked over the stern and a picture it sees is relayed to the screen. Rhyl to the disembarking area, there was a distinct change of engine sound. Throughout the trip, the noise level permitted normal conversation. Altogether, it was rather an exhibitanting experience, somewhat like travelling in a fast cabin-cruiser.

ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR SALE

RAVENSTONE HOUSE DAY NURSERY OPENING AT HYDE PARK IN GEPTEMBER.

Children accepted from 2 months to 5 years. Open 46 wream a year from Gaza to Spen Manufact to Pridays, Pully qualified staff.

FOR FURTHER DETAILS AND A BOOKING FORM PLEASE PHONE 0908 270405/642111

DT Albert, glerious Agentin, terri-ful cervant & friend of Jeson. Help me in my present pool & in all the recombing trials at the state of the state of the relay below the companies of the with all the Sistem throughout visingly, for Justic prip ser on & for all with Immore a Davidson was all. Afrant. D.E.

BIRTHDAYS CHARLES LACEY 21 redeat Laver

CONGRATULATIONS

We awant the auspicoos to the service of Ster Main resp.

Kameri SMENLATA of DEDDER, from the House of the Raj Derbar of Deoder, and the Raj Derbar of Deoder, and many Congratableons are sorveyed from the House of the Thaltur Sakib of Jamin on her weedling to my cram differ.

MEDITA OF JANUA With the sincores and hest visites for the future, Khemagan ary from your Devar (Laljasa) Km. Ajitsingh Medius Imperial College, London.

SERVICES

DATELINE GOLD

An use seeing second and stitute introductors to accessful, contrient, who also and structive geople looking for levery, lesting intermediate to use accessing to the sees of the salary transfer from the call (71)-338 (101), or write to 13 Abstraction W8 6AL
LONGON W8 6AL LOBOOD WS GAL.

LOBOOD WS GAL.

LOBOOD ACTION ACTION
COMMENTATION COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMMENTATION
COMM

Simula Marchell of our countries Simula for singles, 254-Chil Landon Epicoromi's Obt 882 3414, Obt 367 1896 SECT 104 special segrecte - sh infrariable cold sarvice - briti-pressuit & discretizing, Sach introductions, 100 New Breed Street, Landon WLY SAA, 071 366 2205.

THE ULTHRATE in small read-to-measure marriage bureaux' (S.Tel.) Est. 1960. Katharine Also, 18 Theyer St. London Wild ELD Tel 071-038 3115.

WANTED

TICKETS FOR SALE

When responding to advertisements readers are edvised to establish the face value and full details of lickets before entering toto any

(CURDISH Sword and/or depart washed to replace ones stoke. Write groups discription and poles to BOX KS1

FOR SALE 180 Source yards of old york paying stone, unrepeatable price, most sell before 20th July 1990, Tel: 0942 862388

Int. Suprib presentates, Nest date endants, (0727) 43277. Sporting events. Protes, Too Was Cra Street, Protes, Too Was Cra Street, But Sales, Too Was Cra Street, Appets Les Mis. Cra Street, Appets Les Mis. Cra Street, Marie Cra Street, Marie Cra Street, Call Dollar CC1 accepted. Booking Per Charges

martile minus fifth commin merale minus fifth contribut fire place with very fine detail for sair. Finded long Cultums. Becchanalism Centre panel, Complete with this craft and trace side panel. Panel available. Offers over E40,000, Pauly in BOX K44

We're leading the fight against heart disease by funding research into its causes, prevention and treatment.

YOUR WILL Enquiries to The Chairman, British Limbires Ex-Service Man's Association, c/o Nikhand Bank plc, 60 Wost Smithfield London EC1A.

ARTHRITIS RESEARCH

No other legacy can help so many people

a legacy to help us in the future. THE ARTHRITIS & RHEUMATISM COUNCIL FOR RESEARCH

Working to find an earlier cure 3 FACTS about people who are blind

LONDON London Association for the Blind make it possible. Help us please with a donation or covernant now and remainber us with a legacy later. LONDON ASSOCIATION FOR THE BLIND

Will Power to lift the shadow of diabetes and the link with ,

All these are closely connected Kidney disease Shortened life # Heart disease with Diabetes. As the leading contributor to research we must find the cure for this still incurable disease. Your legacy will be a forever reminder of your will to help us defeat diabetes.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

6A Esquette, £7,800 one, Tel 071-431 5104 or 0831-423201 TICKETS FOR SALE PIANO "Vertine" upright. Attractive case, perfect condition. £345 Kyprem 081465 0148 When responding to advertisements readers are advised to establish the face value and full PIANO SALE, new, restored and digital Free catalogue Puzzo Workshop Ltd. 30A Highgate B4 NW6, 071 267 7671. details of tickets before NURSENG HOMES

DATEMASTER QUALITY CARE and no quair And no worths for the cider And no worther the claim about entre busing costs. Health Meant's Assemble Correlation of the provides all that you need for all the rest of your life in superb surroundings with the way from insulting. Friedman Petarsheld 107301 892244. PHANTOM, MISS SAIGON, LES MIS, GLYNDEBOURNE, FA CHARITY SHIELD, MADONNA, PRINCE etc.

right Dat? Let Belocove Sharing do the searching 071-229 8955

BATTERSEA m/f 26+ Double right in sources family bones. ETS per excl. or 500 Mon · Fri may. CTI-409 Mos4 Dr. BMB (Day). 071-223 4108 (Even).

BATTERSEA. Proc 25-30. £205 PCM + deposit. Move in 27th July. 637 2424 ext 2423

Large, vy pleasure studio/ eff-ting rn r cater 50%, Parished, for increa, beauth 60%, Parished, for increa, beauth 60%, Santo bea-rider or young prof w. car. £70 incl. 671, 736, 7767.

CLAPHAM SW12 Small room in very comfortable modern flat Professional feature, son stoll-er Tube Clapham South 6 minuses, C200 pmin + bills. Call: Karen on 071 239 7905 (W).

han E250pcm, each 071-629 6696 P Gladstone (Day)

CLAPHAM SOUTH large room in shared house. All mod cons. w/machine, Garden. Cook tube Prof M/F. £230 pcm. Tel:071 228 6978 after 6pm

ELE Viers same, fully furt. I find that GGS-L new others. Onle so, it mans from Control line tune, 5200 pm. No fees. Tel. Allian 0831 114762 after fism

FLATLINK London's most Successful Flathare introduc-tory service for professional clients requiring quality accom-landiords and potential sharers ring 071-287 3248 for details.

LATERATES Landon's forerment flat sharing service (Est 1970) especially for selective home privates a resimp professional gri-589 6491 for apportunent 313 Brompton Road, SW3.

PILLMAN person required for V ige dible ris in newly conv hus fit in quier residential st. Fit let incl W/M. 40 ft prvi gdn, ing. Clow to transfert. E85 pw. Tel 971-293-0804

Tcl: 071-588 9086 or 0836 723433 (24hrs) All mater CC's accepted MORNING SUITS DINNER SUITS EVENING TAIL SUITS SUITHUS TO HITE - FOR SAIG BARGAINS FROM £40 LIPMANS HIRE DEPT 22 Charing Cross Rd London WC2 Nr Leicester Sq tube 071-240 2310

Offer

And all major pop & sporting

ALL TICKETS
Phanton, Salgen, Les Min,
Aspects Cana,
Aspects Cana,
Bouled STUNES, PRINCE
PLUS ALL SOLD OUT SHOWS AND SHOWS AND SPORTING EVENTS

071 323 4480, CCS accepted. CELEBRUTY TICKETS

PHANTOM, SAIGON, LES MIS, ASPECTS, GASPING, CATS, ALSO ALL SPORTING EVENTS. Tel 071-222-6686 071-222-8636 Fax: 071-222-0637 Rectingues Cale, Landon SWIE GPD

ALL tickets - Phantom every day. Les Mis, Ms Saigon, Aspects, Cats, Pop. Tel: 071-706 0353/0366. CC's Rowie, Bones, Prince, All Per Buy/Sell 071-825 6119/6120 Cale Levides Service States, and poor & sport, 071 439 9125 071 134 627E. We record all CC's. ALL TICKETS Premium, Salpus, Aspects, Les Mis, Stones, Bow-ie, Prince & cricket, All major poo sport & theather, Accept cc's, 071 925 0085/071 930 0800. for sale, July, August, September, Selected dates, Telephone 0783 821818, All major credit

BALSHIPON Large room in Vic house, close to all smorthes Dio Div Inc. Tel 071 389 6534 MDMARTFOL Legary surface fist. Double room. Close lisbe LINDRY, 071 835 1426 day/room el rd. charming dbl rm £70 gw angl £58 gw. C91-670 4276 cards accepted NETHOATE NEWSPAPERS and Newspripts from £7 50. The mission sowier Press Arches Tel (0732) 53366. LOVELY house with parties. 4 mins time and Hope St. For Rat. 1909. n/s. cs/f £380pw Inc. 7st. Zama 10am IS 7pm 6n 071 731 2790 or 081 674 9356 eves Tel (0732) 63386.

GYY YGKRY BROKERS offer excellent seats for all sold out shows & events he Phanton, Easyon, Aspects, Les Mis,
Glynebourne, Matonna, Prioce
7 Turner, Eng V Ind. Charity
Enleth. All bricks bought/sold.
(Ca) 071-621 9693 (2020) 0631
248442 event. Free delivery. MAINA VALE Prot I, w/s, lovely of to tox ft. CH, gds, new dec, read cats. 3 rest tute: £60m; A Marrism 071-497 0710 day and 081-969 3626 over.

Physician, but sign process. Physician, Stigon, all sold out events, buy/sell 07: 497 2636. MARTIFICATE O/R, friendly exactous flat all facs, N/S pref. 577594 phc. 071-724 2652. Quiettes CLUB Questions, w/su, prof to shear host flut. 265 ph. 7ct; 071-385 2523 after feet. DECYLOPATOIA Britannica, Lat-ed office. Cod £1 3001 brand pew. £696, 109020 45827. GENUISE Old York Paving Stones Granite sets, Free deliv-iny, Tel: Oct 491 3047 THE OTHER OFF. M/F. N/S. IN STATE COLLEGE, IN SET M. E. O. D. W. C. O. D. W. C. O. D. W. C. O. D. C. D. C. O. D. C. D. C OFFICIAL opency for licines at approved prices the Cab. Stema. T Turner etc. CC's 071 834 2755. Dealon & Watter. events by Deburgum & Glyndebourne 071-828 1678. Gredit Cards. Creat Caras.

The 1995 1771-1995 Creat

Dies available Ready for Particle Remember When, OB1680 6323/6324.

This is a second of the second

SCUTTIWENIAND, Prof F pre: N/G to share lap. 2 bed madeonetic. own dbi fm. Chi. witch mach, penden, lew test lac, swall Aug. £80pw. Phose 061-671 9973. ESUPAY: PROOF CRS. 477 9976.

TO BYEE, VETY by dole from own man basis, copious cybo.

Boards, share despetual common louge, Franch windows, expense with the common louge, Franch windows, established and the common louge, franch windows, established and the common state of the common s garden coals £270ecm. w 071-376 8744 h 081-674 0725. house, garden, all mod cons. £85 pw. Tet; 071-366 7509. PAGE Lux house or tube. 2 Bottos each with burto en auth. £325 & £300pcm. Tele-phone 071 786 1002.

phone G71 786 1002; TOGTIME SW17. 8 miles billed BR/Common/sport cir. Share has been. Private: Doll/betra. Liv/rm. Stn/rm. Gfa. Cri. 2500 pcm. GRI-G78 21.59. Thate MILL M. Prof N/S. Share ize (/forn he. Date rm. BR 6 miles. 2500 wcm. line. Tel. (981) 778 0916 (eved). Autology Common County County

RENTALS

S MOLLAND PARK Elmani 2 hiring room. newly redecorated. Supero address for professional person Contact (0223) 247428. ABOUT TOWN Urgently require quality flats and houses in W8, W11 & W2 071 221 0111. COORDINGSATION INTERPTLY req for City Institutions Call us with your properties to lef Sebastian Estates 071 381 4996 ACE APADTREST Queensgale, 3 tet. 071 409 7822 T.

ALEM BATES & CO have a selection of furnished flats, 1 bedroom unwards in Central London area. Available for lets of 1 week plus. From £300 pw plus 071-436 6666. AMERICAN Bank argently require hurury flaty/nouses for long term periods in Holland Park and Notting Hill Gate areas, Foxtons 071-221 3534. AMERICAN ACCOUNTANTS seek luxury furnished proper-ties in Central London. Cabban & Gaselee 071-589 5481.

BARNES, Large 2 bedroom. 2 bath, furnished flat on 5th floor in PB block. Available immedi-alely for either long or short term let. 2200 pw. Call between 7am and 11am or nifer 6pm 081-876 8641/ 071-221 4211. BAYSWATER Bright hux 2 bd 2 bath (pwr shwr) nicety dec mod farn mews has by rec tv & vid. f/f let gd storage garage. Nr tube £330 pw 071 221 2227 T

Bible E330 pw 07: 221 2227 T

BPL 69AVIA beautifulty decorated and furnished flat. 2 beds, modern kitchen and bushroom, close to shops and transport. E325 pw. Call 730-2144

BILSIZE PARIS, Beautiful 2 bed furnished flat. close shops and transport. Available from August L300 pw. 071-435 4806/ 07977 226779 weekends.

BILSIZE PS Beautiful high cell-too flat, huge reces/bed. k/dm, bath, large bate o/looking ofm, ch & elect inci for quiet temans, E165pw. Tel: 071 794 3143. CSET_SEA Charming house low-ingly furnished 3 recept, leftch-en, 4 bedrins, 2 bath, cloakres, utulay rm, dbi garage (071) 723 6164 for abpts.

dble bedraned fiel. Well located £200pw Tel (026387) 4100. CHES SEA Superb, bright, newty det int des hix I dble bed fint, 1/f kit £170 pw 071 381 4998 t CLAPMANI 5 mins Tube. Stun-ning large 4 bed house. 3 recept. f/f left. Lovety garden £328 gw Tel: 071-628 6000 ext 1218 or 081-675 5608 eves Sparf Leave Your Property Emptyl Let it rapidly, profes-sionally through Qurashi Con-stances 071 576 2666. EASts. COURT Spactous fast, all new. 4 bedross. 2 batterns, 2 recept, lett £350 pw. Qurately Constantine 071 576 2606. EUROPEAN Corporation seek furnished or unfurnished 4/8 heds in SW1. 3 or 7 £1.500 pw Ruck & Ruck 071.581 1741 PERIMAN Superb, bright 3 bed mishopette, lipe roof terrace, alarm, well furnished, close tube £266 pw Tel day-071-731 3460 eves:081-789 2906

RENTALS THE AMERICAN AGENCY

Knightsbridge eisea and Ko Tel: 071-581 5111

LINA NEW YORK LOS ANGELES MIAMI BOSTON TRAIL

TRAILFINDERS

ZS-4D EATH Court Plant
London Wa SEJ

OPEN 9-6 Mars-Sat

Thus; 10-2 Sun (Distrator)

OPEN 9-6 Man-Szt
5-1 Tinas (0-2 Sur (misemises omin)
Longasul Rights 07-1-828 2560
LSA/Estreps Plights (77-827 5560
151 mt Bustman Classio7 1-228 3444
Government Loomsed/Bonded
ATUL 1288 MTA ABTA 69701

THE SELECTIVE FLATSHARE GROUP TENANTS TOP PROPERTIES.
Imm/sheri Profurnished/uniumshed.
All Locations London areas 071-682 6262 (T)

071-221 2227 KATHINI GRAHAM LTD

MENTPELEN STREET
LONDON SW7

Specialists in high quality ental properties (furnished or and primaric) personal and profusional service in primaric Landon beachers. PLEASE CALL 071-584 3285

W GAPP (Management Service Lid) Require properties in cer trat much a see Lossem are for widing applicants. Tel 071-243 0964 to selling and managing good outlife became and that to the selling and managing good outlife became and that in the seller areas of London and have walking tenants. Buchmenter, 071 381 7707. ry fiat and houses to let for long/short term G71-794 1:10

HAMPSTEAD Mint village/ health Charming newly der schi flat, 2 beds, 2 err-suite bath, lige skit Giner, rocep 5:350-5550 pw neg, Dr Graham 071-794 7439, NYDE PHAN WZ. Litz Pentholise furn (Mr. newly dec. 2 db) nee. I recep. ktl & bath, CH, balco-ny. $230pw. 071 723 0456. bed fiel w/m to clarm.5 mins tube. £180pw 081-743 0384 MENSINGTON 2 ped luxury flabs for toliday lets. Kitchen, bath-room + WC. large reception, Mallon Estates 071-938 1088

COMMITTEEL Superior bright has 1 Ged flat f/f int. Ige rec. bale v pr habe £150pm 071-381 4998 REMSENCTION WILL Cambridge Cardoos 2 bed flat with garden, Gas CH. Inva. cubservior. 6200 gw. Tel. 081 968 4349 en flat spei en el partiali car-sen flat spei en el partialir fur-nished senasional d'avving room denap com 5 bedrins, s' haths, kitchen, polio, storage All amerites parting space (071) 723 6164 for apple. REGISTER DOC Holday le from $250 pw Cayna Muses & Co 071 226 3111. COUNTY AND STAIL.

LIMITATION TO LOVE TO SECURE THE STAIL ST

CAL £1660w. 071 723 0466. LANDADED and owners. For last professional letting service contact Quration Constantine 071 576 2666. LETTING Negotiator reg inc dynamic Property Co. Excel basic plus comm. 071 381 4998 EST MS LET your presents in SW + W Landon Ms bet Co Clients. Scheduler Cause 1971 281, 4999 BADDA WALE Checum Parts resident to checke that avaid See NO and WC. 586 ptv. Tel 081-869 7481. MAIDA VALE/ Queen Park sets. 1 had surery retarblehed flat Res likehen and WC. £150 pw Prinne OR1 969 0945/7481 MAYFAIR House Part. The most bucomous long/ short lets. 1/6 less, best price. Cloop Apart-ments 071 936 9612/ 2089. SULTY-MATIONAL COPPORATE COMMUNICATION PROSPETS IN FURITY PROPERTY OF THE PROP

Titli Service Res. beaklyt Promi £500 pcm. 071-584 8646. 4 bed. 2 bath the. 2 recep, # idi gdn. £350 pw. 071-381 4998 hix furn s/c. WM & TV, £185 pw. Tet: 071-854 0060. POTINEY. Descrable 1st floor 2 bed Rel GCH Fully form. Tube close. Long lef. £160ew. Etisz-beth Tevresend 091 r85 300s or 081 874 1366 after 2pm

furn 3 bed lex flat. Nr tabe, £225 pw 071-381 2062 (eves) MINERAL PARE I bed his sport ment in prestigious block, 5th floor, fully furnished, porter etc. 1 min tube £1-20pw. Min 6 rails. Co let. Tel 071-375 8077 (day) or 071-435 2969 (evel). quiet konury 2 bed fish pewly Auministed and decorated £376 glw Drusy 071-379 4816. Mo urerally seeking good quali-b flats and houses in SW1 3 7. 10 areas Foxtons 071 570 5453

The Leave 1/1 km/brb rfs. v af habe £160 pv 071 581 4998 L SOUTH Ken Excellent studio gal-lery C175 pw David Munni & CO 071 225 31:1. ST JOSENS WOCO Spacious has furn 5 bed flat 2 bath Balcony Gdn £400 pw 071 723 0644 SURBRY spacious garden fini, 1 large bedroom. loungs. ht/diner, ideal for City or W/End. suil prof couple, Clapharn Brixton ares. lel 071 736 0041 MUPERS huxury houses & flats Kensangion, Knightsbridge Cheisea, Futham framed, renta 2250 pw £3,000 pw Marvert Smith Assoc 071-352 4294 SW3 Wation Street, charming furnished flat. 1 hed. all mod cons, £200pw. Tel:071 589 7389 (form-9pm) No agency

TWICE PINIAIT Minute river. 30 minute creatral Landon. 2 bed flat glorious views Avail rdi Scale £ 135gew incl. or longer let @ £135gew. Garage Tel 0091 829039 or 071-892 6517. Will. Spacious and newly decorated south facing matsonetic 5 bedrooms, 2 balarrooms, cloak-rooms, 380 double reception, 180:he with at machines, 5400 pw 671-828 0040, I WALTON ST SW3 Large bedrin, skiing/dining rm. bathroom. mini kiichen, fernished. $215 pw Tel 071-834 4885.

WANTED. Prof female seeking a secure 1 bed fit in SW1 or SW3 area for long let No pets or children. Please call O'1-730 8356.
WHENDOR WAT W14. 4 bed fown house beautifully furshield. All mod cons £650pw. O81-996 9262. OVERSEAS TRAVEL

CHILBEA self contained bed-room and bathroom in luxury house. Available Monday-Fri-day. Suit professional needing London base. $100pw. 071-362 up to 14 persons with own poot available 2-30 August, 071 493 5726. AMAZINGLY Cheep fares world-wide Junier 01-436 27:1 Visa/Access/Ames/Others

> O'looking sands, parage, care now/onwards 0273 306286 BARGAM (ares. Caribbean, Australia), USA, Africa, Far East, India, Globecrest 971 737 0069/2162 ABTA 68319. BARMANN China Tours, 11 day Emperor ceparts 18 Oct. £1199 14 day Dragons leev-11 Oct. £1489. Bargann Mahte w/w Category 071 736 1879. ABTA 90721 LATA.

CREAP Flights Worldwide Haymarket Tvi. 01-930 1366 CHRISTIGAS CAREEREAN HOIdays to Antigra. Bertados, St. Lucia etc now avair B.A. flights. Phone the Carlibbean Specialists intertine Travel. 0707 572856 (10 lines). ABTA 86302. PLILMANI 2 bed flat a attractive newly dec K&B £215 per Quraisti Construtine 071 376 2566.

OVERSEAS TRAVEL DOMESTIC AND CATERING SITUATIONS TRALL FINDERS
Weinbarde low cost lagre
Trall FINDERS
Weinbarde low cost lagre
The best and we can prove a MARION class are 1970
CURVENT ESS BURS
SYDMEY
COMPANY COST STAN
SYDMEY
FERTING
SYDMEY
FOR THE MIRROR
FOR TOSS
STAN
SYDMEY
FOR THE MIRROR
SYDMEY
FOR THE MIRROR
SYDMEY
FOR THE MIRROR
SYDMEY
FOR THE SYDM

LIGHT trained girt cook Scottish family August. Kincardine shire Share staff flat with sec-tetary Fairs paid. Easy hours. £120pw. Rebly to BOX 076 SITUATIONS VACANT

AGADEST | food/lodging/pocket AGAINST food/iodgang/pocket
maney, experienced French female cook. 27 yrs with driving license, seeks family for an au pair stap Seep 90 to Fee 91 for daily cooking and evening parties if betessary Tel: 01033-1-47 93 68 48.

. Virgo Fidelis Society General 1. Virgo Fidelis Society General Trust
2. Virgo Fedelis Convent at Upper
Merivood 134544-4-/11
3. Virgo Fedelis Convent at Upper
Merivood 134544-4-/11
3. Virgo Fedelis Convent at Fullastons (250262-4/1)
Trus Chambro Convent at Fullastons (250262-4/1)
Trus Chambro Convent at the drag formation Copies of the drag formation Copies
formation for the drag
formation Copies
formation for the drag
formation formation for the drag
formation formation for the drag
formation for the drag formation fo

EXHIBITION, AMSTERDAM FINAL WEEK from 23 Јшу 2 & 3 nicht midwerk droumhine Reim St.B4 in two ster netets. Superior helds only-available on final weekend Flights from heatherow included.

Twickers World 081 892 7606 LEGAL NOTICES

Million Blooking Air Charles had cravit you are strongly good to estain the name had a TVI. Imminest of the Tour Operator with whose you will contracted You chould ensure that the costimation advice certies that information if you have any boulses certies that information if you have any boulses certies that information of the Civil Aviation Authority on C71-832 5620

Betwee therewish the ATOL. Section of the Civil Aviation Authority on C71-832 5620

Enter the contraction of the civil Aviation Authority on C71-832 5620

Enter the contraction of the covered live board or covered live covered live board or covere

Barbows to distance with whose processing you will contracted You will contract You will not contracted You will not contracted You will not contracted You will not contract You you will not you will not contract You you will not yo

Proc. U.A. Far End. Augustata
a many nume. Ending Travel.
CBI 579 9111. ARTA TR869
LATA. Bonded. ACCESSA/VISA MOR.Y. & Contemps Performed by the sea from £189 incl flights a 7 till account. For information at 190 account. For information
ATOL CT81 CT83 SIX668.
STONEY £594. Cartiform £572.
Jo burg £520 Bainglos £386.N.
York £229. Delin/Rombay.
£326. Frankfart £69. 0634
B12616. B. Alttra 3878 LATA
B12616. B. Alttra 3878 LATA

LYAME. ADO RESISSANCE County of the Company was registered by the Registrar of Companies on 11th July 1990.
Desire the 18th may of July 1990.
Desire the 18t

Tradice cume Murington Hone;
Manure of busines, Hose Propriciors. Trade Classification: 47.
Date of appointment of adminitradice receivers: 13th July 1990.
Name of person appointment of the administrative receivers McCapit Bank IPC.
A.J. Barryti and M.D. Cercise.
Joint Administrative Receivers.
Office holder nos: 1096, 2360.
Price Waterhouse, NO. I London Bridge. London SE1 90s.

AMERICSE ENTERPOSEES

L. Jamie Taylor. PipA, of Poppleton a Appleto, a Charterhouse Bouare, London
Lott of the above named Company an the 3rd July 1990 by the Nembers and Creditors.

Josephan G. Creditors.

Josephan G

ANCIENT ART

Really interesting position working with specialist art dealer. Short has are just 1 advig:

THE TIMES CLASSIFIED

A selection of advertisements from today's columns.

THE STATE OF DATABASE FLORIDA ADMINISTRATOR PROGRAMMER ion Florida Office in London F Department of Com ACCOUNTANTS WITH MANAGEMENT POTENTIAL

Central London - £24,000-£29,000 package Peat

HOLLING STOCK

ENGINEER

ACROSS

11 Lofty (4)

21 Glue (5)

23 Boid (6)

24 Shut (6)

General Appointments

IT PROFESSIONAL Marketing - Lends £21,000 £36,000, Yorkshire Electricity.

TEAM SECRETARY £11 14K + Bens ++ Based Central London, Brill vac in Brill Co. TO PLACE YOUR PA
Have you an outgoing personality - would you like to earn £14,500 + £5,000 ADVERTISEMENT TELEPHONE

071 481 4000 Section 3 Science & Technology Pages 16 & 17 Secretarial Appointments Pages 31

CONCISE CROSSWORD NO 2232

I Glazed cotton (6) Frightened (6) 9 Thousand thousand (7) 10 Redbreast (5) 12 Exuberant friendliness 14 Ame patriotic song (4,9) 19 Wheels bar (4) 22 Observer (7)

1 Mothball compound (7) 2 Not lawful (7) 3 Jaunt (4) 5 Brow (8) 6 Photos book (5) 7 Slow learner (5) 8 Invincible (11)

16 Forewarned (7)

18 Cap peak (5) 13 Scots "granite" city (8) 15 Poisonous (7) SOLUTION TO NO 2231 ACROSS: 1 Fold 3 Psych 8 Shadoof 10 Lower 11 Rope 12 Grin 13 Roe 15 Marquis de Sade 17 Dog 19 Slay 20 Goal 23 Maori 24 Deal-ing 25 Stage 26 Cell DOWN: 1 Flapper 2 Loop 4 Splinter 5 Cower 6 Tsar 7 Freeze 9 Firm stand 14 Quisling 15 Madame 16 Asocial 18 Groat 21 Luge 22 Lace

BIRTHS

i.egeente

Transition of the state of the

A STATE OF THE STA

10 A

and the state of

+ 4 1 2m

7.75

V. C.

10 Carre 1 1 May 1

17.59%

 $\mathcal{F}_{\mathcal{F}_{\mathcal{F}_{\mathcal{F}_{\mathcal{F}}}}}$

- '

4 1 1

174

्रास्त्रकार्यः द्वित्तस्य वर्षेत्रस्य । स्टब्स्स्य

314

.:'4

1

Very

4 24 2

CHETWOOD - On Tuesday
July 17th. Christopher John. known to all as Chetty.
Tragscally in an accident.
Devoted husband to Judy.
much losed bruiner of Hillary and exceptional father to his most beloved children

GREATRACH - On July 17th, peacefully in the Royal Free Hospital. Vivien Creatbach, aged 85, Widow of Cecil, dur meter of Nina Milliar and Loia Elder, greatly loved by her niero, nethones and their families. Everyone will roles her very much, Cremation Service at Golders Green Crematorium on Tuesday July 24th at 3.18 pm. Family Rowers only, but donations of Chiney, Dergystare, ac Southmends — Hospital. Bristol. Greatly loved by family and frends. Funeral 11.30 am Monday July 23rd al St James Busworth, Derbyshdre. Family flowers only, Donations to National Trust or R.N.L.E.

FOR TRIPS BY

FROM OUR AERONAUTICAL RHYL, JULY 18 More than 5,000 of the total of some 14,000 available seats have and type of craft needed for normal

ON THIS DAY

1962 either end of the route, both linked by radio to the VA3's crew cabin.

The Hovercoach, as it is called, has four Bristol Siddeley Turmo gas turbine engines. Two, housed in pods, propel the vehicle by driving reversible pitch four-bladed propel-to three feet. Forward fins initiate turns while rudders correct the Crowds of holidaymakers at Rhyl watched today's demonstration runs, but the first was delayed while the engines were sprayed with distilled water to prevent salt encrusting on the compressor blades, so it was not possible to make complete crossings if all who had been invited were to try this form of travel. The cabin is fitted with four rows of backward-facing sircraft type seats, and each pas-senger can adjust cool air vents. The tide was low when your Corres-pondent made a trip. There was a stiff breeze and "white horses on the water", so that conditions were really testing. As the engines were revved up, one could feel the craft lift off the sandy surface as it taxied quickly to the water's edge. Close inshore there was a gentle awaying motion as the vehicle gathered speed, and at cruis-

A quick visit to the "cockpit" As we travelled up the sands at

ANNOUNCEMENTS BRITISH HEART FORMOATION THE HEART RESEARCH CHARITY.

If you are making your will please think of BLESMA We care for all ex-service men and women who have lost imps in the service of this country.

TOWN for Planten. Miss Salom, now for Planten. Miss Salom, T Turner. Madonna. Prince and all cricini and Cours 571 481 4907 (0531) 503644 (princ).

TWO Diamento C.O.S. turni. Sto-gie quole: "exceptional white" of half purchase price, would represe. Tel. DRI. 976 Q417.

ANTIQUES AND COLLECTING

Please send a donation to your regional office (see Yellow Pages) or to the British Heest Foundation, 102 (Brocester Place, Landon W1H 40H.

Please, a donation to help Arthritis Research now:

Dept.TT, 41 Eagle Street, London WC1R 4AR

* They want to work * They need to live normal lives * They enjoy pleasure, leisure and holidays

Rel.TT, 14-16 Verney Road, London SE16 30/Z. Tel: 071-732 8771

I Amoutations Blindness

BRITISH DIABETIC ASSOCIATION 10 Queen Anne Street, London WIM 08D RECISTERED CHARITY NO. 215199

Diamonds a cut above the real thing

With synthetic diamonds being used in industry and medicine, the race is on to grow custom-made gemstones for use in jewellery. Bronwen Jones reports that are better than those wrested from the bowels of the earth would send shudders through the international gem markets. Yet the same fascination that sustained the alchemist's dream of turning base metals into gold has spurred researchers to duplicate the high pressures and temperatures needed to make diamonds.

All that glisters is not gold, diamonds are baked in ovens and synthetic rubies are so good it could make more sense to make than to mine them. Synthetic diamonds are of such high quality that experts sometimes cannot distinguish them from natural stones.

Almost every week, a new potential use for diamonds is identified. The pressure is on to grow bigger and better synthetic diamonds and within five years custom-made gemstones for use in jewellery could be commonplace.

The repercussions of this technological advance for the multi-million-pound gem and the industrial market spell good news for the consumer, but augur ill for mining companies. None will admit to concern "on the record", but most are investing, perhaps too late, in the manufacturing technology that threatens to supercede their business.

A leading manufacturer is Sumitomo Electric, part of the Sumitomo Group that produces 20 per cent of Japan's gross national product. Sumitomo Electric makes singlecrystal synthetic diamonds and polycrystalline synthetics. It first appeared in the Guinness Book of Records six years ago, when it made the largest synthetic diamond in the world. That four-carat model was overtaken by a ten-carat diamond last year and De Beers, the South African mining group, has produced an I l-

De Beers emphasizes that it

The idea of scientists size and quality synthetic dia-making diamonds mond market as a defensive measure. The company says it has no intention of manufacturing diamonds for jewellery, but has to research the topic to keep up with rival organ-isations. Likewise, Sumitomo says: "We do not intend to go into the clear diamond field to any great extent, as they are mainly used in jewellery.

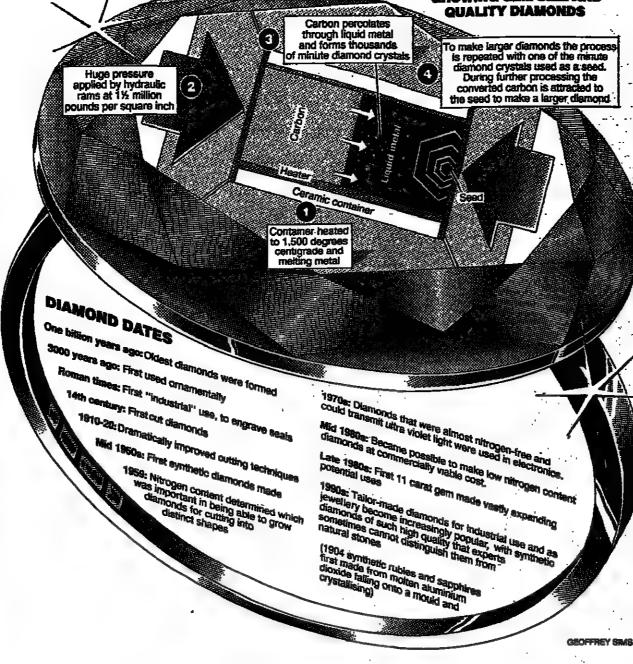

Last week General Electric of America said it had made a new form of diamond that could transmit heat and light far better than previous synthetics. Although not a competitor, it appears that, in carat size, the achievement is hoped to lead to important advances in microchip design and new

But it is in the gemstone market for jewellery that there is most controversy. "There is no limit on the size of synthetic diamond we could manufacture. Only the size of presses and, more import-antly, the cost stops us making ever-larger stones," says Masayoshi Matsumoto, the managing director of Sumitomo Electric in Europe.

"Technically, no one can tell the difference between our diamonds and the natural ones. The diamond industry is scared at our development. If you know there are fakes in the market, why bother to buy natural diamonds?"

A fashion in New York for yellow Tiffany and Canary diamonds heightened fears because traditionally only clear or very light pink diamonds sell as gems. To manufacture these, it is alleged, would be probibitively expensive, but yellow stones are pouring off production lines. If a few are diverted away from industrial to gem use, it is unlikely anyone could tell.

Dr Moreton Moore, a senior lecturer in physics at the Royal Holloway and Bedford New College, has been studying diamonds for more than 20 years. He maintains he can distinguish real from synthetic diamonds with X-ray crystallography, but concedes that any expert using just one of the diagnostic tests could be caught out. He says synthetic diamonds also produce characteristic absorption bands that can be seen with an

Researchers at the Royal Holloway use X-ray topographic structures to study diamond growth patterns and can tell their history, a bit like using growth rings on a tree. they grew diamonds whose structure was purely octahedral, that is with no cubic faces, I would not know if they were natural or not," Dr Moore says.

Diamonds have been manufactured for a long time and gem-quality synthetic diamonds were first made in 1970 by General Electric. They were small and more expensive to make than to mine.

The technology has had to. mimic a material formed 100 kilometres beneath the Earth's surface at 1,500°C and with 100 kilobars pressure.

To grow a large diamond takes two to three weeks. Sumitomo claims to lead the field in equipment to control the temperature and pressure be-

English#Heritage

DATABASE ADMINISTRATOR/

PROGRAMMER

CURRENTLY LONDON BASED

SALARY UP TO £14,488

English Hernage is England's main national body respons for heritage conservation. It secures the preservation of country's architectural and archaelogical heritage and promi-tive public's segoyment and knowledge of this through management of more than 350 historic properties in its co

Our Ancient Monuments Laboratory requires a database administrator/programmer to join the Computing and Records Section. The main duties will be to appoint the Laboratory's database, to provide advice in its use to other members of the Laboratory, and to design and implement new systems.

Applicants should hold a degree in a relevant subject and should have appropriate computing expensions. An interest in archaeology would be an advantage.

For further information and en application form please contact: Emms Wood, Personnel Management, 6th Floor, 18 Greet Mariborough Street, London WTV 1AF. Telephone 071-973 3878. Potential applicants are also invited to contact Roger Jones on 071-973 3304 for informal technical discussion.

nterviews will be held week commencing 20 August 1990.

MONTRAN LTD,

LONDON

DEC VAX

MONTRAN is an established software house and DEC CMP supplying integrated system solutions to the financial sector

in London, New York and Frankfurt. Due to the expansion of our development and service units in London we have vacancies for senior level programmers/analysts in the network/communications areas.

Benetità include an index-inked non-contributory ; scheme which includes life cover and an interest free pool loan.

Closing date 3 August 1990.

tween very fine tolerances. Maintaining these parameters over several weeks is critical and forms the high technology end of the operation.

Diamond presses made in Japan are "quite compact", standing 2.5m high and 2m in diameter. The presses used 13 years ago were at least 7m high and about 3m in diameter. If a press the size of a house were built, it would, in theory, be possible to make diamonds haif a metre long or more. Nobody is, however, likely to make a press that large.

To make synthetic diamonds, one or several seed crystals are placed in the base of a pyrophyllite ceramic dish. High-density liquid metal surrounds the crystals and carbon. powder (graphite) is sprinkled on top of the liquid.

This is all placed within a collapsible sealed capsule made of natural clay-based materials. It is held within a high-power electric heating coil while the tungsten carbide base and top move closer together, pushed by large hy-draulic pistons. The pistons are tapered and the cylinder into which they move flares out at each end

Sumitomo will not reveal the exact chemistry of the dish, the capsule and the carbon powder. The crushed capsule is discarded after the liamonds have grown.

Typically, there are 100 parts per million of nitrogen in synthetic diamonds. This makes them yellow and limits their use in some fields, but they have high thermal conductivity and are very hard. Expensive control technology can be used to reduce the nitrogen content to as little as one part per million, which produ-ces a clear or bluish diamond suitable for lenses for military opto-applications" or for use in the medical industry.

Sumitomo irradiates some diamonds during manufacture to see the different colours that can be produced, but has identified no uses for orange or red diamonds, for example,

Diamonds as jewels are not necessarily a girl's best friend and are certainly not forever.

The brittle stones, whether natural or synthetic, can break if dropped and would shatter if hit with a hammer. The average engagement ring has a poor resale value. Fling it into the fire in a temper and the stone graphitizes at 850°C and then disappears as carbon dioxide gas. Synthetic di-amonds in medicine, however, can be true best friends. They open up areas of medicine where untural diamonds would not work as well or would be too expensive.

Synthetic diamonds grown free of nitrogen can be fitted with tiny circuits and batteries and, as the material is rel-

'If they grew diamonds whose structure was purely octahedral, I would not know if they were natural or not'

pitish scientis

lust the

Manager Seal No. 1975

מאינים בינים בינים ו מום

MARKET SECTION ASSESSED.

Territory of the same of entity is work their debte prountly of a

MOR 550 52

ter in marter Mariaes

in mi summer 3

ESP SECSOT COLUMN

ಹಾಗಾಣಕಾರ್ಯ ನಿಗ್ಗಳ ನ

kom wordt bulling

確認が300 20% でないけん

pinismisus stat

LLPROFE

ಎಂದ ಡ ំដ ទប

65032

Depar

ខេត្តជា

Leed

Hitted

mainf

COTDO

Chilish

Possib specify

transla workir tour (

المنتفيأ بري

eveitin build i

Service

d mul

Sporter

in retu attract obbest develop

Please

Guoting

Susan I

Yorksh

Wetker

Leeds I

Applica

TO VENIE

Dr Moreton Moore, left

in patients. When hit by alpha particles, the diamond dosimeter's resistivity changes and the radiation dose is recorded on a monitor.

"There are few natural diamonds that can detect radiation and it is a laborious process selecting them. With synthetics one can, within limits, grow diamonds with the properties required. They can be made to measure," Dr Moore

Micro grinding technology is used to shape a diamond surgical knife. The work is difficult and each knife can cost £2,500, but the blade does not; blunt. "Soviet hospitals use diamond knives for eye operations. The kmife is so expensive that there is often only one per hospital and it is kept in a safe," Mr Matsumoto said, "Once a surgeon. bas used a diamond knife, he will never be content with steel again. The cut is so fine that the skin can knit without

Where one market shrinks, another expands. The day of the spherical diamond record player stylus is almost gone, but the same micro order diamond grinding technology used to make surgical knives is employed to make compact discs to very fine tolerances. In the not too distant future we may well relephone the local jewellery store and order a three-carat warm red diamond ring to be baked by

Starting next week, Science Technology will appear on

SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY

Norconsult **

Norconsult International A.S.

CORCONSULT INTERNATIONAL is establishing a project organization to carry out consulting tasks connected to a major expansion of the telecommunication network in the Kingdom of Saudi-Arabia. Our client is the Ministry of Posts, Telegraphs and to perform the following tasks:

We are consequently seeking experienced:

TELECOM ENGINEERS SAUDI-ARABIA

- Update and supplement generic specifications on:
- Public Exchanges - Junction Network
- Outside Plant
- Long Distance Network
- Automatic Mobile Telephone Systems
- Develop project specifications within the mentioned technical areas.

Successful applicants have:

- * Several years of relevant experience * Minimum formal competence of B.Sc. or equal
- * Good updated knowledge within telecommunication technology
- Go-ahead spirit and adaptability

* Capability of producing technical documentation

We can offer:

- * Attractive terms
- An exciting professional challenge

The project will start in August at our headquarter in Riyadh. Depending on task, personal contracts will be for 5 months or more. For further information please contact project manager Finn Harald Sletnes (reverse call), on telephone + 47 2 12 71 50.

Please send application with Curriculum Vitae by post or by telefax no.: + 47 2 12 72 70.

Norconsult

Fornebuveien 33 - 35 P.O. BOX 69, N-1324 Lysaker, Norway Tel.: + 47 2 12 70 00

ANALYST PROGRAMMER Harlow. Essex £20K + CO CAR DOS & NETWORK knowledge for commuter company.

Call Beverley Patrice.

071 930 1475 Abacus

(Rec Cons)

OPENINGS AVAILABLE NOW IBM Mantirane Univ & University Call (071) 224-6696 or fax (071) 224-1583

or send to:

TECHNICAL SUPPORT PROGRAMMER Central London c£14,500 Expurience of EM companies PC's, Novell Netware LAN's, Spreadsheets, DBMS, DTP, Graduages considered. Cell Sharon Clark on 071-245 9293 or Fax details on 071-259 5504. Alternatively send a full CV to. 5 Bulstrode Street

SENIOR HARDWARI Engineers!

15-22Ki Digital / Processor Circuit design! 680XQ environment! Major International Optics / Audio / Video project! South Coasil Full relocation package. datchmaker Personnel 0439 836646 (Azv.).

Candidates should contact: MONTRAN LIMITED, 28 Martin Lane , London EC4R OAH. Telephone 071-260 4812.

applications

Unique markets, sells and supports a revolutionary 4gl and financial solutions. Due to expansion we have the tollowing immediate vacancies in our ACCOUNTS SYSTEM DEVELOPMENT TEAM. PROJECT LEADER/SUPPORT c.£22K

Accountancy knowledge is essential. PROGRAMMER/ANALYST c.£19K

Experience with 4gls. UNIX, and databases would be beneficial, although not essential since full training will Company pension, lunch, 25 days holidays.

Contact David Taylor on 0635-528144, or write enclosing CV to 24 London Road, Newbury

AVIATION COURSEWARE DEVELOPMENT

Competitive Salary, Comprehensive Benefits

expanding its courseware development team in response to the growing need for good training products for flight, maintenance and in-flight services personnel of

Based at our Heathrow office, the highly successful coursewere development team has developed during the last 12 months, over 100 hours of aviation coursewere. Using the latest training technologies we are leaders in the provision of Computer Based Training (CBT) solutions to the aviation industry.

In order to meet market demands and to continue with our impressive track record, we need quality individuals with skills and experience in training needs analysis, coursewere design and development and graphics design.

If you have the relevant background and wish to join a high technology training organisation, experiencing expanding opportunities in a growing aviation industry, submit resumes no later than 26 July 1990 to:

Heathrow Boulevard 286 Bath Road

"Computer Programmer and Operator

The European Representative Office of PERTAMINA, the Indonesian State Oil Compusy, has an immediate vacancy for a Computer Programmer and Operator. The successful applicant must be bilingual in English and Indonesian, have an electrical engineering background with mainframe and micro computer experience prefetably using Laba. Suppose experience preferably using Lotus, Symphosand Harvard Graphic, and be familiar with networking.

Benefits include bonus payable after one year's service, private medical insurance, annual season ticket up to five zones, four weeks' holiday per annum plus UK and Indonesian public holidays. Please telephone Mariska O'Brien on for an application form."

COMPUTER RECRUITMENT PACKAGE = £10-16kp.s. + 30%

comm + car. SE1 tablished for over 10 years, our company has become a marks leader in supplying recruitment services to major blue chip companies throughout the UK.

OPPORTUNITIES

Heathrow Based

Aviation Training Services, a division of The Roach Organization, TRO Inc. is again

Tradic Butler Aviation Training Services TRO (UK) Limited

Remuneration package: c. £10,700 + benefits

071-222 2371

CONSULTANTS (CONTRACT)

Due to the recent re-development and expansion of our contract division we are currently seeling successful, dynamic individuals with a maximum of 6 months relevant expenience to join our team If you feel you possess the drive and determination that qualify you as one of the best and are interested in hearing more about our company phoese correct.

nus Stephenson-Oliver or Teresa Galinten 071-367-6363

KING'S COLLEGE, LONDON University of London Bursar's Department Estates Division Post of COLLEGE

Post of COLLEGE CHIEF ENGINEER

Applications are invited from suitably qualified and experienced post of Chief Engineer. For appointment as soon as possible for the post of Chief Engineer, for appointment as soon as possible. The Chief Engineer is responsible for the design, installation; operations and ratiminance of electrical, mechanical plant and services, the maintenance of all College buildings and for the work of the directly employed work force and external compactors. The College is embarking on the month-malkon pound development of its Thamestoc Campus which in one building atmost will provide some 20,000 sq. metres of high technology laboratories. The Chief Engineer, to getter with consultants and professional advisors, will larve the opportunity of contributing to this important proper which is the largest aniversity campus development since the 1969s. Appicants should be qualified engineers, or ir one of the building related professions and inverted experience of staff and financial. The post is in the Academic Related Grade 6 and the salary inclusive of troubles may be obtained from and applications with full curriculum with and details of two referres should be sent to the Prisonal Office. King's College London, Strand London WCZR 215.

Tet. UT 873 2288

IBM Mainframe Operators

We are seeking computer-operators around Amsterdam from August Environment :

> IBM 3090 DOS/VS and MVS/ESA Batch/Online/CICS/SQL

You will receive an attractive salary. To apply, please contact us or send a C.V. to us as soon as possible, K. Nakayama, SRA (Europe) B.V., Keizersgracht 62, 1015 CS Amsterdam. Tel: 020-231461 Fax: 020-238790,

Per of Control Cei 3 NA The last cost of the state of t The base construction of the base construction

UP to E22K

CAROGRAMMATABASE CONT

DATA EXCHANC

All Real State States

Washer History English and But

Manual Control of a control of the c

British scientists have identified the gene that determines the sex of an unborn baby. Kevin Davies reports

Testing genes: Dr Andrew Sinclair at work in the research laboratory

Discovering the secret of the sexes

searchers announced yesterday the discovery of a gene that makes one of the most fundamental of all biological decisions - whether a developing embryo is to be male or female.

The gene's role is probably to instruct a newly formed gonad to become a testis, the organ from which all male characteristics origi-

The gene is a good candidate for the Testis Determining Factor (TDF), says Dr Andrew Sinclair, of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund Laboratories, in central London, where one of the teams is based. The second group, led by Dr Robin Lovell-Badge, works at the National Institute for Medical Research, Mill Hill, north London. Together they have published the details of their work in today's Nature.

For animal embryos, sex can be decided by one of several different, and occasionally odd, factors. The sex of an alligator, for example, is controlled by the temperature of its egg, whereas the gender of some other animals is governed by the ratio of X, or "sex" chromosomes,

With mammals, the determining factor is the presence or absence of a Y chromosome. As females possess two X chromosomes and males an X and a Y chromosome, researchers have long suspected that the Y chromosome must house a special gene that is capable of "switching on" the development of male characteristics. Lately, the quest for this gene has developed into a race involving scientists on both sides of the Atlantic.

The first lead emerged in the United States at the Whitehead Institute in Cambridge, Massachusetts. In the mid-Eighties, scientists led by Dr David Page, began to look for clues to the gene's identity inside the genetic material of patients with

The quest for this gene has developed into a race involving scientists on both sides of the Atlantic'

a rare condition known as "sex reversal".

They struck lucky because one patient, although apparently female, had a Y chromosome, the type normally found only in males. Because the chromosome was intact but for a small fragment, the researchers decided that this missing fragment probably harboured the crucial TDF gene, the gene which, had it been present, would have made the patient male,

In 1987, an in-depth search of the fragment revealed a promising candidate: a gene that was not only

TAKING YOUR PLACE Tower Hamlets

EDUCATION

PLANNING AND INFORMATION

INFORMATION

MANAGER

£17,118-£18,465

(inc LWA)

Ref: 371/ED/IM

The Information Manager will co-ordinate the collection and maintenance of and access to information about the

The post holder will advise on and Applicants will need to demonstrate data analysis and management skills and have experience in database administration, records management, (Brarianship or as an Information Officer. Excellent interpersonal skills are required and in particular the ability to communicate I.T. concepts to members of the public and staff who are not or me paints and start who are not computer literate.

Not applicant packs are available from The Education Department, Bow Bouse Avance, 153 Bow Road, London E3 25E or telephone 081-960 4414 and 5646. Assaybone 081-961 8572.

Please quote job reference.
Completed forms must be returned by 27 lists 1990.

monitor data security, especially in relation to the Data Protection Act, liaising with sphools, colleges and SETTIMENT OFFICERS.

27 July 1990.

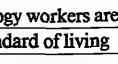

present in all other mammals but which looked as though it would be able to act as a "master switch" in sex development. But as other researchers scrutinised the gene, some problems emerged. It was difficult to explain, for example, why a similar gene was present on the female X chromosome.

Research on mice showed that the gene was not switched on at the right time or in the right place for it to influence the sex of a developing embryo. Then researchers discovered other patients, males with two female X chromosomes, whose sex reversal was linked to a small fragment of the Y chromosome completely void of the earlier candidate gene.

It was in this fragment that the London group at ICRF uncovered the new candidate gene, part of which closely resembles other genes to be involved in matters in known to be involved in mating in yeasts. The Mill Hill team has been studying the same gene in mice. Both groups emphasise, however, that they do not yet have final proof that they have found the elusive TDF gene. For now, they are calling it the "sex determining region" Proof that the new gene is indeed TDF will depend on finding defective versions of it inside sex reversal patients, and the outcome of injectng it into female mouse embryos. If it changes their sex, the race for TDF will be over.

Information technology workers are offered a higher standard of living

Move north for a better lifestyle

mployers are reducing their reliance on information technology (IT) staff from the south of England by expanding or opening new centres in the north and

Scotland With its decision to open a £35 million sales and computer development centre in Newcastle upon Tyne, British Airways is the latest in a line of companies seeking a way out of recruiting difficulties.

BA is hiring experienced computer programmers and analysts for the centre, which will employ 100 information technology staff by next June and 300 by mid-1993.

Companies in the southeast, and London in particular, struggle to recruit and retain technology staff because of the abundance of competing employers in the same region. The recruitment agency MDA says its Birmingham office is busier than either its Bristol or London branches. It attributes part of the slowdown in the capital to companies moving their operations. "There is a definite trend towards moving out of London, particularly among financial institutions," says Roger Paimer of MDA. Companies are realising that they do not need to have an IT department in London." The moves are not confined to the private sector, govern-ment information technology departments are also taking up the option. The Department of Social Security is recruiting a range of staff for the information Technology Skills Agency centre in the northeast, one of the largest civil computerisation projects in Europe, Salaries of up to £18,300 for higher grade posts are on offer, requiring a minimum of two years' experience. Staff with three years' experience can earn up to £21,350. ITSA is offering contracts to experienced ICL staff and is willing to pay the cost of moving to Lytham St

JOBSCENE

According to Hazel Moodie managing director of NCM, the recruitment agency based in Newcastle upon Tyne, many northeastern employers are offering generous relocation packages to try to entice information technology staff to the region. "Some companies are providing rented accommodation for a couple of years so staff relocating do not need to lose out on selling their property in the south or go in for expensive bridging loans," Moodie says.

Typical salaries for information technology workers are between £15,000 and £16,000. Although pay outside London is not as high, staff are attracted by the increased disposable income offered in the north and the quality of life. Digital Equipment, the computer company, for example, is extending Birchwood Science Park in Warrington with a £20 mil-lion development, expected to be completed in just over a year. The creation of informa-tion technology jobs will have a knock-on effect, with others opening in sales and support.

eoff Turton, DEC's T director for the north, says: "We are finding that people are increasingly reluctant to move to the south because of the higher standard of living in the north. We also find that staff are much more loyal in the north and our turnover is lower than in the rest of the company."

Frontline Initiative has opted to open information technology development centres in the north so local information staff can telework for companies in the south. The first centre was opened in Nottingham in May and others are planned for Doncaster and Belfast.

LESLIE TILLEY

Just the ticket for travellers on Tube

Underground are wary of feeding their £788 five-zone annual season tickets into a high-technology ticket machine. They may ticket machine. They may card, containing a built-in never reappear. Such anxieties radio-frequency pick-up coil, may be irrational, but London receiving and transmitting cir-Transport has come up with a novel solution requiring passengers only to wave their communicate with the ticket tickets in the proximity of a machine before passing through the barrier (Michael

A C

SAC SAC SAC SAC

Mark Mark

27.00

海(A)

to a local ion

siting in

From next summer, a "touch and pass" system allow season-ticket commuters to enter and leave the network without putting their tickets into any machinery. A credit-card-size smart ommuters on London's New-style ticket checking machines will make life easier for London commuters

cuits, a microprocessor and memory, enables the holder to gate and pass through it with a flick of the wrist.

The ticket gate receives the data encoded in the smart card, checks that the holder is entitled to use the system and opens the gates.

Passengers using cards reported lest or stolen will bebe passed back across the barrier to an accomplice for use a second time. The prototype is being tested in a pilot scheme at Victoria, Green Park and St James's Park stations. Further trials are expected this year.

The technology is being developed by Westinghouse Cubic, an Anglo-American joint venture, which built and installed London Underground's new ticketing system at a cost of £160 million.

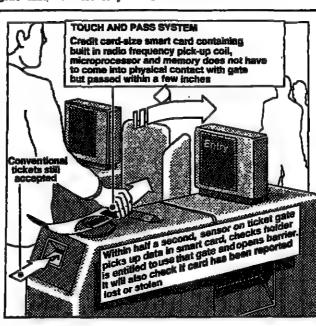

Unlike the magnetic-strip identified, and the card cannot tickets, the smart card has a £100-worth of "phoneca "non-volatile memory", so corrupted and made useless by being placed next to a magnetic catch on a handbag. London Underground expects to offer the smart card to the 1.5 million holders of annual and monthly season tickets, and holders of concessionary fare cards. The system is the first of its kind in Britain, although Martin Hart, the development company's customer project manager, believes the technology can be extended for use on other transport systems, particularly buses. The system may also enable

Tube travellers to buy £50 or

Education

Tower Hamiets has transformed local Generous the december of the characteristic service definery and accountability to seven lengthsour boods.

What have the character is actionally to seven the characteristic for others will attempt to morrow.

The committee of course.

The consideration of stall me

Tower Hamlets is committed to effective Implementation of its Equal Opportunities Policy on the basis of their suitability for the post(s) regardless of sex

sexual orientation, religion, racial origin, marital status, disablement or age.

All jobs are open to jobshare invess otherwise states.

The Councits recrustment and retention package could mean subsidised on leasing, a re-location package worth up to £5,000, bridging team facilities, tree life insurance, subsidised mortgage and travel allowance.

TOWER HAMLEIS.

SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY

I. T. PROFESSIONAL - MARKETING

Yorkshire Electricity aims to be one of the leading suppliers and distributors of electricity in the newly privatised industry. In such a competitive market environment, which encompasses a diverse customer base, our Marketing Department and the strategies we adopt assume a new significance . . . critical to our future success.

£21,000 - £26,000

These strategic initiatives mean that we are in the process of introducing advanced information systems both PC and mainframe based, which will support the achievement of corporate objectives.

Utilising your knowledge of advanced database systems possibly relational - you will, as a team member, carefully specify and plan projects from conception to implementation, translating innovative ideas into cost effective and timely working solutions.

Your first degree will have been supplemented with experience in an I. T. environment. The position offers an exciting challenge, to apply your interpersonal skills and build credible relationships, by providing a professional service to a diverse group of managers. Ideally you will have a multi-disciplinary background with good business appreciation and preferably marketing experience.

In return for your expertise, you can expect to receive an attractive rewards package, but equally important is the opportunity to join us at an exciting phase of our development with obvious career potential.

Please apply in writing with full career and salary details, quoting vacancy number 177/90, to:

Susan Wilson, Personnel Officer,

Yorkshire Electricity Group plc, Wetherby Road, Scarcroft, Leeds LS14 3HS.

Applications to be received no later than 27th July 1990.

Yorkshire Electricity Group plc, Scarcroft, Leeds.

Yorkshire Electricity

Up to £22K C PROGRAMMERS CADCAM DATABASE CONVERTERS CIM DATA EXCHANGE

CIMIO Ltd. based at Brunel Science Park Egham. are specialists in CADCAM data integration and exchange. We have developed an object oriented language CAD + + and, working with the major CADCAM vendors, efficient interfaces to their data-bases. Our Generic Database 10 subsystems allows concurrent access to the databases of all supported systems and our products are sold in a toolkit form or as specific database converters. If you have 1-2 years experience in C/Unix for CADCAM and are looking for a challenging career with a leading edge company then call Adrian Laud on 0784 438038. CIMIO Software Specialists Ltd, Brunel Science Park, Coopers Hill Lane, Englefield Green, Egham, Surrey, TW20 0JZ.

BELIEVING London & Home Counties

"Technical Consultants" Committed to Open Systems.

5+ yrs P/Grad exp. To £35K 'UNIX/C System Progs' TCP/IP. Advantageous. £18-£23K.

'Applications Programmers'
C/RDBS (Informs. Ingres, Oracle or Unify). To £25K.
'Pre Sales Post Sales Support Professionals' £16-£28K - Open Systems. (071)-353-4212 (Days) (081)-536-0170 (Eves) Helen Brown at JB (Rec Con)

CASE CONSULTANTS/ SPECIALISTS £20-28K + Car + Bens

CASE Skills in an ACCOUNTING, MARKETING, CONSULTANCY. SUPPORT, TRAINING, O DEVELOPMENT tole, Major company with immed vacancies in the above. Tel Ellen or Christine 081-847 4572 BCP (Emp Agy).

PROJECT LEADERS £25-35K + Bens NETWORKING and EM 38, 39 or ABADI IN ST AUDIT, SECURITY, MANUFACTURING, FACTORY/ WAREHOUSING, PHANMAGEITICAL environment, immediate vacancies with excellent benefits, including share opens. Some positions working from UK base in USA SURGOPS and JAPAN. Cell Ellen or Christine 081-847

News International Plc

Require experienced

ATEX OPERATIONS STAFF

to join a dedicated team in looking after the company's five titles

Salary: Commensorate with experience.

Holidays: Six weeks + Bank Holidays.

Hours: A four day week, covering a 24 hour working shift pattern Job: Applicants should have considerable Operations experience in the day to day running of a large ATEX based newspaper system which is currently being expanded. Knowledge of ETHERNET and Network Communications an advantage.

Benefits: The Company has an Excellent Staff canteen and working conditions which include BUPA, Pension and Life Insurance.

Full CV to Rick Gobbett, Personnel Manager, News International PLC, 1 Virginia Street, London, E1 9BD.

National Heart and Chest Hospitals

I.T. Professionals

£12.000 - £25.000

The National Heart and Chest Hospitals Group is one of the world's leading postgraduate centres for cardiothoracic treatment and research, providing high standards of patient care and initiating new nedical and surgical developments in many areas of the specialty.

The Group is also at the forefront of clinical technology, and has a very progressive approach to computer applications. We have now embarked on an ambitious new systems development programme. This includes the implementation of a complete integrated Hospital Information Support System and a number of advanced clinical

We are extending our team of i.T. professionals and need to recruit for the following positions. In addition to the challenge of involvement with one of the most advanced developments in the field of health care, these positions offer the opportunity to work in modern purpose-built accommodation.

Head of Systems Development

Reporting to the Director of Computing, you will be responsible for the teams designing, developing and implementing the Group's I.T. systems. A proven track record of successful systems development, project management and good man management skills is essential. Head of Operations and Communications Reporting to the Director of Computing, you will be responsible for managing the Group's I.T. operations and network implementation and support. A proven track record in this field, together with good man management skills is necessary.

Network Support Specialist

Reporting to the Head of Operations and Communications, you will provide data, voice and image communications planning, installation and support services to the Group.

Project Leader, Clinical Systems

Reporting to the Head of Systems Development, you will lead a team of system designers and builders developing the Group's ORACLE-based clinical systems ORACLE Systems Developers

Working in a small, enthusiastic team, you will be designing and implementing systems to support the Group's clinical activities. Previous experience of ORACLE is desirable but not essential. Implementation Analyst

An additional implementation analyst is required to join the team implementing the new integrated Hospital Information Support System being delivered by McDonnell Douglas. You will work closely with both end-user and supplier staff to ensure the successful implementation and effective use of this system throughout the hospital.

Software Support Specialist

A skilled programming specialist is required to provide support to the Group's development, systems integration and maintenance activities. FORTRAN experience is essential for this position and experience of some of the following is desirable: PRIME-INFORMATION, PACE, MIDAS, PC's and scientific programming.

Senior Computer Operator Reporting to the Head of Operations and Communications, you will be principally responsible for the operation of a dual McDonnell Douglas 19450 system. Additionally, you will provide back-up operations support for PRIME 9955 and Hewlett-Packard 9000 operations.

Salaries for all these positions are negotiable based on experience. We offer good conditions of employment in a vigorous and satisfying

If you have the skills and desire to take up any of these vacancies, please send your C.V. to: The Director of Computing, Royal Brompton and National Heart Hospital, Fulham Road, London SW3 6HP.

Does your man make you ill?

or a woman to show signs and symptoms of allergy to her male sexual partner is rare, although it is not uncommon for men to develop a local allergic response (an irritating rash and inflammation) to the yeast thrush which many women carry as a constituent of their vaginal flora.

How to beat

super-listeria

he action by Bill and Vivien Devereux, who are suing the behalf of their baby for allegedly failing to warn them of the risks of listeria, has again focused attention on Listeria monocytogenes.

The listeria bacillus is widespread; it is found in other mammals, birds, shellfish and even spiders, as well as humans. Three of the seven major strains account for most of the disease. It can spread via a variety of contaminated foods, but soft cheese is notorious for harbouring it. In adults it usually attacks only susceptible pa-tients; those already weakened by old age or other diseases. It is particularly prone to complicate cirrhosis of the liver, so perhaps heavy drinkers will soon be claiming that they too should have been warned to eschew Brie before drinking their second bottle.

Listeria can cause meningitis, a syndrome like typhoid, or enlarged lymphatic glands and inflamed eyes, lesser signs which may, if untreated, lead to Listeriosis is dangerous in preg-nancy, for, although the woman may notice no more than a transient, flu-like disease, the unborn child may die in utero or, if born healthy, later develop meningitis. The mortality in newborn infants varies from 10 per cent to 50 government for £1 million on within an hour or two of intercourse. This response is quite different from the signs and symptoms produced when the man himself has caught thrush.)

The Quarterly Journal of Medicine has recently reviewed cases of women who have shown a true allergic reaction to their partner's semen; in one particularly sad case, a woman had her honeymoon ruined by symptoms which would have taken the glamour out of the most carefully chosen exotic holiday spot, for within eight hours of losing her virginity she was breathless, had swollen joints, diarrhoea and a severe local reaction. The symptoms took five days to subside. The story has a happy ending; her immediate troubles responded to tranexamic acid, and per cent, but this might well increase if a multi antibiotic-resistant super-strain of listeria, recently isolated in France, spreads to other districts, and other

Professor Richard Lacey of Leeds University says: "Treating listeriosis with antibiotics is always an uphill task, so any increased resistance is important. I am not suprised by this new turn in the saga, and I would expect transferable resistance to occur from one strain to another. It emphasises the importance of hygiene in food production as a way to protect the general public, rather than relying on antibiotics. The important message for doctors is to remember that if infection can be prevented, there is nothing to treat."

benefits of regular sex were made manifest in women by an improvement in their complexion.

it was then possible to treat her allergy.

The now united pair have since had a

The influence of semen on the female reproductive system can be beneficial. The Journal of the American Medical Association has recently reported on research carried out on 225 women who gave birth to their first child at the North Carolina Medical Hospital. This showed that patients who used a barrier method of contraception - condoms or a diaphragm before they started their family were twice as likely as those who either used

no contraception, or the Pill, to suffer from pre-eclampsia, the disorder of pregnancy characterised by a rise in blood pressure, protein in the urine, and swollen hands and feet, which if left unchecked can spell disaster for the baby, and even for the mother.

There was also evidence that women who had been exposed to their part-ner's seminal fluid for only a short time before conception were more likely to develop signs of pre-eclampsia. There was, in fact, a classic dose-related response by women: the less the exposure, the greater the chance of preeclampsia. This is one possible explanation for why pre-eclampsia is more common with first pregnancies. If it was ever shown that semen had a beneficial effect on a woman's general health it would mark a return to Victorian beliefs, when it was a widely held nostrum that the health-giving strains of the bacillus.

Problems for ova donorship

Press reports that women donors could, after death, provide for infant. for infertile patients have not been greeted with enthusiasm at the IVF centre at the Lister Hospital in London. Dr Gil Burton, from the centre, said that although this was already possible in animals, the human immune system was much more complex, and that even if technical problems were overcome the ethical objections might be irrefutable. Dr Burton said that he had already informally discussed with women the question of donorship of reproductive tissue from one generation to the next, and had found that they were no more keen on the concept than men would be if asked to donate their testes.

In Dr Burton's opinion, postmortem donorship could be tried in three ways. The doctor could attempt to extract a single egg, but the dead

START WORKING OUT NOW AND WE'LL SHED

ONE HUNDRED POUNDS.

If you join the Barbican Health and Fitness

Centre before July 31st we'll take one hundred

We'll give you a comprehensive fitness assessment and devise a work out programme to help and mind will work more effectively than ever before.

you achieve the level of fitness you want. You'll soon notice the difference. You'll look better, you'll feel sharper, and your body it along to the club anytime between 6.00 am and 10.30 pm

250 of the latest fully computerised exercise machines

• a 25-metre pool where you can book your own lane

whirlpool bath • fully licensed restaurant and bar before July 31st and we'll show you the superb facilities which

● a cushioned indoor running track ● aerobics floor with state-of-the-art lighting and sound system • saunas, solariums and

MEMBERSHIP IS LIMITED

071-374 0091

Barbican Health and Fitness Centre

97 Aldersgate Street, EC1. (Opposite Barbican Tube.)

For your membership discount, cut out this ad and bring pounds off your Gold Membership.

include:

patient would have been hormonally unprepared for donorship, and he saw little chance of success. Secondly, the adult ovary could be transplanted like any other organ, but in this case the recipient would need huge doses of immuno-suppressant drugs, which would be likely to harm any child conceived as a result of the procedure. Thirdly, tissue from an aborted foetus could be transplanted in the hope that it would develop into an adult ovary in an infertile woman. He thought there would be ethical objections to this.

Dr Burton said that, as a result of the press publicity, many more women were coming forward to donate ova to help women who were infertile. "Until the past year women were not aware of what they could do for those who are not ovulating. Many wonderful women have been only too happy to donate an ovum, and as a result our waiting list has been cut to five months.

"With this procedure we are achieving a 25 per cent pregnancy rate and a 20 per cent take-home baby rate," Dr

Hot, bothered and sick of the heatwave

SUN worshippers might find their blood chilled were they to spend a long, hot day with Alan Johnson, the chairman of the food and general health committee of the Institute of Environmental Health Offi-

his colleagues, increases enormously in such weather: as he Lung Foundation. "It is when points out, not only humans it's lower down that you get bedbugs, insects that feed on blood, are an obvious exam-ple. When the temperature rises their whole metabolism speeds up, their reproductive capacity is stimulated and away they go.

"It is the same with most nasty things: flies, wasps, cockroaches, rats, mice and, of course, bacteria. The problem is exacerbated by a rise in the food supply: people eat out-doors, and throw stuff away. Under the right conditions, particularly as the temperature starts to get into the eighties, the multiplication rate of bacteria like salmonella can be phenomenal. "Hot weather also tends to and they do things in ways they wouldn't normaily. We should not forget factors like temperature control and hygiene. The other thing to rememto remem-Mr Johnson ber, "is, do not open your mouth if can be fall into a phenomenal' river. Most rivers

'As the salmonella

water pollution campaigner for Friends of the Earth, agrees. The hotter and drier the weather, he says, the less fresh water there is to dilute A few days ago the National Rivers Authority issued warnings about 150 waterways affected by toxic algae, which "blooms" in hot weather and which can cause skin rashes, nausea and diarrhoea or more serious illness. The most important nutrients on which algae feed are believed to be phosphates which enter the water as either human, animal or agricultural waste. Friends of the Earth is pressing for phosphate-stripping equipment to be installed in treatment plants in areas known to be vuinerable. Hot weather hazards are not confined to the organic. Last week the environment department reported a photo-chemical smog or ozone episode over the south and west of England, where danger levels particularly among runners exceeded those set by the

the upper atmosphere it does related to heat, and those us good by protecting us from related to season. By this the sun's ultra-violet rays," yardstick the current outbreak says Dr Robert Read, research of para-influenza is on target fellow at the National Heart for a normal summer season.

World Health Organisation.

Viruses spread, algae blooms and insects multiply. Liz Gill warms to the theme of the dangers of a long, hot summer cent of cases of para-influenza.

Type 3 affect the under-fives.

respiratory tract infection may be similar to those of the common cold, including a snuffly nose and sore throat.

But there may also be chestiness, occasional fever and, more rarely, complications such as croup or bron-chitis. Parents should seek medical help if their child's breathing seems laboured, rapid or distressed. Vulnerable adults, the elderly, for

Dr Karl Nicholson, senior lecturer in infectious diseases at Leicester University and consultant at the city's Groby example, can also be at risk.

His workload, and that of and Lung Institute and The virus has a flu-like s colleagues, increases enor-spokesman for the British appearance but differs both in Such episodes are the result Symptoms of what is an upper of a complex reaction, driven > ants such as nitrogen dioxide and hydrocarbons from industrial processors and cars. "Sunshine is the catalyst: the higher the temperature the faster the reaction," Dr Read Smog plumes, which can be 200 miles in diameter and by sunlight, between pollut-move 1.000 miles, are invisible and are similar to acid aerosols, which comprise the typical pollution haze that you might see on the M25 on a bot day. Again, these occur as a result of sunlight fuelling the chemical reviously affects temperature existing respirises, the increase of such as asthma or bronchitis, and beart disease. bacteria like What we don't

Air pollution ob-know is what this means in the long

FUD," dealing with something that has been Blake Lee Harwood, the happening for a relatively short time. Unpublished stud-les in Los Angeles of young people who have died from other causes have shown they

> "If I know there are high acid aerosol and ozone levels I don't go jogging and if I had chronic lung disease I might think about staying indoors," Dr Read says. Hot weather tends to make chronic people less sensible, hence the rise in fatal accidents, such as drownings, which can treble during a heat wave. Most at risk, says Louise Darby, water and leisure safety dev-Society for the Prevention of Accidents, are young men aged between 15 and 19. There seems to be a male bravado factor. The water may still be very cold. That takes your breath away and impairs your ability to swim." Scorching weather also produces heat exhaustion, and cyclists. However, it is important to distinguish be-When ozone is present in tween accidents or illness yardstick the current outbreak about the same size. Quite what the factor is, though, is still not known. Related visyear." It may be, he says, that, the warm summer months are responsible for longer survival its genetic make-up and in the or easier spread of this type of common cold-like symptoms infection.

the World Influenza Centre the National Institute Medical Research, says. "Some viruses are seasonally. related for reasons we don't fully understand. There is no. cause for alarm, as it is mainly a case of relieving symptoms,

The Public Health Lal oratory Service has dealt with 82 lab reports of para-ing fluenza. A spokesman says There are more cases because not everybody goes to their doctor, but it tends to be a mildish, self-limiting, and clear up in a few days. In previous years we have seen it start in June, peak in July and fade in August. This year is no

If you think you can't afford cut this coupon.

BUPA, Britain's leading independent health care organisation has introduced Budget BUPA. A special new scheme that provides the essential elements of private hospital treatment and full cover for most of the surgical operations you're likely to need.

Naturally the cost of Budget BUPA varies with age, so at 18 it's around £10 a month while at 74 it's still only around £32.

If you think that's a small price to pay for peace of mind return the coupon today for your free Budget BUPA brochure. Or phone the Budget BUPA Centre on 0800 010 383, (weekdays 9am to 8pm) that's

To: Budget BUPA Centre, FREEPOST, Staines TW18 1BR. Please send me a Bridget BUPA pack. I am under 75.

Mr Mrs Miss Ms C

Are you a BUPA memb

Doctor pri man a sonovinte

Paranta Paranta Property of the Paranta Property of the Country of the Paranta Property of the Paranta

the section of the section is

A STATE OF THE STA

storia Glendia opping-list of l line in Donor Aussanie feerman come affer a pièce e no le refore min Brand to verse the history of the army presented by the army PRESERVED. From the searchest. Mis to tale and the country of the Being parties care of king 医抗(() 222 元 (大型 55元)] Belle masses of long

Min were of Sir Harry Callinda and and the co Marian in Course Who The state of the state of the state of Manager of Jalia bas more and and the same false. Marine Marine Inc the Carrier of her Bearing Mrs Clodie

P

caden

Cupboard lovers' messages

Victoria Glendinning reviews the cult shopping-list of Eighties consumerism

Wonderland, without pictures or conversations?" When it comes to conversations, our expectations are Alice's. So Georges Perec's novels take a bit of getting used to.

It's an old game to the French, for Perec became a cult writer for Parisians as soon as Things, his first novel, was published in 1965. It was his version of the French new novel", and therefore a hot number both in its setting - contemporary Paris - and in its style. Yesterday's modishness is today's period piece. But since this particular item never made it across the channel before, it comes with an acquired patina.

Things begins with a long, slow, description of a perfect apartment and everything it contains, right down to the colour and texture of the curtain rings. It is the apartment the young couple in the story dream of having. "They would have liked to be rich", they felt they deserved it. They live in a garret, and wander the streets for hours gazing desirously into the intoxicating windows of antiquedealers, delicatessens, stationers, dress-shops. "From Palais-Royal to Saint-Germain-des-Prés, from Champ-de-Mars to the Champs-Elysées, [and so on, topographically, for four more lines) the whole of Paris was a perpetual temptation."

Perec was describing his world.
The young couple drift into market research (as Perec did); most of their friends go into advertising.

hat is the use of a They are the creators of con-book", thought Alice sumerism, and created by it sumerism, and created by it. Vaguely left-wing, hooked on the cinema, locked in a routine of familiar restaurants and parties of the same people, they achieve nothing, paralysed by aspiration. They are too proud, and lazy, and knowing, to take the sorts of jobs that would earn serious money.

The things they want, the things they do buy, the things they cat and read and do, are named and listed as in a case-history, a feasibility study, a catalogue. On and on. Yet it's not at all boring.

this palimpsest THINGS A Story of the Sixties monumental effect in a later novel, Life: A User's Manual, A Man Asleep By Georges Perec Translated by Andrew Leak aiready translated into Eng-Collins Harvill, £12.50 lish, which is an anatomy of a whole apartment block and of all the people - and dreams, stories, chairs, curtains, strips of worn linoleum - that it ever contained. In Things, some of the group sell out, and become bourgeois. The central couple, whose re-lationship remains blank to the reader, simply get older and more disillusioned, "up to their necks in a cream cake from which they would only ever be able to nibble crumbs". This story of the Sixties casts an odd light on the greedy Eighties. It is a style manual avant la lettre, written with the nose pressed against the shop-window. If Perec's couple had had children, they would have "gone for it" in the Eighties, and made or bor-rowed the money to get the things. Those with their noses against the shop-windows now are the East-

Georges Perec, obsessive Joycean chronicler of Paris, and life in general, piece by piece, with pussy novel has been read as a denunciation of consumer capitalism.

The second short novel in this volume strips away the things. A student wakes on the morning he is to take an exam. He stays in bed. He drops out. He is not hostile, he is indifferent. "Indifference has neither beginning nor end: it is an immusable state, a dead weight, an unshakable inertia."

The narrative addresses him as "you": you avoid your friends, you speak to no one, you soak your socks in a bowl, you play patience, you sleep, you endlessly walk the streets of Paris - Perec purposefully hijacks Paris as Joyce hijacked Dublin - you desire nothing but notice everything.

You - the other you, the reader - have read this kind of thing before, in Kafka, Proust, Camus, Beckett, you name it — the author doesn't, but he is openly writing within this tradition, performing his variation on the theme of alienation. His conclusion is that it is futile to refuse lufe, inertia is as pointless as anger, and solitude teaches you nothing, even though it is no good entrusting things with

"the exhausting, impossible, mortal burden of representing you". Other people, in both novels, seem foggy. No love mentioned, no affection. Maybe for Perec as for Sartre, helf was other people. But "you" are never alone, because you are watching yourself, seeing through to "the dark, empty, slime-green, frightened, impotent interior of you". Even when you are asleep, he says, even when you are dead. Perec died in 1982. With the other eye of his books, at least, he is still seeing

Square-jawed super strip sleuth

IN VIEW of the plethora of Hollywood blockbusters based on comic strip beroes, has the film industry found in Dick Tracy yet another nest to plunder? However, the well-publicised profits from films like the Superman series and Batman cloud the fact that Hollywood and newspaper strips both reached their golden age in the late Thirties and Forties, and both have been making fortunes for those involved ever since.

The finest examples of daily strips are nearly always the total creation of one man. Here, the sets, dialogue, characters, costumes, and action are all of a iece, and there have been few better exponents of the newspaper strip hero than Chester Gould, creator of Dick Tracy. One of the genre's greatest characters, Gould introduced Dick Tracy in 1931, against an already firmly estab-lished background of strips about middle-class couples - forerunners of the domestic sit-com.
With his traditional snap brim hat and futuristic talking wrist radio, Dick Tracy was the first, and remains the most enduring, of the "realistic" crime-fighters - men who wear their underpants on the inside. Gould's line, as elegant yet firm as any oriental calligrapher, has illuminated a world drawn from a mix of B-feature detective movies and the genuine underworld. His characters, baddies and goodies alike, are cleanly etched, and many are inspired by Hollywood stars and living criminals.

Given the Hollywood connection it is surprising the movie industry has taken so long to capitalise on one of America's favourite strips. Now we are in for another massive bombardment of hype about Dick Tracy - the movie, starring Warren Beatty and Madonna. To cash in on sorry - to celebrate this Great Moment in Movie History, Penguin has published a collection of Dick Tracy strips. Selected by the strip's current writer and illustrator, Dick Locher and Max Allan Collins, with commentary by Gould himself (he retired in 1977), we are treated to an enlightening account of Dick Tracy's development over six decades. All the examples chosen are exceptionally fine, with

PAPERBACKS

Barry Fantoni

THE DICK TRACY CASEBOOK Selected by Max Allan Collins and Dick Locher Penguin, £6,99 DICK TRACY By Max Allan Collins Baniam. £3.50

Gould's mature work in the 1944 story, "The Brow", outstanding. Many newspaper strips lost their bite when taken over by the powerful international syndicates, demanding watered down versions for the mass market, but Dick Tracy refused to turn soft, an important point the book does not make. And in view of its importance as a universally read strip. I would like to have seen a little more information about its influence on other strips. Never-theless there is much to enjoy in this selection of "continuities", as a series of strips are known, and in spite of some poor reproduction in some frames the passion of Gould's line is ever present.

The story lines of a Dick Tracy strip are often extremely violent, although the present writer, Max Allan Collins, who is responsible for the book-of-the-film-of-thestrip, has for some reason kept the ketchup off the page. The writing in Dick Tracy is essentially Micky Spillane on autopilot, and even then, half the one-liners, so much a feature of good detective writing, would have ended up in Micky's trashcan. The over-economic style is ideal for a daily strip, but when aimed at a full-length novel it simply exposes the lack of linear accompaniment (no pictures). But like the movie, I suspect the book is aimed at an audience aged 13-20, and it will certainly provide a moment or two of light enter-tainment while they queue round the block for a seat to see the film. And don't go away. We still haven't had movies of Terry and the Pirates, Plastic Man, The Phantom, Captain Marvel, Sheena, Queen of the Jungle, Blackhawk, Secret Agent X-9 . . .

Doctor at a loose end and in love: Jane Austen with treacle

IT IS 1803. The fear of Bonaparte's invasion is spreading over rural Norfolk. There is a heatwave for Doctor Alexander French's return home after a year's absence, to pack up before sailing for Bombay to serve the East India Company. Doctors and surgeons revere him, but the army will not take him. He is too clever, too difficult over the care of his men. We know that he is difficult from two earlier books (A Season of Mists and The Peacock's Feather). He is unhappily in love with Ann, widow of Sir Harry Gerard. The doctor has decided to go. But there are delays. Who would have thought the doctor would fall for the charm of Julia Hawksworth? She is sensual and beautiful, and, as he realises, false and promiscuous. Perhaps the attraction is her eight-year-old daughter, Cassandra, or her Aunty, the eccentric Mrs Clodie

HISTORICALS Philippa Toomey

em Europeans, by whom this

THE NATIVE AIR By Sarah Woodhouse

M'Cool, in whose house they live. Once again this is an enchanting yet realistic picture of a small rural community, hard at work in the fields, enjoying a ball, a party, and a good deal of gossip, with the threat of war in the background. Ann, pursued by two eligible men, is sad and at a loose end. One of them prefers her fortune to herself, but she has lost it. Her husband's only legacy, the privateer that has made her fortune, has been lost with all hands. The doctor has his usual bad luck with recalcitrant horses, but the possibility of a tragedy when Cassandra is abducted clears everyone's mind, and changes his luck. At 43, he has his heart's desire. If you have not read any of Sarah Woodhouse's five novels start here.

 Menday's Warriers, by Maurice Shadbolt (Bloomsbury £13.99). Victorian New Zealand was beset by the Maori Wars guerrillas hidden in the woods and the giant ferns, and the bumbling army. Kimball Bent, an American in the British Army, deserts to the Maoris, and gains a legendary reputation for feats that are not his. A ferocious tale, told with wit, involving much bravery, some Methodism, a little cannibalism, betrayal from within, and inevitable defeat. Kimball Bent is a historical character who died in 1916. Maurice Shadbolt has made him into a believable legend.

• The Wild Hunt, by Elizabeth

Chadwick (Michael Joseph, £13.99). William Rufus was one of our more unpleasant kings. Under his regime, Guyon of Ledworth has to marry an heiress before he can succeed to lands that are rightly his. Attractive, experi-enced, and nearly 30, he is confronted by Judith, a terrified 15-year-old, whose own father has been a monster of cruelty. Life is tough, and Guyon has constantly to defend his own territory on the Welsh marches from the Welsh. and from closer enemies among the nobles. He has a child by his Welsh mistress, while his wife still fears the marriage bed, but all ends relatively well (considering this is the 12th century) with massacres. battles, and the secret of Judith's parentage. The book won a Betty Trask award. A sequel, The Running Vixen, is on the way.

• Rebecca's Children, by Kate Duna (Barrie & Jenkins, £13.99). Founded on episodes in the life of the author's great-great-grand-father, this accomplished first novel deals with the Rebecca riots in 19th-century Wales. Hugh Wil-tiams was a lawyer, an early Chartist, who married a woman 30 years older than him for her money. He meets Mary Jenkins and her brother William over a law suit. Hugh is attracted to Mary, and involved in an affair with her (one of many - he was apparently known as Hugh Williams of the 100 bastards) and, more dangerously, in helping the Rebeccas - young men who disguise themselves as women and burn down the hated toll-gates. This leads to more violence, hangings, and transportations. Mary, her daughter Eleanor, and her brother survive, but only just. Hugh, released from matrimony when his wife dies aged 90,

Kate Dunn's uncles, Simon and ● Homage to Sarah, by Valerie Blumenthal (Collins, £13.95). Adam Gilmour is a shy boy. When his father dies, he inherits the baronetcy. But it is his mother's favourite. Jonathan, the younger son, who succeeds in life, and marries Sarah, the girl Adam loves. Adam is a writer published in influential magazines, and also a successful novelist. After his brother's death, he becomes Sarab's lover. But she leaves him when an autobiographical govel. prosecuted for obscenity, reveals her identity. He marries disastrously, but continues his career with friends like Swinburne Hardy, and Edward Lear to cheer him on. Unfortunately, though this is a good dramatic story, there is almost no sense of period. No one was made a life peer in 1888. The dialogue is anachronistic.

Review Lady with paintbrush Beautiful Berthe Morisot was the female Impressionist, a woman before her time. Isabel Raphael reviews her biography

BG AUTHORS if your book deserves publication expanding publishers would like to hear from you Write to: Durot: T M S.

But his heart belongs to Dada THERE'S a lot of specialised 15 pages of information on, and addresses of Local Education Authorities, Examination Organisations, Sports Bodies, Associations, Unions, Universities, Polytechnics, Education Publishers. Broadcasters, Resource Computing Organisations. (All information produced by Collins Diaries). • Week-to-view diary • Term timetables . Exclusive T.E.S. Diary cover.

The 1990/91 TES Academic Year Diary is now available for 6450 (including postage, packaging and VAT*) To receive your diarvites), simply complete the coupon below and return it to: TES Diary Otier, c/o Encompass Marketing, 17 Brodrick Road, London SW17 7DZ

Flurse send me ______TES Academic Year Diany fiesl. I enclose a cheque/postal order for £ _____ made payable to The Times Supplements.

Please note that delivery outside the UK can take up to 28 days.

knowledge hanging about in this week's fiction, whether about big game hunting, farming, sur-realism, or politics in Peru. Firstly, in Exquisite Cadaver Wolf Mankowitz presents "a collage of the Lives and Times of Leo Lhooq, deceased Dadaist, Surrealist and petty criminal", and it is pieced together with "amusing facts concerning the monetarisation of the works of this third rate artificer, demonstrating how he was worth more dead than alive". It is quite a feat. The decaying corpse of Leo Lhoog is found in an isolated ranch house somewhere in the middle of the American West. This is the starting point for two different storylines. One is narrated by the ghost of Leo himself, recalling incidents from his past life as a member of the Dada movement in Paris in the Twenties. The other is a crisp account of the farce that develops when the art dealers realise the inflated values of the art works he has left behind, now apparently up for grabs by whoever can buy and sell fastest. The absurdity of the art world may be familiar, but it can still startle — particularly when, as here, there are plenty of surprises along the way. Mankowitz has a detailed knowledge of Dadaism, both of the works produced and the personalities involved, and he constructs his narrative around this expertise with ingenuity and wit. Nihilism emerges as the joke it was meant to be - nothing, but quite valuable nothing. Less ingenious, but well timed to fan the seasonal yearning for terracotta hillsides, is Rosetta Loy's description of a family farming in northern Italy during the 19th century. The Dust Roads of Monferrato see the arrivals and departures of a family spanning three generations. The story starts with the house being built by the man who has grown rich "thanks to the comings and goings of soldiers, providing fodder for the horses and grain first hidden, then sold for three times its value". It

Anne Barnes EXOUISITE CADAVER

By Wolf Mankowitz André Deutsch, £11.99 THE DUST ROADS OF MONFERRATO By Rosetta Loy Collins, £13.95 IN THE CHINESE MOUNTAINS By John Hopkins Peter Owen, £12.95 EDGE OF EDEN By Nicholas Proffitt Banaam, £13.95

ends with his granddaughter marrying a rich factory owner, and going off to live in another part of the country, leaving the house empty (except for two old men) and creaking like a vessel lying at anchor. Much of the earlier part of the novel is a description of the practicalities of life in a farming community, but as the story moves through various marriages, deaths and births, the tone becomes more philosophical. On the whole it is a bleak story of endurance and bewilderment in the face of drudgery and sudden disaster. Domestic chores, sometimes poetically described, do not bring composure or companionship. They seem, on the contrary, to create isolation and a sense of muted discord. So although the author does suggest moments of love and care and passion, she never conveys a sense of contin-uing tradition that makes this sort of chronicle coherent. It is a challenging statement about the complications of the simple life. John Hopkins delineates family life in In the Chinese Mountains marries again, and founds the Williams family, which includes with a more specific purpose. He uses it to give a precise account of the Peruvian political scene, pick-ing out and emphasising the contrast between the impoverished Indians and the Spanishspeaking ruling elite. The Calderon family have always been prominent in political affairs. Charlie, now a desiccated octogenarian, is a past president well known for his ability to stay afloat in politically troubled waters, and also for his cruel reprisals against the Indians. Joshua, his son, is poised to become the next president. He is much more liberal and humanitarian than his father, but this is imperceptible to the terrorist opposition, who see the family as a symbol of the privilege they so much resent. Violence cannot be avoided, it can only be delayed. Hopkins tells a terse story in plain prose, revealing the crudity and the pathos of political divisions in South America.

In Nicholas Proffitt's Edge of Eden the conflict is less streamlined. On the bad side are poachers and their attendant villains. who roam around killing big game for profit, and sometimes human beings for convenience. On the good side is a nice young man called Adrian, loyally upholding the strict white-hunter code of honour, and an incorruptible African police inspector. Together they represent the best principles of the old and the new Kenya, but they are up against powerful and clusive enemies. The plot grinds along laboriously at times, and what the characters actually say to each other often seems a bit unlikely, but Kenya's predicament, balanced between old colonialist traditions and the complexity of African lore, is carefully set out. And the backdrop, complete with big game, is

Parting is such sweet sorrow

John Caird, first of Terry Hands's team of RSC associate directors to resign, talks to Simon Tait

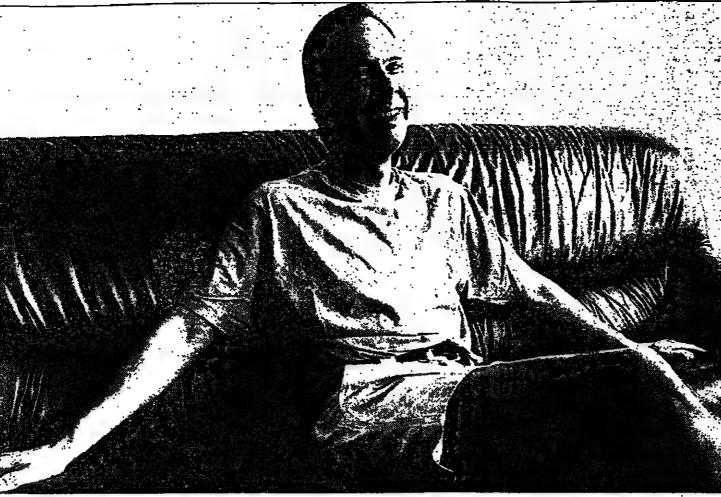

he Royal Shakespeare Company is not so much a family as a tribe, and elements of tribes break away to create new tribes. So explains John Caird, the first of Terry Hands's cohort of associate directors to leave the beleaguered encampment, having resigned. His fellow associate directors, Ron Daniels, Barry Kyle and Bill Alexander, are not to have their contracts renewed when Adrian Noble takes Hands's mantle next year. It seems almost heroic Shakespeare: those captains associated with the old chief are purged, the closest contender to the new chief falls on his sword. But it was not so, says

"There's no bad blood. Terry's resignation made me think about what I wanted to do, and it wastime to go," says the man who, with the former RSC chieftain Trevor Nunn, helped create Les Misérables, the production which Hands himself has described as the RSC's lifeline.

The view from the window of the new John Caird/Trevor Nunn headquarters in Cambridge Circus, as they consider their nontribal future together and separately (they have different companies), is an inspiring reminder. It is of the Palace Theatre and the show they made which brings a reported £1 million a year to the RSC. Inexplicably, Caird still gets RSC memos copied to him at the new address, even though he has no formal connection with the company any more.

And there was no row over the RSC's decision not to proceed with Caird's venture, Children of Eden, which could have given it another hit like Les Mis. "It was to be a marriage between a production company, Patricia Mac-naughton's Upstart, and the RSC and I thought it was a good idea for the company. It's a major piece

The news is that despite the RSC pulling out, because of its cost-cutting exercise - which Caird was involved with before he left in February - Children of Eden will go ahead in a West End

John Caird on the company's new artistic director: "I have no fear for the RSC, artistically or financially, in Adrian Noble's hands" theatre he will not name and with a cast which he will not yet identify. Rehearsals start on September 24 and first night will be before Christmas, more or less as originally intended. The show is very much Caird's: "It sounds absurd to say I wrote the book since it is based on the Book of Genesis, but I did write the book of the show, with music and lyrics by Stephen Schwartz, creator of Godspell."

Children of Eden, which picks apart the imagery and allegory of the relevant Old Testament stories of Adam, Eve and their children, the Tower of Babel and Noah's Flood to mount them as a mirror of the late 20th century, is unashamedly green-framed. There is a Schwartz line, says Caird, in the Noah's Ark second act - in which the argonauts are in search of life on the planet — which sums it up unequivocally:

For the children of Eden, God's fragile creatures, We are now, we're all of us, There is a more poignant meaning in the musical for Caird. His father was G.B. Caird, the Oxford theologian whose Language and Imagery of The Bible is a major aird himself eschewed university life after a childhood spent in it. Instead he went to the Bristol Old Vic Theatre School, and in 1977 Nunn brought him into the RSC as his protege.

Together they made Nicholas Nickleby into a show which won awards on both sides of the Atlantic and the famous Peter Pan Christmas show in 1982. He directed Andrew Lloyd Webber's Song and Dance that year, then, as an associate director, plunged into Shakespeare to do four in two years (As You Like It in Stockholm in Swedish). Then he turned to Jonson "showing, I hope, that he wasn't the one play man he is written off as". After Les Mis, last year saw his current RSC As You Like It and the extraordinary A Midsummer Night's Dream at Stratford, in which the fairies were scruffy and wore Doc Marten boots and Puck was more like (Just) William than Peter Pan.

While the RSC's finances and succession were under the public ze earlier this year, Caird was in Las Vegas turning an illusion act by two cabaret artistes, "Siegfried and Roy", into a theatrical event with John Napier, the designer with whom he is working on Children of Eden.

He was a contender for the artistic directorship. "I was a bit disappointed, but relieved too. I would have been much more disappointed if it had not been Adrian [Noble] who got it. He is fantastically talented and enthusiastic, and I have no fear for the RSC, artistically or financially, in

The biggest problem for the company, believes Caird, is going to be the Barbican. "It's monolithic, ugly, inhuman, in common with a lot of modern arts architecture around the world," he says, citing the Kennedy Centre in Washington or the National Arts Centre in Ottawa, He fought battles with bureaucracy and topography. One night he found a security guard lost, with his walkie-talkie broken, and led him gently to the path home.

"A lot of people would love to go back to Stratford, abandon the Barbican and start again from a base we all love. But the rent at the Barbican is extremely favourable and the new management at the Barbican have got radical plans, I hear. They will have to be radical,

Caird, now 41, has another extraordinary project to take on as soon as the musical has opened. In January he goes to the Soviet Union to direct the Moscow Arts Theatre Company, with Anastasia Vertinskaya and Sacha Kaliagin, in the John Berger/Nella Bielski play A Question of Geography, the stark piece about Stalinism and Gulag brutality which he directed at Stratford in 1987.

"I said to Anastasia It can never happen, forget it," and she said 'But it's fixed, it is happening' and I've actually got a contract now. It's a stunning opportunity."

Londoners lose Lenny

ew could have predicted that the paths of Leonard Bernstein and the London Borough of Bromley would cross -and indeed they will not. But they almost did. For weeks, press advertisements had trumpeted the astonishing information that the charismatic maestro would be conducting at Bromley's Crystal Palace Bowl this summer. He has just withdrawn, pleading "sched-uling necessities". In fact, the 71year-old conductor is in poor health; he has also pulled out of the current Pacific Music Festival in Japan on the advice of his doctor, who has diagnosed exhaustion, severe influenza, pleurisy and pneumonia.

However, Bromley Council has achieved one musical breakthrough. The major London or-chestras have lifted their boycott of Crystal Palace, imposed in 1986 when a promoter went into liquidation owing thousands of pounds in unpaid orchestral fees. The London orchestras started legal proceedings against Bromley Council, claiming that the promoter had been acting as the council's agent. That dispute was settled to the orchestras' satisfaction last November, so the strains of 1812, Ron Goodwin's Where Eagles Dare and other indispensable classical pops will once more resound through south London on Sunday afternoons:

Final blow

Tet more problems for Lynn Seymour. The dramatic ballerina has pulled out of English National Ballet's current London Coliseum season because of a protracted injury to her left knee. Seymour was to have danced the lead role in both Anastasia and Onegin. The cancellation is another setback for the 51-year-old former Royal Ballet star, who was de-clared bankrupt earlier this year after a career dogged by injury and financial misfortune. Seymour will soon leave ENB to follow sacked director Peter Schaufuss to Berlin. The young Spanish ballerina, Trinidad Sevillano, is replacing Seymour in MacMillan's Anastasia this week, while Eva Evdo-kimova returns to her former company to take over Seymour's role in Cranko's Onegin next

Lynn Seymour: knee injury

Good cause

Those seeking a Shakespeare production with a message need look no further than a current production of Hamlet. In the title role will be Stephen Haynes, a 36-year-old from West Bromwich who has Aids. Sentenced to 11 years imprisonment in France for dealing in heroin (he was an addict), he was given a pardon by President Mitterrand because he promised to do some-thing useful with his life. In 1988, told he had a year to live, he decided that the useful thing would be a staging of Hamlet. The production has received help from the National Theatre, Trevor Nunn and Sir John Gielgud, and has Francesca Gonshaw (who may be known to some readers as a be known to some readers as a regular in the Tv comedy series 'Allo' 'Allo' as Ophelia, and the voice of Timothy West as the Ghost All proceeds from the performances (at the Brixton Assembly Rooms tomorrow, Pensangular Company (at the Brixton Assembly Rooms tomorrow, Pensangular Company). tameters in Hampstead next Monday and Tuesday, and the Shaw Theatre on July 29) go to Aids.

The state of the s

Fig. 2

BEAR STATE OF THE STATE OF THE

密見をつかってつる ap an

Business of the second Piger van de de designe Entern to come Parties of the South

我们在上午 大大 十八十八 中代

棒电路 ta (tat tu tankaras

Laugh your I

withing from Track Ass

Unto the breach?

enneth Branagh is bringing his Renaissance Theatre his Kemaissance productions of A Midsummer Night's Dream and King Lear to London after all. The company, with Richard Briers as Bottom and Lear, is to follow its Edinburgh Festival performances with a week at the Dominion, Tottenham, Court Road (August 20 to 25). That will raise the "save this theatre" banner on behalf of the huge house, which is threat-ened with demolition. Briefs is a board member of the Theatres Trust which is leading the campaign.

"Because of the threst to the theatre we could only get a short booking," says David Parfitt, the company's managing director. He promises that "We will be doing something during the week to help the campaign to save the Donniaion; exactly what is a secret."

VENICE, DUCAL PALACE 1st June - 7th October 1990 from 9 a.m. till 11 p.m. everyday

Ticket office - Ducal Palace from 9 a.m. till 10 p.m.

To buy tickets in advance - Goldoni Theatre - Monday to Saturday

Reservations (advisable for groups) Box Office Tel.: 01039.41.988369/950611 Fax: 01039.41.950888

For information: the Department of Culture from 9 a.m. till 1 p.m.

Comune di Venezio Assessorato alla Cultura

Ministero per i Beni Culturali e Ambientali Sopraintendenza di Venezia National Gallery of Art Washington

Gaffleo Industrie Ottiche Venezio

Bluff but humane guide

YOU have to understand, said white car and a state of bluff rather than the political issues. emulate Miami Vice, Milan's Ronald Eyre at the end of a Yorkshire irritability. Conmasterly crossing of the Irish border for Frontiers (BBC 1), delved into a mist of religious already seems to be in a ory of Callas in Traviata, and that "It was the English government who in the 1920s cordoned the Six Counties, and three and a half centuries earlier it was us who made the claim that settled the land that caused the grief that split the folk that led to the call for the border." This Derek Bailey film was the crowning glory of an impressive series.

roaming the territory in a to the heart of the human and territorial uncertainties.

He found a man who believes Britain's watch-towers cause loose teeth and lumbago, and a lady in the village of Pettigo, aged of 98, who moved there before there was a border and is now awaiting centenary telegrams from both Dublin and the Queen. In the end, although he may not have been a Sean O'Casey, Eyre's Eyre set himself up as a been a Sean O'Casey, Eyre's latter-day J.B. Priestley, theatrical training has led him hiker told a farmer to improve his paths, then for 20 minutes, salesmen were being trained to sell pub games, before an extraffic warden denied that she had once had a deal for free fruit in return for no tickets outside a greengrocery. The rambling, aimless half-hour was populist access television at its worst. If the excuse is that they are trying to cover as much terminal crisis, unable to recall quite what it is for.

against authority, the series seems to be a ghastly off-shoot of That's Life. This week a territory as possible in all too little time, then they should look at Channel 4's Europe Express, a splendid series which last night dealt with Warsaw policemen trying to the victimisation of Algerian workers in France. Half an Equipped with a large removal-van, within which passing hour with pary a frame or a strangers are urged to tell the ScreenPlay on Two (BBC 2) camera their grievances introduced a semarkable new playwright, Marcy Kanan with Antonia and Jane-a Definitive Report.

Two women, one of whom-has stolen the other's loves, meet once a year for annual progress reports on the state of their friendship, while confiding in the analyst they do not know they share. The test things were the incidental characters and a supporting cast led by Claire Rayner and Michael Ignatieff. This was scattershot satire, with Imelda Staunton and Saskia Reeves as the old friends and are inventive use of the screen by producers George Faber and Beeban Kidron.

SHERIDAN MORLEY

Sizes: Chest Colours: Ol Outer 100% Polyester	5(32-34) M(3	6) L(.	38-40)	XL(42-
AUA .	e ales so die	está vo	ar order	by retains	but pleme	ax (0768) 899222 atom 20 days for delivery OT DELIGHTED.
S.GILET	SI	M	L-	XI.	COL	TOTAL	1
OLIVE		•					1
SAND							1
J. 4.D					guuds].
I enclose my o	heque/F	Ofor	pl	tp tu £	20 1-95		1
		avable.	to · P	ρb to τ,	50 2-50 55 550		1
Town & Count				bgdow	tT £50.	FREE	1
	•		4	1	TOTAL		ŀ
ORCharge my	vices.	783 ÇA					•
			11	Ш	Ш	exp.date
Name					Date:
Address.							. 6
							Š
P.Code L			Signan			_	. 2
Send to: Dep					oper Li	d, Pearith Estate,	Ž

VICTOR HOCHHAUSER pre

TOMORROW at 7.45 MOZART - BACH VIVALDI

cart Players Conductor: SIMON JOLY Clarinet: JACK BRYMER

EE JACK BEIMENE NACHTMUSIK
BRANDENBURG CONCERTO NO. 3 CLARINET-CONCERTO.
THE FOUR SEASONS

SATURDAY 28th JULY 5,30PM. UP TO 50% DISCOUNT ON:-FABRICS, WALLPAPERS, BEDLINEN (discontinued designs, alight seconds) UPHOLSTERY AND CABINET FURNITURE (ex. Showroom Models) ACCESSORIES, LIGHTING, EX ROOMSET ITEMS

UP TO 15% DISCOUNT ON;-SELECTED UPHOLSTERY AND FURNITURE. ORDERS PLACED DURING THE SALE.

SPECIAL PROMOTION ON CONSERVATORY FURNITURE, SOFA-BEDS AND CHAIRS

Sanderson, 52 Berners Street, London W1 OXFORD CIRCUS OR TOTTENHAM COURT RD. TUBE STATIONS MON-FRI: 9.30AM-5.30FM_SAT: 9.00AM-5.30FM

CINEMA INTERVIEW

King of trash

Film-maker John Waters loves being the 'filthiest person alive". Oscar Moore reports

ohn Waters and Steven Spielberg chuckling together on the steps of the St James Club: the sight could have made a , surreal photocall. Hollywood's wundermensch meets the man who made a star out of the transvestite. Devine. E.T. swaps a quip with the Pink Flamingo.

But then Waters and his troupe have come a long way since he attempted to murder the hippy era with Multiple Maniacs, made for $5,000 26 years ago. Now Waters has a driver, stays at the St James and is given budgets of $9m to play with. It doesn't go far when you have the swelling overheads gathered by a musical such as Cry-Baby (reviewed, right, by Geoff Brown). Nevertheless, John Waters is making it into the mainstream.

25.25

5 ⊈7 ^{- 4}√°

 $g_{ab} = i$.

grille at the المناسب المعتبية إلحاكاه في month. .

7 1 m

÷ 4.

88.00

group, a series

1,27,52

oner Alle

one the second

y-61_ -

ing a

± 3.42.5

1.00

1 Sec. 3.

444

At Cannes, where Cry-Baby was one of the Official Selection, Waters arrived for the midnight screening with a posse of his stars; legy Pop, Richy Lake and Traci ·Lords. The reception from the massed ranks of hair-lacquered rockers was wild: they even cheered the credits. "It was so exciting," says Waters, "I did miss Divine at that moment, because he would have been like Gina Lollobrigida with 500 photog-raphers in front of him." Instead Waters had legy, the wild man of rock, in torn jeans, swaggering like a new-wave Jayne Mansfield.

"Iggy was so great," adds Waters. "He understood exactly what Cannes was about. I hire people like that. I do not want stars who do not want their picture taken."

If Gore Vidal is the Biographer of America, then John Waters is Biographer of Baltimore. But where Vidal is preoccupied with the grand sweep of America's political dynasties, Waters' focus is more specific: white trash. "Baltimore was built on white trash," he says, teeth flashing beneath his pencil-thin moustache. He has followed them all: every white trash subcult from Drapes (Cry-Baby) to Hairhoppers (Hairspray) and beyond. But it was his early work with Baltimore's queen of trash, Divine, that won Waters his reputation as film's smartest sicko.

The nuns who taught John Waters would not be surprised at the news of his moral turpitude. While other children were swapping baseball cards, Waters was fantasising about revamped porno theatres. "The big thing in those days was the Legion of Decency. I remember when I was about seven years old we had to stand up and take this pledge and I refused." The Legion was in the fire-andbrimstone business: any serious moral transgression and the gates of hell swung wide. Films were high on the list of transgressions.

"I would read about movies like Love is my Profession and then pretend I owned a movie theatre and redesign the ad campaign to make them worse." Not content with front-of-house billboards, Waters started making the movies himself with Divine as his perverse muse. Indeed, some suspect that since Divine's un-timely death Waters had fallen dangerously into favour with the masses. So it almost came as a relief when Pink Flamingos was busted in Florida recently and a video dealer threatened with 15 years in jail. "I thought, well I am the filthiest person alive, after all," says Waters, beaming. "Eighteen years on and the title is still mine."

Half-way through his global Press tour Waters is already planning his next film assault on the "humour-impaired": this time set in the present. Turning away from the days of the two-foot beehive hairdo and the cha-cha shoe, what will Waters make of today's America? "Well, I don't have to rent all those old cars. On Cry-Baby, every time we turned the camera there was something from the wrong era in the way. I was screaming 'Rip that building xcited at the prospect of his Bush-era exposé, Waters is clearly still looking for a cult, a serious "fashion violation" to spark his inspiration, and it definitely is not acid house. "Any drug that makes you love everyone sounds like an nightmare." Indeed, brotherly love (especially the drug-induced) is low on Waters' agenda. In a recent piece for Newsweek he declared that the new rebels should be getting on his nerves, and suggested that the best rebellion against liberal parents was to act like the race that everyone hates. "All these liberal parents marched for Martin Luther King, but they don't want their kids in dreadlocks."

One thing does seem certain, however. The new film will be set in Baltimore. The city's most famous son (closely followed by Rain Man director, Barry Levinson) has been sending strange celluloid valentines to his hometown for 26 years, and the love affair is hard to break.

"I got home after the American tour and I decided to go to places I had never been before in Baltimore. So we went to this club where the doorman was a white hillbilly, just chugalugging potato chips, one bag after another. Inside there were all these 40-yearold black guys dancing to great rap music. Then a door at the back swung open, and out came the manager — a white drag queen. It was amazing. I just thought, 'Oh my god!'

CINEMA

Vintage wine in old vessel

Geoff Brown reviews the latest releases: Jean Vigo's L'Atalante, John Waters' Cry-Baby, Interrogation and Kamikaze Hearts

he week's best films are also the oldest. Interrogation hails from 1981, when its harsh depiction of Stalinist prison conditions incurred official Polish displeasure. Yet that film is a babe in arms compared to Jean Vigo's L'Atalante (PG, Renoir) -first released in 1934, although audiences are only now seeing a print closely matching the in-tentions of its young, immensely gifted, but thwarted director. (He died, aged 29, a few weeks after the film's commercially disastrous Paris opening.)

L'Atalante always seemed a magical, mischievous work, even in the mangled prints that film buffs have lived with for decades. But its power to provoke and entrance has been enormously boosted in this newly-restored version, first unveiled at this year's Cannes Film Festival. There are nine extra minutes of marvellous footage; Maurice Jau-bert's haunting music has been cleared of the soundtrack's hiss and crackle; while Boris Kaufman's black-and-white images attain at their best an astonishing, pungent clarity. In an age when film-making has become more than ever a matter of business, L'Atalante shouls from the rooftops that cinema is art, cinema is poetry, cinema is madness, pas-sion, and everything that cannot be transformed into figures on a balance sheet. You miss this revival at the peril of your soul.

Vigo began shooting L'Atalante four months after the censor banned his previous film, Zéro de conduite. The producer handed him an innocuous story - the travails of newly-weds on a barge threading through France - hop-ing this would deflect his anarchic instincts. Vigo's changes and improvisations, however, upturned the novelettish yarn. Jean, the barge captain (Jean Dasté) and Juliette, his innocent wife (Dita Parlo), now set forth on a poetic voyage of discovery through an unsettling, mercurial world. Quickly bored by barge life, Juliette longs for big city excitements, and Paris. The grizzled barge mate, Père Jules (Michel Simon at his most outlandish), also stirs her emotions with his caperings, tales, and bizarre me-mentos from a lifetime of travel. After a quarrel, the barge con-tinues without Juliette, bringing despair for both husband and wife.

Yet a plot sketch does little justice to the jostling quirks of Vigo's treatment. His sharp eye alights on strange juxtapositions and landscapes, from the absurd perplexing shot of the desolate Jean caressing and licking blocks of ice. Simon's Père Jules, too, is a fount of amazing sights, not least when he strips to show his tattoos and places a cigarette in his navel. Through a myriad of such details, the newly-weds' lives and the canal environment are exquisitely draped in poetic fantasy and Surrealist disquiet.

The cigarette and ice-licking shots are just two beneficiaries of this marvellous restoration, undertaken by Gaumont, the original French distributor, to repair the damage they inflicted in 1934 in a failed effort to make Vigo's film conform to commercial norms. A print discovered by the National Film Archive, which has been added, has also played a major part in preserving one of cinema's most bewitching films.

Back in the rude old days of Pink Flamingos, did anyone suspect that a John Waters film would be legally fit for 12-yearolds? Yet here is Cry-Baby (12, Empire 2), the eleventh feature from the famous maestro of bad taste — and, barring the odd naughty word, a film anodyne enough to serve as family entertainment.

Waters first reached his mainstream audience in Hairspray, an ebullient saure of Sixties habits, set in the director's home town, Baltimore. Now he has retreated a decade: Cry-Baby lampoons the juvenile delinquent scene of 1954. Our rebellious hero, dressed in sneers, black leather and pompadour hair, is one of the so-called "drapes". The heroine begins as a "square" - clean-cut, ponytailed - but soon joins her heartthrob in the opposition. The two sides come to blows amid continuous music - some dug up from the vaults, some a clever pastiche: there are 11 fully-fledged production numbers.

Waters hands over his deadpan dialogue and deliberately back-neyed plot to a typically oddball line-up. Johnny Depp, an American teen idol, plays the eponymous hero with amiable charm, if not much punch; hefty Ricki Lake, the discovery of Hairspray, delights as his pregnant kid sister. Others in the carnival include Patty Hearst, ageing beefcake Troy Donahue, punk luminary Iggy Pop, and Kim McGuire, a gro-tesque new plug-ugly face. "It is everyone I wanted," Waters com-mented, "except perhaps for Mother Terror " Mother Teresa.

As the noise and bustle wear on, the material wilts for lack of nourishment. Characters never grow beyond their stereotypes, and the film settles too easily for silly, toothless laughs. One clings to the few moments of unregenerate bad taste: Cry-Baby revealing his electric chair tattoo, in loving memory of his murderer father, a bout of French kissing during a dance; the court appearance of one of the delinquents' mothers, smoking away in an iron lung. In general, though, a U certificate for John Waters seems just around the corner.

Poetic voyage: Jean (Jean Dasté) and his wife Juliette (Dita Parlo) in Jean Vigo's L'Atalante

yszard Bugajski's Interrogation (18, Cannon Premiere) provides the perfect antidote to Waters' camp frivolity. The heroine, Tonia, a small-time actress played by the remarkable Krystyna Janda, begins the film in 1951 in a carefree whirl, but the fun vanishes once she is hustled off to prison. False statements are drawn up for her to sign, but Tonia obstinately resists, even after the prison's ultimate punishment: hosing down and incarceration in the bath house. Bugajski drew upon authentic prison reports for his script.

Forcefully staged and brilliantly acted (Janda's portrayal brought her this year's Best Actress award at Cannes), Interrogation lodges in the mind with the brute force of a bullet. For Polish audiences who saw the film illicitly on video during the Eighties, the evidence of persecution and paranoia brought to mind their troubled present as much as the Stalinist past. For the Polish authorities, the parallels drawn with the Gestapo's torture methods put the film beyond the pale. For today's international audiences, however, Interrogation stands up proudly as a fierce portrait of one woman's resistance to any inhumane regime.

Kamikaze Hearts (18, Metro), a raw American independent film, squats on the uneasy borderline between fact and fiction. The leading players are two women, both lovers, both drug addicts, employed in San Francisco's murky world of porno movies. Tigr [sic] Mennett serves as a producer-director, tough but honest, battling with her little band's frazzled egos; Sharon Mitchell is the vibrant star performer, forever flaunting her lithe, willing body.

For much of the time, director Juliet Bashore documents the couple's emotional gyrations with the off-hand air of a fly on the wall. But this is no untreated cinema vérité. The character of Gerald Greystone, the sleazy, hovering financier who makes a crass attempt at seduction, is obviously pumped up for the purposes of drama, while the ladies' final setto smacks overmuch of a staged encounter. The film reaches firmer ground when it eschews theatrical effects and simply observes the porno film-makers' daily round: bickering, desperation, emotional confusion, threadbare fantasies, wasted time

CRITIC'S CHOICE: VIDEO

A weekly selection of films recently released on video. The year refers to the date of first release case of talevision films, of first BABY, IT'S YOU (CIC, 15): Quizzical, humane high-school drama about mismatched lovers from writer-director John Savies. mounted with typical care. Delightful players (Vincent Spano soundtrack rich in Sixtles hits

THE COUCH TRIP (Virgin, 15): Ragged satire from director, Michael Ritchie, with Dan Aykroyd as an escaped prisoner who finds media success impersonating & psychiatrist. Some moments lease: those leaturing Waller Matthau are not among them.

DICK TRACY MEETS GRUESOME (Wienerworld, U): Liveliest of a batch of RKO programmers from the 1940s. ed from the vaults to bask in the glory of the summer's big blockbuster. Raiph Byrd as the square-iawed detective: Bons Karloff as his warped adversary, Gruesome, up to no good with a gas that freezes people in time. (Also available: Dick Tracy, Dick Tracy Versus Cueball, Dick Tracy's

I'VE HEARD THE MERMAIDS SINGING (Castle Hendring, 15) Wispy Canadian tale of a maladrok woman employed in a trendy art gallery. Detily handled by débuting director Patricia Rozema, though the end result annoys more than it

LITTLE CAESAR (Warner, PG): Robust, atmospheric early gangster movie, with Edward G. Robinson irrepressible as the small-time hood who claws up the ladder, all the way to his inevitable death ("Mother of God, is this the end of Rico?"). Essential viewing.

MY LIFE AS A DOG (Castle Hendring, PG): Lasse Hallström's endearing, billier-sweet portrait of an impish child growing up with rural relatives in Sweden during the 1950s. One to savour. 1985

PICNIC (RCA/Columbia, U): Absorbing, high-powered version of William Inge's play about sexual turmoil in a small Kansas town, sparked by the arrival of a swaggering drifter (William Holden). With Kim Novak, Rosalind Russell, Cliff Robertson (making his début). 1955.

THE PRIVATE LIFE OF SHERLOCK HOLMES (Warner, PG): Billy Wilder's marvellous tment of the Holmes legend the spry jokes gradually subside into a moving elegy for lost emotions. Robert Stephens, Colin Stakely; aching, romantic music by Miklos Rozsa. 1970. SECRET HONOUR (Castle Hendring, PG): Philip Baker Hell in

a remarkable performance as the Hitchcock's Strangers on a Train. termented ex-president, Richard Nixon, sputtering forth anecdotes rigmarole and truculent defiance. Directed by Robert Aliman from Donald Freed and Amold Stone's play, 1984.

THROW MOMMA FROM THE TRAIN (Virgin, 15): Denny de Vito's cinema-directmo debut — s Irvely black comedy inspired by with de Vito and Billy Crystal as partners in a murderous deal, and Anne Ramsey as the monstrous

THE WOMAN IN THE WINDOW (Warner, PG): Edward G. Robinson as the professor of criminal psychology, perilously mixed up with murder, blackmail and a Masterly melodrama, directed by Fritz Lang. 1945 YOU'LL NEVER GET RICH (RCA/Columbia, U), Fred Astaire erfnered by Rila Hayworth in a modest but pleasing Columbia musical. Cole Porter's aongs are a little under par, though the stars do their bast to make them sparkle.

GEOFF BROWN

Laugh your head off with our Galaxy Channel.

With BSB, you could chortle your way through every evening. Because, when it comes to comedy, we've everything from 'Dad's Army' to Ben Elton.

You may well die laughing. For the full picture on BSB 5 Channel TV, telephone us free on 0800 800 200.

CUITER TRAC ETTS TO ET25

Compromise is not a word normally associated with Miele. Whilst for a limited period – you can save £50 on the Dishwasher shown our high standards never vary, our prices occasionally do. For example - above. There are similar offers on Washing Machines, Tumble Dryers and Vacuum Cleaners. See your nearest dealer and check out all the savings to be made. Once you've fallen for a Miele, anything else just won't wash. For more information call 0235 554488.

ANYTHING ELSE IS A COMPROMISE

NEW RELEASES

ICA Cinema (071-930 3647).

CURRENT

6 TROUGHT A VAMPIFIE

BLACK RAIN (PG): Chirally Insignificent

MOTORCYCLE (18): Coude, low-budget

CINEMA PARADISO (PG): Gasseppe Tornatore's nostatigo tale of a small Sicilian onema, an appending salule to the movies. Cursons: Maylasi (071 465 8665) Phoenes.

DICK TRACY (PG): The blockbuster of the year — dazzing to look at, though director star, Warren Beatly, does little to breathe life into the comic-strip detective, and lets the

DIFFEAMS (PC): Aleta Kumsteria e fantacia

Barbican (071-638 8691) Plencir (071-637

on themes of violence, ecology, and the artisfic urge to create, uneven, a lough railve, but a viscal load.

POOLS OF PORTUNE (15): Pat O'Connor's gerbied version of Wilson Trevor's novel about an Insh family's turbulent fortunes during the 1920s and 1930s. With Iem Glen and Julie Christie Gurzon West End (071-459 4805).

THE HUNT FOR RED OCTOBER

(PTQ: Sean Connery as a Soviet subman commander trying to defect. Ponderous pre-glesmost disamit. Cannon Fulham Road (071-370 2636) Empire (071-497 5685).

AN INNOCENT MAN (18): Linglessen

round-up of prison drama cliches, with 1 Seleck as an ordinary Joe, wrongfully lated Directed by Peter Yates Odeon West End (071-900 5252/7615)

ABSURD PERSON SINGULAR: Ayckbourn's achingly furny sesious co

4.30pm, Running time: Zhra 25mins.

descard by the author. Whitehall Theatre, Whitehall, SW1 (071-

BERENICE: Lindsay Duncan the love-

230pm. Humany BURN THIS: John Malkovich is eye-

m ournin Friss; John Malikovich is eye-caliclaing but immensed as the vinite force in Lantord Wilson's American comedy, Lyric, Stattesbury Avorage, W1 (071-457 5986), Underground: Peccadity Corous. Mon-Set, 7 50pm, mats Wed and Sat, 2:30pm, Rurning time. 2hrs 55mms.

Ti BLACK ANGEL Frank Finley in so-so revenge drama (about a Nazi durwor) ilial sades nourd to many issues. King's Head Theatre, 115 Upper Street, N1 (071-226 1916). Underground: Highbury & Islington Tues-Sal, Spm. mais Sat and Sun, Spm. Rumning time 2015. Ende July 29.

GASPING: Hugh Laune and Bernard Hill in Ben Etton's corredy about the privalisation of air and other un-Green privalisation of air and other un-unean notions. Rather over the top but loss of laughts. Theathe Royal, Haymarket, SW1 (071-830) 9832), Underground Piccadilly, Mign-Thurs, 8pm, Fri and Sat, 830pm, mails Fri and Sat, 80pm, Fri and Sat, 80pm, Stris 30mms.

☐ HENRY IV: Sound production of Prandello's masterwork Richard Hams effective as the man who must prefend to German's, Chering Crose Road, WC2 (071 887 1116) Underground: Leicetter Square Mon-Sat, 8pm, mai Sat, 4pm Running time: 2hrs 20mms.

HIDDEN LAUGHTER: Felicity Kendal

THE ILLUSION: Over-clever but

m HIDDEN LAUGHTER: Felicity Kendal and Peter Barkwirth in Simon Gray's excellent new play, set in a West Country cottage used for 13 years of rural retreats.

Vaudoville, Strand, WC2 (071-EX6 9968)
Underground: Channy Cross Mon-Fn, 7.45pm, Sat, 8 30pm, mats Wed, 3pm and Sal, 8pm, Rumring time. Zhrs 15mms.

867 1119). Underground: Charing Cross, Mon-Sat, Born, mets Thurs, 3cm and Sat,

♦ INTERNAL AFFAIRS (18): Richard Gere and Andy Garcia as Los Angeles cops

and pogrant Japanes portrait of a family suffering from the after effects of the Hiroshma bomb. Directed by Shohei Imamura, Renort (071-837 8402)

BACK TO THE FUTURE PART IN

Passing of sweet certainties

Remembrance Tricycle

A MAN does not have to be white and sixty-something to regret the passing of the sweet certainties of the British empire. In Trinidad, according to Derek Walcott's 1977 play, elderly blacks look back in fondness to the days before disillusionment stained their cautious hopes for a fine future. Albert Jordan, Walcott's hero, is a retired deputy headmaster, for a time an acting headmaster but never appointed to command his own school. Declaiming for generations of Trinidadians the stimulus to be found in William Blake and Gray's Elegy, he talks like a black Englishman; and Norman Beaton's precise, gravely musical diction establishes him as a relic, sentimentally attached to the colonial past.

"I taught the wrong things," he remarks bitterly but suspicion grows that he never understood these enough to apply them. It is clearly significant that he failed to become a headmaster, courteous and literate though he is, capable of irony too, that English speciality, and pained by the sloppy elisions of local talk. But having filled a lifetime saying that the "village Hampdens" can be found in country churchyards, he fails to see, in his son's decision to stay in Trinidad, that they might also be found in the Caribbean.

In the first and better half. Jordan is being helped by a iournalist to record his memories - a bald theatrical device

OPERA

Cosi fan tutte

Everyman, Cheltenham

Walcott makes fairly acceptable by adorning the linking passages with examples of Jordan's dry wit. He has been a poet and writer of short stories, though possibly only two of these - only two are acted out by the members of his family on whom the characters are

The first is included for his amusement value - a rich Yankee wants to buy the mural Jordan's son has painted on the roof - although we are expected to see the exchanges of father, mother and son within the acted story as precise equivalents of their real-life models. "Where dis man evaporate?" demands the fictional wife (nicely impatient performance by Barbara Assoon) after talking to an empty sofa she had supposed him to be occupying. But as Jordan's wife, her conversation is as crisply funny. The crucial elements in the man's life have been the death of his elder son in the 1970 revolution, and an unconsummated love affair with his white superior in colonial days. His cowardice when she offers to marry him has clouded his life.

As Esther, object of his love.

Nina Marc is touching, but by the time Marc reappears in the present as a brash American, whom she plays horribly, the author's command of his material has gone astray. His characters become counters, pushed into preordained patterns, and though Anton Phillips helps move them about the stage as confidently as before, the delightful unexpectedness of the first act has vanished. See the first half, but if a telephone calls you away in the interval do not be too upset.

JEREMY KINGSTON

THESE days events in the world are moving faster than the theatre can cope with, so that a tale of supposed Albanians arriving in Italy has to pass as if it could never have been anything but fantasy. Stefan Janski's staging of Mozart's opera is clear, plain and good-natured, and these are the qualities of the singing by soloists of British Youth Festival Opera, an enterprise which does not appear this time to have trawled up any extraordinary talent. The simple set by Sarah Ashpole is nicely cool and greywhite, though disfigured in the first act by an ugly triptych of high meat-safe doors at the back: much happier are the costumes, especially Dorabella's white trousersuit and Despina's creation in vivid red and zebra stripes. There is also a supply of carpets and cushions to furnish a garden of love in the pseudo-Albanians' exuberant colours of tangerine, cherry red and black.

The sisters are sung by Elaine

JAZZ

Ruby Braff

Pizza on the Park

Maynard Ferguson

Ronnie Scott's

SOME music is so lyrical, so uplifting, that a critic wonders

why he is being paid to listen to it.

That feeling, which arises all too rarely, returned during the first night of Ruby Braff's two-week residency in Knightsbridge. In his hour-long opening set, the American cornet player once again established his claim to be the most elegant musician in contem-

He certainly does not believe in McKrill and Debra Stuart, neither pitching with total security, though McKrill, with the look of an affronted schoolmistress, shows promise of a proud plaintiveness, and Stuart would, with more control, be a singer of real sensuousness. McKrill's Fiordiligi was somewhat handicapped by the Cheltenham Festival's otherwise admirable crossprogramming, since her secondact aria was sung marvellously last week by Joan Rodgers with the Scottish Chamber Orchestra under Paul Daniel.

Of the suitors, Philip Daggett's Ferrando had some exquisite moments, but the voice at present lacks strength and stamina, while Andrew Dale Forbes's Guglielmo was bluffly charming and hearty. Charles Johnston offers an effective Don Alfonso: a young man but already a proper cynic, standing amusedly and twinkling, and singing with suave confidence and relish. Bernadette Lord as Despina is delightful and witty in recitatives, but her aria in the second act found her surprisingly weak. All the singers seem to gain much from the English translation, which comes across audibly.

PAUL GRIFFITHS

making life easy for himself. At 63 and in less than perfect health, he could have followed the example of most players his age by taking shelter behind a weighty rhythm section. Instead, he has returned with another "chamber jazz" lineup which leaves him thoroughly exposed for virtually the entire performance. With no pianist or drummer, he is accompanied only by the guitarist Howard Alden and

The line-up means, of course, that the music loses some of its aggression and earthiness. Braff, however, is less interested in volume than in timbre and subtlety. Aiden and Tate, who have been rekindling the spirit of John

Kirby in the Alden-Barrett Quintet, are ideal for this purpose.

Alden, in particular, is emerging as the bass player Frank Tate.

POCK Aztec Camera Hammersmith Odeon

WHEN support bands pick up a reputation for being a hard act to follow, no one wants to follow them. Aztec Camera would definitely have baulked at going on after an impressive acoustics set by a wiry Glaswegian imp, had the imp not been called Roddy Frame. Roddy Frame is the band leader, singer-songwriter and vital force in Aztec Camera. Roddy Frame really is Aztec Camera.

Being a hard act to follow, Frame opted for a change of mood. He swopped his jeans for combat trousers, his acoustic guitar for an electric, and his understated folk sound for heavy rock. There was a brief interim period. when he and his newly appointed four-man band trotted out a few of the best ditties from his first two albums - "Still on Fire", "High Land Hard Rain", "Oblivious" but a rounded, melodic guitar solo crept in to the next number and the tone for the rest of the evening

Between the two sets Frame

provisation from pre-arranged sections. Spontaneity and struc-

Braff's own playing remains impeccable, especially in that bell-like lower register. He occasionally uses a mute, but for the most part relies on his complete mastery of tone. He also steers clear of the conventional repertoire, tackling

the more obscure Cole Porter or Subtlety will never be the hallmark of Maynard Ferguson's

Billie Holiday compositions.

ture are perfectly married.

resorts to mere time-keeping.

managed to get through most of his less-tuneful, fourth album Stray. In the first he introduced "a male heterosexual feminist song and then changed tack: "No, it's just a number", preferring to let the songs do the talking. In the second set, there was more shouting than talking, with heavy treatments for "Walk Out to Winter" and "From Pillar to Post". However, it was the newer stuff which came in for brutal decibel abuse. After what seemed like an attempt to win the franchise to reform Lynyrd Skynyrd, Frame led his band off for a breather. However, when he came back, with "special friend" Mick Jones in tow, he pumped it up some more for "Good Morning Britain" and "How it is". Even though both Stray, songs are pretty angry, one was entitled to wonder whether bringing on the former Clash guitarist was Frame's clever way of saying he was poking fun. Certainly, when he plucked the guitar strings with his teeth, howled out the notes of the national anthem, and exited with the words "Peace and Love". someone somewhere was having his leg pulled, music. Forty years after making an all-purpose player who never his name with Stan Kenton, the One advantage of the format is that Braff avoids the predictable Canadian trumpeter is playing elder statesman with Big Bop formula of theme-solo-theme. Nouveau, an orchestra made up of When listening to the players musicians less than half his age. weaving lines of classically re-His bass player, indeed, is just 18 strained, contrapuntal texture, it is years old. often difficult to senarate im-

JASPER REES

The high notes were being struck from the minute Ferguson appeared on stage. "Night In Tunisia" set the tone for the evening, with Ferguson slugging it out with the brass and reeds. Not a night for the big band connoisseur, to be sure, but the vigour and enthusiasm of the ensemble work were diverting enough. Like Braff, Ferguson at least deserves credit for not hiding behind glib session men or tired all-stars.

CLIVE DAVIS

CINEMA GUIDE

ANITA: DANGES OF VIGE (18): Rosa von Praumbern s eccentric lantasy portrait of Anita Berber, a forgotten dancer who Gootf Brown's assessment of films in London and (where indicated with the symbol ♦) on release across the country.

(PG): A sturdy crowd-pleaser to round off the series, with some armising jokes at the Western's expense. Abother J. Fox. anched into a vortex of insecurity and corruption. Tised thriller, given some kick by western's expense, Microsel J. Fox, Christopher Lloyd, Mary Steenburgen; director, Robert Zemecks. Camden Parkway (071-267 7034) Camden Parkway (071-267 7034) Camdens Baker Street (071-935 9772) Smish director Mike Figgs. Cannon Futham Road (071-370 2636) Plaza (071-497 9999) Whiteleys (071-792 Contraction: Detect Street (UT 1-325 9772)
Fuffiam Road (071-370 2636) Empire (071-497 9999) Plaza (071-497 9999) White (071-792 3303/3324). ♦ JOE VERSUS THE VOLCANO (PG):

Tom Hanks as a downtrodden man given six months to live. Over indulgent, episodic ◆ BLIND FURY (15): Fruity comedyantasy from water-director John Patrick adventure respired by a Jepanese samural series, with flutger Hauer as a blind Vielmam veteran effortlessty combatting the Stanley, with Meg Ryan Cannons: Baker Street (071-935 9772) Fulham Road (071-370 2636) Haymarket (071-839 1527) Oxford Street (071-636 0310) Warner (071-439 0791) Whiteleys (071-792 raph Director, Philip Noyce. Carmons: Oxford Street (U71-638 0310). Parmon Street (071-630 0631).

 DARK ANGEL (18) Horida action holum with Swedish hulk Dolph Lundgren vice cop battling an intergalache drugs LORD OF THE FLIES (15): Flat new version of William Golding's savage novel, instalkenty turning the English schoolboys merooned on a tropical island into Americas mirtary academy cadets. Paul Baltinezar Getty heads a largely unknown cast. Harry Hora directs. trafficker. Cannons: Haymarket (071-839 1527) Oxford Street (071-836 0310). ♦ SHE'S OUT OF CONTROL (12): ♦ SHE'S OUT OF CONTHOL (12): Shellow coming-of-age comedy seen from the perspective of an over-protective faither (Tony Danza), whose 15-year-old girl suddenly starts to drive boys with Am Dolenz, Walface Shawn, director, Sian Dragoti. Cannon Chelses (071-325-5093) Odeons: Karsington (071-612-6644/S) Sweat Cottings (071-722-5905) West End (071-93) 5252/7615) Wintskips (071-792-3303/3324). Hopia Grecca: Centrons: Felham Road (071-370 2635) * Strathasbury Avence (071-836 8351) Whileid (071-792 3300/3624).

MONSIEUR HIRE (15): Paince Leconto II intense, stylesh verson of Simenon novel about a bachelor's dark obsession with his neighbour, a strilling achievement by director Patrice Leconte. With Michel Blanc, Sancine Bonnare Millenia (171-285 4225).

 MOON 44 (15): Floutine futuristic drama set in 2038, when grant corporations fight to gain control of natural resources on distant planets. Cast includes Michael Paré, Malcoln Carnons: Heymarket (071-639 1527) Ordord Street (071-635 0310) Totashium Court Road (071-636 6148).

 MUSIC BOX (15): Cost-Gaviar anguished, absorbing drama about a Chicago criminal attorney (Jessica Langa) delendring her tather from accusations of war crimes, With Armin Mueller Stahl. Camden Parkway (071-257 7034) Camons: Chelses (071-352 5095) Partion Street (071-930 0631) Shethesbury Avenue (071-836 8861) Hotting Hill Commit Avenue (07-1535 Easts) Notating His Commun (071-727 6755) Odeons: Kensangton (071-502 6544/5) Odeon Mexicarities (071-980 6111) Swiss Codage (071-722 5505) Screen on the Green (071-225 0530) Whiteleys (071-792 5303/3324).

NUNS ON THE RUN (12): Encidin mid bbie Coltrane sheltering as nuns in Jane zman's convent school. Fast and Jonathan Lynn. Odeowi: Kenaington (071-102 68/4/5) Mezzanine (071-90 6711) Swiss Cottage (071-722 5905).

A PRIETTY WOMAN (15): Shamele girl-fashmaed mmantic cornedy, given some modest charm and spanide by Julia Roberts. Director. Garry Marshall. Connons.: Challung. (171-352 5996) Oxford Smain. (171-356 5110) Odecns: Meszanine (171-306 111) Swiss Cottage (171-722 5905) Oxford Smain. (171-306 111) Whiteleys (171-705 2775) Warner (171-439 1791) Whiteleys (171-792 3300) 3334).

REUNION (12): The rise of Nazism seen through the story of two teerage friends—tymber screen material, but powerfully handled by director Jamy Schatzberg, With Civisten Anholt, Semuel West, Jason Schooter and Schooter Schooters is; script by Harold Pr Odeon Haymarket (071-839 7697)

◆ REVENGE (18): Fattering version of Jim Harmson's navella about a doomed love triangle in Mission. Kiewn Commercians as a retified Nevy pilot, playing with the by remanding his

THEATRE GUIDE

Jeremy Kingston's assessment of current theatre kr London
House full, returns only Some seats available Seats at all prices

McDermoth Cld Vic, Waterloo Roset, SE I (071-929 7616) Underground/BR: Waterloo, Mon-Fri, 730pm, Set, 745pm, mets Wed, 230pm and Set, 4pm. Running Lime: 1hrs 45mms. Ende

E MAN OF THE MOMENT: Mestady hand comedy by Ayahburn good meets evil on the Costa del Sol, with Michael on the Costa on 100, with micrase Cambon, Palle Burlies, Globe Theatrs, Shaftesbury Avenue, W1 (971-487 3857), Underground, Piccadilly Circus, Mon-Fn, 7 45pm, Sat, 8 30pm, mars Wed, 3pm and Sat, 5pm. Running time: 2hrs 30mms.

D MOTHER COURAGE GAMPLE Jackson in powerful voice as Brechi s wandering moneymaker. Mermaid. Puddle Dock, ECA (071-410 0000) Mon-Fn, 7 45pm, Sat, 8pm, met Sat, John Running time: Zhrp 45mms ET RETURN TO THE PORBIDDEN PLANET: Hit rock 'n' roll show, lacky but jolly.

inexpicable winner of Best Musical award. mer produce waver or best nuclear award. Cambridge Theatre, Seven Dahs WC2 (071-379 5299) Underground Leacester Square Mon Thurs, Born, Fri and Sat. 8 30pm, mate Fri and Set, Spm. Flushing time: 2hrs 30mms. host's wife (Madeleine Stowe). Director

Tony Scutt. Whiteleys (071-792-5303/3324). A SHORT FILM ABOUT LOVE (18):

◆ SWEETIE (15): Prickly Australian

tro (071-437 0757). A TALE OF SPRINGTIME (U): EAC Flohmer's absorbing study of the games people play, with Florence Darel as a caphoous chilised delight. Camden Plaze (071-485-2443) Cheisea. Cinema (071-351 3742)

35C 2

Self Control of the C

The second secon

PRINTED TO THE PRINTE

AND THE STREET STREET

TOTAL STREET

And the second s

Marie Barbara and Administration of Control of the Control of the

$150 TO 122 2 1700

TELEPHONE THE PARTY

Per Control of the Co

THE PARTY OF THE PARTY.

RADIO 1

BORGE -

RADIO 2

young man leiven up by three women who run a men's clothing store.

Carenon Piocadilly (071-437-3561).

TREASURE ISLAND (PG): An old favourite dutifully fizned by Charlton Heaton's son, Fraser, with Heaton semor as Long John Silver, Christian Bale as Jim lad, and a ♦ TREMORS (15): A house full of The memoria (19) in mass our or bumpkins is assaled by four glant worths. Affection is and-up of the monister movies of the Fifties, with clever special effects. Kewn Bason, Fred Ward; director, and landament.

TRIUMPH OF THE SPIRIT (15):

THE VANISHMES 112: The boyleand of a tourst kidnapped in France hunts for his taunang captor. Sick their in the Richcook mould from Dutch director George

◆ THE WITCHES (PGI: Rook! Dahl's tale THE WITCHES (FG): Rosk Danta same of writches attempting to turn-children mile muse, pleasantly estapted and repossibly soled (especially by Anjetica Huston), though without much sign of a major director at the blant (Brooks Fleet).
 Cunnon Tomorphian Court Flood (171-535 6140) Withburys (171-712 $302/1524).

IN REPERTORY NATIONAL FILM THEATRE (071-829 3232): Chepin's City Lights, Anthony Memi's magistenal Wastern, Nan of the West.

midded by Skin Thomas and Phelian """

[] JEFFREY BERNARD IS UNWELL: Tom Cords as the drunk-about-nown column lucked overnight in his lucal. A great show if you're happy in the company of drunks. Apollo, Shaffesbury Avenue, W1 (071-437 2653). Underground: Piccacky Craiss. Mon-Fri, Born, Sal, 8 30pm, mat Sal, 5pm. Running

THE SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL:

Tarity Good revivel.
National Theatre (Oliver) (as above).
Tonight, 7 15pm, mint today, 2pm Running amer 2hrs 55mms.

Running time: 2hrs 40mins.

C SHIPLEY VALENTINE: Bibabeth
Estenson as Willy Roccell's december wirm furning price Greek ryright
Duke of York's Theatre, St Martin's Laine, WC2 (071-836 5122), Underground: Laineaser Square Mon-See, Spin, wats Thess. Spin and Set, Spin. Running brie. 28th 15mins. THE WILD DUCK: Spetty on great evening. Phoenix, Chering Cross Road, WC2 (071-835 2294). Underground: Tottenham Court Road, Mon-Sat, 7:30pm, mats Thurs and II THE WOMAN IN BLACK; Se did graves.

Fortune Theeire, Russell Street, WC2.
(971-536 2238). Underground: Covert Ga.
Mon-Set, Spm. mass Tues. 3pm and Set,
4pm. Running time: 2ms.

LAST CHANCE: A Mester Betty: Men in

Prince of Wales Theatre (071-839 5972). : El Blood Brothers: Albery (071-957 1115): . . . Buddy: Victora Palage (0

WORD-WATCHING Answers from page 28

BALBUTIENT

CONCERTS

Ton'l Beating Ledge/ Assolutio/Believ Tomor. Sat. Mon, Tues Remee & Juliet Wed Geogle (Ton'l Sevillano, Sombert Stoogl.)

porary jazz.

(b) Stammering, stumbling and bumbling in one's speech, from the Latin balbutine to stutter: "Speech that is imperfect, balbutient, and inarticulate." SOUTER (a) A shoemaker, as in Burns's Souter Johnnie, or cobbler, ultimately from the Latin sucre to sew or stitch: "How can it be but a maine absurdity in all the kingedom, that a Cooke, a Currier, a Souter, a Potter should therefore be accounted noble?"

(c) A book that purports to include everything possible on a topic, originally Justinian's encyclopedia of Roman civil law in 50 volumes, from the Greek pan everything + dektes a receiver: "The old 45 records, each one a pandect of incontrovertible yammer and CONFRICATE (b) To rub or flay, from the Latin fricare to rub: "Hey, Mr Park, don't you know enough to come in out of the sand? You could had the hide confricated right off you, you know that?"

ENTERTAINMENTS

LES LIAISONS DANGEREUSES

BANEL J. TRAVANTI

offers Valmont WINNING MOVE By Raymond Keene.

This position is from the game Andersson (White) - Mestel (Black), London 1982. In this decisive last round game, Black played 1 ... Rd5, after which White went on to win. Can you do better? Solution in Solution to yesterday's position: 1 ... Rc1+! 2 Rxc1 Qa1+! 3 Kxa1 dxc1/Q+ 4 Bb1 Qc3 mate.

TOM CONTI JAMES BOLAM IS UNWELL'
Directed by Ned Spertin
AN OUTBIGHT WINNER EVE SI

CAMBRIDGE Enthan ST. WC2
CAMBRIDGE Enthan ST. WC2
C71.379 8259 CC 071 379 4444
(no big fee) 071 457 9777/081
240 7941
WINDOWS REET INDISCAL
CLIVER AWARDS APRIL 1999
Shakespeare's Propoten
Rock-end-Foll Masterisco SETTIMEN TO THE FORBIDDEN PLANET
"Joy and accellonated III the stage and thefit the theater" Time MOD-Thu 8 Fri & Sat 500 & 8.30
All Seeds £7.50 Fri Sum only
BOOKING TO LAN '91

DRIENT LANE THE ATRE ROYAL

CC Chie Ret 24hr 7 days 671

STP 4444/240 7200 Cris 831

6226

MISS SALGON

"RUBBIALS COME AND GO
THE ONE WILL STAY" S THE EVER 7.46 MAIS Wed & 681 58m Check daily for returns. A few balcour words usually available.
Lateomers not adoutled until WED MATS ONLY AVAILABLE DUNE OF YORKS 836 5122 CC 836 9837 CC 836 3664/579 4444/741 9999 COMEDY OF THE YEAR ORVIES AVERTED 1969 FLIZARITH ESTEMBER IN WILLY BURSELL'S "GEEN"

PORTUNE: Box Office & cc 071 836 2238 24th cc big fee 071 497 9977 Supan HUE's THE WOMAN IN BLACK Adapted by Stephen Mallatratt
'A BRELLIANTLY EFFECTIVE
SPING CHELLER Guardian MASTERLY Emp CHELLING' IN GREPPING' FT 'PREST RATE' In
"Take Transmillions" T Out "MASTELL": ESP GRANGE AND CONTINUE FT PRINTS TRATE IN "Take Tranquillours" T Out Even 8 Mais Tuen 3 Set 4 AIR CONDITIONED THEATH, "TROORAY FOR ROCKERS" DR., NOW BOOKING TO JAM 12 191 PLOBE THEATRE BO (CC) O71-437 3667
"MCHAEL CAMEON and
PETER HOWLES ARE SUPERIN
ALAN AYCKNOONS'S
MASTERLY COMEDY" TIME MAN OF THE MOMENT Mon-Fri Euge 7.45. Matthees Wee 3.0 Suburdays 5.0 & 8.30

HAYMANNET THEATHE ROYAL BO 071-930 9832 or 071 579 4444 (24hr oc hot line no big fee) 071 240 7200/081 741 9999 big fee and usual agents

STEVE LINERATORE

والتعلقم مناوات

LONDON PALLAGRAM SO & COTT 457 977 7575 CC (kkg fee) 071 457 9977 (24 krs) 071 579 444 0881 741 9999 Orps 071 240 798 Karn and Heatmerstein's SHOW BOAT Even 730 Mats Wed, Sat 2.30 The Opera Morth/RMC production. Limited Sentons 25 July - 22 Seg "A TREMENT" Times LYRIC HARMSCRIFTE OR 1 74
2311 (cc no bing fee 071 63 3464) Reduced brice previer
7-15pm Biblisty's Moorn D'ANTHUR PL determined in Berrid Freenam, Studio 2.00
8.00pm LAPA Fissibil Shows New York Stone Or ALL Salongs New York Stone Sto PROCESEE O71-867 1044/1111cc Abo CC (no bing feet 071 497 9977/579 4444/001 741 999 GPB: 071 240 7941 THE PUTER MALL COMPANY BOOK'S "MASTERPECE" D.Mail THE WILD DUCK "THE FRESSY PRODUCTION

FRICTION ROLL TO ST. 1044 cc (no bigs fee) 071 867 1211/07: S79 4444 Crusps 071 200 794: THE SOURCE NUMBER ALPRE NUMBERAL INTO THE WOODS

THE LONGER YOU WAIT
THE LONGER YOU'LL WAIT
AIR CONDETIONED THEATRE OLD VIC B.O./OC 071 928 7616 CC (Dkg (eg) 240 7200/579 4444 081 741 9999, Grps 930 6123 Mon-Fri 7.30, Wed mat 2.50, Se 4.00 & 7.48 4.00 & 7.48
THE ILLUSION
"A WOODERFUL PLAY ...
EXUMENATIVE GUNCHANT
EXTENSION GUNCHAN
EXTENSION FUNCTIVE
EXTENSION FUNCTIVE
EXTENSION FUNCTIVE
OFF BE MAD TO MESS IT

PICCABILLY 071 967 1118 oc no big fere: 967 1111/961 741 9999 071 379 4444 CAMENI/bigs feet 071 497 9977 CAMENI ADEXAM EMICONOSON MACONIMOY CHIMA BELLIMAN In Michael O'Estan's THE ROCKY HORROR Directed by Robin Letevre Mon-Thair Spin Fri & Sat 7 & 9.15 Per 11/2 hours ARR COMMITTEE THEATRE est KOWARD BO 671 7 1 First Call 24hr 7 Day 8 3464 (aby fee) ANYTHING GOES ASPECTS OF LOVE
"AUTORIEW LLOVE WILDRIGHTS BREET" D.Te!
Lyttes by DON BLACK
& CHARLES HART
Directed by TREVOR NURN
Eves 7.45 Main Wed & Su 3.0
Gueue dally for returns. Strictly no admittance for telecomers soow southern to Realism Page

CHEMINE 80 071 754 1166/071
579 4444 /081 741 9999/071
240 7200 AT NO BIGG FEE
GROUPS 071 930 6125
180511. SANE
BANTHOUSE LAPOTABLE
SHADOWLANDS
ONE OF THE REST ACTED AMD
PROPERTY OF THE REST ACTED ENGLY ON MODIFICATION OF THE REST ACTED ENGLY OF THE REST ACTED
ENGLY ON THE REST ACTED
ENGLY ON THE REST ACTED
AVENUAGE
ALEXANDER WILL PLAY JOY
DAVENSAN OPEN ANN Response Park (71-486) 2431 oc 486 1933/497 9977 (big fee 24hrs) MUCH Abo ASSUT NOTHING TODA, Sat 2.50 & 7.45. FT 7.48, ROY RIDO IN THE FANTASTICKS Previews from Mon. HOYAL STANCEPEANS. CONTANY LONDON (071 638 8891 cc TRATFORD UPON AYON (O THEATRE

INVERTIBLE ABOUT MOTHEMS
To day 1.30
THE SWAN: THIS LAST DAYS OF
DOWN PLAN TO DAY 1.30. TROUGHS AND CRESSIAN TOU'L. Tomor
7.30
(789 414999, RSC's 24br oc box office (big fee) 071 497 9977 ABLER'S WELLS 071-278 8916 First CMI 24 hm 7 days 240 7200 31 July to 25 Aug MARCEL MARCEAU.

SHAFTESHINT SO & cc 671. 379 5399 cc (no bitg fee) 379 4444 Diag feel 497 9977/981 741 9999 Even 7.45 Gat Mat 3ons (Tours 19 Judy at 7.40) SONG & DANCE GREAT ENTERTAINMENT THE VERY BEST TODAY MARTI WAYNE, WESS SLEEP

SONG & DANCE
"IT'S ANOTHER HIT" D MOS!
MUST END I SEPT
SEATS AVAILABLE ON DOORS
THEATRE AIR CONSTITUTED

WYIQUEARYS THE ATRIC 071-067 1116 oc 071-067 1111/071 379 4444 (no hig fee) 071-497 9977 / 061 741 9999 0kg fee) BECHARD HARRIS "RETHINGS TREMPROMY IN A "RETURNS TRIBUPANT SE A
"RETURNS TRIBUPANT SE A SEGUIT OF TREATMECAL MAGNODER MASS
"The performance will be commaONE OF THE PREST TH LONDON FOR YEARS" CHARVE
EDWARD DE SOUNA
LEMES SANDONET

VARMEVELE 80 4 CC 071 836 9967 CC 081 741 9999 (to Rep. & 24 hr CC 385 2428 / 379 4444 Okg feel Mon-Fri Evgs 7.45 Mani Wed 3.0 Sah 5.0 & 8.30 FELMOTT MENDAL PETER RANKWOOTH RECHARD VERMON RELYES SCHOOL VERMON SOT MEETS GALLERY SUMMER SHOW OP RUSSIAN ART Mon-Fit 10-6 SM 10-L 29 Trained St., WL 971-495 4747. J. M PAYTEREGON 19 Albertmerie St. WI. 071 629 4119, EXCENT THOM Recome Paintings By TOM CDAYES PREA. 31-218 July Mon-Fil 9.30-6: Set 10-1. HIDDEN LAUGHTER
A New Play by SERION GRAN
"A SAD DEFORM COMMITTED S. The VALPOLE CALLERY, 38 Dover St. Wi. 071-499 6626, VIDELTIAN RANCOULE AND WOCOCO PARTIENCE LAND HOCOCO PARTIENCE LAND HOCOCO PARTIENCE LAND MODERT 10-6.50, Sats 16-1. ECTORIA PALACE 071.833
317 OC 071.379 4444/244
200/081 741 9999 4444/244
Croupe 071 930 6128
EUDDY
"N's Studdy Brilliant" Son
"Shoot mandatherated ten —
I leve this show" Som Exp.
The man, The Music, The Legend NELOCISTANI, 167 New Blood St., W1. THE PALLANT HOUSE COLLECTIONS; Severiel, Mich-niana, Meura, Severiel, Mich-lana, Moura, Severiel, Mich-lan, 106.25, 106.30. Tel. 671-629 0602.

CORCON MAYFARE CRESSON SE-OTI 465 8865 PERLEDON NORRET IN COMERNA PARAMEN-SO DEO PROPER I LO (NOE BRO)-1.30 6:10 8:40, "The unit wind" D Medi. Witner of Occur for best foreign filte.

ADVERTISEMENT

TELEX 925088 DOMEST SAVIDATED PRANDELLOS HENRY IV PRIVATE TRAIND 260 0300 oc 497 3977
741 9999/579 4444
COMMENT OF THE YEAR
STEPPING OUT
"Laugh yourself sib-" Tout
460-571 8 7781 3 Sec 5 & 6.30
ONLY 10 MORE WESIGS ADVERTISERS

CITY OF LONDON FESTIVAL
(071 248 4250) TODAY:
1.05pm Bittleragate Raft, John
Lill. 5.85pm 54 Lawrence Jewry, Organ Rechal/ Catherine Emsie, 7.35pm Gathelial Oid Lihrany The Wallace Collection.
6.30pm Barblean Rail Carl Flanch International Viola Composition Fluid Stage Part 2
- The Philharmontie. 2.30pm 6
7.30pm $4 Mary Aldermany
Pages Shore. on the day.
This ROYAL OPERA Todas
6.00 William Tell. Tomar 7.30
Lo Bohano. grys Show.

Row. 1.-Com Binkepagnete

R. John LBL 5.55pin The

R. John LBL 5.55pin The

Rich Gharch Organ Rowlind/

ridd Tittler-larghon. 7.50pin

Apail of St Peter and vinerals/

Signa. St. Hiery Addersonry,

grys Show. THEATRES ALDINYCH 071 836 6404 CC 081
741 9999 (No Fee) & 24 hr cc 836
2628/379 4444 (nks fee)
8004 Now! FOR A LIMITED
SEASON NINT FROM SEPT 19
WILLIAM EDILIMS
WILLIAM BAKTER IN
NOR. COMMAND'S
PRIVATE LIVES OPERA & BALLET ENGLISH NATIONAL BALLET

GLYHDESOURKE PESTIVAL OPERA WITH
The Lender Fallmannenic
Today, Sal & Moo at 6.20 Maf's Kabaseva. Tomor & Tue at 5.50. Sun at 4.50 Capricels. Returned tickets only. For possible returned tickets only. For possible returned tickets (cory.) ABELPHE 071 836 7611 or 07 240 7913/4 CC 081 741 999 071 836 7388/071 379 643 First Call 24hr cc 071 497 997 (no bits fee) Grps 071 930 61 NOW BOOKING TO OCTOBE ME AND MY GIRL ROYAL OPERA HOUSE 071 240 1066/1911. Standby Info 836 6903. S CC 65 amphi scals avail on the day. ALEXETY 867 1115 CC 867 1111 379 4444 (No bkg fee) 741 9999 497 9977 (Olio fee) Cps 867 1113 EXST BERSHEAR SWELLY BUSSELL'S WILLY BUSSELL'S BLOOD BROTHERS

STANSING RING DEE

STORESTING A MELICIPATE
British Mestcaire in the ford resize the endience in its ford resize the endience in the ford resize the second of the second and rearing the approval" D Med Even 7.48 Mats Thurs 5 Set 4 ALDAFYCH 071 836 6404 (cc no bkg fee 379 4444 240 7200 741

RUN FOR YOUR WIFE WITHER AND DIRECTED BY

APOLLO 071-437 2663 cc 379 4444 & 081 741 9999 cc (bkg fee) 071-240 7200 Grps 930 6123 Mon-Fri A, Bet S & 8.30 until 28 July APOLLO VICTORIA SS 071 82 8665 cc 630 6262 Groups 82 6188 cc Tickenaster 241 37 4444 1st Call 240 7200 K Provas 081 741 9999 Grps 930 6123 Eves 7.45 Mais Tue & Sat 3.0 SEVENTIN BIT YEARS

STARLIGHT EXPRESS Music by ANDREW LLOYD WEBSER
Lyrics by RICHARD STILGOE
Directed by TREVOR NUNN
SOME SEATS AVAIL THIS WEBS
OAP'S £5 on Tues Mais
NOW BOOKING TO BARCE 91,
AIR CONDITIONED THEATRE

CHICAGO THE PERTITION THE ATRECT CO. ATRECT. ATRECT CO. ATRECT. ATRECT CO. AT COMMENT BOY 1045 OF 579 4444 /741 9999/836 3464 (pigs fee) FABULOUS SINGLETTES IN STOP BY THE NAME OF LOVE for 4 weeks only Mon-Thur 8 Fri & Sat 6 & 9

SHIRLEY VALENTINE
Eves 8 Mats Thu 3. Sat 5
The audience roors approved.
Shirley's spell to unbroughable.
D. Mail The femalest & the most

. 2_5. 4,5 : 4. .

"GASPING"
by MENT ELTON
Directed by Bob Spiers
Breakladdingly Funny" I on Sur Schiller Ff "A traditional months afty play—and Eac Josean read have necessarily Est HTE Mon-Thurs Eves at Spirit;
Fri & Sat Spirit & Sopon
Bas. Office Now Open BER MARSTYS Enquiries 071 839 2244 CC 24hr 579 444 (big fee) 497 9977 fisig fee) Group Bales 930 5125 ANDREW LLOYD WINDERLYS AWARD WINDERLYS AWARD WIBERING IMPRICAL
THE PHANTOM OF
THE OPERA
DAVE WILLETTS
JILL MICHAEL
WASHINGTON CORNICK
INVO BRITCH PROPRIETE
DIVICED BY HAROLD PRIVACE
EVEN 7-48 MISS Wed & Sal 3
SOLD OUT UNITS. JOST BLAR *92
QUELIE DARLY FOR HET

Feetral Hall
CIRQUE DU SOLEIL
"Can of the most Maginal over sings of my the" Ellen John TracSat over 8 Sun ever 5 Mar 5a
3 Sun 2 30 add Mat 8 Aup 3
GPRIMS 21 SULY FOR 3 WEEKS LYRIC Shaftsbury Ave 071 A37 3686 cc 071 379 4444/497 9977 (bkg ton) BURN THIS
By Lantery Wilson
Date of the Control of

ITEMAID 410 0000 cc 379 444 1741 9999/836 3464 (bkg fee 741 9999/836 3464 Outp fee
GLENDA JACKSON
"MAGNIFICENT" D EXP
MOTHER COURAGE
"Philip Provided discribing production" S Exp production of SExp prod MATIONAL THEATRE BO 071 $22 2282/ Grps (Only) 620 0741 24 hr oc blog fee; 497 9977 QLIVER TON'T 7.00 KING LEAR Shall HEW LORDON Dries' Lane WC2 BB 671 405 0072 CC 404 4079 Cros 406 1857 (All above sid man-bers well from Smit) All Hts 379 4444 Tax from W H Smith Tra-4444 Tax from W H Smith Tra-24 Standard (Grp blas) 930 6125 THE ANDREW LLOYD WEBSER TYS. ELDT INTERNATIONAL AWARD WINNING MUSICAL WHATE WHATEN SUBSAL CATS
EVER 7.45 THE & SEE 3.00 & 7.45
LATECOMERS NOT ADMITTED
WHILE ALDITOREM IS IN MOTION, PLEASE BE PROMPT.
BUTS OPEN SE 6.45
NOW BOOKING TO 25TH ARM 91
THE LOWER YOU WAIT

OLD VIC 071 928 7616 DESER JACOBS IN KEAN
The dramatic story of the legendary & Samboyard 19th sector Edition Kean

A SHUFT FILM AISOUT LUVE (18):
Kraysztol Kleslowski's poweru! and eene tale of voyeunem and sexual ballur. Second in the senes-based on the Ten Commandments.
Premiere (071-439 4470).

w arms in a just many necessarian portraid of an unstable treanager wreaking have on the suburban life of her shunking water data. A first father class to the Jane Complen, posed on the knife-edge between nightware and larce.

teenager hoping to push his new friend (Anna Teyscadre) into her father's arms. A

3 WOMEN IN LOVE (18): Amistile comedy of search manners from West German film-maker Rudolf Thome, about a naive

THE MEUP! THE ME DOWN! (18): Young man with a psychaltre history hopes to win pompactress's love by tying her to a back. Spicy extravaganza from Spain's Pedro Amodóvar — leas of a madcap what then his earlier (itms: Gate (071-727 4043) Lumière (071-836 0691) Screen on the 196 (071-435 3366).

effects. Kewn Bacon, Fred Ward: direct Ron Underwood. Cannon Cuded Samet (071-539 0370) Pieza (071-497 9999).

 THUMPH OF THE SPINIT (16s Worth your dust house them — the first filmed entirely at Auschantz — with Willem Datios as a Greek baser forced to fight for his survival Director, Robert M. Young, Odeon-Mezzanisia (071-930-6111) ● TROP BELLE POUR TOIT (18): Glarand Departieu critere between his wife and matress. Skriut satire on marital mores hom heatrend Blan.

Premiere (071-439 4470).

Cannon Tottanhem Court Road (071-838 6148) Nativo (071-537 0757). ♦ VINCENT & THEO (15); Robert

RITZY (071-737 2121): Jean de Florette And Manor des Sourcas.

D SHADOWLANDS: Nigel Hewthorps, Jane Lapoteine in bucking play about C.S. Lews's Indian Summer Jove. Dusen's Thomans, Statischery Antonia. W1 (071-734-1166)07-4-39 3849; Underground: Proceedity Circus. Mon-Set, 8pm, mals Wed, 8pm and Set, 4-30pm. Blussion Here: 2the Affords.

Peter Hall prosection with Alex Jennings to top form set toe comically selfeth Hallman. A 5972.: Ellood Brothers: Albery (071-637 11161: Buddy: Victoria Palace (071-634 1317). Elloudy: Victoria Palace (071-634 1317). Ellous: New London

Theatie (071-405 0072). Ellou Lieteonia
Dangerettes: Ambassader Theatre (071-636 8111). Ellous and My Gert: Adelphy
Theatie (071-836 7611). Ellous
Misserables: Palace Theatre (071-434
0909). Ellous
Misserables: Palace Theatre (071-434
0909). Ellous
Misserables: Palace Theatre (071-836
1443). Ellouse
The Phantom of the Operal:
(postal bookungs only) Her Mayesty's Theatre Aldovych Theatre (071 836 6404)

3 Starlight Express: Apolio Viotoria (071 628 8655).

Ticket information on member theatres supplied by Society of West End Theatre

VICTORIA WOOD

UP WEST

BUDDY

BUDDY
The Buddy Helly Story
A NEW SQUECAL
"Secretal Steff Stor Tel.
"I Loved RY Fin Three
BUDDY
Mon-Thurs 200 FH & Sat 5.30 &
8.30. ALL SEATS W. PRICE
FRIDAYS 6.30 PRIF
HOW SOOKHES TO LAK 1991

WHITEMALL, BO 867 1119 02867 1111/379 4444 (no big (et) 497 9977/741 9999 24hr (big fee) ALAM AYCEBOURD'S ACHINGLY FURBY TING

ABSURD PERSON

SINGULAR

WORLD SERVICE ART GALLERIES

ij.

EISH GALLERY 17 Leich St. WC1. Tel: 071-242 5173 LANES WALFORD Retrospec-tive Exhibition of Ceremica. 1980-1990, units 21 July Mem - Sat 10-5.30

SHOWE SHOWE

CINEMAS

CURZON PROCEST Phoesix St. off Charing Cross Rd 671 240 9661 PHILIPPE NORSET is:
CREMIA PARAMETO (PG) Proces
of 1.00 (not Sun) 3.20 6.10 9.40. (Wigner of OSCAR for best fereign film). AWAZON WEST EMB Sharkstricy Awazon W1 071 439 4905 labe Glass Julie Christie in FOOLS OF FORTUNE (139 Proce at. 1.46 (Not Sum) 3.55 6.05 5.25.) TO PLACE YOUR ENTERTAINMENT

> THE TIMES ADVERTISERS TEL: 071-481 1920 ADVERTISING 971-481 9313 TEL: 071-481 4008

TELEVISION & RADIO

هكذامن الأحمر

BBC 1

6.00 Ceetax 8.30 BBC Breakfast News presented by Nicholas Wirchell and Juli Dando 8.55 Regional news and weather

aker

ropean

nion

ledge

Fried Fried

in the second

Talengine .

व्येकाराज क

Complete the control of the control

111 17 × 17 × 19 €

7 107 008

1 × 11 1 1

The state of the s

Inde

THE TO

 $\label{eq:second_eq} || \cdot ||_{L^{2} = \frac{1}{2} \frac{1}{2$

では 東京

27 245 mm

 $\cdots = q_{t|\underline{k}_{p}}$

A TOTAL LAND

- Die Bass

1 100

- At Land

200,000

tent light

1000

1. 17 11. 2.

at mag

10.15

1000

A 0.0 2003

1.15

-11: Mar

eas ta

 (x_{i_1}, y_i)

4 377

100 0 23

A Company

See Maria

W 25-12

L. 4

CAMPAGE SPACE

4, 25

9.00 News and weather 9.05 The Chipmunks 9.25 Why Don't You . . ? Entertaining ideas for bored youngsters (r) 10.00 News and weather followed by The Jetsons. Cartoon adventures of a family of the future 10.30 Playdays from Abbotsbury, Dorset 10.55 Five to Eleven. Bnan Blessed reads

Though the second of the secon prose and poetry February Paris Services 11.00 News and weather followed by Hudson and Halls. The Kiwis prepare summer salads, helped by actress Lynda Baron (r) 11.30 A Fisherman's Diary: Autumn. Angler Derek Law travels north to the River Aire and catches a huge chub (r) 12.00 News and weather followed by Dallas (r). (Ceefax) 12.50 Reviving Ahtiques. How to look after tin and pewter. (Cealax) 12.55 Regional news 1.00 One O'Clock News with Philip माना का निवार उन्होंचे Hayton, Weather 1.30 Neighbours, (Ceefax) 1.50 He Who Dares: The Last Blue Mountain. An expedition to the Himalayas hit disaster, but lucky Tony Streather defied death, thanks to a mountain rescue attempt (r)

2.20 Golf: The Open, Harry Carpenter The state of the s introduces first round action from St. Andrews. Continues on BBC2

4.00 Mr Jaw Cartoon Double BM 4.10 The All New Popeys Show 4.35 Around the World with Willy Fog (r) Newsround 5.05 Move (t. Sport and lessure senes in which, this atternoon, Scott Birch reveals the ups and downs of scuba diving. (Ceefax)

5.35 Neighbours (r). (Ceefax). Northern Ireland: Sportswide 5.40 Inside Ulster 6.00 Six O'Clock News with Chris Lowe and Anna Ford. Weather 6.30 Regional News Magazines.

Northern Ireland: Neighbours 7.00 Top of the Pops 8.00 Life On One. includes a report on sea bathing safety now that 140 British beaches face possible prosecution in the European court 8.30 Waiting for God. Gently amusing comedy series set in a retirement village. (Geefax). Northern Ireland:

Mary Black in Concert 9.00 Nine O'Clock Maws with Michael

9.00 Nine O'Clock Mays with Michael Buerk, Regional news and weather 9.30 Victoris Wood: Staying In. Last of the wry comedienne's hilanous observations (f). (Ceefax)
10.00 Warren Beatty -- A Film 90 Special.

● Tied to Beatty's latest film, Dick Tracy, but emphatically not restricted to it. Barry Norman's featurette about the actor-director persists in trying to cet hom to talk about the troic be get him to talk about the topic he least wants to talk about - his reputation as a womaniser. But Beatty isn't having any of it. That's gossip, and he will have nothing to do with it. Hence, it is to us, the view and not to Beatly the interviewee that Norman is forced to confide what Woody Allen is reported to have said when asked what he would like to be If reincarmeted: "I want to come back as Warren Beatty's fingertips." Beatty opens up interestingly on the elemer political commitment in his films Reds etc). A pity, therefore, that Norman did not by to get more out of him about Alan J. Pakula's political twiller The Paraller Mew, which follows this programme. (Ceefax) 10.40 Film: The Paraller View (1974)

starring Warren Beatty and Paula Prentiss. A gripping political thriller about a journalist who witnesses the assessmentian of a presidential candidate at a Seattle rally. Several years later, he discovers that other ritnesses had since died in myste circumstances. His investigations lead him to the strange Pa organisation and an horrific conclusion. Directed by Alan J. Pakula 12 20mm Worther

ITY LONDON

6.00 TV-am 9.25 He-Man and the Masters of the Universe (r) 9.50 Thames News and weather 9.55 inspector Gadget. Cartoon advantures of an incompatent policemen (r) 10.25 Vicky the Viking (r) 10.50 News headines 10.55 The Adventures of Black Beauty. Children's drama senes banad on Anna Sewell's classic novel (r) 11.25 Just for the Record, A collection of world and wonderful leats from around the world 11.50 Themes News and weather

11.55 Tube Mice narrated by Dennis Waterman and George Cole (r) 12.05 The Riddlers (r) 12.25 Home and Away. Life with the Flotchers and their family of foster children in Australia's Summer Bay 12.55 Themes News and

1.00 News at One with John Suchet,

Weather
1.20 Daytime Green: The Green Life
Guide, Alistar Mecdonald and Dilly
Barlow present the magazine programme which tackes environs assues. In a bid to become greener some supermarkets provide carrier bags which are biodegradable - but what exactly does that mean? Plus, as BSE continues to takes its toll of beef and dary herds, a look at what goes into cattle fodder 1.50 A Country Practice. Australian medical drama

2.20 Dear Mirlam. Dr Mirlam Stoppard presents the television problem page. What can Linda do to overcome har addition to chocolate, and is a ransplant an effective soli John's problem of thirning hair? 2.50 What's My Line? Evergreen panel game, chaired by Angela Rippon. Roy

Hudd, Jilly Cooper, Sean O'Kane and Bernadine Corrigan attempt to identify contestants' unusual occupations 3.15 News headlines 3.20 Tharnes News and weather 3.25 The Young Doctors

3.55 The Raggy Doils 4.10 Disney's Duck Tales (r) 4.40 Henry's Leg. The adventures of a boy who collects the rubbish other people throw away (r) 5.10 Blockbusters. General knowledge

guiz for teenagers
5.40 News with From Armetrong.

Weather
5.55 Thames Help, Jackie Spreckley with news of how to become a Community Health Councillor.

6.30 Thome and Away (1) 6.30 Thomes News and weather 7.00 Emmerdale. More from the farming

7.00 Emmerdale. More from the taming tolk in the Yorkshire village of Bectindate. (Oracle)

7.20 Nature Water, Stretch Milk and Rat Dinners. Julian Pettuler reveals just who or what is tempted by such a bizarre and estensibly unappetising dat

8.00 The Bill: Interpretations. Gritly city police drama sense. Tonight the Asian community reacts strongly when the community reacts strongly when the officers at Sun Hill fall to find out who is behind an arson attack on an Asian family's house. (Oracle) 8.30 Jimmy's. Real-life medical dramas from St James's Hospital, Leeds 9.00 L.A. Law. The chic lawyers return to tackle more legal and personal problems. Victor is devastated when Alison contacts him, saying that she's been raped, and is at a loss to do anything which can ease her suffering. Rollins is asked to help an old friend who is dying and wants the legal right to have her body frozen, and Rokenne is ready to sing in front of an audience.

10.00 News at Ten with Trevor McDonald and Fiona Armstrong. Weather 10.30 Thurnes Nows and weather

10.35 The City Programme includes a profile of the new trade and industry secretary Peter Lilley

11.05 The Time Out/01 Awards. Richard

COMPILED BY PETER DEAR AND GILLIAN MAXEY OTELEVISION AND RADIO CHOICE PETER DAVALLE

Jobson is the host of this awards ceremony at the Mermaid Theatre which commemorates the year's best performances in theatre, dance and cabaret in London 12.05am Prisoner: Cell Block H. Ludicrous storylines and incredible characters still manage to make for compelling viewing in the senes set in the Wentworth Distantion Cantre for

1.00 A Problem Aired. Kay Avila and Dr John Cobb lend a sympathetic ear to newers with personal and emotional problems 1.30 Film: Hitchhike! (1974) starring Cloris Leachman, Michael Brandon and Henry Darrow, A tense made-fortelevision thriller about a middle-aged women who picks up a young hitchhiker while driving to stay with relatives in San Francisco, Unaware that her new passenger is wanted for the murder of his stepmother. Directed by Gordon Hessler. Followed by News Resilines 3.00 The Invisible Man: Shadow on the Screen. Action series loosely based on the character created by H. G. Wells

3.30 Partor Merchants, Allan Stewart introduces comedy from the Tree Tops Hotel in Aberdeen

4.00 The New Sussions. Music from the 4.30 America s Top 10 (r)

5.00 ITN Morning News with Anne Leuchars. Ends at 6.00

6.45 Open University: Conflict — The Steel Strike. Ends at 7.10 8.00 News 8.15 Westminster 9.00 Mastermind 1986 presented by

Magnus Magnusson (r)
9.30 International One-Day Cricket. Highlights of yesterday's one-day match between England and India at Headingley
10.10 Golf: The Open. Harry Carpenter

BBC 2

introduces live action from the first round of the 119th championship. The commentary team at St Andrews is Peter Alias, Bruce Critchley, Alex Hay, Chve Clark and Mike Hughesdon 1.20 Mr Benn narrated by Ray Brooks (r) 1.35 Golf: The Open. Further coverage from St Andrews, includes news and 2.20 Me and My Bike. 40 Minutes affectionate look at a breed of people currently very much in the ascendant - bike lovers. With the current healthy-living craze, womes about the pollution effects of car driving, and the fact that, in London at least, going by bike is likely to be as fast as going anywhere by car, things are looking up for pedal power. The programme talks to a number of cyclists, including a couple who lake their tandem everywhere with them, and another couple who have so many bikes they do not know what to do with them (r). (Cestax)

3.00 News and weather followed by Westminster Live. Prime minister's question time 3.50 News, regional hews and weather 4.00 Golf: The Open, Further live coverage of the first round from St Andrewa 7.35 Business Matters: The Giving Business. In the first of two programmes Martyn Lewis analyses the changing nature of the charity business. The thesis is that charity work is now becoming so professional, and the sums involved so enormous, that charities can now be run only by professionale and the days of the amateur are over. There are interviewith a number of the people at the top of the biggest organisations, such as Georga Medley, who in little more than a decade has seen the fund he manages — The World Wide Fund for Nature — increase its tumover more than 20 feld (Control Wilder Control Helica) 20-fold. (Ceetax). Wales: Gardening

8.00 City Lights: The Law of the Jungle. Last in the comedy series starring Gerard Kelly as a bank clerk with frustrated literary aspirations (r).

8.30 On The Line. Another instalment of the issues-in-sport series. Tonight's edition examines the rules governing the World Disabled championships and restrictions on European golfers playing in the United States 9.00 The Travel Show. A resort report from Freiburg on what acid rain has done to the Black Forest, plus the Under threat, Lappe' reindoor farming ($130pm) 9.30 Under The Sun: Threat. Stefan Jari's award-winning film seven international awards at the last count, and one wonders why there weren't twice that number), graphically proves that not every cloud has a aliver lining. The pall of radioactivity that rolled across the slues from Chemobyl to Normand, in the lar north of Sweden, put paid to the Lapps' fishing and, most disastrous of all, to the reindeer farming on which their economy, and indeed their entire social structure, rests. It is amali comfort to these wilderness folk to be told that, in 15 years, the radioactivity levels ought to be back to normal. Their canturies old culture, based on the (to the rest of us) doubtful credo that enimals come first and human beings second, has been transformed into a mass of radioactive waste.

(Costum) 10.20 10 X 10: A Lesson in History. And the lesson that Maybelle Peters is teaching us in her animaled film is the furnise one about recorded history's being much too selective to be accepted without senous questioning. Her history is not just about the persecution of the blacks — she herself is black, and she made her film as a student at the West Surrey College of Art and Design -- but, more importantly, about the white man's continuing reluctance to acknowledge the black man's contribution to events that have helped shape the world. The recurring image in her simple and highly effective film is that of blacks flying as free as birds, a concept enshrined in Afro-American folk lore. Mass Peters finds no evidence to support this idealistic

10.30 Newsnight with Donald MacComick. The latest national and international news, including extended coverage of one of the main stories of the day 11.15 Golf: The Open. Harry Carpenter with a round-up of the first day's action.

11.55 Westhar 12.00 Open University: Westerd Outlook 12.05am A Cancer in the Family. Ends at 12.05

CHANNEL 4

5.00 Moah's Ark. The threat to the wildlife of Portugal's Tajo estuary (r) 6.20 Business Daily 6.30 The Channel Four Daily 9.25 The Art of Landscape. Natural images set to scothing music 11.00 As it Happens. Michael Groth visits the East of England show in Peterborough to see life as it

nappens 12.00 The Parliament Programme presented by Sue Cameron 12.30 Business Dally 1.00 Sasame Street

2.00 Time To Talk. Actress Susan Hampshire talks to Lesley Judd about her childhood, her problems with dyslexia and her passionate involvement with Population Concern

tence Doubling, Charles Colours (2.30pm)

2,30 Film: Knickerbocker Holiday (1944 ● This is the Nelson Eddy musical everyone seems to have forgotten about. Which is not surprising because it tell to quith like a lead bulloon when first screened (in 1944), and nobody seemed to be in a hurry to give it a second flight. All credit, then, to Channel 4 for giving a later generation a chance to make up its own mind about this 17th century musical comedy set at New York when it was still New Amsterdam. It started life as a stage musical (songs by Kurt Well, lyncs by Maxwell Anderson), and four of their songs are in the film, including that potently autumnal reflection Septemb Song, forever associated with Walter Huston, but sung (less potently) in Knickerbocker Holiday by Charles Cobum as the city governor, Peter

Stuyvesant, who had no comection with the cigarettes numed after him 4.05 Film: Pumping Lace (1980) staming Suzanne Kosak and Juli Stewart. Drume documentary examining the bizarra world of women's body building. Concentrating on two young enthusiasts both trained by male body builder Frank Calta - Suzanne Kisak and Juli Stewart. Directed by Robert Schseller 4.30 Countdown

5.00 The Horse in Sport: Dressage, A revealing portrait of sport as art, focusing on the impressive and spectacular partnership of horse and spectacular permanent on nones and rider (r)

6.00 Things To Come. A look at up-andcoming developments which will determine our future
6.30 Tour de France 1990. Stage 13 — Pau to Bordeaux, a destance of 200mm
7.00 Channel 4 News with Jon Snow and

Zeinzb Badawi
7.50 Comment followed by Weather
8.00 Loads More Muck and Magic. The final programme of the series and the team returns to the National Centre for Organic Gardening at Ryton. (Oracle)

8.30 My Two Dads. Comedy series in which two men are left holding the beby...well, teenager. Nicole wants nothing to do with the yuletide season and the dads find out the real painful reason behind her thoughts — it's the first Christmas without her mother and she finds the memories too painful

9.00 Film: Born on Fire (1987) starring Peter Firth, Susan Crowley and Nabil Shaban. Set to the soothing music of James Galway, Peter Firth stars as a brilliant young flautist who is taken over by mysterious music from an allen world whale in concert at London's Nigmore Hall. Directed by Jamil

Dehlavi. (Oracle) 10.35 Film: Faces of War — The Life and Timus of Rosie the Rivater, Documentary by Connie Field about women workers in 1940s America. With the second world war came a sudden upsurge in demand for women to do the jobs the men had left behind. Training was rapid and concentrated and white women found a new sense of dignity and pride in the job, while black women gained entry into major inclustnes for the first time. Field's poignant documentary won awards at Florence, Athens and Chicago for its technique and strong

sente of commitment

11.50 Hero Hungry. Black comedy about a tabloid journalist, Terry Sithe, who will do absolutely anything for a byline.

Stammy Christopher Fulford and Colin Hurley 12.35em Tour de France 1990, See 6.30

1.00 Film: Passion (1982). Isabelle Huppert, Michel Piccoll, Hanna Schygulla and Jerzy Radziwilowic star in Jeen Luc-Godard's complex film examing the relationship betwee four characters Ends at 2.40

RADIO 1

5.00m Gary king 5.30 Bruro and Liz 9.00 Smort Bates 11.00 The Redo I Readshow with Smort Meyo and Jekkl Wentbles at Road Half Cardwis. Southport 12.30pm Newsbeal 12.45 Gary Davies asbou 3.00 Steve Whight in the Afternoon 5.30 News '90 6.00 Mark Gooder 7.00 Top Oil The Pope (with BBC1) 7.30 Philip Scholled 8.30 John Peel 10.00 Noby Campbell 12.00-2.00am Bob Hams

RADIO 2

FM Sterro 4,00em Sleve Madden 6.30 Chris Stuari 7.30 Derek Jameson 9.30 Judith Chalmers 11.00 Jimmy Young 1.05pm David Jacobs 2.06 Glona Hunnfard 4.0 Pan Boone 5.05 John Disin 7.00 David Jacobs 2 to Gloria minimide 4-0 Par Bonne 5.05 John Disni 7.00 Someone and the Grumbleweeds 7.30 Wally whyton 9.00 Gloria Gaynor 9.40 Aspects of Mist Wall 10.00 Ken Bruce 12.05am Jazz Parade 12.30 Cinema Scrapbook 1.00-4.00 Len Jackson with Night Ride MW as above except: 6.45-7.0pm Sport and Classified Results

WORLD SERVICE

All times in 98T.

8.00am News 6.09 24 Hours: News Summary 8.30 Londres Matin 6.59 Weather 7.00 Newsdesh 7.30 The Poetry of Thomas Hardy 7.40 The Farming World 8.00 World News 8.00 24 Hours; News Summary and Financial News 8.00 News Summary and Financial News 8.30 Mechawatich 8.45 Network N.W. 9.00 News 9.00 World of Faith 9.15 Good Books 8.30 John Peel 10.00 World News 10.09 Review of the Bintsh Press 10.15 The World Today 10.30 Financial News 2.00 World News 10.09 Review of the Bintsh Press 10.15 The World Today 10.30 Financial News 12.00 News 12.09pm News about Bintain 12.15 New loas 12.30 Smley's People 1.00 Newsreel 1.15 Muthtrack 21.45 Sports Roundup 2.00 World News 3.30 Outlook, opening with World News 3.30 Heate Aktuell 5.00 News 5.09 News About Bintain 5.15 BBC English 5.30 Londres Sor 6.15 The World Today 6.30 Heute Aktuell 7.00 German Features 7.54 Nachnichter 8.00 News 8.30 The Poetry of Thomas Hardy 8.40 The Farming World 9.00 News9.09 The World Today 9.25 Words of Faith 9.30 Mencitan 10.01 Sports Roundup 10.15 Seven Seas 10.30 Global Concerns 10.45 Mediawatich 11.00 Newshour 12.00 World News 12.05am Commentary 12.10 Financial News 12.15 Music Review 1.00 Newsdesk 1.30 Modern Masterpiece 2.01 Outlook 2.25 Financial News 2.30 Folk in Bintain 2.45 Global Concerns 3.00 World News 3.09 Review of the Bitish Press 3.15 Newsreel 3.30 Smley's People 3.59 Weather 4.00 News 4.09 News About Bintain 4.15 Seven Seas 4.45 Nachnichten und Presseschau 5.00 Morgensay 2.25 Financial News 5.52 Financial News 5.52 Financial News 5.58 Weather and Travel News 1.55 Financial News 5.58 Financial News 5.52 Financial News 5.58 Financial News 5.52 Financial News 5.58 Weather and Travel News 1.55 Financial News 5.58 F

6.35am Open University (FM only): Maths — Eigenvalues and Eigenlines
8.65 Weather and Mows Headlines
7.00 Morning Concert: Mozart (Symptony in D, K 297, Paris: Beam Philhamoric Orchestra
under Karl Böhm); Chopin (Polonsise in C minor, Op 40)
No 2: Vischmir Ashkenszy, polyny)

7.30 Navys
7.36 Morning Concert (cont); Auber (Overture, The Brotze Horse:
Boston Pops Orchestra under John Williams); Samt-Sabne (Cello Concerto No 2 in D
mnor; Berlin Radio Symphony

Elwes, tenor, as Zoroastre, founder of the Magi, Gregory Reinhart, bass, as Abramane, priest of Ahrimen; Mieke van der Stute, soprano, as Ermic, princess of Bactina; Greta de Reyghere, soprano, as Ameite, heiress apparent to the Bactinan throne; Agnés Mellon, soprano, as Céphie, her confidante; Philippe Cantor, bass, as La Vengeance

Andrew Parrott)

10.05 Cello and Piano Recital: Maria Kliegel, cello, and Kristin Merscher, piano, perform Mendelssohn (Sonata in D)

and David Popper (Hungarian

(Symphony No 5) 1.00 News

RADIO 3

(Cello Concerto No 2 in D
minor: Berlin Radio Symphony Orchestra under Chalify, with Lynn Harrell); d'indy (Symphony on a Franch Mountain Song: Paris
Orchestra under Serge Baudo, with Aldo Ciccollini, piano)
8.30 News
8.35 Composers of the Week:
Collegium Vocale. Ghent: La Petite Bande under Kurjken perform Rameau's Zoroastre, tragèdie en musique in five acts, excerpts. With John Elwes, tenor, as Zoroastre, founder of the Magi, Gregory

Vengeance
9.35 Music from Slovakia: Vladimir Godar (Partila for 54 strings, harpsichord, timpani and tubular bells: Slovak Philhamonic Orchestina under

and David Popper (Hungarian Rhapsody)

10.45 The Round Earth's Imagined Comers: The second of three programmes recorded on four by the BBC Northern Singers. Eigar (O Wild West Wind; There is Sweet Music; Go. Song of Mine); Britten (Hymn to the Virgin; Hymn to Cecilie); Walton (Cantico del sole); Holst (This Have I Done for My True Love)

True Love)

11.30 BBC Scothish Symphony
Orchestra under Owarn Arweit Hughes, led by Ben Buurman, with Ronan O'Hora, piano, performs Baethovan (Piano Concerto No 3); Sabellus (Symphony No 5)

1.05 John Lill performs a recital as part of the City of London Festival, five from the Bishopsgate Hall. Chopin (Two Noctumes; in E minor, Op 72 No 1; in C minor, Op 48 No 1; 14.

No 1; in C minor, Op 48 No 1; Ballade in F minor, Op 52 No 4); Liezt (Sonata in B minor)
2.00 The Tales of Hoffman: French Radio Chorus; French National Orchestra under Selji Ozawa perform Offenbach's opera. With Placido Domingo, tanor, as Hoffmann, a poet; Edita Gruberová, soprano, as Olympia, a dolf/Antonia, a singer/Guilletta, a courtesan; Claudi Eder, mezzo soprano, as Nicklausse, Hoffman's companion/Muse; Andreas Schmidt, baritone, as Lindorf, a Nuremberg councillor; Gabnel Bacquer, bass, as Coppélius, a acientist; and Coppèlius, a acientist; and James Morris, bess-beritone, as Miracle, a physicien. Sung

in French in French
4.45 Haydin and George Micholson:
The Fartheld Quartet performs Haydin (Quartet in B flat, Op 33 No 4); Nicholson (Quartet No 2)
5.30 Mamily for Pleasure: Presented by Fritz Spregi
7.00 Name

7.00 Nime
7.05 More Sames's People: Five monologues by Peter Barnes. Part 2: Billy and Me. Jennings, Billy, the Major, Aunt Agnes and Uncle Pat are all of one mind. With Alan Rickman (f)
7.30 Brahms: Oleg Kagan, violin, Natalia Gutman, cello, Eduard Brunner, clarinet, Vasilii Lobanov, piano, perform Cello Soneta in E minor, Op 38: Violin Sonata in D minor. Op 108; Trio for clarinet, cello and piano in A minor, Op 114
8.50 Poet of the Month: Charles Causley introduces and reads

8.50 Poet of the Month: Charles Caustey introduces and reads
a selection of his own poetry 9.00 Scottish Chember Orchestra under Sizuart Bedford, with Tatyana Nikolaeva, pano, performs Purcell (Two Fantasias in F): Bach (Concerto in D minor, BalfW 1052); Purcell, ed Britten
(Chacorry in G minor); Haydin (Symphony No 22 in E flat, Philosopher) (r)
10.60 Music in Our Time: Music by Steve Reich. Steve Reich and musicians perform Vermont musicians perform Vermont Counterpoint, New York Counterpoint Sextet. Introduced by Martin Cotton 11.00 Composers of the Week: Delus (Brigg Fair; In a Summer Garden; A Mass of Life; Part 2 No 4, At Noon in the Meadows; The Walk to the Parachse Garden) (r)

12.00 News 12.05am Close

RADIO 4

LW (s) Sterno on FM
5.55am Shapping Forecast 6.00
News Briefring: Weather 6.10 Faming Today 6.25 Prayer for the Day (s) 8.30 Today, incl
6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30
Name 6.55, 7.55 Weather 8.35
Yesterday in Parliament 8.57
Weather
9.00 News

9.00 News 9.05 Punters: An apportunity for listeners to report on life's problems, injustices and Quirks
9.45 Uncle Mort's South Country:
Part 2: Three Star Comfort.
Five venturas into the unknown by Peter Tinniewood
10.00 News; The Natural History

Programme
10.45 An Act Of Worship (s)
11.00 News; Caizens (s)
11.25 Conversation Prece (new series); Sue MacGregor talks to historical novelest Philippa Gregory about her life and work

Wolfi
11.50 First Person: Series of talks by first-time broadcasters. Tony Johnson talks about the Inside and joys of being a house

12.00 News: You And Yours
12.50m Growing Pains: Starting Ray Brooks and Sharon Duce
as foster parents of a difficult young lad (3 of 6) (s) (r) 12.55

Weather 1.00 The World At One 1.40 The Archers (r) 1.55 Shipping

1.40 The Archers (r) 1.88 Shipping Porsonati
2.00 News; Woman's Hour: Sue Margolis discovers that, for many women, the joys of motherhood far outweigh the lure of a career; there is a report on the Bet Pupper Theatre; and a discussion on assumed usefulness.
3.00 News; You Can't Put it Back: Play by Chris Thompson. A smell community is threatened when it decides to fight inclustry in the interests of ecology (s)
4.00 News.

4.00 News 4.05 A Good Read: Jonathon Pomitt

4.05 A Good Read: Jorethon Pontition of Helena Kennedy talk to Edward Blahan about four of their favourite paperbacks, includes Rusself Hoban's Trutte Diary and Sally Beltrage's The Crack: A Beltrage's The Crack: A Beltrage of the Crack: A 55 Kiledoscope (a) (r) 5.00 PM 5.50 Shipping Forecast 5.55 Warther

A 00 Six Criciock News: Francist

12.00 News, incl 12.20 Weathe 12.33 Shipping Forecast

8.00 Six O'Clock News, Financial FREQUENCIES: Radio 1: 1053kHz/265m,1089kHz/275m;FM-97 6-99 8 (London area FM-104.8.) Radio 2: 693kHz/433m,909kHz/330m;FM-86-90 2 Radio 3: 1215kHz/ 247m; FM-90-92-4. Radio 4: 198kHz/1515m;FM-92 4-94 6 Jazz FM 102.2. LBC: 1152kHz/261m; FM 97.3. Capital: 1548kHz/194m; FM 95.3. GLR: 1456kHz/266m; FM 94.9; World Servica: MW 648kHz/463m.

For Tomorow 10.55 Collee Break 11.00
We're Cooking Now 11.25 Span Span
Cookery 11.30 The Edge Of Night 12.00
Sally Jessy Raphael 12.50pm Style File
12.55 Creat American Gentlestows 2.00
Divorce Court 2.30 Burke's Law 3.20

ITY VARIATIONS

8.30 Arnold Brown and Company Arnold and his team with the uniquely funny look at the world (s) (r)

7.20 Radio Lives (new series): Brought low by a naiway ticket offence, Professor
 C.E.M. Joed never again appeared on 8BC racio's Brans Trust on which, during the way was a naiway to a naiway the way was a naiway to a naiway and the way was a naiway to a naiway and the way was a naiway was a naiw BORDER the war years, he was reside philosopher and non-pedantic controversatist ("It depends what you mean by iivilisabon", etc.). There is a civilisation: , etc.). Trive is an intriguing paradiox in June Knox-Mawer's profile of the man. Roger Scruton, Joad's successor in the chair of philosophy at Birkbeck College, speaks at Joad's attempt to provide philosophical doctrines for the philosophical doctrines for the partie of the street. Yet it was CENTRAL man in the street. Yet, it was in terms of Greek tragedy, of hubris and nemesis, that Joac himself chose to represent the and affair of the unpeid for sad arear of the impedition to telet to note

8.00 Back To Africa (new senes):
Part 1: The Promise That Failed, Ferdinand Dennis's aid part journey through seven West African states, starting in Liberta.

in Liberia 8.45 Does He Taka Suger? Kati Whitaker presents the magazine for people with disabilities

ospoules

9.15 Kalerdoscope: Judy Meeweal reports on Welfare State International's production of Shopard Tales in Barrow-inFurness, Don Allen reviews the tilm L'Atalante; and there is a report on the Avignon Festival (s)
9.45 The Financel World Tonight
9.55 Weather
16.00 The World Tonight presented by Alexander MecLeod (s)
10.45 A Book At Bedfirm: The View

10.45 A Book At Bedfime: The View from the Ground, by Martha Gelihom (7 of 8) (a) 11.00 Whose Body?: Part 4: Shellshock A five-part dramatisation of Dorothy L. Sayers' mystery (s) 11.30 Today in Parliament 12.00 News. and 12.20 Weather

FM as LW except: 1.55-2.00pm Listening Corner (s) 5.50-5.55 PM (cont) 11.30-12.10a

Open University. Education — The Piebs' League

numers Auguste Entwy, and wice rumpes in a strange chicken's community who believe that he is they tong-lost stretcur. 11.55 High Spints (1988): Staming Peter O'Toole, Danyt Hennish and Steve Gullen-ters, An hesh casite owner finds himself so down on his luck that he decides to attract humats by meteroring that the casitie as.

lountits by pretending that the castle is traunited Ends 1.356m

GALAXY

As London except: 1.50pm-2.20 Coming of Age 6.30-7.00 Granada Tonight 7.30-6.00 Celebration 1525 12.35em Film Demons of the Minut 2.15 Video View 2.45 America's Top Ten 3.15 Night Beat 4.20 The Investice Man 4.45-5.00 Josepher

HTV WALES

As London except: 3.25pm-3.55 Home and Away 5.10-5.40 Take the High Road 6.00 TSW Today 6.30-7.00 Blockbusters 7.30-8.00 Sporing Trangles 10.35 Married...with Children 11.05 Frontens 11.35 Some Call it Jacz 12.35am Fairn: Damons of the Mind 2.15 Video View 2.45 America's Top Ton 3.15 Night Beat 4.20 The Invisible Man 4.45-5.00 Fighenes News.

As London except: 1.50pm-2.20 The Young Doctors 3.25-3.55 Sons and Daughters 5.10-5.40 Home and Away 5.00 Coast to Coast 3.07-0.00 Blockbusters 7.30-6.00 Sporting Trangles 10.40 Fecing South 11.25 Prisoner Cell Block H 12.10am Jake and the Fatman 1.25am Frâm Love Songs 3.25 Supercriss 3.55-5.00 The Silk Road

TYNE TEES As London except: 1.50pm-2.20 km

City Shoes for Virnie Winford THE SPORTS CHANNEL

10.00em Left, Right and Centre 10.30 VP 11.00 American Business Today 11.30 European Business Today 12.00 Summer

THE POWER STATION

As London except 8.25pm-7.00 Angles News 7.30-8.00 Sporting Trangles 19.35 Widesingle 11.05 Gloss 12.05em Donative 1.00 Less 2.45 Faw Power 3.45 Sams Berbara 4.40-6.00 Fifty Years On.

Bounders scene: 1.50-2.20m Scrs and Daughers 5.10-5.40 Home and Away 6.00 Looksround Thursday 6.30-7.00 Blockbusters 7.30-8.00 Sporting Transples 10.25 Sporting Promises on Macteria 11.05 Alling Hitchcock Presents: Prem 11.35 Presents: Call Block H 12.35em Film: Demon of the Mund 2.15 Video View 2.45 America's Top Ten 3.15 Night Best 4.20 The Investile Man 4.45-5.00 Jobinster.

News 7.30-8.00 Sporting Transfer 10.36 Sector Human 11.35 Int News 7.30-8.00 Sporting Transfer 10.36 Sector Human 11.35 Int Night 11.35 Dut Treay – Schind the Badge 12.05em Beauty and the Beast 1.05 Video View 1.35 Jake and the Fathran 2.30 Int Exposure 3.95 The Concert 4.00 Amence a Top Ten 4.30-5.00 behalved.

GRANADA

HTV WEST As London except: 1.50pm-2.20 The Young Doctors 3.25-3.55 Sons and Daughters 5.10-5.40 Home and Away 6.00 HTV News 6.30-7.00 Blockbusters 7.30-8.00 Problems 10.35 The West This Week 11.20 HTV Weekend Outbook 11.35 Film The Island 1.40am The New Avergers 2.40 Out. Night 3.10 Video View 3.40 Matiook 4.25 The New Sessions 4.50-5.00 Jobhnder.

As HTV West except: 8,00pm-6.30 Wales at Sn.7.30-8.00 Wales & Westminister 10.35 Face Value 11.05-11.35 Dick Tracy — Refund the Badge.

1.25pm Sportadesh 1.30 Facing 2.00
Australian Rugby League 4.00 for Hockey
5.00 American Sports Cavalcade 6.00
Stortadesk6.30 Fishing the Wast 7.00
Molloword 7.30 Sportadesk8.00 The Main Event Golf 10.00 Racing 10.30 Sportadesk
11.00 On Two Wheels 12.00 Sportadesk
12.35pm Impair the US PGA Tour

European Business Today 12:00 Summer Edition 1.00pm Living Now 1.30 Gerdener's World 2:00 Go For Green 2:30 Big City Metro 3:00 Créme de la Créme River Journeys 4:00 Out East 4:30 The Country-side Snow 5:00 High Street 6:00 Gardener's World 6:30 Living Now 7:00 The Mike Smith Show 8:00 Summer Edition 9:00 Your World 10:00 European Business Today 10:30 Living Now Homeworks 11:00 Left, Right and Centre 11:30 American Business Today

Space 3.25-3.55 Santa Berbara 5.10-5.40 Home and Away 8.00 Northern Life 6.30-7.00 Blockbusters 7.30-8.00 Sporing Trengles 10.35 The Sprai Cape 11.10 Present: Call Block H 12.05em Marrath...with Children 12.35 Film: Demons of the Mind 2.15 Video View 2.45 Amenca's Top Ten 3.15 Night Beat 4.15 The Investile Marra 4.45-5.00 Jobbades:

ULSTER AL Condon seesel: 1.50cm/2.20 Sons and Daugners 3.25-3.55 Lense N to Mic O'Brion 5.16-5.40 Home and Away 5.00 Se. Tonghi. H.20 Poice Se. 5.50-7.00 Blockhaster 7.30 Sporting Transples 10.40 God's Prontensen 11.40 Stedge Hammer! 12.10cm Twilight Zone 12.5 Film: Demons of the Mino 2.15 Vision Vises 2.45 America's Too Ten 3.15 Hight Best 4.20 The Investble Mark 4.45-5.00 Jobbinder.

YORKSHIRE As London escapic 5,19pm-6.40 Home and Away 6.00 Calendar 6.30-7.00 Blockbust-ers 7,30-8.00 Sporting Trangles 10,35 The Great North Show 11.05 Fronthers 11.35 Film: The Bern Linta Whorehouse in Tisses 1.40am Mountipatins: The List Viceory 2.40 Amenca's Top Ten 3.10 Cinemitatinctions II.40 Name Box 4.40-5.00 Jobinster.

Starts: 6.00am Nosh's Ark 6.90 C4 Dely 9.25 Sesame Street 10.25 Film: Don't Take it to Heart' 12.00 The Parhament Pro-gramme 12.30 Newyddon 12.35 Chwyr ligyngan 1.00 Countdown 1.30 Busness Dely 2.00 Fight Over Span 2.30 Film. The Angry Silence" 4.15 The Three Stooges' 4.30 Net King Cole Show's 5.00 Love Lucy' 5.30 Heavy Days 6.00 Newyddon 8 15 5.30 Neppy Days 8.00 Newychion 6 15 Straeon Y Byd 5.40 Llywo 7.00 Ceryl 7.30 Perthyn 8.00 Draes 5.30 Newycholon 8.56 Y Byd Ar Bechet 9.25 Goth 10.05 Tour de France 10.35 Faces of War 11.50 Hero Hungsy 12.35em Tour de France 1950 1.00 Film: Passon 2.40 Dwedd

Starts: 1.00pm News 1.05 Tressure Hunt 2.05 The Fanistones 2.35 Castaway 3.00 Showyampang 6.00 The Angelue 6.01 So-One 6.25 Gande Patrol 6.35 Camedy Capera 6.50 Numbh 7.00 Top of the Pops

NETWORK 2 Starts: 9.30am Bosoo 10.00 British Open Golf 6.30 Home and Away 7.00 The Aunsters Today 7.30 Ehis Good Rockin' 8.00 News Interest by the Chel's Appren-tice 8.30 Here to Stay 9.00 Murphy

REDUCED COST PRIVATE MEDICAL INSURANCE WITHOUT CUTTING CORNERS

No waiting for treatment The Hospital of your choice Your own private room We are independent agents for all leading companies including BUPA, PPP, Prime Health, WPA, Sun Alliance and Crusader Nuffield. We can therefore offer the best plan to suit your needs, at the lowest rates. Plus...... Discounts for non-smokers Discounts for self-employed Plans for the over 60's, including 25% tax relief Also budget plans and no claims bonuses. Free worldwide travel insurance can be included with some of the above. Already covered?

We can almost certainly offer substantial savings. No medical required and our service to you is free. PRIVATE HEALTH CARE IS WITHIN YOUR MEANS

Date of birth _____ Tel: Day_ Already covered? Yes No if Yes, Name of insurer? HEALTH COVER

THE PROPERTY DISTRIBUTIONS

707 High Road, Finchley, London N12 OBT Tel: 081-446 2952 Fax: 081-446 8068

TT 19/7 |

grijingspel General MM LEP 35 44 $\mathcal{L}^{2}(p,r) \in \mathcal{L}^{2}(r)$

47,5 37 nger om oder. Gerage F.5 T. نم راه ج

22.00

144,400 Special const معادي وأوار $q = (\frac{1}{2} \log \log n)$

 $g(0, \beta) \leq c_{\alpha} - g'$ عديدة أسير The same and the same of હેકા કેલ્વે કરાય છે. હાલ હું જોઇ . المراجع المحاولة المح SA CALLETT THE PORTS CHARGES SANTON TO SANTON SANTON TO SANTON SANTON TO SANTON and the second A September 1 Sept and participation in والمراوي المرواء والمتهجيبين والمتوا

SKY ONE

5.00am Sky World Report 5.30 International Business Report 6.00 The DJ Kat Show 8.30 Panel Pot Pourn 10.00 The New Price is Right 10.30 The Young Doctors 11.00 Sky by Day 12.00 Another World 12.50pm As the World Turns 1.45am Lowing 2.15 Three's Company 700 2.45 Here's Lucy 3.15 Groome Ghoules 3.45 Captain Caveman 4.00 The Adventures of Gulliver 4.25 Motor Mouse 4.30 The New Leave it to Beaver 5.00 Sky Star Search 6.00 The New Price is Right 6.30 Sale of the Century 7.00 Seyond 2000 8.00 Moomighing 9.00 Wisseguy 10.00 Summer Laugh-In 11.00 Sky World News Tonight 11.30 Emergency! 12.30am Pages from Skytext

SKY NEWS

SATELLITE

SKY ONE

Naws on the hour.
5.00am Sky World Report 5.30 International Busness Report 6.00 Sky World Report
6.30 International Busness Report 9.30
Nighthne 11.00 International Busness Report 11.30 Sky World News 1.30pm NBC
Today 2.30 Parliament Live 3.15 Parne
Minister's Question Time 3.30 Parliament
Live 4.30 Sky World News 5.00 Live at Five Naws on the hour.

6.30 Beyond 2000 7.30 Newsline 6.30 Nightine 9.30 Target 11.30 NBC Nightly Naws 12.30am Newsline 1.30 Target 2.30 Nightline 3.30 Beyond 2000 4.30 Target

SKY MOVIES From 8.00am 'The Shopping Channel 2.00pm Dream Chasers (1965): A boy with a terminal diness bettends the elderly owner of an antiques shop and sets off on a trip to

Wyoming 4.00 Sheriock Holmes: The Sign Of Four 5.00 Sheriock Holmes: A Study in Scarlet Animated adventures of Conen Doyle's Animated adventures to contain some detective 5.00 Dreamchild (1985): Fannasy about the relationship between Lewis, Carroll (time Holm) and the chald (Amelia Shankey) who inspired him to write Alice's Adventures in Monderland

Monderland
7.49 Entertumental Tomphi
8.00 Switching Charmels (1987) Kathleen Turner wants to quit ner job as a newsreader and many Christopher Reove
9.40 Projector
10.00 Lassiter (1984) Tom Selicek stars as a third out to steal charmonds from the Nazis in London just before the second world war.

Twenty-load hours of rock and pop in London just be also the Costars Jane Seymour
11.45 Freedry's hightmares: Slexing Robert England as Freedry Krueger
1.30em Murphy's Law (1985): Charles Bronson is a Los Angeles cop who is fermed to justice 4.00 The Sure Thing (1985): Comedy about a boy and gri who are forced to travel across ste: United States logisties. Ends 5.35em EUROSPORT

5.00am As Sky One 8.30 Eurobics 8.00 Cycling 10.00 World Games for the Desbled 11.00 Trans World Sport 12.00 Tennic Mercedes Cup. Golf: Open Chempionship Mercedes Cop. Gott: Open Championana) 5,30 Mobil One Motor Sports News 6.00 Cycling 7.00 Termis 9.00 Golf 11.00 Australian Rules Folkhall 1.00pm Cycling

der end sets out to bring the real little:

7.00am Motor Sport 8.00 Motor Sport 9.00 Major League Baseball 11.00 Powersports uni Major League Baseball 11.00 Powersports International 12.00 Treathlon 3.00cm US Pro-Bourng 4.30 Equestranson 8.00 Boding 7.30 Tennie 9.30 Motor Sport 11.30 High Five 12.00 "Go" Dutch Motor Sport

LIFESTYLE

Weather
1.00pm The Movin Show
1.30 The Perfect Furtough (1958): Hus-hand-end-wife Cartic and Logh teamed up for this story of an Arctic based solder who for this story of an Arctic based solder who wan a top to Paris and meets a psycholinal wan when he has in love 3.45 Crime and Punishment (1985, byw): Adoptation of Dostoyevsky's movel. A student uniderer is guilt-straten, but excess to give hismall up to the suspecting price describe 5.20 The Movie Stow 6.00 Bartishas Not included (1997): An old couple who are batting to save their terement building from describing for a group of timy aliens who have come to Earth by a vecation.

Months Plus 3.30 The Errer

A.AS Gami American Gameston Sale Vestor Stopping Chartel

destyle Plus 3,30 The Emergency Rigon LOS The Best Of Europe 4,35 You Break I AS Grant American Gamestons 8,00 The

BSS: THE MOVIE CHANNEL

Earth for a vectrion 8.00 Number One With a Bullet (1987): Two caps by to bring down a Los Angeles

7.00em Superhends 7.30 Mir-R 8.30 31 West: The Entertainment Show 9.00 Be-witched 9.30 Laughines 10.00 Time of Your witched 9.30 Laughtines 10.00 Time of Your Life 19.30 The Move Show 11.00 Paysbout 11.15 Mrs Pepperpot 11.30 Debbe Reynolds Show 12.00 Write of the Week 12.30 pm The Bold and the Benefith 1.00 Meutie 1.30 Shoesting 2.30 The Young and the Restless 3.30 Paysbout 3.45 Met Pepperpot 4.00 Danger Bay 4.30 Kots Incorpositied 5.00 Met 2 6.00 31 West The Enterfartment Show 6.30 Time of Your Life 7.00 Designing Women 7.30 Laughtines 8.00 Naticracker 10.00 Till Degin Us Do Part 10.30 Metkey Spillanc's Mike Hammer Deadly Pay 11.30 The Monte Show 12.00 The Bold and the Betatiful 12.30 pm Natical

cabinets to come

THE Right Team For Britain's Future said the banner above the Blackpool podium has made above the Blackpool podium has made and it was unkind of Mr. at the Tory conference nine Forsyth to spook the picnic months ago. On the final day. Despite it. Lilley did well. Mrs Thatcher stood, arms dealing crisply with his Laboutstreched for the cameras. The team were behind her. The right team. Nigel Lawson, Chancellor, Norman Fowler, employment secretary, Peter Walker, Welsh, control . . . secretary, John Major, foreign secretary; Nicholas Ridley, industry secretary ... ah, tempus fugit! As a policemen once said, "the industry sec-

Just as the old masters in portraiture used sometimes to conceal a small human skull in their compositions as a reminder that death comes to us all, so the appearance at industry questions yesterday. silently hunched at the very end of the front bench, of the diminutive but fiendish Scots minister Michael Forsyth, sent a chilling reminder of political mortality along the bench. He arrived without warning, sat there for some time, then, as suddenly, departed: a sort of bonsai grim. esper: memento mori.

Death, in Tory politics, is a ministerial job in Scotland. If Forsyth supplants his boss, Mr Rifland, there will be a junior vacancy in the tartan

Eric Forth, a Scot who has escaped to an English scat and hides in the DTI as consumer minister, seemed to shudder as the skull-like Forsyth turned palely his way perhaps to touch his shoulder. There was a thin smile on Forsyth's lips. Tam Dalyell stared in horror.

After Forsyth had gone, Dalyell rose like one who has scen a ghost, frizzy hair awry. "Can it concervably be true," he asked, "that the hon gentleman (Mr Forth) is being considered for promotion to the Scottish Office?"

A tremor ran through the whole government front bench. Forth blanched, His fellow junior minister. John Redwood, a cool Thatcherite. who is presumably about to replace Peter Lilley at the Treasury, flinched. Lilley tightened his jaw. "You could ask the PM;

but for pity's sake don't" was the gist of Forth's stammer.

AM

our Shadow, Gordon Brown There is an indefinable edgi-ness beneath the surface with Lilley which slightly unnerves, but it was well under Except once, when goaded by Labour on the comparative success of Japanese economic management. A very distant and rather in scrutable economy," Lilley snapped. A tabloid thought retaries seem to be getting scampered across the brain "After Ridley's Kraut-Bashing - LILLEY IN NEW OUTBURST, AGAINST THE NIPS! Eric Forth caused the beart to miss a beat, too. Oldham's James Lamond (Lab) had asked "whether the hon gentleman shops at C & A or British Home Stores because, if he did, he would know that the "suits and underwear" they sell were not? British.

Forth hesitated. "I stand before the House," he started

"Crikey!" we thought, "not the underwear!" " in my British made-suit." Frankly that was ob-vious from the crumples. Your sketchwriter paused in the gallery, to hear Health Minister Kenneth Clarke retreat spiritedly from immediate financial commitments to "community care" on the grounds that "we are pro-ceeding on a phased basis." You can say that again. "Phased" by the poll tax, near.

a general election! I left noticing a press report that the new Lady Castle has overturned a Lords tradition at her induction there. After a "frighten-ing row." Black Rod was forced to accept that Barbara Castle "refused" (in her words) "to kneel for anyone." Hm. I am just old enough to remember her plans (as Employment secretary) for taming the trades unions, In Place of Strife. The unions objected, Hareki Wilson took fright, and her colleagues decided these should be abandoned. Mrs Castle did not, it. is true, kneel. Her posture

Industry secretaries do not MATTHEW PARRIS

Brittan plans to open EC insurance market

From Peter Guilford in Brussels

SIR Leon Brittan, the European financial services commissioner, has launched plans to cut prices and boost consumer choice by opening the European market for "non-

The plans, if endorsed by EC governments, will create an open market in all but life insurance, enabling private customers to buy car accident, fire, theft, and house cover policies wherever the best deal is available, and with guarinteed consumer protection.

British firms will need only a "single passport" from the British regulatory authorities in order to sell their policies or set up shop in any other EC country. The need for prior clearance from the host country would be abolished.

The change is unlikely to year, have much effect on insurance Sin rates in Britain. Although all companies have to be licensed by the Department of Trade and Industry, there is in practice little bar to foreign most of the rest of Europe. In Germany, by contrast, the industry has been protected director-general of financial surance policies sold from and companies sell according services, it will not automatiabroad meet local standards.

to a common tariff which would be illegal in Britain. Sir Leon said in Brussels yesterday: "There have been 12 separate markets for non-life insurance. This has cramped competition, pushed up prices and reduced consumer choice. Once this proposal has been adopted, there will be a far wider range of products on the market.

"There is a great deal to do," he added, in expectation of opposition from EC states with more protected insurance markets. But he hoped it could be agreed by 1993. The new directive will complete the EC's insurance jig-saw, together with a parallel move to liberalise life insurance, which is due to be launched before the end of the Sir Leon said he expected prices to drop as firms vie with

according to Geoffrey cally lead to a rush of foreign buyers seeking cheaper British insurance policies. UK companies may hike up their prices abroad if, say, theft, fires or traffic accidents are more commonplace there, he Weight watching: Alan Conder, a retired British Waterways crase driver, putting a 100-year-old steam crase through its paces at Gloucester docks yesterday. The crane will be joined by many other working crases, old and new, at the National Waterways Museum at Gloucester docks this weekend to show just how much they can lift

SOVIET troops stationed in East Germany have been selling their weapons and local police have been called in by the Russian high command to chief of Potsdam, announced yesterday that he now had concrete evidence of several cases in which soldiers had sold guns to both East and West German citizens. The Makarov pistols and

Herr Golz said that the Volkspolizei would try to stop such deals, but he refused to paint a profile of the sort of person buying such weapons.

Some might be simply collectors, but he could not say if terrorists or violent criminals

Since currency union of the two Germanies at the beginning of the month, the 360,000 Soviet troops and their 200,000 dependants in East Germany are likely to have been short of spending money. Most receive a small monthly

25 German marks (£5.10-£8.60), which buys signifi-

General Mikhail Moiseyev,

cantly less than last month.

were among the customers.

most popular items were

Wilfried Golz, the police

help with investigations.

Sir Leon said he will use the directive to prise open foreign insurance markets which discriminate against European insurance firms. As in the newly liberalised banking sector, foreign firms' access to European clients will depend on their home country's openness to European companies operating on their market.

Greater competition will not lead to poorer prudential He emphasised that the directive had been tailored "to make it acceptable in those member states which rightly pride themselves on a high foreign competitors to win degree of consumer protec-clients. The directive will tion". Policy-holders, for encourage competition by example, will still be subject to forbidding governments from certain laws in their own competition and as a result setting minimum prices to country. A government, too, rates tend to be lower than protect their own firms. But may still demand the right to ensure that motor, fire, health Fitchew, the Commission's and other compulsory indirector-general of financial surance policies sold from

WORD-WATCHING

A daily safari through the language jungle. Which of the possible definitions is correct?

By Philip Element

Answers on page 22

AA ROADWATCH

For the latest AA traffic and roadworks information, 24-hours a day, dial 0836 401 followed by the appropriate

C. London (within N & S Circs.).731 M-ways/roads M4-M1 732 M-ways/roads M1-Dartions T. 733 M-ways/roads Dartions T-M23 734 M-ways/roads M23 M4 735

historia bethe and readworks

AA Roadwatch is charged at 5p for 8 seconds (peak and standard) 5p for 12 seconds (off peak).

National motorways...

North-west England. North-east England... Scotland.....

West Country Wales Midlands

East Anglia

by the appropriate

.745

BALBUTTENT a. Tectering on the brink b. Stammering

c. A geometric o

a. A brothel-keep b. A satyr's garlar

CONFRICATE

a. To fry lightly b. To rab

a. A shormaker b. A south-west wind

SOUTER

c. A woder PANDECT

Russian troops put their guns on the free market

the Soviet Chief of Staff, complained last month that the two-to-one rate of ex-change offered to his soldiers for their East mark savings was "just not acceptable". His men wanted cash now, he said, so that they could buy Western goods that was now available in East Germany. The offer was never improved aithough the men's allowances are now being paid by Bonn, in addition to an estimated DM2 billion a year for upkeep Soviet soldiers, nevertheless, have been raising money to buy western goods for some time. Street vendors in the environs of the Berlin Wall offering for sale a wide selec-tion of Soviet army caps, coats and medals as souvenirs to tourists, which have obviously been bought with hard cur-rency. Guns clearly fetch far-higher prices, which would enable a soldier to buy the kind of Western domestic appliances he would never be. able to find or afford when he is sent home for good in 1994. In selling uniforms, medals and guns, the Soviet troops are only following the example of many members of the East German army, who deserted by the thousands after the Berlin Wall was opened, swap-

Thatcher worries over decline of family

Continued from page 1 ing parental divorce before they reach 16, one in four children born to unmarried parents and nearly 800,000

"Of course there has never Wales will have a dry, sunny day. There might, however, be patchy cloud near Irish Sea coasts. The dry samp conditions will persist into the and it is of course the children who suffer most," she said.

Labour last night dismissed her speech as empty rhetoric one-perent families receiving and an election gimmick. Joan children, said Mrs Thatcher been a golden age of universal imagined a "Janet and John" marital bliss. But the worry is sort of family and her speech that what was once the excep- showed the dispute within the

Most of England and Mrs Thatcher unnounced that agency will take over administration of maintenance paytially independent of White-tion may now become the rule Conservative party. Stating Full details will be in the white and it is of course the children that "parenthood is for life", paper.

Mrs Thatcher said: "Legthe proposed child support islation cannot make breeponsible parents responsible. But it can and must ensure pursue absent parents. It is to maintenance for their child-be an executive agency, par-ren, it is not fair for them to expect other families to foot hall, with about 1,800 staff. their bills too."

THE TIMES CROSSWORD PUZZLE NO 18.350

ACROSS 1 Suit — after a month returned it (5).

- 4 Stony plain was revealed (4,5). 9 Everything, they say, combined to create this master stroke (4,2,3).
- 16 Gloomy medical man gets attention (5). 11 Conceit - against it in any case
- 12 Yellowish-brown rock the French used to make concrete
- 14 Birthday greetings are likely (2,3,5). 16 Song deprived of second prize
- 19 Incline to be a libertine (4). 20 An old ruler, represented as a versatile person (3-7).
- 22 Like a hare in shelter, gazin' intently (8).

Solution to Puzzle No 18,349 STRATOSPHERE O A O A H C S BOWWINDUS IN I UNILKE SHEEPPEN ERSAYZ PRECLUDE E L A A A A B A B A L L A D R Y S T U C C O B I I D M B A L L I N K S U M E T H I C A L E G L S R I CENTRESPREAD

23 Meagre scraps end in famine (6). 26 Country's part in affair is honourable (5).

Agreed to love enemy who's accepted new opinion (2,3,4). 28 It's ironed out upset (9). 29 A Scot with grit (5).

DOWN

Railways admit breaking promise in way of working (9).

2 Criminal assaulted one left out 3 Lists the various plants (8).

4 Sell when the game's up (4). 5 29's salad plant (10). 6 Promise to bring silver up from the cellar (6).

7 Forced or drove A.B. off ship 8 One intruding in Jane's nest (5).

13 Agree with nothing, and lose heart (4,2,4). 15 Spare no effort reconstructing East Pakistan (4,5).

17 Cash note now, losing nothing it's time to sell (6-3). 18 Cover up matter raised by journalists (8).

21 Pictures Ben as a king (6). 22 He's landed, having put down around start of runway (5). 24 Obtain control, by the sound of 25 Bearing left (4).

Concise crossword, page 15

ABROAD

WEATHER

C如外型10分类的方式的,可以对导致20%以下以参数以前10万元之际以为20%的,可以对导致20%以下以参数以为10万元,100类对方的可以,可以对导致20%以下以参数以前10万元,100类对于10分类 majorce Majorce Majorce Majorce Milesto Milest

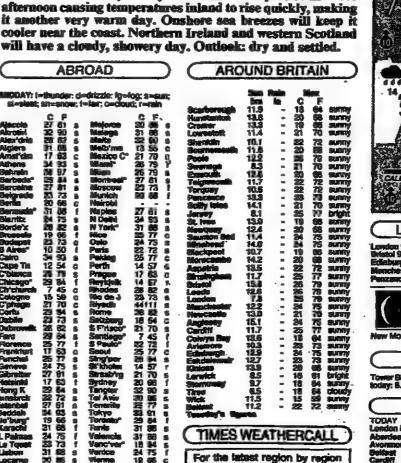

Sing por Si tholes Strashes Sydney Tangter Tol Aviv Terraits Tolyo Terraits Tolyo Terrait Vanc'va Vanc'va Werne Werne Werne West sten Zuich LONDON

Ventership: Testip: max 5 am to 6 pm, 27 (81F); min 6 pm to 6 am, 17C (63F). Humidity: pm, 36 per, 62 pm, 45 pm, 45 pm, 45 pm, br to 6 pm, 12.4 pr. Bar, maan am level, 5 pm 17C 3 am level, 5 pm

HIGHEST & LOWEST Blanday: Highest day lamp: Rose-on-Wys, Hereford and Worcesser, 27C (81F); lowest day mate: Fair Isle, Snedand, 14C (57F); no peasurable rainfair, highest summine: Presbuck, Ayretime, 15.7 lzr.

MANCHESTER

GLASGOW

TIMES WEATHERCALL For the latest region by region forecast, 24 hours a day, diel 0898 500 followed by the appropriate code. appropriate code.
Greater London.
Kord, Surrey, Sussex.
Dorset, Hants & IOW
Devon & Corrawell
Wits, Gloues, Avon, Soms
Berlis, Bucks, Oxon
Beds, Herts & Essex
Norfos, Suffolk, Cambs
West Mike & Sin Ulliam & G
Shrops, Herefits & Worcs
Central Michards
East Michards
East Michards
East Michards
Ulliam & G
Shrops, Herefits & Worcs
Central Michards
East Michards
East Michards
East Michards
East Michards
East Michards
East Michards
Ulliam & G
Ne Forgland
W & S Yorks & Delege
N E England
W & S Yorks & Delege
N E England
W & S W Scotland
W Central Scotland 710 711' 712' 713' 714' 715 716' 717' 718' W Central Scotland 1/21
Edn 8 Rity/Lotten & Bordere 722
E Central Scotland 723 Catiness,Oviney & Sheared N keeped

Weathercall is charged at 5p for 8 seconds (Leak and standard) 5p for

LIGHTING-UP TIME YESTERDAY Lowdon 9.06 pm to 5.07 sm Bristol 9.17 pm to 5.17 sm Edinburgh 9.44 pm to 4.55 sm Monchester 9.25 pm to 5.05 sm Penzance 9.23 pm to 5.26 sm 23 72s 24 75s 24 75s 25 77s 24 75s 18 64s 24 75s 9.06 pm POLLEN COUNT : The pollen count for London and the Southeast issued by the National Asthma Campaign at 10 am yesterday was 46, lost. Forecast for today, same. For the rest 24 hours call National Pollen and Hay Fevier Bureau: 0898 500429 tuodsted at middlers. TOWER BRIDGE HIGH TIDES TODAY
Liverpool
Lowestol Margate
eatiford H
Newquay
Oben 5.34 5.34 5.19 4.03 9.27 3.33 10.18 9.02 4.42 4.42 4.48 12.45 11.2 32 10.5 4.5 4.5 5.0 5.5 7.8 5.7 4.9 #07-8.3 2.9 AM 9.13 7.26 9.54 4.00 2.58 4.11 2.31 4.40 9.29 9.11 9.03 4.12 1.31 9.47 ## 822 428 455 455 455 455 450 480 950 7.46 10.18. 4.35 4.33 8.10 5.11 9.52 9.44 8.26 4.48 9.26 10.14 おお田野ないはないのはい Tide in metres: 1m-3.2908ft. Times are BST NOON-TODAY

Mistak on repol nay cos 120,00

Betricity firm

Ber Hard times Page Leisure issue EN Read of Contracting

Electrical Section of the Section of Bilmer up 140 o

Chrision jump

ERECTOR OF THE PROPERTY OF Bach Indoor page 31 THE POUND

Koa: 医二二 MGerner - gra Ederge index

> STOCK MARKET Magrate F7-8E 100 2020(----

Mar York Dan Jones But in it. Topo Nikkei Avge

Owing Prices .. Fage 23 REEST RATES

DRRENCIES

COLD

W. S.

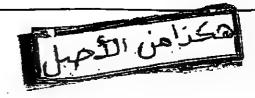

MARIE SEA OIL ST RATES

海外外 医克里氏氏病

 BUSINESS AND FINANCE 25-30 COMMUNITY ENTERPRISE 32,33
 VENICE 34,35
 LAW 36

● SPORT 36-42

BUSINESS THE TIME OF THE BUSINESS

Executive Editor David Brewerton

THURSDAY JULY 19 1990

people who lost on share deals the junior trade minister. However, he said in the Commons he hoped the figure would be lower.

The government would and the police were continue to consider claims warned in September received before the end of this about Peter Owen-Jackmonth for compensation relating to the premature release of a Monopolies and Mergers Commission report into the Kinglisher takeover bid for its high street rival, Dixons.

The report, saying that the £568 million bid should be rejected, was due to be released on May 24, but because some people were able to obtain it 24 hours in advance, share dealing was affected.

Electricity firms spend £22m The 12 electricity distribution companies spent £22 million on their forthcoming privatisation in the year to endtoday when the companies unveil their results for the Hard times, Page 27 Leisure issue First Leisure is raising £30.7

million via a one-for-eight rights issue at 182p a share to develop its core business. Interim pre-tax profits to end-April were £10.1 million (£8.22 million), and the divi-dend rises by 37.8 per cent to Tempus, page 27

Bulmer up 14% HP Bulmer, the cider producer, increased taxable profits by 14 per cent to £12 million in the year to April. The total dividend rises 10 per cent to 7.65p with a 4.77p final, payable from earnings of 13.95p a share, up 35 per cent, reflecting exceptionally low tax. Tempus, page 27

Cityvision jump Cityvision, the country's largest video rental chain, which trades under the name Ritz, raised pre-tax profits from £4.62 million to £8.37 million

ectine of fami

bled to 0.5p. Tempus, page 27 THE POUND

in the six months to May 31

The interim dividend is dou-

US dollar 1.8205 (+0.0095) W German mark 2.9929 (+0.0112) Exchange index 94.3 (+0.3)

STOCK MARKET

FT 30 Share 1900.6 (-12.3) FT-SE 100 2402.0 (-13.0) New York Dow Jones 2988.37 (-11.38)° Tokyo Nikkei Avge 33048.11 (-124.17)

Closing Prices ... Page 29 INTEREST RATES

London: Bank Base 15% 3-month interbank 1416 to 1478% 3-month eligible bits 145 to 1478% US: Prime Rate 10% Federal Funds 715 to% 3-month Treasury Bills 7 57-7 56% 30-year bonds 102% 102132

CURRENCES

London:	New York:
£: 51 8205	£ $1 8205°
E DM2 9929	S- DM1 6440"
£: SwFr2.5642	$ SwFr1 4080"
£ FFr10 0448	S. FFr5 5175°
£: Yan268.34	5: Yen147 25°
£: Index:94.3	$ Index:65.3
ECU (0) (891062	SDR £0 742051
£: ECU1 447048	£: SDR1 347616
STATE OF THE PARTY	CONTRACTOR OF THE GE
B. Sabada	10.00

London Fixing: AM $360 10 pm-$359 40 close $360.25-360.75 (£197 50-196.00) New York: Comex $360.30-360.80

NOOTH SEA OIL

Brent (Aug.) $18.05 bbl ($17.70)
* Denotes latest trading price

Rates for small denomination bank only as supplied by Barclays Bank PLC Different relos apply to travellers' cheques. Retail Price Index: 126.7 (June)

Mistake on report Warning about may cost £120,000 banned adviser Post Office people who lost on share deals after a government report was mistakenly released a day early could reach £120,000, according to John Redwood, the junior trade minima.

By Jon Ashworth

FINANCIAL regulators ment business. The SIB action receive any complaint from and the police were was taken after a further any client of Mr Owen-Jackcomplaint was received from Albany Life in May. Mr Owen-Jackson is not son, the investment adauthorised to conduct investviser ordered to cease took no further action.

relationship a year later, after complaints from an investor who had become concerned about his dealings with Mr

Owen-Jackson. At that time,

Albany notified the police along with the Life Assurance and Unit Trust Regulatory

The Securities and Investments Board has secured two injunctions in the High Court

ordering Mr Owen-Jackson and his personal company,

Association (Lautro).

trading this week, but Financial Services Act. Albany Life said it had The warning was given by conducted business with Mr Albany Life, the assurance Owen-Jackson since 1982. company, which made Mr Owen-Jackson an appointed representative in September

The company added: "Al-bany terminated its relationship with Mr Owen-Jackson in September 1989, following 1988 under the name Financial Planning Services. The company broke off the an incident which caused the company to be dissatisfied with his standards of operation. Although, owing to the circumstances of the case, Albany alerted both the police and Lautro as precautionary measures, the matter was resolved financially and no formal complaint resulted.

A thorough investigation of policies introduced by Mr Owen-lackson, which in-cluded visits to policyholders, failed to uncover any cause for further action and at no subsequent time did Albany

In May, a routine check by Albany revealed that the ment business under the payee of a cheque issued on a policyholder's instruction was a company that on investigation proved to be controlled by Mr Owen-Jackson, and the matter was referred immediately to the SIB. The company is understood to be

Malcolm Kerr, sales and marketing director of Albany Life, said the company had acted promptly at all times and had more than fully discharged its statutory obliga-tions in order to protect the interests of investors. He said the company would continue to co-operate fully with the Kit Jebens, Lautro's chief executive, said that its members were fully responsible for the actions of their tied agents. Mr Jebens said it was possible to employ unregulated in-dividuals as tied agents, providing the company was satisfied that they were "fit and proper" to carry out investment business.

Mr Owen-Jackson, aged 41, who is married with two children, drove a Lotus Esprit and carried out business from his home, Ittington Manor, near Battle in Sussex. He is believed to have dealt extensively in property.

Callers to Mr Owen-Jackson's business number yesterday heard a recorded message unattended during the holiday period until July 30.

Burton sells financial offshoot to GE Capital

By GILLIAN BOWDITCH

BURTON Group, the retailer that owns Debenhams, Principles and Dorothy Perkins, has sold its financial services division (BGFS) to GE Capital, the financial services arm of General Electric Company of America, for £182.7 million, and has put its property development division up for

Burton said that it would withdraw from property development and concentrate on

The City has become increasingly concerned about the group's gearing and its activities. Sir Ralph Halpern, Burton's chairman, has been group's strategy. Burton said profits of about £25 million its property development division has had some interest and the group is now inviting more formal offers. It will consider selling the developments piecemeal.

Yesterday's long-awaited sale of BGFS will reduce Burton's gearing, which was expected to rise to about 130 per cent this year, to 50 per cent. BGFS has repaid £92 million of inter-company debt to Burton. It has receivables of £570 million. Burton shares rose 5p to 109p. The deal, which has been under negotiation for seven involvement in non-retailing months, gives Burton a premium over net book value and represents a price earnings under pressure to change the ratio of about 11, assuming for BGFS this year. It should also safeguard the dividend. Burton is forecast to make pretax profits of £140 million this year, down from £220 million.

Burton has a 15-year agreement with GE Capital, a main provider of retail credit card services worldwide, which will ensure a continuation of financial services to Burton. The company will pay a fee to GE expected to be in the region of £7 million. The deal is likely to be earnings neutral.

The deal is seen to be a good one for the company, but John Richards, of County NatWest, said there was still a number of unknowns, such as the net book value of the business.

Ministers face spending cuts

By RODNEY LORD, ECONOMICS EDITOR

GOVERNMENT spending as into the figures has already a proportion of the economy is likely to be forced down when the cabinet meets today to consider next year's plans.

individual bids, which add up to more than £10 billion, will be considered. The effect of inflation could allow some increase in cash spending, but John Major and the Treasury are likely to argue for keeping close to the existing plans.

Much of the reserve built been allocated to easing the impact of the poll tax.

The medium term financial strategy in the budget pro-Only the government's vided for a fiscal adjustment strategy and none of the of £1 billion which could be used to cut taxes, but to stick to the projected budget surplus next year of £3 billion could now mean an increase in taxes rather than a cut.

The biggest bids for extra spending come from social security, health, education

Post Office delivery on target

NINETEEN in business to serve you

Figures fall in line: Sir Bryan Nicholson, the chairman, announcing the decline to a lower target yesterday they end up with nothing in the likely event that liquidation of Bond Corp's assets

ensues" because they rank behind other creditors. Over the past three weeks, Bond

Corp executives have visited bondholders to try and convince them to cooperate, but many of the disillusioned investors have exhausted their promise bondholders preference shares in Bond Corp which, if converted, would give them control of the firm. Holders of straight bonds will Bond Corp was saved by a procedural hitch caused by insufficient votes to ensure the

If they approve the Aus$1.8

billion (£786 million) sale of Bond Brewing to Bell Re-sources, bondholders will give up their "put"covenants

buy the bonds back at face which forces Bond Corp to 75 per cent majority.

value in 1992.

be offered different terms.

Mr Lucas is expected to patience.

Profits fall 31.5% to £116m, as planned

By DEREK HARRIS INDUSTRUAL EDITOR

POST Office pre-tax profits last year plunged 31.5 per cent to £116.5 million, down nearly £54 million, on turnover up 14 per cent to £4.46 billion. However, a decline was planned as different financial argets were introduced.

These targets, agreed with the government, had been met overall, although there was a divisional shortfall in parcels. partly because of tougher trad-ing conditions, said Sir Bryan Nicholson, the chairman of the Post Office, announcing

A book loss of £68.7 million on the Post Office's £112 million sale of Girobank to the Alliance & Leicester building society has been treated as an extraordinary item.

The profits decline is worse than it appears because the previous year there were £50 million of losses due to a postal strike.

During the past year and in the two following years, the financial targets have been switched from return on sales to return on capital employed, to be closer to private sector practice and to reflect Post Office investment needs. Sir Bryan said: "The government took account of the rate of inflation and our policy on prices, and set us a target at a level of profit lower than in the previous year." During the second and third years, the targets become "significantly more demand-ing", especially because of large increases needed in capital spending to improve the quality of Post Office services. Sir Bryan said he expected to meet those targets.

The Royal Mail, at £30.8 million, achieved a 2.2 per cent return against a targeted 1 per cent. The counters operation at high street post offices. at £21.7 million, achieved a 10 per cent return against a 9.4

per cent target. Parcelforce, the parcels operation, at £1.3 million, managed a 0.6 per cent return against a projected 2.5 per cent. The Post Office as a group. at £70.4 million. chieved a 3.7 per cent return against a targeted 2.4 per cent.

Bond rescue bid faces crucial vote By ANGELA MACKAY

HOLDERS of Bond Corpora-tion's Eurobonds will be of-two resolutions, it would "alfered several proposals today, including a restructuring of the company's equity and possibly the resignation of Alan Bond as chairman of his flagship company, in an eleventh hour bid to keep the company from collapse.

Bondholders are being asked to approve the sale of Bond Brewing and agree to a one-year moratorium on interest payments.

Other inducements include a rejigging of the board which will reduce the number of representatives of Dallhold, Mr Bond's family campany, to a minority, a new chief executive and the introduction of a bondholders' committee to monitor a new management. A meeting of the holders of Aus$340 million of Bond Corp convertible bonds, now worth about 4 cents in the dollar, was postponed last month but will reconvene this afternoon at the company's Northumberland Avenue headquarters. Peter Lucas, a director of Bond Corp., said that if the Parkfield shares suspended

By COLIN CAMPBELL

SHARES in Roger Felber's Parkfield Group, the video and engineering group, were suspended yesterday at 48p pending clarification of its financial position.

Parkfield, which recently financed the film The Krays, has been in talks with its bankers, and is due to make a formal statement later today.

The group gave a warning last month that profits for the year to the end of April would be "disappointing". One week later the company sought to dispel "many unfounded rumours" about its financial position. It added that year end results would be published by the end of July. The shares traded at a 12month peak of 518p in early January, valuing the group at about £263 million. Yesterday, they fell 7p to 48p. The company said comment" to various press questions last night and merely stuck to its formal announcement that a further statement could be expected

Is your foreign currency loan performing?

Increasing pressure on interest rates within the U.K. economy has served to focus peoples minds on the benefits of a foreign currency loan against a sterling mortgage.

But in the hands of the wrong manager, the pitfalls can often outweigh any potential gain.

At The ECU Group Ltd. we are justifiably proud of our record; over the last 12 difficult months we achieved an average reduction in excess of 15% in the level of our clients' outstanding debt whilst keeping their average interest rate payments (including dealing costs) below 9%.

And our specialist approach to all aspects of currency monitoring, dealing and management ensures that our clients can look forward to the continuing rewards to be found on the Foreign Exchange market in 1990.

If you suspect that your existing Debt Manager may be selling you short, call our free Consultation service on:

071 930 6142

and put your Debt Management onto a more professional footing.

The ECU Group Ltd. Foreign Currency Management

2 Edinburgh Gate, Knightsbridge, London SW1X 7NA

Tel: 071-225 3055 Fax: 071-225 3742/3751 Please note past performance is no guarantee of future success

Government portfolio cut by new privatisation method

Breakfast deal for British Gas shares

By Graham Searjeant FINANCIAL EDITOR.

PRIVATISATION took a new turn at breakfast time yesterday when the Treasury sold 54 million remaining shares in British Gas to Warburg Securities in a bought deal, the first used by the government, which left the securities group to take the risk of placing them among big investors as best it could.

At the same time, the Treasury sold 14 million British Gas shares to the company's own employee share trust for use in company schemes. The two sales raised £150 million for the taxpayer.

The shares were left over from those retained for the one-for-ten loyalty bonus for private investors who bought British Gas shares in the flotation of December 1986. Half of those originally eligible had sold their shares by the time the bonus became payable three years later.

The shares sold to Gas employee share trustees fetched 221.9p each, against a closing stock market bid price of 222p on Tuesday night. Those sold to Warburg fetched 219.75p, but NM Rothschild advised the Treasury that a bought deal was the most cost-effective way of placing the bulk of the shares.

Rothschild called in four leading market-makers at lunchtime on Tuesday and conducted a tender auction at 7.45 am yesterday. Warburg was told that it had won at 8 am and had sold the shares to 60 financial institutions by 8.22 am at about 0.75p more than it paid, making a profit of about £400,000.

The bought deal, one of the biggest in recent years, is likely to have netted the government more than an extended placing by brokers because it did not disturb the market in British Gas shares. This may encourage further use of the system for parcels of quoted shares too small for a general public offer.

The £150 million windfall is the first big contribution to the £5 billion that the government plans to raise in asset sales this financial year, though only a tenth of the £1.5 billion due for the second instalment on privatised water shares this month. There will be small contributions from unused bonus shares of British Airways and of BAA, whose loyal small investors collect bonuses this month. A larger windfall should come from British Petroleum shares. The government kept 68 million BP shares for bonuses due after the unpopular sale, just after the October 1987 crash, few of which may be needed. The Bank of England also accumulated 39 million in its buy-back scheme. In total, the government's BP shares are worth £350 million.

The biggest remaining state holding of noted shares is a 49.8 per stake in British Telecom worth some £9.5 billion. Selling it in this financial year could, however, conflict with the planned sale of the electricity supply industry.

CGS takes control of Hoskyns for £199m

By Melinda Wittstock

CAP Gemini Sogeti, the pan-European software services and information technology group has taken a 69.5 per cent stake in Hoskyns, Britain's biggest computer services specialist for £199 million.

The Paris company, which in May categorically ruled out a bid for Hoskyns, has acquired the controlling stake from Plessey Overseas, a subsidiary of GEC/Siemens, for 330p a share, valuing Hoskyns at £286 million.

jumped 62p to 357p, will keep its existing management and stock market listing at least until 1992. CGS will then bid in cash for the remaining shareswithin three months of Hoskyns announcing its resuits for the year ending October 31, 1992.

CGS said it will pay a minimum price per share at times earnings multiple for the year to end-October 1992, depending on which is greater. The maximum payable will be 660n a share.

Serge Kampf, CGS founder and executive chairman who had insisted a bid for Hoskyns was impossible, saying it did not fit with the group's "seven golden rules about acquisitions", was not available for comment. But Michel Berty, the secretary-general, said CGS, which never makes hostile bids, wanted Hoskyns approval before proceeding. Geoff Unwin, the chairman of Hoskyns who will join the executive committee of CGS, said both companies had been talking for months and that CGS's strategy was most "closely aligned" to its own.

CGS operates a small but fast-growing British software subsidiary providing com-mand control systems for emergency services, and also holds a 25 per cent stake in Sema Group, the Anglo-French computer services company quoted in London. CGS said it wants Hoskyns to continue its programme of acquisitive expansion throughout the world, and will

"fully support this growth". Hoskyns was put on the market seven months ago by GEC/Siemens. Pre-tax profit reached £24.9 million on turnover of £188.7 million in the year to end-October 1989. In the half-year to end-April, pre-tax profit rose 21 per cent to £8.2 million with earnings up 17 per cent to 6.3p.

 Headland, the USM-quoted computing services company which last month shed a quarter of its staff and gave warning of a "significant" interim loss, said it is in talks with a third party regarding a

Casinos win for Stanley

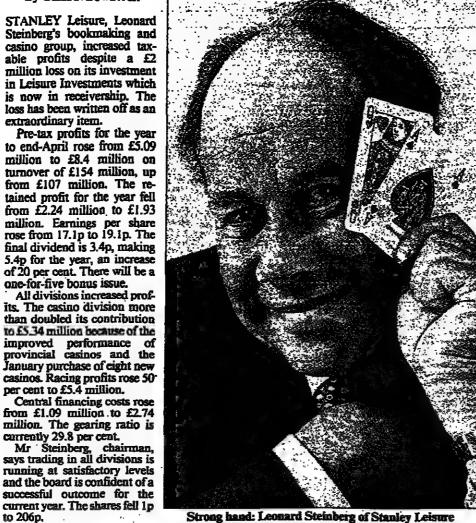

By GILLIAN BOWDITCH

STANLEY Leisure, Leonard Steinberg's bookmaking and casino group, increased tax-able profits despite a £2 million loss on its investment in Leisure Investments which is now in receivership. The loss has been written off as an

Pre-tax profits for the year to end-April rose from £5.09 million to £8.4 million on turnover of £154 million, up from £107 million. The retained profit for the year fell from £2.24 million to £1.93 million. Earnings per share rose from 17.1p to 19.1p. The final dividend is 3.4p, making 5.4p for the year, an increase of 20 per cent. There will be a one-for-five bonus issue.

its. The casino division more than doubled its contribution to £5.34 million because of the improved performance of provincial casinos and the January purchase of eight new casinos. Racing profits rose 50 per cent to £5.4 million. Central financing costs rose from £1.09 million to £2.74 million. The gearing ratio is currently 29.8 per cent. Mr Steinberg, chairman, says trading in all divisions is running at satisfactory levels and the board is confident of a successful outcome for the first time since October 9 last year. The pound touched DM3.0045 before closing at DM2.9929, up 1,12 pfennig.

Sterling breaks through DM3

We made the whole thing up.

THE pound climbed above But after congressional testhe DM3.00 vesterday for the timony from Alan Greenspan, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, the pound closed at $1.8203, up nearly a cent.

Mr Greenspan said the Hopes of lower American underlying trend in America interest rates helped sterling to a 19-month high of $1.8300.

for 1990 by a percentage point to 4.5 to 5.0 per cent.

The American consume price index rose 0.4 per cent on June, excluding food and energy, which means a core inflation in the year to June of 4.9 per cent.

The growth. The sales. The profits.

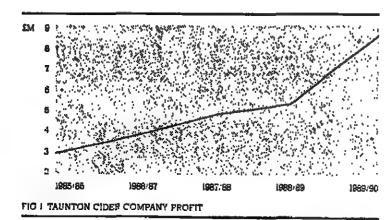

We thought it was time to tell you the whole story about the Taunton Cider Company.

So when you examine our performance (see figs. 1 and 2), you'll understand what's going on.

In short we make things up because that's the way to market leadership, (Creating new and lucrative brands in new and lucrative parts of the cider market.)

As early as 1970 we had created a new keg cider with a unique dry taste.

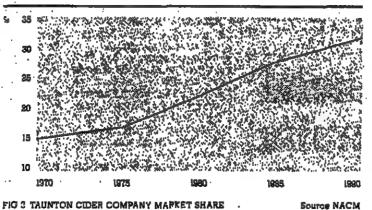

The taste rapidly established Dry Blackthorn as Britain's favourite draught cider. Today it's still No.1.*

When we launched Diamond White. in 1985, we created the country's first ever white cider.

Today besides being brand leader in on-trade packaged ciders, it's the UK's fastest growing cider brand.

Last year we added another chapter to the success story. With the creation of a sister brand, Diamond Blush, the UK's first cider cooler.

In Red Rock we're creating the UK's first premium draught cider. To satisfy a new generation of drinkers with their own premium tastes and values.

As we've made up this portfolio of brands, so we've supported them. Since 1985 no other cider maker has invested more in advertising.

This year we're putting a record £11 million behind our brands.

So in less than 20 years our share of the market has doubled. Establishing us as not only the UK's most innovative cider maker but also by far the most successful.

Which seems like two pretty good reasons for making things up.

TAUNTON MEANS BUSINESS

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, PLEASE CONTACT: THE TAUNTON CIDER COMPANY LTD. NORTON FITZWARREN, TAUNTON, SOMERSET TA2 6RD TEL. 0823 332211. ★ Source State MR Total On Licence 12 months to Feb - Mar 1990

Spanish group in £500m flotation

By WOLFGANG MUNCHAU and DEREK HARRIS

SPAIN'S largest privatelyheld industrial group is to raise almost £500 million in an international stock

Banco Espanol de Credito (Banesto), Spain's third largest ank, is to sell off a 26 per cent stake in La Corporación Banesto, which accounts for 1 per cent of Spain's gross currently holds a 77 per cent stake in the conglomerate. Spanish investors will be offered 40 per cent of the shares. The rest will be placed in Britain, Switzerland, Germany, America, France, Bel-gium, Luxembourg, Japan and Scandinavia. Stockbroker UBS Philips and Drew is managing the offer.

"Our goal . . . is to diversify our shareholder base" so that there are no major share blocks anywhere," said Mario Conde, Banesto chairman.

Benesto intends to retain 51 per cent of the industrial group, whose interests range from insurance to the manufacture of car batteries and

La Corporación Banesto was created earlier this month after the government gave Banesto the go-ahead for a 19 billion peseta (£104 million) tax break on capital gains from ownership changes in the

The bank also said it planned new acquisitions and joint ventures.

It was announced yesterday that British Steel has agreed to buy a 40 per cent stake in Aristrain, Europe's third largest construction steel manufacturer, for an undisclosed sum. La Corporación Banesto will hold a 40 per cent stake in the company.

The deal marks continued efforts by British Steel to strengthen its position in the European market for construction steel. British Steel's efforts to gain a foothold in Spain ran into problems with Spanish regulators who did not want a strategic industry like steel to fall into foreign hands. The purchase was finally allowed to go ahead after after a joint venture deal had been worked

BUSINESS ROUNDUP Midland cuts 392 jobs in streamlining move which well

the first care. So

Haling hourse

the distriction

At was swomp

But Burens

ghai con incid

section is chair

Carmin Tribin

STATE OF THE

WHICH SALE

METERS WHEN

100 STATE - CT. 5

Marticula and the

francial con loss

Capital and the privites later on

E CE C. Liver of

SUCT. CT PTIKITS

But the Thirty of

The United States

miku: ti de das

NOTES (NEW TO BE THE DATE OF THE DATE OF THE PARTY OF THE

Is City and pres

The State Sur

The second second

STATE OF STA

transition of the column of th

STATE OF THE PARTY AND ADDRESS OF THE PARTY AN

Per Printed and the

and the state of which

Banking of the State

Bell wal to your than had क्राचारक ताला । भार 9 क्र

minga: Agreemte conor.

t print a con con con l

THE LOCAL STREET

Camer con accounts.

Manager Street Street 1921 1921

man is sempation of

Es a result of the follows

Balling William

markati bunu guvan tib

der gelle democione a has later the fartests. Set market for the got visitable

ම්කාස්ත්වන 13 සහ ලබා

en out the man

লীকা শুল প্রস্থানা করে based but to both threshood Massachund Betitte g

the process of the contract of their

Market September 119 - 1881

gant fatters that make

Berg process even subseque The need an ap the old Central being Generating Board

The second

has extended the

est the compact of the contract of the contrac

A number of an-

T. U.L.

MIDIAND Bank is to cut 392 jobs in its group operations, mainly involved information technology and electronic services. A bank spokesman said: "The staff have been informed. We are now looking at voluntary redundancies and redeployment, and we have spoken to the unions." Group operations accounts for about one fifth of the bank's total workforce of about 60,000. The spokesman said this was part of the bank's rationalisation programme.

Midland has been trimming staff and cutting back on costs in an effort to cut its cost-income ratio which, at 72.4 per cent at end-1989, is the highest of the top four British banks. In March last year, the bank announced that more than 2,000 jobs were to be lost during the year.

final dividend

BEAVERCO has axed its final dividend after diving into the red, leaving 1.9p for the year. This compares with last time's final of 5.6p, making 7.5p. The USM foam and consumer prod-ucts manufacturer suffered a pre-tax loss of £177,000 in the year to end-March, compared with a profit of £2.14

Tate reference No Beaverco set aside

THE Monopolies and Mergers Commission has laid aside the reference of Tate & Lyle's proposed bid for Berisford. Tate & Lyle dropped its plans almost two weeks ago. The Office of Fair Trading is now considering whether to refer Associated British Food's expected bid for British Sugar, Berisford's sugar division, to the monopolies commission.

million. Turnover grew by 22 per cent to £53 million. Farmers in USM plan

ASSOCIATED Farmers, the agricultural company, plans to graduate from the Third Market to the USM after a merger with privately-owned Sentry Farm Management, via a recommended all-shares offer by Associated Farmers valuing Sentry at £1.09 million. The enlarged group will be one of Britain's largest farm-management companies, farming and managing 38,000 acres. Associated Farmers also proposes to raise £915,000 with a seven-for-13 rights issue at 61p a share to reduce borrowings and redeem shares being issued to Legal. and General as part of the merger agreement. Shares in-Associated were suspended at 86p ahead of resterday's announcement. Trading is expected to resume on August 13.

BWD falls to £679,000

INTERIM profits at BWD Securities, the USM-quoted broker, fell from £759,000 to £679,000. The dividend was held at ip. The fall reflected the 15 per cent drop in share bargains facing the industry. Turnover rose 18 per cent to : £4.04 million because of the from Laing & Cruickshank. up almost a third.

will be used for repayment of short-term debt taken on to fund last year's $1.1 billion acquisition of Sea World, the theme park company.

Anneuser

raises $100m

ANHEUSER-Busch, the larraised $100 million through notes, which carry an 814 per cent coupon and are due in 1995, were issued through

Goldman Sachs. The funds

Bespak up to £3.9m HIGHER capital spending at Bespak, the manufacturer of aerosol valve systems, held back profits growth in the year to April 27. The pre-tax figures rose 5 per cent to £3.91 million. Sales rose by 17 per cent to £23.6 million, with direct exports up by 35 per cent to about 20 per cent of group sales: Robert King, the chairman and chief executive, said research and development spending, half of which is funded by customers, grew to about £2 million, with Bespak's contribution nearly doubling. Earnings per share climb from 17.6p to 19.4p. The final dividend is improved to 4.4p (3.75p), making a total of 7p (6p) for the year. Interest costs, jumped from £103,000 to £396,000. Gearing stood at about 41 per cent. The shares firmed 4p to 317p.

Henry Ansbacher interim up 131%

HENRY Anshacher, the merchant bank that was put up for sale last month, yesterday reported a 131 per cent increase in interim profits. It also revealed that there had been several expressions of interest in buying the key 61.6 per cent controlling stake in

The stake was put up for sale by the bank's majority shareholding group of Pargesa Holding, Groupe Bruxelles Lambert and Banque Internationale a Luxembourg after a "strategic review" of its investments.

Richard Fenhalls, Ans-bacher's chief executive, said letters had been received from potential buyers in North America, Japan and Europe as well as a British non-bank financial services firm.

next week though this is likely to be extended. Mr Fenhalis said a short list would be British con Third W. activities.

The original deadline for enquiries falls at the end of Fenhalls: buying interest drawn up by about mid-August Negotiations were unlikely to be completed before mid-October. The sale of the stake sale is being handled by N M Rothschild.

Ansbacher's interim figures showed a rise in pre-tax profits from £2.19 million to £5.07 million. Mr Fenhalls said this reflected improved performance in the bank's treasury, British corporate finance and Third World debt trading

US labs sale threatened

From PHILIP ROBINSON IN LOS ANGELES

ment will attempt to block the $150 million sale by Twentieth Century Fox of its colour print laboratory to Rank Organisation on the grounds that it restricts competition.

Regulators argue that Rank's explantors argue that Rank's argue that Rank defend the sale vigorously. company,

THE American justice depart- Regulators argue that Rank's

Rank also owns the Film The department is expected to file a legal action against tories based in Canada. Fox to try to block the move. Fox, owned by The News petitor is Technicolor, which also owns the Film House, the processing laboratories based in Canada. Rank's main market competitor is Technicolor, which also owns the Film House, the processing laboratories of the processing laboratories and the processing laboratories are the processing laboratories. The Times, says it intends to munications, another British

COMPANY BRIEFS

MICROGEN (Int) Pre-tax: £4.53m (£4.89m) EPS: 7.1p (8.2p) Div: 2.2p (2.2p) BERTAM HOLDINGS (Fin) Pre-tex: £1.41m (£2.54m) EPS: 4.58p (8.84p) Div: 2.2p mkg 2.2p (3p) GEN CONS INV TST (Int) Pre-tax: £3.04m (£2.88m) EPS: 4.90p (4.65p) Div: 4.3p (4.0p) GROSVENOR DEV CAP Pre-tax: £0.05m (£20,000) EPS: 0.47p (0.72p) Div: none MOORGATE INVITST (Fin) Pre-tax: £1.99m (£1.67m) EPS: 10.37p (8.63p) Div: 7p mkg 10.2p

TINSLEY (ELIZA) GROUP

Pre-tax: £1.32m (£1.41m) EPS: 11.88p (12.52p) Div: 3.4p mkg 5.2p

Turnover climbed to £25.1m (£23m), There was an extraordinary credit of £215,000. Sustained growth expected in medium and long term.

Turnover slipped from £1.74m to £1.45m, Interest receipts climb from £293,000 to £481,000. Tax stood at £493,000 (£771,000).

The net asset value stood at 225.3p (250.7p) per capital share. The directors expect to recommend a final dividend of at least 5.9p.

The results are for five months, against previous 11½ month period. Basic net asset value was 134.7p (129.6p), disited 129.3p (127.0p),

Last year's total dividend was 8.68p. Net asset value was 227.0p (248.1p). Directors recommend issue of cra-ordinary share for each share held. Final results. Last year's total dividend was 4.8p. Turnover climbed to £15.5m (£14.2m). Company said profits recovered in last quarter.

EC fines British Steel for cartel

From Peter Guilford

BRITISH Steel and several other European stainless steel producers have been fined by: the European commission for conspiring to rig the market, and fix prices between 1986, and 1988.

After a protracted enquiry that began when EC investi-gators raided the companies headquarters to crack the suspected cartel, Brussels has found seven firms guilty of carving up the market in 17 European countries by setting permitted tonnages of steel four times a year. They are also accused of operating a pricing committee" to ng

The cartel, covering all sizes and grades of cold rolled stainless-steel flat products. was deemed to violate the European Coal and Steel Community treaty, which regulates the EC steel market.

British Steel and Thyssen-Edelstahlwerke, of West Germany, have each been fined, f35,000. Ugine Aciers de Chatillon et Gueugnon, of France, Krupp Stahl, of Germany, and Terni Accial Speciali, of Italy, all face fines of £70,000. Belgium's AIZ has been fined £17,500. Spanish. Swedish and Fronish ish, Swedish and Finnish firms allegedly in the cared have been spared.

The case highlights the commission's difficulties m. trying to enforce competition; in some sectors of the steel market while continuing to permit quotas in others. The commission admits that the fines were, as a result, deliberately set low.

It said: "The fines are very much reduced from the levels." that would normally have been appropriate in cases of serious infringements of the competition rules. The commission had previously established a quota regime for other steel products and the undertakings may have had the impression that the normal operation of the rules of competition had been modified."

Cleves -

Reg Burr, chairman of Mill-wall Football Club, was a consultant to Cleves Investments, the corporate finance company ordered to cease business, until December, but was never that company's chairman. This corrects yesterday's report.

THE Amani joins Weld old boys

Weld old boys

Amadem from the

Meld old boys

Meld

A Programment in Country and Application in Country in Manual Carlo Manual Carlo Carl

Sale age at a

Seek Barket

Military 10 5 circul

And semantic descriptions of their

The I dictarrance that a point of a part of the part of a part of

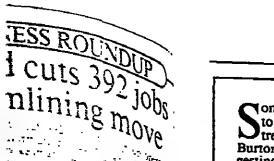

Amily of a tile than a factor of the factor

Company of the company

12 than locking been comment the

1 postped ons and it is 10.00 of the

Come analysts are beginning to say extreme, and ex-Utremely unwise, things about Burton Group. They are suggesting that Burton is the next Next, which went off the boil in the high street and off the rails with the City. Similarities can be found, but they are outnumbered by the differences. The main one is that Burton has a "hard core" retailing business which will ride the economic waves, whereas

Next was swamped by them. But if Burton is misunderstood it has only itself, or to be more specific its chairman, to blame. Communication with the major shareholders has become uncomfortable, spasmodic and hostile. It was not helped yesterday when Burton issued two statements, one in the early afternoon on the sale of the financial services division to GE Capital and the second ninety minutes later on the decision to get out of property. The gap smacks either of chaotic organisation or making decisions on the run, neither of which inspires great confidence. The decisions themselves are unlikely to be challenged, for they

Burton faces a confidence gap

everything is taken into account, would be running at about the same level as shareholders funds. The sale of the financial services division brings in hard cash and relieves the books of substantial debt. If the same could be achieved on a sale of property, Burton would be in good shape to prosper when the high street picks up. In the meantime, by announcing the intention to sell the property operations, Burton has given itself the option of taking any losses and provisions below the line, rather than out of profits for the year to end August. It is an optical illusion of the kind that analysts have grown to see through.

make perfect sense for a group with borrowings which, when Burton and its chairman are retailers first, and the City will be reacting positively to the commitment to focus on the core activity, rather than capitalhungry financial services and property. But there is a little of a property man in virtually all retailers, and there is enough in Sir Ralph Halpern to tell him that to sell out now might be making Burton's exit at the bottom of the market. A good offer will be required to persuade him to get out in one bound, rather than to trade out as opportunities

COMMENT DAVID BREWERTON

There was, however, a less develop.

welcome side to the twin press releases. It has been speculated that Sir Ralph is to bow to institutional pressure to split the roles of chairman and chief executive, the combination of which has given him what some institutions see as too much power and too high a salary. Nobody would dispute what Sir Ralph has achieved in dragging Burton from obscurity into a major force in British retailing, but that does not give him a lifetime line on both jobs. He is aware of institutional feeling on the issue, and will probably announce his decision to hand over day-to-day management at the same time as results are declared in the autumn.

Power steering institutions are becoming increasingly uncomfortable with the roles of chairman and chief executive being combined, even where there are not specific difficulties. Not all such companies end up in trouble, but a combined role is a common factor in many companies which do. Near the top of the list must be Ferranti International, where Sir Derek Alun-Jones conceived, executed and subsequently paid for, through the loss of his job, the ill-starred takeover of International Signal. Puffing along a few paces behind runs John Gunn of British & Commonwealth pursued by a cast of overblown egos. Although the tide of institutional opinion is nevertheless running strongly against the roles being combined, the institutions tend to wait for a lapse of some kind before bringing particular pressure to bear, and it appears that Sir Ralph's name has come to the top of the list. Nearly one third of quoted British companies combine the two jobs, and among them are some spectacularly strong companies, where the undiluted. driving, entrepreneurial spirit has worked for the benefit of shareholders. But even at some of the most successful companies where the roles are combined, the restraining hand of a strong chairman might have usefully controlled the enthusiasms of the all-powerful chief executive.

He might, for instance, have prevented Gerald Ratner from getting into the curious position of having to launch a second rights issue before the first is subscribed, as he did a couple of years ago, or from running into problems with the junk bond lobby as he is with the Kay's purchase.

At the same time, Ratners may have been a less rewarding investment had Gerald not been given his head. And would Mecca have been running its debts so high if an independent chairman had been forced to worry about them?

But more dangerous, I suggest, are companies where there appears to be an independent chairman, but where the balance of power is so weighted, either by personality, size of shareholding, boardroom politics, or a lazy incumbent, that the chief executive still has virtually unchallenged power.

IN SCENES likely to be more reminiscent of an Oriental bazaar than a normal corporate results presentation, 12 company chairmen will meet the City this morning.

The City is not greatly interested. The figures for the year to end-March of the 12 electricity distribution companies are already largely known, as is the fact that they will miss their government-set financial targets. About the most interesting figure likely to emerge is that the companies spent £22 million on costs associated with the privatisation in the 1989/90 financial year, even before the publicity juggernaut got into second gear, a sum described as "staggering" by one analyst.

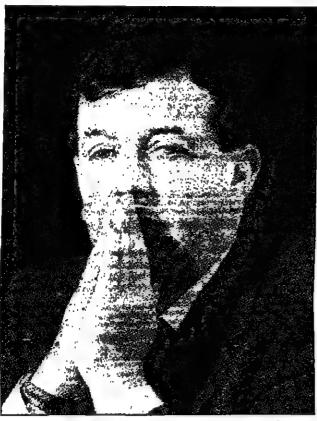

The 12 will reveal that total turnover rose more than 9 per cent but that aggregate operating profits were only up 1.9 per cent, a fall in real terms. On a current cost accounting basis, that rise was 2.3 per

The City is more concerned about what the financial structure of the 12 companies will be as a result of the tough negotiations between the com-panies and John Wakeham, the energy secretary.

For the first time, the companies are being given the chance to sell themselves to the analysts on an official basis. Under the farcical setup devised for the privatisa-tion, none of the 12 can pick up the phone and initiate contact with the City. Under the cumbersome verification procedures, even the most insignificant fact about their and cross-checked before it can be released.

The power industry flotation, compared with other government sell-offs, has two significant features that make this gagging process even more damaging. The need to break up the old Central Electricity Generating Board monopoly into 16 separate companies has extended the time scale. That break-up, along with the complex "pool" or market in electricity, means power is the most difficult privatisation to understand. A number of analysts, in particular those

Electricity facing hard time from a soft peddle

John Wakeham: tough talks with power companies working for the shrinking the government perceives in no formal connection with the companies being sold off, have complained that their work in getting to grips with the industry is badly hampered by the excessive secrecy.

The unkind, and perhaps unworthy, suspicion is growing that the distribution companies are being deliberately held back from selling themselves as hard as they would like because of the difficulty band of institutions that have selling the other half of the power industry, the two big generating companies, next

> Analysts believe the 12 could come to the market with no problems. Their main business, distribution, is extremely stable, despite the scare stories that have emerged suggesting large amounts of their workload could be lost.

There are clear cost savings that can still be made, while most have hefty retail operations thrown in virtually for nothing in the current retail environment but which could prove their worth once the economy picks up.

The generators, PowerGen and the larger National Power, are a rather different proposition. There are uncertainties over how they can fund and build enough plant to keep the lights on into the next decade, or how they can cope with more stringent anti-pollution requirements. The latest fear being raised is that the pool arrangement, by revealing which are the most profitable stations, may allow the unions to target more effectively any future industrial action.

A few analysts believe the two are unsaleable in their current form, and that the float, when it comes, will have to be massaged in some way: perhaps by only selling off half the companies, or a sale by a placing or tender offer which would effectively leave Sid on the sidelines. That is a course of action that would have its attractions to many people within the generating industry.

The distribution company chairmen will go into bat today armed with a thick briefing paper from their financial adviser, the mer-chant bank NM Rothschild, telling them just what they can and cannot say. They are allowed to say, presumably through clenched teeth: "We have negotiated a tough but fair capital structure." They cannot say that the government is loading £1.9 billion of or that their gearing ratios therefore will range from 30 per cent to 45 per cent as of next March 31, until that figure is announced in par-liament, most likely next Tuesday.

The document is full of helpful advice like: "Make no forecast of future demand." Most of the 12 chairmen will be glad when December rolls around, and the dead hand of the department is lifted. A lot are saving up some interesting facts and comments on their current masters for then.

Martin Waller

TEMPUS

Funding First Leisure

INVESTORS would be hard pressed to identify for which specific purpose First Leisure is calling for £30.8 million of new funds, but the only market gripe is that its two lords, Rayne and Delfont, are leap-ing at their entitlement in full. Thus there is little chance of institutions picking up a larger slice of an illiquid stock. The issue is one-for-eight at 182p, and will be put behind the core business, used to clip borrowings, and help the development programme, which is running at £60 million this

First Leisure today completes a contract to buy one of Europe's largest discos, the Metropool near Amsterdam. Only two weeks ago, the group opened its first large leisure park in Milton Keynes, Bucks.

Although the economic climate still makes life tough, interim pre-tax profits for the period ended April 29 are 22.6 per cent up at £10.1 million, and there is a 37.8 per cent increase in the interim dividend to 1.55p a share. A similar percentage increase is promised for the year's final.

A property revaluation lifts net worth from 84,7p a share at the end of October to 145.2p now. The group may fall short of its net earnings growth target of 20 per cent unless profits top market estimates of about £30.5 million, but the target will be within reach so long as 1991 profits advance to £40 turnover and profit, therefore, million, equivalent to net earnings of 18.8p a share.

The shares have merely tracked the market in recent months, and on a prospective p/e of 14.1 at 221p, up 6p, are up with events.

Cityvision

CITYVISION hit a nasty burst of static when its £26 million rights issue flopped in March. Until then, the group had been one of the market's favourite smaller go-go stocks, riding on the crest of the video

The rights issue flop may have had one positive effect, in that it reined in some of the more ambitious plans for diversification, but as a onefor six with only a 6 per cent take-up, it left a lot of shares in the wrong place.

The shares, as high as 146p in January, have yet to re-cover, and a 4p rise to 111p on the back of excellent half-way figures still leaves them 9p below the rights price.

Pre-tax profits of £8.37 million compare with £4.62 million last time, and the interim dividend is doubled. The group has 775 video rental stores open in Britain and should have no trouble reaching 1,500, at which stage the British market will start to look saturated, within 18 months.

are virtually assured, and the rights at least left the balance sheet strong. Diversification into Europe, particularly Italy and Spain, will come, bringing with it the inevitable risks of such a move. The first sell-through store in Britain opens in September. The downside is still that fears of increased competition on the high street remain, although Cityvision is well placed to compete in a price war. There are also the group's depreciation policies, which have attracted mild City criti-

The upside is the proven management ability and the opportunities for organic growth. The shares sell on about 10.8 times future earnings. Not a spectacular performer in coming months, but perhaps one to tuck away.

HP Bulmer

LET us hope there is more sparkle in HP Bulmer's ciders than in its results. Year-end profits, up from £10.5 million to £12 million, were below City forecasts already clipped back by an average £2 million after the benzine scare at Perrier, for whom Bulmer is British distributor, and a yeast infection which led to the withdrawal of one-litre cider bottles from supermarkets.

Even though Perrier picked up the bill for disposing of taminated bottles, supplies ran dry for two months and Bulmer's other mineral waters could not compensate for the loss of sales.

These exceptional events cost about £1 million in lost profits, implying that Bulmer was still running behind expectations despite last year's hot, thirsty summer which triggered the first upturn in national cider sales for five

The City and Bulmer may have underestimated the cost of beefing up the sales force to cash in on MMC orders to free cider in tied outlets. The MMC has effectively opened up about 20,000 public houses to Bulmer's ciders, and the sales force has been doubled to Capital expenditure of £17.5 million, almost double last year's levels, will inevitably impact on interest charges, which last year rose £2 million to almost £5 million. A return to a normal tax charge of 30 per cent, against only 24 per cent, will further restrict earnings growth, now that Australian tax losses have been exhausted.

Investors must ask whether Bulmer has the resources to do justice to its brands without causing damage to prospects in the short-term. The shares, down 3p to 170p, trade on a prospective p/e of 11.25 on pre-tax profits of £13.8 million. The rating is high for a family-controlled company.

THE TIMES CITY DIARY

Carlo de d

has been absent from the Square Mile since he retired from BZW a year ago, is back. On Monday he joined Fiske & Co, the medium-sized independent agency broker that is traditionally known for dealing in oil stocks. His arrival will heighten the firm's reputation as something of a haven for former Wedd partners. Attracted by its partnership-style culture, instilled by Clive Harrison, the chairman and managing director, it has already become home to colourful Charlie Philipson and Tim Bullimore, both once Wedd partners and then also with Barclays de Zoete Wedd. "After twiddling my thumbs at home, managing my family funds, I decided I wanted to come back," says Advani, a well-known stock market character. "I missed the buzz of the City. I drew up a short list of people who wanted me to join them and decided that I wanted something small and friendly, without the bureaucracy and politics of a big firm. And then I discovered that two of my former partners were already with Fiske ... Advani will once again focus on smaller companies. "I will be researching them, looking at corporate finance opportunities and selling equities. The sector has been bombed out for so long that it is now time to start looking at it again," he

LET us hope that the idea does sector in the latest Extel Wedd old boys mot spread .. In America a former bank manager has written to his local meriden for his DAVID Advani, the one-time in Pittsburgh, admitting that Wedd Durlacher partner who he spanked more than 50 of his customers during the late 1970s for falling behind with their loan repayments. "I never had any trouble with them afterwards," he said.

Brown for UBS JAMES Capel, the government's adviser on the privatisation of the electricity industry, has lost one of its specialist natural resources salesmen - Malcolm Brown, aged 29 - to UBS Phillips & Drew. Brown, who deals in oil, water and electricity stocks, had been with Capel for five years. The oil team there was ranked second in its survey. "He starts with us on September 10," says a UBS spokesman. "We have been strengthening our natural resources team on all fronts because, apart from the privatisations, we think the sector will become a heavyweight part of portfolios." Brown will be working alongside two other specialist salesmen, who have also just joined the firm, Joe Malinowski, from Postel, the Post Office pension fund, and Alex Thistlethwaite, an Exeter university graduate. At the same time, Peter Beck, who had been the overall head of UBS's natural resources team, has been promoted to head of European equiues. He has been replaced by Mike Cowling, aged 50, who, until two years ago, ran the specialist oils sales desk at Wood Mackenzie. Cowling. after brief spells at Morgan Grenfell and Robert Fleming, joined UBS last September. "We have been building up a new team," he says. "We have the > electricity." Warning signs WITH profit warnings and downgradings now a daily occurrence, a check list for investors to help them detect potenually insolvent companies has been doing the rounds. According to Bill Mackey, a chartered accountant in the City, and a receivership ex-number one analyst in water,

Operator? There appears to be the sound of an extortionate price in-crease on the line."

we were ranked sixth in oils.

which can only improve, and we want to be number one in pert, the danger signals in-clude directors who drive Rolls-Royces with persona lised plates, a chairman who is either a politician or known for his charitable work, or employees who are so happy they have no strike record. An elderly or unqualified accoun tant is never a healthy sign. nor is an annual report which shows the chairman stepping out of a helicopter.

On line for charity SPECIALIST electronics salesman Colin Line, employed by agency broker Henderson Crosthwaite, brought his charitable activities to work yesterday. Line, aged 48, regularly accompanies invalids to Lourdes, Vienna and Salzburg as part of his work for the Across Trust, and it was he who was responsible for the appearance in the City of six blue and white "jumbulances", four even larger Aligator jumbulances, and teams of brightly dressed volunteers who did their best to persuade commuters and lunch-time sunbathers to part with their spare cash. The jumbulances, fully equipped with beds, and used by the charity to convey the pilgrims, cost £300,000 each. Other regular City supporters of the trust are John Hoskin, of Gerrard Vivian Gray, and Michael Down of Moore &

Carol Leonard

Rowlands, the accountancy firm. They hope that yesterday's efforts will have raised at least £15,000.

SHL 1990. It's going to be a vintage year...

Understanding your workforce - through assessing and developing key skills - is necessary to achieving optimum levels of performance.

The Contemporary Trends in Assessment Conference at Warwick University will bring together notable figures from the fields of industry, research and professional practice to expound those ideas that are defining assessment policies and procedures.

For three days in September, more than 20 conference speakers will be convening at Warwick to discuss theories and techniques relevant to developing management potential in today's competitive business environment. Amongst them are four key speakers:

Sir John Harvey-Jones, MBE Transforming ICI into one of Britain's best run companies, Sir John will give his views on identifying and motivating management talent within

Major General Sir Jeremy Moore, KCB, OBE, MC Sir Jeremy will draw on his illustrious military career to demonstrate those themes and lessons of leadership and team building that transpose to the business world.

Professor Bernard Bass

Professor Bass, with an international reputation for research into leadership, will discuss characteristics of effective leaders, and techniques for their assessment and development.

Professor Hans Eysenck, PhD, DSc, C.Psychol. Professor Eysenck will discuss his theories of personality and intelligence and their implications for the world of work.

Two distinguished public figures will be speaking after-dinner to further enhance each evening's entertainment. Chay Blyth and Christopher Gable will be drawing on their own vivid experiences to make observations on leadership and assessment in the development of effective teams.

For further information on the Saville and Holdsworth Contemporary Trends in Assessment Conference, please contact Customer Services at the address below:

Saville & Holdsworth Ltd., 3 AC Court, High Street, Thames Ditton Surrey KT7 OSR. Tel: 081-398 4170 Fax: 081-398 9541

Saville & Holdsworth CONFERENCE

CONTEMPORARY TRENDS IN ASSESSMENT

STOCK MARKET

BAT dips as company

denies profit warning

US demand may wreck trade deal

By COLIN NARBROUGH, ECONOMICS CORRESPONDENT

A DEMAND by the United Washington's insistence on States for the right to exclude keeping loopholes in an eventfinancial services, civil avi-ation and shipping from an Trade in Services (Gats), the accord on liberalised world trade in services has halted progress in this key area of the and Trade, has led Felipe Jara-Uruguay Round negotiations.

Unless the US changes its stance, there appears to be little chance of an umbreila agreement emerging to encompass the $600 billion annual world trade in services. agreement being approved. Without agreement on services, liberalisation sought in trade in farm goods and manufactures may come to nothing. The deadline for completion of the four-year, 105untion round is Decumber.

The deadlock comes as negotiators in Geneva seek to reach a "profile" agreement by and domestic regulatory conthe end of next week to enable ministers to achieve a successful conclusion to the round.

agency

services counterpart of the General Agreement on Tariffs millo, the negotiating group's chairman, to submit a draft treaty avoiding reference as to which services would be covered. Negotiators see no chance of such an uncertain

The BAT share price was quickly marked lower, ending Most negotiators had been ready to adopt a simple word-9p down at 633p. In reply to a ing making the Gats applicable to "all tradeable servquestion about currency translations, Mr Sheehy remarked ices", although each nation has its own exclusion dethat the strong pound would affect earnings in the current year. He told the assembly: mands. However, the protectionist lobby in the US, plus the "thrifts" industry collapse "Sterling has increased substantially and the translation of results will be affected by cerns, have made American negotiators abandon enthus-His comment followed the iasm for liberalising services. recent first-quarter figures, which showed a drop in pre-tax profits from £318 million to £231 million. But, last night, BAT denied that his remarks amounted to a profit BAT usually calculates its overseas profits at year-end exchange rates. Last year, the pound stood at $1.61, but closed in London last night at $1.82. Its American tobacco interests and Farmers, its financial services group, are the biggest contributors with profits growing at about 15 per

Richard Workman, an analyst at Security Pacific Hoare

Govett, the broker, calculates that the tobacco division will increase its contribution from £475 million to £550 million with currency losses totalling

£70 million at $1.61. He said: "It is certain that, in sterling terms, profits will fall. It is a bit of a lottery and there is little flexibility."

cent annually.

RISES: Gibbs & Dandy

Advertising Property loss hits

By MELINDA WITTSTOCK

SHARES in Yellowhammer fell 4p to a low of 13p teriors maker and property yesterday after the ailing developer, suffered a fall in advertising agency revealed it had suffered an as yet unaudited pre-tax loss of end-April. £5.66 million for the year to end-March, against a profit last time of £2.7 million.

Pre-tax trading losses of £3.65 million were in line with a company forecast made last March. However, extraordinary losses of £2.01 million relating to closure costs and discontinued businesses made the result "significantly worse" than expected.

Yellowhammer said its advertising agency business and most subsidiaries continue to trade profitably before tax and interest. The company said it was negotiatcompany said it was negotiating a recapitalisation plan and from 25.2p to 10.8p. The final continued to trade within its held at 6.6p, making an existing overdraft facilities.

loses £5.6m AIM profit

By PHILIP PANGALOS

AIM Group, the aircraft inprofits from £4.53 million to £2.48 million in the year to

The company made a £5.36 million provision against the closure of its property division. After profit on dis-posals of subsidiaries, there was an extraordinary loss of £3.11 million.

The aviation division, which saw operating profits slip from £2.18 million to £1.7 million, should enjoy high deliveries after delays experienced with the McDonnell

The rest of the equity market spent most of the day Douglas MD-11 programme. Group turnover slipped from £51.1 million to £47.9 marking time and shadowing the futures market. But a dull million as a result of the start to trading on Wall Street saw prices lose ground in late trading with the FT-SE 100 index losing 13.0 to 2,402.0. unchanged 9p. MAJOR CHANGES

Murchison cuts jobs

By COLIN CAMPBELL

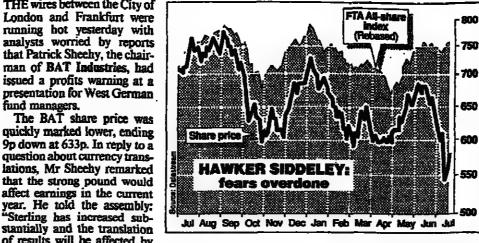

CONSOLIDATED Murchi- raine Gold Mines turned in a son, the antimony and gold R1.15 million (£241,000) net producer, is the latest South loss for the quarter ended African mining operation to June, compared with a prereduce its labour force because vious R3.96 million profit, of poor prices, and has cut its and Hartebeestfontein's net milling rate by one quarter.

The company blames Chinese oversupply of antimony lion because of weaker gold while worldwide demand re-

Anglovaal group show Lo- to 6 per cent.

loss for the quarter ended quarterly profit fell from R50.9 million to R42.7 mil-

In June, Loraine said it was Other highlights of the latest cutting its workforce by quarterly reports from the 10,000 employees, equivalent

The FT index of 30 shares also lost 12.3 to 1,900.6 although turnover improved to almost 600 million, swollen by a number of placings.

Government securities remained overshadowed by Tuesday's disappointing PSBR figures, closing mixed in thin trading.

Among the leaders, Sains-bury, the supermarket chain, firmed 2p to 302p despite a line of almost 3 million shares circular from Kleinwort Benson, the broker, recommending them as a long-term buy. Kleinwort says that the recent fall in the price has been overdone and that the power engineering problems are not all that significant. It is looking for pre-tax profits of £180 million in the current year compared with £202 million in 1989.

retailing group, showed taxable profits almost doubled to £8.3 million with earnings a share up from 2.78p to 4.03p. The shares rose 2½p to Kleinwort also likes the look of BICC and is expected Revived talk of a bid lifted Prudential 3p to 238p. Reports originating in the fereign exchange market claimed that Allians, the West German financial services group, was considering building up a stake as a preliate to a £4.5 billion bid. But Allianz does not usually make contested bids and last night denied the seller was believed to be the The shares lost an early lead to Sainsbury family. Hawker Siddeley man to shrug off some of the gloom stemming from last week's profits warning which prompted analysts to substantially downgrade their forecasts for the current year. Problems within its power engineering division in the US are likely to result in losses of about £30

RECENT ISSUES

The shares, which were trading at about 610p last week, closed 4p better at 568p, after 573p, helped by a bullish

EQUITES

Cahill May (55p) Castle Caim (50p) Courtaulde Textiles

Invergorden Leading Lu New

Levercreat M & W Pic

Flemming Euro IT Prench Prop Tet German IT Golden Vale Handerson Highland (100p)

Malayste Capital Mrth Currie Euro (100p) Midland Radio Nthn. Investors Pittencrieff

going through the market. The to issue a bullish circular soon. finish only 1p firmer at 442p accelerating the acquisition of its 19 per cent stake in Grupo Espanol General Cable.

Cap Gemini Sogeti is buy-ing the 69.5 per cent holding in Hoskyns, Britain's biggest computer services specialist, which is jointly owned by GEC and Siemens of West Germany. CGS is paying 330p a share, valuing the stake at £199 million. GEC and Siemens acquired the stake when they bought Plessey last year.

managment company, in a deal worth £1.08 million. Michael Clark MAJOR INDICES

Hoskyns 60p to 355p, while

British Gas slipped 1p to 222p as Warburg Securities, the broker, placed 54 million shares at 2201/2p each with Parkfield, the troubled video and engineering group, fell 7p to 48p in late trading, at which point the shares were suspended, pending clarifica-tion of the group's financial Yellowhammer, the advertising agency, was also a weak market, falling 4p to 13p on headed by Lord Delfont, surprised the market with its decision to raise £30.7 million by a rights issue. The terms of one-for-eight at 182p were judged agreeable and the price rose 6p to 221p.

Interim figures from City-vision, the video rental and

Full-year figures from HP ulmer, the cider-maker, fell short of expectations with pre-tax profits up from £10 mil-lion to £12 million.

The company blamed its disappointing performance on production problems relating to the recall of its one-litre cider bottles and the withdrawal of the Perrier mineral water in February. The shares

Associated Farmers, the farming and farm management specialist quoted on the Third Market, was suspended

at 86p. The company is to merge with Sentry Farm Management, a rival farm fell 2p to 171p.

First Leisure, the group reported losses.

GEC eased 11/2p to 202p, institutional clients.

	New York
	Dow Jones 2988.37 (-11.38)*
	Tokyo: Nikkei Average 33048.11 (-124.17)
	Hong Kong:
	Hang Seng
	Amstardage
	CBS Tendency
	Sydney: AO 1515.5 (-8.4) Prankfurt: DAX 1986.04 (+37.04)
	Brucelle
i	General 6257.23 (-4.88)
	Parls: CAC 537.42 (-0.96)
	Zurich: SKA Gen 676.3 (-0.0)
	FTA Al-Share 1177.97 (-4.84)
	FT "500" 1291.50 (-6.95)
	FT. Gold Mines
	ET Svori interest . E7 C0 /±0/4\

Conrad Cont N/P
Electim Hee N/P
Hartend Simon N/P
Sketchley N/P
Sun Life N/P
Tomkins N/P
Weir Group N/P

WORLD MARKET INDICES

Index	Veter	Delity ch'ge (E)	chide (E)	Ch'ge (le)*	chige (ic)*	Ch'ge (USS)	Yearly chige (USS)
The World	711.2	-0.6	-15.7	0.1	-5.6	0.0	-4.9
(free)	135.7	-0.6	~15.9	-0.2	-5.8	0.0	-6.1
EAFE	1250.1	-0.3	-19.2	-0.2	-10.3	0.3	-8.9
(iree)	129.0	-0.3	-19.6	-0.3	-10.6	0.3	-9.3
Europe	741.6	-0.2	-2.5	0.1	2.2	0.3	9.3
(free)	159,3	0.0	-2.5	-0.1	1.9	0.7	9.9
Nth America	492.8	-1.1	-8.5	-0.5	3.2	-0.5	8.3
Nordio	1542.3	-0.5	-0.9	-0.3	6.9	0.1	11.8
(free)	245.2	-0.4	4.2	-0.2	12.3	0.2	17.6
Pacific	2830.2	0.6	-28.6	-0.4	-17.7	0.1	-19.5
Far East	4090.4	-0.5	-29.3	-0.4	-18.4	-0.1	-20.3
Australia	310.4	-1.0	-10.6	-0.5	0.6	-0.4	8.0
Austria	1927.1	0.9	29.7	1.1	42.2	1.5	48.3
Belglum	839.0	-0.3	-14.8	0.0	-8.4	-0.4	-3.9
Cunada	486.9	-1.4	-18.9	-1.1	-9.0	-0.8	-8.5
Denmark	1303.1	-0.2	-1.0	0.0	6.1	0.5	11.7
Finland	88.9	-0.4	-22.9	-0.2	-17.4	0.2	-13.1
(free)	130.7	1.3	-123	1.6	-6.1	1.9	-1.1
France	749.1	0.2	-7.4	0.5	-0.2	0.8	4.5
Germany	826.2	1.7	0.9	1.8	10.7	2.3	13.9
Hong Kong	2471.1	1.1	11.4	1.7	25.0	1.8	25.7
taly	366.9	8.0	-4.8	1.2	1.9	1.1	6.7
Japan	4289.7	-0.3	-30.1	6.0	-19.2	-0.1	-21.6
Netherlands	843.8	-0.6	-10.8	-0.5	-2.2	0.0	0.7
New Zeuland	90.9	-0.8	-11.9	-0.2	-0.2	-0.2	-0.6
Norway	1471.4	-1.2	9.6	-1.0	18.1	-0.5	23.7
(free)	256.4	-0.9	9.7	-0.7	18.3	-0.2	23.6
Sing/Malay	1970.7	-0.6	-1.2	0.0	6.5	0.0	11.4
Spain	230.4	-0.2	-2.6	0.0	1.1	0.5	9.8
Sweden	1771.1	-0.5	1.0	-0.3	9.4	0.1	13.9
(free)	261.9	-0.6	8.2	-0.3	17.2	0.1	22.0
Switzerland	920.1	-0.7	0.6	-0.8	3.8	-0.1	13.5
(free)	137.9	-0.6	-1.2	-0.9	1.9	-0.2	11.5
JK .	712.5	-0.7	-1.2	-0.7	-1.2	0.0	11.5
JSA	446.8	-1.1	-7.5	0.5	4.3	-0.5	4.3
lability and a second			dames .	4		D-11-1

ic)" Local currency.		80	urce: Morgan	Stanley	Capital Interns	tional,	۱
	ALP	HA	STOC	KS		\supset
Vol '000	L	/al :000		/or :000	v	ODG. PO	I
ADT 392 Abbey Nat 5,378 Add-Lyons Amstrad Amstrad Amstrad Amstrad Amstrad Amstrad Assert 2,818 Assert 2,818 Assert 2,818 Assert 1,806 Astr 1,461 Bact 2,818 Assert 2,818 Assert 2,818 Assert 2,818 Assert 1,09 Assert 1,595 Bue Circle 1,776 Assert 1,595 Asser	CU Cookson Courtsudds Daigety Dixons ECC Enterprise Farnant Flooring Gen Acc GEC Glaxo Globe Inv Glynwed Grand Met GUS 'A' GRE GKN Guirness Hamm 'A' Hanson Do Was H & C Inchcape Kingfisher Lasmo Ladbroke Land Sec Laporie LAG Cloyds	620 930 1,124 800 2,952 2,850 2,952 2,952 2,952 2,768 6375 2,768 6375 2,246 645 1,729 1,72	Lonrho Luces Menpower MAS Maxwell Cin MB Group Mecca Micland Nas West Nasd Nin Food P&O P&O Pearson Fillingson	1,836 2,102 2881 1,042 707 352 8,134 3,680 508 27 1,234 498 2,070 1,359 3,368 6,891 1,359 91 5,891 477 1,892 91 5,872 91 5,873 2,178 2,178 2,178 2,178 3,680 6,891 2,178 2,178 2,178 3,680 6,891 2,178 2,178 2,178 2,178 2,178 2,178 2,178 2,178 2,178 2,178 3,680 6,891 2,178	Shell Sebe Slough Shell Sebe Slough Smith & N SK Beech Du Uts Smith WH Smiths Ind STC Stan Chart Storehae Sun Alinoe Ta N TI Group Tamac Ta N TI Group Tamac Taylor Wd TSB Tesco Thames Wh Transe Sun Aline Taylor Wd Transe White Thorn Eall Transe White The United Rever United Ris United News Welsome Wester White Messex Whithert Wessex Whitems Williams Williams Williams Williams Williams Williams Williams Williams	4,861 812 1,861 2,092 984 57 270 196 196 3,180 485 2,400 190 2,416 381 1,521 6,820 1,086 1,786 1,786 1,786 1,786 570 427 2,519 947
coats 61	Licycle Abb	3.695

TRADITIONAL OPTIONS

WORLD MARKETS

Early setback for Dow

New York
BLUE chips suffered mod- prices. erate losses in early trading • Hong Kong - Concerted but managed to find some buying especially from over-support after traders digested seas fund managers, produced the wide-ranging testimony of a sharp rise in prices. The Alan Greenspan, the Federal Hang Seng index rose 64.35 Reserve chairman, to the Senpoints to 3,528.29. The ate Banking Committee. The broader-based Hong Kong in-Dow Jones industrial average dex gained 41.45 to 2,319.92 was 17.57 points lower at 2,982.18. Prices fell early was down 124.16 to 33,048.11. because of an unexpectedly. Shares closed lower in fairly. large leap in the June conheavy trading on profit-tak-sumer price index, cutting ing, ending five consecutive their losses briefly despite a days of advances. (Reuter)

WALL STREET

		. *	 	711
	Jul 18 midday	Jul 17 ($059		Jul 18 midday	Jul 17 close		Ad 18°	Jel 17 Ocean
Abbott Lab	43%	45	Enron .	53%	53%	Oryx Enrgy Pac Ent	47 38%	47%
Aetna Life Ahmanson	52% 22	53 22 59%	Enterpy Ethyl	19% 31%	19 V	Pac Gas Ele Pac Telecis	e 22%	86% 22% 43%
Air Prods Albertsons	59 36%	59% 37%	Fad NMA	484 41	48%	Paccar	4175	415
Alcen Al	23%	201	Fedri Expre	46% 19	47%	Pacificrop Pall	. 35	20% 35
Algo Stend Affect Stores	37% 35% 67%	37% 35% 87%	Fit Norstar Fluor	484	47%	Paramount Parker-Ham	43 bp 28%	29%
Affect Stones Alumin CA Am Brands	67% 69	87% 69%	Ford Motor	43% 29%	80	Penney	56%	. 59X.
AIR CYBRING AIR EPC	60%	69% 80%	Fst Chicago Fst Intrsta	27% 39%	28 39%	Penazoli . Pensico	79 82%	83 -
Arts General	29% 47%	29½ 47%	Fst Union	194	19%	Dillere .	71%	. 694
Am Home Am inti	52% 97%	47% 54% 96%	Gennett Gen Çinema	36% 21%	21%	Philips Pet Pridpe Bec Prip Morris	16%	16%
Am Medical Am Stores	n/a 68%	n/a 68% 26% 48%	Gen Bec Gen Miles	90%	925	Phins Dodo	8 6/	57%
Amax	26%	26%	Gen Motors Gen RE	. 49% 87	49% 86%	Ploney Bow Plor Dome	43% 16% 30%	18% 18% 30%
Amer Hees Amentach	47% 60%	59%	Gen Signal	58%	58 28%	PNC Fnci Pnhdle Estr	30% 18%	30%
Arnoco	S1% 52%	31% 53% 51% 54%	Genemech Genume Pts	284 364	36%	Polercid	36%	394
AMP AMR	50% 61%	51%	Georgia-Pac Gillette	47% 53%	47% . 53%	PPG Inda Protr Gapinia	48% 88%	494 89% 42%
Anheuser-B	44%		Goodyear	43 29%	414	Price Primerica	42% 36%	: 36%
Apple Comp Archer-Dan	44% 25%	44% 25% 25% 36% 28%	Grace	29%	30% 29% 28%	Pub Service Gusker Ont	25%
Arida Armstrong	23% 35%	36%	Greyhound Gl Atlantic	28 57%	57%	Retition Pur	98 33	48X 97%
Assiroo Ashland Oli	28% 37%		Gt Western	n/a #8r	n/a 18%	Raychem Raytheon	62%	33X 82X
AT&T Atlan Richild	36% 123%	36% 124%	GTE Halibrin	. n/a 50	n/a 49%	Roebok Roedway	15% 36%	37
Auto DP	50×	604	Henz	354	35%	Rockwell Rotum Hans	28%	28%
Avery Inti Aven Pred	24 37	24%	Hercules Hershey Fd Hewleti Pkd	31	39 47%	Royal Dusch Rubbermaid	79%	80%
Battimora Banc One	28% 29%	28% 28% 29%	Hillton-Htd	47% 51%	52% 41%	Flynkos Mil	63% 36%	63%
Bankamerica Bard	28	28%	Home Dapot Homestake	40% 18%	41% 18%	Selowou .	25%	36%
Bornatt Bi	15% 32%	32%	Honeywell	· 108%	110%	Sant Fe Pue Sara Lee	28 28%	20%
Bausch Linib Bauter Inti	72 26%	71% 27%	Houston Ind Hashid Inti	47%	33% 47%	Cohooses	37%
Bec Dicks Sell Atten Bellsouth	73%	74 45%	Humana IBM	48% 121	49% 120%	Schlumbor Schrg-Pigh Scott Papr	62% 49%	50%
Bellsouth Bitr Hughes	45% 52% 28%	52% 29	IF&F	71 % 56%	72 57%	Scott Papr Seegram	49% 85	494
Black Decker	16%	17%	Inco	30%	31	Soore Rink	34%	36%
Block Brikes Tet NY	40%	43% 41 60%	Ingsol-Rand Inland Steel	34%	34%	Secrety Pac Shrain-Wilm	34%	47%
Bose Cess	59% 31% 38%	315	intel Inti Paper	53%	54 A 58 A	Snap-on Tia Southern	THE OWNER.	35%
Borden Brist-Myer	38% 64%	31% 36% 64% 47%	James Rivier	58% 25%	26%	Sovran St Paul	28% 60%	26% 60%
Browing Fee Burl Nin	46% 37%	47% 97%	Johnso Jhen K Mert	71 25%	71% 36%	Stanley Wk, Stone Crar	34%	34¥
CAI	. 94	94	Kellogg	. 69%	88%	Sun Co	37% 21%	37% 21%
Campbell Sp Cap Cities	55% 617%	58. 618	Kellogg Ken-McGee Kimbly-Cirk Knght-Rodr	47% 52% 51%	48% 82%	Suntst Bk Super Valu	27%	274
Cap Cities Capital HC Carolina Catecoline	017% 45% 43%	43%	Knght-Raidr Liliy	5T'4	51½ 88%	SW Bell Syntes	62	53%
Catarpiller - CBS	52%	52% 198%	Limited Lin Broksto	23 K 72 K	24% 73%	Sysco Tandam	38 22 4	38
Central SW	40	40%	Lincin Nat	54 .	54% 75%	Tandy	99% 14%	38%
Chase Man	21	40% 29% 21%	Littors Ind	54 75% 31%	324	Tele-conten Telectyne Temple-in	23%	23
Chevron	24 % 75 %	94.% 75%	Louis-Pac . Manu Hano	32%	36%	Temple-in Tendeco	70	37%
Chrysler Chubb	16% 47%	1535	Marsh Mohn	22.4	92% 77	Texaco Texas inst	80 K	60% 80%
Clara .	49%	49%	Martin Mar	78 41% 24%	411	Texas Util	30 %	36%
Clocorp Citima Liz	200	91% 33% 43% 75% 75%	Masco . May Dect	24% 55%	24% 58%	Textron ··· Time Wrye	1014	23% 102%
Clorox Crowth Rela	43 H . 30 M 77 H	43%	Maytag	17%	17%	Times Mar Timken	30 K	305
CNA Final	77%	76%	McDnl Doug	4216	41%	Torchmerk .	. 48%	- 485
Coastal Cour-Cole	. 35% . 48	36° 47%	McDonalds McGraw-His	37% -	85 X	Transam	38%	381
Colgatu-Pai Columb Gas	73¥ :	73% 44%	MCT Cons Mead	37	37%	Travelors.	28% 41%	24% 416
Сопрас	68%	68X	Medinania .	· 85%	86%	TRW	46	48%
Cona Edis	23 X	-gay	Marck	90	80%	UAL	163	101%
Cons NG	60%	45%	MINISM	86%	$0 K	Un Camp	19%	30
Cooper Ind .	45%	45%	Motel	83%	768.	Un Pacific	, -71% .	72 K
CPC Inti	81%	10	Moore.	30	30×.	Unesys	121	191
CEX	38 N	367	Mosorola	87 4	88	Lipjohn	42%	415
Dayton-Hod Dayton-Hod	. 35% 74%	70	McConside I McCrow-Hill McCrom Meatronio Medironio Metronio Meris Lynds Meris Lynds Media Mode Mode Mode Mode Mode Mode Mode Mode	38%	36% 27%	US West	24%	367) 25%
The same	7007/	m=144	Na		464 '	THE REPORT OF THE PARTY OF THE		and '

Fase the later an

THE STEE

BRITISH FUN

LONDON TRADED OPTIONS

SHARES TO SELL?

WOULD YOU PREFER:

Growth and balanced security	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
Low cost Share Exchange Service
A monthly Cheque Option
A bonus of up to 2.5%	$lue{f V}$
Withdrawals without penalties
-

EXCHANGE YOUR SHARES FOR GROWTH AND SECURITY

Are you fed up with the ups and downs of the stockmarket - or perhaps you want to cash in your privatisation shares and invest in something less speculative?

The value of investments can fall as well as rise. At Homeowners Friendly Society we provide you with an alternative haven for investments of £1000 or more - one where your shares can be sold and some or all of the proceeds reinvested for growth and security in one easy step.

A BALANCED INVESTMENT

With Homeowners Dual Growth Bond half your money is placed in "safety first" investments for good returns with capital

The other half is invested for high growth potential in leading blue chip companies by our highly experienced City stockbrokers.

SHARE EXCHANGE SERVICE MAKES IT EASY

Your shares can be sold through our local brokers, who have agreed a remarkably low commission rate. We believe it is the best rate available in Britain today.

PLUS A BÓNUS OF UP TO 2.5 %

If you invest now, we'll add up to 2.5 % bonus to your investment. And, of course, we welcome cash lump sum investments too, instead of or as well as shares to exchange

DUAL GROWTH BOND

FREE PHONE

Phone June Sanderson for full details NOW, or complete the coupon. We promise no salesman will visit. Please quote ref:S1907ETS

FREEPOS POST TO: Homeowners Friendly S	Ociety, FREEPOST, Sprin	STAMP	NEEDED gate, North Yorkshire HG1 5
Name Mr/Mrs/Miss/Ms
Address
			··· -
Postcode	Tel	lephone
			schange Service [] (Tick Bo
crease adult the details to the VECIMA			quote Ref.S1907ETS

ILLIS HUMEUWNERS FRIENDLI SUCIEI I We are one of the UK's leading Friendly Societies, currently investing over £385 million on behalf of 240,000 investors

PLATINUM

DAILY DIVIDEND

£4,000 Claims required for +37 points

Claimants should ring 0254-53272

Portfolio PLATINUM

Ts

for Don'

1 !] [6

Tacian P

From your Portfolio Platinum card check your eight share price movements on this page only. Add them up to give you your overall total and check this against the daily dividend figure. If it matches you have won outoght or a share of the daily prize money stated. If you win, follow the claim procedure on the back of your card. Always have your card available when claiming, Game rules appear on the back of your card.

-		_
No			in or
	TOTAL (A ISSUE)	Frede	los
2	Cuttinger		╄
3	Chancery	Property	_
4		Banks.Discount
5	Newman Tunks	Chemicals, Plas
6	Compass Cip	Building Roads
7	Reed Int (an)	Leisure
8	Vaux Group	Newspapers Pub
9	Siylo	Brewenes
19	Pearson (22)	Shoes, Leather
Ti	Vickers	Newspapers.Pub
12	Rothschild (1) Hid	Industrials S-Z
13	BPB Ind (aa)	Bunks, Discount
14	Microfilm Repro	Building Roads
īs	Bespak	Electricals
딞	Russell (A)	Industrials A-D
17	Warburg SG	Industrials L-R
18	High-Point	Banks, Discount
10	STC (ax)	Industrials E-K
30		Electricals
37	Glynuci (20)	Industrials E-K
ᇳ	THORN EMI (28)	Electricals
3	Shandwark Market	Paper,Print,Adv
3	Watson & Philip	Funds
3	TIP Europe	Transport
7	Laporte (aa)	Chemicals.Plas
7	Blue Circle (aa) Scapa	Building Roads
181		Industrials S-Z
3	South West	Water
	Brake Brus	Foods
	Adscene	Newspapers, Pub
2	Br Polythene	Industrials A-D
_	Brent Walker	Leisure
3	Shiloh	Industrials S-Z	7
4	Ansbacher (Henry)	Banks, Discount	7
5	Cutiens	Franch .	-1

BREWERIES

BUILDING, ROADS

では、100mmの

CHEMICALS, PLASTICS

DRAPERY, STORES

66 Sharpe & Fahan
125 Samplade Ingé
125 Samplade Ingé
125 Samplade Ingé
125 Train (II)
1377 Tayuna: [ag)
178 Tay Harman
1237 Tayuna: [ag)
178 Tayun Harman
125 Walan Ingen
126 Walan Ingen
127 Walan Ingen
128 Walan Ingen

141 Albed Colloids
200 American
47 Anglo Usi
135 8179
94- Street (MS9)
94- Street (MS9)
94- Street (MS9)
155 Consolidation
157 Consolidation
158 Consolidation
158 Consolidation
159 Consolidation
150 Consolidati

202 Algorith Only
44 Algorith Only
45 Algorith Only
46 Algorith Only
46 Algorith (Lauch)
36 Algorith (Lauch)
46 Algorith (Lauch)
47 Algorith (Lauch)
48 Algorith (Lauch)
48 Algorith (Lauch)
48 Algorith (Lauch)
48 Algorith (Lauch)
49 Algorith (Lauch)
40 Algorith (Lauc

的新可能的多位数据直接和图片次形式数数据条件数据数据数据 or nature in rif.

Partininand Brief

Clark (Nationa)

Cl

70 Aubry 218 Amps Ses 56 Angle Ses 138 Arrestie 405 Am-goes 255 SPP Ind (aa) 37 Buggescap Brek. 50 Beness Greg 142 Bensey PLC (as) 142 Bensey PLC (as) 143 Bensey PLC (as) 144 Bensey PLC (as) 145 Bensey PLC (as) 146 Bensey PLC (as) 147 Bensey PLC (as) 148 Bensey PLC (as) 149 Bensey PLC (as) 149 Bensey PLC (as) 140 Bensey PLC (as) 140 Bensey PLC (as) 141 Bensey PLC (as) 142 Bensey PLC (as) 143 Bensey PLC (as) 144 Bensey PLC (as) 145 Bensey PLC

17.J 11.0 19.7 19.7 11.6 15.J

Please take into account any minus signs

Low (Wm)

39 Flexcilo C&V

O Raul Org (24)

Drapery Si

mal (aa) Banks, Discount

Drapery,Stores

Industrials E-K

Weekly Dividend Please make a note of your daily totals for the weekly dividend of £8,000 in Saturday's newspaper.
MOM TUE WED THE FRI SET TOLD
			,
			L

There were no valid claims for the £2,000 Portfolio Platinum prize yesterday. The prize money will be added to today's total.

	BRITISH FUNDS
1990 High Live	Stock		Price	Ch'ge	ini only park	Gram Red PAC
SHORT: 57 - 954 -	Buch Trees Trees Trees Trees Trees Trees Trees Trees Trees Trees Trees Trees	der Five Y 2244 1990 355 1990 355 1990	934 934		8.60 10.3 11.8 344 8.6 10.4 12.3 12.7 13.3 6.8 9.06 10.5 12.4	11 189 0.000 11.865 62.464 12.370 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 13.046 12.000 11.426 12.0000 12.0000 12.0

FIVE TO FIFTEEN YEARS -% 40 10.087
- 12.0 12.097
- 12.0 12.097
- 12.0 12.097
- 12.1 18.23
- 10.1 11.823
- 12.5 12.097
- 12.5 12.097
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.6 12.099
- 12.7 12.109
- 12.7 12.109
- 12.7 12.109
- 12.7 12.109
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.602
- 12.8 11.272
- 12.8 11.272
- 12.8 11.272
- 12.8 11.272
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273
- 12.8 11.273 10% 1995
12% 1995
12% 1995
12% 1995
13% 1995
13% 1996
14% 1996
14% 1996
14% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15% 1997
15%

OVER FIFTEEN YEARS

85', 79's Com 9's 2085

103's 55's Each 10's 2003 05

84's 69's Tress 6's 2002 05

84's 69's Tress 11's 2003 07

111 $25's Tress 11's 2003 07

122 Tress 11's 2003 08

84' 77's Com 9's 2001

85' 50's Tress 5's 2003 12

85' 67's Tress 5's 2003 12

85' 67's Tress 5's 2003 12

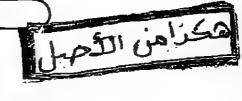

85's 50's Tress 5's 2003 12 10.7 11 179
11.0 11 177
11.6 11.376
10.3 11.085
10.4 10.554
10.5 10.57
10.5 10.57
11.7 11.377
10.3 10.57
10.5 10.779
10.5 10.779
10.6 10.50
10.6 10.740
10.740
10.740
10.740
10.740
10.740
10.740
10.740
10.740
10.740
10.740 87% 841:0 107% 81 102% 85% 114% 77% 85% 74 109% 23 57 36 22% 27% 6.0 ::

25% 20% Consols 61% 55% Conv 41 33% Consols 50% 20% Trees 32% 27% Trees 36% 26% War Lri INDEX-LINKED

1174-110 Trass IL 24-1982
1064-1034 Trass IL 24-1984
1594-1504 Trass IL 24-1984
1514-1234 Trass IL 24-2001
1284-1194 Trass IL 24-2008
1284-1174 Trass IL 24-2008
1284-1174 Trass IL 24-2008
1284-1174 Trass IL 24-2008
1284-1174 Trass IL 24-2016
1124-1024 Trass IL 24-2016
1124-1024 Trass IL 24-2016
1124-1024 Trass IL 24-2016
1124-1024 Trass IL 24-2024 1177-1085-1584-1284-1275-1275-1275-1020-1020-1070-BANKS, DISCOUNT HP

226 173 Appey Relegation in 202 210 Albert Insh 202 210 Albert Insh 385 172 Apple Gp 31 are a few 192 174 Apple Gp 31 are a few 194 Apple Gp 32 174 Apple Gp 31 are a few 194 Apple Gp 32 ar 103 73 3.3 20 51 37 26 51 26 67 7 48 120 120 120 STOCK EXCHANGE PRICES

Shares mixed

33 100 p6

27 15.1 8.3

ttQ 10.7 27.7 28.7

LEISURE

2017年20日,1947年,19

MINING

INSURANCE

to the S Alex 166 Are Centre of the Centre o

111 Americant
177 37 Americants
177 37 Americants
177 38 Americants
177 38 Americants
177 38 Americants
178 Ame

以中国公司公司公司公司公司公司的基础的基础的基础的基础的

200

401

20 多过滤光线 电电影调整性色彩作业的动物 经多过汽车 电测量 医过去性

MOTORS, AIRCRAFT

東京船等の重点は、100mのでのでは、100mのという。 100mのでは、100mので

100457520205 - '8 '7324438 OND 196

19 解析語彙發音圖與四數學系與多數學系數學等語語的觀點系統 有時

Charge the 3 3 P/E

139 44 114 021 147 60 54 08 27 120 84 101 85

25 68 54

02456793336697447 155597447 1554

#7 69 120

1 Å 35 Ž

L-R

255 260 +3 129 66 77 27 147 1520 +2 79 122 127 49

S-Z

PR 3 78

19 52

ACCOUNT DAYS: Dealings began July 9. Dealings end tomorrow. §Contango day July 23. Settlement day July 30. §Forward bargains are permitted on two previous business days.

Prices recorded are at market close. Changes are calculated on the previous day's close, but adjustments are made when a stock is ex-dividend. Where one price is quoted, it is a middle price. Changes, yields and price/earnings ratios are based on middle prices. (as) denotes Alpha Stocks.

(VOLUMES: PAGE 28). Change des p - Pré The Chapman p p 17 27 - 81
287 -1 51
287 -1 51
287 -1 51
287 -1 51
287 -1 51
287 -1 51
287 -1 71
287 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 377 -1 71
387 3 14 GPG
Sci Gerrard Re.
137 Gerrard Re.
137 Gerrard Re.
137 Gerrard Re.
138 Gerrard Re.
138 Gerrard Re.
148 Shangam
649 Jaseph Company
1571- Norg & Shangam
144 Looks (Jah)
44 Looks (Jah)
44 Looks (Jah)
450- Palander Jah
158- Pala

To Geography

To St. Company

To St. Company 11 Baller (197) A
566 AD Cale Washed (18)
120 151 Cale Washed (18)
120 151 Cale Washed (18)
120 152 Cale Washed (18)
121 152 Cale Washed (18)
121 152 Cale Washed (18)
123 AD Cale Washed (18)
124 AD Cale Washed (18)
125 AD Cale Washed (18)
126 AD Cale Washed (18)
127 A Cale Washed (18)
128 AD Cale Washed (18)
129 AD Cale Washed (18)
120 AD Cale Washed (18)
121 AD Cale Washed (18)
122 AD Cale Washed (18)
123 AD Cale Washed (18)
124 AD Cale Washed (18)
125 AD Cale Washed (18)
126 AD Cale Washed (18)
127 AD Cale Washed (18)
128 AD Cale Washed (18)
129 AD Cale Washed (18)
120 AD Cale Washed (18)
121 AD Cale Washed (18)
122 AD Cale Washed (18)
123 AD Cale Washed (18)
124 AD Cale Washed (18)
125 AD Cale Washed (18)
126 AD Cale Washed (18)
127 AD Cale Washed (18)
128 AD Cale Washed (18)
129 AD Cale Washed (18)
120 AD C | Color | Colo 73 375 29 375 92 123 47 103 47 100 43 100 44 100 46 81 176 57 36 13 89 36 45 13 64 N3e 09 514 E-K

FINANCE, LAND 20 43 £3 57 101 30 50 30 19,4 36.5 16 34.9 9.3 6.8 35 11 38 23 i 37 W

FINANCIAL TRUSTS

50 AT AN TIME (ME)
50 AT AND (ME)
51 AND (ME)
51 AND (ME)
52 CES AND (ME)
53 AND (ME)
54 AT AND (ME)
55 AT AND (ME)
56 AT AND (ME)
56 AT AND (ME)
56 AT AND (ME)
57 AND AND (ME)
58 AT AND 但167年的股份通過51億年51億年25億年的股份第三次的股份的股份的股份的股份的股份的股份的股份的股份股份股份股份股份的股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份股份 作出 日本記憶では 1944年 1945年

100 AM lar lar con AM lar lar con AM lar lar con AM lar lar con AM

24 10- St
17- 11- St
17- St

ST St Advance
Bill HIS BY BILL OILS, GAS 75 45 AND CONTROL OF STATE OF 120

WATER

1990 High Low Contrary Price Gross Vid Bid Other Chinge day p 1 P E OVERSEAS TRADERS 590 610 227 60° 52 100 110 98 100 110 100 111 55 773 275 4 147 788 270 4 147 788 275 1 116 370 275 1 115 57 77 1 115

PAPER, PRINT, ADVERTISING 79

979595001.1. 1.78.9084431 14.78.9084431 PROPERTY

140 Power Corp
153 Priest Marans
116 Priest Marans
116 Priest Marans
18 Resoluti
19 Resolu ACTOR TO BE A STREET OF THE ST SHOES, LEATHER

75 47 Headam 155 Lancer House 141 77 Pagest Garner 140 15 Stong & Fisher 343 300 Style 42 56 . 32 88 68 195 200 +3 133 67 11.6 13 90 +2 81 93 75 17 22 +4 82 410 58 330 345 +5 83 28 223

TEXTILES 17 Auch
200 Attach Tout
55 Became All,
49 Beloon Co
15: IN Medican
25: Charles I and
26: Lamon (S)
26: Charles I and
26: Section (S)
27: SEET (S)
28: Section (S)
28: Tomas (S)
28: Tomas (S)
29: Toma 143 64 7 - 16970 .4904079 .219817 .71

258 Asset Pr Ports
357 MA hair
193 Se Anneys (ms)
300 Caledona
200 Carton (m)
305 Davies & Memoria
220 Carton (m)
325 Davies & Memoria
225 Carroman (Marians)
127 February
128 Lacobs (m)
136 140
136 140
136 147
137 Leon
40 Ocean Misson
116 147
138 Many Dade
116 147
139 Panel Dade
116 147
139 Panel Dade
116 147
139 Panel Dade
148 To Europe
158 To Europ 6338007 - 177770 1629777333018 1023770 1270

140°+ Anglan Waler 146 Northumbran 137 North West 122 Septem Tradi 140 Starn Waler 141 Sauth West 137 Tharbes Waler 137 Wester Waler 137 Wester Waler 137 Wester Waler 137 Wester Waler 142 Wester Waler 142 Wester Waler 142 Wester Waler 150 162 152 130 130 157 146 166 147 165 £1490 175 36 130 21 147 24 152 28 148 23 143 23 132 23 130 25 150 - 4 150 - 3 154 - 2 154 - 2 154 - 2 157 - 3 172 - 3 151 - 5 165 - 1 204 214 218 198 200 232 194 203 206

Ex dividend a Ex all b Forecast dividend e interim payment pessed i Price at suspension g Drudend and yield axclude a special payment k Pre-merger ligures in Forecast earnings o Ex other r Ex rights a Ex scrip or share split t Tax-free . No significant data.

63 11.4 56 12.9 14 301 62 10.9 62 10.9 63 14.5 61 14.5

5.1 149 5.1 149

5.

4)

UNDATED

2-22 AB Clear

305 Adminst Clear

305 Adminst Clear

307 Adminst Clear

307 Adminst Clear

307 Adminst Clear

308 Adminst Clear

309 BECG (20)

307 BECG (20)

307 BECG (20)

308 BECG (20)

308 BECG (20)

309 BECG (2

FQ008

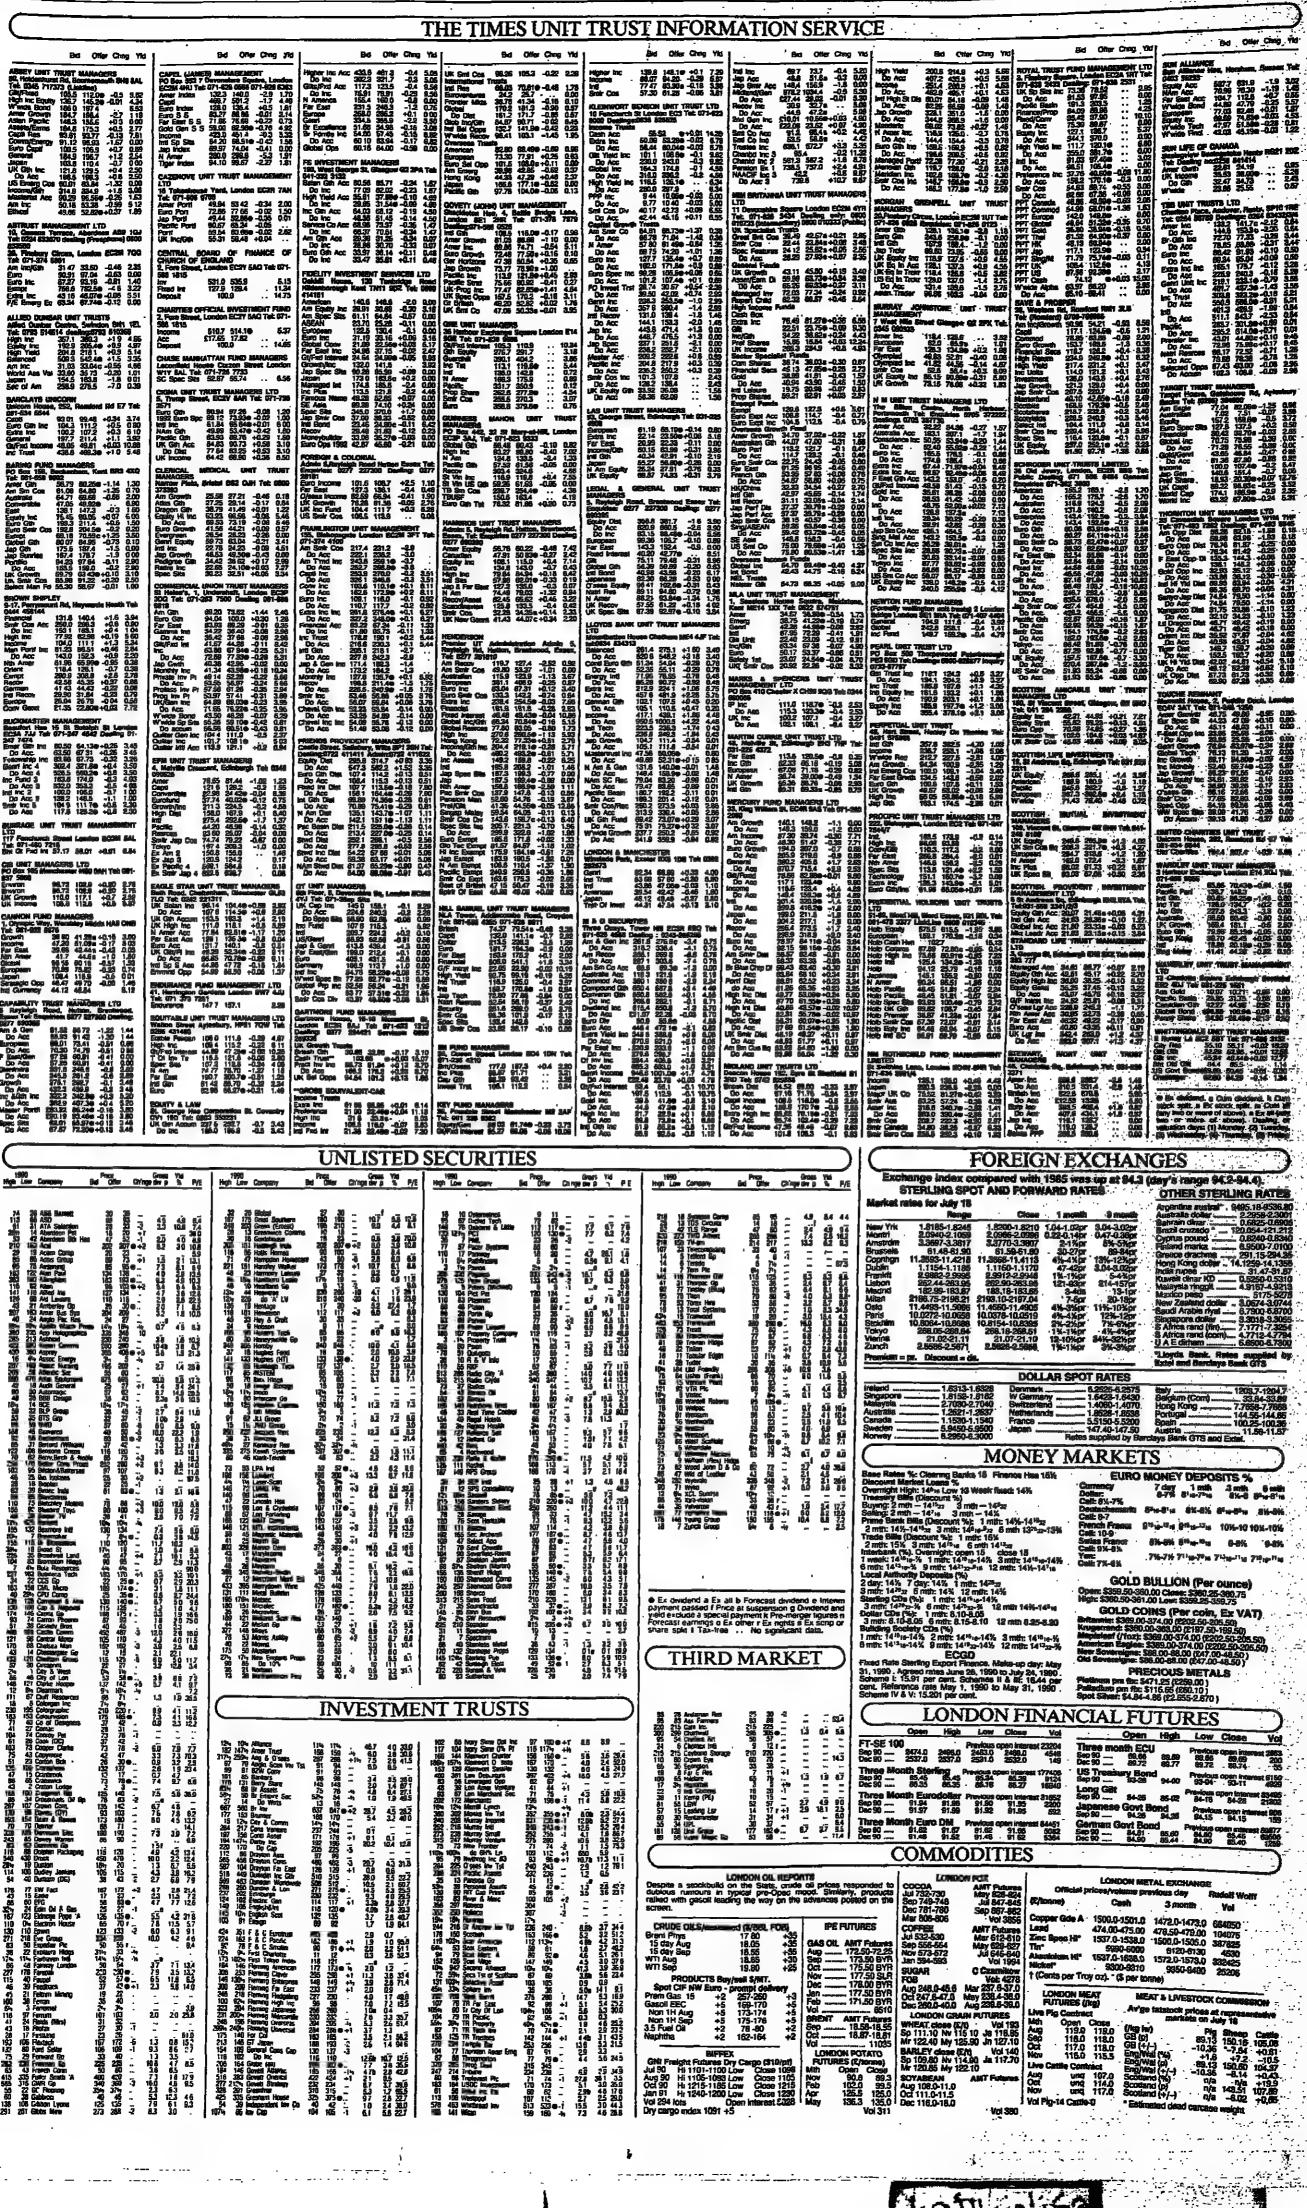

21 Cdy Coste Rest 201 Franch Hotels 201 Library Rest 20 Library Rest 20 Prespoil Hotels 85 Ourses Rest 875 Swoy Hotels W 66 Jalon 20 Restings P. (as) 多量的产品的基础的

INDUSTRIALS A-D

140 - 141

ELECTRICALS

700 SSI No. Otherm SSI No. Otherm 1981 State Sta 102 Lemma | 102 Le مكرامن الأجهل

JOINT LEPH 71-481

CE

WORTHALD WERETIRIES

IN LAREISTERS

MULTI-LI OPPORTU

The Common Consists of the Control o

ECEPTION S

RECEPTION AGENO

Peace and Court State and Repair lace by Pr. 11. 12. London We 12. 1816.

SUPER SECR

NEWS IN NEWSPA DISPLATION/NEWS

SAL

Yang enthusiastic see

Is in the Display ad

Is of the World.

Micros should possibly to use word pros wind to use word pros wind to content, included the man filling and keepi pull polices and Bf.

dening Recruitment Limited, F

STATE OF THE STATE

Don

. Latitude -st. bracke $70.75 Tr

· · · · in the

5 1755CM

TEAM SECRETARY CENTRAL LONDON

Required for international market research company specialising in the computer industry.

Duties include word processing using Microsoft Word and carrying out general administration tasks for a group of friendly, professional consultants. Also responsible for client reception and dealing with incoming client calls. The successful opplicant will have fast, accurate typing (70 wpm), confident telephone manner, good education and smart professional appearance. Knowledge of european languages an advantage.

Salary range: £11,000 to £14,000 g.a.e. plus benefits. Non smoker

Please call or write, enclosing a copy of your CV, to Wendy Levis, Administration Manager.

33/37 Regent Street Landon SW1Y 4NF

Tel: 071-493 9335

SHORTHAND SECRETARIES

We have regular work if you have following systems: WPS
Plus, Multimate,
Olivetti, Wordperfeet, DWIV, Wang or Microsoft Word. For further information

call 071-323-3818

TODAY BROOK STREET CAPITAL (Rec. Con)

PA/SECRETARY

Salary Neg

Excellent opportunity for experienced efficient, secretary to provide full support to MD of a prestigious Business Centre in the West End, varied and interesting position, it offers great scope for the right candidate.

Typing (50+ wpm), S/H (80 wpm), WP skills good tional ability, non-s For more information Contact: Alison Driscoll on 071-439 6288 (no agenices please)

Marketing Personnel

prestigious names in fragrance and cosmetics. In order to strengthen the team in our Marketing Department, the following vacancies have arisen, based in our Mayfair offices in London.

Promotions and Marketing Co-ordinator

We are looking for an experienced administrator, ideally aged 25+ with strong and proven administrative and organisational skills including word processing on Lotus 1-2-3 and the ability to use a computer terminal. The position is extremely demanding and varied and therefore a high degree of initiative and self discipline is essential, together with the ability to work in a pressurised environment. This important role involves the co-ordination of the Company's promotional and marketing activities which includes responsibility for arranging special events, setting targets and itineraries for promotional personnel, compiling and analysing promotional results and ensuring the availability of all product and sales information for Company Sales Maretings. There will be close liaison and contact with Sales Management and Department Store personnel at all times and therefore excellent communication skills will be essential.

Secretary/Administrator

This interesting position requires an experienced person who can provide essential secretarial and administrative support to Marketing Management. Applicants must be extremely organised and be capable of dealing speedily and accurately with a heavy and varied work load.

The ideal applicant should be aged 23 % and possess proven secretarial and doministrative skills, including word processing on Multimate and the ability to use a computer regularial. Basic knowledge of French would be an advantage. In addition to an attractive salary (commensurate with age and experience) we can offer an excellent range of company benefits which include product allocation and a non-contributory pension and life assurance scheme.

If you feel you have the qualifies we are looking for, please write with full career details including current salary to the Personnel Department, Parfums Yves Saim, Laurent Ltd, Victoria Gardens; Burgess Hill, West Sussex RH15 9NB or call us on Burgess Hill (8444) 236988 for an application form.

NO AGENCIES PLEASE

P.A. TO THE CHAIRMAN

c. £18.000 + car + benefitsSouth Yorkshire

The workaholic Chairman of this highly successful and prestigious manufacturing PLC requires a P.A., experienced at a similar level, to assist him in his day-to-day activities. The opportunity will appeal particularly to career-orientated candidates aged 30+ and educated to A-level standard with impeccable secretarial word processing skills, who have the confidence, initiative and commitment to operate effectively in an extremely demanding and varied role. A knowledge of French and, or German would be useful. Flexibility, tact, diplomacy and a sense of humour are all essential personal characteristics. Conditions and benefits are good; relocation expenses are available where applicable. Ref: 0076 TT.

Please send a full c.v. in confidence, or telephone for a personal history form, (quoting reference number) to: A. Hill, Scope Search & Selection 11 Broomfield Road, Sheffield 510 25E. Telephone: (07-12) 684369.

SEARCH & SELECTION

A Division of Scope Creative Marketing Ltd

TWO BARRISTERS Require Secretary/PA to work in the Temple helping run busy practices and personal admin. Must have good shorthand, VIP and audio stills. Charm, intoitive and series of humour essential. To start 10 September 1990. Hours 9-8. Selary £14,250 Please Reply with CV to lalist dealer requires mature assistant. Good typing ome shorthand/speedwriting essential. Short hours.

BOX J38

ANCIENT ART

In the first instance write with CV to: James Ede 37 Brook Street LONGON WIY LAJ.

P.A. TO SENIOR M.D. c£19,000 + Subs. Mtg.

A truly professional and poished Executive P.A. required for prestigious investment company. Diverse responsibilities include client liaison, drafting his speeches, admin re company cars and organismig his personal affairs. No s/hand. Age: 30-40.

Call JM Francis on 071-255 1855 MERIDIAN Rec. Cons

ARTS & ANTIQUES £12,000

Professing/autoisums company seeks well-spoker PA/SEC with 2-3 years WP expension and seeker organisational ability to handle all aspects of

Phone 071-502 9117

OFFICE MANAGER

Middle East based oil company seeks an Office Manager for its London liaison branch. The successful candidate will be responsible for the smooth running of their attractive Belgravia offices comprising 3 senior professional staff, 2 to 3 secretaries and a receptionist.

This varied position also includes being the London-based PA to the Chairman in both business and personal matters.

assisting foreign visitors, arranging travel

itineraries, regular liaison with the Head

Office in the United Arab Emirates.

dealing with the Company accounts and providing occasional secretarial back-up.

Salary: Negotiable

Personnel PA - £17,000 The Group Personnel Director of a large international company needs a PA, Working on your own initiative you should have excellent organisational and communication skills, a flexible approach. good French and an interest in new systems technology. This is obviously a people person appointment and offers plenty of scope to the right candidate.

Age: 25-35 Skills: 100/65

071-629 9323

Brandy Snaps

Our Client, a major force in the international drinks world is looking for a second-in-command to the Chairman. It is very much a team orientated position and with his PA you will share the workload and responsibility. You should be flexible. cheerful, have excellent audio skills and some French, Good Salary and location. Age: Mid-late 20s

ac-diad

DESIGN AND

COMMUNICATIONS

£15,000

The country's leading resentation company

bright PA to work with:

dynamic team on one of their major blue chip.

rinning offices your kay rola will include

assisting to organise launches all over the country, hosting visitors as well as full secretarial back-up.

You will be outgoing. confident and enjoy

Mediad Rec Cons

Tel 071 491 3848.

Working in award

eads an efficient.

MULTI-LINGUAL OPPORTUNITIES

IMMEDIATE VACANCY IN BRUSSELS OFFICE

Being Literate and conversant in English, French and Flemish, could give you the opportunity of working in the Brussels Office of Specialised Banking Furniture International Ltd. If you have excellent organisational and secretrial skills, please phone Polly Patterson on 071 407 0271

Salary according to age and experie

RECEPTION SELECTION

RECEPTION SELECTION

RECEPTIONIST/PR AGENCY

Receptionist/wp Secretary required to join busy, friendly team in attractive non-smoking offices in Covent Garden, salary negotiable. Please call Cecily Harends on 071 836 2973 Deighton Jacobs PR, 30-32 Southampton Street London WC2E 7HE (No Agencies)

SUPER SECRETARIES

SUPER SECRETARIES

SENIOR EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Sought for feet-growing City based financial marketing consultancy. You should be committed, talented and ambitious. The work is challenging and varied and the rewards considerable if you succeed. initial salary according to age and experience.
No agencies.

Please write in the first instance to NOX J17.

FULHAM, W6

£13,000+ p.s. 671 361 4998

their busy to day running their busy creative depart 4. Working in a stimulative dynamic and in the basis of the control of the c flooressional. PA - Enjoy a flooressional. PA - Enjoy a flooressionally - and range for the province solds producted orange for flooressionally - and range for flooressionally - and range for flooressionally - and range for the period of the flooressional solds of corporate flooressional period of their work hard plays hard life. The position would guit a bright commission secretary who understands the highly conflictability and the providinal assure of this work, him the pothe and professionalism to communicate at immer level, and the martistic to ender a from the providing support to 2 directors and organisms their busy octobules. Stockhaud and advantage, good WP akills consideratively way, hitcrosoft Word of DW4, This is an excellent opportunity for a professional temporary hosting for an involved potentially long-term role Finence Aspointments (Rec Const) GT1-74 a 2008.

TEMPTING TIMES

NON-SECRETARIAL

DYNAMIC GOAL ORIENTATED PEOPLE REQUIRED FOR

trainee management

POSITION IN MAYFAIR 225,988 + D.T.E.

OVERSEAS CONVENTIONS SAMANTHA

FERNATON-SILCUTT

071 287 2777

MONDAY

Education: University

School Appointments. Educational Courses.

Fellowships with editorial

other secretarial appointments.

Scholarships and

Long Term Temporary Position PA TO INTERNATIONAL TAX DIRECTOR

I have a demanding but fulfilling job working for a observed American in a multinational corporation, and am going on maternity loave. I would like someone with 3-4 years senior level working mperience in an international environment to take over for the duration, with a possibility of a manent position. This job has muses of potential for own administrative responsibilities, with if you are of a meture outlook with WP and Louis

1-2-3 experience, please apply to me with a copy of your CV. Strictly no agencies. Penny McCormack, IMS International Ltd.

York House, 37 Queen Street, London WCIN 3BH Tel: 071-242 0112.

PROPERTY AUDIO SECRETARY

£12,500 neg. + $7\frac{1}{2}$ % bonus Accurate, flexible and well spoken - gem required for fast moving Procedures Co. Beautiful surroundings plus 6 monthly reviews, pension + health scheme Please send CV to Anna Chess, de Morgan & Co. 20 King Street, London, SW1Y 6QY Strictly No Agencies

Susie Domier

& Associates

071 753 0160

"JEFFREY BERNARD IS UNWELL"

MAN OF THE MOMENT!

A top position for a quier confinent PA to stream a jet-setting Cry gent, He is a renowmed a findomistion Technicology therefore an interest in this helia would grove to be mutually benefitied of Spreadsheer/Dischass packages advantageous. Arrange cames, meetings have ano destinguished clientale in his socience. Skills rustly alterhand and 55 wipm typing. Agil 26-1 benefits. CE14,200.

If you have an outgoing personality, lots of inkistive and good shorthand (80 wpm), then perhaps you could be the right person to organise a busy Senior Executive in a large Merchant Bank, He is extremely charming, but meticulous and needs a like-minded PA to help set up a new division within the Bank. The position will involve running the office during the Executive's frequent absence, arranging "horrendous" travel itmeraries and generally acting as a total back-up to him. Age: 22-30. Salary £14,500 plus £5,000 benefits. Please will 1771-202 0799.

> CROSS SELECTION

WEST END PROPERTY CO

Our Chent, who is highly respected within their field seeks 2 well presented, efficient Wang secretaries with a sense of humour to fit in with this friendly department. Excellent secretarial and secretarial and

TELEPHONE: YNN LANGFORD of ALLISON JACKSON on 071-283 93-40

CSA REC CONS

working in a frantic Skills : -/55 administrative skills are essential together with a solid working background. Salanes £12,000-15,000 +

OIL COMPANY West End

3 SECRETARIES SPORTS FACILITIES Hrs 9am - 5pm SALARY FROM £13K L/V £540 p.y. TEL: Janica 071-635 6858

GK REC CONS

NEWS INTERNATIONAL NEWSPAPERS LIMITED

DISPLAY ADVERTISING (SUN/NEWS OF THE WORLD) SALARY: c£14,000

Young, enthusiastic secretary, aged 23-30, to work as part of a team in the Display advertising Department of the Sun and News of the World.

ability to use word processing (Wordstar 2000). Varied job content, including typing of memos, some figure typing, filing and keeping advertising charts up to date.

Applicants should possess good secretarial skills (100/60), and

In addition to the above salary, the company offers six weeks annual holiday and BUPA.

Applications in writing, enclosing a CV, to Brenda Hemmings, Recruitment Manager, News International Newspapers Limited, PO Box 481, Virginia Street, London E1 9ED.

CHALLENGING OPPORTUNITY: Medical Secretary/PA required for a busy private derivatiological practice in Chelsea. Duties include the organisation and running of the practice, communicating with general practitioners and patients, and taking appointments. Word processing and audio skills are necessary and nursing experience would be a definite advantage. Generous salary, to be implicitly according to experence. to be imalised according to experience.

Please send CV to Dr Richard Staughton, Lister Hospital, Chelsee Bridge Road, London, SW1W 8RH or for further information ring Sue Topp on 071-730-8308.

The Director responsible for co-ordinating this highly successful company's PRI-Marketing activities, is linking for a PA/Sec with his excellent specificant solls, is a immacusately presented, charming, capable and enjoys working in a trenetic environment

In return your role will be demanding and will involve constant yuggling of practices and a massive amount of telephone federated. At last, an opportunity to gain unique experience which will anable you to build an excelling career.

Advertising Challenge

€14,000

Skells: 80/50 HANOVER SQUARE 071 408 1461

ANGELA MORTIMER

PUBLISHING COMPANY COVENT GARDEN

require an efficient, friendly audio typist for their busy Sales Department. Please write or phone with CV to: Je Henry, Sales Director,

Victor Gollanc: Limited
14 Henrietta Street, London WC2E 8QJ Telephone 071 836 2006

SECRETARY/PA FOR LITIGATION PARTNER

Not less than 5-10 years relevant experience. Pleasant small friendly office in Coveni Garden, Salary £15,000 plus. Tel. Naomi Stride (071) 379 5463 No Agencies

SECRETARY REQUIRED

Small W1 Advertising Agency urgently requires a first class secretary. Fast accurate typing and a lively personality essential. Salary occording to age and experience.

Telephone Debi Cocker on 071-499 8081 for an appointment.

P.A. / ADMINISTRATOR c £15,000 + Bonus, Mtg etc Head of a major department is looking for a first class assistant to help firm fun firs with area of this major investment bank. A large part of the object mone close laugh with every level of staff, soming our queries beging personnel recours etc. A great deal of responsibility and variety Call Emily Hall for further details. 071-255 1555

MERIDIAN Rec Cons

TIMES CLASSIFIED

TELEPHONE:

071-481 4000

The Times Classified columns are read by well over a million of the most affluent people in the country. The following categories appear regularly each week and are generally accompanied by relevant editorial articles. Use the coupon (right), and find out how easy, fast and economical it is to advertise in The Times Classified.

TUESDAY Legal Appointments: Solicitors.
Commercial Lawyers. Legal Officers. Private and Public
Practice with editorial. THE WORLD FAMOUS PERSONAL COLUMN. INCLUDING RENTALS, APPEARS EVERY DAY. Public Sector Apport

WEDNESDAY Creative & Media Appointments: Media and Marketing with editorial. La Creme de la Creme and other Appointments. Prep & Public secretarial appointments. Executive Creme for senior P.A. and secretarial position. Property: Residential, Town & Country, Overseas, Rentals, Commercial Property

THURSDAY General Appointments: Banking and Accountancy. Engineering, Management, etc. vith editorial.

La Creme de la Creme and other secretarial appointments.
Science and Technology: Technology with editorial.

FRIDAY

Motors: A complete car buyer's guide with editorial. Desiness opportunities. SATURDAY SATURDA) REVIEW SUPPLEMENT

Overseas and UK Holiday. Villas/Collages, Hotels. Flights, etc.

Restaurant Guide: Where to ear in London and nationwide Homes & Gardens TIMES Yachts, Boats & Motorsports Antiques & Collectors
Shoparound: Window shopping
from the comfort of your home. Fill in the coupon and attach it to your advertisement, written on a separate piece of paper, allowing 28 letters and spaces per line. Rates are: Lineage £5 per line {Min. 3 lines only first word in boldt: Boxes Display £27 per single column centimetre (min. 3 centimetres); Court and Social ½ per line. All rates are subject to 15% VAT. Telephone our Classified Advertising Department on 071–481 4000 between 9am-6pm Monday to Friday, 9.30am-1.00pm Salurday, late evening 7.30pm on Wedsesday, or send to: Pamela Hamilton-Dick, Group Classified Manager, Times Newspapers Ltd, P.O. Box 484, Virginia Street, London £1 9DD.

Address
Telephone (Daytime)
Date of insertion (Please allow three working days prior to insertion date)
USE YOUR CREDIT CARD

The prize-winning pride of the Clyde

A group of Glasgow tenants has won the top award in the nationwide scheme to promote local self-help initiatives. Charles Knevitt,

Architecture Correspondent, reports

nits 48-50 in Block 8 on an industrial estate is the unglamorous address of The Factory, a Clydeside workplace, training centre and social focus for more than 20 tenant associations. But tonight it will be the centre of attention as the occupants, the Port Glasgow Association of Tenants Groups, celebrate winning the top prize for community enterprise — the Charles Douglas-Home Award, and £5,000.

Douglas-Home Award, and £5,000.

They have created, the award assessors said,
"a most enterprising and constructive response by grassroots community groups to an appalling long-term local employment and economic situation arising from the collapse of the ship-building industry".

The PGATG, formed in 1980 from several local enterprise which represent more than 50 per local groups which represent more than 50 per cent of the town, joined forces to tackle local issues, from providing transport (minibuses for the use of tenants to a dial-a-bus service for the disabled and infirm), to campaigning for better housing, creating job opportunities for local people and managing and developing

As an MSC Management Agency it employed 180 people on training initiatives at its

With funding from an Urban Aid Grant, the unit was purchased and the interior converted with help from Ian Millegan, a regional community architect with Strathciyde regional council in Paisley, into a multipurpose centre with workshops, training centre, health studio, recreational facilities, drop-in centre, offices, crèche and a community arts section which houses video and photographic facilities. A recording studio has been built at the back and plans for a day care centre for the elderly are well advanced.

The premises, comprising 18,000sq ft, cost £130,000 and opened in autumn 1986. All but £10,000 was provided by the grant, as well as £98,000 as revenue budget in 1989.

The Urban Aid package is due to end in October 1992, when the centre must become

An adjacent unit, bought for £60,000 18 months ago, is used by a subsidiary company, Training Services (Invertiyde), which teaches building trades and which will, hopefully, provide a valuable source of revenue in two years' time, and the Construction and Trading Co, another community business.

Staffed by volunteers and open seven days a week, The Factory is run by two repre-sentatives from each of the ten tenant associations. They are occasionally joined by non-voting advisers, such as business owners, a senior community worker and a community employment worker.

"Its value to the community in both practical and morale terms is enormous," the assessors said. They have made very effective and efficient use of the resources they have been able to obtain. With the aid of the architect, they have created a most attractive and useful interior.

This is a continuing process as further developments are initiated and plans for the exterior are implemented."

The Prince of Wales writes on 'the most imaginative, viable and need-fulfilling' community scheme

1,000 entries a testament to success

come Patron of the Community Enterprise Scheme five years ago, I viable and need-fulfilling doubt if many people were community development proaware of the nature and extent jects, the Scheme is really of local initiatives which have encouraging a better quality of been having such a remark- life, not just for its particiable impact in various parts of pants, but for the country as a the country. More than 1,000 whole. It seeks to make entries are a testament to neighbourhoods — whether in success, yet each year the net is the inner cities or the outer trawled wider in search of estates, the suburbs or the more local heroes - and

The changes brought about through community enter- to define, but I think we all prise and partnership are recognise "livable" places On my visits to some of these a character and an intimacy projects I am often told how which can be cre people's lives have been given assisted by imaginat a renewed sense of purpose once they realise the possibilities of putting their own ideas into practice. By coming together to improve the physical environment, there can be many unexpected spin-offs in health, wealth and happiness. One project leads to another such as the setting up of training schemes and new businesses - and nothing tory into a community centre

In identifying and rewardneighbourhoods - whether in most remote rural areas -

This is a concept that is hard more than merely cosmetic. when we see them. They have assisted by imaginative design. Well-being permeates the very fabric of the neighbourhood, and is written on the faces of those who live there.

One example is this year's top award winner: the Factory, at Port Glasgow, entered by an association of tenant groups. Staffed by volunteers, and open seven days a week, it

WE KNEW

THE FACTORY

WOULD BE

A WINNER

THE MOMENT

WE HEARD

THEIR PLANS.

and turn it into a sports and leisure centre that everyone can benefit from. But without the vision and drive of the Port Glasgow

Association of Tenants Groups it simply would not have happened.

Strathclyde Regional Council are pleased to have helped the birth of the factory by supporting it through our Urban Aid Programme and

STRATHCLYDE HOUSE, 20 INDIA STREET, GLASGOW G2 4PF

also with the assistance of our Architectural and Related Services Department. And we were delighted to hear that the Tenants Group had been selected as the 'Most Outstanding Example of Community Enterprise in 1990'.

It seems an obvious solution. Take an old, derelict factory

The Prince of Wales: Tivable places can be created or assisted by imaginative design: the spirit of social enterprise and workplace estering to hundreds of local people every

Another is the London Lighthouse, winner of the first annual award for community architecture. Who would have imagined that this residential and support centre for those living with HIV and Aids could be such a joyous place to sors, one of the most uplifting buildings they had ever visited, due to the nature of the people, the skill or the architects and the power of the cess at its best nisms are a feature of many of the winning entries this year, and it is an area that requires has converted a derelict fac- our special attention if we are to achieve the results we are all seeking in the longer term. "Last year's awards day was marked by a conference on "Breaking the Deadlock -Releasing the Energy", which provided a useful discussion of the issues and led to a working party report. Today the focus is on technical aid, with workshops on the theme "People and Professions -

Next year, perhaps we should turn the spotlight on ensuring that community entrepreneurs are adequately resourced - not out of charity but out of genuine social commitment and social investment decisions, which will produce the desired social

The important task of rekin-

Backing for the scheme

Patron: The Prince of Wales. Chairman: Lord Scar-man. Vice-chairman: John Thompson, of Hunt Thompson Associates, London.

Charles Knevitt, Architecture Correspondent, The Times (secretary); Robert Davies, deputy chief executive, Business in the Community; Dr Rod Hackney, principal, Rod Hackney Architect. Administrator: Robin
Deen,

 Assessors: Joan Kean, director, Newcastle Architecture Workshop; Madanial Khareghat, Krishna Temple Project, Coventry; David Wattes, architect, West Midlands; Robert Hanna. Midlands; Robert Hanna, Care Project advisory officer, Bamsley; Marian Wright, Possil Housing Co-operative, Glasgow; Sir Andrew Derbyshire, architect, London; Freda Harris, community leader, Margate; Sue Simms, Ditton Fields Community Association, Cambridge; Dee Stamp, lendscape architect (Claws), London; Pat Tindale, (Claws), London; Pat Tindale, Riba Community Architecture Group; Larry Hansen, Southwark ment Trust, London: Colin Narborough, Economics Correspondent, The Times; Angela Monaghan, Business in the Community; Hilary Weedon, National Children's Play and Recreation Unit; Mike Wright, Neighbourhood Initiatives Foundation, Telford; David Jones, Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation; John Armstrong, Community Development Foundation East Midlands Development Centre, Leicester; Dennis King, Housing Associations Charitable Trust.

● Mrs Jessica Douglas Home was an assessor for the Charles Douglas-Home Award, with John Thompson and Charles Knevitt.

'By coming together to improve the physical. environment, there can be many unexpected spin-offs in health, wealth and happiness . . and nothing breeds confidence like success'

involved, nor how lengthy the process to eventual success. In the words of the Chinese proverb: "Too many people spend too much time looking back with fear that they fail to realise the present is there much cajoling and berating is offering them flowers".

Wash-day winners demands a response from us which is both imaginative and practical. For the Scheme has proved over the last five years that where there's a will there's a way, no matter how traumatic the experience, how

New business award: teamwork pays off for the Poss Tub at Gateshead, a community launderette and snack bar

A triumph despite funding problem

SIXTEEN awards, 11 com- said: "The fifth year has mendations and 16 honour-recorded the highest number able mentions have been of entries; bringing the total made this year in the fifth to more than 1,000. It is annual Community Enter- encouraging that so many prise Scheme, sponsored by The Times, the Royal In-stitute of British Architects and Business in the Community.

Prize money of more than £30,000 will be presented today, along with certificates and plaques, on behalf of the three main sponsors, the supporting organisations—the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation. Community

Foundation, Community

Development Foundation, National Children's Play and Recreation Unit and the Housing Associations Char-itable Trust — and the commercial sponsors — Bar-clays Bank, Shell UK, Marks & Spencer and the Post The purpose of the scheme is to identify and reward the most imaginative, viable and need-fulfilling community development projects in the United Kingdom. This year there were three new categories: for Community Architecture, Training and New Business. Welcoming the awards, Lord Scarman, chairman, time when funding has be-purpose of all the local communities involved that we have a record number of winners in all nine cat-

The sixth scheme will be

Housing Associations Charitable Trust

CO-OPERATIVE DEVELOPMENT SERVICES (LIVERPOOL) LIMITED

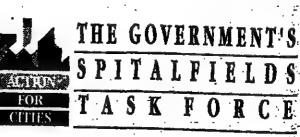

The north west's specialists in tenant participation and

Congratulations to the West Everton Community Council.

CDS is proud of its association with your project which has successfully involved residents, the city council and voluntary bodies in the renewal of a neighbourhood. We look forward to a continuing partnership with all the agencies involved in the regeneration of this part of Liverpool.

> 39/41 Bold Street Liverpool L1 4EU

The Task Force is working in the Spitalfields area of East London with local people. We are setting up training courses, creating jobs, and helping local enterprises as part of the Government's Inner City Initiative.

We have supported 140 projects worth between them £7.7 million. Of this figure the private sector has contributed £1.5 million.

Partnership between the public and private sectors. and local people works to the advantage of all. If you would like to know more about what the private sector and Spitalfields Task Force can achieve together contact:

Erica Zimmer/Janet Foster ... The Spitalfields Task Force, Unit 4, Whitechapel Technology Centre, 83 Whitechapel Road, London E1 1DU Tel: 071 - 375 1163 Fax: 071 - 375 0733

PORTIAL ST. MICHE T. SPWO

QUALITY

Main c

 $W_{\underline{\underline{}}}$

VI

East Midlan RIDDIN

a succes East Midland pleased to have b out the electr

installa For addite on Four e

The 1990

A RECORD 16 entrants received awards throughout the nine categories. including three for community centres, and two each in the housing, environment and partnership categories. The overall winner was The Factory, Port Glasgow. Here are the category winners and those who received commendations and honourable mentions:

CIAL REPORT

The Housing Associations Charitable Trust Award for Housing, Sponsored by the Housing Associations Charitable Trust, for tacking the needs of badly housed or homeless people through self-help, self-build, tenant or resident action, or by community or neighbourhood groups.

Giroscope Workers Cooperative, Hull, entered by Groscope Workers Co-

Seven young homeless and illhoused people set up the co-op in 1986 to buy, renovate and let houses to the homeless, unemployed or lone parents. By saving, begging and borrowing, the first house was bought and renovated for £7,000. A loan from the Co-op Bank and personal mortgages has enabled the group to acquire and convert many more derelict properties, now used as family accommodation and shared housing for former psychiatric patients. The co-op is now self-financing, with the bulk of its knoome from Housing Benefit. Next it plans to provide workshops for small box-order.
The assessors said: "With help, this scheme could be extended to involve other young people and perhaps other cities."

Langridge Initiative Centre, Middlesbrough, entered by Middlesbrough borough council.

A highly successful, if all too rare example of a local authority helping to breathe new life into an area of multi-deprivation an area of multi-deprivation through active tenant participation in the refurbishment of a run-down estate. A tenants housing co-op joined the council in setting an agenda, which was enthusiastically endorsed by tenants. Suxty flats in six blocks have now been correlated. Estates have now been completed. Further work is planned on 12 houses and bungalows and an enterprise/initiative centre. Impressive group of people. Although it took three years to agree on the design, the members atil have the enthusiasm and drive they had on day one and are looking to expand the project." dation: Prospect

- 12 Ta 78 - 12 Ta 78 - 13 Ta 78

Place, London, Honourside mentions: Gillingham Housing Project for the Disabled, Kent; Rusland Road Dissipation (Note: National Posts)

Dalskeith Housing Cooperative, Paisley; Castlemilis East Housing Co-operative,

The Times Environ Award, sponsored by Shell UK, for general environmental improvements, particularly those involving a partnership between the public, private and voluntary Peak Dale Crown Bowing Green, Buxton, entered by Peak Dale Bowling Club. Dale Bowling Club.

Almost the entire village has been involved in providing this green; when work started only two could play bowls — now it has 88 members, and local school children are learning. Those unable to help build the club house or take part in landscaping have assisted by fundraising. Icl and RMC donated 2,500 tons of stone for levelling, haulage and machinery were provided free of charge by local people and old materials ware recycled.

The assessors said: "The value The assessors said: "The value of the green to the community is immense in terms of sense of achievement, self-esteem and containing interest and

Council Planning Project, entered by West Everton Community

Local residents have been given a voice in the development and improvement of their area in parmership with the local council and other agencies, and the proposals include housing, health, play and other community and recreational facilities. A youth facility has been retained, a new children's play area has been started, the saving of a local health clinic and the launching of a three-year project of health promotion are among its tangible achievements. Local residents have been achievements.

The assessors said: "A large number of people tackling a complex variety of local projects in a co-operative and enthusiastic way and against tremendous odds."

Commendation: Trippele Commendation: Triangle Community Garden, Manch

The Gulbenkian Assets for Workplaces, sponsored by the Calouste Gulberhian Foundation, for managed and small business workshops, community affices, shops and factories, built or improved through community initiative, The Princelet Shout Workshops and The Spelma Street Project, east London (two awards).

Workshops and retail units are workshops and retail units are being provided in renovated mixeduse buildings. They are run by the Spitalifelds Small Business Association, created in 1980 by a group of mainly Bangladeshi local people. Eight workshops and three retail units have been provided at 31-37 Princalet Street, while at Speiman Street (nos 16, 18 and 20) there will be four workshops. a conner shop and flow its its and 20) three was be four workshops, a corner shop and store. Two local businesses, Crowngate Builders and the Crown and Leek Joinery, have been involved in the work. The assessors said: "These inter-related developments show a high degree of community infinative and sustained involvement in a multi-ethnic, multi-faith gren."

Enterprise Centre, Birminghem. Honourefule membous: Quoens Cross Workspace, Glasgow; Yorkshire Dance Centre, Leeds.

Community Centres, sponsored by the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation, for any type of new or Bennagh Community Project, Kesh, Co Fermanagh, entered by Bannagh Community Association. The educational and The educational and recreational needs of this mixed community, two miles from the Irish border, are being met by a hall, saved from demoklion and refurbished with association formed a partimership with Enterprise Ulater, which provided labour under a skilled foreman. Re-opened in April, it provided accel linear a sciency foremen. Re-opened in April, it now provides much-needed space for play groups, youth clubs, group meetings and a health Nonourable mantions: New The assessors said: "An exceptionally high quality of workmanship throughout. A very modest project inspired by the highest ideals and Flickings Park Community Centre Project, Oerbyshins, entered by Riddings Community Centre Association.

DEFINITION.

The result of 12 years of community participation, fundraising and building, the centre provides the only suitable facility for villagers to meet. A local architect was appointed to design a building suitable for the conservation area, and the local people built virtually all of it themselves, including a spectacular woodblock floor. The naxt stage will be the provision of landscaping, a car park and

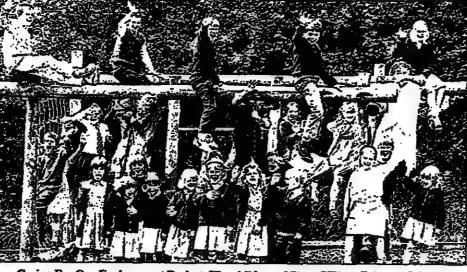

Southville Community Development Association, Bristol

The Middlesbrough council Langridge Initiative Centre

The Giroscope Workers Co-operative, Hull, Humberside

Caring For Our Environment Project: The children of Shute Village Primary School

The assessors said: "The hall is fully accessible to all and used for a wide range of activities involving all age groups. This group showed us what community involvement is all about."

Involvement is all about."

Lairnarth Village Hull, reser Loos, Cornwell, entered by Larresath Village Hull Management Committee.

The new hall replaced the existing one in this small isolated community and serves as a recreation, sports and meeting place. The hall is used by the local school for drama and games and also has a small surgery, especially useful for the elderly unable to travel long distances. Building work was carried out with the help of the local MSC.

The associates that "Well-used and fully booked up for the near future. An example of a group using sidile from all around."

Commendations: Stapleford Abbotis Village Half, Flomford, Essex; Spittal Action Centre — The Fotal Visitors' Centre and especial designations and associated development. Caltiness; Meerbrook Village Hall, Leek, Staffordahire.

Easton Community Centre, Bristol; Broughton and Bretton Community Centre; Whamcliffle Side Village Hell, Shetfield; The Crosslet Centre, Dumbarton.

Bardays Bank, for any type of partnership which has brought benefits to a local community through a built environment

Town Community Project.
Housing, community centres, a playground and a self-financing enterprise centre are all part of this complex and wide-ranging project to improve the quality of life on the estate. First, a youth club, nursery and senior citizens centre were opened in disused owners. The Little disused garages. The Little Angels playground followed. Now work has started to provide studio workshops at commercial rents and a pilot project to upgrade 47 houses is in hend. Oxford Polytachnic Urban Regeneration Consultancy and Burrell Foley Architects have been involved in the consultation The assessors and: "A successful partnership which is delivering a wide-ranging incremental programme."

The Southville Comme, Bristol, entered by Southville Community Development Association. Development Association.

A much-needed community centre and low-cost housing for rent are being provided through an imaginative form of funding and partnership between local voluntary groups, Bristol City Council and a housing association. A listed school building will provide the centre, and on adjoining land there will be 32 flats for the elderly.

The assessors said: "A very

The assessors said: "A very imaginative acheme in which the architect has worked very closely with the association during the blackers and design at the second said." the planning and design stage, holding public meetings and carrying out small group design seminars."

Commendation: The Montague Centre Broadway, Belfast. Honourable mentions: Hunsel and Gratel Family Support Unit, Kidderminster; Finsbury Park, Community, north London.

The National Children's Play Award, sporsored by the National Children's Play and Recreation Unit, for community-initiated play projects, particularly those Project, Axminister, Devon, ent. by the Children of Shute Village play area and a wider range of environmental projects in Shute village have been provided by the 30 primary school children. They successfully lobbled against the sale of the former head-teacher's house and garden and humed it into a conservation area, raising £1,500. They then raised £4,500 for a play area they designed themselves, and they designed themselves, and now have plans to turn the former house into a community centre. The assessors said: "Their enthusiasm has brought about the transformation of the surrounding grounds, it has changed the villagers' perception of the children and of the school."

Resource Centre and Toy Library, Wirrel, Cheshire; Drayton Park Primary School, north London. Henomable mentions: Churt Playground Appeal, Surrey; Binley Woods First School, Coventry.

The Community Architecture Award, sponsored by the Calouste Gulbankian the Calcuste Gulbankian Foundation, for any type of building project, new build or refurbishment, in which the design process has involved local community or user groups.
The London Lighthouse, North
Kensington, entered by the London Lighthouse. Britain's first residential and

New Routes to Jobs, Training and Enterprise, Glasgow, entered by Blantyre Community support centre for the growing number of people living with HIV and Aids is based in a converted school building. Learning Group. A "one door" integrated service which helps to regenerate the local economy by reducing converter scrool billiong. Initial hostility from local residents was overcome and it now has a high level of local support. As many as 600 people now use the cantre each week, it has a happy, domestic firel to it and this is due in large part to the process of consultation employed by consultation employed by architect Robert Sproson. The assessors described it us "uplifting": "This remarkable achievement is due to the nature of the community of Alda workers, to the consummate skill of the architecture and to the power of the community-architecture process at its best." Commendations: St Augustine's Church Centre, Bradford: Lambeth Community Care Centre, south London. The Community Enterprise Award for Training, sponsored by Marks & Spencer, awarded to community organisations undertaking built anyromiont regeneration projects, which as a result assists local people to obtain skill and employment opportunities. economy by reducing unemployment, encouraging new enterpress and supporting existing employers, it was established with more than I million from Straticyde regional council, the Industry Department for Scotland, and Asda. A skills audit highlighted resting yet untapped talents, which could be better used, and a careers and training centre was set up in a disused shop in up in a disused shop in Clydeview shopping centre. Close links have been forged with employers to identify needs, careers guidance and counselling, crèche facilities and aupport for the mentally and physically handicapped.

The assessors said: "An innovative and well-administrated actions with an innovative and well-administrated actions with an innovative. scheme with an impressive team of unemployed women as the driving force."

Commendation: The Crown and Leek Building Resource and Training Centre, London.

The West Everton Community Council's Community Council Planning Project The Community Enterprise Award for New Business, sponsored by the Post Office, for community organisations which, through a built environment regeneration project, have promoted new business to meet a community need. Poss Tub, Gateshead, entered by Teamwork Services. A community-run launderette A community-run launderette and snack bar which has played an important role in the regeneration of an area by providing a meeting place as well as washing and low-price catering for local residents. A vandaissed unit in the shopping centre was leased to Teamwork Services, a community business, and renovated to designs by architect Mike Drage. The centre is run by volunteers, who hope by the end of the first year to create two part-time jobs. The assessors said: "By The assessors said: "By breathing life into derelict shop premises with public and private sector support, the scheme has given valuable encouragement to the community."

Honourable mention: Dalmarnock Springfield

Community, Glasgow.

Enterprise

"What we need in this country . . . is an entrepreneurial attitude ..."

Sir Bryan Nicholson, Post Office Chairman

What are we doing?

* Working with Enterprise Agencies

* Encouraging small businesses

* Supporting local Business Education Partnerships

* Playing our full part with Training and Enterprise Councils

* Providing secondees to charitable organisations

* Creating job initiatives to help the long term unemployed

*Regularly employing over 3,000 young people in YT places

> * Sponsoring the Community Enterprise Award for New Business

The Post Office

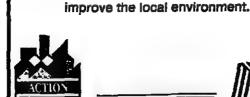

in business to serve Britain better.

AWARD DESIGN

QUALITY BUILDERS

Main contractors to C.D.S. PORTLAND PLACE & ST. MICHAELS HAMLET

ATLANTIC HOUSE HERCULANEUM DOCK LIVERPOOL L3 4AU TELEPHONE: 051-708 8822

MANCESTER

Congratulations to Triangle Residents Association and

Manchester Community Technical Aid Centre

(CTAC) Manchester City Council is proud of the success of its Community Initiative Fund scheme.

Funded through the Urban Programme

this encourages community effort to East Midlands Electricity wish RIDDINGS PARK a successful future.

East Midlands Electricity are pleased to have been chosen to carry out the electrical and security installation work.

For advice on your electrical needs, contact: Roger Scothern on (0602) 269711

East Midlands

Royal Institute of British Architects

Clients' Advisory Service

66 Portland Place, London W1N 4AD Your building problem is unique. You need an expert

A Chartered Architect has the skills and experience to make sure that you get the building you really need. The Clients' Advisory Service of the RIBA has details of practices working in the UK and abroad and can help you to find the right architect for your job. FOR

Write to RIBA or telephone 071-580 5533

FOCUS

Return of the Titians

If there is one attraction in Venice this year which will inspire a pilgrimage, it is the tribute to Titian. John Russell Taylor reports on the variety of the city's art exhibitions n the minds of most visitors Venice is primarily the city of art, which is one reason why the lately aborted notion of making it the scene of the next world fair jamboree, Expo 2000, aroused a storm of protest. Just for the art and the history, it seems in season to be loaded with as many international visitors as it can reasonably bear without sink-ing beneath the algae-infested waters of the lagoon.

This year there are two big draws: the Biennale and the definitive tribute to one of Venice's own, Titian. The Biennale, cosmopolitan as on principle it is, gathers the best of contemporary art, or someone's choice of what is best, into the numerous national pavilions of the Giardini di Castello, and regularly marks off Venice's history into two-year periods, although after it closes on September 30 there will not be another for three years, to make the next fall on the actual centenary of the institution's founding in 1893 (they managed to get slightly out of sync over the two world wars).

There are several other splendid shows on in Venice through the summer to uphold the city's reputation as a host for art as well as an originator of its own. "Mondrian and De Stijl: the modern ideal", at the Fondazione Giorgio Cini until September 2, and "Russia 1900-1930; the art of stage design", at the Ca' Pesaro Museum of Modern Art until September 9, have little directly to do with Venice, its status as Diaghilev's last resting-place apart. But both are evidently shows of world class, not gigantic enough to enter the everythingyou-always-wanted-to-know category, but crowded with enough masterpieces to make a special trip worthwhile for anyone specially interested, and a tempting introduction to many more who just happen to be in Venice at the time.

If there is one show, however, which is going to inspire special pilgrimages, much as Van Gogh is doing to Amsterdam, it will be the tribute "Titian in Venice" at the Palazzo Ducale until October 7. There is something special and imagination-catching about the idea of seeing Titian in his home town, surrounded by continuing evidences of the world he lived in and the contribution he made to it.

The show makes the business easier by gathering together in the Doge's Palace most of the major works which normally you would have to trek round half-a-dozen Venetian churches and a couple of museums to see. Only the size of the two key works in the Frari church has defeated the organizers, so you still need to go there too to see the Assumption and the Pesaro Madonna—and be ambiguously rewarded with Ti-tian's grave, a vastly hideous 19th-century monument raised above it, and, just opposite, the tomb that Canova designed for him, and that was eventually turned by pupils into a monument for Canova himself.

The main experience, however, is to be gained in the exhibition itself. There is, for example, an unrivalled succession of Titian's extraordinary portraits, including a variety of popes, cardinals and doges, many of whom one would not feel too comfortable turning one's back on even for a moment, as well as the penetrating picture of Isabella d'Este, the touching study of a young Ranuccio Far-nese, and the extraordinary late self-portrait, in which Titian looks more prophet than painter.

Fascinating too, reassembled, perfectly lit and at a secable distance, is the extraordinary group of ceiling paintings done for the church of Santo Spirito in Isola, with their almost baroque depictions of blood-thirsty moments from the Old Testament, the protagonists tumbling through space. And the two paintings of the Annunciation offer a vivid contrast, the earlier, from the Scuola Grande di San Rocco, a simple encounter of woman and angel, the later, from the church of Mary Magdalene Penitent: "There is something special and imagination-catching about seeing Titian's work in his home town".

San Salvatore, with apparently half of heaven in operatic attendance. Since Titian lived so long (until his eighties at least, though the registration of his death claims he was 103) and was so prolific, selection, however comprehensive, is bound to have its gaps. During his lifetime, Titian was one of Venice's major exports and, although he lived in Venice for most of his life, a large proportion of his work was demed for other cities, other rulers. There is also a relatively small number of his mythological and classical compositions. Even with the gap filled to some extent by early copies after works such as the London National Gallery's Bacchus and Ariadne, we are perhaps given a disproportionately holy view of Titian's activities. But there are hints, and more than hints, of other things. The astonishing Venus, the Organist and the Little Dog from the Prado, even the title of which sounds like an invitation to lubricious imaginings, seems in its mixture of nudity, contemporary costume and the unambiguous direction of the distracted organist's gaze, to do more than Manet ever did to excite puritanical outrage by simi-

And the wonderful last room, with its grand and awful works of Titian's old age, such as The Flaving of Maisvas, the mysterious Boy with Dogs and the last, unfinished Pieta, is evidence of the old artist's continuing ability to take the world by surprise.

Sea still puts city at peril

The belated fight against the floods

n November 4, 1966, flood waters surged in from the Adriatic and covered St Mark's square to a level of more than six feet. The very survival of Venice was threatened. Since then the government's record in ensuring its protection has been dismal. Nearly a quarter of a century later the city still lies unprotected.

Belatedly, something is being done. A consortium of leading Italian firms, Consorzio Venezia Nuova, sponsored by the govern-ment five years ago, has drawn up plans to protect the lagoon with mobile flood gates at its three entrances from the sea. There will be submerged hinged barriers which rise above water level on a flood warning. An experimental pilot structure, known as Mose, is in the lagoon near the Lido.

The problem is simply put.
Venice has sunk 9.2in this century, due to land subsidence and a rising sea level. Subsidence has been slowed and perhaps halted now that industry on the mainland has stopped drawing water from the subsoil. But the sea will rise more quickly than ever if halfof what scientists predict about the greenhouse effect comes true.

At present Venice is flooded by acque alte, or high waters, about 40 times a year, according to the authorities, compared with seven times earlier this century. Recent winters have been abnormally mild, and have given the impression of a diminishing flood threat, strengthened by photographs of gondolas stranded high and dry in canals. But this is due to neglect of essential dredging for the past 25 years, so that some canals have simply silted up.

The mild weather has also contributed to another of Venice's contributed to another of Venice's troubles, the emergence in the lagoon in summer of evil-smelling algae and bothersome midges. The main blame for this is ascribed by experts to agricultural pollution from the mainland.

In these areas, too, steps are at last being taken. This summer the authorities gave the go-ahead for dredging canals. The visitor will also notice an increase in the restoration of paiszzi on the Grand Canal. Air pollution from industry is seriously damaging the stonework on many buildings.

But the red tape is formidable. It is estimated that, on average, 23 different bodies are involved in authorising work, and Consorzio Venezia Nuova has been delayed.

The Briton who guides La Fenice

John Higgins reports on the man who runs one of Italy's famous opera houses successful directors of opera houses outside their own atre had to live up to its name country, but foreign admin- and rise in new form from its istrators, particularly British own ashes when it burned ones, of leading Italian lyric down. Donizetti was the leadtheatres are a rarity. La Fenice in Venice is in the charge of and wrote works for it both John Fisher, and he thinks he before and after the fire. is the only non-Italian to have held the post. It is possible that he is the only Briton this century to have run a major

Italian opera house, Mr Fisher's musical edu-cation was in Glasgow, but his five operas from Verdi, career has been almost en-including two, Rigoletto and tirely in Italy and Germany. La Traviata, which are an He spent a time at La Scala as indispensable part of the repassistant artistic director when critory of every lyric theatre in Claudio Abbado was there, the world. The Verdi associand previously had been in a ation began with Ernani in similar position at the Fenice. 1844 and ended with Simon In the Italian operatic world politics and diplomacy march hand in hand, and it was in both that helped him become general administrator and artistic director at the Fenice, where he arrived last January. He has one of Europe's most beautiful theatres, with its blue, cream and gold auditorium.

in his care. He also has a bicentenary to prepare.
The Fenice opened on May

Scala. The second great flowering of the Fenice took place in the post-war 16, 1792, with an opera by Paisiello. The name for Eng-of the Venice Biennale. The lish-speaking foreigners might Fenice turned to the greatest sound a little like that of composers of the time, as it Venice itself, but that is pure had done a century before, coincidence. It is simply the and asked them to write for Italian for phoenix, so called the theatre. From Stravinsky because it arose from the ashes of another opera house which had burnt down in another Turn of the Screw, but not part of the city.

In the first half of the last century, the Fenice challenged houses such as the San Carlo leading composers of the day. It was for the Fenice that also his last in Italian, Semiramide, before he went off to Paris and soon took early retirement from the operatic stage. Bellini followed with Beatrice di Tenda young Callas had some of her ITALIANS have been highly (based on Romeo and Juliet). In the mid-1830s, the theing opera composer at the time The man most closely associated with the Fenice is the most famous Italian composer of them all, Giuseppe Verdi. During the 1840s and 1850s the Fenice commissioned Boccanegra in 1857, although he was to revise the latter work for La Scala about 20 years clearly Mr Fisher's grounding later. The Fenice's greatest regret may have been that it did not 'In Italian stage the world premiere of the most famous орега. politics and Venetian opera of all, Ponchielli's La diplomacy Gioconda, full of dark and violent march hand doings around the in hand' lagoon. That privilege went to La > years, sparked by the presence of the Venice Biennale. The came The Rake's Progress, from Benjamin Britten The Death in Venice which was reserved for Aldeburgh.

Mr Fisher will be looking to all these operas which started in Naples and La Scala itself to life at the Fenice when he secure the services of the announces his new productions for the bi-cententary season. It would be very Rossini wrote his first major surprising if Rigoletto and La serious opera, Tancredi, and Traviata were not there. Semiramide and The Rake's Progress are sound bets.

And over it all will probably be the shadow of Maria Callas. It was at the Fenice that the and I Capuleti e i Montecchi carliest Italian successes.

tre rowing race around the islands which takes place in the spring San Giorgio Maggiore, with the church in the backgro

Tides in the affairs of men

e live in the Fouda menta Bonlini. It is a wide, south-facing quayside along the Rio degli Ognissanti, a canal beginning at the squero or gondola-yard of San Trovaso and leading to the other famous yard of Tramontin, past the conveniently placed Giustinian hospital.

Basilio

It is a peaceful backwater. except when the water ambulances churn through with an emergency, setting the red and blue boats moored for hire along the canal bouncing in the wash. Besides visitors to the hospital, pedestrian traffic is usually bound for the Zattere where there are two consulates, several shipping agencies, one of the best supermarkets in Venice and the passenger port at San

In the other direction, beyoud the Ponte Longo, there are two or three excellent icecream bars, particularly crowded on a sunny weekend when Venetians love to stroll or sit watching the activity on the wide, choppy Giudecca canal. Behind the Boulini is a hidden area of green where the long gardens of its houses meet those of Palazzo Bembo, a department of the university: a haven for small birds. dominated by the bell-tower of San Trovaso, whose first chimes clang simultaneously with the deep-throated marangon, the deepest bell of San Marco. The fondamenta is low-lying and subject to flooding when persistent rain,

low pressure and a sirocco

combine with the tide to

During the early 1970s the inundate parts of the city.

cycle of flooding that followed the exceptional high tide of November 1966 frequently brought the canal into the ground floor of Ca Bonlini, our house. One quickly got used to the drill of leaping out of bed at the first wail of the sirens to pull doormats out of reach of the water, followed by the ritual of sluicing down the androne, the entrance hall, when the tide receded. It was the flood of 1966 which brought us to Venice so we could follow projects financed by the Venice in Peril Fund. We could evaluate priorities in collaboration with the Superintendents of Monuments and Fine Arts, maintain momentum and, bopefully, disentangle the web of problems created between authorities of one kind or another. The recommendations of two Venetian friends then at the head of those offices, Renato Padoan and Francesco Valcanover, led to the restorations of the churches of the Madonna dell'Orto in Cannaregio and San Nicolò dei Mendicoli at the extreme western tip of Dorsoduro, areas of the city then rarely sought out.

The parishioners and priests of those churches and their successors remain close friends and, while the fund has subsequently been able to work on many prestigious projects in other parts of the city, the special commitment to them remains, for their Venice has retained its magic, despite

Market stalls near the Rialto bridge add colour to Venetian life actually in and not engaged on

Fortunately, the village intimacy of Venice means that meeting people in the street - an on-the-spot answer can terous achool-children.

another line.

needs are continuous. The day hope of finding the person begins with the early delivery of the local newspaper, Il Gazzettino or La Nuova Venezia: their coverage of hational or international news is less important than the results of their investigations into Venetian problems whose complexity requires long memories and independent judgment

The timetable of each profession or trade determines the order of telephoning in the

their students, and there is bedlam at the Accademia being under threat, says Frances Clarke boat-stop where crowds of vociferous youngsters from the Liceo Marco Polo press on

> The patience and courtesy of the marinaii (conductors) is phenomenal, especially with the elderly and pram or wheelchair-pushers. By then the British papers should have arrived at the kiosk, manned by the Silvestri family for decades, and the long queue to get into the Accademia galleries, where numbers are now limited, will have dispersed. It is just time to catch the local grocer, Armandino, before he closes (mercifully never on time) to buy olives and cheese.

board with their knapsacks.

During the early afternoon there is a sort of truce: food shops only open again at five, disconcerting for foreigners used to day-long opening hours, but with the compensation of late closing. From autumn until early summer there is a variety of lectures, debates or cultural visits organised by the many cultural associations, frequently held in one of the beautiful much business is done by rooms of the Ateneo Veneto in the Scuola San Fantin. Listening to the annual char up weeks of waiting for a series on the history of the written reply - or on the Venetian. Republic demonvaporetto, a remarkably pune- strates how seriously Venetual service considering the tians take their heritage, the strains put upon it by achievements of their heroes commuters, tourists and bois- and the contemporary problems of a city which has never from Rome. Although few of the 40 or so theatres which once flourished in Venice survive, the Fenice, now the most beautiful and prestigious, will celebrate its. 200th anniversary in 1992. Opera still draws the biggest and most critical local audicrice, ready to boo any performer judged inadequate. Venetians cherish their tra-ditional feste. They celebrate the founding of the city, its saint's day, San Marco, co-inciding with the Liberation in 1945 or April 26 1945 on April 25, Ascension Day, the Feast of the Redentore with its bridge of boats across the Giudecca Canal, the anniversary of the Battle of Lepanto in October, the Madonna della Salute in November.

Of the secular entertain-ments, the revived and overblown carnival brings welcome trade to the hor and restaurants in the leaner months of February and March. However, in the spring the rowing season opens, the gondoliers get into serious training and the Vogalonga in May brings together the local and international rowing fizternity in an exhibitaring 32kilometre course around the islands from San Giorgio Maggiore back to the Customs House at the Dogana Point By the first Sunday in September, the competitive

Regata Storica brings the, official rowing season to a triumphant close with the evocative procession of his toric barges. Canaletto lives: Eviva Venezia!

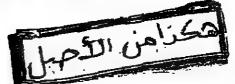

• Lady Clarke is vice chairman of the Venice in Peril Fund

The Vene

TAL REPORT

a still s city

THOSE WHO LISTEN TO THE VOICE OF THE SEA WILL HEAR THE VOICE OF TRUTH.

now on, learning the truth about the environmental situation in the Upper Adriatic will be much easier. The Italian regions Veneto and Friuli-Venezia Giulia and the Yugoslav Republics of Slovenia and Croatia have just started up a joint research and information project concerning water quality and bathing conditions in the Upper Adriatic. Thus, it will be possible to study the phenomena taking place in this sea and provide direct objective information to the international community.

The research project.

Data on the environmental situation are gathered by the "Osservatorio dell'Alto Adriatico", a scientific body set up by the four coastal regions as a working group of the Comunità Alpe Adria, with the participation of the Austrian Land of Stiria. Four oceanographic boats are carrying out this year 6 cruises to study the situation in approximately 60 stations, in order to ascertain water quality and bathing conditions, both in coastal waters and offshore. The physical and chemical parameters of the water column (temperature, salinity, dissolved oxigen, transparency, pH) are measured by 40 stations. In the remaining stations, data are collected concerning nutrients, fauna and flora and surveys and observations are carried out directly underwater. The first four cruises this year have shown that the situation is completely normal, whereas the fifth, that was completed at the end of June, has pointed out the appearance of a certain number of jelly aggregates which, however, do not affect the coastal areas.

The information project.

In order to disseminate the information gathered and confute partial, distorted or incomplete data, the "Osservatorio dell'Alto Adriatico", in collaboration with Palomar, a joint Italian-Yugoslav limited company concerned with environmental protection and restoration of the Adriatic system. will make public its bulletins avoiding any mediation or interpretation. So, if you want to know the situation of the Upper Adriatic, you may read the bulletins issued by the Observatory, which is the official voice of the Upper Adriatic, in this same paper in July and August.

The "Osservatorio dell'Alto Adriatico" will inform the international community on the situation of the sea, making public all data gathered by its scientists.

THE OSSERVATORIO DELL'ALTO ADRIATICO. THE OFFICIAL VOICE OF THE SEA.

Olazábal's hole-by-hole guide to St Andrews

GOLF CORRESPONDENT

JOSÉ-María Olazábal first played the Old Course at St Andrews as an amateur in the 1984 Open Championship. He would have survived the halfway cut if it had not been for the 17th hole in the second round. He was over the green, chipped, chipped and chipped again and marked a seven on his card.

"I had expected a better course," Olazabal said. "I had heard so much: St Andrews is this and St Andrews is that. When I first arrived it was a disappointment. Since then I've played here in three Dunhill Cups and I like it more and more. I think it is very special because of the surroundings and because of what it means. I love the town and the history.

"I had not before 1984 seen the golf course, not even in a photograph. So my first picture of it is of eve winning. I watched it on television when he was punching the air. It would be nice to be the one on the 18th green this time.

"One thing I can never get over is the size of those greens. The problem comes when you try to put the ball close to the flag because the cups are going to be cut near the traps or near the edge of the greens. So sometimes it is best to be conservative,not take too many risks but give yourself

Hole One (The Burn)

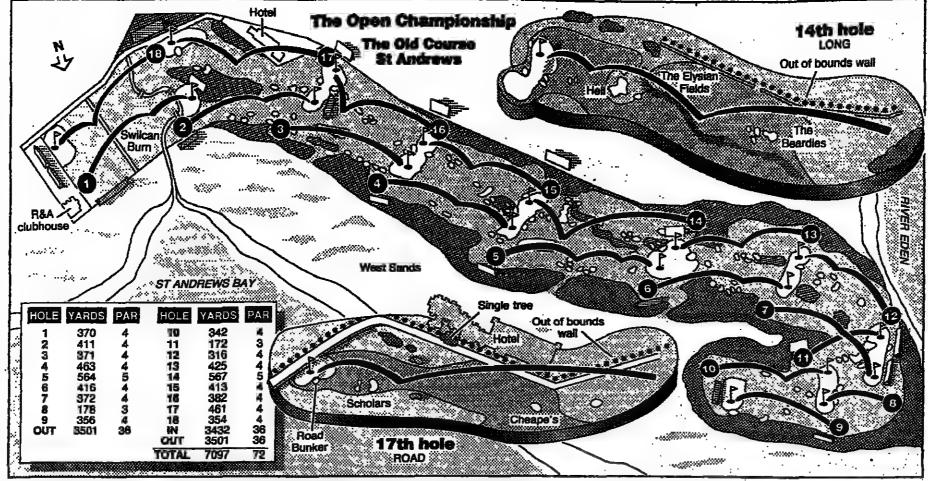

Par 4, 370 vards You have to aim a little left on a line with the bridge with a three-wood or a one-iron depending on how the breeze is. I take no risks trying to put the approach close if the flag is near to the Swilcan Burn. If it goes a little past then just make two putts. Hole Two (The Dyke)

Par 4, 411 yards 1 try to hit the tee shot just short of the trap of the left. It can be a threewood or a one-iron again. From there is it a six or seven-iron and I try to be just a bit past the flag. It is a much better putt back up the hill. One of the days the flag will be cut on the left and then I try to play right of it. Once I was in the trap on the left and there is no shot from there. I

Hole Three (Cartgate, Out) Par 4, 371 yards It depends of the wind, as it always does at St Andrews, but it will be a three-wood or a driver to have a full sand-iron into the green so that I can stop the ball pretty quick. It is not very difficult. You just have to aim off the tee a little left. A full sand-iron for me is 90 to 95 yards. Hole Four (Ginger Beer) Par 4, 463 yards I play on to the 15th fairway and from there I try always to play for the middle of the green. It is a difficult shot to judge. The main thing for me here is to make a four.

Hole Five (Hole o' Cross,

again aim left with the driver to give myself a good chance of putting the ball on the green in two. If the breeze is just a little into us and I don't think I can carry those two large hollows short of the green then I just play a four or five-iron short of the traps. The third shot will then be a nine-iron. It is a big green so I go for the flag.

Hole Six (Heathery, out) Par 4, 416 yards I hit the driver off the tee straight down the centre. I have to avoid the traps especially on the left. There are two traps on the right but I think it's more difficult to get in one of those than the ones on the left. From there it is not a very tough shot with a seven or an eight-fron on to another big green. The only problem there is if the flag is very close to the hump. In that case I just make sure that I'm not going to eave the ball short.

Hole Seven (High, out) Par 4, 372 yards Usually I hit a three-wood off the tee to have a sand-iron second shot. Again it is a big green but there is a little hump at the front of it which to carry is another 18 yards. So if the flag is near to the hump, I'm going to be past the flag. I'm not taking any risks in that position. I know that with a sand-iron in your hand you are trying to put it close but I still make sure that I pitch the ball at east pin hìgh.

Hole Eight (Short)
Per 3, 178 yards
It is not a very long par three and it is usually played with the wind left to right. The green is very big and all you have to do there is hit the tee shot straight at the flag. Hole Nine (The End)

Hole Nine (The End)
Par 4, 356 yards: There are a couple of traps in the middle of the fairway and I always play short of them with a three-wood or one-tron. If the wind is helping then there is a slight chance of going for the green with a driver. I don't because from short of the traps you only have an eight or nine-iron even with the breeze into you. Again it is a very big green although it is flat.

Hole Ten (Bobby Jones) Par 4, 342 yards
You have two chances. If it is downwind then you just take the driver and go for the green, if I see I cannot do that then I just play twoiron off the tee and then sand-iron on to the green. There are a counter on to the green. There are a couple of humps on the green so you must judge from where the flag is placed where to land the ball because the key is to give yourself the easiest putt. You must think about that all the time at St Andrews.

Par 3, 172 yards Here you know the flag is going to be always very close to THAT trap called Strath immediately at the front of the green. I try always to make sure that I am going to be past that trap. But I like the hole and past that trap. But I like the hole and I always try to hit it to the flag. I might be taking the risk of taking a club that will be flirting with danger. But sometimes you have to do that on this hole because if you are a long way past the flag then you have a downhill putt which is very difficult to judge the pace. If there is no wind it is a six-iron, it is a threeno wind it is a six-iron. It is a three-iron into the wind; an eight-iron with the wind. The hole it is both a lion

Hole 12 (Heathery, home)
Par 4, 316 yards
It is very similar to number ten. If it is downwind then I might have the chance to put the ball on the green so I go for the driver. If not then it is a two-iron off the tee, putting the ball between the traps, and then it can be like a nine-iron up to a very tricky green. It is pretty wide but there are humps at back and front so it is a very narrow place where so it is a very narrow place where the flag is going to be and you must select the right club. It is better to be a bit past the flag because it is difficult to judge the pace of the ball over the first hump if putting from Hole 13 (Hole o'Cross, home!

you can see the whole green, the flag, the bottom of the flag and I think that is very important on this hole. From there it depends on the weather although it is not a very tough shot unless the hole is cut on the right. It can be anything from a seven-iron to a three-iron.

Hole 14 (Long)

They have put a grandstand on the right hand side of the 13th green so right hand side of the 13th green so now there is only one way to play the hole which is straight to the fairway. All the time it is a driver with usually the wind left to right into you so I play the second shot onto the fifth fairway with a one-iron or maybe three-wood if the wind is strong. From there it is something like a seven-iron. If the wind is helping then you can go for the green with a three-wood second shot.

Hole 15 (Cartgate, home)

Hole 15 (Cartgate, home)
Par 4, 413 yards
I always hit the driver off the tee. It is a pretty big green but with a few hills on it so you have to make sure the ball is pretty close to the flag. I always go for the flag with the second shot because if you are a distance from the cup then you will have a very tricky putt. I have to go for my best shot there although if the flag is at the back, and the wind is blowing against, then it can be a is blowing against, then it can be a three-iron. Then again it can be as little as a nino-iron.

Hole 16 (Comer of the Dyke) Par 4, 382 yards always play left of the traps on the fairway. It can be a one-iron; it can be a driver. If there is wind it is usually off the left and I will be hitting between a five and seven-iron for my approach. When the flag is cut on the left that is the toughest position because there is a trap short of the green and a trap past the green.

Hole 17 (The Road)

Par 4, 461 yards
I think it is a very tough hole not helped by where it comes in the round, I usually try to aim a little left and fade the ball a little bit. It is always a driver off the tee, I don't care where I am on the fairway as I have a first lie for the long as I have a flat lie for the second shot. The key to the second shot is where the flag is placed. If it is right of the Road Bunker then t am going to play sate and short right of the green. Two putts from there and that is it.

Hole 18 (Tom Morris) Per 4, 354 yards I always hit a driver and it is going to be a wedge or maybe a nine-iron if the wind is very strong for the second shot. All you have to do is avoid the Valley of Sin because if you are down there it is going to be very, very difficult. You always try to pitch the ball pin high. It should stop on the second bounce.

key holes The 14th

By MIT. NE

the second to state

Marian ha

Her was breeze

28 les 102 15 74 50

Date Renute

COURT & FOUNDS

The you have to A

2 8 W. 554

latitudes the

the which when I

in professional

San European Man

and I ald a three

The parts to go at

1 (The last 1 (The last 1)

PERSONAL PROPERTY

the state of the place are partitud to make from

o sa There was

The case of the same of the sa

1532 I 5371 10 1551 11 1

100 | 100 mart 10 for 13

MATERIAL PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF

maintee in at arrend

क्षित्र क्षेत्रकाच्या व अस्त mile meed to be in Contraction the re

OPEN FOI

Second County Co.

Similaria dere

brest.

tes leste and hards

Alexander in the spirite in MESTER AND STORE

TONY Jacklin and Gene Sarazen are among the many to have met their Waterloo here. Jacklin, out in 29 in 1970, had his defence interrupted by weather and a bush which cost him a six. Sarazen, in 1933, was buried by the sands of Heil Bunker. He took eight and lost by a shot. Close to Hell is Kitchen, a smaller though no more heavenly bunker, and the key here is to find sanctuary on a fairway known as The Elysian Fields. A pushed drive will go over the stone wall out of bounds; a pulled one will more than likely be caught by The Beardies, a group of bunkers where the grass is allowed to grow longer around the edge. The hole can be overpowered in a following wind but it will dictate to the player if the wind is only slightly against. It is a classic par five not only because of the bunkers, and the fear of the out of bounds, but because of the alternative examinations it can set. The steep rise to the green can provide a final test which so many fail.

The 17th

TOM Watson has said it could have been designed by Hitchcock. If he is referring to drama there is no argument. Tommy Nakajima gave the Road Bun-ker, which in the words of Darwin eats its way into the very vitals of the green" an alternative name: the Sands of Nakajima The reason? He was on the green in two, putted into the Road Bunker, took four to get out and put a nine on his card. Watson stresses that it is just too tough yet in the same breath he cannot wait to stand on the tee. "It has a kind of magic," Watson says. Yet Peter Thomson, who won the first of his five Opens at St Anarchitect designed such a hole he would be sued for incomence." Yet if it could be oought every American would want to ship it home. All, that is, except Arnold Palmer, as he took 5-7-7 there in the first three rounds in 1978. Darwin emy". Others have uttered stronger words and required stronger medicine in "The Jisset"

MITCHELL PLATTS

Law Report July 19 1990 Queen's Bench Divisional Court

I play way left on to the shith fairway with a driver but from that position

Council acted vindictively or in bad faith in removing advertising from TES Regina v Derbyshire County Council, Ex parte The Times Supplements Ltd and Others Regina v Derbyshire County evidence. But his chief execfurther that "We have not and switching national advertisto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach and the supplements. The Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a oped over the last several deto the Guardian would reach a

Before Lord Justice Watkins [Judgment July 18]

Derbyshire County Council was vindictiveness in deciding to move its advertising from The Times Educational Supplement (TES) to The Guardian.

The council had been unable to give any educational reason for its decision to impose a general ban on papers owned by Mr Rupert Murdoch following an alleged libel of its leader by The Sunday Times.

The council had deliberately sought to mislead the court as to cisions made by its education council. The decisions were a bad example of local authority maladministration which was potentially if not actually harm-ful to the interests of education in Derbyshire.

The Queen's Bench Divisional Court so held in granting the applicants. The Times Supplements Ltd. News International plc. Times Newspapers Ltd and Pauleen Elizabeth Lathern, a Conservative county councillor, an order of certiorari to quash the council's decision advertising educational appointments nationally in the TES, and not to place advertisapplicants or Mr Murdoch.

In addition, the court also granted the applicants a declara-tion that the decisions were made unlawfully and ultra ving and an injunction to restrain the council from implementing those decisions. The court also ordered taxation of costs on an indemnity basis.
Section 38 of the Education

(No 2) Act 1986 provides: "(1) The articles of government for every county, controlled, special agreement and maintained special school shall provide for it to be the duty of the local education authority. where there is a vacancy in any post which is part of the (b) to advertise the vacancy, and procedure laid down by virtue of subsection (3) below . . . "(3) The articles of government for every such school shall provide (a) for it to be the duty of the authority, where they decide to advertise the vacancy. to do so in a manner likely in their opinion to bring it to the notice of persons (including employees of theirs) who are qualified to fill the post."

Mr Anthony Lesier, QC and Mr David Pannick for the applicants; Mr Alan Newman, QC and Mr Antony White for

LORD JUSTICE WATKINS said the Labour Party had a substantial majority on the county council. Councillor Bookbinder, the council leader, was a very forceful and influential local politician.

head of research and intelligence, Mr Elton, and their deputy head of legal services, our councillors had provided

Mr Raine, together with Councillors Stafford, Dinah Dorrell, the Labour whip, Can-non and Bratt, had been crossexamined by Mr Lester.
The councillors had maintained that the decision to impose the bans was taken solely upon educational grounds.

Labour group rules provided that save where the matter had been left to a free vote (a rare might not in committee or council meetings oppose the decisions of that group. Until October 11, 1989 the council had habitually advertised educational appointments in the TES. Two days before that, Councillor Book binder had served a writ on the Times Newspapers Ltd. Andrew Neill claiming damages for libel in two articles published by The Sunday Times.

appeared on September 17, 1989 was entitled "Revealed: Socialist tycoon deals with a Labour chief", and "Bizarre deals of council leader and the media tycoon". Another article in The Sunda: Times on September 24, 1989 was entitled "Council share deals under scrutiny The articles, so it was said, understood in their natural and ordinary meaning, meant that "Bookbinder had caused the council to engage in improper behaviour and legally doubtful transactions using the moneys of the superannuation fund That he did, it was asserted the articles implied, inter alia, to assist the affairs of a friend of Councillor Bookbinder, namely a local businessman named Mr Oyston. He too had taken action against the same parties as had the county council itself. The Labour group, meeting on October 11, had endorsed the actions against The Sunday Times and decided to withdraw all advertising by the council in Murdoch newspapers.

Councillor Bookbinder had reported the decision to Mr Raine who had implemented the decision, though he was uneasy about the lack of a legal foundation for the ban. He and other officials sought counsel's advice from Mr Newman who him no educational group supporting the bans.

He advised that the officers should examine relevant factors and produce a report which could possibly demonstrate a sound educational ground for maintaining the bans.

On November 20, 1989 Councillor Stafford had been reported in the Derby Evening Telegraph as saving The fact that the TES is no longer getting £100,000 from us has absolutely nothing to with the libel action advertised there recently On December 13, 1989 a Conservative councillor had been informed that although 250 teaching posts had been advertised since October 18 none had been advertised in the

On December 14, the Labour group decided to confirm and cation committee had before it a report entitled "National advertising for educational appointments".

it decided to move national advertising of leaching va-cancies from the TES to The Guardian for a year. In the course of the meeting, Councillor Stafford had said he was sorry that TES readers were which wanted new blood with

The applicants asserted that the education committee's decision was perverse and the report seriously mislcading. There was no dispute that it was more expensive for the council rather than the TES. TES charges were £61,610 while The Guardian's charges were

72,550 a year. It had been demonstrated that advertising in The Guardian reached a much smaller proportion of teachers than advertising in the TES, which was read by about 235,000 primary and secondary teachers while The Guardian was read by about 84,000. Much the same could be said in comparative terms about leachers in tertiary and further

The report focused on comparative circulation figures for the first half of 1986, when the TES was adversely affected by the Wapping dispute. Since that time the TES circulation had significantly increased while The Guardian's had declined. The council's powers and duties specified in section 38 of the Education (No 2) Act 1986 must. Mr Lester had submitted. evercised reasonably, in good faith and for a proper purpose taking no account of irrelevant considerations.

He had referred to Wheeler to Leicester City Council ([1985] 1 AC 1054) as providing an instance of the type of procedural impropriety involved in the present case. But, Mr Lester had continued, even if it could be said that in addition to the improper purpose, a valid educational ground had been taken into account the decision would have been flawed because the improper purpose so substantially influenced the decision; see R ν Broadcasting Complaints Commission. Ex parte Owen ([1985] OB 1153).

It had further been asserted that powers and duties had been exercised perversely in that no sensible education committee or statutory underpinning for ju-council could properly have dicial review. In his Lordship's concluded that abandoning its view that case did not assist Mr policy of advertising in the TES Newman.

teachers looking for jobs and certainly not any higher number such as to justify the extra expense of advertising in The It was right to consider also the wider, or blanket ban imposed at the instigation of the Labour group which was to prohibit advertising of any kind by the county council in every other Murdoch publication. It was submitted that that was ultra vires the council's powers see R v Ealing LBC, Ex parte Times Newspapers Ltd ((1986) 85 LGR 316).

His Lordship had not the slightest doubt that the Labour group on the county council was formidable force and its decisions were generally put through the committees of the county council by rigorous application of the whip. Mr Newman had submitted that on the evidence, there were powerful indications that a fairly large number of Labour their views on education influencing them.

The Labour Party rule book provided that group members were expected to abide by group decisions and not speak or vote in opposition in the council. If they did not, they could face withdrawal of the whip. Mr Newman had referred to R v Waltham Forest LBC, Ex parte Baxter ([1988] I QB 419, 428) whose ratio was stated by Lord Justice Russell:

"Party loyalty, party unanimity, party policy were all relevant considerations for the individual councillor. The vote becomes unlawful only when the councillor allows these considerations or any other outside influences so to dominate as to exclude other considerations which are required for a balanced judgment.

line, the councillor deprives himself of any real choice or the exercise of any real discretion. then his vote can be impugned and any resolution supported by his vote potentially flawed."

The system of whipping was used by all political parties, or most, both locally and nationally. But its use should not obscure the fact that the public expected their representatives in local and national government at least to consider in any given instance, whether the party line upon the issue in point was one which, according to judgment or conscience or both, they could lt was slavish, thoughtless which might well oblige the court to quash a local authority Mr Newman, relying on R 1 East Berkshire Health Authority: Ex parte Walsh ([1985] 1 QB 1521, had argued that the 1986 Act provided insufficient adherence to the party line which was objectionable and more clear that councillors had to act in good faith in taking decisions on behalf of the public be founded on irrelevant or inappropriate considerations, especially if the object of doing so was to advance an improper

His Lordship failed to see how it could ever be said that a decision of a local authority taken in bad faith or otherwise for an improper purpose could have arisen from the exercise of a power for the public good. If, as Mr Lester suggested, the removal of advertising from the

TES to The Guardian only arose from a vendetta by the county council against Times Newspapers his Lordship would regard the court as under a positive duty in the public interest to strike down such a It was startlingly clear on the evidence that before the articles complained of appeared in The Sunday Times no member of the county council had ex-pressed dissatisfaction with the service provided by the TES. It could not possibly be gainsaid that the Labour group on the council had decided to sever all links with Mr Murdoch's publications, gave instructions through Councillot Bookbinder to that end, secured an immediate order from Mr Raine imposing the ban and then set about trying to discover whether there was available the reality or semblance of a lawful

it. The officials of the county council then had to look about, with the help of counsel, in order to see whether somewhere or other, a lawful consideration could be put before the forthcoming meeting of the education committee.

Four councillors had tried to persuade the court that they only by the educational ground or grounds contained in the report to the education

His Lordship did not believe them. The longer they were cross-examined the more manifest it became that they were implausibly endeavouring to buttress the unsupportable. Save in rare moments of frankness from Councillors Cannon and Bratt their evidence had

His Lordship had come to the firm conclusion that the party whip, a strong-minded lady, had not countenanced a breach of party loyalty at the relevant

To be fair to her, he did not think the other Labour counobservance of the whip. that all the other councillors belonging to the Labour group at the meetings were determined

cillors were in any mood to overturn the decision taken at the Labour group meeting, but she took no chances and sought The inference was irresistible regardless of educational requirements or considerations

Such decision making could heen activated in his Lordship's vindictiveness. It was thus an abuse of power contrary to the public good.

An illuminating light was shed on what seemed to be the cynical attitude of the counciliors who voted for the ban by an incident which had taken place in court during the Councillor Stafford, the deputy leader of the Labour group, had spoken to Councillor Lathem before the morning sitting. She had said, according to her affidavit, that she thought the case was gong well for the applicants whereupon Councillor Stafford said he would bet her £100 that "the decision of this court would not make any difference'

In the witness box Councillor Stafford had said, wholly un-convincingly, that there had been a misunderstanding. Councillor Stafford had been in blic statements quite untruthful about the cause of the ban on

A similar light shore on the unexplained failure to justify the imposition of the general ban on Mr Murdoch's papers. No educational reason had been advances for that. It simply could not be.

Mr Lester had invited the court to conclude that the county council had deliberately to move the advertising from ships just as it had tried to county council meetings.

That was a conclusion his Lordship was driven to make.
There had been revealed, in his Lordship's opinion, a bad example of local authority maladministration which was potentially if not actually harmful to the interests of education in Derbyshire.

For those reasons his Lordship would give the applicants, the relief sought. In view of what had been said: about bad faith and maladministration, his Lordship did not embark on a detailed examination of the allegation that the education committee decision

Had it been necessary to do so he felt sure he would have declared that the decision was perverse because it appeared to have had no sensible or justifiable basis. Furthermore there seemed to his Lordship to be no answer to the applicants' contention that the county council was guilty of procedural impropriety.

Mr Justice Tudor Evans agreed. Solicitors: Theodore God-dard: Mr David Tysoe, Matlock.

Correction

in R v Candy: R v Wise (The Times July 10) in the Bourne-mouth appeal Mr Michael Beckman, QC and Mr Damien Lochrane appeared for Candy and Mr Michael Beckman, QC and Mr David Attrill appeared for Wise.

European Law Report

Luxembourg Sex shop controls do not impede EC trade

Quietlynn Ltd and Another v Southend Borough Council Case C-23/89 Before C. N. Kakouris, Presiexcuse for that conduct.

dent of the Sixth Chamber and Judges F. A. Schockweiler, G. F. Mancini, T. F. O'Higgins and M. Diez de Velasco Advocate General C. O. Lenz (Opinion May 3)

[Judgment July 11] National provisions prohibiting the sale of sex articles from unlicensed sex establishments had no connection with intra-Community trade and were not of such a nature as to impede trade between member states and were not, therefore, contrary to article 30 of the EEC Treaty.

Section 2 of the Local Govemment (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982 provided local authorities in England and Wales with the power to control sex shops in their area. In particular, it empowered them to resolve that Schedule 3 to the Act, which provided for the sale of such articles to be subject to licensing, was to apply to their Southend Borough Council exercised that power, with effect from June 23, 1983. It had brought a prosecution against Quietlynn Ltd and Mr Brian premises without a licence on March 13, 1985 and on April 11, 1985. They were found guilty of two offences by Southend Justices on February 11, 1986, fined £1,000 in respect of each offence, and ordered to pay costs. Quietlynn and Mr Richards appealed to Chelmsford Crown Court against the convictions, their sole defence being that the provisions of the Act relating to the licensing system for sex establishments were incompatible with article 30 of the EEC effect equivalent to a quantitative restriction on imports The crown court considered that the dispute raised questions of interpretation of Community law and therefore submitted three questions to the Court of Justice of the European Communities for a preliminary

Treaty in as much as they constituted a measure having an

In its judgment the European Court of Justice ruled as follows:

By its first question the national court sought to as-certain whether provisions prohibiting the sale of lawful sex articles from unlicensed sex establishments constituted a measure having an effect equivalent to a quantitative restriction within the meaning of article 30 of the Treaty. First, it was to be noted that national legislation prohibiting the sale of sex articles from uniconsed sex establishments applied without distinction to imported and domestic producis. It thus did not constitute an absolute prohibition on the sale of the products in question, but merely a rule regarding their distribution, regulating the outlets through which the products might be marketed.

In principle, therefore, the marketing of products imported from other member states was not rendered any more difficult than that of domestic products. in similar cases, concerning. rules governing the marketing of certain products the Coart had held article 30 of the Treaty not to be applicable. It had also to be pointed out that the provisions prohibiting.

the sale of sex articles from unlicensed sex establishments had in fact no connection with intra-Community trade, since the products covered by the Act might be marketed through licensed sex establishments and other channels, that is to say, through shops in which sex articles accounted for only an insignificant proportion of sales and which were therefore not required to be licensed, or by mail order. Moreover, those provisions were not of such a nature as to impede trade between member

In view of the answer to the first question, the second andthird questions did not require

On those grounds, the European Court (Sixth Chamber).

Article 30 of the Treaty was to Article 30 of the Treaty was to be construed as meaning that national provisions prohibiting:
the sale of lawful sex articles from unlicensed sex establishments did not constitute a neasure having an equivalent effect to a quantitative restric-

Ancient links may witness Spanish succession

By MITCHELL PLATTS, GOLF CORRESPONDENT

JOSÉ-Maria Olazábal will stand on the first tee of the Old Course at St Andrews today, stare down the fairway and start to shiver. At times over the next four days his hands will be shaking. And on the final afternoon he will be hoping to feel the tremendous pressures which afflict those who find themselves in a position to win a

JAL REPORT

lespite blem

100 PM

/- 1000 to 1

 $p \leftarrow p \gamma = p \gamma \approx \frac{1}{2} \times 2 \epsilon^{\frac{1}{2}}$

TOTAL STATE

AND THE PARTY.

major championship.
Olazabal, aged 24, is ready to scale the final rung to stardom by winning the 119th Open. Yet to fulfil that ambition he is well aware that he must conquer the feelings of suffocation that always threaten those who come to the brink of golfing greatness.

Yesterday he confessed: "I am naturally emotional. It might not show when I am on the fairways, but I can tell you it is so. I shake out there. I sometimes show my out there. I sometimes show my hands to Dave Renwick, my caddie, during a round so he knows. Then you have to grip the club, take a deep breath, look at the hole and hit a good shot. The heart beats faster and harder.

"You need to feel these things to love this same. And I love every love this game. And I love every minute of it. I will know that I am ready for this week when I stand on the first tee. I will get very emotional and that is good. I would say that if you don't feel this way then you cannot be giving it your best.

"I first had that feeling when I won my first professional tour-nament, the European Masters in Switzerland. I had a three-shot lead with 110 yards to go and for me at the time, even in the Alps, it was a pitching-wedge. I decided to take a sand-iron and I still pitched the ball past the flag. You see the adrenalin was really pumping.

"It was really pumping again in the Benson and Hedges earlier this year when I had to hole from five feet to win. There was real pressure on that putt. I like the pressure. I want to feel it every week. I never want to be in the comfort zone. I want to be where there is not enough air around you to breathe."

Some observers claim that Olazábal will need to be in that position at least once before winning a major championship. That before he can triumph, he must first fail. Olazabal's best performance in the Open is eleventh. He has finished in the top ten in both the Masters and the US Open. But he has not challenged in a major; not faced the the moment of truth when true champions

Nick Faldo recalled: "I had to go to the well a few times before I fulfilled my dream. José-Maria has been close in a couple of majors but he hasn't exactly been running with the leaders. I think you need to, and blow a few, to realise how to run past them. Not that it would surprise me if he

Yet history does not always dictate that a player must first go through the fire. Olazabal can draw comfort from the knowledge that for both Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino, US Open titles were their first tournament wins as professionals. Severiano Ballesteros was, after all, only a raw 19-year-old when he finished joint-second to Johnny Miller at Royal Birkdale in 1976.

Ballesteros was the Open champion for the first time at 22. He had, by then, won 16 titles against the nine that Olazabal has collected. It is natural for comparisons to be made between them, because of their similar upbringings in tiny villages sepa-rated only by a few hundred miles of Spanish coastline.

As golfers, however, they are as different as St Andrews and Sunningdale. Ballesteros has overpowered courses, Arnold Palmer-style; Olazábal is more of a right-handed Bob Charles. He relies more on accuracy, which will serve him well this week as the bunkers must be avoided at all

Faldo pinpointed some of the reasons Olazabal could be the new champion. "He is determined. He has a very good short game. He is a hard grafter. He's young and he's at the stage where he can make a move in world golf. He has the

Famons three-ball: Greg Norman (centre) is the odd man out of this trio at the past champions' dinner for unlike Ballesteros and Nicklaus be has yet to win at St Andrews presence to follow in Seve's

Both Sandy Lyle and Jan Woosnam agree with Faldo's view. Lyle said: "José-Maria has a very good short game. His chipping and putting are excellent. He's not got a classical swing; it's not long. In fact, it's rather short, quick and compact. But he is a pretty complete golfer with tremendous concentration. He has grown up very well over the years. If he stays healthy this week, and if he feels confident, then there is no reason why he shouldn't win.

"I'm not sure that he will ever have the same charisma as Seve.

There again, if he keeps winning the way he has been, and he keeps enjoying it as he does, then I'm sure the crowd are going to love him. They like him now. He has the chance to overtake Seve. But only time will tell." Woosnam believes that St Anhe will need to stay in command on his temperament. "I just think he sometimes loses his cool a little bit," Woosnam said,

"If he can control himself and not lose his head when he hits a bad shot, then there is no reason why he should not win. He hits the ball right to left which is good for drews will suit Olazábal but that the Old Course. If he gets the putts in and stays in control of his temperament then I think José-Maria can be a world-beater." It is Olazabal's intensity which could be the chink in his armour and he has attempted to protect himself by suggesting that, following a two-week break, he has lost his game. Although that might have been the case he has looked very comfortable over the last few

While his manager, Sergio Gomez, has banned him from reading the newspapers, Olazabal has banned his parents, Gaspar, a greenkeeper, and Julia, from attending the Open until he wins a major championship. "They get very nervous so it is for their own good," Olazabal said. "They will watch at home on the television with my sister, Sabina."

Twelve months ago Mark Calcavecchia, an American, overcame Greg Norman and Wayne Grady, two Australians, in a playoff and only one European, David Feherty, was in the top ten. Ballesteros, Norman and Faldo remain the obvious favourites, although Ballesteros and Tom Watson will both need to revitalise their games to be the protagonists, as they were in 1984. Quite possibly, Jack Nicklaus, aged 50, with memories of 1970 and 1978 to sustain him, could be the leading American, although Paul Azinger and Payne Stewart, among others, will disagree.

Olazábal is back on the course where he played his first Open in 1984. Then Ballesteros punched the air in triumph, knowing the title was his, after Watson's twoiron shot finished on the road at

Olazábal desperately wants to know that overwhelming feeling of elation granted to those who take the Open at the home of the

MITCHELL PLATTS EXAMINES THE FIFTEEN LEADING CONTENDERS FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

MARK CALCAVECCHIA (US): Age: 30. Tournament wins: seven. Major championamips: Open (1989). Career earnings: 22m. Determined to be patient and control temper. Will need to do this to make successful defence. Recent double bogey-bogey linish in Greater Hartford Open raised question mark. Yet he showed true grit to win at Royal Troon a year ago. Preferred leit-to-right shape of shot might be a handicap on Old Course. Will use a wedge if necessary on the double greater.

Gareer earmings: 24th. No one more deserves a silice of fortune. Last year another chapter of major misfortunes. Destiny, as he notes, has looked after the other guys. The Great White Shark can devour courses, as he showed with a63 at Turnberry. Driving power launches momentum. Sometimes frustrated on greens.

NICK FALDO (GB). Age: 33. Tour-nament wins: 23. Major champion-ships: Open (1987), Masters (1989, 1890. Career earnings: Edm. The best player in the world today. Just how many majors he can win remains to be seen. Has Tom Watson's total of eight in his mind. Meticulous approach on the practice range aided by David Leadbetter. Few flaws in swing. Accuracy off tee important with many hidden bunkers to be missed. His putter is the hottest in the earnings: $1.5m. Will not mind if the wind blows. Hits the ball with a low trajectory that makes the Open his best major chance, Ignore claim that his game is in disarray. It will not be when he teed up. Has found the length off the tee his game lacked. Few better long-iron players. A magician on and around the greens.

JOSÉ-MARÍA CLAZÁBAL (Spain). IAN WOOSNAM (GB): Age: 32. Age: 24. Tournament wins: nine. Tournament wins: 20. Major championships: none. Career earnings: 22 million. Has rediscovered the form which won him more than 21 million in 1987. Inslats money no longer a factor. If that is the case, fame beckons. A 80 in Monts Carlo, followed by a 62 at Gieneagies, emphasised he is the form man. Confidence on the greens heightened by new Ram Zebra putter. No question that, tee to green, he can match his peers. Pulled back muscle may prove handleap. s: £2 million. Hi 60. Major championships: Open (1879, 1984, 1988), Masters (1980, 1983). Career earnings: 23.2m. Recent form best ignored as Open remains top of his shopping list. Forget talk of reshaped awing; still as siky-smooth as ever. What is missing is confidence and his regular caddle, Ian Wright. Must overcome hoodoo of not winning a major with a brother at his side. Viceme takes the bag. Still hungry. Capricious putter the key.

respondence of the control of the co Armoury has no chinks as he does everything well,

SEVERIANO BALLESTEROS
(Spain): Age: 33. Tournament wins:

60. Major championships: Open 1989, 18 approach camouflages desire. Wants to be recognised as the best. Has the game, too. Tee to green, much to admire and has improved putting. Masterful touch with sand wedge will assist recovery from Old Course's perilous punkers. Cock-sure, he has strength of character to

FIND OUT WHO'S LEADING BEFORE THE LEADER

PAUL AZINGER (US): Age: 30. Tournament wins: five. Major Tournament wins: five. Major championships: none. Career earnings: £2.m. Hearthreak toss to Faldo at Muirfleid fuelled his love for the links. Inspired by tradition and Open conditions. Not bothered by wind or rain as he is fine exponent of the knock-down shot to the green. Clear head helps him see all the options. Wonderful scrambler. Puts fame before fortune. Underlined determination with Ryder Cup win over Ballesteros.

FRED COUPLES (US): Age: 30. Tournament wina: tour. Major championships: none. Career eamings: Etm. Strength lies in his ability to overpower a course, though accuracy off the tee sometimes a concern. But comfortable with the driver and the long irons. Not so with the wedges. Could be his Achilles' heel at St Andrews. Must also transplant off-course serenity to the fairways. One of the nicest men in the game but too often appears to lose concentration.

BERNMAND LANGET (WG): Age: 33. Tournament wins: 28. Major championships: Mastera [1985]. Career earnings: £3m. Mental and physical strength have long since been last points to his success. Overcame the yips to master Augusta, though still uses right-hand-on-left-wrist grip to eliminate twitch. Otherwise has the Open credentials. He is long off the tee, though sometimes wayward, and arrowstraight with his irons. Expert in the bunkers.

RONAN RAFFERTY (GB): Age: 26, Tournament wins: nine, Major championships: none, Career earnings: 21.4m, Shone throughout 1989 when he was Europe's top money winner. Has power and precision. Tee-to-green strength emphasised by first place in Philips "greens in regulation" category last year. Not making the putts that he did in 1989. Definite contender if he can find the secret of the Old Course's undulations. Experience

RODGER DAVIS (Australia): Age: 39. Tournament winns: 18. Major championships: none. Career earnings: £1.5m. Fully recovered from neck injury that caused him to miss last year's Open. Set his stall this season to be No. 1 in Europe and Open champion. Two wins have helped him stay in touch with Woosnam and bread confidence for this week. Wonderful rhythm suggests he should figure if the putter remains obedient. Would make a natty lest-day partner for Payne Stewart.

TOM WATSON (US): Age: 40.
Tournament wins: 39. Major championships: Open (1975, 1977, 1980, 1982, 1983), Masters (1977, 1981), US Open (1982). Affinity with Scotland and the Open will charge his inspirational banks. Too often a major contender to be ignored, although must keep head up if the putter wobbles. Has questioned whether you can only go to the well so often with your nerves. St Andrews will provide ultimate test, Andrews will provide ultimate test.

JACK NICKLAUS: Age: 50. Tournament wins: 94. Major champon-ships: US Open (1962, 1967, 1972, 1980). Masters (1963, 1965, 1966, 1972, 1976, 1988). US PGA (1963, 1971, 1973, 1975, 1990). Open (1966, 1970, 1978). Career earnings: £5 million. Love affair with St Andrews will inspire him. Has come to terms with being 50 and massaged ego with two Senior Tour wins. New Jumbo Czaki driver has given him extra length. Back problem eased by nutritionist diet. Still competitive, still capable.

CHAMPIONSHIP DRAW

1960 61 82 83 84 85 88 87 82 88 TIS T38 TIS T6 1 T39 TE T50 1 T77 S Balanteros (50).... M Calcaverante (US). _ _ _ T4 - T46 T40 T4 T8 F Coughin (US) 3 78 715 - 122 735 721 74 716 752 738 738 - 726 - 12 729 -712 711 74 710 78 754 5 1 3 711 R Davis (Aus). T51 2 T13 T56 T2 T3 T3 T17 M AD T12 T14 T8 - T14 1 T30 T17 T7 T46 E Langer (WG) A Lyte (GB)...... M McNutty (Zim) T4 T23 T10 T29 T31 - T46 T72 T25 T30 - T31 T27 T19 T6 T16 1 T35 - T2 J Nicklaus (US _ _ _ T25 T18 T11 T36 T23 J-M/ Chrostoni (Sp 12/ 123 T2 ~ T47 ~ - 18 2 -N PHO SAL - 158 - - 2 735 T4 17 18 - T15 T29 - - T14 - T13 T61 P Stewart (US). C Smurge (US) _ _ _ _ T18 T3 T8 T25 T40 1980: Mulrifield, 1981: Sandwich, 1982: Troon, 1983: Birkdale, 1984: St Andrews, 1985: Royal St George's, 1986: Turnberry, 1987: Mulrifield, 1988: Lytham and St Annes, 1989: Troon, OPEN FORM GUIDE

OPEN RECORDS

Most wins: Six, Harry Vardon, 1896, 1898, 1899, 1903, 1911, Most times runner-up: Seven, Jack Nicklaus (US), 1964, 1967, 1968, 1972, 1976, 1977, 1979.

Tom Watson (US), 1977. atTumberry. Lowest individual rounds: 63. Mark Hayes (SA), second round, Turnberry, 1977; Isao Aoki (Japan), third round, Muirfield, 1980; Greg Norman (Aus), second round, Lowest winning score: 268,

Biggest winning margin: 13 strokes, by Old Tom Morris, at Oldest winner: Old Tom Morris.

46 years 99 days, 1867. Youngest winner: Young Tom Morris, 17 years five months eight days, 1868. Youngest and oldest competitors: John Ball, aged 14, 1878; Gene Sarazen, aged 71, 1973. Winners in three decade Harry Vardon, 1896, 1903, 1911; J H Taylor, 1894, 1900, 1913; Gary Player, 1959, 1968,

1974. • The Championship will be held next year at Royal Birkdale, which will be hosting the event for the seventh time. The Open goes to Muirfield in 1992, with Royal St George's following in 1993 and Turnberry

1970 SI Andrews	J Markinus (US)	283	D Sandera (US)
1971 Royal Birkdale	L Trevino (US)	278	LH Lu (Formosa)
1872 Murfield	L Trevino (US)	278	J Nicklaus (US)
1973 Troon	T Weiskopt (US)	276	N Colus (GB) J Miller (US)
1974 Royal Lytham	(1 Player (SA)	282	P CHIMITINA (GB)
1975 Carrenalle	T William (US)	~279) Merreton (Ving)
1976 Royal Birkdale	J Million (US)	279	5 Salvasteroe (Sp)
1977 Tumberry	T Watson (US)	268	J Nickteus (US) J Nickteus (US)
1978 SI Androws	J Nacidanua (US)	281	S Owen (NZ) Floyd (US)
			B Crenshaw (US) T Kite (US)
1979 Floyal Lydram	S Ballesteros (Sp)	263	J Nicklaus (US)
1900 Multimed	T Watson (US)	271	L Trevino (US)
1981 Royal St George's	W Rogers (US)	276	S Langur (WG)
1982 Hayal Troon	T Watson (US)	284	P Conterhula (GB) N Price (Zim)
1983 Royal Birkdale	T Watson (US)	275	H Inwin (US)
1884 SI Andrews	S Gardenianos (Sp)	276	8 Langer (WG) T Watson (US)
1985 Royal St George's	A Lyle (GB)	282	P Stower (US)
1985 Turnberry	G Norman (Aus)	280	G J Brand (GB)
1957 Mulrifield	N Faldo (GB)	279	R Davis (Aus) P Azinger (US)
1988 Royal Lythem	S Busesteron (Sd)	273	N Price (Žim)
1989 Royal Troon	M Calcumochia (US)	275	G Norman (Aus)
10,000			W Grady (Aus)

OPEN CHAMPIONSHIPS 1970-1989

WINNERS AT ST ANDREWS

	Name	Bears	Name	50
3	T Kidd (GB)	179	1939R Burton (GB)	_;
		176	1946 S Snead (US)	1
	J Anderson (GB)	169	1955P Thomson (Aus)	- 1
	B Ferguson (GB)	171	1957 A Locke (SA)	- 3
	R Martin (GB)	171	1960K Nagle (Aus)	2
	Burns (GB)	171	1964 A Lema (US)	3
	H Kirksidy (GB)	166	1970J Nicklaus (US)	7
	J H Taylor (GB)	322	1978 J Nichtaus (UE)	- 2
	H Taylor (GB)	309	1984S Ballesteros (Sp)	2
	J Braid (GB)	318	denotes won after play-off
0.mrr.	Braid (GB)	299	" denotes amateur
¥~ H		-296
	"R T Joses (US)	285	The Championship was held over 3 until it became a tour-round compa

...D Shuta (US)

How to get to the course

Traffic from Dundee and the north: Tay Road bridge-A92 to Leuchars-A919 to Guard-bridge-A91 to St Andrews. Traffic from Perth and the north-west: A912 to Baiglie Inn-A913 through Abemethy and Newburgh to Parbroarth crossroads onthe main Kircaldy to Dundee road-A914 to Forgan roundshalf to Forgan roundabout and merge with traffic from north. Traffic from Edinburgh, the south and the west: Forth Road Bridge-M90 to Junction 8-A91 to St Andrews.

Traffic from the South (bound for Blue car parks): Forth Road Bridge-M90 to Junction 3-A921 to Kircaldy-south on A92 to Kircaldy-east on A915 to Vindygates and Leven-B927 to Montrave and merge with A916-A916 north to Craigrothie-B939 to St Andrews.

Traffic from Glenrothes and central Fife: East on A911 to Windygates east on A915 to St

The police are expecting to deal with anything up to 20,000 vehicles a day when the Championship starts. Up to 75 police officers a day will be on duty, dealing with traffic. communications and crime prevention.

● Tickets will be available throughout the Championship. The cost is from £12 per day of the championship.

0715 and 1145: J Woodland (Aus), 0725 and 1155: D Ray, D Cooper, P 0735 and 1205: P Lyons, D Jones, A

0745 and 1215: S Pate (US). L Wadkins (US), A Sorensen (US) 0755 and 1225: H Irwin (US), J-M Cafilzares (Sp), N Ozaki (Japan) 0805 and 1240: D Pooley (US), M Roe, B Jones (Aus) 0820 and 1250: M Hulbert (US). S Jones (US), E Romero (Arg)

0830 and 1300: S Ballesteros (Sp), T Watson (US), N Price (Zim) 0840 and 1310: M Calcavecchia (US), F Couples (US), C O'Connor 0850 and 1320: B Charles (NZ), °C Patton (US), T Weiskopf (US) 0900 and 1330: M O Meara (US), H

Clark, I Baker-Finch (Aus) 0910 and 1345: A Lyle, T Kite (US). V Singh (Fiji) 9925 and 1355: B McAllister (US), P Walton, G Turner (NZ) 0935 and 1405: M Reid (US), S Ginn (Aus), G Brand Jr 0945 and 1415; C Montgomerie, L Trevino (US), T Simpson (US) 0955 and 1425: A North (US), M

McNulty (Zim), E Darcy 1005 and 1435: S Simpson (US), W Grady (Aus), M Moutand 1015 and 1450: R Gamez (US), R Tway (US), G Norman (Aus) 1030 and 1500: A Murray, T Armour (US), I Acki (Japan) (US), I Aoki (Japan) 1040 and 1510: C Strange (US), C Parry (Aus), I Woosnam 1050 and 1520: N Faldo, S Hoch (US), J Bland (SA) 1100 and 1530: P Mitchell, J Davila

(Sp), R Hartmann (US) 1110 and 1540: J Ouros (Sp), P Curry, P Archibold (Aus) 1120 and 1550: P Baker, Y Hagawa (Japan), B Bernes 1135 and 1600: J Berendt (Arg), B Norton (US), R Weir 1145 and 1610: A Hare, K Knox * denotes amateur

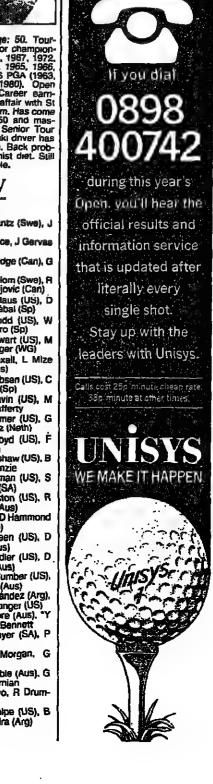

(US), M Allen (US) 1155 and 1620: M Krantz (Swe), J Higgins, D Williams 1205 and 0715: J Spence, J Gervas (Sp), C Moody 1215 and 0725; J Rutledge (Can), G Farr, K Waters 1225 and 0735: P Hedblom (Swe), 9 Gonzàlez (Arg), D Mijovic (Can)

1240 and 0745 J Nicklaus (US), D Frost (SA), J-M Olazábal (Sp) 1250 and 0755: J Mudd (US), W Westrer (SA), J Rivero (Sp) 1390 and 0805: P Stewart (US), M Clayton (Aus), B Langer (WG) Clayton (Aus), B Langer (WG)
1310 and 0820: R Boxall, L Mize
(US), S Elkington (Aus)
1320 and 0830: P Jacobsen (US), C
Beck (US), M Martin (Sp)
1330 and 0840: C Pavin (US), M
Harwood (Aus), R Ratferty
1345 and 0850: A Palmer (US), G
Player (SA), "R Muntz (Neth)
1355 and 0900: R Floyd (US), F
Nobilo (NZ), D Smyth

Nobilo (NZ), D Smyth 1405 and 0910: B Crenshaw (US), B Ogle (Aus), M Mackenzie 1415 and 0925: J Sluman (US), S Torrance, J Hawkes (SA) 1425 and 1935: J Huston (US), R Chapman, P Senior (Aus)
1435 and 0945; P Way, D Hammond
(US), M Ozaki (Japan)
1450 and 0955; K Green (US), D

Feherty, P Fowler (Aus) 1500 and 1005: C Stadler (US), D Love (US), R Davis (Aus) 1519 and 1015: M McCumber (US),
M James, D Graham (Aus)
1520 and 1030: V Fernández (Arg),
B Glasson (US), P Azinger (US)
1530 and 1040: O Moore (Aus), "Y Kuramoto (Japan), S Bennett 1540 and 1050: W Player (SA), P Broadhurst, P Hail 1550 and 1100; J Morgan, G

Powers (US), P Hoad 1600 and 1110: K Trimble (Aus). G Levenson (SA), D Durnian 1610 and 1120: P Mayo, R Drum-1620 and 1135: D Canipe (US), B Estes (US), A Saavedra (Arg)

LeMond explodes to a stop

WITH yesterday's seventeenth stage of the Tour de France taking the 157 survivors out of the mountains, the focus returned to the daily battle for a stage victory. But not before a badly timed puncture for last year's winner, Greg LeMond, caused him many minutes of anxiety in his battle for the yellow jersey with Claudio Chiappucci.

At the end of the day these two leaders were still separated by only five seconds and LeMond's attempt for victory will probably be postponed until the individual time trial near Limoges on Saturday. The LeMond puncture occurred at the only moment in the stage when the race leaders decided to flex their muscles. The third-placed Pedro Del-gado made two thrusting at-tacks near the top of the Marie-Blanque pass, taking him, LeMond, Chiappucci and another dozen riders clear of the main pack.

Just then, as one of the group described it: "Everyone heard the big explosion and we knew that the blown tyre

Left standing at the side of the road to await his team support car behind the main group, LeMond eventually received a spare wheel and crossed the 34,000ft summit of the Marie-Blanque one minute 27 seconds behind the group containing Chiappucci, Two of LeMond's French team-mates stayed with LeMond and two more were sent back from a breakaway group to help him in the chase. Ahead, several members of

TOUR RESULTS

SEVENTEENTH STAGE (Lourdes to Paul, 150 kilometrea): 1, D Komyshev (USSR), 4hr 08mm 25sec; 2, J Bruynsel (Bel), at 1sec; 3, 58suer (Can), at 11: 4, 1-C Colorti (Fr), at 32: 5, D Cassani (Ri; 8, J Montoya (Col), same pime; 7, P Smon (Fr), at 34: 8, D Arnaud (Fr), at 53: 9, L Blooks (Fr), at 34: 8, D Arnaud (Fr), at 53: 9, L Blooks (Fr), at 3min 59sec; 10, P De Clarce (Bel), at 3-39; 12 hr (Substanty (Sp), at 5-31: 13, C Chiappuca (Ri; 14, P R Cabestany (Sp); 15, C EleMond (US); 16, 8 Kelly (Eire), same time, British and other pleacings: 82, 8 Roche (Eire), at 14-25; 117, 6 Yates (Gel), same time, OVERALL: 1. Chiappuca, 73hr 41min 46sec; 2, G pursuit lasting 13 miles, LeMond rejoined his rival. was from this group that an attack was made on a short Meanwhile, the race for the stage win was being played out among a group of 13 riders, hill, 15 miles from the finish by Johan Bruyneel, of Belgium. He was quickly joined more than seven minutes by Dmitri Konyshev, the lead-er of the first Soviet team to ahead at this point. None of the riders in this participate in the Tour de The two leaders took a 25-second lead before the chase front group was a danger on overall time and they had been allowed to break clear as soon as the flag dropped, on straights of Lourdes. From an original group of Chiappucci's team were set-ting the pace. And, after a after crossing the day's two

Brazil eyes Games

stage of the tour.

main mountain climbs; and it was taken up by Steve Bauer, of Canada, three miles from the finish. Bauer came within 100 yards of closing on them but Bruyneel and Konyshev began to wind up their finishing sprint. Not surprisingly, the winner was Konyshev, the first Soviet cyclist to win a

LeMond (US), at 5eec; 3, P Delgado (Sp), at 3min 42sec; 4, E Breutunk (Neth), at 3:49; 5, M Legerreta (Sp), at 5:29; 6, G Bouno (II), at 7:48; 7, E Chozas (Sp), at 7:49; 8, C Criqueton (Bel), at 8:40; 9, A Hampsten (US), at 9:34; 10, F Para (Co), at 11:30; 11, R Alcalá (Mex), at 11:48; 12, inclurain, at 13:09; 13, F Philippot (FP), at 12:33; 14, G Delton (Fn), at 14:58; 15, Cabestany, at 16:24, British and other placings: 28, Kelly, at 32:05; 45, Roche, at 56:48; 123, Yates, at 1hr 59min 44sec. Brazil's secretary of sports, Artur Nunes Coimbra, said in a television interview Brazil would seek to host the 1998 World Cup and the 2000 Olym-

Outsprinting the best: Indurain, of Spain, reaches the line ahead of Chiappucci (left), of Italy, the overall leader Go-slow men leave others on edge

GO SLOW sprinters put the world junior track championworth juntor track champion-ships well behind schedule at Middlesborough last night tak-ing their quarter-final heats often at a walking pace. One pair Paolo Botti, of Italy, and Teimor Ramazanov, of the Soviet Union, stood still for 16 minutes nine seconds at the end minutes nine seconds at the end of the first of their two laps race. The reason for the stoppage was tactical. The Italian, drawing inside position at the start, was required under race rules to take the front mark for the first circuit. Most sprinters prefer the back position, believing that it gives them a tactical advantage when attacking.

Botti wanted second place and hoped to tire the Soviet rider because standing still is a delicate balancing act that puts great strain on the thigh muscles. He achieved his objectives, inactivity and went on to catch of the best of three series. Not best-pleased by the slow motion sprinters were the 19 teams psyching themselves up for the qualifying round of the 4.000 metres pursuit. The delay only served to put many nerves Britain's foursome of Mathew Charity, Rodney Ellingworth, Robert Hayles, Nicholas Simp-son had to be among the fastest cight to qualify for the quarter-

Britain's target to beat was the fastest time of 4min 39.83sec set by the Danish quartet. When it was Britain's turn to ride they recorded a time of 4min 42.17sec which made them fourth fistest with six other teams still to ride.

eights in help ease pressure Seattle

By MIKE ROSEWELL ROWING CORRESPONDENT

to row in the British eight in the Goodwill Games in Scattle this Sunday. Redgrave, with his pairs parmer, Simon Berrisford, injured, will again substitute for Anton Obholzer, who is resting after the illness which caused the British coxed four to withdraw from Henley.'

After the British eight's narrow win over Canada and East Germany in Lucerne last Sunday, the most interesting confrontation could be between the British and the West German world champions, who were victorious in Essen but absent from Lucerne.

Seventeen nations have been invited to compete. The format requires the oarsmen to double up in two events and on Saturday the British eight will compete in the coxed and coxless fours, in which these rowers established themselves as top crews at Essen and Brandenburg, Redgrave will join the coxed crew.

The relative performances of the eight and fours against top opposition could provide useful the eight and fours against top opposition could provide useful information regarding the choice of possible medal-winning boats for the world championships in November.

Lightweight competition in Seattle is limited to coxless pairs and sculls. The women's team looks strong, with three of the coxless four who won gold at Lucerne. Susan Key and Kate Brownlow, both of Thames RC. will race the pair and Rachael will race the pair and Rachael Hirst, of Nottingham County, will scull. Richard Metcalf and Jeremy Michaels, of the Lea RC four are the man's mile. four, are the men's pair.

The Great Britain lightweight squad received a donation of £1,000 this week from the BBC after the stewards of Henley had protested about an item on the BBC2 programme, On the Line, during Regatta week, which said Henley gave nothing to international rowing. As a result of the protest, the BBC publicly corrected its "misleading im-pressions" and, at the stewards request, donated £1,000 towards international rowing.

The stewards give around £50,000 per year to the international scene and other indirect support has raised £10,000 this year for the light-weights, who won gold and silver medals at the Lucerne regatta last weekend.

Redgrave stays with eights in Recing Levy Board hoping bookmakers will greater contribution from bookmakers to the 30th Levy Scheme, negotiations for which begin this autumn.

On the occasion of the publication of the 29th Report from the Levy Board and the Tote he warned that his board's ing £200 times. budget for 1990-91 was under heavy pressure.

The higher level of prize-money, loans for racecourse improvements, the costs of sec-urity services and commitments to Racing Welfare have brought a sharp reduction in both the cash reserves and the annual surplus.

"Our ability to sustain and hopefully further increase these enhanced levels of support will depend on a number of factors, most notably the extent of leviable turnover growth and the outcome of negotiations for the 30th Levy Scheme with the Bookmakers' Committee," he Sir ian also stressed that while levy income is important to racing the sport must be seen to be helping itself and to be exploiting all opportunities to enhance revenue. hold on to the rems at a for the yield for the 28th Levy for a further three years.

SIR Ian Trethowan, chairman Scheme (1989-90) is estimated of the Levy Board, has dropped a strong bint that he expects a greater contribution from book Revenue surplus fell from £7.4 million to £4.3 million while the cash reserves were more than halved at £4.1

The Tote had a relatively successful year, turnover reaching £200 million for the first time, but profits before the contributions to racing had been made fell by 7.6 per cent to £8.24 million, largely because of expenses connected with the new credit computer centre at Wigan and continuing research

However, the Tote acquired, another 13 betting shops, bringing their total to 140, and their contribution to racing rose to £4.5 million.

The sport is awaiting two important announcements from the Home Secretary. Sir lan Trethowan retires as chairman of the Levy Board at the end of the year while Lord Wyatt's term at the helm of the Tote expires next spring.

Replacement of the Levy
Board chairman is mandatory, but it would come as no surprise if Lord Wyatt were allowed to hold on to the reins at the Tota

Hills and son forced to go their separate ways BARRY and Michael Hills are dead-heating for the Dewhurst to go their separate ways follow-Stakes on Sheikh Mohammed's to go their separate ways follow-ing the Manton trainer's de-cision to end his son's retainer after 2½ years. The split has-been brought about by pressure from owners, who want to decide for themselves who rides their horses. Hills does not plan to replace his son with a retained jockey and it is expected that the stable's plum rides will be divided among Pat Eddery. Willie Carson, Steve Cauthen and Cash Armussen.

Carson has already been booked to ride Blue Stag in the Gordon Stakes and Distant Goodwood.

Hills's most notable soccasses for his father have come on Robert Sangster's Handsome Sailor in the Prix de l'Abbaye de Longchamp and William Hill Sprint Championship, His other group one triumph came when

Their final runner together as rainer and retained jockey was Missionary Ridge, winner of the group two Windfields Farm Gallinule Stakes at the Curraga this season, 19 of them for his father. The 27-year-old jockey said yesterday. "It is just one of those things and I'll see if anything comes along. I will still ride for my fither, but I won't be retained. I will go freelance for Steve Cautheo faces a Jockey Club inquiry today into why he stepped down from Nicholas Payne after weighing out to rick the colt at Leicester in May. The disciplinary committee will determine whether Camben was guilty of bringing the sport into disrepute under rule 220 (iii) of the Rules of Racing.

LETTERS SPORTS

Supporters' views should be sought more often

Sir, I am writing in response to David Miller's article on the re-entry of English clubs Into European competitions (July

As a member of the Football Supporters Association I am gratified to see our work described as "admirable". Indeed this is in sharp contrast to the minister for sport, Mr Moynihan, who seems unwill-ing to acknowledge publicly the contribution the FSA made in an advice centre for supporters) to the relatively peaceful World Cup and subsequent readmis-

However I was disappointed Miller's implication that the FSA is solely interested in cheap travel, tickets and liquor for its members. This is, I think, to underestimate the value of the surprised that the FSA's promotion of the travel interest of its

FREE

CARDS =

HANDBOOK

MOODY ECLIPSE

FA and police. This knee-jerk summer, will be valuable.

In conclusion, I feel that the reaction to discourage people from travelling results from the continued tendency of the authorities to treat football supporters with mistrust. Instead, might it not be more productive if supporters' views

Given that this is to be the first season back after a pro-longed absence my guess is that large numbers of Aston Villa and Manchester United fans will be keen to travel at various stages of the competition. While plan to screen the away less for service they should be providing, and not just for security reasons), authorised travel ought to be arranged. By using the clubs would be able to monitor their supporters.

The experience gained by the FA, who ran a Travel Club for general policy of government. England supporters in Italy this

FREE

SAILING HANDBOOK CARDS

The invaluable collection of sailing data, which builds into a complete reference book with our special binder.

Triangle 90. James Jermain's full report on our very own three-cornered race.

How to use radar. 4 pages of vital advice and instruction.

Preparing for the worst. Wise precautions at fit-out stage.

Sails overseas. Britanny by sea and canal;

drama in the Azores.

Reviews. Two new British yachts; latest equipment.

Wooden Walls. The Wooden Boat Show at the

BRITAIN'S TOP CRUISING MAGAZINE

AUGUST ISSUE ON SALE NOW

clubs should take responsibility for groups of their supporters wishing to travel abroad so as to avoid large numbers of ticket-less fans making their own way — a situation which could lead

44 Merton Road, Watford,

Sir, I was amazed to read in your editorial (July 11) on English clubs' return to Europe that "it [hooliganism] has been part of lootball since the beginn the modern game in the 1860s. At the turn of the century and between the wars the news-papers were filled (sic) with complaints that violence on and off the field was ruining the same". That was not my experimatches, from the age of nine,

When I was older my parents allowed me to go to some away games - at Luton (the local derby), Queen's Park Rangers, Brentford, Crystal Palace and, further afield, to Aldershot, Reading, Northampton, Later, in my teens, I went to cup-ties at Oldham, Leicester and Birmingham. For the latter the gate at St Andrew's was nearly 50,000. Birmingham, alas, won 4-0, but no crowd problems.

For an occasional first di-vision match I went to White Hart Lane, Highbury and Stamford Bridge and, on holiday, to Anfield Road and Goodison Park. I saw Liverpool and Everton draw 3-3 in a jam-packed Anfield (Dixie Dean got a hat-trick). My only problem was the squash on the tram and in the boys' enclosure.

Over all these years the only violence I recall was when a Watford supporter came to blows with a rival. They were niddle-aged men and after a flurry of fisticuffs were pulled part by their mends. I recali no bad languase either. On the rare occasion it occurred there was a "shushing from around -- "Ladies here". One important factor overwriters was that there was no segregation and, as nobody sported colours, except perhaps at the Cup Final - a modest rosette - you didn't know who was "friend or foe". Everbody mixed together, one's main concern was getting a good position on the terrace.

There was no organised chanting all you got was "Come on Watford" or "Up the Rs" (QPR). Cup-ties were brightened by the occasional bugle or klaxon - received with good humour by all concerned.

was unique. It would be sad if this notion of on-going hooliganism became accepted as the I suggest that football hooliganism is a relatively new phenomenon. Who, of my generation, could have imag-ined that after England's defeat in the World Cup that hundreds of youths would have gone on the rampage in quiet Devon towns and elsewhere, smashing windows, damaging cars and attacking the police? Yours truly, GEORGE BARRIS,

2 Vine House.

East Budleigh Road,

Budleigh Salterton,

anti-climax From Mr M. J. Daly Sir, Mr Macfariane (July 12) attempted to draw a comparison

Wimbledon

attempted to draw a comparison between the respective finals of the men's singles at Wimbledon and the World Cup final between West Germany and Argentina. He was clearly appalled by the antics on display in Rome, a contest that was bereft of sportsmanship and fair play.

The tennis match between Becker and Edberg was apparbe, for everything that had gone before was hopelessly anti-climactic compared to the sporting event taking place in Italy. It needed the World Cup. notwithstanding all the faults that are attendant upon soccer, to reveal the superficiality of Wimbledon, its exclusiveness, its prejudices, the lack of passion. It took Schillaci, Valderrame, Mills. Wright, Maradona, and a host of other heroes and villains to show just how overpaid and overpampered tennis players are. Honour is indeed a precious quality in any sport. Yet more clite tennis players act as if they are carrying the whole world on their shoulders. Surely the honour displayed by Mark Wright in England's match against meroon has a greater intrinsic value than that determined by the amount of a winning

The World Cup final was a terrible disappointment, but somehow it didn't matter who won at the end of the day. Along the way there were many winners: Cameroon, Egypt, United States, Republic of Ireland and English football, to name but a few. What Mr Macfarlane has failed to understand is that determination, courage and honour are qualities that cannot be manufactured. Sport is all the greater when they are seen to overcome cheating and gamesmanship. They cannot be taken for granted, least of all at Wimbledon, where petulance and inflated egos rule the day. Italia 90 captured the imagination of many people throughout the world, people who were normally averse to football. The same people who watched Wimbledon this year will no doubt be glued to this tired spectacle in the years to come. Its tradition will continue, while the country has yet

Yours faithfully, M. DALY, 728 Great West Road, Isleworth, Middlesex

English fair play

From Herr Klaus Otto Boncker Sir, May I offer my congratula-tions and good wishes for the future to the English football a true fan. I was impressed by their sportsmanship and skill and would have wished them an even better placing in the World

Fortunately it has become clear that in its present state English football can join the European continent.

KLAUS OTTO BÖNEKER. Volgersweg 22a, Hanover. West Germany. From Herr Alfred Springer Sir, Since the end of the war.

when I was 12 years old, I have

Triple-edged end to plans for football merger Way to avoid

From Mr Edward Grayson
Sir, Louise Taylor's report (July 14) of the Football League's reaction to the FA board of appeal's variation of the Football League's dracontan demotion by two divisions of Swindon Town is, at the same time, encouraging, disturbing time, encouraging, disturbing and outrageous.

It is encouraging because it appears to mean the end of any attempt to merge the two bodies, for such an event would be readers may not be aware that the FA board of appeal's decision to vary the Football League's punishment was that of a quasi-judicial inquiry created specifically under regula-tion 18 (6) of the Football League's own constitution. It was conducted with impeccable propriety and integrity, and Swindon Town, as appellants, the Footbali League, and also the FA board of appeal, were all serviced by experienced solic-

Contrasting views From the chief executive of the Professional Footballers

Sir, I write with regard to your coverage of the World Cup and the performance of the England team. It has been enlightening to compare the views of, on the one hand, your readers, your guest writer, Graham Taylor, and your football corres-pondent, Stuart Jones, and, on the other hand, the views of your chief sports correspondent, prepared to report things as they were, Miller seemed obsessed by his predetermined views of the manager and his squad and remained cynical, negative and destructive, refusing to see the pearls of team spirit, fair play, character, courage, tactical awareness, adaptability and skill which were shown by the squad and particular individuals on the team's journey through to the semi-finals — a superb contest between two traditional footballing nations which epitomised everything good in the penalty defeat, they once again provided another enjoyable spectacle in the third place play-off match against the host nation, these latter two displays being merely described by Miller as tolerably encournot consider themselves in the top four in the world but merely as having "improved" is tantabeen a follower of football. I feit the deepest joy at our victory in the World Cup and was proud of our team. But I was also happy when I heard that the English team had won the fair play trophy. We Munich football fans today admire the English team because of its cultured play. fighting spirit and heading ability.

etc. Perhaps in future English journalists could treat us with well-known English fairness. The Germany of Hitler lies far behind us. Best wishes ALFRED SPRINGER, Hochkönigstrasse 11, Munich.

The near unbelievable attitude inherent in this approach is not so remarkable when one reflects upon the persistent acquiescence by the Football League in the development of cheating by violence through the

the game. Refusing to be downcast by they say - the stewards of the Jockey Club and the stewards of Henley Royal Regatta. Long may they both flourish. Yours faithfully.

We continue to hear from A droll thought England the notions of "Krauts, Panzers. German steamrollers.

It is outrageous because the League against any one of its report states that: "As a result member clubs. Yet when the League has been left feeling Arsenal and Norwich City play-considerably aggreed, es ers included publicly as porposally as before the appeal last traved in riotous behaviour it. month it had received private assurances from the FA to the

This is analogous to a situa-tion whereby if Swindon Town had been punished by its local lay justices with a right of appeal to the local crown court, the magistrates or their staff would from the [crown court] to the effect that it supported the original punishment". euphemistically and erro-neously titled "professional" foul, for which no action has ever been recorded by the mount to telling Franz Beck-enbauer that West Germany are not world champions but merely World Cup winners.

Bearing in mind the heroes' welcome and presidential reception given in Buenos Aires to the team with the worst disciplinary ecord in the tournament, it be asking too much for Miller to occasionally shake rather than continually bite the sporting hand that feeds them? Yours faithfully. GORDON TAYLOR, Chief executive, Professional Footballers

David Miller. Whereas the first two were make clear that members are responsible for briefing their guests accordingly.

Any lady then, who upon arrival had to undergo the embarrassment of skirt inspection, should blame not the stewards, but rather that particular member, who, having invited her, failed to ensure that aging".
To add that England could It is as simple as that.

Colonel King asks that Henley regatta "moves with the times", and relaxes its rules. Better, I suggest, to appreciate that we still have two bodies of sport administrators who say what they mean, and mean what

2 Oxford Court,

Bishopsgate, Manchester

From Mr Nocl Baker

Heniey dress rules

Sir. Colonel King (July 12)

makes a lengthy and quite unnecessary complaint against the Henley stewards dress regulations for their enclosure. The stewards make very clear to every member what is ex-pected sartorially, and also Burdens, Berins Hill, Ipsden, Oxfordshire.

From Mr Donald McLeod

Sir. At a time when it is reported that British golf needs 700 new courses, and the only facilities made available appear to be being built by hoteliers and property speculators, it is a droll thought that Scotland has hosted two open tournaments back to back, and Gle-

was left to the game's ruling body last season, the Football Association, to penalise both

It should never be forgotten that the monopolostic cartel against India to look forward to, comprising the Football League. We will have no more opportusing manufacture of 92 mity to see Sir Richard Hadiee limited liability commercial play.

Companies within the 43,000 clubs perintend with the Ex. B. Interest if the two tourism sides clubs registered with the FA. By its actions over Argenal and Norwich City at least the FA has shown that it is aware of its responsibilities as guardian of the game's traditions and examples to future generations. The Football League by its attitude over Swindon Town, demonstrates an inability to act fairly and justly.

I am, Sir, yours faithfully, EDWARD GRAYSON, 4 Paper Buildings

Unchanging face

From Mr G. Gnedisch Sir, Over the last few months Graham Gooch has been seen sporting a black stubble, but it always remains, apparently, the same length, and never varies. Does he use a razor which like some lawnmowers - only removes the top few millimetres, has he stopped growing, or is it to do with charcoal?

G. GNEDITCH, 17 Albemarie, SW19.

Heroic losers

From Mr Philip R. Jones Sir, Our World Cup footballers were welcomed home as heroes after losing in a semi-final match and now Nigel Mansell receives unadorned adulation. from the knowledgeable Silver-stone crowd, for breaking down in the top British motor sport race. Whatever happened to winning?

Yours faithfully, PHILIP R. JONES, 49 Wood Lane, Hawarden, Clywd.

Galactic figures From Mr B. R. F. Smith

Sir, It was fascinating to read the viewing figures of 3! billion for the World Cup finals (July 10). I had no idea that interest in football was so large in other parts of the solar system; I'm sorry I won't be around when the galactic figures are published in a few hundred years' time. Could we have a breakdown of how many Martians, Jovians and Plutonians watched? Yours sincerely guests, remains a distant second course where the world's premicr golfing body is happy to share what is arguably the world's greatest golf course with the local authority.

B. R. F. SMITH. Yew Tree Cottage Hinton-in-the-Hedges, Northamptonshire.

which excludes all but hotel

DONALD McLEOD. 31 Kenwood Drive, Walton-on-Thames, anticlimax From Mr B. J. T. Britton

ing cricket tours of these isles by New Zealand and India. It always seems something of an anticlimat when the earlier tour is over. For instance, this year, although we have the Test series could meet each other in a match in this country, possible a Test match, as a curtain-raiser before the start of the second Yours faithfully, B. J. T. BRITTON, 2 Hixet Wood, Charlbury, Oxfordshire.

Damage to cricket From Mr Donald Christie

Sir, The removal from BBC television of Sunday cricket must be doing untold damage to the game by stifling the wide-spread interest that these matches used to arouse. To make it impossible for us to watch Sunday cricket unless we buy an expensive, unsightly (and sometimes forbidden) dish, to say nothing of the additional fee, is commercial blackmail, and shouldn't be DONALD CHRISTIE

18 St John's Road,

Forgotten role From Mr J. Chaimers Park

Sir, May I add a footnote to your obituary (July 11) of Malcohn Hilton, the Lancashire left-arm spinner, who struggled for so many years to live up to his reputation as "the boy who bowled Bradman"?

Hilton's greatest Test contribution to my mind is completely forgotten because he is not mentioned in the scorecard. Coming on as second substitute in the crucial fourth Test against the 1953 Austra-lians at a time when they looked like winning and, thereby, retaining the Ashes whatever might happen at the Oval, Hilton's energetic retrieving and immaculate throwing saved countless runs and enabled England to draw the match and save the Ashes.

Sitting on the boundary within a few yards of him, we Leeds Grammar School boys, just starting our summer holidays, cheered this Lancashire fielder as if he was a Yorkshireman — and that normally took some doing! I am sure that Len Hutton who, as captain, told Trevor Bailey to bowl defensively wide down the leg side from the Kirkstali Lane end must know how much fielding this caused Hilton and how his efforts saved the day, and the Ashes.

THE RESIDENCE OF THE STATE OF T Piccus and an artist and artist artist artist artist and artist artin artist artist artist artist artist artist artist artist artist CONTRACT STATES I NO UN TANK I THE THE PARTY AND

計算というという。 ・ Authorities は、これのできる。 ・ Authorities は、これのできる。

ST LANGUAGE WAR IN THE COURSE OF THE CO

ME Street Town

The second second

SANDOW

ALM PLACES POST

SCHOOL STOCK SERVICES The garage and a Market RCCUS ASSESSMENT OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPER を 100mm では 100mm では

CATTERIE

 $h_{M_{\underline{k}^{+},L_{\underline{k}^{+},-1}}}$ and the second The state of the s

STATE CALLED STATE

Street Street, Street Street MANUAL PLO CON

The second secon

Yours sincerely, J. CHALMERS PARK, Hillside Road, Pinner Hill, Middlesex.

MACEN AUCTION Sports Letters may be sent by fax to 071-782 5046. They should include: a daytime telephone nu

Glowing Ardour to live up to sparkling gallop reports

Concerned to the content of the cont

trum land

Consciona

MICHAEL Stoute already Ordinary to win this aftertrains one good filly for Lord Weinstock in Hellenic, impressive winner of the so already. Ribblesdale Stakes at Royal Ascot last month.

from Newmarket that he whose third behind the subcould easily have another in Sequently demoted Atlantic Glowing Ardour, who makes her racecourse debut at market was a sound effort by Sandown this afternoon when any standard. she contests the Milcars Fillies' Stakes in the hands of Waiter Swinburn,

With the yearling sales season now fast approaching. Stakes on Copper Plating who breeders and buyers alike will was runner-up to Self Exbe taking a keen interest in the pression in his only race so far likes of Glowing Ardour, as at Salisbury. In this instance, she belongs to the first crop of though, I marginally prefer that high-class racehorse, Dancing Brave, who sired his run out of second place in that first winner only nine days ago when Bravefoot scored in style at Newmarket.

Tracing to Gaily, who won the Irish 1,000 Guineas, Glowing Ardour comes from a family that has already done Lord Weinstock and his father-in-law, Sir Michael Sobell, proud.

Yesterday George Robinson, our Newmarket Correspondent, told me that he is convinced that Glowing Ardour can contribute further to the family's achievements, beginning today.

By Mandarin

2.50 Duggan 3.25 Glowing Ardour,

Going: good to firm

103 (11)

4.00 Young Jazz. 4.35 Silver Singing.

5.10 Bronze Runner.

Draw: 5f, high numbers best

In my view, she would not race won by Bravefoot at he could turn out to be a have to be anything out of the Newmarket. noon, even though the field

In fact, the main danger could easily turn out to be Now word has reached me another maiden, Cloche D'Or,

> At the start of the programme, Swinburn also has a fair chance of winning the EBF Raynes Park Maiden Tanegras, who was only just

Record-seeker to return

TIMELESS Times, who has captured the public's imagination in his quest to break the juvenile record of 16 wins, will

The Newmarket trainer saddled his 29th turf winner of the resume racing at the end of next

The colt, who is three short of breaking the record, has been having treatment for swelling of the joints but his trainer, Bill O'Gorman, said: "They have been drained and be is fine." the joints but his trainer, Bill O'Gorman, said: "They have been drained and he is fine."

After a well-deserved rest, Timeless Times will reappear at Salisbury on August 23 and his itinerary is then Ripon (August O'Gorman explained that Silver O'Re was one of the horses in his team that had been ill last year. "We have only retained eight from that batch and they are kept apart in the yard as a precautionary measure," he

> By Our Newmarket Correspondent

3.25 GLOWING ARDOUR (nap).

WR Swintburn 97

C Rotter 73 F Cochrane 79 Put Eddary # 20 B Rouse 82

.15 Hellespont

4.00 Live Action.

4.35 Tinkerbird.

SANDOWN PARK

Selections

By Michael Seely 3.25 Glowing Ardour. 4.00 Young Jazz. The Times Private Handicapper's top rating: 4.35 SILVER SINGING.

2.15 EBF RAYNES PARK MAIDEN STAKES (2-Y-O: colts & geldings: £2,945: 7/) (14

G: 3-1 Tenegrus, 7-2 Copper Plating, 13-2 Texan Clamour, 8-1 Ainsteb, Heliospont, 10-1 Smart

1965: SONG FOR EUROPE 9-0 A Clark (5-2) G Harwood 9 ran

FORM FOCUS COPPER PLATING recovered from a slow start when 1 ¼: 2nd to Self Expression on debut in Satisbury meiden (71, good to firm) with ALNAAS juvenile winner at 71. SMART BLADE was prominent (same serme) 3%: 7th and SEASSE (same terms) 7th.

ELESPONT, a half-brother to his stable's useful to Sravefoot (71, good). TOREL (25 Apr), by Glant Ot scropsistent performer Migratur Reef, made scropy from hallway to Brish 314 4th to Michawk Sciencian: TANEGRUS

BETTING: 2-1 Stient Gut, 7-2 Duggen, 4-1 High Spirited, 8-1 Longshoremen, 13-2 Kino, 14-1 Gay Glint, Golden Della. 1988: BEEKMAN STREET 7-10 T Williams (4-1 ji-lav) C Thornion 11 ran

FORM FOCUS GAY GLINT 2%! 3rd of 15 to 3 Brand at Mindoor (1m 3f 150yd). LONGSHOREMAN made all to defeat Sword Excellent 6 in a poor Beth maxim (1m 3f 150yd, good to firm).

DUGGAN beat in Pursuit 2 in Ripon handlesp (1m 4f in 3f 150yd, good to firm).

DUGGAN beat in Pursuit 2 in Ripon handlesp (1m 4f in 3f 150yd, good to firm).

ENT GRIL races off a 1b lower mark than when completing trable with a head defeat of William Four at Windsor (1m 3f 150yd, good to firm).

Selection: HIGH SPRITTED

DI AGRIVAN 17 (D.F.) (Hemden Al-Makkoum) P Wahryn S-1 W Carson

8210US ALMARA 19 (D) (M Nasher) J Fox S-1 J Williams

(N1 FLIGHT OF PLEASURE 26 (D.G.) (H Mould) S Henbury S-1 J Williams

(N1 MERCUL 19 (CD.F.) (Dr G Merculin) R Hannon S-1 Pat Editory

1 SHAMMERRING SEA 36 (F) (Miss K Rausing) W Hern S-1 S Coulties

22 CLOCHE D'OR 19 (Mrs C Paterna) C Britain S-11 R Coclimate

PLIGHTY GUEST (R Merculin) I Balding 8-11 J Raid

GLOWING ARDOUR (Lord Weinstock) M Stoute 8-11 W R Swindburs

BETTING: 3-1 Clocke D'Or, 7-2 Shimmering See, 9-2 Flight Of Pleasure, 5-1 Neros, 15-2 Glowing lour, 8-1 Aghniyah, 16-1 Almesa, 25-1 Flighty Guest.
1889: SPURNED 2-8-11 J Matthies (15-5 tax) I Belding 7 mm

O ALNAAB 22 (BF) (Hamden Al-Makoum) J Dunico 9-0...

BAYLORD PRINCE 35 (D Hunnisett) W Carter 9-0...

COPPER PLATING 22 (Mrs P Harrs) P Harrs 9-0...

DERISEAV 24 (D Locks) P Arthur 9-0...

FIERCE (J Papper Lat) J Jenkins 9-0...

HELLESPONT 15 (A Richards) C Britain 9-0...

NULTAK (Hamden Al-Ministron) P Western 9-0...

4 HELLESPONT 15 (A Richards) C Brittain 9-0.

HRLIZAH (Hamidan Al-Misioum) P Walahyin 9-0.

MASHMOR JOHN (W Said) D Morley 9-0.

SEABEE 5 (Mrs F Brunton) K Causingham-Brown 9-0.

SEABEE 5 (Mrs F Brunton) K Deling 9-0.

TANEGRIUS 9 (R Tooth) J Payne 9-0.

TANEGRIUS 9 (R Tooth) J Payne 9-0.

TOREL (Shelkh Mohammed) J Dunloy 9-0.

MELL HE OR WONT HE 40 (M Tipper) M McCormack 9-0.

2.50 NORMAN HILL HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £4,159: 1m 6f) (7 runners)

3.25 MILCARS FILLIES STAKES (2-Y-O: £6,807: 7f) (8 runners)

Young Jazz (4.0), who was strongly to take third place

thought of so highly as a three- behind Fiveseven fiveo and includes five who have done year-old before he split a pastern in his only race, for which he started a hot favourite at Newmarket, can trigger a double for Ray Cochrane: a boost in winning by four double to be completed by Silver Singing (4.35), who romped home by four lengths at Bath eight days ago.

The search for the day's best bet has led me to Catterick where Wycliffe, from Denys Smith's successful all-the-year-round stable, is napped to win the Tattersalls Maiden Auction Plate Series Qualifier. As he cost only 2,700 guineas when he was a yearling, Wycliffe gets into the race with bottom weight. Last time out he gave a strong hint that 4).

The Newmarket trainer saddled his 29th turf winner of the year yesterday when Silver Ore led all the way to defy top weight in the Applegate Fillies' Handicap.

Handicap.
O'Gorman explained that Sil-

bargain when he finished Penny Mint over only five furlongs at Redcar.

In the meantime Penny Mint has given the form a nice lengths at Leicester. Being by Dunbeath and out of a mare by Blakeney, Wycliffe should be much better suited by today's longer trip.

The Tunstall Stakes, which is the other race for two-yearolds at the north Yorkshire track, can go to Peter Easterby's speedy colt Vintage Only. At Hamilton, John Carroll has an undeniable chance of landing a treble for Jack Berry on Go Tally-Ho (4.15), Dream Of Tomerrow (4.45) and Amreu (5.15). Finally, Pat Eddery is taken to ride a double on Trigon (7.0) and Singing (8.0) at Chepstow where Sesame, the good mare that David Morley trains for his brother-in-law. Christopher Spence, is taken to outclass her opposition in the Alderney Apprentice

Blinkered first time CATTERICK ENIDGE: 3.5 Securi Two, East Barne. HAMILTON PARK: 4.45 Machingdur, 5.15 Toes 0f The Color. 6.15 Chronological, CHEPSTOW: 9.0

4.0 HEATHROW MAIDEN STAKES (£3,042: 1m) (7 runners)

4.35 FOX WARREN HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 23,925: 5f) (9 runners)

Guide to our in-line racecard

Receard number, Draw in brackets. Sti-figure form (F - Init. P - pulled up. U - unseated rider. Itsest racej. Going on which horse has won B - brought down. S - slipped up. H - refused. (F - Illim, good to Firm, hard. G - good. D - disqualified). Horse's name. Days since last cuting; J If jumps, F if flat. (B - binkers, V - vior. H - hood, E - Byeshied, C - course and witner. D - distance winner. CD - course and Handicapper's rating.

1988: POWER TAKE OFF 3-8-8 S Cauthon (11-10 fev) D Eleworth 12 ran

FORM FOCUS DANCING MONTH has been off with an injury ever since. THABEH has been well besten in 2 outings this season including when tailed off behind Standardand at Windsor (1m 2f 22yd, good to Ruthy Shose (1m, AW), LIVE behind Standardand at Windsor (1m 2f 22yd, good to ACTION has been placed twice at Beverley this season including 3f 2nd to listend Weeding (1m), OPEN TWI HAT thished 6th to humber Bleven at Chipathow (8f, good). YOUNG JAZZ finished 6th beaten 11 till by Great Commotion in a top class Newmarket maiden last season and the season and was beaten more than 2st when behind season and was beaten more than 2st when behind season and was beaten more than 2st when behind season and was beaten more than 2st when behind season and was beaten more than 2st when behind season and was beaten more than 2st when behind season and was beaten more than 2st when behind season and was beaten more than 2st when behind season and was beaten and was beaten the common of th

1989: THE QUEEN OF SOUL 9-1 W Carson (13-2) J Toller 11 ran

FORM FOCUS THACEREAD was driven out to win by 1% from Dezzlingly Radient at Best (51 167yd, good to firm). SILVER SHIGING won at Bath (51, firm) of from Dezzlingly Radient at Best (51 167yd, good to firm). SILVER SHIGING (50 worse) was a further 51 behind in 4th.

PLIE Initiated 318 this behind Elbic over course and determore (sood to firm). FACTUELLE has run well.

THACEREAD was 25 in troot of him that day but the course of the cou distance (good to Stm). FACTUELLE has run well recently including SI Std to Love Returned at Lingfield (SI, good).

HED PRPHY's best effort this sesson was when thristing 3rd besten just over 2i by Moving Force at 1 Selections SELVER SMGSNG.

Long hasdicep: Yafty Jones 7-1.

Long hasdicep: Yafty Jones 7-1.

BETTING: 3-1 Ok Corral, 7-2 Auction News, 11-2 Persolous, 6-1 Hesty Thrill, 10-1 Factorum, Bronza mec, 14-1 Dr Zove, Persian Lond.

1982: PARADOR 3-8-12 D Stather (4-7 fav) G Harwood 9 ran

FORM FOCUS PETAVIOUS, has run consistently this seeson, 7'kl 3rd to Silent Girl at Kempton (1'm 4f, good to firm) but had previously won by 4l at Lingfield (1'm 2l, good to firm). AUCTION to firm); previously been a short head 2nd to Opera Grost, a good subsequent winner at York, at Kempton (1'm 4f, good).

SLEEPLINE PALACE ran wall when 3l 5th to Wrytis at Chepstow (1'm good), OK CORRAL is bighly raced to State (1'm 2l, good to firm) darkout of the state of the st

Course specialists

JOCKEYS

5.18 WELLINGTON APPRENTICE HANDICAP (£2,574: 1m 2f) (14 runners)

run two in Ascot showpiece

By MICHAEL SEELY RACING CORRESPONDENT

CLIVE Brittain intends to be two-handed in the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Di-amond Stakes as both Terimon and Charmer are likely to take their chance in Britain's most important all-aged race at Ascot on Saturday week. Terimon has been introduced into the betting at 20-1 by Corals with Charmer trimmed to the same price (from 33-1) after ch-way support.

"They're both entitled to take

"They're both entitled to take their chance," said the everoptimistic Brittain yesterday,
"Michael Roberts will take his pick and, with so many of the market leaders doubtful because of the firm ground, there should be no difficulty in getting a top man for whichever one he discards."

Saleshil the favourity exceed

Salsabil, the favourite, eased from 7-4 to 2-1 yesterday as Corals reported further support for the proven firm ground specialists, Cacoethes being cut from 8-1 to 6-1.

No further news is expected about Salsabil until the weekend at the earliest, "The continuing firm going and dry forecast isn't John Dunlop yesterday. "Saka-bil will gallop on Friday and probably again on Tuesday. I shall be talking to Sheikh Hamdan at the Keeneland Sales in Kentucky over the weekend." LATEST BETTING: Commit: 2-1 Sababil. 7-2 in The Wings, 5-1 Sanglamore, 6-1 Old Vic (from 11-2), Caccentes, 8-1 Saplance, 16-1 Legal Case, Assays, 20-1 Terimon, Charmer.

Brittain to Moore gets 5½-year ban and fine for Hong Kong offences

GARY Moore, the Australian- found him guilty on all except born jockey, has received a 5½-year riding ban, applicable worldwide, and been fined SHK1.3 million (about £94,000) by the Royal Hong Kong Jockey Club (RHKJC) after being found guilty of 66 breaches of

Moore has until August 1 to pay the fine while the suspen-sion could come into force as early as July 28. However, Moore, now based in Italy, has vowed to continue his legal battle against the RHKIC RHKIC

A total of 71 betting-related charges were filed against Moore but two were not proceeded with on legal advice. The RHKIC therefore investigated 69 charges against the former French champion jockey and

The charges originally came to light when the Independent Commission Against Corruption uncovered a Hong Kong betting syndicate in 1986. When three jockeys and two businessmen were brought to trial on charges of race-fixing in 1988, Moore appeared as a Crown witness and was granted immunity from prosecution. However, a retrial was re-quired at which Moore was again required to give evidence.
He decided not to attend and the charges were subsequently brought against him. The jock-ey's attempts to have a permanent injunction applied against the RHKJC, preventing them from bringing charges against him, failed.

Moore: intends to continue his legal battle

HAMILTON PARK

3.45 Com Lily, 4.15 Go Tally-Ho. 4.45 Dream Of Tomorrow. 5.15 Amron. 5.45 Neverdown, 6.15 Chronological.

3.45 Ndita. 4.15 Green Glow. 4.45 Second Star. 5.45 Neverdown. 6.15 Cosmic Dancer.

ITITIETS)

1 -044 MOTTA 12 (Q.S) M Torapions 4-10-0... C Hodgeen (7) 8
2 6522 CORN LILY 8 (CD,BF,F,S) N Trikler 4-9-5 Kire Tripler 8
3 3002 MR CHRIS CAKEMAKER 12 (RF,S) M Naughton 6-8-13
K Fatten 4

5 DS64 PLEET SPECIAL 6 (C.F.(Q) P Montests 8-7 G Durflaid 7 6 6-02 HYDEONIUS 16 C Tinder 5-8-0 P Burflaid 7 0500 NEEDWOOD IMP 9 (V) B Morgan 4-7-7 J Losen 1 8 -054 HEAVISHLY HOOFER 10 (F,0) W Storty 7-7-7 S Wood (2) 5

1-2 Go Telly-Ho, 9-4 Green Glow, 8-1 Cotton Blossom.

1 2411 DREAM OF TOMORROW 5 (D,F) J Barry 5-12 J Carroll 6 2 3612 ZERHANSKY 7 (C,D,Q,S) C Tinkler 3-12 ... D Richotta 4 3 303 AMGEL FALLUM 12 E Oven 6-5 ... K Bradshaw 1 4 6 SECOND STAR 14 M Tomploins 6-5 ... C Hodgenn (7) 2 5 5 HARPIST 2 J S Wilson 7-9 ... J Lows 5 6 5500 MACHININGEUN 52 (S) N Bycroft 7-7 P Buston 3

5.15 ARTHUR BALDING HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,905: 6f) (11)

4 2146 AMRON 7 (C.D.G.S) J Berry 8-9 Claim Balcling (7) / 4 2146 AMRON 7 (C.D.G.S) J Berry 8-9 J Cerroll 10 5 3863 PMOIAN STAR 6 (D.F.G) M Brittain 8-8 J Lowe 1 6 0804 MAC KELTY 26 (B.CD.S) N Bycroft 8-8 G Daffield 11 7 -000 ARBITRAGEUR 59 (D.F) E Owen 8-7 K Bradeshew 3 2140 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) Denys Smeth 8-7 MON-RIANNER 8 2400 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) Denys Smeth 8-7 MON-RIANNER 8 MON-RIANNER 8 2400 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) Denys Smeth 8-7 MON-RIANNER 8 2400 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) Denys Smeth 8-7 MON-RIANNER 8 2400 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) Denys Smeth 8-7 MON-RIANNER 8 2400 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) Denys 7 MON-RIANNER 8 2400 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) Denys 8 2400 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) DENYS 8 2400 DARUSSALAM 7 (V.CD.F) DENYS 8

$ Wood (5) 2 11 -005 GOLDEN FLIGHT 37 E Alston 7-10 J Fenting (7) S

5-4 Amron, 3-1 Indian Star, 6-1 El Arab, 8-1 Peddy Cesh, 17-2 Mac Kelty, 12-1 Others.

5.45 COREHOUSE MAIDEN CLAIMING STAKES

2-1 Craven 3-1 Neverdown, 9-2 Turt Dancer, 9-1 Casa Belle, Francis Furness, 10-1 Hunza's Chorce, 20-1 Sandsumo.

2 8-60 ALPHA HELIX 5 (V.CD,F.Q.S) J S Wilson 7-9-8 G Daffield 2 S 7518 VAINE 19 (C.G) P Caher 3-9-7 S Ports 1 4 4513 TVE GOTTA TELL YA 10 (F.G) J H Wilson 4-9-0

6.15 KIRKTON HANDICAP (£2,469: 1m 5f) (7) 1 0545 CHRONOLOGICAL 19 (S) M Tomplone 4-9-10

(3-Y-O: £2,243: 1m 40yd) (7)

Selections

By Mandarin

By Our Newmarket Correspondent

Going: good to firm 5f-6f, high numbers best 3.45 CRAIGNETHAN HANDICAP (£2,574: 1m 3f) (8

4 2003 BODGE 10 (5) G Printers-Gordon 3-8-8

4.15 TILLIETUDLEUM STAKES (2-Y-O: £2,175; 5f)

1 GO TALLY-HO SE (CD.F) J Berry 9-2. J Carrolf 1 43 GREEN GLOW 17 M Tomplurs 8-11. C Hodgeon (7) 3 500 COTTON BLOSSOM 10 J S Wilson 8-5 Deen Nickgows 2

4.45 LEE CLAIMING STAKES (2-Y-O: £2,364: 61)

5-2 Vanie, 7-2 Alpha Helix, 9-2 Chronological, 6-1 Cosmic Dancer, 8-1 I've Gotta Tall Ya, 10-1 others. Course specialists

TRAINERS: Miss S Hall, 7 winners from 27 runners. 25.9%; G Prichard-Gordon, 3 from 17, 17.8%; N Trikler, 14 from 94, 16.7%; C Trikler, 19 from 117, 16.2%; Jimmy Fitzgerald, 5 from 31, 16.1%; J Berry, 34 from 223, 15.2%. 31, 16.1%; J siarly, 34 from 223, 15.2%; JOCKEYS: Dean McKeown, 29 winners from 171 rides, 17.0%; J Carroll, 22 from 158, 13.9%; K Darley, 41 from 313, 13.1%; K Fallon, 10 from 95, 12.7%; G Duffield, 39 from 309, 12.6%; Km Tinkler, 11 from 95, 11.5%; (Alci Including yestenday's results)

CHEPSTOW

Selections

By Mandarin 6.30 Sesame. 7.0 Trigon. 7.30 My Alibi. 8.0 Singing. 8.30 Pipistrelle. 9.0 Starchy Cove. By Our Newmarket Correspondent

6.30 Sesame. 7.0 Celestial Guest. 8.0 Invitation Michael Seely's nap: 8.30 PIPISTRELLE.

Going: good to firm

Draw: 5f-1m, high numbers best

6.30 ALDERNEY APPRENTICE STAKES (£2,574:

6 /004- MUSICAL MOMENTS 182J J Roberts 4-9-0

5-11 Seseme, 6-4 Cameo Partormance, 10-1 Copper River, 16-1 Art Form, Good Scarle, 25-1 others. 7.0 RED DRAGON FM MAIDEN STAKES (3-Y-O colts & geldings: £2,459: 1m 2f) (9)

5-4 Trigon, 4-1 Temproour, 6-1 Cexton, 8-1 Res Jose Loquitur, The Jones Boy, 10-1 Myverygoodifiend, 14-1 others.

7.30 STAG'S HEAD NURSERY STAKES (2-Y-O:

5-1 Dixton, 9-2 Eastern Music, 5-1 My Albi, 6-1 Arturien, 7-andictiffs Way, 8-1 Chro, 10-1 Green's Seago, 20-1 Tarmon, 8.0 UNIVERSITY & LITERARY CLUB CENTENARY FILLIES STAKES (3-Y-O: £2,758: 71) (6)

1 -520 BALISHY 20 (5) R Holder 9-0 J WIE 2 112 INVITATION WALTZ 34 (D,BF,F,G) L Cumeri 9-0 3 -330 LA CABRILLA 63 (F,G) P Waleyn 9-0. 4 1- PRIORITY PAID 389 (F) W Hastings-Ster

7-4 kryltetion Waltz, 9-4 Singing, 3-1 Saljaya, 8-1 Priorty d, 10-1 La Cabrille, 33-1 Balleny. 8.30 SIR GORDON RICHARDS STAKES (3-Y-O: £3,720: 2m) (4)

3 0303 CALABALI 20 R Hollinshead 7-7 4-5 Pipistrelle, 11-8 Yajib, 10-1 High Caste, 16-1 Calaball,

9.0 GLAMORGAN COUNTY CRICKET CLUB STAKES (3-Y-O: £2,427: 6f) (10)

5-2 TE Soon Know, 4-1 C Sherp, 6-1 Colson Boy, Micombis Prince, 6-1 Corto Bay, Nazara Blue, 19-1 Others.

Course specialists

TRAINERS: L. Cumani, 8 warmers from 15 runners, $3.3%; W. Hassings-Bass, 3 from 8, 37.5%; I Balding, 12 from 51, 23.5%; R. Johnson Houghton, 4 from 20, 20.0%; R. Simpson, 3 from 15, 20.0%; P. Walwyn, 9 from 58, 15.5%. JOCKEYS: L. Dettori, 3 winners from 11 rides, 27.3%; Pat Eddery, 10 from 42, 23.8%; S.O'Gorman, 6 from 29, 20.7%; W. Carson, 7 from 39, 17.8%; G.Hind, 5 from 29, 17.2%; M.Wigham, 4 from 30, 13.2%.

FORM FOCUS AGAMINAN stayed on strongy to defeat this is the work of the strongy to defeat the strongy to defeat the strongy to defeat of the strong of the strong that the strong the strong to the strong that the strong of the CATTERICK BRIDGE

Selections

By Mandarin 2.00 Reef Wind. 2.30 High Plateau. 3.05 WYCLIFFE (nap). By Our Newmarket Correspondent

2.00 ---2.30 Zabanjad. 3.05 Domino Darling. 3.35 Norfolkiev. 4.10 Sheslikethewind. 4.40 -

4.10 Vintage Only. 4.40 Nicholas Mark. Draw: 51-7f, low numbers best Going: good to firm 2.0'A' ONE APPRENTICE CLAIMING STAKES (22,196: 1m 5f 180yd) (6 runners) LUTA' UNE APPRENTICE CLAIMING STAKES (12,190; 1m of 18Uy0) (6 furiners)

1 (1) $0-1422 CLASS ACT 2 (BF,F) (G Howard-Spirk) J Hills 4-9-9 D Holland (3) 95

2 (2) D TEMPER TEMPER 49 (R Bethel) P Blockby 3-8-0. P Deline (3) 95

3 (4) 000-0 CAGLIARI 173 (R Cadoret) M Avison 3-7-12 D Holland (3) 95

4 (2) 000550 GLERELANDS GIRL 31 (R Bennett) R Bennett 3-7-12 J Tiele (5) 91

5 (6) 40-3003 REEF WIND 2 (S Norton) S Norton 3-7-12 G McCareth (5) 96

6 (5) 05-0005 SAMDFORD SPRINGS 13 (V) (N Cesteton) I Baiding 3-7-12 G McCareth (5) 84

BETTING: 4-5 Class Act, 5-2 Reef Wind, 9-2 Sandford Springs, 8-1 Glebelands Girl, 16-1 Temper imper, 25-1 Cerolani.

1989: MRS MEYRICK 8-8-12 P Bernard (11-10 fev) R Whitaker 6 raq 2.30 GROVE MAIDEN STAKES (3-Y-O: £2,318; 1m 7f 180yd) (7 runners) 9-3020 FAR TOO LOUD 14 (R Smyly) Jimmy Fitzgereld 9-0 ... M Circle 30 M Roberts 97 T Cuino 0 39 9-3328 FAR TOO LOUD 14 (R Smyly) Jimmy Fitzgeraid 8-0 3 HAWWAR 24 (H Al-Maktourn) A Stewart 3-0....
220 HIGH PLATEAU 29 (F Salman) P Cole 9-0....
961338 SOLITER'S HELL 24 (Mr. S Facchino) R Hollinshead 9-0....
03 WILLIAM CLITO 15 (Shelkin Mohammed) J Gooden 9-0...
634444 PHILIPPA'S HER 34 (V) (Anglo International Pic) R Stubbs 8-9...
6-03 ZABARRJAD 12 (Shelkin Mohammed) M Stoute 8-9.... BETTING: 7-4 High Prispau. 5-2 Zaberrjed, 7-2 Hawwer, 8-1 Far Too Loud, 12-1 William Citic. 16-1 Souter's Hill, 33-1 Philippe's Heir.

1989: MOUNT NELSON 9-0 M Roberts (1-25 fm) A Stewart 5 ran 3.5 TATTERSALLS MAIDEN AUCTION PLATE SERIES STAKES (Qualifier: 2-Y-O: £2,866: 7f) (10 runners) 5240 MICK'S CHOICE 3 [Lord Balper] M W Essiarby 8-12

5240 MICK'S CHORCE 3 (Lord Belper) M W Easterby 8-1:

002 SECUEL TWO 10 (B) (E Thomas) J Berry 8-12

6 JONBEL 15 (W Matthews) R Stubbs 8-10

646330 EAST BARINS 24 (B) (J Boland) J Weinwright 8-9

0500 JIMMY GRIFFIN 12 (J Griffin) M W Easterby 8-6

0 MINDY 9 (G Cooke) S Nomen 8-8

00 RADAR KNIGHT 22 (A Alexander) R Bennett 8-8

01 DOMINO DARLING 10 (G Grant) M Tomploms 8-7

PERFECT PRINCE (S Crown) P Cole 8-7

03 WYCLIFFE 25 (H Thompson) Danys Smith 6-7

OK 5-2 Secuel Two, 7-2 Mick's Choice, 9-2 Wycliffe, 5-1 P A Munro #6 R HMb #7 N Comprise W Ryans --10 (3) US WYLLIPPE 20 (11 INDEXECT) 25-9-2 Wycliffe, 5-1 Pariect Prince, 7-1 Domino Dark BETTING: 5-2 Sequel Two, 7-2 Mick's Choics, 9-2 Wycliffe, 5-1 Pariect Prince, 7-1 Domino Dark 8-1 East Berns, 16-1 Mindy, Jimmy Griffin, 20-1 others. 8-12 M Hills (12-1) W Haggas & ran

TRAINERS

3.35 WANE GARAGES HANDICAP (£2,700: 7f) (12 runners) 1 (12) 90-6210 NORFOLKIEV 10 (CD,Q) (E Firstolk) M Moubersk 4-10-0

1980: LOGARISMO 3-9-12 K Derley (4-11 fav) N Tinkfer B ran Course specialists

W O'Gormain M Skoute P Cole A Stewart J Berry M H Easterby

JOCKEYS M Rioberts J Fortune Paul Eddary R Hills M Birch T Quinn

Long headlesp: Floeting Note 7-3. BETTING: 3-1 Norfolder, 4-1 Cool Enough, 9-2 Super One, 8-1 Dunmounin, 7-1 Master Otths Hot 8-1 Shinnel Water, 10-1 Heames, 14-1 Tobermory Boy, 20-1 others. 1989: VICKENDA 4-8-0 G Duffeld (13-2) C Alien 12 ran 4.10 TUNSTALL STAKES (2-Y-O: £2,856: 6f) (6 runners) 13412 VINTAGE ONLY 16 (F,G) (H Lepthern Ltd) M H Easterby 1200 FOURSINGH 30 (F) (Four Racing) J Serry 9-4. 4421 KELLYS KINGDOM 65 (C.F) (R Bernett) R Bennett 9-4. 443 SHILING SUN 15 (CD,G) (S Firstolf) W O'Gormen 9-4. 310 KAMART 21 (D,G) (Mrs.) J Wildrison') Denys Smith 8-13. SHEBLINETHEWIND (Mars. Al-Maktoum) M Stoute 8-6. R HMa 96 W Ryso 86 A Museo 80 BETTRICE: 64 Vintage Only, 9-4 Shindkethewind, 7-2 Foursingh, 8-1 Smiling Sun, 12-1 Kanner. 1990: ALTERED BEAST 9-4 G Duffield (wolked over) P Cole 4.40 COLBORN HANDICAP (£2,406: 1m 7f 180yd) (6 runners)

Long hundrup: Media Star 7-1.
BETTING: 6-4 Nicholas Mark, 3-1 Jos Bumpas, 9-2 Windward Arlom, 6-1 Christian Soldier, 8-1 Surefoot Silars, 10-1 Media Star.

Yesterday's afternoon results Tuesday's late Yarmouth

Going: firm
2.15 (7f) 1. CAJUN CURE (W R
Swinburn, 15-2; 2. Jupher Sound (M
Roberts, 6-1); 3. Hot Sunday Sport (Pat Eddery, 11-2). ALSO RAN: 4-7 fav Courness Of Point (47th 4 ran. 10t, 40, sh
nt. D Morley at Newmarkst. Tota: 25.10.
DF: 211.40. CSF: £34.51.

DF: 211.40. CSF: £34.51.

2.45 (7) 1. LAUREL QUEEN (Pat Eddery, 11-10 fav); 2. Green Enterprise (B Reymond, 11-4); 3. Zamins (M Roberts, 14-1). ALSO RAN: 13-2 Duck Hands (5th), 10 Milly Sharp (em), 40 Peter Pumplin, 25 Miss Heron (8th), 40 Peter Pumplin, Srademi, Zophyr Fire, Ticket To Paradise, 11 ran. NR: Sports Delight. 21, 114, hd. 31, 41. J Barry at Cockerinan. Tote: 22.00; 21.50, 52.70. DF: 23.50. CSF: 24.59. Bought in 6.500gns.

2.15 (im 20) 1, STAUNCH RIVAL (Pat Eddery, 9-2; 2, Light Hand (R Cochrane, 7-4 fav); 3, Auto Cosmection (M Wigham, 5-1). ALSO RAN. 9-2 Sonic Lord (5th), 5 hoden Meestro (4th), 5 ran. NR: Clear Light. 214, 44, 8, 121. J Gosden at Newmentos. Tote: 24.50; 22.00, 21.40. DF: 25.90. CSF: 211.57.

3.45 (1m) 1. SiLVER ORE (A Manno. 14-Newmarket, Tota: (24.00; 12.00; 17.40. Un: 25.90. CSF: 171.57.

2.45 (1m) 1, SILVER ORE (A Munro, 14-1); 2, Caral Flotter (A Mackey, 14-1); 3, Dancing Breaze (6 Berdwell, 12-1), ALSO RAN: 2 Isv Amana River (5th, 9-4 Revoke (8th), 12 Solo: Court (4th), 6 ran, NR-Bariston Singer, 2%, 1 %, %, rk, 12, W O'Gorman at Newmarket. Tota: 215.90; 54.30, (23.60. DF: 255.70. CSF: 132.92. Barkston Singer (100-30) withdrawn, not under orders — rule 4 apples to all bets, deduction 20p in pound.

4.15 (im 6); 1, BLUE VERYAN (M Hills, 5-5 fay; Mandarin's map); 2, Matter Of Law (A Murro, 11-1); 3, One For The Boya (M Roberts, 16-6), ALSO RAN: 16 Promier Lady (4th), 33 Land Of Wonder (8th), 50 Princess Taramare (5th), 6 mar, NR: Downtown Belle, 4, ½, hd, 15, 12, W Haggas at Newmarket. Tota: 21.70; £1.10, 22.90. DF: E4.70. CSF: £3.93.

4.45 (7h) 1, KAWWAS (8 Raymond, 5-2

22.90, DF: 24.70, CSF: 29.93.
4x5 (7f) 1, KAWWAS (B Raymond, 5-2 fav; Our Newmarkst Correspondent's sup); 2, Le Bernha (W Hood, 12-11: 3, Grey Rum (M A Clies, 9-2). ALSO RAN: 5-2 Le Belle Vie (6th), 6 Fest Flush, 10 Saaib, 12 Rebel Raiser (4th), Meads Brow, 14 Xalu Xalu (5th), 25 Sockern. 10 ran. Sh hd, 251, 31, nk, 21 W Holden at Newmarkst. Tote: 23.60; £1.80, £3.30, £1.50. DF: £41.40, CSF: £25.78. Tricast: £118.74. Placepot 1772.19.

Catterick Bridge Doing: good to firm

Coing: good to firm

2.0 (7) 1. CLASSIC RENG (T Culnut, 6-1);

2. Whitelevel (M Birch, 13-8 (i-fev); 3.

Fermentation (W Wherton, 20-1). ALSO RAN. 13-8 (i-fev Dely Sport Boy, 12 Bold Spark (Spi), 14 Active Movement, 20

Formal Profile (6th), 33 Friday Fourball (4th), Commanche Rhysten, 9 ran. 31, 41, nk, 21, 251, T Fairturst et Middleham.
Tote: 27.50; 21.20, 21.10, 25.10. DF:
28.50. CSF: 215.03. No bid. 23:0 (SF; £15.03. No bid.
2:00 (SF) 1, SIZZLING SAGA (J Cerroll.
9-4); 2. Quikudi Mentin (G Duffield, Evenstay); 3, Woody Express (S Morris, 15-2).
ALSO RAN: 6 Suprise Envoy (4th), 20
Coolbane Billy (5th), 5 ran. 5, 114, 42, 24, J Berry at Cockerham. Tota: 23.10; £1.20, £1.20, UF: 22.40, CSF: 84.79.

3.0 (Im 44 40yd) 1, NIGHT-SHRRT (G Duffield, 4-9 tav); 2, Future Glory (Dean McKeown, 12-1); 3, Nigotins (A Garth, 16-1), ALSC RAM: 4 Botin Patrick (4th), 12 Magic At Dawn (5th), 5 ran, 1 ½, 1 hd, 3t, 1, M Prescot at Newmarkst, Tota: 51 AO; F1 20, 52 00. DF: 52 50. CSF: 55 SH.

ET 20, 22:00. DF: E2:50. CSF: ES:07.
3.30 (8) 1, JUDGEMENT CALL (K.
Darley, 8-11 tav); 2, Prohibition (J. Carrot, 9-4); 3, Yonge Tender (A. Proud, 14-1).
ALSO RAN: 10 Virtage Type (4th), 12
Lady Snoote, 16 Northern Rocket (5th), 25 Title Spot, 65 Cableiun (5th), 51 Sawat.
9 ran. 21, 11, 29, 13, 44. M H Easterby at Great Habton. Tota: £1.80; £1.30, £1.20, £2.70. DF: £2.20. CSF: £3.81.2. P2.70. DF: P2.20. CSF: E3.12.
4.0 (St) 1. MALVOYA (G. Husband, 7-1);
2. Le Chie, IMALVOYA (G. Husband, 7-1);
2. Le Chie, IMALVOYA (G. Husband, 7-1);
2. Le Chie, IMALVOYA (G. Husband, 7-1);
3. Craiuria (M. Birch, 11-2);
3. Craiuria (M. Birch, 11-2);
4. Suddemosa (Sth), 16 Beckingham Ben, 20 Ayodessa (Sth), 16 Beckingham Ben, 20 Ayodessa (Sth), 18 M. M., M., M., Nt., 18 Spearing, at Alossiur. Total: 27.10. S2.20, 21.80, 21.70. DF: P12.0. CSF: P3.28.
Tricker: 11 ran, 171, M., M., M., M., Nt., 18.20, 19.20, 21.80, 21.70. DF: P12.0. CSF: P3.28.
Tricker: E121.45.
4.30 (Im 44 40)rd; 1, GOLDEN TREASURY (W. Ryten, 3-2); 2, Bestow (Denn McKeown, 6-1); 3, Bellet Russe (I. Destrot, 9-2); ALSO RAN: 5-4 fav Shamahad (4th), 50 Adeline Lynn, 200 Autre Anthe (6th), Mistral's Dennor (Sth), 7 ran, 8, rk, 4, 25, ok. H. Ceoll et Newmarket, Total: 23.40; E1.90, 92.80. DF: E5.90, CSF: £15.40.
Placapot: E13.50.

Placenot: £13.50.

Hamilton Park Going: good (good to firm in patches) 3.45 (1m 41) 1. Euchem Glen (.) Farming. 30-100 fav); 2. Passed Pawn (4-1); 3. Billiow (50-1). 4ran, 81, 61, J S Wilson, Tote: £1.50. OF: £1.40. CSF: £1.74.

£1.50. DF: £1.40. CSF: £1.74.
4.15 (im 17) 1, Young George (A. Mercer, 5-1); 2, Molly's Move (17-2); 3, Arfield Sally (4-1 fav.); 9 ran. NR: Tallanna. 5, 2%1. R Dods. Tota; £7.00; £1.70, £1.70, £1.70.
£1.20. DF: £42.30. CSF: £41.50.
4.45 (im 40yd) 1, Ralfseca (C Hodgson, 7-1); 2, Edward Lear (9-2); 3, Eladham (12-1), Stamble 13-8 fav. 9 ran. 2, 1%1. B Morgan, Tota; £7.50; £2.10, £1.10, £3.60... DF: £18.10. CSF: £35.44. Tricast; £38.24.
£15.60 1, Casan Chronicle (R Hills. 10-1). 5.15 (6) 1. Canny Chronicle (R Hills. 10-11 fav); 2. Minizan Dencer (20-1); 3. Lady Taleca (4-1). 6 ran. 4, nt. M Tompkins. Tota: £1.70; £1.10, £4.70. DF: £11.80. CSF: £14.89.

5.45 (5f) 1. Green (stow (R Hills, 2-9 fav); 2. Red Tiger (8-2); 3. Lifetimes Ambition (33-1); 3 ran. 2%; 6f. M Tompicins. Tota: 21.10, DF; 21.10, CSF; 21.36. 8.15 (5t) 1, Nevel Fan (K Derley, 2-1 fav); 2, Waverley Star (8-4); 3, Henari Vidao (7-2), 6 ran. Nr., 1%, M H Easterly. Tota: 22.50; £1.40, £1.90. DP: £3.00. CSF; £6.93.

 Dickie Dods saddled a winner with his first Flat runner when Young George landed the Bonnington Selling Stakes at Hamilton yesterday. Eladham made an encouraging start to the training career of Michael Hammond, the former jump jockey, when third to Rolfeson in the Teatime Handicap

Leicester

7.30 (1m 40), Western Dynasty (G Center, 9-2): 2, Pokey's Pride (2-1 fzv); 3, Snowspin (7-2), 5 rzn. 11, 31, M Ryen, Tote: 55.30; 51.50, $1.40, DF: $3.80, CSF: $12.83. 8.0 (8) 1, Candile King (B Raymond, 1)-2); 2, Christian Lad (4-5 Fev); 3, Strip Cartoon (20-1); 14 ran. 2, 5, 8 McMahon. Tone: 56.80; 52.20, $1.30, $4.20. DF: £4.90, CSF: £9.87. 24.90. CSF: £9.87.
8.30 (77) 1, Knitscey (W Carson, 4-1); 2, Crowning Ambition (14-1); 3, Gentle Gan (20-1), Selvara Betades 5-2 tex. 10 ren. 1V-1, 31, B McMahon. Tote: £5.40; £1.30, £1.10; £3.80. OF: £87.60. CSF: £51.68, 8.0 (77) 1, Taylor's Prince (J Culm., 9-1); 2, Final Engina (5-4 eye); 3, You Know The Rules (20-1); 4, Ledy Topez (25-1), 17 ran, NR: K C Rapide. 11, 21. H Collingridga. Tote: £11.10; £1.90, £1.20, £4.10, £5.50. DF: £11.50. CSF: £21.48. Tricast: £228.83. Piecepot: £238.50.

Folkestone

7.20 (5) 1. Continental Carl (W Newnes, 5-1); 2. Petitoses (2-1 fav); 3. Party Treat (100-30), 5 rfm. NR: Petropower, 2, ¼ J. Jenkins. Tote: £15.70; £3.80, £1.50. DF: £8.20. CSF: £15.34. 28.20, CSF: £15.34.
7.50 (7) 1, Miss Tetting (N Day, 7-2); 2, Makashir (7-1); 3, Tribal Lady (11-1), Zero Time 3-1 (av. 13 ran. 1), 71, C Wall. Tota: £4.70; £4.40, £2.60, £5.90, DF: £22.10.
CSF: £30.29, Tricast: £242.12. CSF: £30.29. Tricast: £242.12.
8.20 (Im 2f) Doolar (T Quivn) well.ed over. NR: Rejonso. P Cole.
8.50 (2m 100yd) 1, Lady Westgate (J Williams, 10-11 fav); 2, Emperor's Warrior (9-2); 3, 60 South (6-1). 7 ran. 2, 3,1 G Belding, Tote: £2.00; £1.20, £2.10. pF: £3.50. CSF: £5.73. epot £11.90.

Evening results - page 41

Quickfire opening misses its deserts on bouncy wicket

three: Derbyshire won toss): Essex, with nine first-innings wickets in hand, are 206 runs behind Derbyshire

HONOURS rested easy at the end of an entertaining day. which saw Derbyshire set off like a runaway horse before being reined in by Essex. Derbyshire regained the upper hand but never with quite the assurance needed to dominate proceedings and they finally had to settle for a relatively modest 268 after greater glo-

Derbyshire's batsmen produced a number of cameos, but, with Roberts the only batsman to pass 50 and quick early runs to others leading to a number of rash strokes in the middle order, nobody settled down to play a long innings. Essex will be pleased enough with the outcome, Hardie and Shahid having seen out the day after a spell of real speed by Bishop had caused Stephenson's early demise.

It was an old-fashioned Castle Park wicket, a great deal better balanced than many on view elsewhere this season. Hard and fast, bouncy but true, it put a hefty pre-

Forgotten man who rarely fails

By RICHARD STREETON

PORTSMOUTH (first day of three: Hampshire won tossi; Nottinghamshire, with nine first-innings wickets in hand, are 291 runs behind Hampshire

CHRIS Smith, whose 85 was made with a particularly sure touch, Nicholas (70) and Ayling (61), were the main contributors as Hampshire managed to secure maximum batting points yesterday with one ball to spare. A green looking pitch belied its appearance but a persistent Nottinghamshire attack gave Watching Smith's faultless display made one recall Micky Stewart's remarks on Tuesday, apropos Gower, that in his experience English batsmen can be at their best in their thirties. It is permissible to wonder whether Smith, who is 32 in October, will ever be given the October, will ever be given the chance to add to his eight

Smith averages more than 70 this season and has made nonsense of the widely accepted belief that a cricketer's form can be affected in his benefit year. With Gower and Robin Smith away at Leeds, this inning yesterday was made at a time when Hampshire depended beavily upon him. Smith's consistency has been the feature of his game throughout the 1980s, when only Gooch, Gatting and Lamb have approached him for reliability. Yet, apart from one isolated recall in 1986, Smith's Test career seemingly ended seven years ago when he was only 25. It has even been suggested that his South African back-ground has counted against him. Nicholas, the Hampshire cap-tain, hints at this in Smith's benefit brochure. He writes:

"One wonders if he may have played some more had he, not just his parents, been born in

On this occasion Smith, driving smoothly and playing con-fidently off his legs, nursed Middleton through an im-portant stand of 109 after Terry had been caught in the gully from a "snorter" in Stephenson's first over. Both men were always watchful but never failed to punish anything loose.

Middleton was out to a low catch at second slip. Smith had hit 13 fours when he glanced a catch to backward short leg. Nicholas, though having a day, apparently, when he felt below par from the lingering effect of his malaria bout, hit 12 fours, mostly with square cuts and on drives. made with great

No Cornish rhapsody

(Michael Austin writes).

Andrew Davis, a Southgate official, said yesterday: "We can probably get some help from the National Cricket Association but our twelfth appearance in 19 years at this stage of the competition has become a bit of a

Matches played 14th July 1990

23 PTS.....£886-70

221/2 PTS..... £73-75

22 PTS.....£72:25

211/2 PTS£15-35

21 PTS£3:10

24 PTS£38,596-00 | 4 DRAWS...

SOUTHGATE, the Middlesex on the Saturday at Excter

County League club, are trying University halls of residence, to find a way to raise £1,500, the We certainly cannot afford a estimated transport costs for a cost for a fotel and possibly not even the coach fare.

Turo on July 29

Minhaul Austin maint.

"Because of the vast distance, we are hoping to stay overnight petition 13 years ago

LITTLEWOODS POOLS, LIVERPOOL

THIS $3-4 MILLION SHARE-DUT

INCLUDES 58 TOP DIVIDENDS OF $38,596

FOR COUPONS PHONEFREE 0800 400 400 - 24F/8

COLCHESTER (first day of mium on excellence from both batsman and bowler. The bowler had to work hard for wickets; the batsman was given no time to adjust.

Not that Barnett needed much time. No sooner had he won the toss and taken strike than the rural calm of Colchester was disturbed by the sound of his bat sending the ball scurrying to all parts of the ground. Bowler was a willing henchman and Derbyshire had 50 on the board in little more than seven overs. When Barnett was out to a fine catch by Stephenson at backward point, he had hit seven fours in his 38, Derbyshire had made 68 and the match was only three-quarters of an hour old.

It was magnificent, but it was not war. Foster obviously fancied his chances and Pringle, his captain, was right behind him, giving him his head for an unusually long spell of 13 overs on the trot. Foster quickly followed his success against Barnett by beating Brown outside the off stump and a sense of proportion was restored.

Childs had been introduced right to expect. Smith and Reeve repel Lancashire

COVENTRY (First day of three: ground, was a distinct improvement on the Griff & Coton at cashire, with nine first-innings wickets in hand, are 362 runs fixture Warwickshire are not behind Warwickshire

THE Bulls Head ground at Binley Road is more prepossess-ing than might be imagined. Playing there for the first time since 1919, Warwickshire batted with rather more character than ionship match and were able to declare at 374 for seven. Not least was this owing to another return, that of Paul Smith.

In his first championship match for five weeks following knee trouble, Smith made 82, put on 130 with Reeve, and prevented Lancashire from making up ground on Warwick-shire. With both counties contesting the leadership of the championship, nostaglia was not all that was rife.

Last week Wagar Younis destroyed Warwickshire. By the time they were 117 for five yesterday, it began to look as if another Pakistani would do the same. Wasim Akram took the wickets of Moles. Moody and Ostler in four overs and nearly added that of Smith as soon as he came in. Yet he was used in intimated after Lancashire's Benson & Hedges victory that he should not be bowled into the ground - and Smith was soon nent on the Griff & Coton at Nuneaton. This is the one fixure Warwickshire are not staging at Edghaston this season, and they were rewarded with maximum batting points for the first time in a match at home. Reeve finished with 78 and there were useful contributions from Asif Din and Piper.

Wasim apart, Lancashire's attack lacked penetration. Lloyd went in Allott's opening over. leg before as he groped half early, and before long Bowler was advancing with intent to strike him wide of mid-on.

The ball struck middle and off stumps. It was more a sign of misjudgment on Bowler's part than any hint of the wicket taking spin, a fact underlined by Roberts and Adams they fashioned the most productive

In adding 85 runs both played fluently. Adams was especially severe on Childs, hitting him for a six and a four from successive balls. Roberts was indiscriminately powerful, scoring nine fours in a 50 which took him only 85 balls to achieve. But with the immediate post-lunch period successfully negotiated and with the prospect of a large Derbyshire total in sight, they fell foul of the extra bounce

Both skied catches from attempted pulls and it was left to the Derbyshire bowlers, bringing up the rear, to ensure respectability. Miller, playing against his former county (for his former, former county), was obdurate to the last; Bishop and Base gave Essex more trouble than they had a achieved by Andrew.

partnership of the day.

forward, but the change bowlers and the spinners gained scant success. Smith straight drove them repeatedly, striking 14 fours in an innings which lasted two hours. Reeve was more circumspect. Unselfishly giving Smith most of the strike, he found the boundary just eight Their partnership was ended by an inspirational catch by Hughes, right-handed and diving at mid-wicket at a time when Smith had the measure of Fitton. Reeve, too, was brilliantly dismissed. Fairbrother picking up and throwing the stumps down in one movement from cover.

Benjamin which enabled Warwickshire to get their oppo-nents in before the close. The declaration left Munton time gathering runs off the rest.

The pitch, indeed the whole behind.

Talk of a Yorkshire revival premature

Uxbridge and showed that talk of a Yorkshire revival may be premature by bowling out their visitors for 243.

Yorkshire could plead that they had to field five uncapped players and it needed a stout effort by one of these. David Byas, for them to recover from 56 for four. Williams had pushed them on to the back foot by dismissing Moxon and Blakey with successive balls, which left Yorkshire short of experienced batting, Metcalfe having been permitted to miss the match to attend the birth of

Apart from Byas, whose 83 more dogged mood against Sus-was his best score of the season, sex on a sluggish pitch at mostly with square cuts and on drives. made with great certainty.

Nicholas was sixth out when he played loosely outside the off stump and edged a catch to first sline.

Was his best score of the scason, the bowlers met prolonged resistance only from Carrick, who scored 52 of a sixth-wicket partnership of 89, before Emburey and Tufnell made short work of the lower order.

Middleser have lost leaves in Middleser have lost leaves in the scason.

We play at a ground owned by a trust. The club does not have a sponsor or make any money and our annual turnover is only around £10,000. The players could drive their own especially after a league game on the Saturday and a Sunday night return journey from Cornwall.

12 HOMES. £220-65 (PAID ON 11 HOMES) 6 AWAYS £0-70

Above dividents to units of 10p Expenses and Commissio 30th June 1990—25-2%

MTDDLESEX, the Britannic Assurance championship leaders, awarded caps to three players — Ramprakash, Roseberry and Tufnell — before the start of yesterday's game at short of a fifth century in the start of yesterday's game at short of a fifth century in the start of yesterday's game at short of a fifth century in the sassor an exhibitarities in the sassor and the sas season; an exhilarating innings by Capel ended at 85, after he had hit three sixes and 14 fours from only 100 balls, and Wil-liams fell when needing only four for his first century for over two years.

But Bailey made no mistake in the quest for a three-figure score and was 138 not out, having hit three sixes and 12 fours against a wilting attack as Northamptonshire piled up 445 for eight, which equals their highest score against Kent.
Darren Bicknell, of Surrey, who made the fastest century of 1989 - off 69 balls - was in sex on a sluggish pitch at Guildford.He batted throughout the day for 123 and needed 335 minutes and 283 balls to arrive at his second century of a season disrupted by injury. Surrey were restricted to three batting points while scoring 304 for six.

Britannic Assurance

county championship

Worcs v Somerset WORCESTER (first day of three; Worcestershim won loss); Somersat have scored 398 for three wickets against Sored S98 for three Workestershire SOMERSET: First traings S J Cook c and b Tokey P M Roebuck not out A N Haytmast run out C J Tavaré c and b Newport F J Harden not out Extres (b 5, b 7, w 1, nb 5) ...

Total (3 wids)
Score at 100 overs: 324 for 2

tN D Burns, G D Rose, R P Lefabyrs, I G Swallow, N A Mallender and A N Jones to WORCESTERSHIRE: TS Curtis, P Bent, G A Hick, D B D'Oliveira, "P A Neale, C M Tolley, †$ J Rhodes, R K (llingworth, P J Newport, S R Lampitt, N V Radford.

impires: A A Jones and D S Thompsett.

Hampshire v Notts

Hampshire v Notts

PORTSMOUTH (third day of three; Hampshire won toss): Nottinghamshire, with nine fits-knings wickets in hand, are 291 runs behind Hampshire

HAMPSHIRE First Innings

V P Terry c Cooper b Stephenson ____ 0

C L Smith c Pollerd b Stephenson ____ 0

C L Smith c Pollerd b Stephenson ____ 0

T C Middleton c Evans b Saxeby ____ 37

M C J Nicholas c Robinson b Cooper 70

M D Marshall c Nawell b Afford ____ 5

J R Wood c Fronte b Evans _____ 11

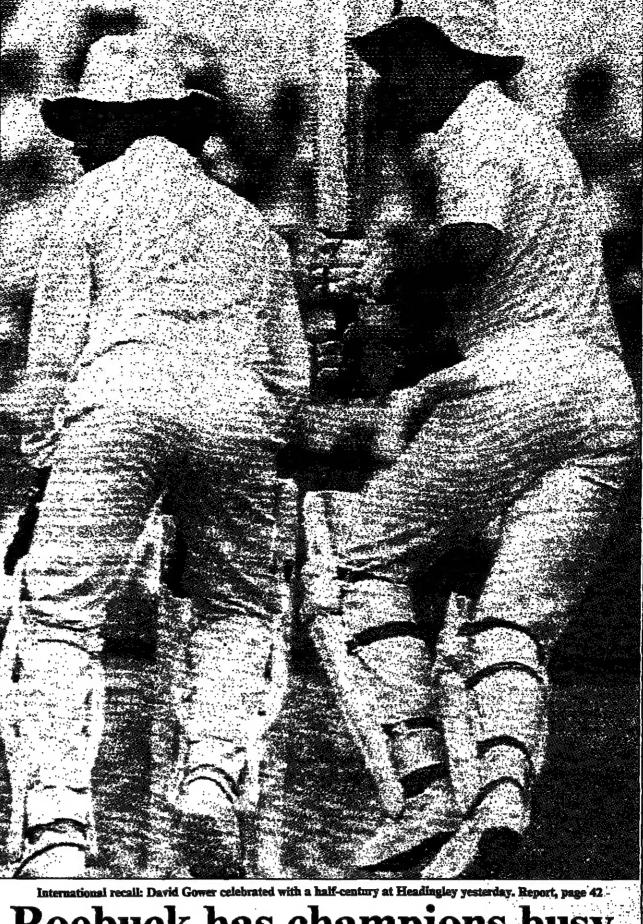

JR Ayling low b Evans _____ 61

TR J Parks c Evars b Cooper _____ 0

R J Maru c Robinson b Evans _____ 19

C A Consor not out _____ 2

FALL OF WICKETS: 1-9, 2-267, 3-398.

Roebuck has champions busy

By JOHN WOODCOCK

WORCESTER (first day of three, Somerset won toss): Somerset have scored 398 for COUNTY champions for the last two years but presently fourteenth in the table, Worcestershire were kept in the field all day yesterday while Somerset made 398 for three. Roebuck and Hayhurst helped them-selves to hundreds, Roebuck's being his thirtieth for the county. Hayhursi's his third since joining them last winter. (left-arm medium pace, over wicket) took the new ball bowled the over of the day. Together they added 258 for merset's second wicket.

there was never going to be a shortage of runs. For once, though, Cook had to go without. This meant that in five championship innings against Worces-tership he has totalled only 72 runs with a top score of 44, an omission which he is keen to put right.

With Dilley and Botham both kept out by knee trouble (Dilley had a loose piece of cartilage removed on Tuesday). Tolky (left-arm medium pace, over the wicket) took the new ball and

Irish player highlights women's tournament

ENGLAND, the holders, cruised to a comfortable eight-wicket win against the Netherlands in their opening match of the second women's European Cup in Leicester yesterday, but the highlight of the first day's play was the sparkling 99 scored by Mary Pat Moore, the Irish opener, against Denmark. Her innings helped Ireland compile a match-winning total of 234 for four off their 55 overs. Although Denmark made a brave effort to reach the target, they lacked the necessary fire-power during the final onslaught.

Moore, who has been living in England and playing for York-shire during the past four sea-sons, came tantalisingly close to becoming Ireland's first centurion in international cricket. She featured in an opening partnership of 141 with Anne Murray, both players scoring with powerful shots all round the wicket. Moore reached her 50 off 89 balls and after batting for 161 minutes and striking ten bound-aries, she was finally out un-

Bonus points: Hampshire 4, Nottingham-shire 4.

Umpires: J C Belderstone and D J

Warwicks v Lancs

Total (7 wids dec) 339
Score at 100 overs: 339 for 7
A R K Pierson and T A Munton did not bat.
FALL OF MICKETS: 1-2, 2-71, 3-105, 4114, 5-117, 6-247, 7-332.

90WLING: Akram 26-6-79-3; Altott 14-1-45-1; Austin 16-8-48-0; Wattonson 15-3-53-1; Hughes 17-0-73-0; Fitton 15-3-48-1.

I ANCASHIRE First limings

TM Moody c Hegg b Akram

D P Ostier bw b Akram

D A Reeve run out

P A Smith c Hughes b Pitton

K J Piper not out

second and third balls of it he best Cook outside the off stump. Several feet under water in January, the outfield at New Road is now parched and lightning fast. Once the pitch second and mirro pails or it no best Cook outside the off stump, the ball each time leaving the bat. Off the fifth, Cook managed to be caught and bowled off a selfishly forcing the pace and playing round a straight ball from Lene Hansen, the pace

Both the Danes and the Dutch play all their cricket on matting wickets, and it was therefore. somewhat surprising when Ingrid Dulfer, the Netherlands captain, won the toss and elected to bat. Completely overawed by the experienced English side, the Dutch never looked comfortable and, after reaching 49 for able and, after reaching 49 for five, they lost their last five wickets for only five runs.

In reply, England never looked to be in any trouble and despite losing two early wickets, opener Carole Hodges guided them to a predictable victory.

SCORES: Netherlands 57 (33 overs) (I School 14, C Berrs 3-1, J Chemberlain 2-15, C Hodges 2-19), England 58-2 (19.5 overs) (C Hodges 2- not out) England won by eight wickets. keland 23-4 (55 overs) (M P Moore 99, A Murry 61, L Hansen 3-47), Desurant; 85-8(55 overs) (J. Jenes 46, B L strong 19, L 8 (55 overs) (J Jensen 49. B Langerhus 42. C Smith 30, S Bray 5-27). Ireland won by 49 runs. Today (11ası start, 55 overs): Ireland v Netherlands: Denmerk v England, Both at John Player AC, Nottingham.

Total (1 wht, 4 overs) 12
TE Jesty, N H Fairbrother, M Wattinson,
"D P Hughes, Washn Alcrem, †W K Hegg,
P J W Allott and I D Austin to bat.

Umpires: R A White and R Palmer.

Essex v Derbyshire

ESSEX V DERDYSHITE

COLCHESTER (first day of three: Derbyshire won toss): Essex, with more trainings wickets in hand, are 206 runs behind Derbyshire: First hwings

K J Bernett C Susphenson b Foster 38

A M Grown C Gamhant b Foster 38

A M Grown C Gamhant b Foster 38

C Goldsmith C Hardie b Such 11

K M Kritken C Hardie b Such 11

K M Kritken C Hardie b Andrew 26

C J Adams of National b Andrew 26

G Miller not out 24

S J Base C Gamham b Andrew 26

Extras (b 1, b 8, nb 5) 14

Total (81.5 overs) 268

Total (81.5 overs) 268
FALL OF WICKETS: 1-67, 2-71, 3-85, 4170, 5-176, 6-189, 7-199, 9-203, 9-231,

Total (1 wkt, 28 overs) 62 M E Waugh, N Hussein, 10 R Phingle, 1M A Gemhem, N A Foster, J H Childs, S J W Andrew and P M Such to bat.

B R Hardle not out
J P Stephenson c Krideen b Bishop
N Stephenson c Krideen b Bishop
Extres (b 4, w 5, nb 8)

FALL OF WICKET: 1-5.

G Fowler c Piper 6 Munton ... J D Fitton not out Extras (tb 1, nb 2)

FALL OF WICKET: 1-7.

leading edge — not off another outswinger, as you might suppose, but off an inswinger. The next wicket fell 78 overs later. A month ago Roebuck was out of the Somerset side and out of sorts. Since coming back into it his championship scores have been 60, 44, 114 not out, 90 not out and new 201 not out the of sorts. Since coming back into it his championship scores have been 60, 44, 114 not out, 90 not out and now 201 not out, the second double-hundred of his with some genuinely handsome strokes. Roebuck hit 26 fours; Hayhurst 15 fours and two sixes.

career. There was nothing the Hayhurst 15 fours and two sixes.

matter that a little confidence. There was a good, perspiring has not put right. He was missed crowd. at the wicket yesterday when he was 72, by Rhodes standing up to Radford, a momentary aberration in an innings built upon concentration and developing in the last hour into a celebration.

Tate moves south Chris Tate, the commercial manager of Barrow rugby league club, is to become full-time development officer with the amateur Hertfordshire side, Hemel Hempstead.

man who is having a trial with the county. Lancashire also came unstuck against a rising young spin bowler in Harvey Trump, aged 21, of Somerset. Having been set 285 to win, Lancashire were bowled out for 209. Trump taking five for 80. Earlier, Ricky Bartlett had exceed his found.

Bartlett had scored his fourth championship century of the season for Somerset.

Bartlett continued his rich vein of form on Tuesday with a brilliant one-day innings of 154 against Gloucestershire. Bath's small ground fell prey to the highest match aggregate re-corded in the Bain Clarkson Trophy as Gloucestershire, with 285-6, vigorously but vainly pursued their bosts' daunting total of 360-4.

It came as no great surprise that the eventual separation of Donelan's haul keeps Sussex in the hunt

SECOND XI CRICKET by SIMON WILDE Sussex compiled a match win-ning total of 299 through a century from Hanley and 54 from Tim De Leede, the Dutch-

THE pace is starting to hot up at the top of the Rapid Cricketline championship. While Notinghamshire, the leaders, and the century from Hanley and 54 Sussex, in second place, both won, third-placed Lancashire unexpectedly lost to Somerset at Old Trafford. Nottinghamshire's victory over Worcestershire owed most to experience, nine first-innings wickets falling to two capped players, John Afford and Mark Saxelby, but Sussex, who beat Middlesex at Hove by 88 runs, were indebted to a phenomenal performance by the young offspinner, Bradleigh Donelan.

In a summer that has been dominated by batsmen but on a pitch conducive to spin, Donelan, aged 22 returned season's best figures of eight for 40 as Sussex took a first-innings lead of one run, and added a further seven wickets in the second innings for a match analysis of fifteen for 142. All of Sussex's second-innings

wickets also fell to spin, but Barnett and Weekes, the Middlesex pair, were nothing YESTERDAY'S SCOREBOARDS

Northants v Kent

M A Robinson to bet. FALL OF WICKETS: 1-5, 2-29, 3-175, 4-207, 5-394, 6-409, 7-419, 8-441.

KENT: M R Benson, S G Hirks, N R Taylor, G R Cowdrey, "C S Cowdrey, † S A Marsh, R M Ellison, M M Patel, P S de Villers, R P Davis, A P (oglesden. Bonus pointe: Northamptonshire 4, Kent

Surrey v Sussex

GUILDFORD (first day of three; Surrey won toss); Surrey have scored $05 for so wickets against Sussex

State of the state

Total (6 wits) _____ Score at 100 overs: 250 for 4

Somerset are now virtually certain of qualifying for the semi-finals, as are Lancashire, who beat Yorkshire at Old Trafford by 32 runs.

66, 5-100, 6-130, 7-204, 8-221, 9-229, 80/MLING: Wildiams 19-5-5-3: Cowrans 11-3-21-0; Emburay 27-10-5-1-4; Hugmes 9-3-5-1; Turnel 24-7-67-2: MADDL ESEK: First Irraings D. L. Heynes c Robinson b Hersby 18 M A Roseberry not out 9 Extras (nb 5) 5

FALL OF WICKET: 1-30 Beaus points: Middlesex 4, Yorkshire Upplies: B Dudleston and J.D Bond.

N M Kendrick, M P Bicknell and Wager Youris to bet. FALL OF WICKETS: 1-2, 2-67, 3-152, 4-228, 5-298, 6-296. 228, 5-298, 6-298, SUSSEC: N J Lenham, J W Hall, "P W G Parker, A P Wells, M P Speight, G M Wells, 1P Moores, A 1 C Doderneide, A C S Pgon, I D K Safistury, S T P Doneten, Bonus points: Surray 3, Sussex 1. Uropines: B J Mayer and K E Palmer, Middlesex v Yorks

Wildelesex V Yorks

Wernoef Chist day of three; Yorkshire won Bosh Addelesex, with nine firstlandps wickets in hand, are 185 runs behind Yorishire

YORISHIRE: First Innings

M D Moson c Rosebenry b Williams 12:
C Chapman c Ferbrace b Williams 12:
C Chapman c Ferbrace b Williams 0

P E Robinson c Emburey b Hughes 3

D Byas c Getting b Emburey 3

C White c Haynes b Williams 12:
C S Picules c Roseberry b Tufnell 17:
P J Hardey c Farbrace b Tufnell 11:
S D Fetcher not out 0

Ednes (b 6, b 5, nb 11) 22:
Total (90 overs) 263

Total (90 overs) 243 FALL OF WICKETS: 1-31, 2-31, 3-39, 4-56, 5-106, 6-195, 7-204, 8-229, 9-239,

Total (1 ext., 17 overs) ... M R Remoralisath, K R Brown, 149 Farbrace, J E Emburey, N F Williams, S P Hughes, P C R Tufnet and N G Cowlins to

Olympian ambitions face stiff

VOLLEYBALL

testing

By RODDY MACKENZIE

RALPH Hippolyte is a keeper of dreams. Some would say those dreams are harboured by too few people and are too fantastic

The Haitian-born former coach to the French women's team defied all logic last winter by accepting the two year contract to coach the Great Britain

men's team. Britain has show an encouraging growth in the number of volleyball players over the last ten years; but, in terms of the international game, it remains a backwater.

Hippolyte has been charged with laying the foundations for a Great Britain team to qualify the the Olympic Games finals something never achieved yet there are optimists who predic that the dream could be realised that the dream could be realised as soon as 1996.

At the Aston Villa Centre in Birmingham this week, Hippolyte faces his first test. Canada, Bulgaris and South Korea—all of whom have qualified for the finals of the world championships in Brazil in October—provide the opposition in the Royal Bank Cup for a group of English, Scottish Welsh and Irish men who have never met such illustrious com-never met such illustrious com pany in serious competition.

pany in serious competition.

Hippolyte is making no rash predictions. "At least after this week we'll know where we are," he said. "It'll provide a guide line and everyone will know what they have to do."

He has been working his squad an unprecedented eight hours a day at a training camp in Yorkshire for the last week, and he stresses that attitudes must change if he is to succeed.

"A lot of players have stanted too old and been playing in a setup that's too easy." he said. "The talent is there, but you have to play 50 international matches a year and train every day. The sport is purely amateur.

matches a year and train every day. The sport is purely amateur here. Until we get them file players] in a position where they can train every day, then we'll never know what they're capable of. The clubs here should be training a minimum of four times a week."

Hippolyse denies there has been any problem working with players who have different national characteristics. "It has nor created any problems," he said. "I encountered similar things in the United States, People may not be friends off court, but they will work very hard on the court will work very hard on the cour if they have the same targets."

PROGRAMME: Tomorrow: Great Britain v Korea (6.30pm); Canada: v. Bulgaria (8.30pm); Friday: Great Britain v Bulgaria (6.30pm); Canada v Korea (8.30pm); Saturday: Great Britain v Canada (2pm); Korea v Bulgaria (4pm).

ram f Good ith A Hole in not mucl

The second secon

lowdray go

nto the cu

POLO

ina E

RUGBY UNION New head of schools union

By DAVID HANDS RUGBY CORRESPONDENT:

the Rugby Football Union's regional director for the World Cup next year, is to become president of the Rugby Football Schools Union.
He succeeds John Kendali, who died suddenly in May, at a time of considerable development in the junior game; indeed Kendall-Carpenter, in his last report as RFSU president, recommended a schools day at Twickenham, where special spectator pro-vision is being made for youngsters.

Shuttleworth's appointment comes in the same month that the RFU has concluded an agreement with Wolverhampton council to lease the Castlecroft stadium, the former Wandezers training ground, which has be come in recent seasons an integral part of England's colls training programme. The sta-dium is to become the union's national centre for youth night

THE TIMES COUNTY CRICKET Call 0898 400736 1 BC secures GOLF

Call 0898 400731. The five winners of the Open Championship competition are. Andrew Richmond, of Pinner, John Nellist, of London El7:

Graham Crossley, of Wakefield, W. J. Ames, of Birmingham, B5: and Brian Marr, Newcastle/Tyne They each win a VIP trip for two:
to St Andrews, with fullhospitality and two nights hotel accommodation to ensure they enjoy the tournament to unhurried style

RACING

Call 0898 500123 Call 0898 100123

owe's double Selection of the select

Grand Prix

OPENE

40707×

Former champion is a source of inspiration

هكذامن الأم

lympia nbition ace stiff

OLLEYBALI

testing.

ATHLETICS

Cram forced out of Goodwill Games with Achilles injury

By DAVID POWELL, ATHLETICS CORRESPONDENT

After disappointing performances in his last two inter-

STEVE Cram, Britain's world mile record-holder, yesterday withdrew from the Goodwill Games, which are to be held appointed to have to pull out next week in Seattle. Cram, of the Goodwill Games." who was to have run in the 1,500 metres, has been suffer29. last raced internationally. injury and may be struggling fitness in Cagliari two weeks to be fit for the British trials ago by running a 1,500 metres to be fit for the British trials for the European champion-ships in just over a fortished. ago by running a 1,500 metres in 3min 38,31sec, and he is ships in just over a fortnight's able to regain fitness quickly.

Cram has won two European titles in succession, but, national championships - the not only does a third look 1987 World championship unlikely, particularly with and the 1988 Olympic Games Peter Elliott in supreme form, a question-mark exists as to consecutive championship whether he will even make it to the European championships at all.

Cram explained vesterday: "I haven't fully recovered from the recent injury and I'm Another British athlete with not fit enough to race on European championship

- he is facing a second missed through injury: he was unable to recover fitness in time for the 1990 Commonwealth Games after a calf problem

Elliott changes plans

PETER Elliott has abandoned PETER Ellion has abandoned plans for two races this weekend to go back into training, hoping to regain his sparkle of earlier in the season before the European Oslo Caller in the Dream Mile in the season before the European championships in Yugoslavia

The Commonwealth cham-The Commonwealth champion has withdrawn from a 1,500 metres at the Parcelforce Games grand prix meeting at Crystal Palace tomorrow and a General Portfolio mile in Cardiff on Sunday.

The season's main target has always been the European championships and everything has to be geared to that."

Oslo, followed by a low-key 1,500 metres run in Belfast, convinced Elliott and his coach. Kim McDonald, that the

GOLF

Hole in one is not much help

By a Special Correspondent

ANDREA Perriam, the three holes in the second match. Glamorgan county champion, scored a hole in one in the English Ladies Counties finals at East Devon, Budleigh Salterton, yesterday.

She used a six-iron at the 122yd 13th, but it turned out to be neither particularly lucky day for her, nor for her county. Perriam's opponent, Alison MacDonald, of Hampshire, said: "I had gone to sleep in the middle of the round, but Andrea's ace woke me up a bit."

LIGEY UNI

union

TS SERVICE

10 all all

India

MacDonald promptly eagled the par five 14th, hitting a nine-iron to 20 feet and sinking the putt. Then Perriam bunkered at the 15th and lost it to par, and MacDonald finished the match at the 16th. This started a slump by Glamorgan, who were de-did so by six matches to three, RESULTS: Glamorgan v Hampshirer Foursonest: D Christison and A Pertamiost to L Currinins and C Currin, 4 and 2; J Foster and S Mountford halved with. L McCombe and C String; J Baker and V MacCorrise bt A McCorrise and v HacDonais and H Wheeler, 1 up. Singless Pertam tost to MscCorrise bt A McCorrise to to Currin; J Baker and V MscCorrise bt C Christison icet to Cuinn, 5 and 4; Foster lost to S Fickles, 2 and 1; Baker bt Wheeler, 2 and 1; MacKorrish lost to K Egitord, 1 up; Mcuntord lost to Suring, 2 and 3; Hampshire bt Glamorgan 65-25%.

Cheshire v Nottinghemshire: Foursomes. J Morley and G Willeams bt J Berry and L.

did so by six matches to three.

by Glamorgan. Who were defeated by 6½ matches to 2½.

Hampshire had appeared likely to win the morning four-somes, but a series of mishaps befell Liz McCombe and Chris Stirling, who had led Julie Foster and Sara Mountford by made good by Baddiola (his

In the last minute d'Angieri got away unmarked to close the deficit for his squad.

This afternoon's semi-final between Pendell and Hildon, will decide who Cowdray Park are to face next Sunday.

In the Gannon semi-final match Ellerston White defeated

Tramontana, the Davidoff Gold

Cup-holders, 10-5.
Cowpray PARK: 1. The Hon C Pearson (2): 2. T Ezcurs (6): 3. J Badiola (6): back: P Withers (6): 1. P D'Angleri (1): 2, M Aguerre (7): 3, E Trotz (10); back: N Evans (4).

(4). ELLERSTON WHITE: 1, A Wade (4): 2 G, Tanoira (8): 3, G Pieres (10): back: K

Packer (1). TRAMONTANA: 1, A Embricos (3); 2 R. Gonzalez (7); 3, C Gracida (10); back: P Cowley (3).

POLO

Cowdray go forward into the cup final

By JOHN WATSON in a 60-yard penalty shot by Withers which was taken up and

THE challenge for the British open championship was carried a stage further yesterday when Cowdray Park captured their place in the Davidoff Gold Cup final next Sunday by defeating Diamond D 8-7 on the River ground at Midhurst, Sussex.

Both aggregated team handicaps of the top allowance of 22. Both had, during the past three weeks, fought their way de-cisively to the head of their respective leagues. Both sides fielded powerful central Argentine duos, Aguerre and Troiz, the sensational tenoaler, for Diamond D: Badiola and Ezcurra for Cowdray.

When it was 6-6 in the last thukka, after Cowdray had led Cowdray in the lead again. Then a foul hook by Aguerre resulted

IN BRIEF

BBC secures Grand Prix

BBC Television has completed a four-year deal with the Formula One Constructors' Association to screen all Grand Prix motor racing from 1991—.

The deal covers the 16 races that count towards the world drivers' championship and in-cludes the British grand prix.

Lowe's double Graham Lowe, the Manly and former Wigan coach, is also to coach the Queensland state side STANDREWS OPEN GOLF LINE 0836 407072 Orașel Suz 360 Gleogow, Rates 25p per șein, (Cleop Rate 25p per min all other times.

ATHLETICS

GLASGOW: Netioner verterans championshipes: Winners: Merc 100m: G Nached
(Edinburgh Southern), 15.8ec. 200m: B
Townley (East Chashrel. 241, 400m: P
Browne (Thames Valley), 51.7. 800m: R
Nartung (Blackheeth), 2-mn (II-Sec. 5,000m: R
Nartung (Blackheeth), 2-mn (II-Sec. 5,000m: R
Hants (Coventry), 15.01.2.3,000m steeplechases: J. Kennego (Victora Park), 6-465.
110m hanties: T Wells (Coventry), 15.7. Long jump: M James (Windsor, Slough and Eton), 7.15m (Britten record). Triple Jump: James, 13.04m; State N Griffin (Windsor, Slough and Eon), 13.00m. Hammer: T Latley (Swisnee),
46.10m. Jam wells: R Cara (Brosheid),
46.10m. Jam wells: R Cara (Brosheid),
46.20m. Powell, 214.5. 3km wells: C Reader (Ryston), 15:35.2.

BASEBALL

NATIONAL LEAGUE: Chicago Cubs 7, San Diego Padres 2, Cincinnan Reds 6, Montreal Expos 2, San Francisco Glams 6, Pitisburgh Prates 3: Altenta, Braves 14, Philadelphia Philate 17: St Louis Cardinals 3, Los Angelas Dodgers 0: New York Mets 8, Houston Astros

2.
AMERICAN LEAGUE: Cleveland Indians, 4, Oakland A's 2: Kansas City Royals 10, New York Yankess 7; Baltimore Oncles 5, Texas Rangers 3; Boston Red Sox 1, Mannesota Twins 0; Chicago Winter Sox 7, Derroth Tigers 2; California Angels 8, Mitwaukee Brewers 1; Sestile Manners 7, Toronto Blue Jays 5. BASKETBALL

KUALA LUMPUR: Women's world chempion-shipe: Quarter-finals: Group A: Bulgara bt Canada. 65-81: Unsed States bt Cuba. 67-76: Cuba bt Budgara. 83-81: Unsed States bt Canada. 95-71. Group B: Yugoslavia bt Czechoslovákia. 81-66: Soviet Union bt Austraka, 70-80; Czechoslováka bt Soviet Union, 82-79: Yugoslavia bt Austraka, 80-70.

CROQUET HURLINGHAM: British Open chempionships: Singles: First resent: D L Gunssekers bt E Berl. +20. +2: D B Maughem bt D C Reeve, +17. +25(p.) r G Vincent bi B C Sykes. -25. +9. +10. M French bi B Prichard. +16. +24: J Burtidge bt C Southern. +21. +25: R Colligien bt M J Stevens. +6. +5: M EW Head of C D Carké. +9. +16. Second roand: S Comish bt J D Greenwood. -4. +1. +10: M N Avery bt I D Bond. +6. -19. +17: S N Milliam bt D Goacher. +17(p. +25(p. G W Noble bt F Landor. +4. +4: G N Asphall bi A J Mrozinski. +25. +16: R I Fulford bt D J McCormack. +19. +4: J O Wisters bt L Palmer, +13, +17.

hopes, Carl Thackery, is at least back in full training and looking forward to Split. One of three men selected to run the marathon - the marathon squads were named in April -Thackery spent two months although he showed sound out, also with an Achilles tendon injury. He hopes that the eight weeks he has been left with to prepare for the Europeans will take him to the start line in competitive condition. Since Britain struggled to find three marathon runners worthy of selection after the trial at London, there was no pressure on Thackery to give up his place. He maintained conditioning with swimming, weight training and cycling, but said: "If I had left it any later, I could not have gone."

Thackery has yet to run an international class marathon time - his best is 2hr 14min 19sec - but, as an outstanding half-marathon runner, he was selected on his potential.

 Julius Kariuki, from Kenya, the 1988 Olympic 3,000 metres steeplechase champion, was arrested at Barcelona airport after allegedly trying to smuggle $43,000 (£24,000) out of the country, following the international meeting there on Monday. Only $5,000 can be taken out of Spain undeclared. Kariuki, aged 29, had won the steeplechase the night before.

SAILING

Budd takes advantage of resail

The Glamorgan pair scraped a half on the last green, leaving the foursomes tied at 1½ points THE third race of the European Laser championships in Lamor Plage. L'orient, was abandoned by the race officer when the leaders were on the final beat, Hampshire secured five of the but the resail proved successful for Mike Budd, who led from start to finish and held off a strong challenge throughout from his British team-mate, Tim Powell (a Special Correspondent united) six singles in a style so should trouble the favourites, Cheshire, who, as holders, were expected to beat Nottinghamshire and pondent writes).

Some new faces appeared at the top of the field yesterday, with Pascal Leroy, of France, fourth in the early stages, Har-old Huska, of Austria, third and Harold Eckardt, of Denmark, fifth. But, at the end of the first triangle, Huska had dropped to fifth, Leroy went to sixteenth and Eckardt was replaced by Sebastian Godfried, of Belgium, Henrik Hammelso, of Denmark Briton. RESULT: 1, M Budd (GB): 2, T Powell (GB), 3, S Godfried (Bel): 4, H Hammelso (Den): 5, S Hudson (GB): 6, P Nocke (WG).

GLIDING

Jeffery shows great speed

SOARING conditions proved better than the predicted "blue" at Booker yesterday enabling the field to produce high speeds over the 322km triangular course via Melton Mowbray and Newbury, reducing the "gaggling" otherwise expected (a Special Correspondent writes). Chris Rollings's fifth place kept him in the overall lead but only 200 points now cover the top five. The winner on the day was Phil Jeffery, whose true speed of 112kph is remarkable for a Standard Class machine in UK conditions.

UK conditions.
PROVISIONAL RESILTS:Booker Day 4:
(322km trianguler): 1, P Jeffery, L57,
112.1kph, 1.000pts: 2, P Sheard, Discus,
111.4, 931: 3; P Gaislord, Discus, 111.0, 986: 4, S White, L57, 110.1, 973: 5, C
Rollings, Discus, 109.0, 959: 6, A Kay,
ASW24, 109.3, 949: 7, M Wells, L57,
108.2, 948. Camutentive: 1, Rollings,
3.549pts: 2, J. Edyvean, Discus, 3.597:3, R
Lysakowski, Discus B, 3,574; 4, White,
3,528; 5, R Harding, Discus B, 3,478; 6,
Sheard, 3,436; 7, D Campbell, Discus,
3,397. was runner-up last week for the Army Queens medal.

CRICKET

Swim quartet: Gallop with her three contenders for the national championships King grants Davies's wishes

SHARRON Davies is planning to travel to Australia in the autumn to be coached by Joe King, the man behind the success of Hayley Lews, the 15-th process of Mayley Lews, the 15-th process of Mayley Lews, the 25-th process of Mayley Lews, the 25-t year-old who won five gold medals at the Commonwealth Games (Craig Lord writes). Davies, who retired from competition after winning a silver medal at the Moscow Olympic Games but returned to racing last year, is looking to King to boost her performances in a 50-metre pool before the world championships in Perth, Australia, next January. Only an elite British team will travel to Australia in January, and Davies believes her key to

ENGLAND retained the Elco

terday, frustrating a strong Scottish attempt to win the Trophy back for only the second time in

in the match, and they took the lead by ten points.

England reduced this to two points from 1.100 yards, but the teams were neck and neck for much of the match until, in a nail biting finish, the English captain, John de Havilland, put his last ten shots firmly in the centre at 1,200 yards, for a personal total of 215 out of 225, bringing England up to 1,635 for an eight-point advantage. Ireland trailed throughout, finishing with 1,525 but their top scorer, Paul Charlton, shooting in the team for the first time made a useful 205.

ionship, the overall performance test based on the eight main competitions, were domi-nated by the Ghurka rifles and their signals regiment, who took out of the first ten in the prize list, with the main trophy going to Sargeant Tej Bahadur, who

The service rifle champ-

Scotland made a brilliant start at 1,000 yards, with Hamish Hunter putting all ten shots into the bullseye, the only full score

Davies's plan has the backing of Rosa Gallop, her coach at

SHOOTING

England captain

sees off Scots

By a Special Correspondent

Bracknell, who has seen some of her top squad make large improvements since the Olympian's return to the pool.
Gallop will take one of the best women trios in Britain to the national championships at

Davies, who trains at a 25-metre pool in Berkshire, said: the national championships at Crystal Palace next week. Apart from Davies, who will be looking for victory in the 200m individual medley, Gallop is hopeful of success with Jeannette Gunston, the England Commonwealth representative who has been beaten only once at 50m freestyle in the last eight months. Making up the trio is Emma Tattum, aged 17, who is one of Britain's most promising backstroke swimmers. "It is imperative that I get some good, hard long-course swimming in. I have proved myself time and again short-course this year. Now I need to translate that success to 50-metre swimming. Joe has agreed to let me train with him in Brisbane, now all I need is some help with the travel. I'm waiting for a reply from Virgin Airlines."

There were several Ghurkas

but even they could not keep up

Ashburton Shield.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL

Bosworth released by Seattle

By ROBERT KIRLEY

Challenge Shield in the match in the regular army team for the rifle international at Bisley yes-terday, frustrating a strong Scotevent, the United Services Cup, BRIAN Bosworth, one of the most hyped and highest paid players in the National Football League (NFL), is on the scrapheap after just 24 pro-fessional games. Known as "The Boz", the colourful, brash player with the Canadian Forces, who won by 54 points, with the Royal Marines in third place, one point behind the army. was supposed to be the next great linebacker. Instead, the Seattle Seahawks released him The services will start to The services with such to move out today, as the ranges are taken over by several hundred boys and girls in the annual schools championship for the

this week because arthritic shoulders ruled him out of further action.

Bosworth, aged 25, who carned All-America honours at the University of Oklahoma, was not expected to be given a chance with another NFL club. Chosen first in the 1987 supplemental draft, he signed a ten-year contract worth $11 million (about £6.1 million). Bosworth-who was to receive $600,000 (£331,000) in basic salary from (£331,000) in casic salary from Seattle this year, will not starve. He has an insurance policy that reportedly pays $7.3 million (£4.03 million) for a careerending injury. He also has a budding cinema career.

The articulate Bosworth, who wrote an autobiography before playing a professional game, started 12 games as a rookie in 1987. He was slowed by a shoulder injury in 1988 and played in only ten games. Last season he played in two games before injuring his other shoul-der. He finished his NFL career with 175 tackles in 24 games. Another flamboyant player, Jim McMahon, will play back-up to the quarterback, Randali Cunningham, of the Philadel-phia Eagles, on a one-year contract. McMahon led the Chicago Bears to a Super Bowl title in 1985. He joined the San Diego Chargers in 1989 and played in all 16 games, starting 11.

pound investment in the Foot-ball League's Cup competition. Although the League's commercial department at Wembley, due to announce the successor to Littlewoods at the end of its four-year sponsorship, insisted on "no comment" ves-terday. Ian Schoolar. National Power's corporate commercial manager, confirmed the com-pany had been approached and

The League Cup, founded in the 1960-61 season, was known as the Milk Cup during 1982-80, when the Milk Marketing Board became the first sponsor. It was thereafter known as the Littlewoods Cup as Littlewoods took over with a four-year sponsorship worth £2.25 mil-lion. The next deal is similarly · MOSCOW: The Soviet football federation appointed the Dynamo Moscow trainer. Anatoly Byshovets, as national team manager yesterday (Reuter

FOOTEALL

National Power considers £4m League Cup deal

NATIONAL Power, the electricity generating company that earned daily television coverage during the World Cup finals by sponsoring the ITV presenta-tions for £2 million, seems likely to continue its association with football with a multi-million-was considering a deal. A formal announcement of the new sponsor is expected in the next few days, and the first round of competition begins in the last week of August.

expected to cover a four-year period but is likely to be worth £4 million.

Byshovets, aged 44, was in charge of the Soviet Olympic team which won the gold medal in Scoul in 1988. He succeeds Valery Lobanovsky, who had announced he would step down after the World Cup. Unlike his predecessor, who carried on managing Dynamo Kiev after his appointment as national manager, Byshovets will concentrate on the national Middlesborough have signed the lpswich town and former Liverpool defender. John Wark. A fee has yet to be agreed for the out-of-contract player.

Colin Todd, the Middles-brough manager, said: "Wark will provide valuable experience in our young side. I want him to do a similar job to Peter Reid at Manchester City, I am not worried about Wark's being 33 next month; he has always looked after himself."

The former Scottish international said: "I am ready for a fresh challenge. I was very disappointed with Ipswich's offer and Todd persuaded me on a move to the North-East."

The England forward, Steve Bull, has been given an extended summer break of ten days by the second-division club, Wolver-hampton Wanderers, following his World Cup exertions in Italy. Bull's clubmates began pre-season training yesterday.

Keeley seeks exit

Brighton have placed the goal-keeper, John Keeley, aged 29, on the transfer list at his request. Keeley, rated at around £400,000, has told the club he wants to play in a higher grade of football,

Search goes on for Taylor's successor

DOUG Ellis, the chairman of initiative yesterday.
Aston Villa, appears to have Villa, though, do not appear drawn another blank in his drawn another blank in his search for a replacement for Graham Taylor, the newly appointed England manager.

After being turned down by Joe Jordan, of Bristol City, Ellis yesterday approached Bristol Rovers for permission to speak to their manager, Gerry Francis, Rovers immediately called an emergency board meeting to discuss the issue, promising a reply within 24 hours. But the answer will almost certainly be answer will almost certainly be in the negative.

"We are not remotely in-terested in letting Gerry go." Denis Dunford, the Rovers chairman, sa.d. "He signed a new one-year contract last mouth and we expect him to honour it."

way were cleared for him. But he has given an undertaking to abide by the board's decision.

If they say no to Villa then I will honour my contract. I would not walk out and do the would not walk out and do the dirty on them." Francis said. Bobby Gould, the former Rovers manager, is among the applicants to succeed Taylor at Villa Park. Gould, who earlier in to be missing Taylor's guidance on their pre-season tour of Sweden. They won their third match, against IFK Askersund, 11-1, with four goals from Olney and a hat-trick by Platt. That will do no harm to the claims of John Ward, their assistant manager, when his own application to succeed Taylor is considered.

Nottingham Forest have discounted reports that their Eng-land defender. Des Walker, is the subject of a £2.2 million bid by the Spanish champions, Real Madrid. Their chairman, Maurice Roworth, said: "No one from any Spanish club has contacted the ground or any official of the club. Des has just signed a new contract and is staying with Nottingham For-Francis has made no secret of est. his interest in the Villa job if the Ahmed Shobeir, the Egyptian goalkeeper who had a successful World Cup, arrived on Merseyside yesterday to start a ten-day trial period with Everton (Ian Ross writes). Shobeir will train with the club's senior professionals, and if he was to impress his move could become permanent as Everton are seeking an under-study to Neville Southall, the Welsh international, following the summer surprisingly re-signed from his job at Wimble-don, contacted Ellis on his own to Wolverhampton Wanderers.

TODAY'S FIXTURES

CRICKET Assurance

Britannic COLCHESTER: Essex v Derbyshire PORTSMOUTH: Hamoshire v Nottinghamshire UXBRIDGE: Middlesex v Yorkshire NORTHAMPTON: Northampton shire v Kent

GUILDFORD: Surrey v Sussex COVENTRY: Warwickshire v WORCESTER: Worcestershire v

Somerset

MINOR COUNTIES CHAMPIONSHIP:
Fenser's Cambridgeshire v Hemiordshire: Derlington: Durham v Staffordshire; Weymouth: Dorset v Misshire.
RAPID CRICKETLINE SECOND XI
CHAMPIONSHIP: Swanses: Gizmorgan v
Warwickshire: Maidstone: Kent v Hampshire: Old Trafford: Lancashire v Yorkshire: Leicester: Leicestershire v Essex; Bedford School: Northampionshire v
Middlesex: Taunton: Somerset v
Worcestershire: The Oval: Surrey v
Nortinghamshire; Hove: Sussex v Derbysnire.
WOMEN'S FUROPEAN CUP: Leicester: WOMEN'S EUROPEAN CUP: Leicester: England v Netherlands; Hinckley: Den-mark v Ireland.

OTHER SPORT

BOWLS: Representative: Eastern Counties v Midland Courties (Northampton West End); Kent semi-Imais and quarter-finais ripies (Forest Hill); Inter-County; Devon v Comwall (St. tvest; Essex v London Parks (Ifford); Oxfordshire v Cambridgeshire (Barbury Borough).

GOLP: The Open Championship (St Andrews); England women's county finals (East Devon).

SPORT ON TV AUSTRALIAN RULES: Eurosport 11-1am: Highlights of today's events.

BASSBALL: Screensport 9-10am: Major League highlights. BOXING: Screensport 6-7pm: Highlights of US professional events. of De professional events. CRICKET: BBC2 9-30-10.10am: Highlights of the one day Texaco Trophy between England and India from Headingley.

of the one day Texaco Trophy between England and India from Headingley.

CYCLING: C4 6.30-7pm and 12.35-1pm: Highlights of Stage 18 of the Tour de France: Eurosport 9-10pm, 6-7pm and 1-2am. Highlights of the Tour de France. EQUESTRANISM: Screensport 4.30-5.30pm: Highlights of the Kerrygold Dublin show featuring the European Country Puissance event.

GOLF: BBC1 2.20-4 (pm: Coverage of the 119th Open Championship from St An-ciews: BBC2 10.10-1.20pm, 3-7.35pm and 11.15-11.45: Highlights of the Open Championship: BSB 9-10pm and 12.30-1am: Highlights of the Open Championship and the PGA tour: Eurosport Midday-5.30pm and 9-11pm: Highlights of the Open Championship: Screensport 1-2pm: Bank of Boston Classic from Sutton, Massachuserts. ICE HOCKEY: BSB NHL highlights. MOTORSPORT: Screensport 7-8am and 2000 CONTRANIC C

ICE MOCKEY: 858 NHL highlights.
MOTORSPORT: Screensport 7-8am and 9 30-10.30pm: Highlights of Cerrera two Cup from Aovs, round three of the 944 Turbo Cup, from Mothlary and the Mariboro Grand Prix from Meadowlands,
New Jersey.
POWERBOATING: 858 1.30-2.30pm and 10-10.30pm. Highlights: Screensport Midnight-lam. Highlights of the Budweiser Thurder on Onio from Inclane.
RALLYCROSS: Screensport 8-9am: HighInghis of the International Super Prix from Lydden Hill.
RUGBY LEAGUE: 859 2-4pm: Highlights

RUGSY LEAGUE: 858 2-4pm; Highlights

RUGHY LEAGUE: BSB 2-4pm: Highlights of Australian events.

SPORTSDESK: BSE 1.25-1.30pm, 6.0-6.30pm. 7.30-8pm, 10.30-11.30pm and mdright-12.30.

TENNIS: Eurosport Midday-5.30pm and 7-8pm: Highlights of roday a play of the Mercedes Cup trom Stuffpan, West Germany: Screensport 7.30-8.30pm; Highlights of the Volvo Hall of Fame championships. transploration.

TRIATHLON: Screensport Midday-Inst. Highights of the Coca-Cola Portaterry from Ireland.

FOR THE RECORD MacRee 54), Wales 13-0.
SCHOOLS MATCHES: Hampshire Under-18
82 (A Gales 4-42). Surray Under-19 93-6:
Dorset Under-13 170-9, Surray Under-13 158-4 Match drawn.
STREEN MATCH: Gentlemen of Essex 273 (J Milyara 105: P Godden 5-38): Gentlemen of Leicesurshire 277-2 (R Burbon 114, N Matthews 59 not out, J Pord 57).

Ashburton Shield.

RESULTS: 8SA Cup (500 yards): 1, Rin Ducch Rai (6 GR), 50; 2, CPO W Sheather (FAN), 49; 3, Mine J Waller (RM), 49, Interservices sub-reachine-gun bowl (feams of egint): 1, Regular Army, 1012; 2, Royal Navy, 940; 3, RAF, 952; Cheyleamore Cup (snapshooting knockout): 1, 1st Yorks; 2, Jamacan Detence Force "A"; 3, 2nd Yorks. Hamilton Leigh Cup (obstacle shoot): 1, Commando forces "C", 42%; Commando forces "C", 42%; Commando forces "C", 42%; Commando forces "A" and Welsh Guards 42, Service Rifle Championship (overall performance): 1, 52; Tej Bahadur (2/2 GR), 612; 2 Lt Kriskna; (Royal Signals), 610; 3, L/Cpt Khamir Jiang (6 GR), 609. Queen Mary Trophy (combat shooting): Equal 1, Sqt Navindra Gurung (Royal Signals), CFN F Taylor (Australian Army) and Lance Corporal G Khamir Jiang (6 GR), 199. United Services Cup: 1, Canadian Forces, 1870; 2, Regular Army, 1818; 3, Royal Marines, 1815; Schools; Financial Times Cup (snapshooting): 1, R Burch (Epscan), 50,50,49; 2, Smith (Crarterhouse), 50,50,44; equal 3, G McCabe (Mid Hill) and S Osmond (Uppingham), 50,49 Sunday Times Trophy (snapshooting): 1, Halleybury, 194; equal 2, Epscand, 1627; 3, Ireland 205.

EVENING RACING

event contenders

6.20 (5) 1. Tiber Flow (W R Swinburn, 6-1): 2. Long Knives (4-6 fav); 3. Quaglino (8-2). 6 ran. 11, 141. M Stoute. Totar: 25.20; 21.90, £1.40. DF: £3.50. CSF: £9.91. After

WORLD EQUESTRIAN GAMES

Previews by Mark Phillips on the 3-day

Peter Churchill on show jumping equestrian scene

 Pegotty Henriques on Dressage and Marcy Drummond on Long distance riding

 Jill Holah on Driving Plus biographies of the British Team Full timetable of events and Sandringham Driving Each week Horse and Hound brings you up-to-date news and comment with full colour pictures from the

New comprehensive results section – For the record

CRICKET

RAPID CRUCKETLINE SECOND XI CHAMPIONSHIP: Hove: Sussex 417-4 dec (G P Burnett 212.K Greenfleid 129); Derbyshrie 60
1. Maidsteiner Hampshire 361-6 dec (R M F
Cox 129); Kem 12-0. Old Trefferd: Yorkshire 363-6 dec (R M Harriey 103 not out. N G Nacholson 93. K Sharp 58: I Foliey 4-165);
Lancashire 24-0, Transfort: Sprengers 227 (J)
E Hardy 104. J C M Adurson 63); Worcestershire 128-4 (G R Haynes 75: not out.) Leicestein: Leicesteinshire 239 (P Willey 75. L Potter 56: G Lowel 4-56); Elessex 115-4.
Swannese: Warredcothire 197 (P C L Holloway 73: H A G Anthony 4-54); Blamorgan 95-2.
MINOR COUNTIES CHAMPHONSHIP;
Fennesit: Herfordshire 228-3 dec (A NeedJam 113 not out; and 12-0; Cambridgishire
198-5 dec (N J Adams 89 not out.) I S
Lawrence 58), Bury 37 Etimanties Suffort 2438 dec (S M Clements 137. J C M Lewis 6-82)
and 202-5 dec (N S A McSevoy 94), Nortok, 192
(C J Rogers 60; M D Balley 4-57) and 173-8 (M D Balley 4-31), March drawn.
Millinor COUNTIES CHAMPHONSHIP; Jeemond: Northumbertand 220-8 dec (J A Benn 121) and 280-3 dec (S R Morre 118 not out.) A Charles 59, Bury 104 197-7 dec (J P Bodd 94);
Wales MC 207-3 dec (G R Horre 118 not out.) A Charles 59, 198-198, 198-199, 199-199, 199Buckingtamshire 212-8 dec (J P Bodd 94);
Wales MC 207-3 dec (A Hams 99) and 157-6
GE Lloyd 72 not out, Match drawn, Weillagton: Stronshire 248-8 dec (S Burrow-68, G Edmands 5-50), Trowbridge: Witchire 237-6
dec (D R Turner 64, B H Withle 59), Comwell
154-9(S Hooper 26; C R Trembeth 4-51), Barry
28-9 (C J Rogers 65; M D Balley 4-57)
BABN CLARISSON TRICHIY: Bedforch Northamphonshire 190-7 (R R Montgomerie 56); Borkhamse: Surfol A Barrich; Gleenforgan
248-9 (40 overs) (M P Mannard 66; M D Crowe
249-040 vers) (M P Mannard 66; M D Crowe

Derbystrate 199 (1) G. Osomian St.; A L. Pencerthy 4-38), Northamptoneine work by 3 stickets.

SWANSEA: Day-eight ametic. Glamforgan 238-9 (40 overs) (M.P. Maynard SR, M.D. Crowe 4-51); Rest of the World X1 237-5 (32.1 overs) (M.J. Graetmatch 88, C.L. Hooper 59), Rest of the World won by 5 wiscoke.

COCKSPIR CUP. Skith neuse: York 151, Awaston and Southon 152-0 (G. Smith 74 not dut. C. Mottem 72 not out.).

MCA OVER-503 CHAMPTONESTEP. Wisishire: 188-7 (P. Meehan 61), Globackiershare 181; Heritorishire: 194-7 (D. Lawcon 4-40), Lancoh-shite: 145-9, Sutfolk 196-7, Hums and Penerbroucup. 197-6. Cheshare 207-4 (T. Ryder 69), Worcestenshire: 146, Comerali 141 (P. Kinghi 52), Dorset 105 (W. Brotheton 4-1).

TOUR MATCH: Old Blundelsigns 226-4 dec. Often and West Warnotck 227-3.

TITWOOD, Glassgow: Under-19 International: Scotland 302-6 dec. (6. Malen 76 not out.).

NATIONAL LEAGUE: Poole 73, Rye House

HOURISLOW: Middlesex pairs charac-location: Senti-finals: J Brooks and G Smyth (Paddington) 32. C Pink and T Webb (Broomfeld) 14; T Williams and J Makepoace (NLP) 18, C Herman and P Cater (West Ealing)

RALLYING PENMACHNO, North Wales: Mobil 1 Rully Challenge: First stage: equal 1, P Aindcaia (Fm), S Biomprist (Swe), M Wilson (GB), at Zmin Objec. 4, A Floro (ID, 205; 5, D Liewellin (GB), 211, 6, L Attken-Walker (GB), 216. TOUR MATCH: Glenfield College, Audidun 12, King's, Macclesheld 17.

EMBLL KNOCKOUT CUP: Quarter-fin st leg: Milton Keynes 40, Middlesbrou ABERSOCH: GP14 national champlorishin Fourth race: 1, D Sherwin (Leigh-on-Sea); 2 (Bowen (Northampton): 3, I Southwort (Southport: 4, S McCullock (Stone), Owera

Sandown Park Going: good to firm

21.30, 21.40, DT: 26.30, CSP: 29.91. Amer a steward's enquiry, result sood. 8.50 (1m) 1, Neverseque (W Carson, 5-1 fev); 2, D'Altegnan (6-1); 3, Spanish Love (20-1); 4, Electric Rose (14-1); 21 ran, 1%, nk, R Hodges, Tote: 24.40; 21.50, 21.90, 24.90, 24.90, DF: 28.70, CSP: 234.43, Tricese: 2533.42

OPEN GUIDE 37

- RACING 39 CRICKET 40

SPORT

Stylish India cruise home

HEADINGLEY (India won the toss): India beat England by six wickets

THE process by which England are learning to play Test cricket again continues to have quite the reverse effect on their one-day form, for they were thoroughly outplayed yesterday, in the first of two Texaco Trophy matches against India, and the overwhelming defeat was the sixth in their last seven such

The good news for England was that Gooch, Gower and Lamb, who between them have played 290 of these games, provided 151 runs. The bad news is that the remaining eight men could put together only 55. On a pitch too slow to be ideal, but still in no sense malicious, this was the key to defeat. England's inadequate total was all the more disappointing for the lofty expectations which had grown during a serene second-wicket stand between Gooch and Gower. A score of 300 did not seem out of range, and Gooch's mood was such that he looked good for at least half of them

The innings began to founder as soon as Gooch was unexpectedly deceived by Ravi Shastri's flight and, as a succession of batsmen failed to perceive some subtle changes of pace by an Indian attack which performed mark-edly better than its pre-pub-licity had indicated, England's ast eight wickets went down for 95 runs.

It never seemed likely to extend a team who can boast an international centurymaker at No. 9, and it did not. India sauntered home with 12 balls to spare but an awful lot more in hand, and there was enough, from Manjrekar and Azharuddin in particular, to confirm that England will have serious trouble bowling them out in the games to

Unbroken blue skies and sapping heat was just what the Yorkshire club needed on a day when another poor crowd could have jeopardised the future of international matches on this ground. The attendance of 15,500 was still below capacity, but receipts of to fail. £227,000 were a comforting £50,000 up on the Texaco game against New Zealand staged here in May.

Since that day, Michael lished his place as Gooch's opening partner that there was better for the adjustments no question he would play his Gower, obliged to open against New Zealand, reverted to No. 3, but, as expected, Morris was omitted along with Small.

As things transpired, Gower did not have to wait long, years old and the junior leg-Atherton had made only spinner to Hirwani in the seven when he went back to Indian party, Kumble uses his Prabhakar and was beaten off beight well and is unusually

BOSCH

"ALL-in the Ear"

HEARING AIDS

now available in Britain!

The name of Bosch is synonymous with quality, technology and reliability. So it's great news that their tiny. almost invisible Top Star M clarifiers have arrived in Britain and are available to all those wishing to improve

The new Top Star M is designed to be worn inside the canal of the ear where it nestles unseen to give clearer, sharper hearing in the most effective and simple way possible. Trust Bosch - World leaders in high-tech products to bring you the most advanced form of hearing help!

Top Star M could be the answer to your hearing problem. But as Hidden Hearing is a truly independent company you can try this Bosch invention, the tiny Starkey Micro.

the Danavox and other makes of aid in your own home

If you are one of the many people who are not actually deaf, but strain to hear sometimes, when watching television, in conversation - particularly when several people are talking - don't ignore your problem. Post the

The first 250 people who apply for details will also receive a helpful audio cassette prepared by BOSCH for the hard of hearing. So

Please post me the information on Top Star M from Bosch and the FREE BOSCH audio cassette for the Hard of

HIDDEN HEARING FREEPOST (BOSCH)

10 STATION ROAD, WEST CROYDON

SURREY CR9 9ES phone 081-688 0032

250 FREE Audio

telephone or post this coupon to-day for your FREE cassette.

and compare the difference without obligation.

PRACTICALLY INVISIBLE IN USE

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY

A NAME YOU CAN TRUST

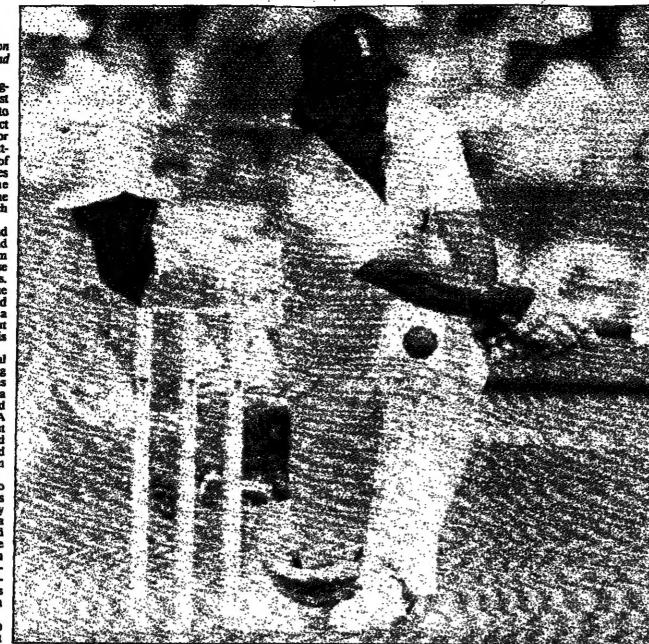

coupon below for complete information.

Cassettes

TO BE GIVEN AWAY!

Hearing and colour booklet.

Tick if a pensioner

Missing the boat: Lamb, watched by More, fails to make contact as he tries to sweep at Headingley yesterday

"G A Gooch e and b Shastri Chacked drive against

Affissed cut against leg beek A J Lamb c Prabheker b Kepil Der Drove akwer bell to long-off R A Smith c More b Kumble

D E Malcolm c Kapil Dev b Prabhakar Swang to deep mid-micket

Total (54.3 overs)

prolonged reception which must have heartened him and, although never quite at his best with the ball reluctant to come onto the bat, his 50 was

Gooch, meanwhile, was treating the bowling with contempt. He has enjoyed some purple patches of form in his time but probably has never played with quite the authority he now takes to the crease each time he bats. He drove, cut and pulled with the timing of a man who, cur-rently, hardly knows what it is

He was out, to unanimous surprise, in the fifth over of a fascinating spell by Shastri, who bowled more slowly and with more variation than has Atherton has so rapidly estab- been his custom in one-day which hinted at the work of first one-day game here, the Indian coach, Bishen Bedi, and the ball which dismissed Gooch was cleverly held back,

While Shastri bowled his spell straight through, Anil Kumble was equally effective from the other end. Only 20 the pitch. Gower entered to a accurate for a wrist spinner.

Not a single boundary was conceded in 11 overs containing only 29 runs and the wickets of Gower, confounded by prodigious turn, and mith, undone by bounce At 142 for four, with 13 overs left, England's sights had already been severely lowered, and if India's fielding had not wilted under pressure the total might barely have limped to 200. Both Russell and Lamb were dropped during a stand worth 44, and there were some elementary and expensive errors in the England, however, failed to take advantage. Their innings faded tamely into submission, the last four wickets falling in 15 balls. They were bowled out with three balls unused.

Raman gave England a breath of hope by surrendering to the first legitimate ball of the reply, DeFreitas having begun with a no-ball, but Sidhu and Manjrekar were soon picking up twos and threes in the contented knowledge that there was no need to hurry.

Fraser applied the brake in his characteristically nagging way, but even when Sidhu fell in the last over before tea there was little cause for English optimism. Tendulkar, the boy wonder, played one memorably shot, a straight six off Hemmings, before showing Malcolm too much of his leg stump, leaving Manjriker and Asharuddin to put the issue beyond serious doubt with a partnership worth 68 in 10

Extra reason for clearing the boundary

THE big hitters of county cricket have a new target this summer - a £10,000 jackpot if they can hit more than 50 sixes. In 1986 Botham hit a record 80 sixes in first-class cricket, while last year Hick topped the list with a mere 29. Other prizes of £10,000 are on offer for batsmen totalling more then 2,500 first-class runs or bowlers picking up more than 125 wickets. Anyone hitting 20 sixes or more will receive £10 per six.

W V Raman c Atherton b DeFreitzs Pulled short belt to mid-wicket
N S Sidtu live b Lawis
Beeten by low begince
S V Marinekar c Gower b Lawis
Top-edged pull to square lag
S R Tenduliar b Matcolm
Bowled behind lags

FALL OF WICKETS: 1-22, 2-86, 3-134, 4-142, 5-186, 6-196, 7-211, 8-221, 9-224, BOWLING: Kapil Dev 11-1-49-2 (w 2) (7-1-18-0, 4-0-31-2); Prabhaiser 10.3-1-40-3 (w 2) (5-1-18-1, 3-0-11-0, 2-3-0-13-2); Shurma 11-1-57-2 (w 4) (5-1-28-0, 4-0-22-0, 1-0-7-2); Sheetri 11-0-40-1 (nb 1); Kumbis 11-2-29-2.

HEADINGLEY SCOREBOARD

ENGLAND

Extras (fb 5, w 9, nb 1) _ Total (4 wkts, 53 overs) ... †K S More, Kapil Dev, M Prebhakar, S K Sharms and A Kumble to bat. FALL OF WICKETS: 1-0, 2-78, 3-115, 4-183.

BOWLING: DeFreites 10-1-40-1 (w 1, rb 1) (5-1-14-1, 3-0-17-0, 2-0-8-0); Matcolm 11-0-57-1 (w 6) (5-0-23-0, 4-0-19-1, 2-0-15-0); Fraser 11-3-37-0 (6-3-10-0, 2-0-12-0, 3-0-15-0); Lewis 10-0-58-2 (w 1) (3-0-18-0, 4-0-8-1, 2-0-20-1, 1-0-11-0); Hermings 11-0-38-0 (w 1).

Men of the match: A Kumble.

Umpires: J H Hampshire and J W Holder.

Botham gets all-clear IAN Botham will not need a bowler, Graham Dilley, will another knee operation and could be back in action for Worcestershire against Glamorgan on Saturday.

Botham saw a specialist in Manchester yesterday after the knee flared up during the Benson and Hedges Cup final on Saturday. But the Worcestershire captain, Phil Neale, said: "The problem has settled down. He will not need an operation and may be available for the weekend." Botham was out of action for three weeks earlier in the season following an operation. ond-division football club's pre-season training.

The Worcestershire pace

will be back playing in three to four weeks if all goes well." Hyde breaks bone Gary Hyde, the 20-year-old midfield player with Leicester City, has broken his collar-bone. in two places while playing in Finland and will miss the sec-be out of action for up to a month after having a fourth knee operation in two years.

Dilley had a piece of loose cartilage removed, and has been told to rest for a week before resuming light training. Neale said: "Hopefully, he 6s 4s Mins Balls 0 - - 1 2

AS THE saying goes, what you see is what you get so far as lan Woosnam is concerned. Never one to dissemble, he has not hidden the fact that St Andrews is not one of his favourite golf courses.

"When it's hard and bouncy it's not fair", he says, "but when it's like this ..." and a shrug of the shoulders indicated that the greening of the Old course this year might make it more acceptable.

The backdrop of history and tradition seems to leave him unmoved. Remind him on the fairway that he might be accompanied by the ghost of James Braid and he will as likely as not respond. "OK, so long as he doesn't get in the way of my backswing." For all his success and billowing bank balance in recent years, after plodding away year after year as a has his feet firmly on the ground. How else to explain that during last year's Open at Royal Troon he chose to stay with his family not in five-star hotel luxury but at a Butlins holiday camp. Nor did he care

No player goes into the championship with his game in such good order as Woosnam. Having won the last two events on the European Tour, the Monte Carlo Open and the Scottish Open, he can establish an historical landmark by now winning at St Andrews.

He humiliated the admit-tedly undernanding Mont Agel course with a record 60, coming within a whisker of registering the first 59 on the Tour, and followed that with another record, a 62 at

But if his game is clearly on sweet song, the same can hardly be said for his body. He has been plagued by a back injury which has limited his practice possibilities this week and he may need to have an injection before he can see the ball up this morning.

He has described the pain of a pulled muscle as like someone sticking a knife into him every time he stretches. This is no new experience for him but, of course, it could not have come at a worse time. ... To see Woosnam play is to marvel at the mysteries of the from Abbey Christian Broththere appears to be so little before, but took it on with the

The big game allied to the small physique is the quality that endears him so much to golfing galleries in the United States as well as here at home.

He takes a relaxed view of the Open. Certainly it is the "ultimate championship", the one they all want to win, but he has treated it like any other tournament, following the usual procedures, so far as his ailing back would allow. "I don't think people can play themselves into playing well", he says. "Golf is not like that. You play well or you don't, but you have to go with what you've got." 'He is well aware of the maxim "beware the sick goffer". He believes that when you are injured you tend to play within yourself and swing more easily. "Maybe it's in the back of your mind," he theorises, "that you are not going to do so well and all of a sudden you are relaxed and playing well. Before you know it you are in a position to win." As he may well be on Sunday afternoon.

Punters' choice

THE welter of smaller money invested yesterday was for the older generation. William Hill reported that Nicklaus, Watson, Trevino, Irwin Wadkins were popular.

When an Faldo is seen by injury the greatest as can help ace in the pack By MITCHELL PLATTS. THE OPEN

GOLF CORRESPONDENT

JACK Nicklaus, arguably the greatest golfer ever, came off the fence on the eve of the 119th Open Championship that starts today at St Andrews and said Nick Faldo was the best of the contenders.

It was a wonderful compliment for the Englishman whose performances in winning successive Masters titles after his 1987 Open triumph have established him at the pinnacle of world golf. "Nick Faldo has been the best in major championships for the last three years". Nicklaus said. "Curtis Strange has been good, Greg Norman reasonable and Seve Ballesteros hasn't been at his best for the last two years. "I do feel that we haven't in recent times had someone come along who has decided in himself that he will dominate. If Nick Faldo decides, then he will. I'm sure he has. the dedication; be needs to. believe truly in himself so that when he walks into a room anywhere in the world the best golfers say 'There's the man'. "I see no reason why a player shouldn't dominate as others have in the past. But the amount of prize-money available today is diluting incentive, the prize-money was not there to spoil the likes of Ben Hogan, Arnold Palmer, Sam Snead and myself from not wanting to play more "A player can go out today and win more money from one tournament than Hogan did in his whole career. It doesn't make sense. The rea-son I turned professional was to be the best in the business. I don't think the guys come out on tour nowadays with that in mind. When one does, he will threshold of doing that and, winner of the Open at St oozing with confidence, he Andrews in 1970 and 1978. spoke with such optimism as described it as looking like the front which may produce some cloud is forecast for today, but there is little chance of rain. A fine and dry weekend is predicted.

ST ANDREWS

that Nicklaus might by Sun-day have also to accept that the game does now possess a dominant player.

Who will win? Me". Faldo said. Tm sorry if that sounds arrogant but I have to be honest. There are a lot of players who can win but I believe it will be me. I've already achieved a lot to this game. Yet there are hopefully some special highs still to Andrews will obviously be one

"I know the course I've played it a lot. I love it. I love Scotland. I love the w mosphere. I love the people it even love the potridge. haven't got a game plan for this week, I've got several I've got one for whatever

What I'd love is to be at least two shots ahead comis-into the 18th hole on Sunday because then I would really be able to enjoy the tast walk bome and drink in the

Faldo is the clear favour with Coral and his hope that the Old Course will set a genuite links examination is ikely to come to fruition. The turf is firm after two days of Faldo believes he is on the wind and sun. Nickians, the

Rafferty turns full circle to get ahead

RONAN Refferty's first visit was a lad his family to move to to St Andrews was in a party Warrenpoint in County golf swing. There is so little of ers School in Newry. He had him, only 5ft 41/2in tall, and never seen the Old Course effort that you wonder how he confidence of youth, and can keep up with the big boys. played the front nine in a level-par 36. He was 12 years

> Rafferty's handicap was eight in those carefree days of 1976. Within two years he was scratch, within five he had become the youngest British player in Walker Cup history in the 1981 match at the age of 17 years and seven months.

> and won his two foursomes. Within mouths he had turned professional, and the learning curve, which had been so dramatically steep all his young life took on a new

> Victory took a long time coming, but did so eventually last year, when he won the Italian Open, then won again in Sweden, and topped off the year by taking the showpiece event of the European Tour season, the Volvo Masters. This confirmed him as the leading player in the European > order of merit. He went on to make his first Ryder Cup appearance, win-ning his singles against Mark Calcavecchia on a spine-tingling final day. Rafferty, after eight years of learning his craft had arrived.

These days he lives in a luxury home in Ascot with his wife, Clare, and their oneyear-old son, Jonathan, and collects fine wines as a hobby. Rafferty was born in Newry

DOWN: Kanterry Patterson, then the pro-fessional at Warrenpoint Coff Club, at a Golf Foundation class. What Patterson saw was a sturdy, fair-haired | 1-yearold who had a motley selection of clubs.

Patterson, still the man Rafferty looks to when in trouble with his swing, saw that he was a singular talent. He persisted with the boy, and as a Christmas present couple of years later gave time a coaching aid that is standing him in good stead today.

It was a curious sledge-hammer-like implement—an ordinary golf club shaft with about 4lb of lead instead of a conventional head Rafferd would swing it 25 times grown men could scarcely self-it more than twice, and did a self-it more than twice, and did self-it more than twice, and did self-it more than twice. great deal to shape and mould the very individual method that Rafferty uses today. that Rafferty uses today.

His swing is no oil painting. but has a certain beauty lies in its simplicity, while his short game is among the best an European, if not world golf-He is also blessed with an almost uncanny gift of course management.

He is one of Europe's favouries for the great championship that is about to be enacted on the Old Course. If he were to pull it off, he will remember, no doubt, Warrenpoint Golf Club, Don Patterson, and a leaden-headed implement that will remain for ever a priceless harbinger in January 1964, but when he of a career paved with gold.

Shropshire lad in pursuit of an Olympic dream Grace, playing at the Oval, organised a substitute fielder, trot-It has always seemed strange that

By DON ANTHONY

"AND of the Olympic Games, which modern Greece has not yet revived, it is not a Greek to whom one is indebted, but rather to Dr W. P. Brookes . . . now aged 82 . . . still active, vigorous, organising and animating them."

Thus spoke Pierre de Coubertin in 1890, after returning from his visit to Much Wenlock in Shropshire, where he had been made an honorary member of the Olympian Brookes had established the society in 1850. The Shropshire Olympian Society followed, and in 1865 the National Olympian Association took shape. A year later, the first National Olympian Games were staged at the Crystal Palace. They were organised by Herr

Ravenstein, the director of the German Gymnastic Society, and 10,000 people attended, including a young cricketer, W. G. Grace.

played a key part in the dev-elopment of British national organisations for sport. It was a founder member of the Amateur Athletic Association in its headquarters, at Kings Cross, national associations for gymnastics, fencing, weightlifting, wrestling, and swimming were all germinated. Its gymnasium ted up the hill to Sydenham, won the 440 yards hurdles, ran back to the Oval and completed the match.

The German Gymnastic Society

still stands. Ravenstein and Brookes worked together to build the Olympic idea in Britain. They were joined by Thomas Hulley, of Liverpool, a leader in the YMCA muscular Christianity movement but it was Penny Brookes who was the motor. He started the Much Wenlock Olympian Society just as Robert Dover's Cotswold Olympicks were into their last year, 1851. The town's doctor and magistrate, he was also active in bringing the railway and gasworks to Much Wenlock Brookes was eager to make sport available to the agricultural workers, as well as to the gentry, and he spent his whole adult life campaigning for the Olympian

He was aware of attempts to revive the Olympic Games in Greece as early as 1859 and he exchanged prizes with the Greeks. He saw the wider implications of "physical education for the Brookess' dream was to revive the Olympics - with Greece as its centre point. Coubertin's concention was a peripatetic Games. Brookes wrote to Coubertin: "I think your ideas to have festivals held in rotation by all nations desirous of joining in the movement ... really superb."

The visit by Coubertin to Much Wenlock in the autumn of 1890 was marred by a steady downpour, but the baron was in good speaking form. He said that when he first came to Britain, nine years before, he "hated the English" - but this was because "England was the only European nation not subdued by Napoleon I!" The announcement that he had "since changed his opinion" was greeted with applause by the 60 souls gathered in the Raven Hotel. Before the games, an oak tree, to:

be called the French Oak, was planted and then anointed with "a copious libation of champagne" -"cement the friendly feeling between England and France. The equestrian "tilting" event was won, appears, by a visitor from Alicante, thus giving an international slant to the Wenlock

Brookes has never been properly chronicled or honoured for his Olympic contributions. Was it-because he was considered a provincial by Londoners — or that he was neither Oxford nor Cambridge?

In any case, it will be rectified on Saturday. The Princess Royal will be guest of honour. The Princess Royal Oak will join the Jubilee and the French caks. Children from William Penny Brookes School, the town's secondary comprehensive; will present winning sports-poetry entries. Tilting will be revived. From 10.30am

The Shropshire lad who cleverly linked the Cotswold Jacobean Olympicks to his Victorian Olympian Games - and thus gave Britain a 300-year-plus heritage of organised Olympism - will be honoured in memory as he was never in life.

مكرين الأعراق

The allower ENT AND WIT STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE P The second secon Carrie of St. . . E 3 100 30 700

PERSONAL TRANSPORTERS The state of the s THE WARRENT OF 经市场中国 2011年 BELTING BE DE DA Control of the same Commence to Prince; man Barra Meria The state of the s BETT METERS THAN Martin L. C. Com Elizabeth of BEREIT FROM THAT 医医疗性 以下 175 年 经济水平 BEEN IN DEPOSIT to the Mark the 图4000 1001 800

第22章を表すいたには कार्यातः १५५ स्टब्स् कार्येत्रके १४५ स्टब्स् MIDE Bond offers

منا لحامات منتحد منتح

mir. 3: 1 15545

Mining Street, of

$阿拉克(100) Parties - August the second Market Company Epite Two ones on

HOLE IN ANIMAL OF

Eliza de maria de la constanta de la constanta

The second secon A SEE CHANGE the parents he E Boz-men ef Page 25 ben 'ruined' Tristo, same hi

the te Court of Had that her approxi The last demogram Paria risk MEST AND TO CAME the countries pro-April 2011 Commence Color The same of the sa Page 10 threat and of the Heart the BBC property of Service of the servic Pape 14 ings rise

Solitore Constant of the Const Maria Company lesults

Topic Carrier St.

Sales Cestics

27.25